No Separate Vote on Rec.

The Hicksville Board of Education will hold fast with its preliminary public discussion of the 1960-61 School District budget set for 8 p.m. Friday night, April 22, in the Senior High School. In answer to a letter from Harry S. Goebel and Emil J. Szendy, seeking an earlier date, the Board noted that even with the April 22 discussion changes to the proposed budget would be possible legally prior to the May 4th vote, if the Board so desired.

The School Board also disclosed that copies of the budget will be going out by mail to 12,500 residents about April 15 in the form of a booklet. The brochure prepared by the Administration last year on the budget won acclaim from local and state education authorities.

In answer to a further request of Goebel and Szendy that recreation and other "controversial topics," as defined by the former school attorney and former board member, be subject to vote as separate questions, the School Board members agreed that all parts of the budget are essential to the educational program of the District.

Hibernians Seat New Officials

Officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Hicksville, Division 11, were installed by the County Board at the Old Country Manor on Thursday evening, Mar. 24. A large attendance of members of the division and members of the County Division were present to make this an interesting meeting.

Installed were: Rev. Leo Goggin, chaplain; William Gray, President; James J. Cummings, vice president; Jack Aitken, recording secretary; Kevin Quinn, financial secretary; James Dolan, treasurer; William Minghan, historian; Harry Woods, chairman of standing committee; Robert Corcoran, chairman of Irish Missions; James Cooney, organizer; Vincent Hilly, marshal and John Colwell, sentinel.

School Tax Dollars

The next meeting of the Dutch Lane ETA of Hicksville will be held on Tuesday, Apr. 5, at 8:15 p.m. There will be a round table discussion held on the important and timely question, "Where does Your School Tax Dollar Go?"

Trustees whose first three-year terms expire this year are Robert E. Goodrich of 47 Angle Lane, Herbert H. Johnson of 87 Myers Ave. and Jerome G. Zettler of 70 Gardner Ave. Petitions are now circulating to nominate Johnson and Zettler while Goodrich told the HERALD he is contemplating seeking re-election.

The five-year term of office of Elroy Bean as a trustee of Hicksville Library will also expire on June 30th and the vacancy will be on the voting machines on May 4th. He has not indicated whether he will seek re-election.

Library Rate Up

On the voting machines at the May 4th annual election of Hicksville School District will also appear two propositions for the voters. One is the annual school district budget in the amount of $8,669,837.20, while the other is the public library budget in the amount of $205,103.52, gross, with $197,103.52 to be raised by an estimated tax rate of 21.9 cents per $100. The public library appropriation includes $42,200 for the purchase of a bookmobile.

The school tax rate, which cannot be set officially until August when the new total district assessment officially stated, has been the subject of particular attention by the School Board in the preparation of what the school administration describes as a "tight budget." It has been the Board's ambition this year to hold the school tax rate as close

JAMES ANDERSON of 3 Brooks St., Hicksville is Key Flying Chairman for Arrowhead District. A big contest is planned for Apr. 30 at Salisbury Park.

Schools Plan CD 'Go Home' Drill

On Friday, April 8, between 3 and 4 p.m., the Hicksville schools will hold a Civil Defense "Go Home Drill" as required by the State Education Dept. This drill is designed as fall-out protection. A spokesman for the schools stressed the serious nature of this type of preparedness and asked that all parents adhere to the following important regulations for the drill:

1. Do not come to school during the drill.
 2. Do not telephone the school for the duration of the drill.
 3. Know your Block Mothers; be sure your children know their Block Mothers.
 4. If you plan to be away from home, make arrangements with a neighbor or your Block Mother to receive your children during the drill.
 5. Instruct your youngsters to proceed to shelter (your home, neighbor's home, Block Mother's home) by the shortest route, and with as little delay as possible.
- A letter will be sent to each parent shortly explaining how children will be dismissed to their homes.
- It is the earnest desire of the School District to instruct all children in proper safety deportment if an emergency should occur. This is the purpose of the exercise, according to Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, superintendent of schools.

Feb. 27th and 28th — A winter-campout was held at Camp Wauwapeex, Wading River. A group of 15 Scouts and 4 committee members and Scoutmaster Howard Von Gerichten participated in a very enjoyable and fruitful weekend. This campout was planned as an advancement event with all scouts participating in demonstrations of scouting skills. Under the guidance of the Senior Patrol and committee members, a complete program was given. A similar event will be held on April 2nd and 3rd in Camp Wauwapeex.

March 21, — On this evening the scouts of the troop were presented with a skillful demonstration of fly casting and shooting by an expert hunter and fisherman — a Mr. George Homa. Movies, color and large picture prints were presented by Mr. Homa showing the many hunting and fishing experiences that he has had in the Canadian woods north of Montreal.

The presentation made by Mr. Homa indicated that he was a skillful and experienced outdoors man. The scouts enjoyed the program very much and are looking forward enthusiastically to the remainder of the scout program planned for the year. Such events as demonstration of skin diving, water skiing, gun safety, sports movies, visit to the Navy yard, and a visit to an electronics plant are part of this planned program.

An invitation is extended to boys and parents who are interested in scouting to visit our meetings on Monday nights at 7:30 in the Seaplan & Bisemann Bldg. basement. Troop 64 will accept applications until the troop quota is filled.

Red Cross Fund In High Gear

The 1960 Red Cross Drive for members and funds in Nassau County is beginning to get into high gear since the advent of favorable weather, and reports submitted this week to William B. Billmeyer, 1960 Fund Chairman indicate that volunteer canvassers have redoubled their efforts in the past week.

Special emphasis, this year, is being placed upon increasing the number of contributors to Red Cross in view of the increase in population. The 40 Nassau communities are split up into five divisions and last week each division chairman contacted his individual volunteer canvasser and received word from almost all of them that they were completing their house-to-house solicitations.

However, Chairman Billmeyer urged that donors not wait for a volunteer canvasser to call upon them but to send their checks immediately to Mrs. Wilbur E. Morch, 18 Walters Ave. Hicksville.

County headquarters reported this week that Hicksville has contributed $734.50, Bethpage $32.80, Plainview $149.00 and Jericho $690.80.

Slight Decline

Although small, to be sure, the decrease in bonded debt for schools in the past year leads some to believe that Nassau County has passed the peak of bonds for school construction. The annual report of all bonded debt in the county, towns, cities, villages, special and school districts issued last week by Comptroller Theodore Bedell, reveals that of a grand total of $625 million in bonds, almost $380 million are for schools.

Perfect Line Mfg. Marks 20th Year

Shareholders in the 20-year-old Perfect-Line Manufacturing Corp. on Old Country Rd., Hicksville, were this week informed by Alfred Robbins, President, that the electrical manufacturing firm had, during 1959, "hit a new high in gross sales despite the crippling steel strike."

In his annual report Robbins stated that Perfect-Line's gross sales for 1959 "hit a new high" of $930,000, and would have reached its goal of one million dollars set for the year, had it not been for the steel strike which "seriously hampered building programs."

He pointed out that at the time the steel strike began, his firm, one of the nation's most diversified manufacturers of wiring devices, ventilation equipment, and lighting fixtures was running 20% ahead of the 1958 sales figures and was virtually assured that it would reach the million dollar mark it was seeking for 1959.

What's New on Broadway--Jericho

By IRVING HERSKOWITZ.
HEARD WITHOUT EARPONES: The possibilities of that very large department store occupying space in the second section of the Birchwood Shopping Center is "RED HOT" again.

THE HEIGHT OF OPTIMISM: Several weeks ago a woman informed one of the merchants at the shopping center that someone had damaged her car in the parking lot and wanted to know what the merchants association was going to do about it? She was informed to admonish every car owner in the parking lot in the hope that the culprit would receive his or hers reprimand.

JERICHO'S NEW FACE. IS FULGING: Another new face will shortly emerge on the West Side of Broadway alongside the Fire House and Jericho Jewish Center. An informant advises us that construction of a professional building is imminent.

HOW TAX CONSCIOUS CAN ONE GET: The solid citizen of Jericho, Lou Weinstein, (we use the word advisedly because if there is a function taking place, in Jericho you can bet your last buck that you will be there—if it's free, of course) goes into convulsions every time he observes a pregnant woman in Jericho. His lament—there goes another increase in my school tax bill.

NEW MODELS COMING: A new model home for Princeton Park is being readied and ditto for West Birchwood—which will probably have at least two.

GETTING A LITTLE "HERE AND THERE ISH": Upon entering "The Pepper Pot," also known as the domicile of Shirley and Harold, where a festive gathering was taking place, I innocently inquired of Shirley whether the occasion was meant to celebrate her pregnancy. When Shirley replied in the affirmative I went right along with the joke. However, a short while later the gathering was informed by Shirley that there was something actually cooking in "Pepper's Pot"

Jericho After Dark

By GILBERT R. STEIN
 As you can see from the title, this reporter has given himself a new assignment. THE VILLAGER over the past three years has had many features, news reports and comments. We have discussed, criticized and lauded many individuals. In our effort to come up with something new from the local scene, we discovered that communal life here flourishes between the hours of 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. from Monday through Friday of every week. Let's face it readers, whether we like it or not, we have become organized. Five nights per week, men, women and even our children meet, discuss, vote, eat and drink, argue or just sit. Call any local home and someone is sure to be at a meeting. What kind of meetings take place, who meets, where and why, those are the things this reporter will endeavor to find out during the coming year.

Our preparations for this assignment will be quite extensive, with the approval of our editorial board, this writer shall require at last $500 to cover expenses. There are raffles to be bought, tickets to affairs to be purchased, contributions to be made. We understand that just about every meeting features tidbits of chocolate candy, nuts, pretzels, club soda and such other cadroy building refreshments. In addition, meetings often conclude on coffee and cake or even lox and bagels. This writer is prepared to skip lunch for the duration. We have drawn up a new will. We have stocked up on vitamins as well as a liberal supply of aspirin pills. Since informal snootwear seems the proper mode of dress at meetings, part of our budget will be required for a supply of such typically birchwood attire as red sport shirts, ivy league pants and Louie outerwear jackets.

There remains one small problem. We have to be invited to attend meetings. It is our hope that our readers will want to make such arrangements for this reporter. If the assignment proves to be a very exhausting one, THE VILLAGER will of course have to make arrangements for us to visit a rest home from time to time. We are ready to start our report of Jericho After Dark in the next issue of THE VILLAGER. please omit flowers.

Syosset Board Meets at Jr. High

By HORACE BERNSTEIN
 By resolution of the Syosset Board of Education, all future meetings of the Board will be held at the South Woods Junior High School instead of the High School. For the information of residents interested in attending these meetings, which are open to the public, they are held the second and fourth Monday of the month.

William McGuirk, president of the Board of Education, announced this week that the salary schedules for teachers of the district will remain unchanged for the coming school year of 1960-61. This marks the first year, since centralization in 1954, that the entire salary schedule has not been increased in addition to the regular annual increments received by each teacher.

that the existing salary schedule will still compare favorably at the levels greater experience and advanced professional training with the better districts in the county. President McGuirk further stated that even under the existing schedules, the salary increases for teachers would run between $300 and $400, plus additional stipends in graduate work.

Teachers, along with all other employees of the District, will receive benefits in the form of District payments of $50 toward the cost of each employee's participation in a District Health Insurance plan.

Hunter College will hold its 20th Annual Alumni Luncheon on Apr. 9. Anyone interested in reservations call OV 1-4658.

Country Club Restrictions to Remain

By GEORGE J. FRANKEL
 The restrictive covenants under which the Jericho Country Club operates are to remain in effect. This decision was made by the newly elected Board of Directors of the Birchwood Civic Assoc. at its first meeting on Tuesday, March 15.

The report by the Special Investigating Committee was given by Irwin Baumeil, who had been its chairman. Mr. Baumeil reported on the history of the investigation including the findings of a special audio survey made by a private firm engaged by the Country Club. The Board then listened to arguments both for and against the removal of certain of the restrictions. After a lengthy debate, the Board voted to allow the restrictive covenants to remain in effect without change.

It has further been decided by the youth group that for the balance of the dances this season, admission is opened to members as well as non-members of the Youth Group. Further details of the Square Dance will be announced in THE VILLAGER.

Fifth—Honey Howard, Elizabeth Roach, Lilyan Warren, Peter Teichman, Tami Washell, Jacqueline Siegel, Andrew Nachson, Scott Young, Marilyn Sindout and Frederick Dill.

As the first order of business, the new Board had previously unanimously elected, Ralph Diamond Chairman of the Board, and Dr. Walter Sugarman, Vice-Chairman. The Board voted to set the annual dues for the fiscal year April 1, 1960 to March 31, 1961 at $5.00 per family.

The Library Committee was given permission to put the Jericho library question on the May budget of the Jericho School District. It was also given permission to form liaison with other interested groups in Jericho.

Brief reports were heard from the Public Safety, Zoning, Parks, Jericho Education, Syosset Education, Youth Group, VILLAGER, Dramatic Group, and Architectural Control Committees.

The new Board got off to a good start, and promises to have a most successful administration.

President's Corner

by Irwin Baumeil
 Many of us who lived in the "city jungles" dreaming of the halcyon days when we would own homes in "suburban heaven" acquired the habit of searching the New York Times Real Estate Section. All of us have surrendered to Birchwood, but many find this habit so hard to break that we continue to scan the Real Estate Section. I am very proud to report that in this past Sunday's edition, our Civic Association was featured in a lead article. It is very gratifying to know that we are being exemplified as a model organization. We have worked hard to make our association a factor in the life of the community and it is rewarding to know that we have gained recognition.

In order to maintain an active flourishing association we need the continual infusion of new workers. All of our standing committees are now being set up. Many of the problems dealt with are of tremendous concern to each and every one of us. Some of these committees are the Syosset Education Committee, the Jericho Education Committee, THE VILLAGER, Town Planning, Zoning and Taxation Committee, The Health, Sanitation and Safety Committee. If I may, I will use just a few committees to illustrate the worthwhile projects being carried forward. The Education Committee deals with school facilities, budget and taxation problems among others, parents don't gripe or grouse, they get out and work. The people who work on the Health, Sanitation and Safety group see to speed reductions, stop signs, traffic lights, garbage problems (and we still have jobs of those). The new Cultural League of The Birchwood Civic Assoc. is offering a wide variety of musical and art projects. Our own Birchwood Players are working on a performance of Cinderella, right now. The children, who remember The Wizard of Oz with open eyed amazement are looking forward to this. What I'm trying to say is that we offer a diversified program that works for the benefit of all Birchwoodites. We need your help. Those of you who are interested in any of our many projects will be welcomed with open arms. We're interested in all of your ideas. If you have any suggestions please address a note to the Civic Association so that we can continue to meet the needs of Birchwood.

Mr. Barnette's article in the Sunday Times described us as a community association that had progressed from a "base the builder" club into a responsible organization looking toward the welfare of the community. Let's work to keep it that way.

I know we've met before
Shucks, you're my Birchwood neighbor.

The one who lives next door,
Gee whiz, it's great to see ya
How's everybody been?
How was Thanksgiving dinner?
It really is a sin
That we've not seen each other
Since Fall's chilly blast
And when the Glacial Age began
We hibernated fast.

I saw you once, one morning
Waved my snow shovel, too,
But you stepped in that big drift
And completely obscured my view.
Are these your same two children?
Oh dear, they look quite grown
And who's that strange new baby?
How odd I'd never know!

What else have you been doing
Since last October first?
You've had four decorators?
And the plumbing burst?
Did you have a Happy New Year?
And a good St. Valentine's?
You've lived on penicillin?
And Antihistamines?

The mumps paid you a visit?
And then the Virus Q?
And when you all recovered
Your husband got the flu?

Letter to Editor

To the Editor
THE VILLAGER

I read with interest your item in this week's issue quoting the town ordinance about clearing snow from sidewalks. From the look of the streets in our community after the recent Big Snow, one could hardly guess this such an ordinance existed. That wonderful community spirit for which Birchwood is so renowned seemed to have been buried under the mammoth drifts. Except for a few diehards like us, most Birchwoodites seemed content to let time and the sun do their snow-clearing for them. Oh, yes, most driveways were cleared quickly. Have we become such a mechanized society that only automobiles get the privilege of cleared walks?

Twelve days after the storm, I still had to walk in the gutter to visit a neighbor or get to the mailbox a half block away. I'm lucky. My two-year-old could slip and slide with me, as we cautiously made our way on the ice, dashing into the snow and slush at the curb for safety, every time a car went by. But what about mothers with babies in carriages? Either they ventured into the middle of the roadway or had to remain at home. And how about the poor mailmen? Do they get paid extra for the hazardous duty of making their rounds in the gutter?

Comes the spring and summer, Birchwood residents are hard at work outlining each other to move respectively landscaped community in the county. If outside appearances are so important, how about a little of this same fever in the winter? Must fines be handed out before our residents consider the safety of their neighbors and their own children?

Come on, Birchwood. Let's have a little of the Golden Rule the next time it snows. The exercise will do you good.

Very truly yours,
(MRS. MURRAY NOVICK)

NYU Courses Come to Jericho

As part of their Liberal Arts in Extension Program, NYU will offer several courses in Jericho this year. Mrs. Beverly Fuchs, NYU's Area Coordinator for Long Island, spoke to over 150 people at the March 16 meeting sponsored by the Cultural League of the Birchwood Civic Assoc., describing the various types of courses. The interest was so great that one course was begun this week, and several are slated for the Fall.

There are still a few openings in the lecture-discussion course "Looking at Modern Art," which will meet for the next nine Tuesday evenings at a home in Birchwood Park. Another group is forming to participate in the study-discussion course, "Ways of Mankind." For further information about either course, or any other aspect of the NYU program, please phone Mrs. Fuchs in Roslyn, at Mayfair-6-0467.

Pianist Frager Gives Fine Recital

By Jacob Andrew

On Tuesday, March 8, Hicksville was treated to a fine display of piano music by one of the excellent musicians of the new generation of pianists, Malcolm Frager, this year's Levintritt award winner, performed a fine and unusual program for the final concert of the Hicksville Mid-Inland Concert Assoc. series at the Hicksville High School Auditorium.

The program opened with a Minuet and Cigue by Loeliet, a 17th century French composer. These were played delightfully, with clean articulation, lucid phrasing, and proper attention to the baroque ornamentation. A rarely played Beethoven sonata, opus 54 in F major, followed, which seems like an echo of the great G major Waldstein sonata, opus 53.

The sure command of the difficult octave passages indicated to this reviewer the firm grounding of pianist's technique. The Chopin group which came next was perhaps the least successfully conceived portion of the program. Although the first piece of this group, the "Harp" etude (opus 25, no. 4) was beautifully played, the etude that followed (opus 25, no. 2) was a little flip-pant, with more attention given to the technical facility (which, by the way, was excellent) than to musical values. The last selection of this group, the Chopin fantasy, opus 49, received a somewhat restrained interpretation with the drama held in check and lyricism emphasized. It was, however, a valid conception, within the somewhat limited scale of dynamics used.

If there was any doubt of the performer's ability to play in a bravura fashion, this was dispelled by the second half of the program, in which the Prokofiev 8th sonata, opus 82, was heard. The artist was completely at home in the modern idiom, and the technical command of the considerable pyrotechnics, plus the ability to sharply outline melodic lines, despite the technical difficulties, resulted in a performance which was the highlight of the program. The evening closed with two encores, a Scarlatti Sonata, followed by a rousing performance of the Liszt 8th Hungarian Rhapsody. Mr. Frager demonstrated his high pianist gifts and honest musicianship in this program. He certainly showed himself a performer of outstanding promise, and a worthy recipient of the Levintritt honor.

READERS OPINION

To the Editor:

Last week's column, "It's Your Problem Too" may have been devoid of problems, but never has an author, or School Board president risen to such rhetorical heights. Indeed, so impressed by such deathless, poignant, watery phrases as "land on the tiller," "swift, spiraling water," "strong living currents," etc., I was made a trifle (sea) sick.

This provoked, may I reply to the author:

Appropos "It's Your Problem Too." Please! paddle your own canoe! Metaphysical metaphors? Superlatives - they're yours! School problems? Man you really send me.

But here on in - "Where are you Szendy?"

Current Comment
School Elections:
A Quick Review

BY FRED J. NOETH

WE COME TO THE TIME of the year when School District budgets are submitted to public vote and candidates for the unpaid position of School Board member or trustee are elected. We recently found that fully 20 per cent of our community population changes in a 12-month period which leads to the conclusion that about one-fifth of today's residents were not in our midst a year ago.

For that reason, a little primer on school voting may be appropriate. The annual budget vote is held in Hicksville on Wednesday, May 4; Jericho votes on May 3, although most local districts now have their budget vote and trustee election on Wednesday.

The Board of Education spends long hours in preparing the budget, although large areas of it are mandated by law or previous decisions. The hours spent by the School Board is exceeded by the days, weeks, and months spent upon budget preparation by the school administration, starting with the classroom teacher's request and working up thru the principal's office and the office of the Superintendent.

Being a candidate for the Board of Education is no problem, although getting elected is another matter as we have personal reason to reflect. In Hicksville, a standardized petition form is available for the asking and all the candidate needs are 25 qualified voters who are willing to sign his nomination. Petitions for school board and library board trustees must be filed 14 days before the election (April 20 in Hicksville).

Voters must register in person in order to vote upon the budget and for Board members. All persons who registered at the annual election last May or at the special referenda held during the year are now qualified and they number more than 6,000. New residents or those who did not register during the past year can do so on either April 23 or April 27. If you are in doubt as to whether you are registered, you can check on the dates just given.

It's Your Problem Too!

By ALLEN S. CARPENTER
President, Hicksville School Board

Decisions are hard to make. Taking a stand on a local issue is sometimes hazardous. But if we are to act as good Americans should, questions that demand an answer, should be considered and discussed freely. Each citizen should have an opportunity to make up his own mind, himself.

In making up one's mind, about both local and national matters, it is often best to start from the "General" and work towards the "particular." Our life is short compared to our faith in the life span of our country. We must always remember that our country was not the beginning, nor will it be the end, of humanity's struggle. As long as we believe that what is good for humanity at large will ultimately prove to be best for our country, we are on the right track.

The decisions that we make today should be consistent with our American Heritage, with our tradition of personal dignity and our philosophy of democracy. What we do here today, is only one small link, binding the past with the future. Our generation will forge its link in that continuous chain, it can be a strong link or a faulty one. The next generation cannot go back and strengthen that link. The link we forge is irrevocably made, made to hold or break for all time.

Weak links of the past have led to the fall of great empires. Some day, sometime, "The" weak American link will be forged. It is our obligation to make sure it is not forged in our generation. It is our duty to the next generation, to prepare them with an understanding for, and a strong belief in our heritage, our democracy.

Every decision, yes, our every act should be to strengthen the link we are forging. Our every act should be to strengthen our youth in the firm conviction that democracy works—not just in principal, but in daily practice.

When we take a stand on educational matters, we are making history in our time. Will we be part of something America can be proud of, in the years to come? or are we acting out of prejudice or selfish interest? We must constantly remind ourselves, that the America as we want it to be, can be no better than the sum of our communities, and our community can be no better than we are.

If we refuse to take a stand, if we refuse to make the necessary decisions required of us, we are falling in our generation, if we fail to "keep the faith" ourselves, what can we expect of succeeding generations?

The Fire Horn

prepared by the publicity committee for the bureau of fire prevention and inspection of the Hicksville Fire Department

I have been asked by the usual Fire Horn editors to give a woman's viewpoint on Fire Prevention in the home. This was a pretty smart move on their part. They have just finished going through the house, room by room, from the attic to the basement, even including the yard. Now that they are collecting their thoughts for future copy they pass the buck to me.

In re-reading the past articles I found there actually were little things that I thought of that were overlooked by the editors. I decided to go through a housewife's daily routine and try to pick out things that were, or could be, fire hazards.

Let us start with getting out of bed and waking the husband (a day's work in itself) and the school children after which you head right for the kitchen to make lunches and breakfast. While putting on the coffee I thought of how a woman's clothes could very easily catch on fire, while at the stove, if there are frills or loose sleeves, which is often the case with robes worn in the morning.

While cleaning ash trays later in the day I remembered hearing somewhere that cigarettes and matches cause a large percentage of fires. First and foremost these should be kept out of the reach of children, since they don't realize the serious consequences of playing with matches. Make sure cigarettes are out before you empty the ash tray into the garbage. I have seen parents give a baby a lighter to play with, to keep him quiet, and I cringe at the sight. There is always the possibility that they just might get it lit, with tragic results.

Ironing brought frayed cords to my mind. If your husband keeps putting off fixing them, and nagging doesn't help, sit yourself down in front of him, some evening, and start taking the "thing" apart yourself. He probably won't be able to sit there and watch you without putting his two cents in and finishing the job, but if you get no rise at all from him you may have to get it repaired by an electrician or go out and buy a new appliance. I am sure that between the cost of one article or the chance you burn down your house and furnishings because of a frayed cord, you would take the former any day.

Teaching older, teen-aged children how to correctly use the stove and oven is important. Many parents refuse to let the child even go near the stove or learn how to cook because of their inherent fear of fire. It is my opinion that as long as an adult is in the room and the child knows and practices the necessary safety measures they get into the habit of doing things the right way, so when or if they are alone at some time they are much better off than someone who has never been taught or allowed to use this equipment.

Inflammable cleaning fluids are another big fire hazard. We women are usually the culprits in this case. Buy and use only approved non-inflammable cleaning fluids.

Stored newspapers will help keep a fire fed for quite a while, as will oily rags, old clothes and furniture. Throw them away!

Taking the car out for a bit of shopping. I thought of the blue light (on a fireman's car. If you see a car with this blue light flashing please give it the right of way. It is a fireman responding to a fire call.

In closing, let us as housewives and mothers always bear in mind that we should be fire safe whenever we can. Observing these rules and other common sense safe practices will insure the safety and welfare of our families and make our homes a fire safe place to live.

School Elections

as possible to the $5 rate which has been in effect the past two years.

Several factors can have some effect on the eventual rate, one favorable and the other unfavorable. The favorable factor is the current action in the New York State Legislature seeking to increase state aid. Depending upon the program finally enacted, the new state aid formula could depress the tax rate. Working against this is the pending court action by Emil Spondy, Harry Goebel and other taxpayers seeking to invalidate the Nov. 19 referendum on a $2,000,000 school expansion program.

To achieve the essential initial phase of the program—moving 12 temporary-type classrooms to the Junior High School—which is stalled by the pending court action, the Board has included $84,000 in the proposed budget to implement the shift of the first units. This additional $84,000 will be reflected in a higher tax rate for 1960-61, unless the courts decide on the merits of the taxpayer suit prior to the rate fixing Board meeting next August.

6,778 Registered
There are a record-breaking 6,778 voters already on the books, fully qualified to vote on May 4th. This represents the registration at the annual meeting of 1959 and the additional names accumulated at the special referendum in June of last year and Nov. 19.

This is probably the largest group

Internationals Assign all Players

All the boys in the Hicksville International Little League have now been assigned to teams and with warm weather rapidly approaching, team managers will be calling for their first practice sessions.

For the information of the parents of the Little Leaguers, the Major Division and both Minor Divisions will start their scheduled league play the early part of May and conclude the season the end of June with play-off games to be held early July. It would appear that all play will be finished no later than July 15th. All games will start at 6:30 p.m. sharp with no inning to start after 8:10 p.m. It is expected that boys will arrive at the fields fully informed no later than 6:05 p.m. or, if a boy is to be absent, a telephone call to the manager is to be made no later than 5:30 p.m.

We remind parents that while boys have been assigned to teams, the assignment is on a try-out basis.

This fact should therefore be made clear to your sons so that if at some later date (prior to the opening of the season) your son is re-assigned to a lower division the disappointment will not be too great.

Ability or lack of ability to play ball is not the deciding factor in determining whether or not a boy will stay with his assigned team. It is rather a combination of factors that will make up the final decision, i.e., attitude, "thrustle" and team spirit the boy displays. It should be remembered however that while playing ability is not the deciding factor, nevertheless if managers feel, after consultation with league officials, that a boy might possibly be injured because of his lack of ability, he will be transferred to a lower division where the chances of injury will be much less.

On our part, the League has taken all precautions to keep injuries to an absolute minimum. We have purchased the best equipment available and everything possible has been and will be done to give your boy a happy and enjoyable playing season.
