Library Building Vote Tonight at HS

HICKSVILLE-The future of the Free Public Library in this community may be settled for the next decade or more when a special meeting of the district voters is held in the High School Jerusalem Ave. and Second St., tonight (Wednesday) starting at 8 o'clock. Purpose of the meeting is to vote upon a proposed appropriation of $40,000 for pur-chase of a home for the library.

3.140 Viewed Freedom Train

MYOSSET - Second Precinct Police reported that 3,140 children and adults visited the N. Y. State Freedom Train while it was stationed at the Hicksville RR Depot last Friday. Despite the inclement weather, which cancelled all formal exercises, the attendance was Farmingdale's stop. Must of those attending were school students.

Parking Topic For New Civics

BETHPAGE-The Civic Ass ciation meets tonight at the school house with Councilman Frank Chlumsky of Hicksville as guest speaker. His topic will be "Parking Lots for Bethpage and the Relationship of Bethpage to the Town of Oyster Bay."

This is the first meeting of the organization. Election of officers will be held the same evening.

Anyone interested in joining the Association is cordially invited to

The Public Library since the first of the year has been confined to a single class room in Nicholai St. School which has housed the library since it was organized. In recent years the Library enjoyed the use of two classrooms, but increasing student enrollement forced surrender of the room used for the children's department.

1300 Qualified to Vote

The proposal facing over 1200 qualified voters tonight (Wednes-day) is the $40,000 appropriation. Of this amount $35,000 will be spent to purchase the 10-room Duerk House at Jerusalem Ave. and Second St, and the balance for moving of the library fixtures and renovation of the building. The Board of Trustees claim that a bond issue in this amount spread over the next 10 years would cost the owner of a house assessed at $5,000 about $1,35 a

The proposal won warm support during the past couple of weeks, particularly from among the newer residents. "Keeping the library is a necessity and every vote for purchasing the Duerk property is essential so that at last we can have a permanent home for our (continued on page 11)

Merchants Tell Town Board Of Urgent Parking Problem

OYSTER BAY - Hicksville's parking problem is more acute Hicksville's than in any other section of the township, Supervisor Harry Tappen admitted at the town board meeting yesterday (Tuesday) morning when a delegation of Hicksville business men attended the session.

Present with the members of the BMA was the Rev. Howard Rogers, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Parking. The delegation received the pledge of "fast action" from Supervisor Tappen and after the formal sesconferred at length with Councilman Frank Chulmsky and Town Attorney Theodore Summers in the town hall.

Pat Buffalino, BMA president, headed the delegation of mer-chants. Others in the group inman, Jack Ehman, Eugene Staller, and Irwin Goldman.

Charles R. Carroll ,Hicksville attorney, who was present at the town board meeting for a public hearing also commented before the board on the local parking

OYSTER BAY — Levitt and Sons has filed applications with the Town Building Department here for 350 building permits in the south section of Hicksville. The applications were filed here last Friday. The first section of houses is expected to be built in the township of Oyster Bay and Hicks-ville School District just north of the Hempstead Town line, between Jerusalem Ave. and Newbridge Rd. The land during the past week was graded just below Alexander Ave. These applications are the first of an anticipated 3000 or more Levitt homes to be built in the towship and Hicksville during 1950.

Gullible's Travels

ONCE UPON A TIME there lived in the town of Hicksville, a little gullible woman. Many a time she peeked across the tracks of Hicksville, up the road of North Broadway, and wondered what wonders were on the other side. Her many friends told her that there was nothing . . . and she, a little Gullible, believed them.

One day curiosity got the better of our little Gullible and bravely she crossed the tracks - and lo and behold it was amazing. There was plenty of bargains galore and all the space in the world for parking. She came upon a little bakery shop chockfull of delights at prices that were well-worth her walking across the tracks to reach. Since then, many more Gullibles have been crossing the tracks and so today we wish to take this opportunity to thank our good friend - little Mrs. Gullible.

OUR READERS

THE LIBRARY QUESTION To the Voters of Hicksville:

Today, when the voters Hicksville view the deplora state of our library, I'm sure to they will realize as well as I the enormity of the situation.

For over five years I have heard the arguments pro and con re-garding a new building. I have seen and heard proposed plans and ideas and yet the condition of the most important institution in our town is worse than ever. Let us realize the possible results if the situation continues as it is.

Hicksville is no longer a small country town—it has reached city proportions. The classroom that serves as a library does not fulfill the needs of the commi day one sees the crates within which are the books stored from the closed children's room. Smaller communities have larger an better equipped libraries on small ar funds. Cannot we do as well? not dare to The parent does dream of such facilities as separate children's reading room handicraft, lectures. The adult sader cannot dare to visualise as adult reading room, educational reviews or new topics on display. How long can this continue?

The taxpayer realises this, I know. Yet the price that he mu pay comes foremost. Cannot the needs of the child and community come first? It is not where, how much and from whom we obtain the room for a large and well-equipped library — it is WHEN that is important.

The importance of this prob lem is relative to you, your child and the community as a whole. If you have a vote, please use it tonight (Wednesday) at eight, in the high school auditorium. Only let us find a solution quickly!

HELEN M. WROSZ.

Sound Off

As I sat at our last regular meeting looking about the room at the guys present, listening to their discussions and hearing their reports on the various committees and especially about our new building, I couldn't help but smile and said to myself these men are the nucleus of our organization. The active membership of the Post isn't up to par,, but when you take such fellows as Commander Hanlon, Frank Sutter, Garret Korfitzen, Lester Ichle, Stanley Klevanosky Joseph Reinhardt, Fred Sutter, Arthur Rettberg, William Frohnhoefer, Howard Darling, Ray Frohhoefer, Harry Lamber, Alfred Wangenheim, Frank Mallet, Gerard Jensen, Jack Hanifan and Eugene Fitting, who are all active and believers in our organization-it can't do anything

Each and everyone of the above-mentioned men are 100 per cent supporters of the VFW. They have been in attendance at 95 per cent of the regularly called meetings; they have served on all kinds and types of committees; they volunteered their blood and services in time of need, and acted as honor guards whenever such requests were made. All of these deeds they did cheerfully and willingty, never expecting and seldom receiving a "thank you."

And so, fellows, it is your turn to receive the applause, because I am a firm believer in giving credit where credit is due. All of your combined efforts, however tiring at times they might have been, are now going to pay off richly in the form of our new clubhouse. All you fellows will, I know, enjoy our new home much more than those who have been inactive or indifferent towards the Post, because it is with YOUR sweat, ambition and guts that our new headquarters is becoming a reality and the William M. Gouse Jr. Post 8211, VFW, one of the finest in Nassau County.

Let's keep up this fine spirit of fellowship and coopers and put our Annual Dinner-Dance to be held Saturday evening, February 11, over with a bang. Chairman Multigan is going all out to make it an evening long to be remembe limited so he sure your reservation is in by calling the chairman at Hicksville 3-2081-W. The place is Cortes' South Broadway, and the price per couple $6.50.

Next week I'll give you the names of the recently elected members of the Board of Directors of the Hicksville Veterans Association for the year 1950.

Pass the word along, fellows, that the NEXT meeting of the Post will be on Monday evening, February 13.

For a wonderful time-keep this date in mind-FEBRUARY 11. 1950. THE OLD SARGE.

Columbia Quartet Delightful Event

night, Jan. 11, saw one of the most pletely satisfying and success-programs since the beginning Community Concerts Assoc. The occasion was a program by the Columbia Grand Opera Quar-

One of the outstanding reasons for its success was the skill with which the numbers were chosen. It is not often that a concert program contains so many universal favorites. Aside from the downright enjoyability of the numbers. the variety and contrast of the four types of voices and the four charming personalities assured the audience that there would be no dull moments.

Not only did we hear the artists in quartet, but each singer was heard in solo numbers, further heightening the contrast and varldition we were given every possible voice combination in dust form: soprano and tenor, tenor and baritone, tenor and merzosoprano, etc. All these were numbers which people love to

Charm as

Another of the reasons for the popularity of this quartet is the popularity or this quarter is one great charm and friendliness of its personnel. They appear to like the audience, each other, and what they are doing. They sail them-selves to the audience with consummate skill not only as artists but as people—the kind you would like to know.

These would not be sufficient qualities alone to account for the continued success of this group, if very fine voices and artistic singing were not added to them. Each singer was obviously an artist in his own right as a soloist.

The fact that several of them were apparently handicapped by colds and not in best voice doubtlessly added problems to the singing but did not materially distract from the pleasure of the aud-

Miss Genevieve Rows, soprand of the group, has a light but not at all thin, brilliant voice of great flexibility and sweetness. Although hampered by a cold, her handling of her voice was skillful and her interpretation charming and artintic.

Miss Helen Ohlheim, mezzo oprano, is the possessor of a full, rich voice which contrasts excellently to the soprano but blends perfectly with it. Her solo numers show a very great range both as to pitch and emotional color. Miss Ohlheim is in every way a seasoned artist.

Louis Roney, tenor, showed what present to be the biggest voice of the four, yet be it said to his credit that in the ensemble numbers at no time did it over balance the others. He has splendid range and power, yet has sufficient command of the instrument to do some very beautiful pianissimo ainging, gain an arist.

Rich Barttone
Arthur Kent's rich baritone was another fine voice and himself another fine artist. His splendid interpretation of the popular but difficult aria of Valentine's from Faust was a little hindered by vidence of a cold which robbed his voice of some of its natural clearness and ease. In spite of his handicap, however, he displayed his full baritone with especially fine low notes, an easy manner and fine dramatic sense.

Archie Black at the piano must by no means be overlooked, for he gave a perfect accompaniment, one that always gave support but never intruded. His importance to the team can hardly be over estimate

By far the most outstanding achievement of the quartet to this reviewer was the magnificent semble and musicianship. The fact that the voices blend is as muci due to the musicianly singing as the voices themselves. But the give and take of leading and subordinate parts, the absolute oneness of interpretation and diction vet the apparent apontaneity of results were a joy to he Good opera is not often sung with anything like the teamwork dis played by the Columbia Quartet This team work added to the fine voices beautifully blended, plus great personal appeal, plus music that everyone loves, adding up in total to an evening which was, as subscriber put it, "perfectly delicious."

Selections by the quartet were: from "Lucia di Lammermoor," "Martha," "Merry Widow" and "Rigoletto."

Other offerings were: Duet from "The Bartered Bride," by Mr. Roney and Mr. Kent; duet from "Lakme" by Miss Rowe and Miss Ohlheim; aria from "Tosca by Mr. Roney; duet from Traviata" by Miss Rowe and Mr. Roney; aria from "Samson et Delila" by Miss Ohlheim; duet from "Martha" by Miss Ohlheim and Mr. Kent; aria from "Barber of Seville" by Miss Rowe; duet from "The New Moon" by Miss Rowe and Mr. Kent; aris from "Faust" by Mr. Kent; duet from "Il Trovatore" by Miss Ohlheim and Mr. Boney.

We haven't seen every team in the Northern Division of the Nassau County Amateur League as yet, but we have seen enough to believe that this could be Jericho's year insofar as the championship is concerned.

On pure physical and scoring power the Jericho Vamps are in a class by themselves and if they continue to rid themselves of the nasty habit of letting up when the opposition seems soft, they are a better than even bet for the prize money.

Roslyn does not impress us with having enough stamina to hold up over the long haul so the main challenger remains Dominic's.

The Saints are the ones to beat and Jericho is the club that can do it.

Tonight Great Neck comes to the Jericho court and the Red and White will be out to average that one point upset (which we called right on the head by the way) the Neckers

The possibility is remote so we take Jericho, 69-59.

As each game passes, it becomes more and more apparent that Frank Ruggiero's Kiwanis will have a hand in making the Northern NCABL champion.

Two weeks ago Roslyn had a tough time in the Blue Two weeks ago kosiyn had a tough time in the Brue gym when Chet Jarowski was absent and Jericho had quite a run for its money also, if we remember right. Locust Valley pulled off its rally when Bob Tabaseo wasn't around but when all were on hand, Ruggiero had a fine team that beat Great Neck handily.

If the club can get all its players to most of the games, the proceedings will be very interesting.

Additional progress should be noted tomorrow (Thursday) night when the Kiwanians entertain Port Washington at home. The assignment for Sunday night calls for a date with the Westbury Legion at Westbury and that will prove a bit tougher.

tougher.

We like Hicksville against Port 68-57 and also take them to beat Westbury 44-41.

Hicksville's victory would have been more impressive had it not blown a good many easy shots. However, Don Lang sank points and Bob Tabasco added 19 to compensate for the inability to sink the single ones.
Great Neck trailed at the half

28-20 and faced a 15-point deficit when the Kiwanians strung seven straight points together. A fresh team of Vamps then tried to run the visitors down and succeeded in cutting the lead to five points with four minutes left in the third stansa, but Jaworski, Tabasco and Lang teamed up to widen it to 13 again as the quarter closed.

Hicksville, playing without Taesco, lost Jaworski with two minutes to go in the last period with a five-point advantage. At that point inexperience took its toll, and the Valley club came with a rush to overtake the younger Kiwanians, who threw away the ball time and again.

Lang paced the Hicksville scorers with 19 points, while Jarow-ski followed closely with 17.

Trial on Hunting Complaint Feb. 8

HICKSVILLE-James Zook of Garfield St., Baldwin, will come to trial in district court here on Feb 8, accused of violating the New York State Conservation Brought before Judge Cyril Brown last Wednesday, Jan. 11, Zool pleaded not guilty to the complaint of the Hicksville Sportsmen's Club

Zook, it is alleged, was arrested on Dec. 31 for hunting with a loaded gun upon posted grounds. He was found on Plainview acreage which has been posted by the Sportsmen's Club, according to President Ward Duffield, who brought the charge. He is cha with violating Section 361 of the N. Y. Conservation Law.

It is the first complaint made on these grounds by the Sportsmen's club, which in cooperation with property owners, has posted thousands of acres in the mid-Island section

Harbes Explains Split with Pavlicek Welcome, New Friends Le Sacration of these new neighbors in brand new homes in Hicks-In Second Half Of His Open Letter

PLAINVIEW—John G. Harbes, chairman of the Plainview Board, of Water Commissioners, found it necessary to "drep" Frank Pavli because Herbes was raised ler the "old Long Island belief that honesty is always the best policy." he wrote this week.

Pavlicek had been supported by Harbes in a previous commissioner election when Thomas Duffy of candidate, Last fall, when Pavlicek's term expired, Harbes supported Henry Froehlich, who suc afully defeated Duffy for a sec-

Harbes' explanation for why he "dropped" Pavlicek is contained in an open letter to the readers of the Mid-Island Herald. Because of its length it was cut into two sec which appeared in the Herald last

The letter concludes:

"If the letter to Clarence A. Chamberlain which appeared in your paper (Dec. 20) was the true en why wasn't the answer which Mr. Chamberlain wrote to the two-third member board print ed in your paper? And what is wrong with this answer. We re-

"Further, from that letter to Mr. Chamberlain, the good people of Plainview Water District can ee and understand what a time I had to run and operate your water l'strict with two men who knew othing about the whole matter or about the responsibility under which they are charged and then act in the most disgraceful, stub-born manner, and I want to pub-'icly thank the good voters of the Plainview Water District for electng a man on your water board who knows what it is all about and your water district will again function as it should.

"Now I almost forgot the ques in of who receives the money for water rent, tapping charges, etc. Each commissioner receives such roney. And when I found out that Mr. Pavlicek deceived both myself and Mr. Keute it was my duty to trop him completely, because ave been raised under the old ong Island belief that honesty lways the best policy and that is he policy under which I have rerved you for the past 19 years.

Tuest that answer to be published in your paper, and if you can't get to copy of it, we will get a copy will take one at a time. I believe I have shown enough at this time, and all matters will be taken care of when the time comes and Mr. Duffy should know that disragarding whatever the letter to Mr. Chamberlain contained, he. Mr. Duffy, is the one who is responsible for the signed state ments that appeared in your paper

Respectfully submitted, JOHN G. HARBES, "Chairman

Board of Commissioners, "Plainview Water District."

My husband and I wish to thenk you for your gracious welcome to Hicksville in the person of Mrs. Pauline Loeffler.

Thank you very much for the introductory cards to the mer-chants. It certainly helps to get acquainted.

We shall endeavor to become credit to this community in the next 25 years or more.

IN OUR OPINION:

Where Is Business Centre Going? has certainly enhanced the importance of the block

THE MILLION-DOLLAR QUESTION for some people these days is where—if it does shift—the business section of Hicksville of the future is going

This is not written because we favor such a sect. It is written to outline some of the reasand debate. You may be sure that the inadequacy of our parking facilities in the heart of the present iness centre may very well become a determin-

For example, it has come to our attention that plans are now being drawn for construction of 30-odd stores near Old Country Rd. and Newbridge Further down Old Country Rd. toward the Parkway bridge, another section of stores is being We have seen a sketch of the propos

There are some who claim that Old Country and will be the future business centre of the comncy of the business section to develop best in the immediate neighborhood of such public facilities as the Rail Road station and Post Office.

One of the proposed sites for rented quarters for the post office (see story on page 3 possibilities of a federal building) is on for the post office is on North dway near James St. Would the business section follow the post office right up there? Admittedly a major drawing attraction for a business centre is a super market such as A&P. There seems to be general agreement that the A&P with its location on Broadway for the past decade

The Mid-Island Herald will not be liable for tern appearing in any advertising beyond the coat shopping attraction. But this mere fact, it also claimed, has added to the parking congestion in that particular block. But if a guese had to be made between development east and west on Old Country Rd., or between Herzog Place and Marie St. as a major further development north and south along Broad-way, we'd be inclined to feel that Broadway has the edge. First of all, a great deal of Broadway is already zoned for business; second, the major home pment for the mement is to the south and Broadway is a natural path (along with Jerusalem Ave.) for those using the LJRR. It is interesting to speculate as to what is going to happen in the future for this community.

There are some people who hope to add to their wealth by anticipating just how things are going to

We'd be interested to have some reader comment on this subject.

Levitt and Hicksville

COMMENT IN THIS DEPARTMENT last week regarding the advance of Levitt & Sons into the mmunity of Hicksville brought forth overwl ing response and comment from readers.

In the editorial there was reference to purchase of some property on Muller Place, "Hicks-ville." by Levitt for more homes. The article quoted the New York World-Telegram & Sun report or the sale of a 42-acre farm. Several readers asked for the location of this property. Further study shown that this parcel, formerly owned by Philip A. Schmitt is in fact in Plainedge off Union Ave. The World-Telegram was technically correct, since the area is in the district of Hicksville post office rural free delivery.

Must Stop for School Bus

NOW THAT SCHOOL BUS service has been established in Hickwille it appears necessary to remind local motorists that the law requires special care in approaching such a bus.

The state law requires that vehicles approaching a school hus in either direction must come to a complete halt when the bus is stopped for the discharge or receipt of nassengers. Buses are equipped with flashing colored lights to give warning to traffic in both directions that it has come

Morotorists are warned of this law, not only to save themselves the possibility of a fine, but also to protect the lives of the very small children

When a school hus stons-you must stop
