

BACKING EATON AND GOODRICH FOR SCHOOL BOARD:

Citizens Group Requests Election, Pledges Support For Candidates

HICKSVILLE—The Citizens for Better Government in School Affairs by resolution today called upon the Board of Education to immediately schedule a special election to fill two vacancies on the Board since Supreme Court Justice Herbert Hamm has declared the June 25 election of William Yocum and A. O. Soininen a "nullity". Yocum and Soininen were seated on the board when they received a plurality of votes cast whereas the Supreme Court Justice has found a majority of votes is required.

Board Candidate

The Citizens Committee at the same session Sunday night, Feb. 5, in Legion Hall, pointed out that "continued participation" by Yocum and Soininen "in Board affairs during an interim period while an appeal is resolved would make action of the Board during that period of doubtful legality."

Robert Eaton of 225 Lee Ave., who took the appeal to the Commissioner of Education and the Supreme Court as a taxpayer, was voted the support of the Citizens Committee for his candidacy in a special election for the remainder of a one-year term.

The Committee also affirmed its support of Robert Goodrich of 47 Angle Lane, as a candidate in the proposed special election for the remainder of a two-year term. Goodrich has been serving as temporary chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Government in School Affairs since its organization.

Eaton has been long-active in Parent-Teacher Assoc. and civic affairs in the community and was a candidate, opposing Soininen, in the special election held last June. Goodrich, an accountant, is a former school teacher. He has been active in the Little League and Scout organizations of the community. He is the father of two students in junior high school.

Yocum, Soininen Take 'Wait and See' Stand

HICKSVILLE—A. O. Soininen and William Yocum, seated on the Board of Education as of July 1, when they received a plurality of votes cast in a special election on June 25, both feel the matter of their position on the Board "is in the hands" of the State Commissioner of Education. Both men indicated in their answers to questions by the Herald that they assume the Supreme Court Justice decision will be appealed by the State Education Dept.

Soininen who was elected for the "one-year" term which expires next June 30, implied they "can't stop the district's work" and that members have to sit on the Board to do the district's work. As for remaining on the Board, he was unable to say until such time as the Commissioner rules.

Yocum felt he would be guided by School Attorney Bertram Crane and the State Commissioner. He was elected for the "two-year" term which expires June 30, 1957.

"The fact that there are different interpretations of law does not mean that we are not abiding by the law," he told the Herald. "We are not scofflaws." As for whether he would run in a special election, if ordered, "I'd have to think very carefully about it. It would depend on a number of things," he added, "without further explanation."

In the special election of June 25, Soininen received 763 votes, Robert Eaton 674 and John F. Top- (Please Turn to Page 4)

Supreme Court Finds June 25 Vote Invalid

TROY—Supreme Court Justice Herbert Hamm this week ruled that the decision of State Education Commissioner James Allen in the matter of the June 25 special election in Hicksville School District, seating two members of the Board of Education, was "annulled." The "purported election of the new members by plurality," the Justice ruled, "was nugatory and invalid, the Commissioner was without power to hold the election operative and effectual and his decision was not lawful and hence arbitrary."

Robert Eaton, represented by Attorney Harry Goebel, had taken the decision of the State Education Commissioner of last October—upholding the opinion of Hicksville School Attorney Bertram Crane—to the Supreme Court for judicial review and won his case.

Justice Hamm has not ruled as yet on a second matter, the appeal of Dorothy Stephan protesting the pre-dawn appointment of Milton Leavitt as a member of the Board. In this case, the Commissioner of Education had also upheld the appointment which was made by a vote of four "yes" and two "no". Soininen and Yocum, whose seats on the Board are now in question, voted "yes" with Edna Sutton, board president; and Joseph Cawley, to appoint Leavitt while Emil Szendy and Arthur L. Eirich voted "no".

Local Squires Visit LaGuardia

The Columbian Squires of the Magr. McClanery Circle 805 of Hicksville and Levittown, sponsored by Holy Innocents Council, Knights of Columbus, on Tuesday, February 6 visited Casey Jones Academy of Aeronautics at LaGuardia Airport.

George Brush, personnel director of the school, answered questions for the boys concerning all phases of aviation. They were also advised if any of them intend to enter aviation they must concentrate especially on math, science and English in high school. They were then taken through the school and shown the classrooms, planes, motors and equipment used by the students in their studies.

This was the second of their monthly trips to places of interest. Last month they visited Colonial Air Lines, and next month they will visit the County jail. The Squires are a group of Catholic boys, 13 to 18 years of age, sponsored by the K of C. They met at Holy Family Church, 1st and 3rd Thursday of each month. Peter J. ## 116-Year-Old Hassall Concern In New Plant On Cantiague Rd

By EILEEN WOLF

A whiphandle manufacturer from England was the unwitting founder of a company which now defines its products as: "cold headed, special nails, rivets and screws, small parts and fasteners."

William Hassall began his company in the 1840's in New York City. Gradually, he turned from whiphandles to concentrating on the nail which joined the whip to the handle, and then to specially designed nails which his customers specified.

John Hassall, Inc., is named after William Hassall's only son, who developed the first nail machine made in America. The machine is now in the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., and its descendants are in a modern plant on Cantiague Rd. just north of Northern State Pkwy. on the Hicksville-Westbury border. Its inventor also was the first to make glove fasteners.

Rivets and screws were added to nails as the company's products grew under its next leader, William W. Smith, Hassall's nephew. The firm has continued to grow under the direction of Smith's son, Theodore B. Smith, who is now president. The company's move to Westbury area and from its Greenpoint, Brooklyn, location was a result of this growth.

Half of the company's 135 employees are skilled, and many of the others are semi-skilled. Many of the men, who far outnumber the women, were trained in the Hassall factory, since the plant is the only one of its kind in the metropolitan New York area. About 25 or 30 employees now come from the mid-island area, but this number has been growing since the company's move.

"Cold heading" is regarded by the company as its chief asset. All the items the company makes, from the simplest nail, to a complicated, screw-in ski pole point, begin as coils of metal wire. In the cold-heading process, the objects are made without heating the wire. The wire is fed into a machine where it is automatically cut to a specified length and "headed" into its designed shapes by the impact of dies. The process is distinct from screw-machine methods which fashion metal objects from bars of metal, rather than coils.

Hassall specializes in "special" parts. Its customers are as varied as its products. Hassall can meet the specifications of a watchmaker who specifies a stem for a winder or those of manufacturers of cigarette lighters, medicine cabinets or eyeglasses who want hinge pins, or a toy manufacturer who wants plunger for a whipped cream dispenser. The company has frequently solved these problems, even going as far in several cases, as to build a machine to order for the newly designed product.

The company estimates that there are dozens of Hassall items in each home. A housewife, according to these estimates, can't move a step in her kitchen, a child can't spend an hour with his toys and a man can't get up out of his favorite chair without coming face to face with a cold headed something that stemmed from this community.

axes for miniature automobiles and trains. In the heyday of the top top, Hassall made many round pins for the bottoms.

The metal part it is made of is the basic variant. There are aluminum and aluminum alloys, copper alloys, brass, lead, Monel—a copper-nickel alloy, bronze alloys and steel alloys to choose from. Each has its own special qualities.

The basic design is limited only by engineering ingenuity. There is a bewildering number of heads, points, screws, collars and fasteners to choose from. Also, secondary operations such as threading, swaging, knurling, drilling, fluting, slotting and plating further modify the possible shape and function of the part.

Each variation fits the part for different needs. If a nail has a blunt point it may be less likely to split hard wood. If it is "knurled," or lined with a grid-work, its holding power is increased.

Holding power, appearance, resistance to acids or cleaning compounds are all affected by still another factor—the finish the part is given.

Companies with engineering problems come to Hassall for the designing and specifications of pieces they need. An automobile manufacturer may be changing models and needs a new fastener for the rubber floor mat so the doors will swing clear. Or Hassall may be asked to design a valve

Large Audience At Central Blvd

The Feb. 1 P.T.A. meeting at Central Blvd. School brought out the largest attendance to date. The turnout can be fingered to several factors. Mrs. Charles Melone spoke in behalf of Founders Day, followed by the 'Candlelight Ceremony' that consisted of lighting two candles, one by Mrs. D. Noce, and the other by Mrs. R. Germann, president. The Hospitality Committee, headed by Mrs. L. Rosera did a splendid job. The membership committee reported some 30 new members signed up at this meeting.

Hoey's daughter, Maureen, 14, received a chin abrasion but was not treated before being taken home.

Miss Warager received abrasions and contusions of the right knee and possible back strain. Three of the occupants of her car, who also had contusions, were treated by Dr. Abraham Azulay, 459 South Oyster Bay Rd., here, before being released to their homes. ## Wait and See

In the same election, for the two-year position, Yocum got 826 votes, Gerard DeLorme 595, Harry Goebel 219 and Fleming Harding 168. Goebel has said definitely he would not be a candidate. Intimates of DeLorme indicate he does not plan to run again and Harding, in answer to a question, said "I have nothing to say". Harding has indicated that he would not oppose Robert Goodrich, who is a candidate.

Crane was quoted in the daily press earlier this week as believing Justice Hamm's decision will be taken on appeal. Goebel, while conceding the possibility of an appeal to the Appellate Division, felt there would be little reason for a delay or stay in the execution of the court's order.

Justice Hamm was expected to sign the order today (Thursday) at Troy.

Men To See Film Friday

HICKSVILLE — The Men's Fellowship of the Church of Christ, Broadway, here will see a film about the Phillips Oilers Basketball team at their meeting this Friday, Feb. 10. Bro. Harold Ward, minister of the Maspeth Church, will deliver a short devotional message to the gathering, which meets at 8 P.M. at the church.

Bible School plans for the next few months will be made by the officers and teachers of the school next week. They will meet at the home of Donald Topflich, 70 Cambridge Dr. here, on Friday, Feb. 17, at 8 P.M.

Students of the Bible School who had perfect attendance records in 1955 will be honored by a Service of Recognition the Sunday night following the meeting, Feb. 19, at 7:30 P.M. A picture of the group will then be taken.

Open House Set For Junior High

HICKSVILLE — An Open House program to be held in the new High School by the Division Ave. Junior high grades is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, according to Principal Donald F. Aht.

Department heads will greet visitors in the auditorium at 8 o'clock, and will explain the scope of the 7th, 8th, and 9th grade programs. Later, parents and friends will visit a typical class day where, in classrooms, they will talk with teachers in Language Arts, Citizenship Education, Mathematics, Science, Art, Homemaking, Shop, Music, and Gymnasium.

Following the visits, heads of divisions from the Personnel Services Dept., Marvin E. Gibson, director, will explain their work.

The program will offer an opportunity to inspect the new high school building, for those who have not already seen it.

Arrange 'Bring Member Session'

HICKSVILLE — Temple Shalom Zedek on E. Barclay St. here, is planning a "Member Bring a Prospective Member" get together some time in March.

Short talks by the President of the congregation and its affiliated groups will explain the activities of the congregation, and enlarge on the Hebrew school, the youth group, the drama group and the ladies auxiliary.

The affair was originally scheduled for Feb. 11 and subsequently

No date was set for another meeting when the last one ended on Friday night, Jan. 24. However, John W. Chisholm, District Superintendent of Schools in Nassau, told the Herald that agreement among the school boards is essential to the solution of the overall problem. Chisholm's statement apparently points to more future meetings, which may be called by him or one of the three School Boards.

Old Bethpage, which has neither enough enrollment nor assessable property value to finance its own secondary education program, has been a subject of centralization discussions for more than ten years, in the memory of certain Board members. The recent series of meetings began last April, when the State Commissioner of Education, James E. Allen, refused to grant Bethpage a charter for its high school unless some provision were made for the Old Bethpage district. Plainview, too, awaits a charter pending the same decision, and that district also awaits approval to conduct courses beyond the ninth grade.

New York State is seeking the centralization of Old Bethpage with one of these districts, but has not as yet forced any merger. Special financial aid is held out as an inducement.

According to studies of state aid for new construction for the proposed centralization, a joint district composed of Plainview and Old Bethpage, would benefit more than would a similar district composed of Bethpage and Old Bethpage.

Also, either central district would receive at least $70,000 increased operating aid based on a formula with a higher rate, according to the studies.

Ultimately the decision is up to the voters of the two districts which consider merging. A simple majority vote of the total number of voters of both districts is needed for approval of centralization. However, it has not been the practice of the state commissioner to order such a referendum until petitions signed by a majority of the voters in each of the two districts are received by him in Albany.

PRESERVE HOME RULE

No such petitions have been filed by any of the three districts. The commissioner can issue an order to hold the referendum without receiving them, but it has been his procedure to require them in the interests of preserving home rule for each local district. The petitions are the only safeguard

(Continued from Page 1) that the voters of one district, such as Old Bethpage with over 700 odd voters, will not be defeated by a separate district, such as Plainview or Bethpage with ten times as many voters.

With student enrollment and costs going up, and with the added impetus of recent recommendations in favor of centralization on the part of the study commission headed by Henry T. Heald Chancellor of New York University, hopes are voiced locally for a settlement of this problem soon. According to Chisholm, this problem must be settled, and its amicable settlement, with the preservation of local school government, is a challenge to local leadership.

The plans of the Plainview and Bethpage districts for their high school programs are also being held up until the matter is settled, and this is another impetus for prompt settlement. Meanwhile, the two districts are going ahead as far as they can, without official state endorsement, to provide increased educational facilities for the local students.

Here We Go Again

By EMIL SZENDY
Trustee

The stage is being set for another referendum. Trustees Milton Leavitt and Joe Cawley have written the script; the roles are being cast; props and sound effects are being marshaled; the curtain will soon go up; only the final scene remains undetermined. In the final scene a great many unrehearsed characters must appear; taxpayers casting votes; these must first be brainwashed.

Milton Leavitt and Joe Cawley, (it was Joe Cawley who nominated Milton Leavitt to the Board at 4 o'clock in the morning) with the assistance or lack of opposition of other majority Board members, (Mrs. Sutton will give spirited support; Yocum and Solininen have not yet expressed themselves), are determined to put over the two unneeded and twice-defeated additional schools at the Wildwood and the yet-to-be-purchased Willett Ave. sites—or else. That, only recently, the majority of the taxpayers voted against building these schools, means nothing to them. Leavitt and Cawley, and Sutton will only take "yes" for an answer. Then democracy will have spoken—up till then it will be only the opposition.

The schools are now being offered at a marked-down price, $450,000 each, instead of $767,000. It's an old trick to offer something not wanted and not needed in the bargain-basement, in the hope that people will buy because "IT'S SUCH A BARGAIN". There is undoubtedly need to provide for the present bulge in elementary school population, which will reach a maximum in 1958, by temporary expedients. Advocacy of permanent buildings for the long haul having failed, Milton Leavitt is now advocating them as the oh-so-much-better solution for the short haul—the bulge period. Aided by a little figure juggling, it is argued that the cost will be only $17,000 more annually than for temporary classrooms. That for 15 years after the bulge period had passed, after temporary classrooms might have served their purpose at both the primary and secondary schools, been paid for, sold for salvage, and forgotten, that then the taxpayers would still be paying $44,950 annually for what may then be vacant permanent monuments, is not quickly apparent from the figures which, incidentally, were assembled by Dr. Walling, Assistant Superintendent for Business Administration.

Who will try to put this over? Not Milton Leavitt and his group, many of them old-time members of the defunct Education Assoc., of which he was president, which "sold" elementary school construction a few years ago with the contention that State Construction Aid, (none has come to the District, and none will come), would pay most if not all the cost. They are too well known. Not Joe Cawley; he is remembered with School and Mrs. Sutton at the $40,000, 000.00 increase in assessed valuation from the Mid-Island Shopping Center (now pared to a more realistic $12,000,000.) hurriedly added-in to show a reduction in projected tax-rate just before these schools first came up for a vote. Not the Advisory Committee; the Advisory Committee has twice

REMEMBER THE MAINE

In accordance with the VFW ritual, every Post is urged to observe the anniversary of the sinking of the U.S.S. Maine in the Harbor of Havana on Feb. 15, 1898, the disaster that claimed the lives of 266 Americans and formed one of the direct causes of the War with Spain. history of the world—the A.E.F. of 1918.

Any members of the Post having a wife, sister or mother interested in joining the Ladies Auxiliary, VFW, have them call Mrs. Dorothy Klein, at WE 8-1976 or write her at 6 Willet's Ave., Hicksville, for further information.

The first meeting of the committee will be on Thursday evening, Feb. 10 in the new high school.

Thought for the Week: Keep your vision clear and your hope bright, and walk with the indomitable courage and confidence of one whose feet are set in the highway of God.

HERALD READER OPINION:

Pots and Pans and Color Schemes

To the Editor

Pots and pans and utensils for the ultra-modern home making departments in the new Hicksville High School were not ordered earlier because it had not been determined what the color scheme of the home economics rooms would be. That appeared to be the "official" explanation when the subject came up at the regular Board of Education meeting, Jan. 27. The departments are complete with dish washers, refrigerators, stoves, etc. but students have not had utensils to wash, to cook with or to keep food cool since classes began.

Trustee Emil J. Szendy raised the question, W. Donald W. Walling, assistant superintendent in charge of business administration, passed the question to Stanton

Miller, assistant superintendent in charge of education.

Miller said the lack of these items was caused by "some areas out for bids and some areas in for bids. Some areas received bids, and other areas did not." He added the lack of dishes was caused by the "indecision as the color wanted with delayed procurement of same."

In regard to the lack of text books, mentioned in the Herald editorial Jan. 26 he said no orders were held up by his office; that as soon as the teachers indicated their needs, the books were immediately ordered.

"If some books are missing, I know nothing about it," he concluded.

Trustee Szendy, who was pursuing the lack of equipment specifically mentioned a text book entitled, "History of Long Island", which is widely used in the 7th grade, but due to the quantity in the district—29 to be exact—the students are only allowed to have them one day during the term.

Lamb, Walling, and Miller could not recall whether the book was a text or a reference book, with Lamb passing the matter off as "probably only a reference book, therefore there would be no need for more copies."

He promised that Walling would check.

PARENT AT MEETINGS

The Tax File

By GERALD BLUM, C. P. A.
Wells 8-4312

When Saturday evening rolls around and you and the "missus" step out for an evening's entertainment, payments made to baby sitters for the evening may not be deducted from taxable income.

On the other hand, amounts spent for guardians, maids, baby sitters, nursery school supervision, practical nurses, and the like can be used to reduce your federal income tax if necessity dictates such expenditures.

However, the restrictions of this "humanizing" provision are discouraging and numerous. For example, payments made towards care of a child, 12 years old or more, who is in sound physical and mental condition will not be allowed. The dependent for whom you are incurring "care costs" must be less than 12 years old or incapable of self-support.

Furthermore, married couples will be dismayed to learn that if their combined yearly income is $5,300 or more, then no deduction at all for care of a dependent will be allowed. Those couples whose combined annual income is less than $4,500 may deduct care costs in amounts up to, but never more than the maximum of $600. If your combined income falls between $4,500 and $5,300, then only part of your care expenses can be deducted. Every dollar earned over $4,500 reduces the amount which can be deducted. Thus if a husband and wife paid $500 to a nursery school and earned a total of $4,700, only $300 would be allowed as a deduction.

However, if a wife must support her family because of the physical or mental disabilities of her husband, then the amount she earns has no bearing on the amount to be deducted for care expenses.

Widows, widowers, and persons divorced or legally separated who are employed or seeking employment can also claim care costs, regardless of their yearly income. Again, as in all cases, the maximum amount deductible is $600.

Payments made to a relative to take care of a dependent are permitted as deductions, provided that the relative is not a dependent of the taxpayer.

Invite Pupils To P-TA Feb 16

College education opportunities in New York colleges and in nearby C. W. Post College will be the subject for the Hicksville High School P-TA meeting next Thursday, Feb. 16.

W. Virgil Néstrick, coordinator of Teacher Placement and Field Services of CCNY, will talk and answer questions about tuition-free teacher-education programs in the four municipal colleges—Hunter, Brooklyn, Queens and City College.

R. Gordon Hoxie, dean of C. W. Post College of LIU, will tell the association about his school. Mrs. Theodore Roseberry, P-TA program chairman, has announced a special invitation to the senior and junior classes to come to the meeting, which begins at 8:15 P. M., in the Division Ave. school auditorium. She has urged all parents and P-TA members to attend this important session.

HOMEMAKER'S DISPATCH:

Some Useful Rug Reminders

Here are some tips from the Cornell specialists to keep those valuable rugs and carpets in the pink of condition.

Reverse the position of the rugs occasionally to distribute wear. Use a rug pad, especially under those rugs that take a beating from heavy traffic. The pad helps cover unevenness in the floor, and cushions the rug against hard wear. To avoid holes or indentations from the legs of heavy furniture, use furniture cups. When you move heavy furniture, lift it—never drag it across the rug.

Mend damaged areas promptly. Frayed ends can be bound or finished with fringe. Press-on binding is easy to use for finishing worn edges. To mend bare spots caused by moths or burns, sew in tufts or loops of yarn which match the rug color—then clip the loops to make a pile.

Seeks Broader Library Program

BETHPAGE — Mrs. Anne Kelly, of 4014 Aroca Ave. here, is leading a citizens' campaign to improve the local Public Library by increasing appropriations for it in next year's budget.

Inadequacy of facilities and materials is acute in the library, Mrs. Kelly asserts. Students are having difficulties in securing reference material. Her daughter, a high school student, uses the Farmingdale library because of the inadequacies of the local one.

Mrs. Kelly has recently organized a Citizens' Library Committee to work at increasing the library facilities. Anyone interested in joining the committee can call her at WE 1-6451.

Last year's library budget amounted to $8,275. The Citizens Library Committee intends to work with the library board which is beginning to make out its budget for next year.

When Mrs. Kelly appeared before the School Board last week, for the second time, she was assured of that board's cooperation. The library budget is approved every year by the School Board as a matter of routine.

Last October, Mrs. Kelly presented the library problems to both boards. Her account of the reactions at that time follows:

"My visit to the town library and with the Town Board of the library as presented at our High School P-TA meeting:

"I presented to them my problem and stated 'I feel we now have an inadequate library in town.' I presented to them the information I gathered and told them, the library as it now stands is most inadequate and will not cover the needs of our potential High School and College material in our community and asked what could be done to improve our library generally.

"The Board at the library told me, they were aware of this situation and would work with our school district in due time to improve the library. They stated they would also need a vote of the people at our Budget meeting, so that the proper appropriations can be made to improve the situation.

"Then I presented the same problem to the School Board members, the following week, the members of our School Board said, 'they would give the matter consideration.'

"The reason I would like to present this to the people: Most of our children in High School, at the present time, have to go to other local libraries to obtain information so vital to their various programs of study. We now have a school library that is better equipped, but we also need a town library that should be fully equipped for our adults and college material that is just now beginning to shape up in our school district.

"Our teachers are trying to give our children the best type of education on the bare necessities in our library in town.

"I have appealed to our chairman to ask for volunteers to work toward obtaining a better library in our town, to help in obtaining vital information and statistics that will be an aid in obtaining a vote at our budget meeting in May.

"Our entire school system needs better library facilities. If we are going to put money into schools without the proper library in town for our children to gather their reference, to my knowledge this is a money wasting project without a town library.

"Any interested citizen will be most welcome to join this committee. Please call WE 1-6451," Mrs. Kelly concluded.

Isn't That Just Like Women?

By SHIRLEY HUENLICH
Wells 5-2327

Lately I have been hearing more and more stories ending with that famous last line "Isn't that just like a woman?" being echoed, of course, by a man in a thoroughly superior tone. This was all brought back to mind again a few Thursdays ago while waiting at the barber's with our son for his turn for a haircut.

Of the six or seven others waiting at least three of the men there unthinkingly admitted that they had been there the day before, Wednesday, of course, forgetting that the barbers are always closed on that day. Well, naturally, no one said "Isn't that just like a man," but I'm sure that it did pass through at least one other mind that someone should have reminded the poor fellows not to get a haircut on Wednesday, but after all, "Isn't that just like a woman," to forget!

Birthday greetings to Barbara Strauss of 7 Somerset Ave. who celebrated her birthday Jan. 22.

Saturday, Jan. 28 was a busy day for the Haskell's on Power St. Little Priscilla Haskell was three years old Jan. 27 and her brother Warren was one year old on Jan. 29, so there was a combined party on Jan. 28. On hand for the afternoon festivities were the following children: Debbie Price, Barbara Byrd, Leanne Correia, Susan Plander, Lisa Muro, and Keith Asdourian. Among those present for dinner that evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Jericho; Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Sr., of Hempstead; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and children from Wantagh; Mrs. Van Buskirk and daughter and the two great grandmothers, Mrs. Krimmer and Mrs. Martin.

The Mandala household was also bursting with activity Saturday, Jan. 28, when the "gang" came over for one of their monthly get-togethers. Duffy Park was represented by Mr. and Mrs. R. Baumann; Garden City Park by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel LoPiccolo; Plain-edge by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saccio; Floral Park by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LoPiccolo; and Bellerose by Mr. and Mrs. William Mandala.

Hope everyone is as delighted as I am to see a new house going up on the corner of Somerset Ave. and Power St.

The Rohan family on Minola Ave. was increased by one when a baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rohan on Sunday, Jan. 29 at Mercy Hospital. She joins a sister, Patricia, who is nine years old.

Marie Habenicht
To Wed Sunday

Rose Marie Habenicht, of 33 West Ave., Hicksville, will wed Robert Williams, of Sayville, this Sunday, Feb. 12.

Miss Habenicht is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Max Habenicht, and now resides with two of her brothers, Carl and Henry Habenicht, and her sister, Anna Habenicht.

Mr. Williams, is the son of Mrs. Laura Williams, of 65 Manton St., Sayville, where the married couple will live.

Pastor Edward H. Stammel, of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, will perform the ceremony early in the afternoon. A reception for about 100 guests, will follow, in the American Legion Hall on W. Nicholas St.

The couple plan to have a two week vacation in Allendale, Fla., which is outside of Miami Beach.

On their return, the bride plans to continue working at her present job for a while, as a bench assembly worker in Republic Aviation Corp. in Farmingdale. Mr. Williams is a plumber in Sayville.

Where you save does make a difference

The difference, you'll find, is well worth looking into. Because you get these important advantages when you put your savings in insured Savings and Loan Associations...

Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Modern, efficient, forward-looking service is another.

And, of course, your money is safe because in insured Savings and Loan Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government.

No wonder Americans are now putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else!

School Board to Take 'Bids' On Quarter of Insurance

HICKSVILLE — About 25 per cent of the school insurance in this district is about to be made competitive for the first time. The pioneer experiment is being made with $3,000,000 worth of insurance for the new high school building on Division Ave.

The Board of Trustees unanimously voted at regular meeting on Friday, Jan. 24, to have "informal quotations" on the high school insurance gathered by the administration.

Also, it voted to place its Workmen's Compensation insurance with the State Insurance Fund, beginning at once. This will save $1,571.12 a year, in insurance premiums, it is estimated. Any added cost to the district incurred in the administration of the program and the office work involved will be kept track of during this first year.

Heretofore, the practice has been to place most of the school insurance with local brokers.

This community as a location for a new state university has been approved of by some members of four neighboring school boards and a resolution enumerating the advantages of a Hicksville location was approved for signing by the Board, by a split vote. The

Mental Health Units Report

HICKSVILLE — The Council of P-TA's Mental Health Committee here heard reports from each unit at its last meeting, Jan. 30. Several skits were also given.

Mrs. Maurice Postley, Dutch Lane chairman, reported that their Child Study Group needs three more members to form the first group.

Mrs. Hilton, Old Country Rd. chairman, told the Committee about a talk given to her unit by Dr. Bernard Liebman, on "What is Mental Health?"

Mrs. Buckner, Lee Ave. chairman, reported that the Christopher Recordings will be played at the March P-TA meeting.

Mrs. Helfant, East St. chairman, said that Christopher Recordings would be played for her unit at a special afternoon meeting.

There are plans to have Dr. Allen Fromme, a psychologist who is on the radio, speak to the community on April 30.

because it is in the neighborhood of large school districts which could supply a college with prospective students. Hicksville may possibly be chosen as the university location, the Board was told. Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, superintendent of schools, said that although there is a great deal of competition on the part of other school districts, "we got into the competition right away and that is one thing that gives us a particularly good chance."

February 1 marked the beginning of a brand-new service affecting 248,000 Long Island telephones. If yours is one of them, you can dial your own station-to-station calls direct to telephones all the way across the country.

Fourteen additional cities from coast to coast — shown on the map above — are now within reach of your dial if you have individual or two-party service. Approximately 8 million phones have been added, bringing the total in your direct dialing range to about 17 million.

It's easy to dial calls to these far-off places. Almost like phoning a neighbor. All you do is dial the code number of the state or area, followed immediately by the number of the telephone you want to reach. For a listing of Area Codes and specific instructions on how to dial these new cities, consult the folder which was mailed to you recently with your telephone bill. For nearby points check the Information Pages in the front of your local telephone directory.

This latest step in nationwide dialing is one more example of the ever-growing value of your telephone. In time, as the necessary equipment can be installed, more and more Long Islanders will be able to dial direct to any point in the United States and Canada.

Library Given 54 Volume Set

HICKSVILLE — The Public Library is the recipient of a 54 volume set of "Great Books of the Western World". This set was distributed, free of charge, to 1,600 carefully selected libraries in the United States from among several thousand applicants. The libraries were selected by a committee of the American Library Assoc. and the sets were distributed by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. The grant that made this possible was donated by the Old Dominion Foundation, founded in 1941 for the purpose of donating grants to educational, religious, scientific and literary purposes.

The set contains works of 74 authors spanning Western thought from the Bible and Homer to the 20th century and contains all the works of 21 of the authors. It represents the only publication in English or the only edition aside from rare and expensive editions of key works of Aristotle, Galen, Freud, Pascal and many others. A Synopticon or "Index Index" is a unique feature of the set. This is an index through which it is possible to trace many great ideas and their subordinate topics, and is a feature never before incorporated in a set of this type.

Edited by Robert Hutchins and Mortimer Adler of the University of Chicago, this will prove a very valuable addition to library here, as it represents a very good collection of classics, according to Library Director Kenneth Barnes.

will be from 9 to 1. There will be a door prize and a costume prize. Music will be by The Triatones. For tickets, contact Mrs. Katz at WE 1-4192 or Mrs. Basini at WE 1-2218.

The Holy Name Society will hold Communion Sunday for all its members on Feb. 12 at the eight o'clock mass. Tuesday, Feb. 7, the Parish Boy Scouts held a Court of Honor and Open House to celebrate the Birthday of Scouting.

On Sunday, Feb. 12, they will end Boy Scout Week by receiving Holy Communion at the eight o'clock Mass. Their parents and friends are invited to join them in both acts of celebration.

If you have a dozen or so friends interested in the opportunities of membership in the Holy Family Building Fund you can become a Booster Club Captain. Stop in today for memberships at the Holy Family Church.

A very interesting meeting was held by the Newbridge Terrace Homeowners Assoc. at their last get together. Trustee Arthur L. Eirich of the School Board gave a very interesting talk.

We were very glad to hear that the fire at the Krabbeler home at 12 Hastings Lane was confined to the chimney and therefore wasn't too serious.

I understand that Mrs. Leo Boland of 3 Stanford Lane fell down the cellar stairs and will have to be off her feet until April. She is very lucky to have her mother and sister there to help her with the twins and her other daughter. I hope you will be up and around before April, Kay.

Our congratulations go to Sue and Bob Lefkowitz of 21 Salem Rd. who are the parents of a son named Harold Ira, born at Nassau Hospital on Feb. 2 and who weighed in at 6 lbs. 14 ounces. His daddy is one of the owners of the Bobai Service Station on Newbridge Rd. and West Marie St., Hicksville. Good luck to the three of you.

Birthday congratulations go to Cornelia Murray who will be three years old on Feb. 13. There will be a small family party with her parents and friends at 9 Croyden Lane.

Michael Perduto of 53 Salem Rd. will celebrate his 8th birthday on Feb. 9 and his father, Henry, will celebrate his birthday on the same day.

There will be a double celebration because Feb. 7 is also Mabel and Henry Perduto's 19th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Osterling of 31 Croyden Lane celebrated her birthday on Feb. 2 with a family party at her daughter Millie's home.

Ronnie Nicholson of 33 Croyden Lane will be 5 years old on Feb. 12. Rene Siegel of 47 Glenbrook Rd. will be 14 on Feb. 11 and will celebrate with a family party at her home.

Happy Birthday to all of you and may you have many many more of them. Also Happy Anniversary to Mabel and Henry Perduto.

The Gray Crimes

By GERALD KISSIN

As in Italy, there is a "game" between the tax collector and the taxpayer regarding his taxable income, so, in this country, the exaggerating of income on the income tax return is an accepted mode of behavior. We show no shock at news items such as the one recently which stated: "30,000 New Yorkers called in regard to misrepresentations on their state income taxes."

"Is anyone harmed because I added a little to the amount of my medical expenses, or charitable contributions, or drove a few miles over the posted speed limit?" The answer can very easily be "Yes."

A child is a social "tabula rasa" (blank page) upon which society, in the form of the parents, draws the structure within which the ethical and moral limitations of the later person are inscribed. As in any building or drawing, at first there is a foundation or outline and only with work and experience do the later refinements and shading come in. In the same way a child is given a sense of right and wrong long before he gradually is able to accept shadings of meaning. Things are either black or white, right or wrong to him with no room for the shadings of gray or a concept of "mitigating circumstances." A lie is a lie whether it is a parent innocently telling the child to answer the phone and "say I'm not home" or denying that he committed a crime. To the child and in some cases this may extend even into adolescence, the important fact is that the ink was split, and the difference in parental reaction to its being split on the kitchen linoleum and the living room broadloom not understood.

The parent is the first symbol of authority for the child, the first one who translates the do's and don'ts of society for him. A youth's reactions to teachers, policemen, social dictum and the law are a reflection of this translation to him. What happens then when authority (the parent) teaches the child ethical and moral precepts and, at the same time, shows his own disregard for the very authority he himself represents? "They'll never know that I actually didn't have to buy medicines, might as well claim it" can easily evoke a reaction where, in the child, "if I don't tell that I broke the window, no one will know." We then have "hedged" on our responsibilities and have taught the child the proper words and phrases but lost the meaning.

As parents our duty in this regard is much like that of selecting a picture to show to a color-blind individual. The picture presented must be of strong enough outline so that a lack of ability to differentiate shading doesn't make the entire thing a shapeless mass. Can we transmit a feeling of confidence in our social framework if through participation in these "gray crimes" we exhibit a lack of this feeling on our part?

Social Security Question Box

Quest.—Reader M. F. inquires:—I recently noticed that the address on my social security card is no longer correct since I have moved. Is it necessary to do anything about this?

Ans.—No! The address on your social security card is merely put there for mailing purposes at the time it is issued. The social security office does not keep a record of addresses of any persons other than beneficiaries of social security benefits. Do not notify the Social Security Administration of any change of address unless you are receiving benefit payments.

THE GREEN THUMB:

Now For Planting First Seeds

By ALMA W. CRAIG

Planting a garden is like raising a baby, there are a great many theories about it, and quite a few of them "work", but there are a few basic rules that are necessary for success. All seeds need something to grow in and proper moisture, most of them need warmth at first, and later, all need sunshine.

If you cannot supply these conditions, especially the sunny window, it would be better to buy well-grown seedlings from a nursery, about the end of April. Assemble all your material before you start to work. If you spread newspapers on the kitchen table, you will not find it too messy a job. You will need flats, soil, fertilizer, plant labels, Sanasan, and a tanner.

First, flats. These may be any small containers of wood or plastic, (not heavy paper, it doesn't stand up under constant watering) which have cracks or holes for drainage in the bottom. Or you may use flowerpots.

Next, soil. The standard formula is 1 part garden earth, 1 part sand, and 1 part peatmoss, but Plainview soil is so sandy and deficient in humus that half garden soil, half peat, is better for us. Mix well and sift with the kitchen strainer or the baby's toy sand sifter. Force the peat thru by rubbing. To the sifted portion add 1 teaspoon of any 5-10-5 fertilizer such as Vigoro, and one tablespoon superphosphate, and mix thoroughly.

In the bottom of the flat, put the coarse material that did not

St Ignatius Sparrows Continue Winning Ways

HICKSVILLE—The St. Ignatius Sparrows continued their winning ways in the Junior division of the St. Ignatius Loyola Intraparish League, Saturday, at Fork Lane School, here. The Sparrows in a team effort defeated the Yellow Jets by a margin of three points. The victory places the Sparrows in first place with four wins and no losses.

Excellent shooting from the outside and driving layups by Powers, Calzetta and Maus, in addition to the tight defensive play of McGuire, DiBella and Sullivan, enabled the Blue Eagles to defeat both the Maroons and the Spiders. High scorer for the Maroons was Bode and for the Spiders, Talbot.

In another close game, the Red Eagles defeated the Spiders. The victories for the Blue Eagles and Red Eagles leaves them tied for second place with three wins and one loss.

At Burns Ave. School, the Red Devils relinquished first place to the Yellow Shirts who defeated them 16-13. Bergin, Purick and Dooley, with their expert shooting, were outstanding for the Yellow Shirts. McCarthy and Moakley were high scorers for the Red Devils.

In the other Senior Division game, the outstanding and deadly shooting of Kowalski and T. Douglas enabled the Lakers to defeat the Green Arrows 21-18. The well balanced offensive of Burns, Devine, Rumels, Mielnik and Yura of the Arrows was not enough to offset the Lakers team.

Visitors Eke Out Victory

The St. Ignatius "A" team took an early lead in a northern Nassau CYO Bantam Division game, Saturday, at Hicksville Junior High but Corpus Christi took the lead in the last few minutes of play and came out the victor. It was the second meeting of these two fine clubs with Corpus Christi holding the edge in the competition.

A fast break from a zone defense enabled St. Ignatius to maintain the lead for three quarters on the sharp shooting of McGunnigle, Rumels and Connelly. The turning point of the game came late in the fourth quarter when these two fine backcourt men, Rumels and Harmon, fouled out. It was at this point that Corpus Christi took over the lead which they never relinquished.

Chiappetta for Corpus Christi was high scorer for the game with 15 points while McGunnigle took the honors for the Saints with eight points.

The Saint Ignatius "A" team can win a playoff spot in the Bantam Division if they win their remaining two games in the first half of play. Both games are against strong teams, one game is with St. Joseph and one game with St. Ignatius "B" team.

Democrats Back Petition Drive

HICKSVILLE—Members of the Democratic Club were urged to give support to the campaign for establishing a permanent four-year college here by signing petitions available at the administration building of School District on Newbridge Road.

Fleming Harding, Club president, pointed out in making his appeal that at the last regular meeting the membership had unanimously approved a resolution calling for the establishment of such a college here and authorizing him to confer with community leaders on the necessary steps.

Robert Connolly, a member of the Legislative Committee of the Nassau County organization ("watchdog" committee), said that on his recent visit to Gov. Harriman in Albany he had discussed the advantages to Long Island as a whole of opening the projected four-year college unit of the State university here.

Baseball Talk Fills Air As Babe Ruth League Meets

HICKSVILLE—Baseball talk was in the air last week at a general meeting of the Babe Ruth League officials. Among those present were William Bryan, Babe Ruth League State Commissioner; Frank Campisi, District Commissioner; Vince D'Angelo, Director, International Division; Howard Wixon, Assistant Director, National Division, and Jim Glod, League resident.

Conversation centered around organizational details involving the establishment of two divisions within the league. Each division, the International and the National, will operate independently on matters involving the game itself such as tryouts, game schedules, managers, player rosters, etc. Through the League, however, the divisions will consolidate all fiscal activity and liaison with Trenton, N. J., headquarters.

Plans for membership meeting for the International Division are now being formulated and an announcement will be made soon.

Trinity Church Plans Expansion

HICKSVILLE—Extensive expansion plans are underway for Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church buildings here, as a result of congregation approval last week.

The congregation, which pledged itself to raise about a million and a quarter dollars over a ten year period to finance the construction, is in store for increased church facilities as well as school buildings.

TO PURCHASE SITE—Purchase of the new high school site and construction of the first unit of the building is included in the million and a quarter dollar estimate. An auxiliary elementary school building will be constructed as well, and the present building will be extended to its maximum size. The church basement will revert from classroom use to parish use, with facilities for a meeting room and lounge. There will also be a new Choir Room.

Additional school facilities are expected to enable the Trinity School to have double classes in each grade from Kindergarten through Ninth, according to present estimates.

School enrollment, as well as Sunday School enrollment and church membership, is expected to double in the next ten years. It will go up to 400 next fall from its present 350, and will have reached 700 ten years from now.

The congregation membership, which now after 106 years is 1,300, is expected to have reached 2,500 in 1966. These estimates are based on population growth in the Hicksville area and future missionary work among the unchurched, or those unaffiliated with a church, in the community.

Anyone in the community, Lutheran or not, may be put on the mailing list for progress reports and information bulletins, according to parish spokesmen, who would like to see broad community interest.

Golf Courses Open Next Week

Bethpage Golf Courses will be opened for the 1956 golf season Feb. 18, providing the weather and playing conditions are favorable. During the winter months work has been going on clearing woodland rough and renewing the sand in traps. The last fairway on the fifth course, which runs through the old picnic area woodland, has been cleared and the entire course will be seeded during the year.

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

The Eastern Division of the North Shore Athletic League is conducting a wild scramble for its allotted three berths in the Nassau County Basketball Tourney.

Oyster Bay is solidly in front of the pack with 8-0 and has the Eastern flag already won but Hicksville, Westbury, Sea Cliff, Roslyn and Bethpage are going at it tooth-and-nail for the remaining two places.

Presently tied with Bethpage and Sea Cliff at 5-3, Hicksville High is expected to slip down a notch this Friday night since it has drawn the impossible assignment at the Oyster Bay court.

To win a playoff spot after that the Comets must take Bethpage, Sea Cliff and Island Trees at home and overcome Roslyn and Westbury at their courts. There is little question that five in a row must be accomplished and with everyone hungry the task seems harder now than it did a month ago.

Carl Schultz took over for the ailing Charlie Horton, Tuesday, and combined with John Magee to lead Hicksville to an easy ten point win over hapless but improving Farmingdale. That followed the automatic win over Island Trees to make it two straight but the sting from the 72-70 loss in the Sea Cliff pit still overshadows this '56 campaign for the Orange and Black.

We like to recall that this is just about the time that the Comets pulled the big upset at the Oyster Bay court last season but this time we must underscore that it is a different year! Oyster Bay 65, Hicksville 56.

The front running Hicksville Junior High School basketball team (Jerusalem Ave. version) split hairs this week in league play and was edged out of its lofty position by Farmingdale.

The Dalers waited until the final seconds at the local gym before crashing in with the winning goal for a 32-30 mark. On Tuesday, Bethpage played much the same and on its final rush squeaked in front 41-39.

The fledgling Comets have to recoup at Farmingdale later this month and force a tie.

While winning isn't all important the lament that the dividing of the sports program into two junior highs at Hicksville has spread efforts too thin rings even louder at this latest turn of events.

It's not official but it's a good bet that the same situation won't happen in 1956-57.

With so many new high schools competing now in varsity football the present confusion in attempting to form leagues is understandable.

There have been so many suggestions and ideas that we have gotten to the point where we just let them pass over our desk but a fresh one with a good chance of becoming a reality concerns Hicksville.

The proposal embraces a mid-Island gridiron league with Hicksville, Bethpage, Farmingdale, East Meadow, Island Trees, North Levittown, Westbury and eventually Plainview and Plaindale, all competing with each other.

Oyster Bay would be invited to join but indications are that the smaller north shore school might seek opponents more in keeping with its student enrollment.

Such a league would preserve the traditional foes for the Orange and Black while cementing relations with those schools who have really turned up as new and neighboring rivals.

This proposal hasn't made the bigger news but next fall may see it in operation.

We cannot help but reach the conclusion that when high schools are built those people involved in handling athletics are not even consulted or if they are they get little attention concerning the grounds and buildings as they pertain to athletics.

Of course the main rancle with us is the "Pentagon" or School Administration Building that cut so gravely into what was rightly the campus athletic area of our new high school.

The "Pentagon" sharply reduced the area for the baseball field and now, adding insult to injury, there has been erected a backstop and a diamond in the rightfield corner of the hardball sector. We grant that the rightfield line extends down longer than the short leftfield one that runs smack into the football bleachers, but the latest move in favor of softball only destroys what little value was left from the baseball standpoint.

If you walk into the new high school gym and proceed to the Hicksville stands do not trip over the long cables which connect to the scorers' table. They affect the running of the scoreclock and the outlet socket has been placed so that it travels across the floor smack at the entrance.

There is more but we think the case is made. Athletics rarely have a friend at the drawing board.

We do not debate the merits, pro or con, but we do wish those in leadership of the Hicksville PBC would withhold their statements that this is the last year that group is going to support the PBC Alumni until the season is concluded.

The young Hicksville team is presently fighting for first place in the strong Nassau County Amateur League and if this is to be the last year of sponsorship there is no need for some to shout it as the players are coming in the gym for the game that means first place!

Sparrows Hold Junior Position

HICKSVILLE—Accurate shooting from the outside enabled the St. Ignatius Sparrows to defeat the Maroons by a margin of eight points in a close game at Fork Lane school on Saturday, Jan. 28. The victory places the Sparrows in first place in the junior division of the St. Ignatius Intraparish league with three wins and no losses.

Close on the heels of the Sparrows were the Red Eagles who defeated the Yellow Jets by six points. The victory, the Eagles' second after one setback, was a team effort with every member of the team contributing to the scoring. This victory places the Red Eagles in second place with two victories and one defeat.

In other contests the Blue Eagles downed the Yellow Jets by four points and the Maroons tied the Spiders before time ran out.

At Burns Ave. school, the Senior Division held practice sessions for all teams. The scheduled games were cancelled and will be played at a later date.

Cancellation of the games was necessary so that all the boys could take physical examinations. These physicals are a part of the St. Ignatius CYO Sports Assoc. over all sports program.

Hold Undeclared Rank In Seniors

Hicksville, alone, of all the Police Boys Club basketball teams in the Senior Division, has been able to retain its undefeated record with 5 won and none lost. Oyster Bay Irishmen and Plainview are second and third in the standings. The Irishmen won 3 and lost 1, and Plainview won 3 and lost 2.

In Section One (intra-Hicksville) of the league, the Robins are on top of the intermediate division, with a 5 won, none lost record, followed by the Sparrows with 4 won and 1 lost, and the Bluejays, with 3 won and 2 lost. The Braves, with a similar undefeated record of 5 and 0, are on top of the junior division heap, followed in the same way by the Tigers and Panthers, 4 and 1, and 3 and 2.

In Section Two (all except Hicksville) Syosset Arrows lead intermediates with 4 won and 1 lost. Locust Valley and Plainview Royals follow, 3 and 1, and 2 and 1.

Syosset is first in the Junior Division standings, too, with the Syosset Colts' perfect record of 5 won and none lost. Three Plainview teams are next in the standings: the Flying 8, with 5 won and 0 lost; the Knicks, with 4 won and 2 lost; and the Comets, with 3 won and 3 lost. The Bethpage Apaches equal the Comets 3 and 3 record, and the Bethpage Warriors are just behind with a 2 and 3 record.

Team Effort Wins For 'B'

St. Ignatius "B" team moved up to fifth place in the Northern Nassau CYO Bantam Division by defeating St. Joseph's at the Hicksville Junior High, Saturday. Fast passing and excellent defensive ball played by De Monaco, Naso and Huff enabled sharpshooter Hickey to tally 12 points.

The victory for St. Ignatius was clearly a team effort. Scoring honors for the game go to Hickey with 12 points. Bottine was top scorer for St. Joseph with 5 points. Half time score 6-17—St. Ignatius Final score 14-21—St. Ignatius

HICKSVILLE LITTLE LEAGUE: Nationals Ready For 6th Season

By AL EIRICH

HICKSVILLE — For the Sixth consecutive year the National Little League has received its franchise to operate. Due to the rapid growth of this area this group has operated under different names and since the boundaries in this area is close to its maximum population under which it can be allowed to operate for one league, our franchise has been granted under the Official Little League Rules.

A membership meeting has been called for next Thursday night, Feb. 16 at Levittown Hall. A father and son dinner will be sponsored by the Nationals on Feb. 23. Watch this department for further details.

Plans are well under way for the 1956 season. Applications for adult membership are being received and membership is open to all adults who are interested in baseball activities for the youth of our community.

Contrary to beliefs held by some folks, any adult may take part whether they have a boy in the family or not, according to "Randy" Tingdale President of the National Little League.

In discussing league activities Tingdale said "We are all volunteers, working for a common cause, that of encouraging boys to partake in a healthful popular sport under adult supervision".

Our league is fortunate in having a person such as Randy as President, along with his staff of League Officers and past officials who are contributing so much toward the youth of our community. It is their fond hope, along with mine that you all will affiliate yourselves with us and lend a hand in making it a successful season.

Please keep yourself in the habit of reading this column for news about the Little League activities and give us your support.

In closing let me, on behalf of Mr. Tingdale, wish all the boys of Hicksville good health and a successful 1956 season and let me welcome all the Dads and Mothers into our group. Remember when you help others you help yourself.

200 Workers Start Scout Appeal

More than 200 workers attended the kick-off breakfast given by the Bethpage Kiwanis in the Broadway school, Sunday morning, to mark the opening of the house-to-house drive for the Boy Scouts Expansion campaign. This was the first time such a large number participated in the opening function.

On hand to give impetus to the drive were three youngsters representing the different phases of the Scout program. Introduced by Breakfast Chairman Henry Rockhill, were young Michael Doyle, 8, who has just entered the program as a Cub Scout of Pack 159; John Mazzie, 13, Eagle Scout of Troop 118 and Stephen Macher, 18, of the Explorer Creek 159.

Young Mazzie told his listeners that through their work to expand camping facilities, they would help more boys to learn what they can do. "It is here," he said, "that a boy learns to rely on his own talents; learns what he can do; learns how to do it and comes back to his own community prepared to do it. He told how he had gone to camp as a Tenderfoot and how it was there that he learned the things that helped him to attain the rank of Eagle. Principally it teaches responsibility and reliability, he said.

Mazzie became an Eagle at the age of 12½ years, to make him, at the time, the youngest Eagle. To date the record has not been equalled. He is also the holder of the God and Country award, the Ad Altare Dei Cross. For God and Country is the theme of Boy Scouting this year.

It can't be hard work that kills—otherwise a good many people would live forever.

Venus Injured At RR Depot

BETHPAGE—Venus Loucou-poulos, of Ronkonkoma, was taken to Mid-Island Hospital last week, after slipping and falling on her way to the train station here, according to police reports.

Lamb To Attend First Hearing

HICKSVILLE—This community will be represented in Albany tomorrow (Feb. 10) at hearings on the subject of the proposed State colleges on Long Island.

Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, superintendent of schools, said today that he would present arguments endorsed by the Board of Education and representatives of the five neighboring school boards favoring the establishment of a four year college here.

Dr. Lamb said that as far as he knew this morning he would be the only person from here attending the hearings, which are being held by a committee of the State University for the Board of Regents. He said that he was going to Albany on other business as well.

Donations Lag For Bethpage

BETHPAGE—Mrs. Peter Curcio, chairman of this area's March of Dimes' Campaign, reports that only about $520 has been collected here, compared to the $5,000 goal.

However, Mrs. Curcio said, the campaign is still going on and she is still hoping to collect additional donations. The Senior Girl Scouts in Mrs. Grossman's troop crocheted a woolen afghan for Mrs. Curcio to use at her discretion, and the chairman plans to award it to make money for the campaign. The date for the raffle is still uncertain, but the girls have volunteered to help sell chances.

The bad weather has been one reason for the small return, Mrs. Curcio said. Mothers who volunteered to canvass certain areas were unable to go out in it.
