

Until Temps Relocate: Stagger Sessions For Junior High

Class sessions for Hicksville Junior High School will be staggered with the opening of school in September until the movement and re-location of 12 temporary-type classrooms on the Jerusalem Ave. property. The Board of Education has adopted the stagger-class program upon recommendation of the Administration.

Jerusalem Ave will divide the School District, north to south, and children west of the line will attend Junior High from 8:20 a.m. to 2:20 p.m. Those living east of the line will attend from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In making the recommendation, Donald E. Abt, Assistant Superintendent, noted: "This is organization will allow our lunch rooms to absorb at least 780 children each hour from 10:20 a.m. to 2:20 p.m. Therefore, the academic facilities will be available for the remaining student body."

The Board of Education will receive bids on the movement of 12 classroom units from East St. and Old Country Rd. elementary schools on Tuesday afternoon, June 21.

Knappe & Johnson, school architects, have estimated that the project of reconstructing the temporary class units at the Junior High may take as long as four months.

The stagger session at Junior High will end when the temporary-type room s are ready for occupancy, probably as late as October or early November.

Szendy, Goebel Not Ready To Go to Trial

Further delay in the determination of the issues in the suit brought by Emil J. Szendy and Harry Goebel, which has tied up the school building program since January, loomed today. The School District was prepared to go to court next Monday, June 6, seeking preference for the action in hopes of reaching a speedy determination. Szendy and Goebel have served a cross motion this week asking that the action be stricken from the calendar because they are not ready to go to trial.

Over six months ago the voters of the School District gave their approval to a two-million-dollar school construction program. On Jan. 19, Szendy and Goebel served the school district in a taxpayer's suit seeking to declare the referendum of Nov. 19 void and illegal. In March, Supreme Court Justice Robinson dismissed two of the four causes of action.

Michael J. Sullivan, attorney for the School District, was prepared to go before Part II, Special Term, next Monday to seek preference for the trial in the June term.

The cross motion by Szendy and Goebel, served five days before the preference argument, asked that the trial be put off and that the plaintiffs be granted an examination before trial. In their affidavits, Szendy and Goebel claim they have no intention of delaying the eventual decision. However, it was noted that no attempt to seek an examination before trial was raised until the matter was noticed for trial.

Szendy and Goebel had jointly campaigned against the construction program last November and Szendy, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the School Board on May 4, publicly boasted prior to the annual election that he would win his suit against the School District.

Get Right Start On That New Job

Vacation time for some students in Hicksville, means "work" time for others. When school lets out, young people begin looking for vacation or full time work, says Sanford Blumenthal, District Manager of the Huntington Social Security Office.

The right way to get started is by having your social security account number card with you when you apply for that job. Your employer needs it to properly report your earnings. Having the card with you demonstrates your preparedness, and permits the employer to accurately set up your payroll record.

If you had a social security card before, take it with you and show it to your employer when you get a new job.

If you've lost your card, get a duplicate with the identical number that was on your original card. Your social security number lasts for your working lifetime. Employment of a son or daughter under 16 by a parent is not covered by law. Unless you are looking for work there is no need for you to apply for a number. If you need a duplicate card, visit or write to the Huntington Social Security Office at 52 Elm St. Blumenthal advised.

(Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America) took second place honors in the Long Island Area competition contest held in Baldwin High, recently. The Mid-Island chorus, under the direction of George Avener, astounded the critics with their renditions. This accomplishment was considered the highlight of the competition, because the chorus only recently became chartered in the society, and was competing with the Nassau County (Lynbrook) chorus (1st place); Huntington Chorus (3d Place); Hampton Chorus and the Peconic Bay (Greenpoint) Chorus, all of which have been in operation for at least a year or longer. The winners, The Nassau County Chorus, will represent the Long Island Area in the Mid-Atlantic District competition to be held in September at Atlantic City.

Because of the excellent showing of the Mid-Island Chapter in this competition, their status within the society has risen considerably, and they are confident that they will take 1st place honors next year. The Mid-Island chorus, which meets every Monday evening, at the Plaza Restaurant in Hicksville, is comprised of members from Mid Island communities. Their president, Master Sgt. Bauer, Local Army Recruiter, is justifiably proud of the accomplishments of his group, and cordially extends an invitation to all men who are interested in singing the old songs as they were rendered in the 1890's, to come out and visit with them.

PREDICTS POLITICAL FIREWORKS NEXT YEAR New Congressional District

The prediction that reapportionment will provide political "fireworks" in 1961 was made this week by Congressman S. Wainwright. With a population of more than 800,000 today in the First Congressional District, embracing all Suffolk and part of the Town of Oyster Bay, a new congressional district is anticipated by action of the State Legislature next year.

The Town of Oyster Bay section of the First District embraces the area south of Jericho Turnpike including most of Jericho, Hicksville, Plainville, Bethpage, Massapequa, etc. This section has 238,253 population, according to Wainwright who notes that the normal size of new districts is about 400,000.

"One fact is clear", Wainwright points out. "The First District as it is now constituted will disappear. It seems quite likely that the First Congressional District will be compressed well into Suffolk, because of Suffolk's growth rate, it could be argued that two Congressional seats be placed entirely within the county. Equally probable would be a second district composed of a large section of Western Suffolk attached to part of Oyster Bay Township. There should also be drastic realignment of the State Assembly and Senatorial boundaries, all of which would be beneficial to Suffolk and Nassau.

The 1950 population was 314,316 for the First Congressional District. The Congressman also pointed out.

The crucial decisions as to boundaries for the new districts will be made next year by the State Legislature. These decisions cannot help but be highly political. Thus, the ultimate determination will be made by the Governor, Speaker Carlini, Senate Leader Mahoney, Party Chairman Marchese, all subject to the immediate pressures of the various County Chairmen.

Any speculation I might make as to changes here would be unwarranted. Yet I can predict that reapportionment will provide political "fireworks" for 1961, Reapportioned.

Arrowhead Scout District Elects

by Joseph S. Giordano

The Arrowhead District of Boy Scouts held its 2nd Annual Meeting at the Arthur Maisei Restaurant in the Mid Island Shopping Center, Hicksville on May 23. The District is proud to have had in attendance 28 out of possible 32 Institutional Representatives along with members at large and guests. This made the meeting a most successful event.

The program for the evening was opened with a flag ceremony and followed by a welcome and invocation by the District Chairman Warner Lansing. The steak dinner, which all enjoyed, followed the invocation and was topped with a beautiful 2nd Anniversary cake baked and presented by the management of Maisei Restaurant. Between courses fun was had by all in a song fest led by Jack Landress.

After dinner a short report was made by the chairman of the operating committees and the District Commissioner telling of the accomplishments for the past year and plans for the new year. Town Supervisor John J. Burns, guest speaker for the evening, commented on the enthusiasm and activities of this district with relation to the whole Scouting picture in Nassau County. He stressed the point that Nassau County Council has incorporated into their own procedures initiated in this district after having been proven to be of merit and successful.

Jack Ehman, chairman of the nominating committee made his report and put to the floor the names of the nominees. Nominated and

by Katherine Kantor

(Editor's note: The WEST BIRCHWOOD NEWS takes great pleasure in presenting the first part of special interview with our neighbor, Robert Barth. In view of recent events we believe this article merits special attention.)

Bob Barth, virtually a pioneer in West Birchwood, (he moved here in July '59), has, to date, spent more time away from his new home on Rockland Drive than in it. As Director of field services for Pepsi-Cola International, Bob has travelled 75,000 miles since he "settled" here, and that's about par for any year.

Last week, the whole family, wife Irene, sons Robert, 16, Ronald, 13, and 6 1/2 year-old Brenda, arrived from a four-month stay in Lebanon. Somewhere in transit their plane passed that of brother Bill who lives around the corner on Warren Ave., but was en route to Nigeria with the same purpose in mind to promote Pepsi to the natives.

It's against company policy to hire members of the same family," Bob explained as he settled himself on the couch of his new hi-level ranch house. "It's unheard of to hire brothers and never has a younger brother worked for his older brother at Pepsi Cola."

Bob, who previously worked for a Coca-Cola bottling plant in Chicago, couldn't be bothered with rules and promptly brought brother Bill into the company as his assistant director of operations in Greece, Turkey, Malta, Egypt, Cyprus, Tunisia, Lebanon, Israel, Iraq, Iran, Ethiopia, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, all of the Persian Gulf, the British Protectorates of Aden, the Sudan, Jordan, Syria, and lots more.

"It probably doesn't matter," his wife, Irene, interjected, "as they never seem to be in the same place at the same time anywhere."

RUSSIAN TRIP

Though there isn't a place in the world you can think of from Hong Kong to Trinidad that Bob hasn't been to in his job setting up new plants and marketing programs, he was most impressed by the Russians.

"The average Russian, almost without exception, has great respect for America and Americans," he says. "At our exhibition in Moscow in 1959, the reaction to Nixon was slight in comparison to what it would have gotten had he made his trip. The two Americans idolized in Russia are Lincoln and Eisenhower. Although Ike is a World War II hero to Russians of our generation, even the youngsters see him as a person to be revered."

Few people in this world have had the opportunity afforded Bob, of working with 45 Russians for 42 days on a 12-hour-a-day basis.

"I got to know the inside of their thinking," he says, "and one of the things I took away from Russia was the knowledge that inherently, they are very much like us. Their basic approach to life is the same as ours, they want the same things we do. They want to own their own homes, which of course, they can't, they're interested in their schools, children, cars. The Russian aim in life is to duplicate America and everyone tells you that. They are more like us than any other people on earth including the English. What differences exist do so because of a lack of communication."

At the Moscow exhibit, Bob hired 45 university students. Of the 36 girls, 30 spoke English, 20 spoke fluently, as you and I do. All 9 of the boys spoke English, too. Our language is a required one, starting in grade schools.

Bob believes there is a growing feeling in Russia of wanting to know more. "A great deal of information is seeping through about us and they are suddenly aware that there is more to life than what they've been exposed to. There is no such thing as a solid iron curtain."

Certain common questions were asked by all Russians at the exhibit. Bob recalls them in order: What about unemployment, segregation and our political system of elections.

Although Bob is not an official representative of the United States Government, he found himself in the position of all citizens abroad—of being a representative of America because he is an American.

PAVE STRANGE IDEAS

"The Russians have some strange ideas about America though I must say they were very fair in their questioning. They really believe those of us who are unemployed starve to death. "I told them about our social agencies, unemployment insurance and all the avenue open to those who are without work. But I could win my argument with this cliché: 'My government allows me to come here and see what Russia is like for myself. In Times Square I can buy Pravda. Because I'm here, I know the differences between our systems. And though there may be many things wrong with my country, there are more people trying to get into it than out of it.' That always stopped them, because they all want to come to America."

The most popular exhibits at the Fair, according to Bob, were, in order: automobiles, super-markets, the model home, fashion, chinchilla (cheater-in-the-round), a 12 minute view of America from New York to San Francisco, and, of course, the Pepsi-Cola exhibit.

"We gave away some 3 1/2 million drinks in 42 days," Bob reflected, "or, 60,000 drinks a day, or more specifically, 8,000 drinks an hour. I even handed Khrushchev a drink."

Pepsi Cola was the only commercial product given away at the fair. "The Russian Government refused to allow us to give away lipstick or packaged foods. I think they were afraid they couldn't control their own make," Bob ventured.

Though scarcely an expert on foreign relations, Bob feels it highly unlikely that the Russians will start a war. "It takes all of their national effort and energy to maintain their military, they could never support both a military and a consumer economy."

"The most modern building being erected there today are far behind what we know," Bob said, surveying his new home. "Two families share a common kitchen and living room, plumbing and wiring are completely exposed. The Russians have just introduced credit buying. They are trying so desperately to satisfy consumer demand, starting a war is the furthest thing from their mind."

"Khrushchev may provoke us to the brink and because of the nature of his government, he can keep doing that, but he's too shrewd a man, and I have great faith in his intelligence, to believe he would ever do anything disastrous to Russia. A war for Russia, for all of us, would be disastrous."

Fire raged through the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Klein, 36 Sullivan Drive. The Kleins live in an Ambassador and the kitchen door is near the stove. Mrs. Klein opened her door wide and the firely curtains ignited. The damage was extensive.

Good things come in threes — especially for her — and Mrs. Irving Liebman of 17 St. Lawrence Place. They've just had their third little girl. Congratulations!

Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Levien of 6 Saratoga Drive on the recent confirmation of their charming daughter, Gail.

Fifth Session For Art League

The Jericho Chapter of the Long Island League of Arts and Culture (LILAC) held its fifth meeting on May 18 at the home of Pat Friedman, 14 Ulster Drive. This new group brings housewives together in a friendly, informal manner to discuss various topics of mutual interest.

Meetings are held at 8:30 P.M. on the second Wednesday of every month at members homes. A predetermined topic is explored, with members contributing information gleaned either from research and reading or their own backgrounds. Topics of past meetings have ranged from "The Mechanics of Play Construction" to a demonstration of water-color techniques. In one case, a husband was pressed into service and a wonderfully informative lecture was given by Darwood Guy on advertising layouts. Vance Packard's book "The Status Seekers" was reviewed at the last meeting and a very spirited discussion of the author's findings ensued.

West Birchwood members of this group are Ronnie Auerhahn, Bernice Banner, Natasha Brenner, Phyllis Forman, Pat Friedman, Joan Gilbert, Marilyn Guy, Bea Lewis, Rita Linder, Florence Lubin, Kitty Plochia and Lola Rosenthal. Those who are interested in joining the group can get information regarding membership in LILAC from Pat Friedman, by calling WE 1-3033.

Air-Cooling Your Birchwood Home

by Alan Friedland

Now that the warmer weather is here, your warm air heating system can be changed to an effective air cooling system with but few manual adjustments.

During the warm weather in the daytime your house will remain cooler than outdoor temperatures, however in the cooler evenings the reverse is true. The heat stored in your attic space will be radiated to the rooms on the upper levels of your house, and those rooms under the attic space, resulting in interior temperatures higher than outdoor temperatures.

To convert your system to an effective fan system perform the following steps:

1. Set your thermostat to minimum temperatures.
2. Put emergency switchshutoff switch in off position.
3. Take off upper access door of furnace and locate the small

LAWNS

Crabgrass, the number one enemy of lawns, is now beginning to grow. You can recognize crabgrass seedlings by looking in the open spots of your lawn for small plants with several broad grass-like leaves. If seedlings are present you can obtain satisfactory results by using Diquatium Methyl Arsonate or Amine Methyl Arsonate either liquid or dry form. Follow the recommendations in the container. Anyone in West Birchwood who has put in a new lawn this spring be very careful in applying weed killers as they will injure young grass.

Many lawns in this area have been turning yellow. Remember to fertilize your lawn every six to eight weeks if your lawn has turned yellow. To fertilize only in the spring and fall does not suffice, especially in West Birchwood, where most homes have only about 1 or 2 inches of topsoil. Most homeowners in the area have either seeded or sodded these lawns with a high content of mericidialgrass and found that after constant fertilizing their lawn is still yellow.

Merion bluegrass will turn yellow if your soil is lacking in lime. Any nitrogen that may be in your soil will be locked in by a lack of lime. An investment in a soil test first would be extremely wise not only for the welfare of your lawn but as an aid in growing shrubs, trees, etc.

FLOWERS & VEGETABLES

Assuming you've got your vegetable plants and annuals set out, don't let them be chewed off by cutworms. Cutworms feed at night and hide during the day under clods of soil. To kill these pests dust soil frequently with DOT or Methoxychloran.

RHODODENDRONS & DOGWOODS

Rhododendrons and Dogwoods are often killed or seriously damaged by borer attacks. The borings of the rhododendron borer produce ugly scars that often girdle and kill branches. A sure sign is sawdust piles on the ground or sawdust falling down the stems. The dogwood borer bores into the cambium layer causing rough looking bark areas that die and may kill branches or whole trees. There are many fine borer sprays on the market which should be used now and again on June 25th. Consult your nurseryman.

black knob which adjusts furnace temperature. This is usually in a small grey box in the upper right hand side.

4. Turn this knob counter-clockwise to the fan position.

5. Replace the furnace access door.

You are now ready to use your fan system by operating the emergency switch which will permit you to use the fan at your discretion.

For those who are more energetic and would prefer taking advantage of the cooler outdoor air the following can be done:

1. Cut two openings in your return duct large enough to receive two 12" x 8" return air registers. Install registers.

2. Place a clear plastic or "Seal-an-Wrap" over all return grilles in the living area of the house.

3. Open the basement windows to permit the heavy cooler outside air to the basement. This cooler air will then be drawn into the system thru the basement registers.

A more complicated and effective system for drawing in outdoor air would be to install a direct connection from a basement window to the return duct in lieu of steps 1 & 3 above. This however could not be accomplished by the average individual without the assistance of a sheetmetal contractor.

What's Cooking?

By Mary Ellen Lazare

Several weeks ago we printed a Sponge Cake recipe which was apropos at Passover. Here is a very different one given to me by Kitty Ferrare of 14 Richmond Ave. When I asked one of Kitty's sons what his mother's best dish is, he said, "Whatever she makes is wonderful." What greater compliment can we give her?

SPONGE CAKE

Use a nine inch tube pan. Combine and beat 3 minutes with an electric beater on medium speed:

- 5 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 T lemon juice
- 1 t vanilla

Set this mixture aside.

Beat until frothy:

- 5 egg whites
- 1/2 t salt

Add gradually, beating well after each addition:

- 1/2 cup sugar

Beat until peaks are formed. Fold egg yolk mixture into beaten egg whites. Fold in, sitting in about one fourth at a time:

- 1 cup flour

Turn batter into pan and bake about 60 minutes at 325, until cake springs back when lightly touched in center. Invert and leave hanging in pan until cold. Run spatula gently around sides of pan. Turn right side up. Be sure cake is cool before frosting.

BUTTER FROSTING

Cream until softened:

- 2/3 cup butter
- 1 1/2 t rum
- 1 1/2 t vanilla

Add gradually, creaming until fluffy, 6 cups sifted confectioners sugar. Stir in 1 egg white slightly beaten. Blend in gradually, a tablespoon at a time, 3 to 6 tablespoons cream.

The Volunteers

a bi-monthly series written by William Lazare for the
Jericho Fire Department

What should I do in Case of a fire?

If a fire breaks out, try not to lose your self-possession. If the fire appears to be of dangerous proportions, call the fire dept. You should know definitely the location of the nearest street fire alarm box, the location of the nearest fire dept., and its telephone number. This information should be written down in some one place in every household.

Small fire extinguishers can be purchased. One or two of these should be in every home, placed especially where a water supply is not readily available. Every garage should have one. It is not enough to install such an extinguisher, you must learn how to use it. If it is not used for a period of time, you should be sure it is in working order. A pail of water should be kept in the attic.

Care should be taken not to throw water on a fire if grease or gasoline is involved, as the water merely spreads the flaming material. Throw a heavy blanket or cloth, a piece of carpet, or a rug over such a fire to smother it. Fire can not exist without air to feed it. Burning curtains and draperies should be torn down, if possible, and smothered in the same way. If your clothes should catch fire, do not run, but lie down on the floor and roll over and over, enveloping yourself in a heavy blanket or rug if possible. If smoke in a house is too dense, cover your mouth with a wet cloth. This will help you in breathing.

Every household should keep a list of the most important possessions to be saved in case of fire. It is well to have it understood that certain members of the household should be responsible for definite articles to be rescued first. Small fire ropes should be purchased and kept on the second floor for the purpose of escape in emergency. Be sure to close all windows and doors in case of a fire. This will prevent drafts and cut down the progress of the blaze. A little forethought and preparation will go a long way to prevent serious loss of property, if not danger to life and limb.

If there are any questions on fire departments, fires, or fire prevention, please feel free to write the Publicity Committee, Jericho Fire Dept., Jericho, New York. We will try to answer any questions and are glad to be consulted. Also remember, if you see a FLASHING BLUE LIGHT, a fireman is responding to a fire, please give him the right of way.

FOR THE RESIDENTS AT BIRCHWOOD PARK AT JERICHO

Thank You Children!

By Blanche Karpel

We, of the Jericho Players, of the Birchwood Civic Association wish to thank you, the delightful children of the community, for participating in and enjoying our production of "CINDERELLA". As you are all aware, we played to two packed houses on Saturday. Your enthusiastic response to the performances brought tears to the eyes of the entire cast! It was quite a thrill to hear you all "ooah" and "aaaah" at the sight of the handsome Prince, and at Cinderella in her magnificent Ball Gown! Your shouts of gasp at the delightful antics of Galdron and Curdini! Your participation in telling the actors what to do and what to say! Children, you were all just wonderful! Such audience reaction and response is all the compensation the Jericho Players wish to receive for all the work, time, and effort put into their productions. You made them all feel well paid!

Pictured above is the entire cast. Amette Fischer, Leon Zlatner, Phil Rosenthal, Miriam East, Harry Geddes, Al Ross, Dale Berg, Beverly Boggs, Dany Goldstein, Ethel Karpel, Selma Gold, Dottie Ruzak, Bruce Jeffrey. They all thank you for coming and hope to see you all again next year. Meanwhile tell your parents to keep November 11 and 12 open, because the Jericho Players are very busy preparing a hilarious comedy for their enjoyment!

Mrs. James P. McGuirk

Miss Margaret Ghione daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Ghione of Hicksville, and James P. McGuirk, of Westbury, were united in marriage on April 24th at St. Ignace Loyola R.C. Church in Hicksville.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length, gown of silk organza over satina with alonzo lace applique around the neckline and around the skirt. Her finger tip veil of tulle edged with venetian lace, fell from a crown of white apple blossoms made of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolas and sweetpeas.

Miss Elizabeth Way of Hicksville was made of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jane Fernandez of Albany, N.Y., Miss Juliana Robba, of Mineola and Miss Maria Calvo, cousin of the bride, who strived from Italy just prior to the wedding especially for the occasion. Linda Cagna, godchild of the bride, was the flower girl. The maid of honor wore a ballerina length gown of aqua silk organza with chastilly like lace bodice. She carried an old fashion bouquet of pink carnations and gladiolas. The three bridesmaids chose matching gowns of light pink and carried aqua bouquets. The flower girl was also in pink but carried a basket of aqua and pink carnations. Their headpieces were of silk organza edged with pearls and had short circular veils. The bride's mother wore a light blue silk organza dress and the groom's mother wore a print satin suit. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Rodney McGuirk, of Jericho, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Charles McGuirk, of East Norwich, also brother of the groom; Charles Chrabelowski, of Hempstead and Arnold Robba of Mineola.

The wedding music and accompanying solos were sung by Joseph Crisafulli, co-faculty member of the bride at Freeport, L.I.

Following the reception at Felice's restaurant in Westbury, Mr. and Mrs. McGuirk left for a wedding trip to Virginia Beach. They returned to their new home in Hicksville following the trip.

The bride is an alumna of Onondaga State Teachers College and is a 5th grade teacher at Archer Street School in Freeport. The groom is employed by Gramman Aircraft Eng. Corp. and an evening student at Hofstra College. Both Mr. and Mrs. McGuirk are graduates of Hicksville High School, class of '55. (Photo by Starwood Studios Ltd.)

Franke Republican Club of Hicksville to speak at a dinner held Thursday, May 26, at Plaza Restaurant to mark the conclusion of the course.
