

THIS IS PROPOSED building for Hicksville Free Public Library to be erected at the corner of W. Cherry St. and Jerusalem Ave. as pictured by Architect Philip Goodwin. A special meeting of voters of Hicksville School District will be held next Tuesday night, Mar. 29, at the high school to consider a bond issue to cover the cost.

Over 1,000 Qualify To Vote Tuesday on Library Building

More than 1,000 persons are registered and qualified to vote next Tuesday evening, Mar. 29, at a special meeting of the school district upon the proposed construction of a building to house Hicksville Free Public Library. The meeting, which will precede the voting, starts at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

An additional 160 voters registered last Saturday with the Board of Registration and Canvass to bring the total number of qualified voters up to nearly 1,050, which is an all-time high in recent years, according to District Clerk Andrew B. Heberer.

Talks Start Tomorrow

Joseph Heim, president of the Library Board, will present a picture, plans and specifications for the proposed library and discuss the $176,000 bond issue at a meeting of the Hicksville Civic and Community Association, tomorrow (Thursday) night in the firehouse auditorium. All interested residents are invited.

The proposition will also be discussed at a meeting next Tuesday night prior to the voting on the question before the voters.

CONDEMNATION ACTION PUT OVER TO MONDAY

The condemnation proceedings by the Hicksville Board of Education in acquiring a 10-acre tract on Burns Ave. as the site for a future grade school have now been set to start in Nassau County Court next Monday morning. The action was originally scheduled to get started last Monday.

Frank Albrecht of Jericho, a part owner of the tract, who has claimed that the School Board never made him a formal offer for the property, said that his sister in Suffolk County received notice that the proceedings are scheduled to start Mar. 25.

May Abandon Plea For Cantiague Rd Industrial Zone

Residents of Cantiague Rd., Hicksville, today have a promise that withdrawal of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. application for rezoning of 7 acres to industrial property is likely. A public hearing on the application is scheduled to continue before Oyster Bay Town Board on May 4.

Howard T. Hogan, as attorney for the Insurance Co. in the application, told residents last Thursday night that he will urge withdrawal of the plea. Hogan met with Isaac Penner and other property owners of Cantiague Rd. in the home of William Yocum. One of many objections to the proposed zone change was the comment that the application applies to seven acres along the Road, while the buildings formerly owned by Press Wireless for manufacturing occupy only about a half acre.

START CLEARING SITE FOR BETHPAGE SCHOOL

A contract for clearing of the new Bethpage school site was awarded by the Bethpage School Board to the Posillico Construction Co. of Westbury. The Westbury company bid $280 to clear the 22-acre plot on North Broadway, Bethpage.

The land purchase was completed on Thursday by the Board for $1,400 per acre. The property was bought from Eva E. Wilson of Short Hills, N. J.

Ground breaking for the new school will take place within a few months, a Board spokesman said.

Sportsmen to Select Youth For Camp Stay Thru Essays

Some local boy with a lively interest in conservation is going to enjoy a 10-day vacation with a select group of 39 other New York State youths at Camp Willowemoc in Sullivan County, starting Aug. 1. A boy between the ages of 12 and 16 from Hicksville, Jericho or Plainview, will be sponsored at the Camp by the Hicksville Sportsman's Club Inc., and have all his expenses paid.

An official entry form which will help the Club decide upon the boy who will attend the conservation camp appears on Page 12 in this issue of the Herald. Local Boy Scouts have expressed keen interest in the first announcement of the project published last week.

Camp Willowemoc at DeBruce, N. Y., is operated by the New York State Conservation Dept. It has a capacity of only 160 boys, 40 in each of four ten-day periods. It is located at the site of the new state fish hatchery.

68 Pct. of Merchants Want Parking Meters

Sixty-eight per cent of the business people of Hicksville, who answered a recent questionnaire, told the Business Men's Association Inc., that they favor the immediate installation of parking meters in the community, ac-ording to Phil Hlman, BMA parking and traffic chairman. Two hundred and fifty retailers and professional men were questioned. Forty-four answered the survey with 30 in favor of meters and 14 opposed.

Those objecting said they wanted allowance of space for shoppers, off the streets, provided before installation of meters.

The BMA directors met last Thursday and thoroughly discussed parking, expansion of bus service, Founder's Day in May, and erection of "Welcome to Hicksville" signs for entrances to the community.

Abe Albert was elected a director of the BMA until the end of this year to fill a vacancy on the 15-member board. President Charles Schwartz appointed Albert and William Marks a committee to get information on costs of signs. The directors voted to urge all members to observe Robert Williams Day by the public display of American flags on May 20 and 21.

Dear Jean . . .

There was a noticeable increase in barber business this week, I'm told. Even the editor got a haircut to find out what is happening in town, ever since a speaker told a local group, "I heard it in a barber shop."

Despite the fact that there are stories current regarding the reurfacing of Jerusalem Ave. south of the High School, Oyster Bay highway office knows nothing of such a project. Hempstead Town Highway Superintendent, however, has promised the Levittown Community Assoc. he will "inspect conditions" on the section under his jurisdiction in the spring. Hempstead controls the portion from the town line around Alexander Ave.) south to the Turnpike. . . . LOREN E. CURRISTON is in charge of the engineering office of the Gyrdoyne Co. of America, located upstairs in the old firehouse on E. Marie St. They have something to do with helicopters. . . . The six-car blue and gold New York State Freedom Train, which started running Jan. 28 is expected to make a Hicksville stop before the end of the 19-month tour in 1950. . . . As of this week, Bethpage no longer has its own newspaper. Newsgram, which came out every two weeks, has been bought by the Griscom chain from its founder, RAY MCGUNNIGLE, and will hereafter be a "supplement." We're sorry to see it go. The Herald and Oyster Bay Guardian are now the only independently published newspapers in the Township and the Herald is the only local paper in this area printed in the township. . . . VFW Post members have been clearing their ground at So. Broadway and Fourth St., Hicksville, which is the site of their proposed clubhouse. A German war bride is among our new neighbors this week. She is the wife of HENRY TUCKER, formerly of Freeport, and they are living in a new house in the Miller development. . . . We'd also like to say welcome to these new residents off East Old Country Rd.: MR. and MRS. LEONARD CLARKE from California. He works at Mitchell Field and their children are grown. . . . MR. and MRS. # Demand for Post Office Gains; No Funds on Hand, Macy Says

The campaign by Hicksville-Plainview organizations and individuals to obtain a new Federal Post Office Building continues to gain momentum, although Congressman W. Kingsland Macy points out to all correspondents the total absence of any Federal funds for such a project.

Hicksville is on a 10-year-old list for a $100,000 post office project, including land and building; however, the House Public Works Committee, of which Macy is a member, is considering a bill (HR 8019) which would appropriate $40,000,000 for federal building projects.

In addition to organizations which have already been recorded as favoring the post office campaign initiated by the Hicksville Civic and Community Association, the following have since written to Congressman Macy, U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives and the Postmaster General:

3 More Groups Endorse

The Hicksville Sportsman's Club Inc., with Secretary John Lehmann pointing out "present facilities are overcrowded, overworked and obsolete;" Junior-Senior High School P.T.A., with Corresponding Secretary Gladys Jenkins advising authorities "Hicksville, due to its greatly increased population, needs a new post office very much. . . . the situation is critical;" the Hicksville Lions Club and the Hicksville Business Men's Association Inc.

Mrs. James F. Craib of Model Farms, Plainview, has been corresponding with Macy and Ives since Feb. 17. From Senator Ives she received a copy of a letter from V. G. Burke, first assistant postmaster general, who wrote that a classified branch of the Hicksville office will be located "at Island Trees and when this is accomplished, I am sure the mail service will be greatly improved so that there will be no further cause for complaint."

She also received a long letter from Macy which noted there is at present "no authority of law, nor any money appropriated, for the construction of new post office buildings. As a matter of fact, there has not been a building

BETHPAGE COUNCIL MAPS ACTION ON MAIL SERVICE

Proposed home delivery of mail will be among the topics to be discussed at a meeting of the Bethpage Council of United Organizations tonight (Wednesday) at the Bethpage School at 8:30 o'clock. Delegates from Bethpage organizations are urged to attend.

program of this nature for the past ten years or more.

Listed Project in 1939

"Back in 1930," Macy continued, "a report was drawn up by the Postmaster General and Acting Secretary of the Treasury showing, among other things, projects eligible for consideration under prior and future authorizations. Hicksville is on this list. However, absolutely nothing can be expected with reference to the initiation of any building program for post offices until Congress enacts authorizing legislation and also until Congress appropriates the necessary funds."

Bill HR 8019, which has a favorable nod from the Administration, is now before the Public Works Committee.

"When it will be reported out, however, is problematical at the moment," he adds.

Mrs. Craib, in her original letter, reported that "at Christmas time, a business letter from a nearby town took a week to reach here, and a special delivery package was not given special handling. . . . The employees are undoubtedly doing as well as they possibly can with the equipment at hand, but it is not up to the standard we have been led to expect."

Community Today:

Tuesday Is Decisive Day for Hicksville

By NICK ECONOPOULY

NEXT TUESDAY eligible Hicksville voters will go to the polls to decide on one of the most important issues they will have to face for some time to come. The question is not merely one of whether or not Hicksville shall have a library adequate to its needs, but, more basically, it may well determine the type of community into which it shall develop.

This is in no way an attempt to be dramatic, to color the issue with a bit of flourish and hoopla. Nor, on the other hand, is it an attempt to create the impression that the issue is so vital that should the proposition fail to win approval the community might well give a few quick dying gasps and be off to the land of limbo. That would be pure nonsense and most people would have enough good sense to recognize it as such. But it is nevertheless important to point out that the proposition holds considerable significance, that a smoothly-functioning and adequate library is essential to the healthy growth of the community, and that the present set-up is far, far short of meeting even existing requirements.

It is appalling to a great many people—and they usually get a roar of anguish and indignation from the opposite camp—that we are ever alert to meet the athletic needs of the younger people (ages 5 to 65) of the community, and yet fail so often to put as much effort into stimulating their intellectual growth as well. We organize all sorts of leagues for sports during all seasons of the year, we go to considerable expense to develop a top-notch high school athletic plant (which includes a huge and costly slab no one seems to know what to do with), and we worry and applaud at bull sessions and banquets that the athletic program might continue to operate at a high rate of efficiency. And yet, more often than not, we overlook the equally vital intellectual needs, proceeding almost as if the production of muscularly-perfect pinheads is our goal.

This is not to minimize the vital necessity of a good athletic program. Nor am I scolding Scribe Howard Finnegan and his cohorts because they are aware of certain needs which if satisfied might make that athletic program even better. But what I am saying is that in our concern for that side of community and individual development we often fail to recognize other needs which are equally important. We forget that for the proper functioning of a good body it is also, pretty essential to have a good mind as well, that most contemporary issues—community and otherwise—are more in need of good, clear, hard thought than mere brute force, and that there are many in the community who could develop further along intellectual lines but perhaps fail to do so because of totally inadequate facilities and incentives.

That's what is meant by the remark in the first paragraph to the effect that the library issue will determine the type of community into which Hicksville will grow. Of course voting for a library won't solve this problem by itself—but it is a good long step in the right direction. It is, in fact, a recognition of the other side of the human personality, and it goes a part of the way to satisfy its needs by providing the books, lectures, group discussions and other stimulating services of a good public library. The feelings of inadequacy experienced by many from this area who have gone off to college and have been forced to compete with those coming from more culturally advanced areas might also be diminished to a considerable extent.

That's the issue as seen from this corner, valid or otherwise. There will be a few next Tuesday who will make an effort to decide it solely on financial grounds, which, if successful, would be the most unfortunate of tragedies. A few others might vote with a feeling of apathy, of lack of concern, a stand-taking without much thought into what is involved—no vote at all would seem more proper in this case. But it is hoped that many of the disillusioned souls who had their dreams shattered with the collapse of the Augustin offer a few years ago will this time get an opportunity to vote, and, if there are still enough of them around, perhaps Hicksville will at long, long last be getting its own public library.

Current Comment:

Founder's Day is Only 6 Weeks Away

A YEAR AGO this week feverish preparations were well under way for a community-wide celebration which reached its climax during the third week of May. We mean the Tercentennial of the community's founding.

There is some evidence that May 20th, the day which marks the anniversary of Robert Williams' purchase of this community site from the Indians, will be observed again this year—and perhaps annually thereafter. We sincerely hope so.

The Hicksville Civic and Community Association is making plans for a costume dance to be held on Saturday night, May 21. This was one of the highlights of the 300th birthday observance in 1948. The Hicksville BMA is urging all local business concerns to display flags on May 20th and 21st. It is possible that before Founder's Day arrives other groups will have worked out portions of a program to fittingly commemorate this date.

One of the finest achievements in connection with the Tercentennial last year was the proof that all groups of the community can work together, and do a wonderful job. Another achievement was the concentration upon an honest-to-goodness clean-up of our neighborhoods.

Another opportunity for local groups to work together will be offered on Tuesday night, April 12. The William M. Gouse, Jr. VFW Post is today mailing invitations to all organizations to name delegates or spokesmen who will attend a "community council" meeting at Nicholas St. School on that date.

The Mid-Island Herald will not be liable for errors appearing in any advertising beyond the cost of the space occupied by the error.

Purpose of the meeting is to organize a Community Blood Bank which the veterans suggested some weeks ago and which has already received the endorsement and promise of support from most of the community's physicians and a number of local organizations including the Civic Association, Twinlawn Ave. Civics, Lions, VFW Auxiliary, Republican Club and others.

Not only organization spokesmen (and it is anticipated that every single club, organization, church and society will send a representative to the meeting) but any interested individual is invited to attend this meeting when the plan will be explained in detail and the framework of an operating agency will be created.

A REALLY PRESSING community problem, everyone agrees, is that of off street parking. This week encouraging news came to us from Albany via Councilman Chlunsky. He reports that a bill has been introduced in the Legislature to permit townships to participate up to 50 per cent in the cost of acquiring and improving property for community parking fields.

What this means to Hicksville is clear: If the bill becomes a law, the Town of Oyster Bay will be permitted to spend some of its surplus funds on purchasing land and improving it for parking fields in Hicksville and other large population centers of the township, while under the present set-up the entire cost of such a project must be borne by the taxpayers of the individual community.

It is calculated that present day parking field cost runs between $250 and $400 per car space. Thus if Hicksville attempted to provide a field or fields for say 200 cars, the cost would be in excess of $50,000 and a tremendous load on the Hicksville property owner who is not the sole user of such conveniences.

It seems logical to put parking fields in the same classification as highways. You don't assess the cost of a highway entirely against the person who owns property along a highway because users of highways come from everywhere. Therefore, it seems logical to spread the cost of parking fields also beyond the boundaries of a certain cluster of properties.

SERVICES ON FRIDAY FOR BETHPAGE SOLDIER

Funeral services will be held this Friday for Pfc. Raymond E. Caffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Caffrey of Concord Ave., Bethpage, who was killed on Okinawa on May 16, 1945. The services will be conducted by the Rev. James F. Taylor at 1:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Bethpage. Interment will be at the L.I. National Cemetery. Friends may pay their last respects at St. Paul's Church tomorrow (Thursday) after 3 p.m.

Pfc. Caffrey enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps in April, 1944, while in his senior year at Farmingdale High School. He left for overseas five months later to serve with Company K, 22nd Marines, 6th Division, 3rd Bn. and was 19 years of age at the time of his death.

He is survived by his parents, a brother, Earl, Jr., and a sister, Jacqueline.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY ON LIBRARY QUESTION

building will be publicly displayed over the weekend. It is a one-story L-shaped structure described as a "modern adaptation of colonial motif" of glass and brick. It is 105 feet across the front facing Cherry St. and 64 feet deep on the side, which includes a club or community meeting room 21x30.

This room, which can be used in case of future growth of the library for book rack space, will be separated from the main room by expandable doors. It will have access to public lavatories, includes a fireplace and has a separate entrance from Jerusalem Ave.

The basement of the building will provide ample book storage space and a craft room for use by the youngsters in the summer. The main room includes the adult reading room, children's section and a teen-age corner near the front door.

The reading room faces the north and the entire interior is visible from the street.

Shrubbery will screen the rear boundaries of the property, which will be entirely seeded with grass. The Library Board in selecting the proposed site gave consideration to other tracts but none seemed to fit the particular requirements. The site selected, according to Heim, is as near as possible to the geographical and population center of Hicksville.

The executive committee of the Civic Association has gone on record as endorsing the proposition.

RED CROSS FUND HITS HALF OF LOCAL QUOTA

Hicksville has passed the half-way mark in the annual Red Cross fund drive to reach a $2,250 quota. It was announced by Fred J. Sauter, chairman of the Hicksville-Plainville drive, this week. A total of $1,188 has been collected by volunteer workers.

Mrs. Charles Melone, chairman of the Bethpage Red Cross fund drive, announces the names of the volunteer workers who assisted her in the drive to meet a $225 quota set for Bethpage. She reports the goal has been reached.

Methodist WSCS Plans Election

Election of officers of the Hicksville Methodist Church WSCS will be held at the April meeting, it was announced at a meeting Wednesday night at the church. Mrs. Benson Daines, president, appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. John Leckie, chairman; Mrs. Allen Earl and Mrs. Cranston Clayton.

Installation of new members will also take place in April. Plans were discussed for a food sale to be held June 2.

The Wesleyan Guild of the church will hold a cake and food sale on Apr. 8 at Vince Braun's Meat Market, 102 Broadway. Final arrangements for the sale will be made at a meeting this Friday night, Mar. 25, at the church.

FAMILY CIRCLE MEETS

The Harry and Hannah Family Circle held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Stanford Weiss, 57 Willoughby Ave., Hicksville, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Sadies Steinman was hostess for the day.

Plans were made for the annual dinner to be held on Apr. 23 at the Bowden Square, South Hampton. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Stanford Weiss of Hicksville, president; William Weiss of Brooklyn, vice-president; Mrs. Lillian Baldassard of Astoria, secretary; and Mrs. Lillian Sauer of Jackson Heights, treasurer. Arthur Weiss of Riverhead is the retiring president.

A hot supper was served and cards were enjoyed.

TO MAKE JEWELRY

Shell jewelry will be made at the Hicksville Home Bureau meeting, Monday, Mar. 29, in the basement of the Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville. Members are asked to bring brown paper, piece of cloth, tweezers and Duco cement. Plaid and stripe dresses will be continued.

LOADING ONLY—Members of Hicksville Lions Club, with the official permission of the State Public Works Dept., spent a Sunday morning marking four loading zones on Broadway which have proven to be "fine traps" for unsuspecting motorists. Here they tackle the curb painting job in front of Firestone, 114 Broadway. Standing, left to right, are William Stakley, who watches for a spot of paint on his trousers; Myron Sausmer, who supervises; Dr. William Sausmer (wearing hat) and Vice-President Louis Millevolto, who forgot to bring a brush. (He borrowed someone else's). Along the curb are Henry Wawryck, Lawrence McCaffrey, Fred J. Noeth and Vincent Braun, who is trying to get another drop out of the can. Other picture and story on page one. (Frank D. Mallett Photo).

Election Monday For VFW Commander

Al Hanlon has been nominated for commander of the William M. Gouse, Jr., VFW Post of Hicksville to succeed Fred J. Sutter. Election will be held next Monday, Mar. 28, at the Masonic Temple.

Other candidates are: Lester Iehle and John McDonald, Sr. vice-commander; Stanley Kleyanosky and Gerard Jansen, Jr. vice-commander; Joseph Reinhardt, quartermaster; Raymond Frohnhofer, Lawrence Mc-

Caffrey and John Mulligan, trustees; William Frohnhofer, adjutant. A joint installation with the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held Apr. 28 at the Masonic Temple. The Island Trees VFW Post will be invited to attend. Plans for the new clubhouse have been approved by the VFW department, it was announced at the meeting.

Junior High Jottings

"Top of the Mornin' to You" on this fine St. Patrick's Day! Congratulations to our Junior High Girls who played basketball against the Freshmen girls, and won with scores of 40 to 29 and 34 to 30. . . . WILLIAM McNEIL attended a St. Patrick's Day supper at Glen Cove. . . . Another survey by HOMER BOSEMAN has been under way. This time it is "baseball." The favorites among us seem to be the Yanks and the Dodgers. . . . Some of the pupils of Junior High are preparing for the All-State Music Contest. . . . Some of our students attended the Senior High matinee performance, Tuesday. . . . DIANA UFFEMANN, who was trampled upon by a horse, is suffering from shock. . . . LESTER WAGNER is a victim of pneumonia. The 118 class is planning to send some bits of cheer to them. . . . RONALD HALPERN went horsebacking. . . . The Junior Red Cross is going to Jones Institute to entertain the old folks. . . . JOHN GAJEWSKI visited Mineola. . . . A softball contest among the various homerooms is being planned for after the Easter holidays. . . . The 107 has its plans for an Assembly program to be held May 5. . . . A new motion picture projector was used in Assembly last week. It was then on "trial" in the 118 classroom. . . . A display of book reports can be found in 101. . . . The next Square Dance to be held by the teachers will be at the East Street School on April 2. . . . The mailbox in 118 was taken down. A note found in it read, "Hang me up, please." For further information see DONALD KRAFT. . . . Letters were sent to parents of pupils whose work has not been satisfactory. . . . DR. LeBARRON was a visitor to our Assembly last week. . . . A film showing the "Telephone Hour" was shown in Assembly. Time was also devoted to the singing of "The Palms," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "Toora Looora Looora." . . . MARIO BLANCO looks as if he has been in a fight and came out the loser. Actually, however, he has an infected eye. . . . Green attire was the theme of most people on St. Patrick's Day. . . . A "Quiz" program was held during the 101 homeroom meeting. . . . The 107 is gathering school supplies for youngsters in Austria. . . . NINA SIMONSON and RICHARD PHARNS, two of our Jotters, are not with us today. . . . CHRISTINE GLASBERGEN has been out with a case of measles. . . . Soon, we hope to have a designed heading for our column. This is being executed in the art classes under the supervision of MRS. LOVETT. We appreciate MR. NOETH's interest in requesting that this be done again as it had been done in the past. . . . We'll be back in this column again next week, waiting for you to keep pace with us.

SPORTLITE

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

It was our good fortune to witness all but one of the double-header matches of the National Invitation Tourney held in Madison Square Garden last week.

We were as sincerely disappointed as the guy next to us that Kentucky and St. Louis could not get past the first round, but nevertheless found the tourney interesting if not sensational as it went its course.

In the triumph of San Francisco there is an indication that basket-sketter go, go, go, go basketball has at last realized the full scope of its appeal.

San Francisco was not a sensational team. It had all the requirements of a champion but in the main was a smart, clever unit that stressed possession of the ball and would not shoot until it could work into a set play.

Generally fans in this area do not go for the deliberate time-consuming brand of game and although it must be a shock for them to learn that it does pay off, we have still another for them:

The ancient, scorned zone defense—which has been rudely laughed at in recent years—appears to be making a comeback! That was evident all through the tourney, although neither San Francisco nor Loyola of Chicago chose to use it in the 48-47 finale.

As a friend pointed out Saturday night, the man-for-man defense is definitely being cracked as evidenced by all the large scores run up in basketball today. The trend is to slow the game down.

Our observation a while back about cheerleaders running on and off the court a dozen times during a time-out didn't go over so well with the young ladies of the mid-island community, but we found support of it during the NIT at the Garden.

Each school was allowed one cheer every other time-out and no more. You would be surprised how enjoyable it was that way!

Now that basketball has all but lowered the curtain in this area, bowling has come into its own with local athletes.

The new alleys in Island Trees would seem to be the most popular spot for the keggers. Recently, we spent a Sunday afternoon there and counted 69 Hicksville persons rolling on the Levittown hardwoods.

Without any central registration point we couldn't tell who was knocking down the most pins, but we did see the best shot of the day when Elias Stetz made a 7-10 split for a spare.

Aside from winning the LIGBL title for a second straight year the thing Frank Ruggiero wanted most to do was to coach Long Island to a victory over New York in their all-star clash to avenge last year's loss.

The Long Island league gave him a difficult assignment in that they loaded his squad with 17 players and expected that most of them would see action of some sort. That 14 of them did get in the game and Long Island won a tough 27-26 victory was a tribute to Ruggiero's handling of the club.

After a fine but unrewarding job in basketball it would be great if Coach Chet Jarowski could turn his attention to HHS baseball and find a brighter set-up awaiting him. However, the story is much the same as it was when he took over in basketball—if not a little bit worse.

Last season Hicksville won 3 and lost 8 and it has been nine years since the school had a team that even played .500 ball. Jarowski has a rebuilding job to do and will find he has little material with which to start.

The one encouraging role is filled by pitcher Billy Devine who, if he gets the support in the field that he has the right to expect, could go a long way. Elsewhere graduation has left big gaps. Owens could help out greatly in pitching, but second base, shortstop and right field are empty.

Eddie Miller is a strong boy at catching and shared the job last year with Lou Stepkowski. Pete Zeiber was on first last season and swift Jack McCrossen was in center field. Bob MacDonald and Eugene Stepkowski split assignments at third and will be back this year with the others mentioned.

ESSAY TO DETERMINE SPORTSMEN CAMP GUEST

Boys attending must be sponsored by a group like the Hicksville Sportsman's Club.

Applications are in the form of a statement in which the candidate explains why he would like to be selected. It is suggested by the sponsors that statements do not exceed 100 words and be mailed without delay to the Club's Camp Committee, care of the Mid-Island Herald.

PO Kegglers Seek to Up Loop Lead

Picking up only two points out of a possible ten during its last two outings, Team No. 2 of the Hicksville Post Office will attempt to strengthen its hold on first place in the Blue Division of the Nassau County Post Office Bowling League when it rolls against Mineola on the Heintzman alleys tonight (Wednesday).

DODGERETTES EVEN BET TO WIN CROWN

The scene of the LIGBL championship shifts to Woodmere tonight (Wednesday) with the Hicksville Dodgerettes an even-money bet to take the crown in 2 straight games.

Hicksville was the first of a two-out-of-three game playoff on home court, Monday night, by a 37-33 score over the Carlo Gema.

vision of the Nassau County Post Office Bowling League when it rolls against Mineola on the Heintzman alleys tonight (Wednesday).

With the league going into the final five weeks of action, Hicksville will be required to splinter the wood if it wants to be atop the Blue standings when play-off time comes around. At present Hempstead is Hicksville's most pressing pursuer, standing only five points in back of the locals.

Although Hicksville Team No. 1 has a slightly better average in the 80 per cent handicap league, it is resting in eighth place in the Red Division scramble and has long since been removed from contention.

Team No. 2 is also gunning for the high series with the handicap prize.

The mark of 2,486 puts it in first place in that classification.

League Secretary Benny Sidman of Mineola this week provided the Mid-Island Herald with the averages of both Hicksville teams. Team No. 2 had Boslet with 152; Looney, 148; Hanftan, 143; Sauer, 139; Owen, 138; Blasi, 121; and Williams, 120.

Team No. 1 had Kaucher with 155; Klevanoski, 153; Stahley, 150; Small, 145; Knapp and Ambron, 138; and Eiseman, 128.

Ruggiero Stars in Island Win

Lou Ruggiero of the Hicksville Dodgerettes and Alice Wallace of Port Washington cracked the defense of the Metropolitan Girls All-Stars for a field goal and a foul in the final minute, Friday night, to give Long Island a 27-26 victory in the second annual game between the outstanding performers from each area.

The game was played on the Baldwin court before a fair-sized crowd which exhibited much excitement in the last three minutes as the Long Islanders put on their winning drive.

Long Island was behind from the opening whistle and took the lead for the first time when Wallace caged a free throw with 30 seconds left. Ruggiero had hit with a field goal just previous to that to bring the Island All-Stars even for the first time, 26-26.

Ruggiero, who performed in the contest with three other Dodgerettes, Elsie Bartels, Peg Hopkins and Ethel Kuntz, was high scorer for the winners with 10 points. High for the night was Kathie McGuire of New York with 11 points. She is the sister of St. John University's brilliant Dick McGuire.

Frank Ruggiero of Hicksville coached the Long Island squad. The triumph averaged a 37-33 licking the New Yorkers gave Long Island in an overtime battle last year.
