Heim to Tell Civics About Library

Joseph Heim, president of the Hicksville Public Library Board of Trustees, will explain the proposed $175,000 bond issue for a library building at the regular meeting of the Hicksville Civic and Community Association on Thursday night, Mar. 24, in the firehouse auditorium. The question comes up for a vote on Mar. 29 at the high school.

All interested residents of the community are invited to the meeting, according to President Lawrence A. Roman, whether they are members of the HCCA or not. Heim is expected to display a sketch of the proposed building and outline the problems confronting the library.

A further discussion of the proposition is expected to take place on Monday night, Mar. 29, when the proposal comes up for a vote at a special meeting of the school district. The meeting in the high school takes place at 8 o'clock, followed by the voting.

Hear Chumsky Also

The Civics will also have as a guest speaker on Mar. 24 Councilman Frank Chumsky, who will talk about town government. He is bringing with him maps of the special improvement districts of Hicksville and will answer the inquiries of newer residents, in particular, about extension of municipal services to new developments.

Little comment has been heard around the community since the library bond issue proposition was announced two weeks ago. The bond issue will cover the cost of acquiring property at Cherry St. and Jerusalem Ave., erection of a one-story building of modern design which will also provide a community meeting room seating 75 persons, landscaping of the grounds, fees and other costs.

One criticism which has developed in local conversations has been regarding the price of $13,500 asked for the site of the building, 151x107. One realtor told the Herald of a corner parcel on Old Country Rd., 175x (Continued on Page Four)

Albrecht Says School Board Made No Offer; Condemnation Begins

With condemnation proceedings by the Hicksville Board of Education scheduled to start in Nassau County Court next Monday morning, Frank Albrecht of Jericho this week asserted that he had never received any formal offer for his 10-acre parcel from the school authorities.

Purchase of the so-called Albrecht Parcel on Burns Ave., Hicksville, was approved by school district voters last November, along with the 21-acre Bergold property in the south section of the district. The Bergold purchase has been completed with $3,000 an acre paid by the district.

Service of a notice of the condemnation action during the past week, Albrecht said, gave him his first official indication that the school district thinks his property is worth only $1,500 an acre.

The acreage with 960-foot frontage on the east side of Burns Ave. runs back 480 feet to the St. John's Farm. The south side is bounded by Mangano Place, off Milton St. It is owned by the Jericho florist and his two sisters, one residing in Suffolk and the other in the City.

Developer Made Inquiry

About a year ago, David Steinert was authorized by the owners to offer the property for sale to the school district for $35,000 or about $3,500 an acre, according to the information gathered by the Herald in questioning Albrecht and Steinert. Nothing further was heard until late last summer when a $30,000 offer, presented (Continued on Page Four)

P-TA to Question Board on 11 Points

An 11-point inquiry pertaining to school matters as proposed by Harry Ernenwein Monday night at a Jr. and Sr. High School P-T.A. meeting was adopted by the P-T.A. for presentation before the School Board during its next regular meeting. Ernenwein and the following volunteer committee will represent the P-T.A.: Mrs. Franklin Duerk, Mrs. Foster, Elery Bean and Mrs. Simonson.

Most of the questions proposed by Ernenwein concerned the purchase of school sites in Hicksville. Some of these questions include: Was Charles Stoll the attorney for the School Board and what was his fee? Why was the Bergold property bought through a dummy? Why was the property bought in such a manner? Why is the Albrecht property being condemned, Albrecht said they would not refuse an offer but had not gotten an offer from the Board? What's to be done about the concrete play area? Will the tennis courts be first for this year?

LIONS AT WORK. Three signs have been erected at entrances to Hicksville giving notice that there is a Lions Club in the community. Here Clifford Freitag swings the sledge hammer for the sign post while President Fred C. Birk keeps an eye on the hammer and Stanford X. Weiss looks at the photographer. Sam says he knows Cliff's aim is good. The signs stand on North B'way, South B'way and Newbridge Road. (Photo by Frank D. Mallett).

Dear Jean . . .

PARADE, the roto-section of the L. I. Sunday Press, and other dailies across the nation, featured a picture-word story on the Hicksville Gliding School of STEVE and VIRGINIA BENNIS. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. PETER MEYER of Hempstead Turnpike. . . . The TWIN LAWNS CIVIC ASSOCIATION has added its endorsement to the VFW plan for a community book bank. . . . It will be a "sock dance" this Saturday at the high school gym for the teen-agers of the community. ELMERY BEAN of the sponsoring P.T.A. says the youngsters suggested the special party where everyone dances around without shoes. There'll be prizes for the most novel footwear. . . .

The Hicksville BMA directors meet tomorrow (Thursday) night. . . . We can't figure out how Hicksville has a Red Cross quota of $2,250 and Island Trees (with 6,000 houses) only $800. . . .

Something new in the line of nurseries for youngsters, sponsored by the various churches on Sunday mornings while adults attend services, will be held at Bethpage Methodist next Sunday. MRS. MAY STRONG will entertain the children with several puppet show skits during the 11 o'clock worship. . . . Hicksville Airport was still operating yesterday (Tuesday) but informed sources in the township anticipated the town fathers would take some action within a matter of days. It was recalled that the Court decision reversing the appeals board variance also abolished all permits on buildings and ordered their removal from the premises. . . . Loading zones on Broadway, Hicksville, were marked with paint by the Lions, Sunday. Watch for the story with pictures in the Herald next week. . . .

ERNEST FRANCKE of Field Ave. is foreman of the Nassau County Grand Jury this month which may hear the nationally infamous "Heart Killers" case. . . . A survey at Republic Aviation has shown that 161 of 6,026 employees live in Hicksville, which is more than the 104 from Westbury, 106 from Freeport. . . . Somebody is making a stink and it's not the folks who live on East St., Field Ave., Twinlawn Ave. and vicinity. Bitter complaints are being voiced in those areas, especially on foggy days, because of the odoriferous smoke which floats around their homes. Source of the foul-smelling smoke is said to be the open dumps at the Town Incinerator plant in Locust Grove. And the incinerator was supposed to eliminate all open dumps of burning refuse. . . . With spring only a matter of days in the future, this is a good time to start planning for a bang-up clean-up job. And we can't think of a better place to start than the vicinity of the Hicksville depot. We hope MRS. LUCIA McINTOSH and the Legion Auxiliary Ladies repeat the excellent job they did last April-May. . . . STEVE CANTON of 29 Castle Lane, Island Trees, wants to see Levittowners organize giant car pools to counteract the LIRR fare increase. Several dailies this week editorially commented on the CANTON Plan as an accomplished fact although a well-informed Island Trees source doubts if a single car-pool has resulted as yet. . . . A bunch of over-ripe scallions to Newsday for its scare story last week on alleged anti-semitism in a Levittown organization. Things must be tough when a story has to be built upon alleged "stage whispering" at a meeting of a handful. . . .

Now making their homes in brand new houses off South Broadway are the following new neighbors: MR. and MRS. GEORGE ULIANO from East Williston. . . . MR. and MRS. JOHN SORGIE and their 21-months son from Queens Village. . . . MR. and MRS. MILTON DEDIE and their 18-months son from Jamaica. . . . MR. and MRS. NEAL ANDERSON and their three daughters, including the twins, from East Williston. . . . MR. and MRS. LAWRENCE BRUECKNER and their boys, 3 and 4 years, from Brooklyn. . . . MR. and MRS. FRANK O'CONNELL and infant son from New Hyde Park. . . . MR. and MRS. FRANCIS OWEN and boys, 1 and 6 years, from Brooklyn. . . .

Levitt Houses Coming Closer to Hicksville

While Levitt & Sons has acquired farm lands within the Township of Oyster Bay, no permits for building houses in the township, south of Hicksville, have as yet been filed with the Town Building Dept.

Levitts have built 6,000 houses at Island Trees for rental and sale to veterans, and have given the area the name of Levittown. Plans to build another 4,000 houses to be sold, not rented, in the same area have been revealed.

During the past few weeks, the sale of several large farm tracts north of Levittown, roughly bounded by Jerusalem Ave. on the east and Newbridge Rd. on the west have been reported. This week the Hempstead Town Building department issued 750 permits to Levitt for homes in this section.

The newest section will apparently circle the Aviation Country Club property and bring Levitt houses even nearer to Hicksville.

Plastic Mfg. Plea Before Zone Board

Permission to continue manufacture of plastic compounds and protective surface coatings on Charlotte Ave., Hicksville, will be sought by Eronel Services Inc. at a meeting tomorrow (Thursday) night of the Zoning Board of Appeals in the Justice courtroom, Oyster Bay, at 7:30 p.m. The case had been held over since the last Board meeting.

New cases to be considered by the Board tomorrow night will include a request by John M. Coe of 83 Harrison Ave., Hicksville, who plans to erect a one-car garage with less setback than the ordinance allows on the southeast corner of Harrison and Herman Aves., Hicksville.

Joseph Graziano of 4307 192nd St., Flushing, is asking for a variance to erect a contractor's office, two houses and 4-car garage on the north side of Jericho Tpke., about 400 feet west of Brush Hollow Rd. or Union Ave., Jericho.

Garrett Waring of Glen Head plans to erect a dwelling with less width and area than the ordinance permits on the southwest corner of 13th St. and Meyers Ave., Hicksville.

KIWANIANS HEAR RED CROSS SPEAKER

Henry Hartmann of the Nassau County Red Cross was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Wednesday afternoon at the Hicksville Inn. He showed a motion picture on the work of the Red Cross during disasters.

Morris Rochman, reporting on a state university, said that he believed there is no dual control threatened and that pending legislation should be supported.

Visiting Kiwanians were Arthur Kraft of Bethpage and Frank Quigley of Baldwin.

MONTHLY TRAVEL BILL IS HALF LEVITT RENT

Monthly transportation for residents of the Levitt development at Island Trees, with the new increase in RR fares, amounts to $31.42 or half the monthly rent, according to Steve Canton of 29 Castle Lane who is campaigning for giant auto pools. He figures it this way for those who commute from Hicksville depot: .46-trip ticket $17.02, subway fare of $4.00, gas for car $8 and another dollar for oil and extras.

Mid-Island Area 'Natural' For Industry

THE PROPOSED zone change on some seven acres along Cantiague Road, Hicksville, from residential to industrial has once again focused attention upon an important question before the mid-island community.

If you missed the start of the Cantiague Road business, there is an application before the Oyster Bay Town Board to create an industrial zone embracing property owned by the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. of North Carolina. The property in question has already been granted a variance of the zoning to permit light manufacturing (radio or electronic assembly). When the question came up for a public hearing last week, the hearing was adjourned at the request of the applicants until May 3rd.

Strong opposition to the zone change has been registered already and one of the major reasons for objection is the fact that under a variance only a specific, controlled type of activity is allowed. Under a zone change, what any kind of industrial operation would be permitted.

Say "industrial zone" to anyone and immediately there comes to mind a vision of heavy, noisy operation—Pittsburgh and its smoke. Speak of "light manufacturing" and a different picture comes to mind: small buildings, suitable landscaped and set back from the main highways.

The following comments are not to be taken as reasons for or against the Cantiague Road proposition. That one was mentioned only because it gives timeliness to this question of zoning for industry.

The location of Hicksville in the heart of the mid-island community with a reasonable amount of undeveloped land still available, makes it a "natural" site for proposed light manufacturing, planners assert.

George H. Hauser, vice-president of Liberty Aircraft Products Corp. in Farmingdale and a director of the Bank of Hicksville, sounded a logical note in this connection last January. In a letter wishing the Mid-Island Herald the utmost success, he added:

"Hicksville, I have long felt, will be the center of industrial activity in Nassau County if industry is brought to that area under proper planning and condition. I may be somewhat prejudiced in favor of Hicksville as I happened to have been born there; but Hicksville being served by the Long Island Rail Road as it is, I see no reason why the entire area between Westbury, Farmingdale and Syosset could not become the location for industries such as the type that now exist with a high-class, well-paid group of employees who will then be able to live close to their work and participate in the activities of Nassau County."

Hicksville has at this moment a number of local concerns which fall in the classification of "light manufacturing" and which are in no way offensive or detrimental. The homeowner has a vital interest, if he'll only take the time to see to it, in the establishment of such regulated manufacturing. For one thing, a manufacturing plant pays taxes, helps support schools and provides municipal services while making little or no demands for those facilities. Thus the tax burden is passed from the shoulders of the home owner. Further, a high-class manufacturing activity provides local employment and that can be a decided asset at a time when the $20 monthly commutation fare to New York may be a detriment for the potential home purchaser.

The Herald hopes that the authorities now engaged in overhauling the zoning ordinance of the Township are giving serious thought to the establishment of a new kind of zone which will fit the so-called "light manufacturing" activity.

THIS ENTIRE MATTER of "Making Zoning Work for the Community" will be aired on Friday, Mar. 26, at a Planning and Zoning Forum in the Garden City Hotel. Sponsors are the Long Island Association and the Long Island Real Estate Board. Henry G. Eisemann of Hicksville, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Zone Revision for the Township, is a director of the Long Island Association.

The importance of adequate zoning for light industry in suitable areas in both Nassau and western Suffolk Counties is to be emphasized at the Forum. Grover O'Neill of Oyster Bay, who is serving on the Citizens' Committee with Eisemann and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Regional Plan Association, will preside at the morning session.

We expect that this forum will at least indirectly, if not directly, determine the future of expanded light manufacturing activity in the mid-island area. While Hicksville may not be mentioned by name during the discussions, it is obvious that planners have their eyes upon it.

—FRED J. NOETH.

ALBRECHT SAYS SCHOOL BOARD MADE NO OFFER

to them as an offer by some out-of-town developer, was made.

Since the property in question was bought by the Albrechts for $22,100 in 1928, the $30,000 proposal was rejected by the owners.

"About a month ago," Albrecht says, "I was visited by Charles H. Stoll and asked several questions about the property but no offer was made." Stoll was attorney for the school district in the acquisition of the Bergold property, and is representing the district in the condemnation proceedings. The next thing he knew, Albrecht was served with a paper Saturday, Mar. 5, concerning the condemnation.

A spokesman for the School Board told the Herald on Friday that "the owners of the Albrecht property have been served in a condemnation action." No further comment was made.

"Public Misinformed"

Albrecht is disturbed to find Hicksville people seem to have the impression that he is attempting to "hold up the people" in the sale of the Burns Ave. acreage. Since his initial offer to the School Board a year ago, he asserts that he has "received no formal offer from the district—at any price—and had not been approached by any member of the board regarding the sale of the property."

Now he believes the condemnation litigation will prevent him from selling the property to a legitimate prospective purchaser; further, he does not feel free to rent the land to a grower who has rented it from him in previous years, because of the litigation.

He felt the $35,000 price he quoted through his broker, Steinert, was a fair enough price since it originally cost $32,100 and taxes have been paid on it for 20 years. There are 180 lots in the 10 acres.

100 which sold in recent week for $8,200 and of another larger corner parcel on Newbridge Rd. and Nicholas St., which has an asking price of $9,000.

Aside from this comment about the price for the land upon which the Library Board holds an option expiring Aug. 1, there appears to be a general endorsement of the need for a library. There is also a great deal of headshaking over the lost opportunity of a couple of years ago when property on South Broadway was offered at no cost to the community. This offer was withdrawn the night of a public vote because of the "unwarranted criticism" of certain groups and individuals.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D'Ambrise and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pastore of New York City were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bonazzi of Danie Ave., Hicksville.

Registration for Library Vote This Saturday

The qualifications for a voter at the special meeting of Hicksville School District set for Mar. 29 at the High School to consider the proposed $175,000 bond issue for a new public library were reviewed today by Andrew H. Heberer, District Clerk. The qualifications are the same as for voting at an annual school meeting.

Personal registration of voters is required. Persons who registered to vote for school trustees last May or for the school land purchase in Nov. need not register again. There are about 900 qualified voters already registered. Those who have not registered, may do so this Saturday, Mar. 19, at Nicholas St. School building between the hours of 4 and 9 P.M. All voters must be (1) citizens of the United States, (2) 21 years of age, and (3) reside within the district since Feb. 23; and in addition, possess one of the following three qualifications:

- (a) Owns, leases, hires or is in possession under contract of property liable to taxation (one only may vote unless in both names).
- (b) Is the parent of a child of school age, provided such child has attended the district (public) school for at least eight weeks during the year preceding the school meeting (both may vote).
- (c) Not being a parent, has a child of school age residing with him who has attended district school eight weeks (only one may vote).

Contrary to reports published elsewhere, the registration of voters takes place Mar. 19 at Nicholas St. School building and the special meeting on the bond issue takes place Mar. 29 at the High School.

A 13-year-old German boy in the US zone has written students of Nicholas Street School, Hicksville, expressing his thanks for a Christmas gift parcel and suggesting a friendly exchange of correspondence, according to James H. Walters, principal. The letter dated Feb. 2 at Etznericht was received in Hicksville last Wednesday, Mar. 9.

The German boy, who signs himself Johann Seel, wrote: "I have got your dear gift parcel at Christmas, about which I was very much enjoyed. Herby I thank you very much; I feel in it the relation because us pupils in Germany and in the United States of America. I should be very glad and it would be my greatest wish, to remain in relation. MATA AND HARI as they appear in their famous comedy number, "Carnegie Hall" when the audience, the members of the orchestra, various soloists and the conductor are vividly satirized. THE SPORTLITE

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

Frank Ruggiero's Hickville Dodgerettes will be out to retain their LIGBL championship when they square off against the Carlos Gems in a best-two-out-of-three game series which gets under way at Hicksville, Monday night.

The second game is slated for Baldwin Wednesday night and if a third is necessary there will be a meeting of league officials to determine just where and when it will take place.

Both teams completed their season's work with 7 victories and 1 defeat to tie for the title. The playoff promises to explode fireworks since the clubs are bitter rivals. Hicksville won the first game of the season, 28-27, while the Gems took the return engagement, 35-11.

It was a ball game and therein we were satisfied. We rated the Jericho-Hicksville game a tossup and did not expect either team to win by more than five points.

Because Jericho distinguished itself by seven points doesn't cause us the slightest bit of embarrassment, professionally.

It would be useless to lament the confusion that blew the game open. Inter-community basketball has all but had the life choked out of it and even high school officials are moaning that interscholastic basketball is having financial difficulties.

It is because of situations similar to the one that came about in the third period Thursday night that fans are refusing to put cash on the line and attend games.

Until the officials can be expected to run the games smoothly basketball promoters, whatever their capacity, will count the receipts in pennies instead of dollars.

Most persons agree that it is good for the youth of the community to have athletic recreation provided for it. Most persons think that athletic competition is just the thing to burn up the extra energy youth has at its command.

Those are thoughts, however, that are rarely backed by action.

Mr. Harold Manaskie, who organized the Hicksville Police Boys Club knows a good deal about the subject. His big problem in running the PBC was that of transporting the boys from town to town. In the beginning he could hardly get any help at all and it frequently required two or three trips, back and forth, in order that his whole team could make the games.

However, as the season progressed some public spirited citizens did come to his assistance and he wishes us to thank them publicly. Manaskie listed Bob Paton, Frank Hartmann, Ralph Straub, Pete Hauschneider, Harold Schafer and Mr. C. Kelly as those who helped transport the players during the year.

Lucille Ruggiero, Ethel Kunz, Elsie Bartels, Peg Hoskins and Alice Eversdyke will be in the lineup of the LIGBL All-Star team when it faces the Metropolitan Stars Friday night at Baldwin.

The Long Island contingent will be coached by Frank Ruggiero and will be off to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Met squad.

If you have noticed the pictures in the newspapers of the reunion of Lt. Glenn Davis of the Army and Actress Elizabeth Taylor of the movies, that should be a tipoff for you as to who won the All-Army Far East Command basketball tournament staged in Japan.

Davis was a member of the victorious Korean team which came on to the States for the All-Army finals at Fort Dix. Korea numbered Guam among its victims in sweeping to the championship.

As reported in the Herald three weeks ago, Capt. Fred Fluckiger of Hicksville participated in the Far East tourney as a member of the Guam team.

There isn't a better money team in the NCABL than the Valley Stream Cubs and for that reason we will go along with them and say they will retain their title against St. Dominic's in the playoffs. We also expect the Freeport Red Devils to take the measure of either Roslyn or Jericho in the consolation round.

LIONS CLUB WELCOMES SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

Seven new members have been welcomed into the Hicksville Lions Club, according to Stanford X. Wetts, membership chairman. They are: Dr. William Soumerai, Dr. Vito Cappiello, Lawrence A. McCaffrey, J. Gordon Wines, Larry Huff and Henry Waw-juk.

The Lions will hold their next meeting at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, Mar. 23, at the Near You Cafe. At the meeting held last week at the Rainbow tentative arrangements for a charter night celebration in April were made. There was a discussion of club committees. Louis Millevolte, first vice-president, presided in the absence of President Fred C. Birk, who was ill.

Jericho Takes Hicksville 43-36

Like a steel spring which is constantly twisted and twisted, the Hicksville Kiwanis-Jericho JD game snapped in the 26th minute, Thursday night, when the officials applied the pressure and the Vamps bounded off to a 43-36 victory.

The breaking point came late in the third period of the tense, strained contest. With Hicksville's slow game, engineered by Chet Jarowski, successfully putting the brakes to the Vamps high geared offense, the Kiwanians had traded blow for blow with the visitors.

Heated Argument

Jericho was ahead 28-25 when Stan Stahurski dribbled past Jarowski and Official Jim Bergen awarded him a foul shot. Bergen also awarded Jericho a technical foul for a feeble Hicksville protest of the call. A heated argument developed but Stahurski was awarded and made both shots. Then without gaining the attention of the Hicksville captain and with the Kiwanians obviously not organized, Official Markland put the ball in play and Jerry Stahurski popped in an uncontested set-shot.

Despite a bitter verbal battle, the play stood and Hicksville was behind 30-23. Jericho went on to improve the margin to 12 points before the Kiwanians could regain their balance and then it was too late for it to be a good ball game.

The score was tied 10-10 at the quarter and Jericho had a scant 19-18 lead at halftime. The Stahurski Twins combined for 30 of Jericho's 43 points while Jarowski and Bill Byrne totaled 25 points for Hicksville.

Kiwanis Upsets Vamps In Finale

The Hicksville Kiwanis basketball club closed down the most disastrous campaign in its history Sunday by upsetting Great Neck Fire Department, 55-52. The Blue concluded the season on a high note by taking a 10-point lead in the third period and checking a determined Vamp rally in the closing stanza.

Billy Byrne and Chet Jarowski scored 17 and 18 points respectively for Hicksville. The Blue finished the season with a 4 and 14 record.

In the opening game of the program at Great Neck, it was the Stahurski twins, Stan and Jerry, who threw in 35 points to lead Jericho to a 71-66 win over Manhasset. The triumph enabled Jericho to tie Roslyn for second place in the Northern chase. Both clubs trailed the champion St. Dominic's combine for 4 lengths.

HHS 24-Year Court Record

According to the records compiled by a staff member of the Mid-Island Herald, Hicksville High School has won 172 games and lost 191 in its 24 years of competition in that sport.

The figures were obtained from old files, newspaper clippings and score books in the Hicksville High Athletic Department office.

PORT OILERS FLOP IN MID-ISLAND PLAY

The Port Washington Oilers, NCABL entry, were unsuccessful in their invasion of the mid-island community last week.

Jericho trampled the visitors under 106-71 as Stan Stahurski set a new league individual scoring record of 63 points. The senior scoring ace of the brilliant twin combination from Mepham High dropped in 28 field goals and 7 fouls for the new mark.

Friday night, the Oilers showed up at Hicksville with only four players and were forced to forfeit the contest.
