Entered as Second Class Matter at Hicksville, N.Y. Post Office

Voters Have Final Say..

Ask State To Okay Our Own College

Acting upon the recommendation of Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, superintendent of schools, the Hicksville Board of Education is petitioning the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York to authorize establishment of a community college in Hicksville -- the first on Long Island. Opening of the college in less than a year on a temporary basis, using the high school after hours was part of the action taken Friday night by the School Board.

Approval of the voters of Hicksville School District will be required before the college in Hicksville becomes a fact. For one thing, the voters will have to be asked to approve a bond issue for the construction of a building.

Dr. Lamb submitted a detailed six-page memorandum to the Board of Education as directed on July 25.

Answering the question "should we leave the (college) problem to George?", Dr. Lamb said "somehow we humans always seem to muddle thru our problems if we ourselves pass by on the other side of the street and ignore a social crisis. Eventually someone always comes along and does what we fail to do. Perhaps private colleges will expand more than contemplated, or new ones may be founded. Perhaps the County will finally accept the program recommended by the State. Perhaps the State Legislature will require that all boys and girls of the State will have equality of educational opportunity. Perhaps -- but time is pressing."

If the college in Hicksville is approved, it would be governed by a Board of nine trustees, five appointed by the sponsoring agency (Hicksville School Board) and four by the Governor. They would serve for nine year terms, one membership expiring each year. Dr. Lamb said it would operate somewhat like the Board of Library Trustees in relation of the School District.

His recommendation was strong: "I definitely recommend the establishment of a community college

Text Board Resolution

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Education, Friday night:

"Resolved, that this Board of Education representing Union Free School District 17 of the Town of Oyster Bay, hereby petitions the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York to authorize the establishment of a community college in Hicksville under the sponsorship of this school district on the basis of the report, which is attached, of Superintendent Wallace E. Lamb dated Oct. 8, 1958; and

"Be it further resolved, that pending the provision of permanent building facilities for the college, the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York is requested to approve the opening of classes in Sept. 1959 in our present Senior High School building as a temporary expedient."

In Hicksville." He also proposed: "a definite liberal arts program and an indefinite terminal program; college be opened tentatively, starting after 4 in the afternoon, in the present Senior High as of Sept. 1959; appointment of a site committee and the drawing of architectural plans as rapidly as circumstances permit so that a building referendum can be submitted to the taxpayers."

He also said: "Hicksville has won (continued on page four)

Peter and Ann Get 30 Awards

Thirty handsome gifts, including a bridal gown, bridal bouquet and portrait from Gertz, were presented to Peter J. Zeiher of 140 5th Ave., Hicksville, and Ann Ackerson of 30 Lawrence Drive, Brightwaters, who were named the Greater Hicksville Festival Couple as the concluding event of Festival Days, Saturday night.

Zeiher and Miss Ackerson will be married on Nov. 1 at St. Peter's Church in Bay Shore. They will make their future home at 15 Hope Lane, Hicksville.

The statement, read at the Festival Saturday night, was: "For more than a century and a half my family has been residents of this community from my great grandparents' and grandparents' home on Duffy Ave. to my parent's home on 5th Ave. and now to my own home on Hope Lane, which I have just purchased."

"I have lived in Hicksville for the past 27 years and have watched it grow in leaps and bounds into the wonderful community that it is. I was educated in Hicksville schools as were my grandparents and mother before me and it is my hope that someday my children may have the advantage of an education in Hicksville school system."

"I am now employed by Hicksville Water District trying to serve our residents to the best of my ability. My fiancé has worked in (continued on page three)

Women's Club Honoring TR

The Women's Club of Hicksville takes great pleasure in announcing that the Supervisor John J. Burns, who is a member of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial Celebration Commission, will be guest speaker at their program honoring Theodore Roosevelt on the one hundredth anniversary of his birth. The program will take place next Monday, Oct. 20, in the auditorium of the Hicksville Public Library at 8:34 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

JAMES K. HICKS (holding certificate) recently concluded 32 years of service with the postal department. He started in 1926 as a rural route carrier for Hicksville Office and always completed his route, regardless of weather. At the right is Postmaster Harry Cotter who said: "Your service on the rural route is only part of your accomplishments. In July of 1955, when your route was converted to city delivery, you were transferred to clerk at Hicksville office. You became a dispatcher and a good one. With your former experience as a rural carrier you proved you could do a good job... Your service and the exemplary way you conducted yourself served as a model to the many new employees entering the service." At one time, Hicks' rural route embraced Wantagh, Farmingdale, Westbury, East Meadow, Bethpage and what is today Levittown.

GUEST SPEAKERS at the Oct. meeting of Northwest Civic Assoc., Hicksville at Burns Ave. school were Mort Kassel (at left), new general manager of Gertz, and Town Attorney Michael J. Sullivan (at right) who brought the members up to date on the status of the RR elimination program. In the center is Civic Assoc. President Kress who presented Kassel with an honorary membership in the organization. (Photo by Gus Hansen).

GOLDEN WEDDING anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Olenoch was celebrated on Oct. 4. They were remarried at a Mass at St. Ignatius R.C. Church in Hicksville where they had been first wed a half century ago by Father Joseph Hanselman. The parents of Hicksville's Fire Chief, Medard Olenoch, they also have 10 other children, two of whom are deceased; 24 grandchildren. After the church service, a dinner was served at Long's Restaurant for the family, where the guests of honor cut a giant wedding cake. (Photo by Gus Hansen).

DEAR JEAN..

The boys at Hicksville Post Office are rooting for the quick recovery of WILLIAM SPADALA of 79 Wilfred Blvd., Hicksville, a clerk, who suffered a heart attack recently. He is recovering at Meadowbrook Hospital....

Among the college girls home for the holiday week-end from their respective schools were the Misses BARBARA BOTTO, JEAN PERRY and CAROL GIANNELLI, all of Hicksville. Of course, there were quite a few more, but these were among those we recognized.... Thanks to the very announcer at the Farmer's Furniture Outlet booth at the Hicksville Festival, for little plugs for the HERALD booth which housed the Hicksville PTA's for the duration of the affair. So many people told us they heard him and then visited our booth.... Glad to hear that our good "ole" friend, EDNA MCCORMACK of Pine St. Hicksville, is up and around again after several days illness. Guess the old mail-bag "Mac" isn't taking care of the gal as he should. Makes her clean out the trunk of the car I'll bet....

LJ Lighting Co Employees will hold their second annual hobby show at Hicksville this Saturday, Oct. 18, with doors open at 2 in the afternoon.... The LILCO Blood Bank will be at Hicksville on Nov 11, 9 AM to 4 PM....

Congratulations to LOU AND JOE LOONEY of Twinlawn Ave., Hicksville on the birth of their third child, a daughter, Mary Beth born on Wed. Oct. 8. The Looney's have two other offspring, Jerrilynn and Stephen. Mrs. Looney is the former Miss Lucille Ellis of Hicksville.... Rev. JOHN H. Wisler of St. Ignace R. C. Church, Hicksville, officiated at the Nuptial Mass for the marriage of his niece, Miss Natalie J. Oster of Stewart Manor to Mrs. Leo Joseph Roach of Franklin Square Jr. Saturday Oct. 11. Father Wisler also read the Papal Blessing.... Was among those viewing the parade of the "GREATER Hicksville Festival Days". Saturday, it was okay but we think if a group of those who viewed the parade of the Hicksville Ter Centennial celebration were on hand, we would all agree that it was the best that Hicksville has ever seen. And we've got photos to prove it. But of course, the Ter Centennial celebration was arranged by amateurs -- that might be the reason.... Best wishes to SIGRID-MARY SEEBURG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Seeburg of Plainview on her engagement recently to Seaman 1/c Edward H. Hoffmann, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. F. Hoffmann of Merrick....

Hicksville Rotary Club will hold Ladies Night on Saturday, Nov. 8, at the Millersbridge, according to FREEMAN PARR, Paul Drake's mad musicians will play.... The Rotary sponsored the Rotary Club at the Festival Exposition. HOLLY PATTERSON is chairman of the Cerebral Palsy Committee's TV cast this Sunday, Oct. 19 over WOR.... Week of Oct. 19 to 25 has been proclaimed as FAMILY DOCTOR WEEK.... Republic Aviation reports that it has received a contract in excess of $97,000 from its neighbor, Grumman Aircraft, for the development of a wind-shield "wiper" system for Grumman's new jet. That's real neighborly.... The press was invited to preview a new Bell Telephone System TV program, "Gateways to the Mind" at the Salisbury Club, Thursday. Almost made us wish we had a color TV to fully appreciate this program when it goes on the air 8 PM Oct. 23.... New Jericho Firehouse on Hicksville Rd. will be dedicated on Saturday, Oct. 25, at 2 PM.... BERNIE KLAY will lead a barn dance frolic at Hicksville Methodist Church Hall on Saturday night, Oct. 28. Mrs. GUY SMITH is chairman.... That Fire Dept. vote on future Labor Day tournaments will be held at the November meeting. We had it wrong last week.... Over 100 friends of JUDGE LESLIE EKENBERG, candidate for Children's Court Judge, have said they wrote to a daily tabloid praising his record and qualifications. Not one has appeared in print, only his opponents.... The Democrats announce that GOV. HARIMAN will make a "surprise visit" to the Town of Oyster Bay this Saturday. He'll speak to party faithful at the Bethpage Bowl on Hempstead Tpke.... We had a bit of a heat wave, Oct. 7 to 13, according to LI Oil Heat Institute. It got up to 72 degrees, they claim.... If you find time is heavy on your hands, how about joining the new organization of the State Assoc. of Cemeteries? They are organizing volunteer cemetery superintendents....

We can go back to setting our watch by the clock stop the old Huestner building at Bway and Marie. The clock is back again after being taken down for repairs. We thought it was gone for good but passing by the other morning, there it was helping us to get to work on time.... Most advance type of nuclear fuel elements, probably made right here in Hicksville by Sylvania-Corning Nuclear Corp., are scheduled for display at the Geneva Atoms for Peace Exhibition.... The October issue of ORAL HYGIENE, now in its 48th year, features as a "Picture of the Month" the view of DR. JACK WISLER, vice president of Hicksville Lions Club, presenting an inscribed ball and gavel to the Chief Purser of SS Ile de France. This picture appeared in the MID ISLAND HERALD and credit for the photo is given to the Herald.... JERRY ZETTLER and HERB JOHNSON, representing the Hicksville Board of Education, will be in Syracuse Oct. 26 to 28 for the annual convention meeting of the State School Boards' Assoc....

Guess what holiday is just ten weeks from today? Here is a hint: The first Santa Clause letter of the season was posted at Hicksville P.O. this week....

NEARLY 70 VOLUNTEER workers for his Sunday's Boy Scout door-to-door finance campaign in Arrowhead District of Hicksville, Plainview and Old Bethpage, gathered Tuesday night at Henningsen's Restaurant to receive their final directions and words of encouragement from several guest speakers including Deputy County Attorney Francis Donovan, Supervisor John J. Burns and Campaign Chairman Allen S. Carpenter (left to right behind sign). These are the District and Area captains who will lead almost 2,000 men in the field this Sunday afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock to visit every home. At the table, from the left, are Hartley Kroul, district executive; James Pollock, Plainview special gifts; Warner Lansing, District chairman; Arthur Mangan, fund treasurer; Michael D'Auria, west Plainview canvass chairman; Edmund Ocker, east Plainview canvass chairman; Donovan, Burns, Carpenter, Jack Ehmann, Hicksville canvass chairman; and Fred J. Noeth, publicity. The canvass program which has been established successfully in Hicksville for six years is being expanded this year over the entire Arrowhead District. (Photo by Frank Mallett).

PETER AND ANN

Hicksville for over a year now and has come to love the community as I do. It is our hope, Ann's and mine, that we will share a wonderful life together as Hicksville residents and contribute in some way to the advancement of our community.

"It is for our great pride in Hicksville that we would like to be chosen Hicksville's Festival Couple. We couldn't think of a nicer way to start our marriage."

The awards, besides those given by Gertz, were $25 savings bonds from L.I. National Bank and Meadow Brook National Bank; boudoir chair from Schwartz Furniture, transistor pocket radio from First National Stores presented by Doug King, three-month supply of milk from Fairway Farms, 50 gallons of gas from Ferrara's Service Station, large silver meat platter and gravy boat from Kraft Jewelers.

Serving tray from Jon's Jewelers, overnight bags from Firestone, automatic skillet and cover from GE Supply, home wiring service from All-Type Electric Service, 10 visits to Slenderella Salon in Hicksville, Barracini Candy and silver tray, pyrex gift set from Rogers 5 & 10, rhinestone jewelry set from Sevel, braided oval rug from Glen Floors, juice glasses and decanter from Whelan.

Gift certificate for lingerie ensemble from Starlight Shop, jacket from Goldman Bros., party cake from Englert's, toilet water set from Hicksville Chemists, lamp from Both Bros., $10 gift certificate from Galtime, basket of cheer from Maglin's, five cartons of cigarettes from County Cigarettes, gift certificate from Farmer's Furniture, and Electric kitchen clock, GE steam iron and GE skillet and cover from Hicksville Rotary Club.

Chamber of Commerce officials were enthused with the success of the first Hicksville Festival Days and confided they were busy with plans for even greater Days in 1959.

Legionnaires' Log

CHARLES WAGNER, Post 421, Hicksville N.Y.

By ARTIE RUTZ

—Sure had a busy week with the color guard. Starting our last Thursday night at the Mid Island Plaza where we presented the colors at the opening of the Hicksville Festival Band Concert. Color Guard Sgt. at Arms did a particularly impressive job. I wonder if he drilled anyone while he was an infantry officer? Too bad so many members missed it. Friday night rolled around... as it usually does... after Friday A.M. and there was Bob Mangels drilling the newly created rifle team of the Sons of the American Legion Squadron. While a couple of the other boys were looking over some soon-to-be purchased equipment for this team... then came lovely sunny and windy Saturday and the Hicksville Festival Parade which was under the direction of our Americanism Officer, Jack Ehrmann. Our Color Guard was beamed up on this occasion by the addition of the Auxiliary's Color Bearers, Sophie Sutton and Ella Palladino, who found the going rather rough as that wind really did blow a young sale at times... But the girls finished strong... and the real surprise for this parade was the drummer, Tony Bellacera, who did a marvelous job for us and kept everyone in step.

Incidentally... did you see Artie Blesch carrying little Tommy Mangels' last few blocks of the parade? Made me think of one of the four cardinal principles of our great organization... and a couple of sound truck drivers found that the legion color guard cannot be displaced from their rightful position in a parade... after the parade was over we returned to the club house to find Commander Al Barlow glumly surveying what was left of our newly planted lawn after several hundred youngsters walked and stood all over it while waiting to get a bottle of pop (hey, Fred, I fooled these people this time, eh?) (You did) Which was being dispensed from the legion porch. Inside the clubhouse we met the past commander of the Smithport, Pa., Post, Albert Johnson and his charming wife, and we were happy to join in a toast to their son who had just married a Hicksville girl and wish them both lots of luck.

An impromptu color guard meeting was held Saturday night at Bob Sutton's place (actually it was Bob and Sophie's 13th Wedding Anniversary) and while nothing of any import was accomplished, we had a few laughs.

Sunday afternoon we accompanied the commander and his staff at the installation of new officers of our sons of the American Legion Squadron and posted the colors. Commander Al Barlow made a short speech to the boys and guests that was delivered with excellence. Should be in demand for after-dinner speaking. Sunday night we posted as per personal request of Division Commander Tom Sawyer. Now, despite the fact that we have added two men recently to our color guard roster, we still need more men. Who's gonna volunteer next to join this busiest of post groups?

OUR COLLEGE

national recognition because of its educational program. Our foreign language program, our three-track system of curriculum development, and our two week training program for new teachers have demonstrated our leadership in education. A community college would be entirely in harmony with this tradition. But time is pressing.

Trustees Arthur Ehrlich, Robert Easton and Herbert Johnson volunteered to serve on the site committee with the door open for other Board members to join it later.

300 at Burns P-TA Session

An audience of more than 300 persons attended the Burns Ave. PTA meeting last Thursday evening to hear an address by Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Donald Ait.

Mr. Ait discussed the new three-track system of education. Describing it as "tailor made courses of study" written by our Hicksville staff during the summer Mr. Ait went on to call the method a "means of executing our educational philosophy" in District 17, that of recognizing and meeting the needs of all the children. A barrage of questions from the floor followed his speech.

Among other items on the evening's agenda was a report on the PTA Variety Show scheduled for Oct. 30th. Mrs. Sue Schult and Mrs. Marie Peisel, chairmen, report that there are to be both amateur and professional acts, and that a limited number of tickets for reserved seats are still available from either of the two ladies or from members of the cast.

Still Available

The Hicksville Council of P-TA Units has announced that tickets are still available at each P-TA unit for the Children's Theatre Series, which they are sponsoring, and that the price for the series is $2.00.

It was also announced that on Nov. 25, the Council is sponsoring a special program in public education at the Hicksville High school.

SCOUT MASTER RETIRES

Troop 293 held its quarterly court of honor Monday eve, Sept. 28th, at the Methodist church in Hicksville. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of an engraved sash of a Boy Scout to retiring scoutmaster Walter Sawatzky, in honor of his outstanding service to troop 293. Mr. Sawatzky served over 3 years as scoutmaster and due to his untiring efforts with the assistance of his able staff has kept the troop at the top in achievements and competitions. So it is with regret that troop 293 bids him farewell.

Mr. Sawatzky's post will be filled by Jack LaSalle. Mr. LaSalle, an Eagle Scout was an assistant scoutmaster in troop 293 for the past few years and is well equipped to carry on the good work. Aiding Mr. LaSalle will be assistant scoutmasters, Bob Greenbaum, Clair Getz, Don Hutton, and Wm. Gill.

Prior to the presentation of the award to Mr. Sawatzky, 7 tenderfoot scouts were tapped out by 2 dancing Indians and initiated into the troop with the candle lighting ceremony. 2 scouts were awarded their 2nd class badges; 9 scouts were awarded their 1st class badges, followed by 48 merit badges being awarded to 21 scouts.

Movies of summer camp were shown by Mr. LaSalle as well as the honor patrol of last season's air plane ride out at Zehn's Airport. Approximately 90 parents and guests were present to observe the always impressive ceremony.

PACK 491

With the October Pack Night, held Friday the 10th at the St. Ignace School Cafeteria, the cups of Pack 491 got the season under full swing. There were many advancements and a brief program devoted to American Folklore.

The boys of Den 1 (Denmother Jane Schreiber) presented a skit, the members six den displayed their projects.

Eight boys joined the Pack and received their Bobcat pins: Thomas Augustowski, Arthur Janazzi, Barry Meehan, Donald McGee, James

Then the Cubs witnessed the re-creation of four boys into the Boy Scout Troop 491. Kevin McEneaney, Robert Teer, Gerard Schrom and David Owens had graduated into the Webelos since the past spring.

Chairman Sam McCafferty outlined the Pack's busy program for the coming year. The new Packmaster (Denmother Den 3) and J. Teisberg (Committee Member) were welcomed as new collaborators in the Pack's work.

PARENTS' NIGHT

Explorer Post 64, Hicksville, held a Parents' Night at their regular meeting place in the Seaman and Eisenman Building on Monday, Oct. 6th. John Neils, newly elected Crew Chief, was in charge of the program and welcomed Peter Sherbo as Scribe and Francis Sheridan as Treasurer for the new term. William Kramos presented a brief outline of the new Explorer Program and told how Post 64 developed its program for the next three months.

A highlight of the program was a Court of Honor at which time awards for advancement along the Scouting Train were made. Badges were awarded to William Ramos for attaining the rank of Star Scout and to Richard Schefano and Herbert Pierce for attaining the rank of First Class Scout. Merit Badges were awarded to William Ramos for Citizenship in the Home, Scholarship, Cycling and Canoeing, to Peter Sherbo for Bird Study, Botany, Personal Fitness and First Aid, and to Noel Dennis for Canoeing.

Awards were also made for Perfect Attendance, with Peter Sherbo receiving a four year bar to add to his collection and Fred Elchorn and Thomas Duncan each receiving a one year pin and bar. Explorer Service Stars were awarded to Fred Elchorn, Robert Birkel and William Ramos for two years service and to Arthur Kreymborg, Peter Sherbo, Richard Schefano, Thomas Duncan and Herbert Pierce for one year service.

Refreshments were served by the Post Mothers' Auxiliary after the meeting was closed.

The Hicksville Public Library has an interesting exhibit of Theodore Roosevelt materials in its large lobby showcase.

Town Budget Shows Tax Gain

The continued orderly development of Oyster Bay Township, now the second largest in Nassau County from the standpoint of population as well as land area, is reflected in the gross general town budget for 1959 which is on file at the office of Town Clerk Henry M. Curran.

The gross budget amounts to $3,243,556.62 which is $323,193.34 more than the current budget and represents a tax rate for general town purposes of 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

"The increase in services required by the people of our township, resulting from the growth of the town, is forcing the Town to appropriate additional funds to provide those essential services," Supervisor John J. Burns commented. "This budget represents weeks of preparation, conferences and study."

The proposed budget, which will be the subject of a public hearing at Oyster Bay Town Hall on Tuesday, Oct. 28, indicates a tax rate which is six cents higher than the current levy.

The Town Board in developing the budget with Supervisor Burns has this year provided for the adoption of graded salaries under the various Civil Service classifications. As a result, employees will move to their graded salary positions, according to job classification which puts them on a basis comparable to other municipal governments.

The Town Board is also adopting a broader program of hospitalization for its employees which has added a new $40,000 item to the budget. The sum of $126,000 is set aside by law for employees' retirement. It was $90,000 in the current year reflecting an increase of $36,000.

The elements of nature worked to the detriment of town taxpayers during 1958, Burns pointed out. The heavy snow fall of last winter required expenditures which wiped out the modest appropriation for snowplows. Practically every municipality in the state was caught in the same situation and was forced to borrow funds which must be repaid as an appropriation in the 1959 budget.

In addition to this repayment, a more realistic appropriation for snow work in the township in 1959, in line with its increased development, is proposed. And while the winter snows were heavy in terms of cost, the mild summer season conspired to cut into paid attendance at the town beaches and thus reduced the anticipated revenues from beach parking fees.

In the field of anticipated revenues for 1959, which are estimated at $2,387,358.25, a boost of $107,250 in per capita assistance is offset by a reduction of $50,000 in expected revenue from mortgage tax resulting from a slow down in the housing boom. Revenues from the leasing of town-owned lands is up $16,000.

In the interest of expanding the town program for the safety of its residents, the budget for the sign department is up $30,000 for next year with most of this earmarked for speed control and other safety device markers and signs.

A brand new item is the appropriation of $41,000 for town administration of bingo, predicated upon the certainty that bingo will be approved by the voters on Nov. 4.

The total amount to be raised by taxation in 1959 will be $856,000.

Hults Held High In Senate Esteem

WILLIAM S. HULTS

One of the State Senate's most influential members is Senator William S. Hults of Port Washington. With seniority acquired by many years' service in both the lower and upper houses, Senator Hults has accomplished much not only for his own constituents, but for all the people of the State. He is Republican candidate for re-election in the 3rd District.

Possessor of an impressive record of progressive legislation, he is a member of most important committees, "present chairman of the Motor Vehicle and Transportation, member of the powerful Finance Committee, Internal Affairs, Banks, Affairs of the City of New York, Civil Service and Pensions, Conservation and Insurance."

Senator Hults is also chairman of the Coordination Committee of State Activities ("Little Hoover Commission"), a member of the Legislative Agricultural Commission, vice-chairman of the Governmental Operations Committee and a member of Unemployment Insurance Committee.

A native of Port Washington, descendant of one of Long Island's oldest families, Senator Hults was educated in the local schools and has a long record of community and municipal service. His ability to carry through party policies has found him entrusted with many important legislative missions. Over the years he has had a vital interest in improving the public schools, higher salaries for teachers, greater state aid.

Senator Hults was first elected to the Senate in 1944 after one term in the Assembly.

Expansion Program For Int. Decorators Is Well Underway

Announcement was made this week by Ben Schlesinger and Herman Small, co-proprietors and drapery specialists of Living Interiors, Inc., 392 Woodbury Road, Hicksville, that the expansion project, which will add 65 more feet of showroom space for living interiors, is well under way and should be completed in the near future.

The two partners intend to have one of the largest displays of draperies, custom built furniture, bedspreads, tables, lamps and wall accessories in the locale. Total floor space will be 2600 square feet when expansion is completed.

Both men are thoroughly trained in interior decorating and have many years behind them. Herman Small has been in the business for 15 years, and Ben Schlesinger has 25 years.

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

Great Neck had apparently forced Hicksville to settle for a tie, Saturday, until a pain-staking 86-yard, 14-play ground attack cracked the Blazers resistance with four minutes remaining.

Bob DeMatteo and Herri Jalovarsa punched for the inside yardage, while Bob Cerone and Fran De Cabis slipped over tackle for the longer gains. The latter contributed a 24 and 15 yard jumps to the drive. The crucial point came on a fourth and five on the loser's 27. De Cabis ran the ball and as he was caught gave it that final lunge which made a hair line first down possible.

Jalovarsa made it 6-0 with a 11-yard off tackle smash and the 400 Hicksville fans attending really let out a storm.

After the kickoff Great Neck went to the air lanes and Mickey Anglim pulled down Hicksville's ninth interception of the season on the Great Neck 27. Four plays later, Bill Schrimpe sealed the verdict from 6-yards out.

The final was 12-0 and Hicksville was still in the race for the NSAA Section I championship.

Utilizing the forward pass successfully twice in the first period Hicksville had Great Neck decidedly off balance and moved 75 yards to the four only to lose the ball on downs.

In the second period, De Cabis took a running 32-yard aerial from Joe Naso and Hicksville crowd shrieked with delight. However an off-side whistle cut the play. Great Neck battered down the fourth pass and Hicksville shied from the forward the rest of the day as if it were a device of the devil.

It was a persistent ground game that asserted itself late in the day. Schrimpe carried 10 times for 47 yards. DeMatteo 10 for 19 yards, De Cabis 6 for 53 yards, Naso 7 for 12 yards, Bob Cerone 12 for 41 yards and figuring importantly, Jalovarsa 7 for 52 yards.

This Saturday at Hicksville free wheeling Port Washington visits Hicksville and is aiming a blow to get even for the last year's 14-14 Comet upset.

The game will pit Hicksville's possession ground game against the passing and wide sweeps of the fast Port crew.

It's an exacting game but Coach Howard Bowers driving tactics should produce.

Hicksville 21, Port Washington 14.

A thrilling rally by the HHS Junior Varsity, on the local gridiron, carried it to its second win in three starts, Monday morning, as Great Neck was defeated, 19-12.

50-yard pass play, with Gary Sonnasian flinging and Lou Zebbia receiving, was responsible for the first Orange score.

After a 45-yard downfield march Ed Caesar banged over from the five yard stripe for the second score.

Late in the third period Brad Jaworski pierced the right side for twenty yards and the winning TD.

D. Joannides was outstanding in smearing the Great Neck attack from his tackle position. I. Golipoli and P. Gregoritch were the ends that constantly turned the play in for the Comets.

The Kiwanis - a name which in the past has given the community of Hicksville a distinguished representation on the basketball courts of Nassau County - is ready to sponsor a semi-pro team again this year.

We couldn't get much information at the Pancake feed, Saturday, which incidentally was a good feed and provided fortification for the brisk winds at Great Neck later in the afternoon, but our spies happily inform us that the Blue and White is ready to reactivate the game in Hicksville.

There is plenty of talent in these parts and it could be harnessed. After its championship of 1957 the Alumni group abdicated under the weight of expenses in 1958 and frankly most of the clubs in the County lie in wait in relief.

In the present day demands an entirely home town or Alumni club can't make a run for the County title without some help from other personnel. But with the talent in Hicksville just the addition of the likes of Reggie Giddens or Bill Meehan from Oyster Bay could spell the difference.

But the selection of that additional aid must be made so as to mould a team unit or a whole winter of grief can result.

Speaking of basketball supporters of Hicksville High will be disappointed to learn the school, through no fault of its own, will have only a 15-game slate this year.

Even the inclusion of a Christmas Tourney which was urged in this column last year won't give the Orange and Black a full slate.

Athletic Director Chet Jaworski made the announcement to groans at the last meeting of the Booster Club. He stated that all attempts to fill the slate have failed.

The Holiday Tourney fills a bright spot, however, since it gives a chance for the many Hicksville college students to keep in touch with the current High School activities.

Farmingdale, Plainville and Plainville will play the tourney with the Comets. The first contest will be at Hicksville, January 1 and the conclusion will be staged at Farmingdale, January 2nd.

School Trustee Jerry Zetler hasn't missed a Comet football game this year and it is a pleasure to see the School Board represented at every game. The crowds have been big and we may have missed some, but we also have seen Herbert Johnston and Robert Eaton in attendance.

Attendance by the official school family is ground swelling support to the players and the students.

First Concert In February

First Concert in the current Mid-Island Concert Association series will feature the Roger Wagner Chorus on Saturday, Feb. 7 at the Hicksville High School, Assoc. President Robert J. Patterson of Westbury, announced.

Two additional concerts will be featured during the Association's '58-'59 season. Artists for these presentations will be selected at the conclusion of the membership drive which will take place for one week only - Oct. 27 to Nov. 2. Campaign kick-off dinner will be held on Monday, Oct. 27 at the Old Country Manor, Hicksville. Any reader of The HERALD who would like to assist in the membership drive will be welcome to attend as guest of the Association. For reservations phone Mrs. Barbara Apley at WElls 5-8835.

WILLIAM R. BRAZILL of 51 Strong St., Hicksville, has been promoted by The Port of New York Authority to a civil engineering post in which he will help inspect and coordinate construction being done in the $35,000,000 redevelopment of La Guardia Airport.

BOY SCOUT house to house fund drive plans are being laid out by Bethpage chairman Joe Ryan (seated.) Standing (l. to r.) are Bob Ennis, Joe Klipp, Mike Kronberg, Monte Lombardi and John Bombria. The Drive is set for this Sunday Oct. 19.

CP Telethon This Weekend

The Hicksville Auxiliary of the Cerebral Palsy Assoc. invites you to watch the Annual Telethon for Cerebral Palsy on Oct. 18-Oct. 19 and see famous celebrities. There will also be a remote pick up from the center in Roosevelt, L.I.

Bring your children to the center where they can see famous Western Stars. There they can drop their pennies in the fish bowl for the less fortunate. Don't forget the date. Oct. 18-Oct. 19.

Meet...This Most Happy Fella

By Alex Ross

The other night I met a happy individual directing one of the first readings of "The Happy Time", the latest venture of our talented Jericho Players. John Stuart Breiter, and family are only newly arrived in Birchwood Park but he was quickly "volunteered" into leading our thespians, as he certainly has the talent and experience to do a magnificent job.

John is a native New Yorker born in the city in 1921. His childhood was only an average one without any distinguishing variations until he interrupted his education at City College to enter the American Academy of Dramatic Arts to further his ambitions in the theatrical field. Among his fellow students were a few of today's well-known actors including Kirk Douglas, Lauren Bacall and Steven McNally. After completing the one year course at the academy, he enrolled at NYU for two more years and in 1940 received his BS in Education and Dramatic Arts.

In 1939, while still at NYU, he got his first job in the theatre by eating in a drug store on 57th St. The stage-manager of a production of "The Merry Widow" then playing at Carnegie Hall, rushed into the drug store shouting "are there any actors here". John volunteered, was rushed to Actors Equity for a card and given a four line role along with the job of assistant stage manager for the run of the show...three weeks.

This auspicious launching of his career was followed by several weeks on the Borscht Circuit with the Stanley Wolff Players in "Boy Meets Girl" and a stint of writing, acting et al with Herman Timberg producing a show about the Gus Edwards Kids called "You'll See Stars". Brooks Atkinson's complete critique of this short-lived opus was "We did!"

Then came the army. First the reserves in September 1942, followed by induction in the regular army in June 1943 in the Signal Corps at Camp Shelby, Miss. While still in training as a private, he wrote a song for his outfit called "Get That Message Through" and participated in several camp shows. He was transferred to the 7th Tank Destroyer Group and was sent overseas with them. The group was so badly mauled in the Battle of the Bulge and suffered so many casualties that incipient actor turned soldier John Breiter, was fast made Sgt. Major. Fate must have intended him for Birchwood Park guiding the fragments of a shellburst 15 feet away from him and two of his buddies killing one, tearing the leg off the second and just barely grazing John. Fate called the turn a second time in Libramonte, Belgium in 1944. John and another non-com, goofing off from duty at the group's c.p. in the town's schoolhouse, were walking down the road towards a bar tended by an unusually good-looking barmaid, when the school was blown to pieces by a concentration of German artillery, and jet planes that preceded a counterattack spearheaded by tanks. The town was lost and retaken all in a matter of a few days.

His army career ended diametrically with a prosaic discharge at Ft. Dix in Dec. 1945.

Many fruitless months of job searching went by before he got his first break as assistant stage manager for the national tour of the Broadway company of Rodgers & Hammerstein's "I Remember Mama" in June 1946. This was followed by sporadic bit parts in radio and pictures until the summer of 1947 and the "subway circuit" production of "Mama". R&H put "Annie Get Your Gun" with Mary Martin on the road and John went along as stage manager in early 1949.

By this time it was more than just apparent to him that ability alone wouldn't suffice when Lady Luck took a hand. Strolling along Broadway one afternoon, he was stopped by an agent who he hadn't seen in several months. "Where have you been keeping yourself", she said, "you're just the man I've been looking for". This twist of fate landed John in the Paul Douglas role opposite Vivian Blaine in the road company of "Born Yesterday", for what was a long weeks tour to our long inactive Johnny. Vivian went on to a starring role in "Guys and Dolls" and John got an unfruitful screen test in Hollywood.

The following summer he repeated his role in "Born Yesterday" in summer stock for several weeks moving to "Death of a Salesman" as a general understudy. While working in this show, a friend offered him a part-time job selling steel. After the play closed, he began selling full-time as he liked the field very much and the prospect of steady work were too hard to resist. His judgment was quite evidently correct as John Stuart Breiter is Director of Purchases of the Eastern Rolling Mills, N. Y. C.

A reading of "Candida" set the scene for his meeting with his wife Marilyn. She had come in "to watch" and had unknowingly sat next to John's mother. "Isn't he handsome", she said when John came on. That was all his mother had to hear. She rushed Marilyn backstage, introduced her to John and set the wheels in motion that carried them to Birchwood Park, the parents of two boys, Steven Nicholas, 2 1/2 and Tedman Russell, 10 months. In case anyone is stirred to ask they got the name Tedman out of a name book.

Marilyn's father was the well-known vaudeville pantomimist Sam Barton who died right after a performance at the Center Theatre in New York. As one reporter put it "with the applause still ringing in his ears."

So keep at it Johnny and give us a great show. "The Happy Time" is great, the Jericho Players very talented....so we can't miss.

Medical science has found no inoculation effective against a new variety of whooping cough, the best specimens of which were exhibited at the George A. Jackson School on Oct. 11.

The hula-hoopniks executed their weird gyrations with amazing efficiency. Some of them were sucking their thumbs, yawning, and blowing runny noses, all without missing a rhythmic beat.

Ralph Diamond, who ably supervised the festivities, divided the children into three age categories to partake in three different contests. The first of these was the standard around-the-waist spinning. When it looked as though the youngsters would be of voting age before winners could be picked, Mr. Diamond had to improvise. He called for hands on the head, one foot off the ground, and was about to suggest singing "Dixie" in Latin, when the adult judges (dizzy just from spectating) called for a halt. The vitamin-packed winners, who swore they could have continued

'til nightfall, were: Lenore Shapiro, Phyllis Kass, Debbie Brunswick, Helene Miller, Lenore Fligman, Joan Lipstock, Jerry Abrams, and Jerri Berman.

The second event was whirling around the knees. This kind of maneuvering doesn't even look easy! The noble winners were: Lenore Shapiro (A Dally Double all to herself), Claire Sauerhoff, Jill Lubin, Holly Singer, Bette Hamilton, Iris Lipaky, and Jeffrey Sauerhoff.

For the grand finale it was "necks" and necks only. You can easily spot the winners of this one as they walk around the community with heads rolling and eyes popping from side to side. For the record they were: Robin Livingston, Hally Laddy, Alan Pierce, Gordon Soladar, and Carole Greenberg.

All the above named youngsters were received lovely prizes which were generously donated by Herb Tynal. As the twirling crowd dispersed, one viewpoint remained constant: they all "hoop" to do it again real soon!

Spohrer And Civics Confer

A meeting was held on Oct. 2 between George Spohrer, owner of the Las Vegas Music Bar, and a committee appointed by the Board of Directors of the Civic Assoc. Representing the Board was Jerry Gold, a director, and David Brown, a block captain.

Their purpose was to determine if Mr. Spohrer could eliminate, or lessen, the "nuisances" invoked upon those homeowners who lived closest to the night club. The committee had been formed to investigate the complaints lodged by the homeowners with the Board of Directors.

The committee suggested to Mr. Spohrer that any means he might take to lower the volume of lights, loud music, and noisy traffic near the community would be appreciated. The possibilities of screening the property, eliminating one section of parking area, and relocating the giant searchlight came under discussion. Mr. Spohrer seemed most willing to cooperate with the committee, but since the property is corporately owned, it was necessary for him to discuss the committee's proposals with the corporation stockholders.

He assured the committee, however, that every consideration would be given to the committee's suggestions. Mr. Spohrer promised to call Jerry Gold as soon as any decision was made.

Our First Birchwood Residents

By Larry Gibbs

Initially, when we took possession of our homes in Birchwood with all of the trials and tribulations attendant thereupon, a good many of us were inclined to say, "Let's give it back to the Indians."

However, even if we were so inclined, very few of our residents would know the name of the original Indian tribe which lived in the area that is now known as Jericho.

Prompted by curiosity, your writer looked into the matter and is very pleased to enlighten the many of our residents who have undoubtedly spent sleepless nights wondering who owned the land before Messrs. Sosnow and Schwartz came into the picture.

To quell such burning curiosity on the part of our residents for all time, following is a bit of the historical background of our area.

Before the coming of the white man, Long Island was occupied by 13 Indian nations or tribes of Delawarean Tribes extraction. The Delawareans in turn were part of the Algonquin Indian nation and spoke the Algonquin language. However, the Iroquois Tribe - residing in upper New York State and Canada and probably the strongest Indian tribe east of the Mississippi - claimed tribute and allegiance both

A tea will be held at the home of Doris Bernstein of Forsythia Lane. If you wish to attend call Sylvia Altman V.P. of Membership We-8 9342. The Month of Oct. is H. Month For Hadassah. Happy Birthday to one of everybody's favorite Doris Bernstein of Forsythia Lane. Her age? Over 21.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roth of Birchwood Park Drive. Just returned from Puerto Rico. Lucky people.

Congratulations to the Bernstein Brothers Larry and Steve of Birchwood Pk. Dr. on their Bar-Mitzvah.

Happy Sweet Sixteen to Susan Lubitz of 20 Maytime Drive. Susie's mother (our Adele Lubitz) took Susie and six of her friends to the big city (New York) to celebrate. Hear tell the girls got tired of walking and took a bus for two blocks while Adele raring to go. Nothing can get the best of Adele.

Happy Anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. Sal Mistretta of Maytime Drive who celebrated with a fire in their kitchen. The doorbell rang and Fran forgot that oil she had on her stove. The smoke could be seen for Blocks. Some Party. But they'll make up for lost time I'm sure.

I hear by the grapevine that Linda Lubin of Birchwood Pk. Dr. will be having a Party Oct. 25 if its sweet Sixteen then lots of luck or even an ordinary birthday best wishes too.

Birthday wishes to Jeffery Roseman of Maytime Drive and Dickie Mistretta of Maytime Drive.

Congratulations to Ralph Diamond on his birthday. After pushing mighty hard, he's finally reached 40. Sincere condolences to Danny Friedman of the passing of his father.

from the Algonquians and their subsidiary and affiliated tribes. One of the 13 Indian tribes which occupied Long Island, as aforementioned, was the Matinecock Tribe. This tribe occupied the area presently known as Jericho and undoubtedly did a good part of its happy hunting in the area known as Birchwood at Jericho. However, it must be noted that there is no connection between these Matinecock Indians and some of our present day Birchwood residents.

The first white man associated with present day Jericho was one Robert Williams, an Englishman who is believed to have crossed the sound from Connecticut to Long Island. Little is historically known of him except for the statement of some historians that he undoubtedly was a near relative of the famous Roger Williams of Rhode Island.

On May 20, 1648 Robert Williams purchased from Pugnipan, Grand Sachem of the Matinecock Indians, the mid-island plains area for a quantity of trading cloth. The purchased area became known as the Williams Plantation and included the subsequently settled area called Lussan, later known as Jericho.

What happened to the Matinecocks? It appears that there was a quarrel in 1653 between the white settlers, led by Captain John Underhill, and the Matinecocks. Captain Underhill and his party defeated the Matinecocks in a decisive battle and broke their power in the mid-island area forever.

Following this defeat, the Matinecocks, in the year 1665, were further decimated and rendered practically extinct by an Iroquois war party which came down from the north and slaughtered the Matinecocks, leaving only 30 families. The reason for this foray was that the Matinecocks, on the advice of the Dutch - who ruled a great part of Long Island at the time - had withheld their payment of annual tribute to the Iroquois.

MANUEL W. LEVINE,
Candidate for District
Attorney

Many self-made men worked their way through college, but few worked their way through both high school and college -- and also supported a wife and two children. Manuel W. Levine, Republican candidate for District Attorney, ran a newspaper and stationery store in Port Washington while he obtained his High School diploma which was necessary for his admission to Syracuse University.

The former assistant district attorney who later became judge of the Nassau County District Court after winning a reputation as one of Nassau's brilliant trial lawyers, was also one time police judge of the Village of Manhasset. His experience in criminal law, thorough knowledge of "trade techniques" from both the angle of the prosecutor and defendant's attorney, qualified him, to succeed Frank A. Gullotta, nominated for the Supreme Court.

Judge Levine is active in Beth Israel congregation in Port Washington, is also a member of the Port Washington Community Synagogue, B'nai B'rith and Zionist organization of America. For almost 25 years, he has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce, headed numerous U.S.O. drives and has been active in the Community Council.

A law graduate of St. John's in Brooklyn, Judge Levine and Mrs. Levine have two sons, one of them a practicing attorney, the other in college. Mrs. Levine is the former Evelyn Danzig, pianist - composer of the popular song "Scarce Ribbons" and many other compositions. She received her musical education at the convent of the Holy Name in Albany where she was recently honored as being the Academy's outstanding graduate because of her success both in popular and classical music.

Judge Levine for 20 years was chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Nassau County Bar Association, of which he is a director. He has also been chairman of the Professional Ethics Committee.

GENIAL GEORGE in the middle with Jerry and David.

Exclusive: Las Vegas Story

by David A. Mark

The pursuit of duty brought us to the Las Vegas Music Bar last week, where we discovered that nothing is colder than a suburban hot spot on Thursday evening.

We were prepared with nothing more than a phony press pass, an 18 cent expense account, and editor Gil Stein's old toupe. None of these helped to write the story of Las Vegas on Robbins Lane.

Genial George Spohrer, who is known to everyone as Genial George, welcomed us. We told him who we were, hoping to cadge a free drink. When Genial George made no offer, we recklessly decided to blow in the whole 18 cents and buy him a drink. This would show him what kind of sporty group we have on the Villager. We stared at each other for several minutes, neither one giving an inch. Mr. Spohrer finally asked,

"What can I do for you?"

Gil Stein hadn't briefed us for this kind of an approach and we were snick. We feigned with a wide smile and then blurted out, "What kind of a guy are you, Mr. Spohrer?"

A glint of admiration appeared in his eyes. We could tell that he was impressed with our astute line of questioning. Anyway, this broke the ice, so we poured some scotch over it and toasted each other's health. "I'm an all right guy," said Mr. Spohrer through his lemon peel, and during the course of the evening, we decided that he really was.

Mr. Spohrer is a native of the Island. He's owned the Las Vegas property for many years and at one time held an option on the land which encompasses Forest Drive.

"I objected strenuously to the Town board," he said, "when they zoned that property across the street for residential purposes." He contended that no area adjacent to industrial property, and subject to incinerator odors, should have homes built on it. It is possible that our new homeowners on Forest Drive would now be inclined to agree with him.

Mr. Spohrer told us that as recently as 1946 his property was an airport. What a spot for a helicopter service to the City. We said nothing of this to George because he's the kind of business man who could make this happen in the next 48 hours. Mr. Spohrer has owned restaurants before but has never operated a night club. He doesn't resemble one's mental picture of a suave bistro boss. He looks more like the fellow in the Canadian Club ads who makes friends with finger wrestlers in the Swiss Alps.

We had by this time used all two of our carefully prepared questions, and were figuring how to stretch this out until the next round of drinks were served. Our editor had told us that this was one of the most cherished privileges of the Fourth Estate.

Just as we were about to give up and go home, the door opened. It was difficult to see through the scotch mist, but we knew those footsteps. This could only be Jerry Gold of the Civic Assoc. Board, and David Brown, Block Captain. Sensing a scoop, we hurriedly whispered to staff photographer Al Lyon. "Put that drink down and get your camera ready." What a break, we thought. Our first real assignment and here we were on the scene of a story, even before it happened. This might get us promoted from the PTA column.

While Genial George went to greet the new arrivals, we had a chance to think this over. "They must have read today's editorial," we said to Al. "and high-tailed it over here before we make it a serial. There might be a fight. If any blood is spilled, use color film." Al, who always keeps a plate handy in his mouth, quickly transferred it to his camera and slunk off into a neutral corner. He was ready for a great picture story.

Jerry and David had already laid their cards on the table for Mr. Spohrer. They had gently advised him that his place of business was considered somewhat of a nuisance by certain of our residents. In particular, they referred to bright lights, music in the night, fun-loving boys and girls -- all the things that make life so unbearable. We adjourned to the outside so that George could see what properties were affected. Jerry pointed out that if he would consider closing off his front parking space, move the giant searchlight to the rear of his premises, and plant a row of screening poplars on the Jericho side of Robbins Lane, all of Birchwood Park would take it kindly.

By this time we were stiff with cold and George couldn't quite open his mouth to answer. After we had been carried inside and thawed out, George made a startling disclosure. "Gentlemen," he said, "the Las Vegas Music Bar is for sale. And 64 howling alleys too. How would you like to buy, me out?" All of us were shocked by this awful announcement. We spent the next 20 minutes consoling George; we reminded him of all the bar-mitzvahs, bachelor parties, organization luncheons and dinners that Birchwood Park held at his place. George brightened perceptibly, and said, "Gentlemen, while I have some authority here, Las Vegas is corporately owned. I will have to discuss with the stockholders everything you have told me, and I am sure that every effort will be made to show Birchwood Park that Las Vegas can be a good neighbor."

It was on this happy note that we prepared to leave. While Mujak's Music played Auld Lang Syne, Al posed George, Jerry and David in the good old hand-across-the-tummy triple handshake stance and took his first picture.

This is The Las Vegas Story. We met George Spohrer, an all right guy with a sense of humor; we saw two of our citizens hard at work for their community; and while we had no battle pictures, we knew we had been in on something really big.
