THE PETITION asking Oyster Bay Town Board to acquire for Hicksville Park and Parking District an area of about 50 acres in the north west section of the community for future, long-range development as a park-recreation centre was presented to the Town Board on Tuesday. The petition contained 1,180 signatures representing all sections of Hicksville. It was

Students To Makeup Bomb Scare Time Lost

HICKSVILLE -- Another "bomb scare", unanimously telephoned, emptied the Senior High School for more than an hour in the midst of mid-term exams, Tuesday afternoon. Principal Leon Galloway announced yesterday the test will be given this Friday and the time lost will be made up by the entire student body.

The telephone call came thru the switchboard at 1:07 PM and the police were on the scene checking the building in less than two minutes, according to School Superintendent Wallace E. Lamb. Students were given the regular fire drill alarm and left the building with their clothing until the police finished the inspection an hour later. Shortly before three o'clock, it was decided to check to the Junior High School on Jerusalem Ave due to the nature of the call. Few students were still in the building at that time and they were dismissed. Nothing was found at either school.

Cafeteria Workers, Not Nurses, Are School Women In White

HICKSVILLE - School nurses and dental hygienists in the school district no longer wear white uniforms while on the job because, it is reasoned, small children have built up a complex about women in white as infants when they go thru a series of baby shots and injections.

This fact was disclosed during a Board of Education program on curriculum and education at the High School, last Friday night, as a result of a trustee's question. The answer was provided by Elizabeth Garrison of the school health dept. and supported by Shirley Bach, dental hygienist. Board Member Jerry Zettler then asked how come the cafeteria workers wear white uniforms and don't appear to cause fright among students when they eat lunch. The explanation offered was that the youngsters don't associate the fears of medical treatment with eating. The entire field of Pupil Per-

FORMAL DEDICATION of the recently completed addition to the Hicksville Free Public Library on Jerusalem Ave at Second St will take place this Sunday afternoon, Jan. 26, at 2:30 PM. All residents are invited and urged to attend. An open house will be held starting at 3:30 PM with refreshments served by the Friends of the Library. The two pictures above are views of the main new reading room on the ground floor. There is a lower level auditorium with a seating capacity of almost 100 which is available for library and community organization activities and public discussions. The dedication marks the 30th anniversary of library service in Hicksville which began in Feb. 1928 with quarters in one room of Nicholas St. School.

The new addition increases the size of the library from 2,000 to over 15,000 square feet. Book capacity is over 75,000 volumes. Kenneth Barnes, library director, notes the building was planned with expansion in mind and if empty or near empty shelves are found, he says, it should be remembered that books will be selected over the years. Our deepest sympathy to one of Hicksville's nicest "Lady Cop" FLORENCE WOJCIECHOWSKI's little charges were sorry indeed to hear of the death of her husband, Edward, who was buried from St. Ignace R.C. Church on Tuesday. Mrs. Wojciechowski is stationed at the school crossing on Woodbury Rd. & West St. near Bethpage Rd. She is a friend to the children and grown-ups alike. Our deepest sympathy also to the JENSEN family of 17 Deborah Rd, Hicksville, whose father Hans, died on Jan. 16.

THE MID ISLAND HERALD will move its office, or about Feb. 1st, from 98 North Broadway to 225 South Broadway right near the corner of Old Country Road in Hicksville. The new location will take us away from the traffic congestion around the Post Office and away from the forthcoming Broadway widening which is scheduled to make a mass of traffic movement for the next two years. Our telephone remains the same. We see one of the "publications" in this area has retreated from a formal address in a building to the seclusion of a post office box. Comical Co. 3 will have its installation at the Wheatley Hills Tavern in Westbury on Feb. 15. THOMAS DEREN HEALY will continue in office as Captain. Mrs. GEORGE MARTIN and MARJORIE R. POST, member of the Town Board, have both been appointed to the executive board of the Nassau Federation of Republican Women. Both are members of the Central Island Woman's Republican Club of Hicksville. MAL GERTZEN of 8 Adams St., Hicksville, is state commander of the Amvets. He recently was given an official welcome to Buffalo and during a hectic three days was made an honorary life member of the Irish-American Society, and honorary member of the Police Lieutenants Club of Buffalo and a deputy sheriff, complete with a diamond studded Sheriff's badge. He has been invited to head the veterans division at the Buffalo St. Patrick's Day parade on March 15 when he is scheduled to receive the keys to the city. GERTZEN is looking for old articles, such as clothing, pictures, carriages, furniture, etc. of the 1900-1910 period for display in their Hicksville store in March. It's all part of the Gertz birthday celebration. If you have something you will be willing to loan, call Display Mgr. HALCROW at WE 8-6800, ext. 282 and tell him.

GEORGE BIRKEL, 35, of 24 Crown St., Hicksville, was sorting money in his teller's cage at the Jamaica Savings Bank in Jamaica one day last week when he overheard an attempt being made to rob the bank. The would-be robber told another employee in the bank he had a hand grenade in a paper bag and demanded $1000. Birkel pushed the silent alarm button and signaled to bank officers as the robber ran out. He was caught a short distance away. GARY KATZ of Hicksville is appearing in "Of Thee I Sing" which will be presented in March by the Kaleidoscope, student dramatic group at Hofstra College. Did you know that ARTHUR MONROE TALBOT's brothers have a head playing at a hotel in Bermuda? Army PFC WALTER W. RHODE, son of Mrs. Adelaide Rhine of 19 Winter Lane, Hicksville, is a member of the 25th Division in Hawaii. KENNETH A. HOLLER of 76 Woeller St. is the new president of The Woodbury Gardens Civic Assoc. of Hicksville.

Central Federal Grew Last Year

At a recent annual meeting of the board of directors of Central Federal Savings & Loan Assoc. of Nassau County, Theodore Ornstein, president, reviewed the 42nd semi-annual report. He noted that the assets have reached a new high of $26,718,101.88 indicating a notable increase for 1957 of over four million dollars.

Ornstein pointed out that dividends totaling $600,000 were credited and distributed to the bank's Savings Accounts, now well over 16,100 in number.

"An interesting point," said Mr. Ornstein, "is the fact that over 2200 thrifty people deposited $320,000 under Central Federal's Christmas Club Savings Plan last year. All Christmas Club accounts received dividends at the current rate of 3 1/4 % annually, an unusual feature with Central Federal."

In addition, the bank's president reported a transfer of $248,000 to the General Reserve bringing this safety factor to a record total of $1,358,487.14.

Ornstein told the board of directors, "The Bank's operations for the year 1957 continue to reflect a sound and steady growth. It is with renewed confidence that we look ahead to an even more successful year in 1958, especially with the forthcoming opening of our modern and luxurious new branch in Hicksville. We are proud to contribute our services to the growth of the entire community."

A son, Peter Scott, was born Jan 5 at Mercy Hospital to Thomas and Phyllis Izzo of 200 Cottage Blvd., Hicksville.

CURRENT COMMENT

Our Population
Is 44,272

BY FRED J. NOETH

THE POPULATION of our growing community of Hicksville appears to be one of the most frequently asked questions of a civic nature. Of course the answer is frequently guided by the nature of the question.

When someone wishes to point up the fast, steady local growth they are inclined to be generous. They will say fifty or even sixty thousand is the estimate.

On the other hand, when one wishes to rationalize population in terms of some form of per capita arrangement, the estimate is generally conservative.

This week Mainard L. Chittenden who is in charge of attendance and census in the Hicksville School District was among the speakers at the second in a monthly series of meetings on the District's education program. And while his comments were brief, they were for us the most newsworthy.

The total population for Hicksville School District in 1957, according to Chittenden's report, was 44,272. This includes 25,191 adults and 19,081 children.

In 1956 the total population was 43,320 with 24,453 adults and 18,866 children and in 1955 the population totalled 40,453 with 23,330 adults and 17,123.

In other words, for the past three years Hicksville population has been growing at the rate of more than 1,000 adults and children a year.

The census report also gives an interesting breakdown on families: There were in 1957 a total of 8,702 families with children and 2,788 without children.

Chittenden also provided a breakdown on the number of families by elementary school areas of Hicksville's six-square mile district:

School Area	No. Families with Children	No. Families without Child	Total Population (incl. Children)
Burns Ave	1,289	449	6,563
Dutch Lane	842	178	4,076
East Street	1,344	731	7,519
Fork Lane	1,164	208	5,502
Lee Ave	1,718	567	8,841
Nicholas St	187	211	1,266
Old Country Rd	985	262	4,912
Woodland Ave	1,193	182	5,593
Totals	8,702	2,788	44,272
1956 Totals	8,460	2,873	43,320
1955 Totals	8,123	2,602	40,453

Regarding attendance at the schools of the District we were frankly pleased to find that the average for the District in 1956-57 was 92.19 per cent. The year before it was 91.2 per cent. For all schools of the district last year, the Jerusalem Ave Junior High School made the best record with 93.19 per cent.

The real picture of Hicksville's growth is revealed in these figures. In 1951 there were 3,956 students enrolled when there were only three school buildings (East St., Nicholas St., Junior and Senior High).

In 1957 with ten school buildings, the enrollment totalled 11,320. Chittenden said he anticipates 1,400 children will be starting school in the fall of this year.

WOMEN IN WHITE

Some Services headed by Marvin Gibson, as director, was reviewed at the session. Speakers on guidance included Kenneth Meyer, elementary; Mrs. Olive Grambow, Junior high; and Peter Rodenry and William Berry, senior high.

Also, William Glaser, psychology; James Earle and Paul Goring on speech and hearing; Irvin Munowitz, special glasses; Mainard Chittenden, attendance and census; plus Mrs. Garrison and Mrs. Bach.

A full report on Chittenden's comments about population of the community is covered in this issue.

To The Editor:

The local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses having attended the convention in Fairlawn Ballroom, New Hyde Park, join with me in sending our sincere thanks to you and your staff for your news coverage of our Christian Assembly. We only hope you were as pleased with the articles that we submitted as we were with the coverage.

You will be interested in knowing that the attendance at our assembly represented 130 more than a similar assembly held last year in Riverhead. To us that means that more and more people are turning to the Bible for an answer to the perplexing problems that confront mankind.

At the closing session of our three-day instructive gathering the audience in attendance at Fairlawn and in our overflow auditorium at nearby Polish National Hall enthusiastically greeted Mr. Catanzaro's suggestion that an expression of gratitude be sent to you.

We will long remember this assembly because of your coverage, and the instructive training we received during its session.

Legionnaires' Log
CHARLES WAGNER, Post 421, Hicksville, N.Y.
By ARTIE RUTZ

A week ago Monday night, the Massapequa Post celebrated its 35th anniversary and I attended this affair along with four members of the Auxiliary - Ethel Habenicht, Dor Fricks, Trudy Rutz and Harriet Mangels. Needless to say, that we were all very much impressed by their county championship drill team who put on a wonderful display of precision drilling and their drum and bugle corps.

We were happy to learn during the course of the evening that their new $100,000 building was all paid for when they opened the doors (the last $2300 was donated by member who just couldn't see a mortgage of that amount.) The story of how they got to build this new building is very interesting and let's hope Hicksville can get that lucky.

Anybody who was anybody in county Legion circles was present at this affair and the Seaford Post really had a strong delegation there; in fact, I believe they almost outnumbered their hosts.

The Post and the Auxiliary will both present American Flags to the new wing at the formal dedication.

at the Library, Sunday, Jan. 26 and all you fellows and gals should be there to watch your committee make the presentation. The color guard will be present to help along with the ceremony which starts at 2:30 P.M. and all Legionnaires and Auxiliary attending are asked to be there at 2 P.M.

Has your son joined our Squadron of The Sons of The American Legion yet? The next meeting is Friday night, Feb. 14th at 7:30 P.M.

Spread the word around that the Legion is collecting old newspapers and would be most happy for anyone to drop their old papers off on the porch of the Legion Clubhouse as we can use all we can get.

On Sunday, Feb. 9th, the Boy Scouts will use our hall as one of the local headquarters for their annual door bell ringing fund raising campaign as they have done for the past years. When that Scout rings your bell, give generously, it's for a good cause.

Through the general information channels comes the word that our St. Patrick's party this year on March 15 will be pegged at $5 per couple.

6 Emergency Calls For Vamps

HICKSVILLE--The Volunteer Fire Dept. answered nine calls during the week of Jan. 14 to 21 including three fires, four ambulance calls, and two Emergency calls.

The Fire calls were on Jan. 14, when they put out an oil burner fire at the residence of R. Moran, 99 Ballpark La., Jan. 15, when they put out a fire in a 1957 Dodge auto owned by Fred Guydono of 32 Walnut La.; and Jan. 18, when they put out a fire caused by a hair dryer in the residence of Carl Stevens, 14 Belfry La.

They administered First Aid to 16 months old Catherine Stellart of 57 Wishing La., on Jan. 16, who was suffering with convulsions and administered oxygen to William Kohlman, 74, of 78 Benjamin Ave. on Nov. 20. He was later taken to Meadow Brook Hospital in the ambulance.

Edward Wojcik of 47 Moeller St. was taken by the ambulance to Nassau Hospital on Jan. 15; Mrs. Seiffert, 86, of Old Country Rd. & West Ave., on Jan. 17, to Meadow Brook hospital; and Mr. Frazer, 52, of 8 Adas La., to Roslyn Park hospital on Jan. 19.

Off For Florida

Mrs. Mary Parisi, 61 First St., Bethpage, and her daughter, Miss Annette Parisi, of Washington, D.C., left Midway Airport, on Jan. 18 via National Airlines to spend the winter in Miami Beach, Florida. Arrangements for the trip were made by the Bethpage Travel Bureau.

WILLIAM STORTZ

BETHPAGE - William Stortz of Herkimer St., Brooklyn, died at Mid-Island Hospital on Jan. 19. He is survived by his son, Rev. Valentine J. Stortz, Pastor of St. Martin of Tours RC church, here.

The funeral will be from the Arthur P. White Funeral Home on Broadway, with a Solemn Requiem Mass offered at 11 a.m. in St. Martin of Tours RC church. Interment will be Most Holy Trinity Cemetery, B'klyn.

Says Honesty Knows No Age

Stephen J. Puckli, general manager of the Nassau Farmers Market, Hicksville Rd., Bethpage, was opening his mail the other morning when a shiny penny dropped out of an envelope. When he removed the letter it read:

"I did something wrong. Last year I took a nut in your market without paying for it. After I tasted it my mommy bought some. I have been taught that it is wrong to take things so I am sending you this penny to pay for the nut I took. The unsigned letter bore an Orlando, Fla. postmark. "I deeply appreciated the gesture," commented Puckli, "so much so that I used it as a classic example of honesty to my own three children."

Worry - Or Suicide By Installment

Worry is fear, and fear can result in physical destruction. Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, and the whole nervous system. It ruins health, and though few people die from overwork, many die from fear. It destroys those who not only expect the worst, but make the most of it when it happens. Continual worry is simply paying interest in advance on a loan that may never have to be made.

Worry may result in high blood pressure and can adversely affect the heart and the function of digestion. The tragedy of worry is that you can have them and still NOT be a success. The mental confusion of chronic worriers is shown by the woman who visited her psychiatrist and said: "All of a sudden I stopped worrying. It worries me!" Worrying can result in nervous breakdowns which lead one to the psychiatrist's office, and he is one man who doesn't have to worry as long as other people do.

Nervous disorders begin with mental and emotional upsets, and a fear of sickness is common. Such phobias bring a life ruled by countless little fears: germs, draughts, colds, cancer, polio, tuberculosis, etc. These fearful ones weaken the resistance of their bodies and admit the sicknesses they fear most. Frightened folk are great buyers of patent medicines, which are useless in the first place, but even more so to the worriers, for the leaflet convinces them they have many other diseases they never heard of before. Such drug addiction is dangerous.

Cultivate a calm and optimistic viewpoint; conclude that "nothing matters." As the Chinese say, "A man does not live a hundred years, but worries enough for a thousand."

Seek To Spur New Industries

As part of a plan to spur increased locations of light industry in Nassau County, County Executive A. Holly Patterson proposed to Nassau County legislators at their meeting in his office in Mineola, Friday morning, that they seek a Constitutional Amendment which would permit New York State to offer tax concessions to prospective manufacturers.

"In a survey which I have made of industry tax exemptions in the 48 states," Patterson told the assembled three Senators and six Assemblymen, "it is easy to see why so many industries of divergent natures are going to those States and municipalities which hold forth many inducements."

"Nassau's basic economy is sound. More jobs have been created here by new industries in the past 10 years than in any of the 22 metropolitan counties in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. Our personal income doubles that of ten years ago, but we must continue to attract business. One of the best attractions, of course, is a community where taxes are lower, where public utility concessions can be permitted by law. That cannot be done anyway in New York State now because of the Constitutional prohibition."

Bank Resources At $45 Million

Total resources of Hempstead Bank were in excess of $45,000,000 as of Dec. 31, 1957. Walter G. Barker, President, states "activity in every department of the Bank increased during the year. This was Hempstead Bank's 70th Anniversary.

"It is gratifying to note that Nassau County's oldest commercial bank has had one of its best years from the point of view of serving more customers, doing a record-breaking volume of business, and making profits. We are now constructing our 10th office. It will be located in the Grand Baldwin Shopping Center in Baldwin and will be open for business soon."

sau County totals $41,000,000 according to H.H. Yeates, Jr., company manager.

Yeates said the projects included additions to the Floral Park, Levittown, Oyster Bay, Westbury and Woodmere buildings in 1957. Great Neck and Roslyn also completed their changeovers to dial service. This year will see three more building additions and installations of large amounts of new equipment and cable throughout Nassau.

"We are also nearing completion on the big job of adding facilities to the central office on West Cherry Street that will enable us to serve many additional customers," Yeates stated.

"Last year's program for Nassau paid off in more telephones, newer services, top-calibre preventive maintenance and speedy repair — everything that goes to provide high quality phone service for a growing business and residential center," he said.

Company records show that total telephones in service here have passed the 565,000 mark. During the year the average number of daily calls, both local and long distance, reached an all-time high of more than 2,380,000.

Yeates pointed out that in addition to the company's service accomplishments during 1957 the telephone business made other important contributions to Nassau economy.

The company paid more than $5,550,000 in local taxes during 1957 according to Yeates.

Hot Water Heating System

B George J. Frankel

The heating system in our homes is of the latest oil-hot water baseboard design. It was designed by Mr. Roy Rabe, of the Federal Boiler Company, Inc., and I am indebted to him for some of the facts contained in this article.

The system may be divided into the following components:

1. The heat supply, consisting of the oil burner, fuel oil tank, smoke stack, and the necessary controls, gauges, and pumps.

2. The heat exchanger, consisting of the boiler and hot water header.

3. The heat distributing system, consisting of the baseboard radiators, the circulating pumps, and the necessary pipes, valves and gauges.

4. The temperature controls, consisting of the thermostats, and Electronic Modulator.

This article will deal only with component 3, the heat distributing system. Although the boiler itself is not discussed in this article, it is important to note that it contains two separate and distinct sets of pipes: one containing the water that flows through the baseboard radiators and heats the house, and the other containing the water that is heated for domestic use.

The operation of the system is basically as follows: a thermostat senses the need for heat in the house and turns on a circulator (C). The circulator pump causes hot water to flow from the boiler through the Flow Check Valve (A), through the appropriate baseboard radiator pipe, where it radiates its heat to the air in the room, and the cooled water returns through the return line, through the circulator pump, back into the boiler, where it is reheated and sent on the same journey again. This circulation continues until the thermostat senses that the temperature of the air in the house is sufficiently high and then it shuts off the circulating pump. During this process the return water cools the boiler, and when the Operating Aquastat (B), senses that the boiler temperature has become too low to supply hot enough water to the hot water header, it automatically turns on the oil burner, which heats the water in the boiler back up to its proper temperature.

Following is a brief description of each of the parts of the system and its function.

THE FLOW CHECK VALVE (A) is in line to prevent the circulation of water through the baseboard radiators when heat is not required. It allows water to flow only when the circulating pump is running to heat the house.

THE DUAL UNIT (F) is located near the boiler and is a combination

Clearing House

All organizations and chairmen of committees are urged to contact Tally Shenker at OV 1-0829 when planning meetings. Mrs. Shenker has graciously offered her services and will act as a clearing house to avoid conflicting meetings.

Clear the date with Tally and be assured of a good attendance at your meeting.

tion pressure reducing valve and safety relief valve. It is factory set for a regulated water pressure of fifteen pounds and a relief blow-off of thirty pounds. It should not be tampered with. Adjustments, if needed, should be made only by a qualified service man.

THE EXPANSION TANK is a fifteen gallon tank mounted on the ceiling of your cellar. It should be half full of water and half full of air. It provides a place for the water to go when it expands from the heat, and also traps any air that may be in the line. If the dual unit (F) releases water, the expansion tank should be drained. To drain the expansion tank, close valve (H), and drain the water from the tank through the drain cock into a pail. Do not connect a hose to the drain cock, as this will not allow air to bubble back into the tank, and will prevent draining the tank completely. A full expansion tank contains approximately seven pails full of water.

THE GAUGE (E) on top of the boiler, indicates both the temperature and pressure of the water in the boiler. The altitude indicator on the gauge is of no importance to the homeowner. The temperature should read 200 degrees F. more or less and the pressure should be about fifteen pounds. If the pressure ever reads over 30 pounds (in the red danger zone) shut off the burner immediately and call your service man.

THE CIRCULATOR (C) is an electrically driven pump operated by the thermostat. If your house has two

Our Election On Feb 10

The election for Officers and Board of Directors of our Civic Assoc. will be held Feb 10, at the Robert Seaman School. This election is of vital importance to the residents of our community, because the future success of our Civic Assoc. will be greatly effected by the persons elected to the various offices. It is the policy of the Villager to remain impartial regarding the choice of candidates for Officers, however we feel that it is our duty to inform the resident as to the qualifications of the members appearing on the ballot in the future coming election.

The VILLAGER has, therefore, invited every member whose name will appear on the ballot to appear before our staff photographer and have his or her picture taken. We have further requested every nominee to submit a resume' of his or her qualifications. We will print both the photograph and the nominee's resume' in the next edition of this newspaper. It is our hope that by this method we will assist the community to better acquaint themselves with the individuals running for office, so that they can be guided in making a proper choice.

The VILLAGER, at this time wishes to congratulate every member appearing on the ballot and wishing them success in the forth coming election. We feel certain that the caliber of the persons running for office insures a successful and progressive administration regardless which candidates may win.

THE WALLS OF JERICO

By Herb Shapiro

These columns took a short vacation to rest and repair the ruins. We're back, having accomplished neither. There's probably a moral in this somewhere, but we're too tired to see it.

An election is all things to all men. It can be a magnificent show of communal interest, or it can be a farce. Birchwood will have its chance to choose, shortly.

This year a number of our Birchwood Belles are standing for election. Got up their own flag too—Crossed prostrate husbands on a

Now came to Birchwood—and came - and came and—Stop it Morris, enough is enough.

We don't want to get nosy, but how long is snow supposed to lie in our streets? We have a perfectly good Bay at hand that wouldn't mind a bit if a few truckloads of the white stuff were dumped therein. Oyster Bay, please note. You have our assurance that this is Grade A snow, that any Bay should be proud to receive.

Slaughter At BF At Jericho

by Gilbert B. Stein

Irving Hershkowitz, member of the editorial board of THE VILLAGER, is no ordinary balcony vendor. His butcher shop's wares tickle palates from Kego Park to Jericho. Among his assets, gracing his home at 154 Birchwood Park Drive, are his lovely wife Grace, three nice kids and one important mother-in-law. With baby sitters at a premium, the latter must be considered convertible inventory.

Irving is one of our better known characters. His features rival those of a Roman Senator. He is small in size, but large in stature. A New York accent combines with a gravel pit voice to make him the nearest thing to a human air raid alert system. His dress is informal. Red outerwear jackets usually are.

Irving is the chairman of the entertainment committee of our Civic Assoc. Last summer his committee ran a dance at the Ropyn Country Club. This affair intimately acquainted our residents with one another. The resulting riot was funny only in retrospect. Irving is also a member of the board of directors of the Birchwood Park at Jericho Civic Association. He functions as a committee of one to get things done. If nothing is to be done, he will start something somewhere, somehow. He is now teaching a number of boys how to blow the trumpet.

Either "Movies are better than ever", or we need more theatres in the area. You can't take your girl to a movie on a Saturday night and get a decent seat. The only ones left are either too close to the screen, or too far to see the movie. Of course there was a time when that wasn't too important—those walls are getting mowny.

We are delighted to announce that Leopold Sokowski, whooped with delight when he heard our "Birchwood Symphony" perform Maciejewski's Symphony in G for little orchestra. He is reliably reported to have stated that never in his life had he heard such sounds. This magnificent combo of 3 piccolos, 3 tubas and a uke will perform at our Election Meeting on Feb. 10. We urge all music lovers to attend.

none heating, there will be two circulators located near the boiler. Each should be lubricated as follows: once each month fill the pump housing oil cup with SAE motor oil and twice each year fill the electric motor oil cups (one on each end of the motor) with #10 electric motor oil. Incidentally, oil the oil burner motor at the same time, and in the same manner as the pump motors. It is located on the oil burner behind the metal cover on the front of the boiler.

THE OPERATING AQUASTAT (B) located behind the metal door on the front of the boiler, maintains the temperature of the boiler water by turning the oil burner on and off. It should be set at a position that will cause the gauge (K) to read 200 degrees F.

the reverse acting aquastat (D) located near the operating aquastat (B) prevents the circulator from operating if the boiler water temperature is too low. It should be set at 170 degrees F. This prevents putting the heating load on the boiler if there is an unusual demand for domestic hot water, and also prevents circulating cold water through the baseboard radiators which would cause them to sweat.

THE MANIFOLD ADJUSTING VALVES (L) control the relative amount of heat sent to the bedroom and by turning the slotted screw on the side of the valve very, very slightly with a screw driver. Since a quarter turn of the screw operates them from full-open to full-closed, this adjustment is very sensitive. Since the thermostat is on the living room level, closing the living room level adjusting valve will have the effect of increasing the bedroom temperature, and vice versa.

The domestic hot water system is a completely separate part of the heating system that uses the boiler as a source of heat. It is not connected to the heating system in any way. Cold water flows from the house water supply through the heat exchanger in the boiler, where it is heated to boiler temperature and out to the hot water pipes. Since the boiler is set at 200 degrees F, for heating purposes, the hot water usually comes out too hot. The Mixing Valve (J) has therefore been provided. This is opened very slightly to mix some cold water directly from the water supply with the hot water from the heat exchanger to make a mixture of comfortable temperature. The correct setting of this valve can be determined only by trial and error.

The heating system is a closed, sealed, pressurized system, filled with water only. Since there is no free oxygen in the system, no rusting inside the system is possible and no rust preventative is necessary. Mr. Rathe specifically recommends that no rust preventatives be added; as they can do no good, and may be harmful.

If there is any doubt in your mind about the operation of your heating system, do not tamper with any part of it. Instead, call your service man.

The Scome's live at 85 Middle Lane.
