LOOKING EAST over the Spiegel development and tops of the former Press Wireless property, proposed park area under discussion is outlined with a broken line. "A" on the picture is the Jones Institute, next to the R.R. "B" is the Burns Ave. School and "C" indicates Sylvonia-Corning which is already zoned for industry. See map below.

New Freight Yard Close to Site

THIS MAP is presented in the same relationship as the photograph above. East is at the top and North is at the right. Indicated on it are the proposed new LIRR freight yard next to Charlotte St. where a spur line into the Press Wireless site could be run without much difficulty. The County of Nassau has given notice that it needs over 13 acres of the PW property for a drainage sump. The shaded area on the map is a part of the general area already zoned for industrial use, a portion of which is occupied by Sylvonia-Corning.

Out-of-Town Bus Requests For Fall Are Due Mar 21

All parents who desire transportation of children living in Hicksville, to private and parochial schools outside the District are requested to notify Mrs. Sybella Caesar at the Transportation Office in Hicksville High School in writing by March 21.

This notification is especially important in the cases of children who have not previously been transported to out-of-district schools. The request should indicate child's name, age, grade, address, name of outside school and if possible the hours of the school day anticipated. This information is essential to the School Administration and to the Board of Education if the school budget for 1958-59 which will be presented to the taxpayers this spring is to contain sufficient money under transportation to make possible the granting of such requests. Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, superintendent, said.

Board Starts Work On Budget

HICKSVILLE- The Board of Education breezed thru Code 2 of the proposed 1958-59 budget. Friday night, giving a hint that the budget may be completed well in advance of the annual election and vote the first week of May.

Code 2, which by contrast, last year, was the subject of weeks of debate and discussion, covers "general control." Certain provisions are mandated on the district by law; others are required so that the general administration of the school district policies and affairs may be carried out, according to a spokesman for the administration.

The total proposed Code 2 is $162,180 compared with $148,530 appropriated for 1957-58. A brand new

Central Loan Offers Awards

Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, Superintendent of Hicksville Schools, announces the establishment of two new scholarships, each with a value of $500., to be donated by the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association. The awards will be made by the board of judges selected by the Superintendent of Schools from members of the faculty.

The scholarships will be awarded in accordance with the following considerations:

1. One to a male, graduating student, who has demonstrated outstanding ability in the field of mathematics and/or science, to enable him to continue his higher education in these subjects or in engineering.

2. One to a female, graduating student, who is interested in pursuing a career in nursing, and who has shown a special aptitude in pre-nursing subjects.

3. In each case financial need shall be a prime consideration.
4. The award shall be disbursed by the Association by payment of $250. at the beginning of the fall semester and $250. at the beginning of the spring semester to the college or university attended by recipient. If however, the recipient of an award shall not be required to pay tuition at such college or university, the Association shall make payment directly to the recipient as and when our executive officer shall deem advisable.

"Such scholarships are an important step in making it possible for more of our graduates to continue on into higher education, particularly in areas where there are acute shortages of trained personnel. They are also tend to encourage students to do their best while in high school. It is hoped that other business firms and community organizations will find it possible to increase the number of scholarships available to graduates of Hicksville High School. The District is grateful for such scholarships," Dr. Lamb stated.

Resident Wins Life Saving Honors

NEW YORK CITY—A Hicksville man was among 15 persons who received awards yesterday (Wed) from the Life Savings Benevolent Assn. of New York.

The award, a Letter of Commendation and $50, was presented to Vincent Gervasi of 304 Acre La., Hicksville, for his part in the dramatic rescue of a civil service worker who was drowning in the water off Pier 2 of the Brooklyn Army Terminal on Mar. 2, 1957.

On that afternoon, Gervasi, an Army Civilian Guard at the Terminal, heard an alarm given that a man was in the water at the foot of the pier, and raced to the end of it to give what help he could.

In the meantime, a longshoreman had jumped in to save the man, and others had shoved a wooden pallet into the water to help buoy them up. However, when Gervasi reached the foot of the pier he was that the pallet had swept by the men, and despite the falling snow and 32 degree temperature, he tossed off his coat and gunbelt, and dove into the water to retrieve the pallet.

He then swam the pallet to the men and seeing they were going down held them up until help arrived in the form of two harbor craft several minutes later, by which time he was beginning to freeze. Adeck hand from one of the craft jumped in to help, and helped lift all three aboard an Army tug, where the hands of the first two men had to be pulled from each other they had been frozen so stiff.

Gervasi suffered shock and exposure from his ordeal and had to be hospitalized for 24 hours to recover.

For his action, Gervasi was awarded a Letter of Commendation from the Base Army Security Officer, and a $25 Savings Bond from the Division wherein the rescued man worked, soon after the incident.

There is a distinct possibility that the Army itself will hold an award ceremony and honor Gervasi for his act.

Gervasi, 34 a veteran of World War II, wounded in action while a Sergeant in the 9th Infantry Division and disabled, has been with the Army Terminal Security Force for almost six years, and has been a resident of Hicksville for the past 3 1/2 years, with his wife and two sons, ages 4 and 1.

When questioned by the HERALD Gervasi said, "You don't consider your own life at a time like that. It becomes a spur of the moment thing. If a $1000 bill was floating in the water today, I'd let it float."

Asked whether he'd do the same thing again, he said he couldn't answer since it is something you don't foresee. "At the time you only know that the men were drowning, and you must help them", he concluded.

New Port Jeff Morning Train

A new train for the Long Island Rail Road's heavily traveled Port Jefferson Branch went into service on Monday.

The new train starts its run at Cold Spring Harbor at 7:45 A.M., stopping at Syosset at 7:52 and Hicksville at 7:59 and arriving at Jamaica at 8:21.

The addition was made necessary by the increasingly heavy use of the present train leaving Port Jef-erson at 6:53 A.M. By the time this train reaches Cold Spring Harbor at 7:50, most of its more than 1,500 seats are occupied. This means that most passengers from Cold Spring Harbor and Syosset have had to stand in recent months.

The railroad's $750,000 double-signaling project between Hicksville and Jamaica has made addition of the new train possible, it was stated.

Big Demand For Serenaders

The next appearance of the Department of Sanitation "Serenaders and Players" is scheduled for Monday, March 10, at the regular meeting of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club to be held in the American Legion Hall, Bethpage.

Sanitation Superintendent Louis Kappstatter reports that since the group organized several months ago they have been in great demand by various clubs and organizations. Composed entirely of Sanitation Dept. personnel, the "Serenaders and Players" have whipped together an hour long show entitled the "Sanitation Blues".

Special Program

A special program by the Hicksville Jr. High P.T.A. will be held Monday, March 10 at 8:30 in the cafeteria, dealing with the elimination of indecent literature.

Library Exhibits Famous Works

The Hicksville Free Public Library will exhibit the work of many famous contemporary American artists on loan from Galleries on Monday, Mar. 3, and during the month. This is part of a new art series to be conducted at the library under the directorship of Lloyd Reiss, artist and teacher.

The program will begin at 8:30 p.m. with an autobiographical color film of Pablo Picasso. This film has never been shown before except at one New York theater at premium prices. There will be a discussion of the film and the paintings on exhibit.

Reiss has arranged with the following City galleries to exhibit the work of their artists, Weyhe, Allan, Kraushaar, Rehn, Peridot, Pearls, Petite and James. The artists represented in the exhibit are Wernerdrews, Antonia Frascini, Mesch Kohn, Seong May, Malcolm Myers, Leona Pierce, Charles Salerno, Rubin Tam, Alex Russo, John Corbino, Henri Varnum Poore, Arthur Elias, Reginald Pollack, Rosemary Beck, Carman Cicero, Darrel Austin, Thomas Yerxa, Joseph, Helen Wolf, Frederick Taubes, Utter, Victor De Pauw, Lawrence West and Alvan Most.

Cancer Leader

Stephen Timosuk of 172 West Nicholas St., Hicksville has been named local chairman of the 1958 Cancer Crusade in Hicksville, it was announced by Harold L. Haff, general campaign chairman of the 1958 Nassau Cancer Crusade. A goal of $5,500.00 has been set as Hicksville's portion of the $220,000 countywide goal.

CURRENT COMMENT Park Proposal Gains Attention

BY FRED J. NOETH

THE PROPOSED community park is beginning to attract the public attention and various opinions and viewpoints are being expressed. We are not in favor of controversy for the sake of dispute, but we do feel the focus upon the proposal is all to the good.

Oyster Bay Town Board has a petition from Hicksville homeowners asking it, as the duly constituted governing body for the Park and Parking District, to take steps to acquire a portion of the last remaining open area of land in Hicksville for long-range development as a park.

Actually, in requesting 50 acres for a community park, the petitioners are not talking about a great deal of land. For example, the new High School on Division Ave. is located on 22 acres. The Jerusalem Ave. Junior High occupies 13 acres. Most of our present school sites in Hicksville are standing on about 10 acres (Woodland, Burns Ave). The Mid Island Plaza on the east side of North Broadway covers about 100 acres.

A committee has been appointed from among Hicksville people to look into all phases of the proposal -- pro and con. We can testify that the committee is working diligently and since its appointment has met twice a week in an effort to complete its assignment from Supervisor John J. Burns in the briefest span of time. Speed has become important with the recent transfer of title to the property.

Unfortunately, a good deal of loose conversation has drifted around about the proposal prior to any official report or statement. The property was sold to a land speculator for a reported $16,668 per acre. The present owner has asked the School Board nearly $20,000 an acre for a 10-acre school site, subject to a referendum. He has since sliced this price to $17,500 an acre -- a considerable improvement when we are talking about 10 acres or 50 acres or more.

The latest line of thought which may provide us with (1) the park, (2) a substantial buffer protecting the adjacent residential area, (3) fine tax-producing industrial facilities, and (4) shave down or even eliminate the need for another school building, involves many lines of endeavor. It calls for the highest form of cooperation and coordination.

READER OPINION

Szendy Opposes Pk Just Because

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter written by Emil J. Szendy of 5 Walnut Lane, Hicksville, to Town Supervisor John J. Burns, dated Jan. 24. It offers Szendy's personal opinions and is printed as received although there is a sore temptation to edit several misstatements of fact as we see them.

Dear Mr. Burns:

Last Friday the Hicksville School Board received from District Clerk Fred Noeth a news release said to be a letter from you to the School Board. As the news release described some sort of Joint School-Park Recreational Project in which the School District would very much be involved, it would appear reasonable that the Board should be approached directly by members of the Town Board instead of being informed by copies of a rambling non-definitive news release.

Just how the Town Board controlling the Hicksville Park and Parking District will act "in achieving a substantial saving to the school district in land-site acquisition costs" in a district in which all sites except one have been acquired is not explained. In connection with that one site of ten acres which can be acquired by the School District only by authority voted by the taxpayers, there has been talk that the Park District may acquire an additional 50 adjacent acres. The present offering price of that acreage is close to one-million dollars.

Who will pay for it? -- the Park District? Who is the Park District? Those same people who are the School District. So the "substantial saving" to the School District will be achieved by taking the money out of the other pocket, except that taking out of the other pocket may be achieved without the consent of the pants owner.

Apparently, as Mr. Allen Carpenter has informed me, the Park District can acquire land on its own motion and without getting authority to do so from the taxpayers. This in spite of the fact that some of those persuaded to sign the petition requesting the acquisition were told that the petition would bring the matter before the voters for a decision. Others, who use school facilities, were told that such use might be denied to them if they did not sign up.

At no time since the petition was circulated using these spurious and improper arguments has there been any real information given out about the plans for acquisition of this large and expensive piece of real estate. The members of the Citizens Park Committee who approached me to discuss the matter would give no information, he only wanted to find out where I stood.

Where I stand should definitely be understood. I stand opposed to the saddling of large debts and obligations upon the taxpayers without their consent. I stand opposed to the creation of a park which would have little use except to those in the immediate vicinity; others can ride as easily to more desirable recreational areas already available. I stand opposed to any "new concept" to which the School District and Board is coupled without its prior knowledge and without acceptance by Board members of what is proposed.

Seemingly, the Citizens' Park Committee is now attempting to establish "Public Demand." However, there is a definite feeling that the chicken is already hatched and the plans for acquisition already made, and the egg being rolled around by the Committee is as phony as those other china eggs sometimes used by farmers to get their poultry to produce.

"Public Demand" can only be established after all relevant facts have been presented, especially facts and figures about taxes over many years to support this million-dollar dream (nightmare) -- the appetite of the public should not be stimulated for something which they could not afford and would not want if they knew the price; -- that is what the Committee is doing now. And no "cross section" Committee so heavily unbalanced in favor of the purchase can speak for the community. I, personally, member with extreme distaste that two members on that Committee, Mr. Brengel and Mr. Carpenter, when on the School Board, were partly responsible for the Sullivan Contract which yielded Mr. Sullivan, then School attorney, a now town attorney, over $105,000 most of it in percentage-of-the-bond issue fees. With the same principals again involved, I don't relish the prospects.

NOW AND THEN Street Lighting, Pure Air Were Lures For City Dwellers 50 Years Ago

The early history of Hicksville is the history of the mid-island area. Hicksville is the population centre for the vast surrounding acres and acres of wonderful farming land. There was a great emphasis upon the Hicksville Story back in 1904 when the community celebrated its Tercentennial, the 300th anniversary of the original land purchase from the Indians. Many of today's Hicksville residents know little of those olden days and for that reason the HERALD is starting publication of a series with this issue.

Hicksville, A pushing Long Island Community was the headline in a recently uncovered edition of the Brooklyn Daily Times dated on Nov. 26, 1904 (54 years ago).

Some supplemental comment on the HERALD editor, the article "Story of Its Stead Growth" in the Times. Although this village cannot be said to be very ancient, it is not behind any of its sister villages. It comes to public spirited citizens, progressive business men and residents. At the junction of the main and Wading River branch of the railroad, twenty-five miles from New York City, eight miles from the Long Island Sound and ten miles from the Atlantic Ocean, being 126 feet above the sea level, it is not a bad place in which to live. It is a place where you can enjoy the comforts you can in the city. Above all have good pure air and the best of health. These good points are being found out by those who are looking for homes in the country, and it is one of the reasons that Hicksville is making such rapid strides.

"Hicksville was named in honor of Elias Hicks, the founder of the Hicksville branch of the Society of Friends."

Editor's Note — At the time of the Hicksville Tercentennial in 1904, the village was settled by legend for all time. Hicksville was actually named for Valentine Hicks, son-in-law of Elias Hicks. Valentine was a charter director of the LI Rail Road and one of its first presidents. He gave land for the depot. He gave land for the depot. He was one time postmaster in Jericho and died there in 1850.

About the year 1837 Elias Hicks and other bought a large tract of land in this vicinity, and after laying it out into streets and building lots it was sold. On account of the railroad not running to Hicksville, the place failed to build up, and in 1848 but four houses were erected, and three of them stand today (1904) as monuments of the first settlement of the village. The houses are Prof. C.O. Wolfert's big three-story and basement residence on W. Barclay St. and the house next door occupied by John Vincent and the Grand Central Hotel, which is still running and is known all over the island.

"These three houses were erected about the same time and the Grand Central Hotel was first run by Joshua Willett, and he traded the hotel for Peter Layton's farm a short time after taking charge of the hotel, and the latter was purchased next by George Powell. He was a general house and progressive. He ran two stage lines, one to Brooklyn and the other to Huntington. Besides these lines, there were run to Hicksville from the south and north sides. In 1842 the main line of the LIRR was extended to Hicksville."

"The old residents of Hicksville, who are alive today (1904) and who located here previous to 1860 are Henry Wollenhaupt, who is still in the tailoring business and runs the only shop in the village; John Quarantius who still conducts the stonemasonry business; Frederick Herzog, who is still in the grocery trade; Ernest Lieble, retired cigar manufacturer; Miss Elizabeth Sevin, Mrs. John Braun, Mrs. David Christ, Mrs. Henry Henze, Henry Kuhl, Mrs. William Freytag is another old resident."

"The Nassau Light and Power Co last year was voted the right to install its lighting system in Hicksville lighting district, which was formed through the good work of the Village Improvement Association, and the lights were turned on last January for the first time, and have been very satisfactory to the people, and the commercial lighting has grown to a very large magnitude, showing that the light is appreciated by the business people and the private individuals."

Editor's Note — Today, 1958, Hicksville is the location for the Electric Operating Hq. of the vast LI Lighting Co. system. It is the nerve centre for the control of electricity serving hundreds of thousands of homes and businesses. "When Hicksville was first settled, the article from 1904 continues, 'residents had to go the Jericho, two miles north, for water, as all they had was cisterns, and they, as a rule, when dry in the summer, and water was carried. Elias Hicks stated in his last will and testament that the people of Hicksville should always have water from the large, clear spring ponds at Jericho. The ponds are still open to the public, and although this village has had no occasion to use the water in years except in very dry seasons, they still have the right to the water."

Editor's Note — The Jericho Spring Pond is now owned by the Milleridge Inn and no evidence of the so-called Elias Hicks promise to Hicksville was found in the record when the Town of Oyster Bay transferred title last year. The pond itself is scheduled to be covered and disappear when the Hicksville-Jericho State Highway widening project is completed.

"As cisterns were found to be inadequate for fire purposes", the ancient article continues, "and there being a growing need for water, a water district was formed by the Town Board about two years ago and a franchise given the Nassau Water Company to lay pipes and furnish the district with water. At first there was a big bowl, and steps were taken to break the contract, but finally it all died out, and the village concluded to take water for the first time in its existence, and now the village has an ample supply for all purposes. The company has its own water works and pumping station in the village."

(Editor's Note — The "big bowl" of 1904 was nothing compared to what occurred less than 20 years decided to provide its own supply, rather than use the private water company which had its pumping station on Old Country Rd near the present-day location of Francis Mall. The efficiency of the private supply had declined over the years until it reached a point where pressure at five hydrants was almost nil and laundry and cooking utensils were consistently stained with iron rust. First water commissioners, named Aug. 30, 1921, were Ernest F. Francke, present County Clerk; William I. Magill and August P. Deppisch. The installation of the first public well on the former George Blyman's farm on Bethpage Rd was ready to supply the new high school in Nov. 1924 and 12 months later the system was given fire protection to the community.

The story of Hicksville as it looked to a reporter for the now defunct Brooklyn Daily Times in 1904 will continue in an early issue, with a report on how Hicksville built its first school — at a cost of $6,000.

Atty General Halts Scheme

Hundreds of housewives in the metropolitan area were victims of a sales scheme devised by a Long Island corporation whose salesmen posed as representatives of major New York City newspapers to sell them housewares at exaggerated prices, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz charged Friday.

The fraud was disclosed when Attorney General Lefkowitz obtained an order in Supreme Court, New York County, permitting him to bring an action to dissolve Certified Distributors, Inc., and its collection agency, Public Credit Corporation, both of Floral Park. The order was signed Friday by Justice Henry Clay Greenberg.

Testimony which is set forth in the affidavit filed by the Attorney General's office reveals that salesmen of Certified Distributors, Inc. gained entrance to the homes of prospective customers by posing as members of a team making a survey for major New York daily newspapers, including the N.Y. Daily Mirror, the N.Y. Daily News, the N.Y. Journal American, the L.I. Daily Press and the L.I. Star Journal.

"The salesman would represent to the housewife that if she would promise to forward a certain described part of the newspaper to the company with her payments, he would be able to offer her a set of dishes, pots and pans, silverware, books or other items at a tremendous reduction in price," the affidavit states.

"In some instances, instead of using the 'survey' approach, the salesman represented that a coupon appeared in the daily newspapers and that if the customer would send it with payments, the household items would be greatly reduced in price," the Attorney General charges.

The picture of Elias Hicks, renowned preacher, is from an engraving published in 1830, the year he died. He was buried near the Quaker Meeting House in Jericho. Valentine was the son-in-law of Elias and lived in Jericho as an early postmaster.

OPERATION VFW

Hicksville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3211
by Lou Palladino

There are a few incidents that should be reported. First of all, everyone should know that Ed Shannon has gone back to work. This alone is wonderful news after he had such a terrible accident. Of course he has to take it easy, but just being permitted to work is an accomplishment.

It seems that he will give bowling another whirl, too. Our commander, George Walden, made this report at the last meeting, but Ed, himself, confirmed it. All I can say for this fellow is you can't keep a good Irishman down.

We also have good news to report about Walter Alden. He is expected to be regaining his health. Another bright note is that George Kratzel is now the owner of The Little Inn on Broadway, just south of Old Country Rd. Probably most of you already know this. George welcomes all you good comrades. If you don't know him personally, just tell him you are from this post and he will be happy to see you and serve you. Good luck, George. After all the bad news we've heard about our fellows since the new year began, it sure is great saying some nice things. Let's hope we get more.

We seem to be getting some response from the members of the past, and new ones. Whether or not this article has been helpful, remains a question. However, if it is doing the least bit of good we will continue to mention it. Again we say, any man interested in renewing his membership in our post just come down and pay your dues for this year, and you'll be all set. Maybe one of your neighbors might want to get in. If so, bring him along. We'll be tickled to have as many as wish to be part of us. Always room for more.

We would like to say a little something about Lou Klein. This guy is a hustler in every sense of the word, and any organization can use a man like him. He works hard at everything he does. This boy says that at the meeting he will keep quiet, but as the meeting progresses, he starts acting up, and more than likely gives himself a little more work. You have to admire a man like this. I hope his change of jobs will not hurt his working for us. He certainly gave us a lot of time in the past.

We heard that the ladies had a film at their last meeting on air travel, and found it very interesting. Hope they aren't getting any ideas. Incidentally, March 13, the ladies are having an open meeting. They plan a jewelry demonstration, and all females are welcome. Keep the girls broke that day fellas, or we may find ourselves on the short end for a while. God bless them, they are wonderful, but at times they can go on a spree. Oh shudder the thought.

There isn't anything more to report that I can think of, except that our next meeting will be Feb. 24. Hoping that all our comrades and their families are in good shape. I'll see you at the next meeting.

CYO Holds Election, Ends Schedule

By Don Brown

St. Ignatius cyo basketball schedule was completed a week ago Saturday. The Senior Division which played at the Lee Ave. School was topped by the Nationals who broke on top in the first game of the season and stayed on top to the end. The Intermediate Division which played at the Burns Ave. and East Street Schools wound up the season with the winners of the first half schedule also leading the parade in the second half.

The winners at East St. were the Apaches while the Burns Ave. champs were the tigers. The Midget Division from the Woodlands Ave. School had the Falcons on top at the end of the second half as they downed the first half winners the Hawks in the last game of the season. There will be a playoff between these two teams to determine the League championship. plan gals night hold vt.

A gala basketball night is in the planning stage at the present time with a tentative schedule of four basketball games. These games will see the Midget League play-off, the Apaches from East St. against the Tigers from Burns Ave. and an All Star Team from the Senior Division of Lee Ave. vs the Barnham Team of St. Ignatius' inter-parish teams and also from the inter-parish teams the Tyros and the Juniors. When the time, place and late are decided we will publish this information in this column.

ELECT OFFICERS
At last week's CYO elections the following members were elected to office: President, Donald McLaughlin; Vice President, Robert Calzetta; Secretary, Frank Danhauser; Treasurer, William DiBella and Equipment Manager, Kenneth Hanlon. Bill DiBella was returned and Don McLaughlin changed offices from Equipment Manager to President. The other outgoing officers are George Maguire, President; James Hood, Vice President; and George Bendish, Secretary. The new officers have their work cut out for them to keep up the progress our organization has made in the past year under the outgoing officers.

The Parent and Child Bowling has finished three weeks of competition and is going stronger each week. Last Saturday, Pat Dimonaco set a new high series for boys when he rolled a 518 series with games of 186, 174, and 158, while for the women Mrs. Meyer set a new high game with 149 and new high series by rolling 389. Our past president, George Maguire kept the record setting going by dropping 198 pins to set a new mark for the men. Little Karen Sheerin missed by one pin of tying the high game score for the girls when she rolled a nice 141 game.

All interested in an evening's fun and laughs are urged to attend this meeting as all past records of performance will be out the window for this one.

COLLECTION OFF
We have one sad piece of information for this week and it concerns our paper drive which is conducted on the third Saturday of each month. This month's collection fell off over 50% from the November collection. We urge all to save their papers, cardboard and rags and drop them on the third Saturday of next month in the empty lot in the rear of the St. Ignatius School. If you can't drop them off yourself call Walt Schurmans or Moe Riker at either of these numbers, WE-2536 or WE-1-3382.

If you find your collection is getting too big to hold onto call them before the third Saturday and they will arrange to have them picked up before then.

You boys who sold all the candy for the drive over the past few months and are wondering when the prizes are coming keep your eye on this column for complete information on this. The prizes will be distributed the same as last year with refreshments being served and as soon as the committee has made all the arrangements the information will be printed here. This should take place very shortly now.

Continue Active Schedule

The teen-age groups of the Congregation Shalom Zedek are now in the midst of a gala table tennis tournament, an active nok-hockey tournament and a quiet, but exciting checker tournament.

Margvin Kleinman, Director of the three groups, announces that the tournaments are expected to be completed about the middle of March. At this time medals will be awarded to the winners of the table tennis tournaments, with prizes going to the other winners.

The Senior Group is planning a gala "Record Dance" and Oper House on March 2. Senior Groups from other Jewish Centers in the Mid-Island area have been invited and it is expected that a large turnout will be on hand for a wonderful evening of dancing and fun. On March 6, the three groups will participate in a Purim Party at the Temple. Each member will wear a costume and admission will be a grab-bag prize. This party is for members only.

Because of the wonderful time at the last one, the three groups are planning another Swimming Party at the Shore Club in Atlantic Beach, on March 23. This event will last from 1 to 5 P.M.

There is still vacancies for new members, and any interested teenager is invited to attend any of the meetings. The Junior and Intermediate meet every other Thursday, the Seniors meet every other Sunday. For further information call Wells 8-1245.

School-Park As Joint Plan

OYSTER BAY - Supervisor John J. Burns has given the Park Advisory Group, appointed by the Town Board in response to a 1,190 name petition from Hicksville residents for a community park, a proposal for study which would result in a "first" for New York State if carried to completion, it was disclosed today.

The "new concept" was described as an "economical recreation program that will provide almost immediate facilities as well as allowing for continued long-range needs as funds become available and the Town continues to grow". The plan was outlined at the Hicksville School Board meeting last Friday night.

It provides for planning joint school-park community recreational facilities, combining park and playground and school functions on a single site through cooperative planning by school and municipal authorities. The plan outlined by Burns follows:

- 1) School and municipal authorities would join together in an effort to select a suitable location for a school-park site.
- 2) School authorities would purchase just enough land to accommodate the new school plant and the Town Board under its policy of requiring all builders to set aside three percent of their development area for park purposes, would request the County Planning Commission to lay out the parcels contiguous to the School District-owned land.
- 3) The Park and Planning District could then acquire a suitably large tract of land adjoining the other two parcels for immediate and long-range development of recreational facilities.
- 4) The total site would then have immediate facilities created by the School District while the park district would develop the overall area into a park which could, over a period of time, include such items as skating rink (adaptable for ice and roller skating in season), ball fields for all age groups, and even a community swimming pool.
- 5) The Town Board's current neighborhood park program will continue to provide small multipurpose recreation areas for youngsters.
