School District Purchases 21.43 Acres for $64,290

Hicksville School District has taken title of 21.43 acres of the Bergold property between Newbridge Rd. and Division Ave. as a new school site at a final price of $64,290.

The School Board is considering the installation of new fixtures in Nikolai St. School classrooms to bring the lighting candlepower up to the prescribed and accepted standards. Some board members hold the belief that Nikolai may not be replaced with a new building for three to five years.

Treatment of students' teeth with flourine, at no cost to the taxpayers, is going forward with the work nearly completed at East St. School.

These and dozens of other matters were before the Board of Education during a typical four-hour session last week on Wednesday attended by a representative of the Herald.

John Herzog, vice-president of the board, presided in the absence of President Henry C. Brengel.

Final papers on the Bergold property purchase, including maps, deeds, resolutions, etc., were presented at the meeting by Attorney Charles H. Stoll. During the meeting, Joseph Bergold, who is one of the former owners of the acreage, was present with his attorney. The latter raised several questions regarding the transaction, particularly about one "Bruce Makin," through whom the property was sold.

A great variety of topics were considered during the session, ranging from the disposal of some out-of-date text books (some copyrighted in 1903) to the question raised, in a letter, by Louis Millevolte regarding his tenure right as "director of physical education."

Award Contracts For Well, Mains

A new 600 gallon per minute well and pumping house will be built by the Central Park Water District in Bethpage, it was announced by the Board of Commissioners following a recent meeting. C. W. Lauman & Co., of Bethpage was the lowest bidder for the job at $24,700. Other bids were $33,300 and $29,100. The 170-foot well will be built on Haypath Rd., Bethpage.

Contracts for installation of new water mains for several new developments in Bethpage were also awarded by the Board. Karlson & Reed of Hicksville was the lowest bidder with $6,170 for a contract to install mains for 50 new homes on Brenner Ave. (at Sheridan Ave. and north of Central Ave.) Work on the new development of Finer Homes Co., Inc., has already begun.

Karlson & Reed, with a $9,007 bid, received the contract for installation of mains at the Village Garden Homes

BOARD GETS BIDS

Hicksville Commuters Object to Bethpage Evening Express

Charging that a "later and slower" train for 400 daily Hicksville commuters will result, local opposition to proposed scheduling of an evening train which will run express from Jamaica to Bethpage and stops eastward is today being marshaled. The train (No. 244) now leaves Penn station at 5:15 p.m. The Hicksville stop would be eliminated on the Spring LIRR timetable.

The Main Line Commuters Assoc. with membership from Farmingdale, Brentwood and points farther east, has been diligently campaigning for the Jamaica-to-Bethpage express. David E. Smucker, RR general manager, admits "we have a proposal to schedule train No. 244 to depart from Jamaica at 5:40 p.m., making first stop at Bethpage, and followed close by a new train which will make the stops to be withdrawn from No. 244. The new train will terminate at Hicksville."

Smucker says No. 244 carries 538 passengers for points east of Hicksville and 568 for points where it stops between Mineola and Hicksville.

Petitions being circulated among Hicksville commuters claim the new train following No. 244 would be slower, making all intermediate stops from Jamaica to Hicksville. "We believe that 400 daily Hicksville commuters will not be properly served by a later and slower train." The petitioners want No. 244 to continue its stop at Hicksville and empower Lawrence A. Roman of 39 Notre Dame Ave. to present the petition.

The 5:15 from Penn Station (No. 244) is one of the most popular homeward evening trains for Hicksville area commuters, including many from Island Trees.

Roman has been promised a conference with Smucker and Anthony E. Murman of the Main Line Commuters' Assoc. after the LIRR has concluded its time table schedule detail.

Eugene Staehle, long active in Scouting, and Frank Chlunsky will assist Walters in the drive to raise $1500.

M. L. Chittenden heads the appeal for $300 in Jericho and A. A. Lang, Sr., is Bethpage chairman with a goal of $800.

Pianist Is First On Concert Series

The Hicksville Community Concerts Assoc. will present its first concert the latter part of this month, featuring Sigi Weissenberg, young Bulgarian pianist, it was announced yesterday by Miss Harriet Spink, president of the Association.

The second concert will be given in March and the third in April. The Association successfully concluded its first membership drive Saturday night with over 600 members enrolled for the series.

Selection of the artists for the three concerts was made at a meeting of the Board of Directors over the weekend. Miss Spink said the entire committee is grateful to the captains, workers, and all the residents of the area who participated to make the effort a success.

Exact dates of the concerts will be announced shortly. In March, the Association will present Ruth Mata and Eugene Hari, satirists, in a program of Danced Theatre, and in April Mac Morgan, baritone, who has been heard on the City Service "Highways in Melody" program.

While the majority of the Concert membership is from Hicksville, there are also enrolled members in Levittown, Bethpage, Jericho, Westbury, Farmingdale, Plainview and vicinity. A six-day drive was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Hazelle L. MacPherson and more than 100 volunteers.

SUTTER TO DIRECT RED CROSS FUND DRIVE

Fred J. Sutter, Jr., of 16 Duffly Ave., has accepted the fund raising chairmanship of the Hicksville Red Cross Branch, it was announced earlier this week by Mrs. William I. Magill, Hicksville branch chairman. Sutter, a World War II veteran and commander of the William M. Couse, Jr., VFW Post, will lead the drive in the Hicksville-Plainview area during the Red Cross fund campaign which starts March 1. The local quota is expected to be $2,250.

Mrs. Magill also announces that a meeting of the branch Board of Directors will be held next Tuesday, Feb. 8, at Nicholas St. School.

Civics Agree On Need For Parking Meters

Immediate installation of parking meters in Hicksville to control over-time parkers and ease local traffic and congestion is approved by the Hicksville Civic and Community Association. The civics went on record in favor of meters at their regular January meeting, Thursday night, at the firehouse.

The action was taken when Robert Botto, parking and traffic chairman of the HCCA and the group's representative on the Citizen's Citizens' Advisory Parking Committee for Hicksville, asked for an expression of membership opinion on the topic. The Citizens' Parking Committee members are polling the viewpoint of the groups they represent on the meter question. Other groups represented on the committee are the Kiwanis, Lions and BMA.

Ernest Francke made the motion in favor of meters, which was duly seconded and carried unanimously. About 45 members and guests were present for the meeting.

Botto also reported that a "no thoroughfare" sign had been installed on Murray Rd. as the result of a request to the town highway department by his committee.

See Motion Pictures

The group heard a report on the local Community Concert membership drive by Donald Andrews and saw a 20-minute sound film on the program with the projector operated by Irving Ferns of Meyer Ave. A short full-color film on the Hicksville Tercentennial parade of last May and an Abbott and Costello comedy short were also enjoyed.

Jacob Schreiber, native of Hicksville, who resided for several years in Ulster County upstate and recently returned to this community, was called upon by Program Chairman Stephen Smatlak to speak. He discussed his connection with the formation of a strong taxpayers council in Ulster and citizens' association in New Paltz.

"Civic groups," he said, "must always be on guard to know and demand, first, if improvements can be afforded before they are undertaken. We must always watch that we don't spend what we can't afford." He complimented the HCCA upon its program and wished it further successes.

Elery Bean, as a member of the education committee, reported that Dr. E. H. LeBaron, school superintendent, had told him the outdoor ice skating rink would be available "when the weather is cold enough" to freeze water and that "everyone is invited to go skating."

President Lawrence A. Roman greeted the new members present and expressed the hope for continued interest and activity during 1949.

Whose Responsibility?

The major reason why little progress of a permanent nature ever seems to be accomplished on the solution of Hicksville's parking and traffic problems is the fact that no one—no single agency or overall authority—can look at the many-sided problem and come up with a workable plan.

There are at least five official agencies involved when it comes to establishing a parking regulation, whether it be fixing limits, creating bus and loading zones, pedestrian walks, etc. These include the police department, the town board, the town and county highway department, the state traffic commission. And in addition there are almost dozens of other well-intentioned groups putting in an oar, all aiming for the same thing: THE ANSWER.

Take a specific case: On Herzog Place the police erected signs along the curbs on opposite sides of the street fixing "loading zones" for trucks. The signs say hours of enforcement are 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Some weeks after the signs were placed, the town board put a parking ordinance on the books legally establishing these zones and fixing the enforcement hours as 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. except Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays.

But try to argue with a police officer who is doing his duty, as he sees it, if you are caught in one of these Herzog Place zones (not to be confused with the $2 fine traps on Broadway) at 5 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon!

Somebody should take those signs away and have them repainted to coincide with the ordinance hours.

Or take the case of simple enforcement of the one-hour state-fixed limit on Broadway. The town fathers, in print, promise no enforcement "until the parking lot is completed" (That was last fall). No sooner did the statement get into print (the ink hardly dry) than the police began handing out tickets (as was their right, since the law is on the books and the signs are plain enough).

How can we achieve cooperation on this problem since there is no single responsible agency? We honestly believe that the appointment of the Advisory Committee on Parking, which has resumed meetings, could be a big help if the various authorities would heed the suggestions offered and the results of studies made. The Committee at this moment is the best vehicle we have for obtaining the community opinion through the various groups the committee members represent.

We see no hope for solution of parking woes until the various agencies involved get around to coordinating their efforts.

An Excellent Proposal . . .

The Community Blood Bank proposal of the Wm. M. Gouse, Jr., VFW Post outlined in last week's Herald is winning the support and endorsement of the community. Among people who have felt the necessity for a blood transfusion when the lives of loved ones were at stake, the need is real and urgent.

The plan of a Community Blood Bank, open and available to residents of Hicksville, has already won the endorsement of several local professional men. Among those who have declared "there appears to be a definite need for a program of this type" are: William G. Burke, M. D., J. William Milhauser, M. D., William A. Sausmer, M. D., and Joseph W. Wyckoff, M. D. The other medical men are being contacted.

Anyone interested and willing to support this project which is now in the formative stage is invited to contact Garrett Korntzen, Hicksville 3-1453, evenings, or the Herald.

Sprague Greets The Herald

The County of Nassau has extended official greetings to the Mid-Island HERALD, County Executive J. Russell Sprague wrote the editor this week:

"Judging from the first two issues of your new paper, I would say that the weekly journalistic field of Nassau County welcomes an enterprising addition.

◆ Along Broadway ◆

By STEVE LINIHAN

"Things printed can never be stopped; they are like-babes hatched; they have a soul from that moment, and go on forever."—Meredith.

We guess it is a normal reaction for the reading public to assume that the writer of a column such as this has something of a racket. And maybe they are right. But as we inserted our boney knees under the keyboard this morning, we heard the aforementioned knees banging frantically together like the pistons of a 1929 Reo. This column starts with the same self-assurance that is Junior's when he begins his first recitation in assembly.

And that's exactly as it should be! For a newspaperman's responsibility is not a small one. A newspaper is a community servant. It reflects the community's political thought, its social activities, its observations, its trends. Like the instruments of the physician in their relation to the human body, so the newspaper reveals the heart beat of the public, its blood pressure, its allergies—the condition of its skin as well as the secrets hidden within. (Shelley!)

The newshawk thus must approach his task with humility. He must be impartial and observing, ferreting out the facts and reporting them as he sees them. He must see freedom of the press for what it is a sacred privilege—not a convenient tool!

We note that the knees are knocking more quietly now, and with the old familiar rhythm—it looks like we're going to make it after all!

This column stepped off the train the other day, walked 50 feet to the intersection of Jerusalem Ave. and Herzog Pl. and stopped. We glanced back at the station. But the train was already pulling out, puffing and snorting and, with great billows of black smoke, protesting its contemplated uphill struggle to Syosset and points east. Somehow, the engine, with its ado and commotion, reminded us of our old granny, when years ago she would catch up with us with our hand caught in the cookie jar.

But we're still standing at Jerusalem Ave. and Herzog Pl. and it's too late to hop back on the train. This idea of hopping back on the train stems from the panoramas immediately before us. A very pleasant scene of attractive storefronts and happy shoppers is depicted on the sign above. But as we glance underneath the signboard, we find our imagination unable to cope with the situation. We are unable to picture, in our alleged mind, the area with the present condition corrected and as it will eventually appear with the shopping center completed.

It would be interesting to know how many other travelers have reached that same spot and glanced frantically back only to find that the train was already underway.

On the other side of the tracks there hangs a neatly painted that reads, "If you lived in Hicksville you would be home now!"

Hicksville has its doormat out, but somebody has misspelled the word "welcome!"

Apparently the first 50 feet are the hardest, for farther on, Hicksville impresses as a clean, healthy community, with well kept storefronts and neat homes and what turns out to be a brand new municipal parking lot, spacious and well-lighted—and well filled, too! To the casual observer, it would seem that a more centralized site could not have been selected. It is as close as possible to the business district and, adjacent to the railroad tracks as it is, probably utilizes space that would be unsuitable for any other purpose.

The zealous citizen, or the town fathers, to use an old cliché, or whoever was responsible for its creation deserve a great deal of credit and public acclaim. By the way, tell old Steve, did all those vehicles now in the parking area stand around at the various curbs once upon a time? The curb space they once occupied seems to have been well absorbed by other parkers!

You will note, good reader, that a mention of black smoke billowing out of the LIRR's locomotive and settling all over the place, was made a while back. We guarantee a lengthy dissertation on same in the very near future. Perhaps some statistics could be provided that will show just how long it will take before our fair community will be completely covered over by this byproduct of our beloved railroad.

Let 'em Talk

By JESSE MITTLEMAN

THE RAISING of voices and the shaking of fists over the Fortnightly Club incident in Rockville Centre last week is something that cannot, or at any rate should not, be quickly forgotten by any Nassau resident. The entire situation merits close examination and demands the attention of us all as individuals, for here is something that could happen in Hicksville or any other community, and which could flare up into an aggravating and embarrassing situation, if not an explosive one.

For those who haven't been able to get further than the comics or sports pages, here, briefly, is what happened: The Fortnightly Club, a Rockville Centre women's organization in existence for some 50 years, engaged Dr. Clyde R. Miller, former professor at Columbia University's Teachers' College, to speak before the Club. As soon as this bit of news got around the Club was high-pressured by veterans' and other groups to cancel the talk on the grounds that Miller was a member of organizations listed by the Department of Justice as subversive—Communist, to be precise—and that Miller himself was a Communist.

The standard bearers in this attack on Miller and the Fortnightly Club were the Catholic War Veterans, who said they were "joining forces with innumerable other American groups in requesting that the Fortnightly Club withdraw this anti-American and substitute an American in his place"; the Nassau County American Legion and the County Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Elmont chapter of the Disabled American Veterans, and the Long Island chapter, Knights of Columbus.

Mass picketing and the distribution of 10,000 handbills were threatened if Dr. Miller should be permitted to speak. Daniel Buckley, adjutant of the Rockville Centre C.W.V., said, "We believe we have performed a public and patriotic service in exposing Miller as an anti-American propagandist for the Moscow line." He said all patriotic groups look "with disgust and dismay upon the illogical and stubborn attitude of the Club in its intention to proceed with the program." So far, Buckley has the right we all have of expressing our personal opinions and preferences, whether it be for the Giants or the Dodgers, for the Republicans or the Democrats. But I became a little alarmed when I read further in the newspaper accounts quoting Buckley, wherein he reportedly said, "We are going to do all in our power to prevent these people from carrying out this action," and added that it looked as though "there are going to be as many cops there tomorrow (at the lecture) as there will be guests."

I CAN'T HELP feeling that threats in this vein, an attempt to intimidate a women's cultural club in such a manner, is as un-American as anything Miller may have said. I get more than a little concerned when a minority group—ANY minority group—attempts to set itself up as the guardian of the morale of the community, and takes steps to see that its dictates are carried out by force if necessary.

The Nassau County Council of the V.F.W. maintained that the board of directors of the Fortnightly Club "has placed the prestige of the Fortnightly Club above the security of the people, the community, the state and the nation." In making such a statement, the V.F.W. gives the communists far more credit than I do. I have sufficient faith in our system of government to discredit any belief that one or a hundred communists speaking before women's clubs will be able to endanger "the security of the people, the community, the state and the nation."

The Fortnightly Club, of course, refused to be swayed. They heard Dr. Miller, who denied being a Communist but is certainly left of center, and at last reports none of the women had been converted to the Moscow line. The veterans groups very wisely called off their plans for a demonstration.

I DO NOT KNOW MILLER. I have never heard him speak. I didn't hear him at Rockville Centre, and had only the newspaper accounts to go by concerning what he said. If he is a Communist, then I am certain I would find myself in disagreement with what he had to say, just as I would find myself in disagreement with any Fascist or any other person or group attempting to change our government as defined by the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. But at the same time, it is not for me as an individual to threaten these persons or to take the law into my own hands to decide who shall speak and who shall not speak. Until such time as such men are denied the privilege of free speech, it is our duty to permit them to speak. Mob action and mob violence are dangerous things—far too dangerous to toy with.

Lawyers are timid folk—the most rabbit-like of all the human race. The better paid the lawyers are, the more timid they are.—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.).

More than 1400 persons were present at the session of the Ohio State Association of Towns in Columbus, where John H. Brandt of Fourth St., Hicksville, spoke at the concluding banquet, a week ago. Brandt, Oyster Bay Town Highway Superintendent, attending the affair in his capacity as President of the Town Highway Superintendents' Assoc. of New York State.

At the convention, he met the governor of the state and the chief justice of the supreme court. He found great interest in New York's system of government evidence by Ohio officials and recalls staying up until 2 o'clock in the morning discussing the Empire state's structure of roads and counties. He found that Ohio townships have few elected officials by comparison with his home township.

Soy beans is a big money crop in the state, he reports, and at one point when a certain person was being asked about the reply was, "Oh, he's in Florida now. He had two hundred acres in soy beans."

THE SPORTSLITE

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

Presy Dan Belcastro of the Nassau County Amateur Basketball League will probably assign a Certified Public Accountant for the next Mineola-St. Dominic's game.

It seems that these two clubs and their scorebooks have a difficult time in reaching the same conclusions almost every time they meet.

Last week, unbeaten St. Dominic's was declared a 49-48 winner over the then one-time loser from the County Seat. Mineola has protested the game on the grounds that a foul shot made by Daly late in the game was not registered in the St. Dominic's book.

The point was credited in the running score and on the scoreboard, but when time expired the officials checked the official book and it wasn't there, so St. Dominic's was declared a one-point victor.

Our informants from the County Seat have relayed the word to us that the protest has a good chance of being upheld since it has been reported that the League executive body ordered Mineola to lodge the protest.

The other time St. Dominic's and Mineola had trouble at the scorer's table, Hicksville profited by it.

Back in 1946 Mineola, Westbury and Hicksville ended in a historic triple tie for first place, each being charged with four losses. However, there is a good chance that there never would have been that dramatic and colorful playoff series at Oyster Bay, in which Hicksville emerged the winner, had the Mineola scorer checked his book carefully when his team was supposed to have lost 31-30 to the Saints.

It was brought to light after the season, as the league was trying to point out the need for clubs to have accurate and attentive scorers, that the game really was a 31-31 tie. The Mineola scorer just failed to mark down a successful foul shot for his own team and in this case Mineola was the official scorer.

The Hicksville Kiwanis announces that it has selected William "Birdie" Bordiuk to represent it in the North-South Amateur League All-Star game at Hofstra College next Sunday.

Comets Falter In Second Half

The Hicksville High Comets did their best to jolt Oyster Bay out of the Eastern Division NSAL triple deadlock, Friday, but their time honored one defense was shattered in the second half and the talented Baymen won going away 47-35.

The Comets were out to avenge the two bad beatings the defending County champions gave them last season and for a great while appeared to have a chance of doing so.

Although they had a big advantage in the height department and controlled the ball most of the game, it took the Baymen seven minutes before they could take an 8-7 lead in the first period.

Tied at Half Time

Ahead 10-8 at the period, Oyster Bay stretched its lead to 14-9. Hicksville rallied back and with two minutes left in the half Rosengreen's cripple shot tied the score at 14-14. The pace quickened as both clubs got the range. The visitors tallied four baskets and a foul while John Econopoulis, George Cheslock and

In the second half Gene Floyd worked out of the pivot to set up plays while scoring three baskets himself as the Baymen solved the Hicksville defense for a clear cut decision.

Great Neck Scores Over Kiwanis, 83-61

In the 25th minute on Thursday Hickville had the tiger by the tail and was hanging grimly on at 40-45, but the retarded invader suddenly twisted free and the Kiwanis went spinning off to an 83-61 defeat.

For Great Neck it was the second Northern Division NCABL win as against seven defeats, while for Hickville it was the ninth reversal in as many starts.

Vamps Dominate

Averaging six feet two inches, the Vamps dominated the backboards and had an easy time in working to a 21-12 first quarter lead. However, in the second period Bill Byrnes, high for the losers with 23 points, Gus

Econopoulis, Bill Bordiuk and Jim Valentine sparked a rally which steadily closed the gap. With the gun ending the half Was Moseman zipped in a set shot from 45 feet out and the winners' margin was only four points.

The tempo increased noticeably in the third period as Adams, Cunneely and Invar got down to work for the visitors. Great Neck pulled away to a 45-36 lead but Byrnes and Valentine were insistent and Hicksville was still a challenger half way through the period.

At that point Great Neck cracked the whip and with a scorching attack ran away to a 61-46 lead. Thereafter it wasn't a contest.

Square Dancing Saturday Night

Do you enjoy square dancing? Then come to the Hicksville High School gym this Saturday night at 8:15 and spend a delightful evening dancing to the music of Donald Durlacher's four piece orchestra.

If you have never learned to square dance, then come and learn how. Before each dance Don Durlacher, the caller, explains how each dance should be done and has the dancers practice each part. Before the evening is over no one will know you are a beginner.

Square dancing can be enjoyed by the whole family, old and young alike. A group of square dancing devotees has been coming from Commack to attend these dances.

The Classroom Teachers' Association of Hicksville is sponsoring this series of square dances for the purpose of furnishing wholesome recreation for the community. The admission charge of 60c is made in order to meet expenses.

If you like to have a good time and be with other people having fun, come and bring your friends, the teachers say.
