Demand for Parking Meters Gains

The present wide-spread consideration being given to the proposed installation of automobile parking meters in Hicksville is viewed as evidence of the community concern over a desperate problem. Three general groups are apparently disturbed about parking—local residents, businessmen, and commuters.

In recent weeks the first two groups have been particularly vocal. Less has been heard from the commuter than the other two groups, probably because those who drive to the station to catch a train include large numbers of non-residents.

Meter Support Growing
Parking meters are winning many advocates, the Herald finds, because (1) the machines can guarantee parking limit (one or two-hour) enforcement, and (2) the meters are a source of revenue which can be used to provide more off-street parking fields.

On record with the authorities in favor of meters are Hicksville Civic and Community Association, largely representing the non-merchant viewpoint; Hicksville Lions Club, and Board of Directors of the Business Men's Association. The BMA is presently conducting a postal card survey of all business and professional people on the question of meters. Results to date are inadequate to be conclusive, according to Phil Ilman, BMA parking chairman.

Charles Schwartz, BMA president, Thursday night told his board of directors of interviews the previous day with a couple of dozen Glen Cove business people. Glen Cove has had 280 metered curb spaces for four months.

The Lions voted unanimously in favor of meters last Wednesday night at their meeting at the Shady Maple. The executive committee of the Civic Association, Friday night, expressed its request to the town fathers, in a letter, for more local parking fields.

The Hicksville Kiwanis has been urged by Rev. Howard Rogers, its parking chairman, to endorse meters.

Chlumsky Asks State
Councilman Frank Chlumsky has written the State Traffic Commission to discover if meters can be legally erected along a state highway (Broadway).

However, there are some local business people who hold the view that meters would hurt local business, drive shoppers to other towns; others feel that more off-street fields should be provided before strict enforcement of parking limits is undertaken, either with or without meters.

Order Five More Fire Alarm Boxes

The installation of five more fire alarm boxes in the Hicksville District, each near a new home development, has been ordered by the Board of Fire Commissioners according to Chairman Vincent W. Braun. Code numbers will be assigned after installation.

Scheduled locations are Pine and Plainview Rd., (Beavil Gables); Lee Ave. (at start of Frank Homes); Broadway and Marion Ave. (Broadway Terrace); McAllister and Duffy Ave. (860 Corp.); Edward and So. Oyster Bay Rd. (Ronald Terrace).

Delivery of the new racing car for the fire department is also anticipated this week.

Lions Tell World There Is Club In Hicksville

The first three Lions emblem signs at the entrances to Hicksville, informing the motoring public that there is a Lions Club in the community, were erected Sunday on Hicksville-Jericho Road, South Broadway and Newbridge Road. The signs have scotch-lite treatment which causes them to shine at night when struck by auto headline beams. President Fred C. Birk, Clifford Freitag and Stanford Weiss, directors, placed the signs.

MEN'S CLUB TO MEET

The Men's Club of the Trinity Lutheran Church, West Nicholas St., Hicksville, will hold a supper meeting Monday night, Feb. 21, at 8 o'clock, at the church.

VFW Cites Two Residents For Service to Community

Two Hicksville residents were cited for service to the community and awarded bronze medals for American citizenship by the William M. Gouse, Jr., VFW Post 3211 at the 14th anniversary dinner-dance of the Post, Saturday night.

Taken completely by surprise, the recipients of the citations and medals were Hazelle L. MacPherson, owner of MacPherson Motor Sales, and Fred J. Noeth, publisher of the Mid-Island Herald. Nearly 100 members of the post and their guests attended the affair at the Five Corners, Bethpage, when plans for the proposed VFW clubhouse were unveiled.

Mrs. Eugene Fitting, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, and Fred J. Sutter, post commander, cut the giant birthday cake at the party. Frank B. Sutter was master of ceremonies.

Cite Community Service
Commander Sutter in presenting the citation to Mrs. MacPherson, recalled her efforts in the Red Cross fund drives, Brunswick Hospital reorganization, work for Salvation Army, sponsorship of the baseball team (MacPherson Warriors) and other services to Hicksville. Post Commander Garrett Korfitzen awarded the medal to Noeth, enumerating service to various local groups as secretary, assistance on hospital campaigns and cooperation with VFW projects.

Frank Sutter traced the history of the Post since its initiation in the high school in 1938 with Frank Holden as first commander. Holden and Jay Heberer each served twice as commander. Other past commanders have been Charles Nichols, John Loeffler, Frank Sutter, Emmanuel Smolik, Cleveland Dodge, Sr., and Korfitzen.

A scale model of the clubhouse to be erected will soon be placed on public exhibit in the community.

Dancing followed the roast beef dinner.

Red Cross Captains Plan $2250 Drive

Fred J. Sutter, chairman of the Red Cross fund campaign in Hicksville-Plainview, will hold a meeting tonight (Wednesday) with 12 district captains and other officials at his home on Duffy Ave. to map the drive to raise $2,250 starting Mar. 1.

Magill and Mrs. Margaret Coutiere, Old Country Rd., all of Hicksville; and Mrs. Walter Bals, of Belmont Ave., Plainview.

Mrs. Hazelle MacPherson is chairman of the commerce and industry division with Leon Galloway as vice-chairman. Lydia Zebertovich is secretary.

TUESDAY IS HOLIDAY

Schools, post office, banks and most stores of the community will be closed next Tuesday for Washington's Birthday. Come in and See the FARMALL CUB

Just as I was going home for dinner the other day, the district zone manager from Harvestar dropped in. I said, "You better come along, we're having chicken . . ."

On the way back to the store, he told me to expect a shipment of Farmall Cubs within the next few days. This ought to cheer you up, and it doesn't make me "mad" either!

Well, they are here now—on display. So come on in, folks, and see the Farmall Cub! Next to a pair of pliers, it's the handiest farm tool I know. Just right for the fellow with 40 acres, more or less . . . the part-time farmer . . . the vegetable truck-crop grower . . . or the big acreage farmer who needs another tractor.

Of course, what really makes a Farmall Cub useful is its full line of quick-change implements with fingertip Farmall Touch-Control. No more sweating and swearing and aching backs!

Another thing . . . when you need prompt service and parts, I'm always here.

FEBRUARY IS FARMALL CUB MONTH!

Take A Bow, Young People

The free dance sponsored Friday night at the Masonic Hall for the young people of the community, including first voters, was such a great success that future events are definitely scheduled.

Ernest Francke, president of the Robert L. Bacon Republican Club, which sponsored the affair, believes the youngsters deserve a mighty big hand. They all acted like ladies and gentlemen and the entire affair went off in great style. Many of them expressing the wish that more of the same be arranged and it looks like Beatrice Jeanson and her hard-working committee will have a permanent assignment.

There are far too many people today inclined to denounce the younger folks at every turn. Therefore, it is especially satisfying to hear the glowing reports about the Valentine party and to compliment the participants upon their behavior.

Newcomers But Not Strangers

A surprisingly large number of the new home purchasers in Hicksville are no strangers to Long Island or this county. In fact, the experience of one developer has been that out of 114 recent sales, 29 per cent, or 33 of the families, moved in from other sections of Nassau County.

Walter Stackler, of Frank Homes, according to the February C. M. Johnson Report, found that 45 families came from Queens, 24 from Brooklyn, nine from the Bronx, only 3 from Manhattan.

Along Broadway

By STEVE LINIHAN

If we had paid no more attention to our plants than we have to our children we should now be living in a jungle of weeds.

—Luther Burbank

When we take time out, as we occasionally do, from our profound preoccupation of caring for the rest of the world and poke our undiplomatic schnozzles into the affairs of fellow nations, we take casual stock of the situation here at home. It is then that we get ourselves all excited about slum areas, flood conditions, Cleveland's chance in the American League and who put the dungarees in Mrs. Murphy's chowder?—and that old bugaboo—juvenile delinquency!

Juvenile delinquency is a pleasant sounding phrase—it sort of rolls off the tongue and around among the mail order molars like pinch-bottle scotch—particularly the tongues and mail order molars of such adult reformers and taxpayers.

Someday, when time hangs heavy and ambition runs rampant, this column is going to coin a few new and much needed phrases that will roll equally well and smooth over the eager tongues and healthy young teeth of the juvenile element. We promise one of the phrases will be "adult delinquency."

Surprise School Board

The educational system, particularly in communities corresponding in size to Hicksville, usually receives a more or less steady flow of criticism from various sources—ask any member of your School Board! But let us surprise the Board of Education for a change and place the blame, if any, where it actually belongs—with us! The "Powers that be" who conduct the affairs of our educational system and spend our tax dollars are people chosen by ballot from our midst. It may happen to you some day!

Do you attend the public hearings of the Board of Education? Or do you only "show up" when you want to vote "agin" something? Are you acquainted with the expenditures of your school funds? Do you feel that your children and your neighbors' are in an educational system adequately conducted—and does it deviate with their education requirements? Does your Board of Education select a qualified faculty—and are they being encouraged to remain in your community by receiving adequate compensation? Do you belong to your Parent-Teacher Association?

And so we come to our pet subject and this is where we bite right through the stem of our old briar and start pounding the keys with such determined fervor and we ask our last question: "What is your community doing for its youth?" Make up a list! We tried that once and before we had anything listed on the paper we had our fingernails chewed right back to where the arthritis is starting to settle in our favorite elbow. Like an overwhelming majority of the communities in our fair county, Hicksville is doing far too little. Youth has boundless energy—as if you didn't know—and if the community doesn't give youth some place to blow-off steam, it will come piling out through the safety valve, which we like to call juvenile delinquency.

You will find, if you really stop to think about it, that almost all forms of recreation for our sons and daughters are provided for by private enterprises—the movies, ice cream parlors and bars and grills. You can add to these, the extra-curricular activities of the school system, such as they are, and the naturally limited facilities of the church groups. Let us make a deep bow, too, toward the P.T.A.s and the isolated individuals who give tirelessly toward the cultivation of youthful pursuits.

Need For Unified Effort

What seems to be necessary, though, is a unified effort on the part of all organizations in the community to set up a central Youth Activities Committee, with, let us say, a delegate from each participating group—Kiwanis, Business Men's Association, Civic Association, and others. Each group could contribute a nominal sum which, taken in the aggregate, would be sufficient to provide an ample fund for the deflecting of youthful energy into healthy, useful, recreational pursuits. Time spent, would be of greater value to the community than any other project, for, in this, you are building, in the youth of today, the good citizens; the intelligent parents of tomorrow—and then perhaps our children will be able to provide for the generation to follow a life where no "adult delinquency" exists.

This column, with appropriate humility, hereby casts a vote of confidence for our youth in Hicksville—and in our country today—who are going to be the rich men, poor men, doctors, lawyers, merchants and housewives of tomorrow—and they'll do a swell job, too—because of us?—or despite us?

Addenda

By JESSE MITTLEMAN

IT DOES MY HEART GOOD whenever a new building or other project for Hicksville passes the planning stage and begins to take material form. I feel even happier when these ideas for civic improvement are completed and prove themselves to such an extent that the "I told you so" boys can justly gloat and wonder aloud why such improvements had never been made before.

The thing—or things—that gave impetus to this mellow mood are the near completion of Peter and Wendy's shop adjoining Edward's Men's Shop and the local free public parking field. Nothing contributes more "class" to a community shopping section than the appearance of the store fronts. Franklin Square tackled this problem some years ago under the aegis of the Franklin Square Bank, which commissioned architects to draw plans for making the facades in its shopping district homogeneous, and then proceeded to sell the merchants on the idea. The Bank profited because it made the loans for this face-lifting project. The business men profited because it kept a lot of cash in town that would otherwise have found its way into the shops of Hempstead and Garden City. And the community profited because it is an old truism that what helps Business helps the community.

The same type of improvements have been showing themselves in Hicksville, but it has been a process of lengthy evolution rather than overnight revolution. The reconstruction some years before the war of stores currently housing Spiro's, Maglin's, and the A. & P. was a help. The rebuilding of Bahrenburg's Bakery, George's Sweet Shop, the Rogers 5 & 10, and the upstairs offices in the same building following a fire which, as the newspapers say, "gutted the structure," was a boon to the business area appearance. More recently, a new front on Smith's Drug Store, the construction of a group of modern stores on South Broadway by the Botto Brothers, and the new front on what is now Edward's have helped. The demolition of the ramshackle eyesore that had been on the corner of Nicholas St. and Broadway for too many years was welcome, and it's pleasant to see a modern store in its place.

These are slow, small steps, true, but they are steps in the right direction. Their continuance, and acceleration, is important to every member of the community, businessman or otherwise. If the business district flourishes, the community flourishes. Hicksville has a tremendous potential market in the Levittown population—it is important that it show the foresight and imagination necessary to get its share of this business.

ITEM NUMBER TWO—the municipal parking field—is likewise a project which should have been completed years ago. In trying to find a place to park my creaking jalopy on a Friday, especially,

However, there seems to me, and to several others with whom I've discussed this, to be evidence of a masterful piece of bonehead planning in marking out the field into parking areas. Before spaces were marked out, parkers naturally gravitated toward what was obviously the most functional pattern in parking their cars. That is, the cars were parked in long rows, thereby eliminating the great waste of space made necessary by breaking the area up into little islands, and making it easier to park by making it unnecessary to maneuver back and forth in narrow lanes, the lanes also being the by product of the multitude of "islands." There isn't much that can be done about this unfortunate situation now, but let's hope that the paint will wear off fairly soon, and when the field is remarked, to have someone plan it so that it will accommodate the maximum number of cars and yet require the least effort on the part of the driver to park his car. As things stand now, the field accomplishes neither.

Current Comment:

Yale Researcher Makes Study of Hicksville

WE WENT TO NEW HAVEN last Thursday to look at a set of maps and studies in the School of Fine Arts, Yale University. The subject of the study is our own home community of Hicksville, Long Island.

Zoning, educational facilities and parking have been examined in detail and the results of several months research put down on charts and maps. The data accumulated is the work of Frank Greenhaus, Yale architectural student, who will continue on the project for the balance of the year in pursuit of his master's degree.

Hicksville was chosen for the study by Greenhaus and his Prof. Tunnard because of the special problems confronting it today as one of the fastest growing communities on the Island. Greenhaus interviewed local people, including Henry G. Eisemann and Dr. E. H. LeBarron; pored over maps of zoning and building permits at the Oyster Bay Town Hall; examined local assessments and taxation with the help of Tax Receiver Frank G. Seboll; talked with officials of the Nassau County Planning Commission.

His accumulated data has been transferred to large scale maps of the community. Land uses have been examined, traffic and parking surveys have been analyzed.

Based upon the new housing construction in Hicksville during 1948 and the new home building scheduled, according to plans filed with the county planning commission, we have a population today in excess of 10,000 persons. It is expected to reach a peak of 15,000 by 1951 and then "level off."

And with increases in population will come, naturally, greater enrollment of students in the local schools. Greenhaus' reasoning about expansion of school facilities in Hicksville follows almost identically the plan offered the district by the board of education late last year.

Cutting the district into three units, using the railroad as division lines, he puts East St. School in one segment, a new school in the upper northwest section and another school in the lower southwest area.

He sees need for a 10-room grade school in the vicinity of the Bergold property (23-room if it replaces Nicholas School), and a 13-room school near St. John's Home. He has obtained figures from the State Department of Education which puts the cost of new school construction today (including land purchase) in the neighborhood of $35,000 per room.

THE PARKING STORY particularly caught our attention. No less than EIGHT public parking fields, each with a capacity of 100 or more autos, are needed by Hicksville, according to the Yale student's research. This total auto field capacity was determined by the actual movement and count of autos on our streets.

Unfortunately he lumps the commuter and shopper parking questions as a single problem. As you might expect, the acquisition of the Stattel property near the depot is suggested, primarily for commuters. Another field is spotted at the scene of our present Robert Williams Field (opp. Fire House), a third is placed inside the Taliaferro block, etc.

The suggested financing of such additional facilities for parking appeared weak to us: Either the "Garden City Plan" of assessing adjacent property owners for the cost of acquiring property and the entire community for the cost of improvement; or the "Huntington Plan." Under the latter arrangement, a non-profit corporation of businessmen has bought land and improved it for parking; selling it back to the township over a 10 year period at 10 per cent of the cost plus interest and taxes each year.

We have been promised photographic copies of the parking and other studies. They should be of great value to local authorities concerned with these problems.

PARENTS' DUTY IS PRIVILEGE TO PREPARE CHILD, P.-T. A. HEARS

"Young people can look forward to a successful marriage which is the basic unit of democracy, despite the number of divorces and broken homes today, if they study, plan and work as hard in preparation for marriage as they do for any other career," Emery Nelson of the YMCA National Council, said at a meeting of the Jr. and Sr. High School P.-T.A. Tuesday night in HHS auditorium.

Sounding a warning in his lecture on "The Parents' Responsibility in Preparing Their Sons and Daughters for Marriage," he said that young people of today are beginning to think, by their contact with movies and novels, that immortality is sanctioned.

Mentions Clergy

"I hope that the priests and preachers in this area are doing something about it now, before it's too late," he said. "It is necessary to go back to the home, the basic unit of Christianity, to correct this trend. It is at the father's or mother's knee that the child is indoctrinated with his basic beliefs."

"If parents would do well their job of teaching their children about sex, dating and petting, fellows like me wouldn't have to do it," he pointed out. "It is the greatest privilege in the world to get your son to thinking right, to change or correct what he may learn from sources outside of his home."

"You may object to the teaching of sex in the school but there already is a complete course in the school, in the locker rooms or on the street corners or pool rooms and it's distorted and all wrong," Mr. Nelson said.

He urged parents to answer their child's very first question directly and simply; the next time it will be easier and a closeness will grow between parent and child. He said that as the child grows older he needs someone to talk over these problems.

"Why don't you parents talk over these problems with your son or daughter instead of me?" Mr. Nelson asked. He explained that high school boys and girls need and are hungry for competent advice as is evidenced by the large attendance at his lectures for teen agers.

"The most tragic of words are 'I can't talk with my mother or father, they don't understand," Mr. Nelson quoted as the sad complaint he's heard most often during his ten years of work in juvenile courts acting as a friend to the kid in a jam.

"Every boy and girl is dreaming of a sweetheart and a home of his own yet they have a very poor chance of ever being happily married unless we prepare them for it," he said.

Seven rights of all young people were outlined by the speaker. The first is the right to be well born or the right to be wanted. The right to health so he can grow up to be a strong, vigorous citizen.

The right to play, a wholesome recreational play. A playground without trained leaders is worse than no playground. The right to a job, not any old job but one to which his or her abilities are fitted; a school where their aptitudes can be directed to jobs out of which they will derive satisfaction.

The right to education. The right to build a happy home and the right to a personal religious experience with God.

A brief question and answer period followed Mr. Nelson's lecture. He cautioned parents not to buy sex education books that are generally advertised.

"Get books from your church press, the American Medical Association in Chicago, Ill., or the YMCA, 347 Madison Ave., N. Y.," he advised.

Plan Welfare Night

During the business meeting it was planned to hold a Welfare Night Mar. 14 to aid the P.-T. A. fund. A grievance by a parent or teacher may be presented for discussion that night and a small donation will be collected from each debater.

night" would serve a good purpose, one of the P.-T. A. members previewed the next town hall-type meeting when he asked, "How about that concrete slab outside? I'd like some discussion on that. You can't ice skate on it, you can't roller skate on it and you can't park your car on it. What good is it?"

Entertainment was provided by high school students. A trio, Lynne Phelps, Dianne Scholle and Dave Thompson, sang "Swing Low, Sweet Rose." Marilyn Smith was the "a-Chariot" and "My Happiness." Dianne Scholle sang "Mighty Like a Compasist. Grace Cirocco gave a twirling demonstration.

DEMAND FOR PARKING METERS IS GAINING

Robert Williams Field, opposite the firehouse, was completed last November at an approximate cost of $35,000. It has a capacity of about 100 vehicles and is nearly filled to capacity every day of the week. It is being paid for by an annual 7.5 cent per $100 tax, spread over 10 years.

Hicksville's problem seems to be: how can more fields be provided without increasing the tax burden? Advocates of meters believe they have the solution.

East Street School News

Rosana Russell, Coordinator
GB NEWS

We exhibited some of our activities on Mexico in the hall on the first floor. On display were a Mexican bazaar, a sidewalk cafe, the Floating Gardens of Kochimilco, drawings, booklets and many clothes pin dolls. Before school in the morning and during the noon hour Gwendolyn McCue and Karen Keena answered questions about the articles shown.

We are studying Ecuador and are nearly finished with the study of South America. We are working on South American activities. We made pictures of winter and put them on the bulletin boards. Bonnie Sieving.

3B NEWS

We are studying about Eskimos. We found that they are very interesting. We decided to make an Eskimo Village. Some of the children made tupiks, kayaks and umiaks.

Dana Adams.

MR. ENGLE VISITS

Mr. Gail M. Engle, Jane's daddy, visited our 4B class Friday. He talked to us about airplanes. He answered many of our questions. We learned that airplanes fly in on a beam. They may not be able to see the field but receive signals if off the course. The signals change when an airplane flies over an airport.

Planes have I.F.F. transmitters used to signal boats. Once a plane did not use it and was shot down. It was thought to be an enemy plane. Come through a storm is called "a front." Planes can fly even when an engine fails out. Mr. Engle showed us pictures that he took. We saw Buckingham Palace and Half Moon Street in London, an open market place in Ireland and the ruins of German cities. We enjoyed Mr. Engle's visit and learned a great deal.

Peter Nygren.

NEWSDEALER STRIKE ENDS WITH SUCCESS

The "strike" against LIFE magazine by most Hickville newsdealers was short-lived but apparently successful. Normal delivery date for the magazine to Hickville stores has been Friday. When it was found that the Levittown Centre and the newsstand at Hickville depot were getting LIFE on Thursdays, local dealers agreed to refuse deliveries the next day. And so it happened on Feb. 4 with all dealers, except one, rejecting the usual mountainous heaps. Representatives of the magazine and its delivery representatives came a running and promised to straighten it out.

Last Thursday the magazine came to Hickville stands, as requested, and the "strike" ended. The dealers were jubilant and the customers are probably pretty well satisfied also. An estimated 500 LIFE are sold here weekly.

SPORTLITE

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

There is a chance that the Hicksville Kiwanis may break out of the doghouse and do some dawing into the fine record of Joe Jablonki's Westbury Legion Thursday night.

With Chet Jaworski in the lineup, the Blue looks like a team with a purpose. Jaworski's presence completely changes the pattern of play. He sets up the attack and directs the defense in such a manner that Hicksville finally looks as though it at least knows what game it is playing.

Roslyn chose to use a zone defense last week and Hicksville used it to its own advantage. Should Westbury come up with the zone, the Blue might cash in at long last.

At any rate it will be close. Naturally Hicksville hasn't staged a poor game at home since the opening 30-point loss to Mineola. And now that it has decided not to run with the big boys and play a slow deliberate game it is all the more constructive.

For Hicksville to attempt to run with the fast-stepping members of its own league is like asking the nag that pulls the village ice wagon to start off even with Citation.

The Hicksville Sportsmen Club has been accepted as a member in the Nassau County Federation of Game Hunters.

The last time we swung the Sportlite on the Sportsmen Club we noted that out of 58 pheasants released by the organization, 45 of them had been accounted for by club members.

Since then we have learned from Chairman of the Games Committee, Ralph Struab, that George Hartmaier leads the club in bagging the birds. Hartmaier shot eight while Ward Duffield and Harold Appleton picked off four apiece. Struab himself got three along with John Lehmann's.

Hicksville Firemen expect their racing team's new high geared racing truck in sometime this week. The Ford will be the most up-to-date racer in its line and the vamps are anxious to get a look at it.

The meeting of the Hicksville Field Club next Monday will not be just an ordinary one.

The Black and White has already started concrete groundwork for next year and has a few good propositions to offer any player who is interested and can make the club.

There are also many matters that will be straightened out to prove that the Field Club is serious about operating successfully next season. None are expected to cause fireworks, but that doesn't mean that there wouldn't be any should something come up to hurt the chances of launching the 1949 B. & W. on an even keel.

Sports fans have often wondered just how accurate an impression one can get from a radio broadcast of a prize fight. We have too, so last Friday we tried to judge the Pepe-Saddler brawl, round by round.

In our group were eight persons. Four were for Pepe and four were for Saddler. After each round a quick poll was taken of each person and the boxer who received the most votes was awarded the round. No one voted according to his likes but just strictly on the impression the announcer was giving.

According to our judging, Pepe was the winner with nine rounds to four with two even. The officials at the fight also declared Pepe the winner 9-5-1; 9-6 and 10-5.

Ed Coleman and Ray Halleran, enjoying a brief vacation with a dozen other ski lovers from the Hicksville-Jericho area at Great Barrington, Mass., had to hustle back to the Island for the Jericho-Mineola NCABL game.

That they did so indicates that the Firemen are still of the mind that their desire to annex the bunting is still not beyond their capabilities. That they intend to stay in the fight, even though it is a hopeless cause, was well pointed up when they came on in the final minutes to bear the County Seat Club 67-64.

Halleran returned to the snow of Barrington and wasn't on hand when Jericho went down rather hard before St. Ignatius Red Devils.

***

Our choices for the week are Great Neck over Jericho by 1, Dodgerettes over East Rock by 11, Westbury over Kiwanis by 7, Sea Cliff over HHS by 3, St. Dominic's over Kiwanis by 13 and Oyster Bay HS by 18 over HHS.

LAST MAN MEETING SET

The 11th annual Last Man's Club meeting will be held Monday night, Feb. 28, at the Hicksville Inn at 8:30 o'clock.

School Board Honors Coaches, Trackmen

One hundred and ten persons including coaches, players, cheerleaders and guests, attended the Victory Dinner in honor of Hicksville H. S. football and cross-country teams in the school cafeteria Feb. 3. The Board of Education sponsored the testimonial.

Feature of the evening was the presentation of gold footballs and gold track shoes to the letter winning members of the grid and track teams respectively.

Toastmaster for the evening was Trustee Lawrence Eisenhauer. He presented tokens of appreciation on behalf of the Board to Charles Colthurst, retiring district treasurer and Andrew B. Heberer, who has completed 25 years of service as clerk, for their efforts in serving the district.

Guest speaker of the evening was Berie Valent, who worked as asstant coach under Coach William W. NFU and Lynn Waldorf at North-western University. He landed the football team for winning the North Shore Championship and congratulated the undefeated Cross-Country team as did many officials and guests who spoke during the evening.

E. Parker Yutsler, former Athletic Director at Hicksville, spoke briefly.

Board President Henry C. Brengel sent his regrets that he was unable to attend. He is vacationing in Florida. Vice-President John Herzog and Dr. Walter F. Stilliger, school physician, also were unable to attend.

Cheerleaders present were Roberts Marrs, Doris Borley, Dorothy Kuns, Lucille Muhlenbruck, June Holzmacher, Lorraine Zeiler, Joyce Weickmann, Renee Miller, Adia Botto, Voleice Zaleski, Virginia Hernandez, Betty Jean Norman, Dolores Irmedoff, Dorothy Schultz, Grace Callajas, Geraldine Lenner, Louise Crowley and Margaret Vedmetta.

Edna Krons Katsis, newest member of the Board, joined in praising the athletes and also congratulated the principal and the teachers of the school for laying the groundwork for the successful campaign.

Late Comet Rally Short-Lived at Westbury

Hicksville High reversed the script as it started poorly and finished strong, Friday night, but when the curtain fell on another performance of "The Comets and the Elusive Leather," the result was still the same—Westbury had posted a 37-33 victory.

Operating in the small confines of the Westbury gym, the Comets moved as if in a fog during the first two periods. Their ball handling was ragged and they had tremendous difficulty in bringing the ball downcourt. Possessing the ball only a minimum of the time they fell behind 14-5 at the quarter and 22-9 at the half.

In the third period John Econopoly, Ted Schwarting, Al Cannon and Billy Cheslock all scored for Hicksville, but the efforts of Vogelback and Scro enabled Westbury to maintain a ten-point advantage.

Furious action in the first eight minutes of the last period saw Elias Stetz, Cannon, Schwarting and Cheslock cut the lead to 35-29. Vogelback went underneath for the Green Wave to build a 37-29 bulge and it was over. Hicksville could not catch up even though Cheslock flipped in two goals within twenty seconds.

Westbury dropped 7 of 8 throws from the foul line while Hicksville sunk 5 out of 17.

The lineups:

Westbury (37)	G.	F.	P.

Kiwanis Presses Roslyn A A

Needing a win over the hapless Hicksville Kiwanis to move into a second place NCABL Northern Division tie, the speed merchants of the Roslyn A. A. had the brakes put to them for three periods, Thursday, and got the fright of their lives before they escaped with a 53-43 decision.

Hicksville's unexpected stiff opposition was directly responsible to the return of Chet Jaworski to the lineup. The All-American from Rhode Island State directed a brilliant floor game and also tallied 15 points. His presence enabled the Kiwanis to stay with a team which had beaten it 72-32 in a previous meeting.

Use Zone Defenses
Both clubs used a zone defense. Hicksville worked painfully slow in the first two periods and the stalling paid off. After trailing 6-3 at the period the Kiwanians had the score tied 15-15 at halftime.

In the next stanza Roslyn forged ahead by three points twice but each time Hicksville quickly came back. When it was 21-18 Billy Byrnes hit twice from the bucket and later when it was 28-25 Jaworski dribbled the length of the floor on two occasions for layups. Jaworski's solos gave Hicksville the lead at the end of three periods.

As the last quarter got under way, Ponsiek, Miles and Certeilo pulled Roslyn in front 44-35. Hicksville still remained in the fight however and with three minutes left was only off the pace 44-41. At that point Byrnes fouled out and joined Fritz Dunire, who had done likewise a bit earlier, on the bench and with those two gone the Kiwanis collapsed in the final minutes.

FIELD CLUB ORGANIZES AT SESSION NEXT MONDAY

All interested parties are invited to attend.

SPORTSMEN SAY THANKS

Speaking for the Hicksville Sportsmen's Club, Bill York expresses that group's appreciation to all the local merchants and individuals who made it possible for the Sportsmen to honor the 1948 Hicksville Field Club at Wheatley Hills three weeks ago.

In a brief interview with a staff member of the Mid-Island Herald, York named the Charles Wagner Post, Hicksville American Legion; Gilson Knitwear, Pete Breen's, Mauhsley Press, Empire Diner and Nassau Printers as those parties "without whose generous cooperation the affair could not have been a success."
