HICKSVILLE — The Civic and Community Association will attempt to have Levitt and Sons bear the expense of constructing at least three schools in the Hicksville School District. A warning was sounded at the Civic meeting Thursday night by Lawrence A. Roman that the announced Levitt plans to construct upwards of 4,000 homes in the School District this year will increase student enrollment by the thousands and may force the District to "build six or eight more schools in the next five years."

Roman, president of the Association, vacated the chair to present his message to the audience in the firehouse auditorium. His motion to have Levitt stand the construction cost of "at least a couple of the schools" was duly seconded and carried. The matter has been referred to the Civic Association Executive Committee for whatever action it deems feasible.

Levitt's Responsibility
"Levitt is in for a net profit of some three million dollars" on the proposed construction, over our side of the township line and in Hicksville School District, Roman estimated, "and he should have some responsibility." The influx of new residents, he continued, is more than the pocketbooks of property owners in Hicksville will be able to stand. Parking and other problems are being increased by (continued on page 14)

Dr. Masek Resigns from School Board

HICKSVILLE — Charles J. Masek, DDS, has today resigned as a member of the Board of Education after serving the district for nearly five years. His resignation has been accepted with regret by the School Board.

Dr. Masek asked the Herald to extend his thanks to the community for its support and cooperation during his tenure and said it was a pleasure to serve. First appointed to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Harold Van Wickler, he was subsequently elected to the position.

The pressure of business and the increased amount of responsibility the position will require in the face of the rapid community growth were cited by Dr. Masek as reasons for his decision. He said he can not give the job the time it will require. He held the position of secretary on the Board.

The Board is expected to appoint a successor to fill out the unexpired term ending next June. Election of a trustee for a three-year term for the position will take place at the annual election in May.

COLUMBIA RECOMMENDS: Acquire 8 School Sites

HICKSVILLE — Acquisition of eight sites for future school buildings in the district is recommended in a preliminary letter to the Hicksville School Board by Columbia University, it was learned today. The School Board made public contents of a letter from Columbia Professor of Education, H. H. Linn.

A survey of local school facilities and needs is being undertaken by Columbia Teachers College under a contract with the district. The study was authorized by voters at the annual meeting last May.

The text of the letter, as released by the board, follows:

Note Levitt Plans
"Although our Institute of Field Studies has not fully completed its survey of your local school building needs, we believe that it would be wise to make certain suggestions at this time in order to expedite the solution of your problems which are going to become very serious in the relatively near future. Because of the serious building development that has taken place and because of the projected development by the Levitt organization, which alone involves over 3,000 homes, Hicksville must provide much more in the way of public school plant. We do not propose at this time that your community should erect a (continued on page 12)

One proposed business district is on the north side of Old Country Rd., between Duffy and Underhill Aves. with a frontage of 700 feet on Old Country Rd. The three other parcels are along South Bway and Bloomingdale Ave.

Hicksville — Walter Conklin, Troop 91; Thomas Felzens, Sea Scout Ship 18; Walter Sellers and Robert Williams, Troop 64.

All Hicksville Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and their parents and friends are invited to attend a program of entertainment Friday night, Feb. 10, at the East Street School in observance of Scout Week, according to Scoutmaster Fred Hohnsfield. The show which will include a film supplied by Grumman through the U. S. Naval Reserve will start at 7:30 p. m. Several awards will be made during the evening.

HICKSVILLE — The New York State Unemployment office, on South Bway near First St. will close the end of March

Total Property Tax Bill Up Almost One Third Since '45

The Hicksville tax rate this year is $46.30 per $1000 of assessed valuation, an increase of $5.90 over 1949, the Herald found this week. The rate represents an accumulation of all taxes charged upon property in Hicksville, including state, county, town, school and special districts.

The Hicksville tax charge is almost one-third higher than the cost in 1945, when the total was $32.95 per $1000.

The Bethpage tax rate for 1950 is $38.35 per $1000, as compared with $27.05 in 1945.

For the current year, other local rates include: Oyster Bay, $44.70; Plainview, $43.90, and Jericho $28.21.

The five-year comparison of the Hicksville tax bill per $1000 of assessed valuation shows:

	1945	1950
State Supreme Court	.10	.10
Nassau County	10.50	10.50
County Police	1.90	3.90
Town Government	.00	.00
Town Highway	1.40	3.90
School District 17	14.40	17.70
Special Districts
Water	.50	1.50
Fire	1.50	3.00
Garbage	2.65	4.00
Street Lighting	1.30	1.25
Sidewalks	.40	.
Parking	.	.55
TOTALS	$32.95	$46.30

*District non-existent.

Closer examination of the rates reveals that in Hicksville the cost of education represents nearly 25 per cent of the total bill. In Plainview, however, the school tax accounts for almost 50 per cent of the tax cost.

Plainview with a school rate of $20.50 was the second highest in the township of Oyster Bay, topped by Roslyn with $21.77. Hicksville is the third highest with $17.10. The rate in Bethpage is $40.60 and in Jericho $6.26.

In Hicksville district, garbage removal and disposal costs more than police protection or highways. Plainview and Jericho do not have municipal refuse removal.

Based upon the 1945 tax rate and an area assessment of $12,500,000, the cost of municipal services for Hicksville taxpayers was about $600,000. With a 1950 rate of $46.30 and an estimated valuation of $15,000,000, the cost of such services in Hicksville has increased to over $650,000.

The owner of property assessed at $4,000 in 1945 paid $131.80. This year, if his assessment is the same, he is paying $175.20. He paid $157.80 in 1947, $191.60 in 1948, and $165.60 in 1949.

Other facts about local taxation will be presented in subsequent issues of the Herald.

Hopes for Federal PO Here 'Bright'

HICKSVILLE — This community is "reasonably sure" of getting a Federal Post Office Building, Ernest Francke told the Civic Association on Thursday night, although Congressman W. Kingsland Macy has 132 post offices in the First Congressional District and more than half of them want new buildings.

Francke reported upon the status of the post office at the request of President Lawrence A. Roman. Francke told about a conference he had with Congressman Macy, recently and said that hopes are high for a new building here. He added that Congressman Leonard W. Hall is going to do all he can in Washington to help along the project.

Roman recalled that a year ago the Civics started an aggressive campaign for a new post office here and at that time addressed letters to all organizations, many of which responding and directing appeals to Washington.

Describes PBO Program

Henry Root Stern, Jr., president of the County Police Boys Clubs Inc., was guest speaker at the meeting. He explained that 2200 boys of the county are members of 16 units engaged in providing active athletic competition for youngsters. He praised the police for their cooperation with the program and the efforts of volunteer adults who serve as local PBC sponsors such as the Hicksville unit headed by Harold Manaskie Sr.

During the business meeting, Elery Bean reported that he and William L. Geyer had appeared at a recent school board meeting in an effort to obtain an auto driving course in the local schools. He said there were indications that such a program might be established next term.

Bean also reported that 435 persons have registered for the adult education spring term.

A request will be made, it was decided, to the Post Office Department for the installation of mail collection boxes near Hicksville Park, Zeida Park and Frank Home developments.

Stephen Smathak, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker of the evening.

Dear Jean . . .

Dedication of a World War II Memorial by the Bethpage Legion has been postponed due to a delay on construction of the base which will hold this huge boulder monument carved by the noted sculptor, MOLYGNOTUS VAGIS. The dedication had tentatively been set for this Saturday. . . .

The first issue of the "Monthly News Bulletin" of Charles Wanger Legion Post made its appearance this week with FRANCES X. BIASI, corresponding adjutant, as editor. It announces to post members that articles are being collected at the Legion Hall for a White Elephant Auction to be held in March with WALTER SCHLICHTING as chairman. . . . Devotion to duty prevented JACK BRANDT from being master of ceremonies at the Hicksville Kiwanis Installation at the Stockholm, Saturday night. GEORGE LOUCKS, who served as MC, explained that JACK wanted to be available for call in "case of snow". To help the highway super, JACK was presented with a toy snow shovel at the affair. It bore a note: "Dig, dig, dig like sixty in nineteen-fifty." Singled out for special mention at the affair was BILL KEMP, who has had a perfect record of attendance since he joined the club 12 years ago! . . . EDWARD KARKAN of Grove St., Hicksville, was honored at a dinner of the Seaford Harbor Yacht Club in Seaford recently. KARKAN was replaced as Commodore by FRED HAMMER. Special guests included Councilman and Mrs. DANIEL WALL. Vice-commodore for the new year is HAROLD HOLDER. . . . HENRY G. EISEMANN of Hicksville has been re-elected vice-president for Nassau County of the Long Island Association. . . . GEORGE EISEMANN on a visit to Hicksville last week became a Herald subscriber before heading back to BIG FORK, Montana.

There's to be some improvements at the local theater in the near future. ARTIE WOLLENHAUPT says the name is to be changed from Hicksville Playhouse to the Hicksville Theatre. A new neon marquee will be erected soon and the whole theatre is to be air conditioned next month. . . .

One of the rituals at Lions' meetings is the self-introduction by members, who must give their name, occupation and address. LOU MILLEVOLTE got a hearty laugh last week when he said his address is "202 East St., East Bregelstown". . . .

The Junior-Senior P-TA will hold a Valentine Dance this Saturday night, Feb. 4, at Hicksville High School gym for teen-agers. There will be the usual door prizes and novelties. . . . The last couple to arrive late and make a grand entrance at the Kiwanis dinner were Mr. and Mrs. BILL GIANNELLI of Bay Ave. The IRWIN BOTTO party got on the scene just minutes before them. . . . A 32-piece set of dishes will be awarded as a door prize at the P-TA square dancing tomorrow (Thursday) night at Plainview Firehouse. . . . Cantigue Rd. residents are worried since the famous Rock at their corner and John St. was shifted. They claim all property lines on the Road are measured and based upon this Rock. The Cantigue area, incidentally, is still troubled with TV reception. . . . Did you ever see a lemon weigh almost two pounds? Neither did we until DAVE STEINERT brought in a giant lemon (actual weight 1 3/4 lbs.) which he received by mail from LOUIS FIGNATARO of Willoughby Ave., Hicksville. It was grown on one of five lemon trees LOU has at his winter home in Winter Park, Fla. . . . The Hicksville Adult Education program can use a few more registrants for the Choral and Music Appreciation Class which meets Wednesdays. There are also openings in Landscaping Your Home (including lawns and gardening), and Cooking and Meal Planning. You can register at the high school. . . .

Teacher Is Speaker At Roosevelt Event

ROOSEVELT — Miss Runbild Wessell, Hicksville High School faculty member, was speaker, Monday afternoon, at the Roosevelt Class Room Teachers Assoc. meeting here. She spoke on her trip to Europe last summer and showed slides. Miss Francis Garistina presided at the session.

Among his observations as he prepares to take his leave of the community are these: "I don't suppose many of us stop to think about it too much, but I have noticed a warmth and neighborliness which wasn't quite so evident when I first came here. And these qualities have distinct drawing power which is no necessary to the growth of any community.

Compliments Herald "But," he continues, "there is still room for improvement. There is still to some degree at least that old feeling of 'let the sleeping dog lay,' as they say. I don't know just where they say it, but I hear they do, anyway. Personally, I think that the Mid-Island Herald has done much to bring to the attention of the people the need for certain changes beneficial to the community as a whole.

"The clergy are not supposed to mix into politics. I don't think I have. Perhaps I should have said more at the right time. Situations such as rail road crossings should never be allowed to exist. For me, the problem at Jerusalem Ave. and Newbridge Rd. has existed three years too long. By the time someone has waited for two or three trains to stop, he is racing to his destination with a wild abandonment. What we need is so contented people . . . There is so much talk and so little action.

Annals Zone Variances
"Then there is the matter of variances for new construction. I feel that the powers that be have fallen down in their jobs when they allow business enterprises entrance into strictly residential areas. In the first it shows shortsightedness. In the second place this sort of mistake will discourage potential property buyers from building homes that will be a credit to the community.

"The parking problem on Duffy Ave.," he continues, "ought to be eliminated now. One day, a child will run into the street and the moving car will have nowhere to go but over the child. It's no good. At least one side should be free of cars. Build a parking space. There are fields in the neighborhood suitable for them. Which is worth more, money or lives?"

"And a suggestion: I would like to see a Community Church board at each approach to Hicksville with pertinent information. Why, even folks who have lived in Hicksville for years can't direct newcomers to all the churches in the community. That's a fact.

"I would like to take this means of expressing to you and the folks in Hicksville my deep appreciation for all that has been done to make easier what little I may have been able to accomplish in my three years here in this community," Rev. Copeland concluded.

Mrs. Crosbie Leads Nicholai P-TA

By MARY HAUGHEY
22nd in a Series

Anyone who attended the successful open-house at Nicholai Street School last fall for the first meeting of the school's P-TA will surely remember the woman president we introduce this week. The open house was a great success, but the P-TA president, Mrs. Robert Crosbie, was a bigger hit. As a new resident-member remarked to us after the affair: "She's, so charming and gracious she immediately puts everyone at ease. And her welcoming address was just wonderful. I feel so welcomed now."

The popularity Nicholai P-TA enjoys as a separate unit since its split from the general three-school P-TA in 1948 can be attributed to the long range planning of programs and very definitely to Mrs. Crosbie's ideas on what a club meeting should provide for the members. The result of this combination is evidenced by the large attendance of parents at each meeting.

Assign Class Mothers

"I've tried to get away from the stiff, formal type of club meetings," she said, "where only a few take part in the program and others feel ill at ease to making suggestions."

"Nothing is quite so awful as entering a meeting 'cold,' not knowing a soul," she continued, "and so we have assigned class mothers. A man and his wife who come to one of our meetings for the first time will be greeted by the class mother from their child's classroom. She will introduce them to their child's teacher and to other parents of that class."

Another reason for this P-TA's popularity is the president's use of member talent when planning meetings. Programs are arranged on a three-year schedule, with guest speakers and movies, but the practice of P-TA members taking part in panel discussions or giving informal talks on their hobbies, vocations or avocations seems to be the most enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Crosbie told us about the P-TA's three-year program schedule while we chatted in the living room of her home on Underhill Avenue. The room reflects the artistry of her husband's hobby, with oil paintings about the room.

and in one corner was one of his first pieces of sculpture.

"Last year our meetings were principally devoted to the parents," Mrs. Corbie explained.

"This year our meetings deal with the child, and his needs and next year we'll turn our attention to the school and its part. For example, next month we plan an excellent program about the emotional needs of the child, and in April we'll consider the recreational needs of the child."

Mrs. Corbie has discovered that there are many interesting speakers right in her own P-TA group and plans to enlist their aid in making future meetings even better. Mrs. John Trauth, Mrs. Leroy Wells, Mrs. Forman and James Waters comprise the program committee and are responsible for the appearance of the authoritative and interesting speakers at previous meetings.

Interesting Programs

Fred Irons, a navigator with Pan-American Airways, entertained with an informal talk on his trip to Rome and illustrated his talk with color slides of the journey, during the January meeting. Other meetings have included such timely topics as "Suitable Television Programs for Children" and a discussion of duties and responsibilities of the School Board by members of the local board. Dr. M. G. Gosselink of the First Reformed Church gave an excellent talk on "A Happy Home Means Happy Children," and Mrs. Crosbie's architect husband spoke to the membership about "Housing the School" at the time that the new school sites were to be purchased in the school district.

The most important activity for the P-TA has been the annual Halloween party for the children. The P-TA provides all the refreshments, games and decorations for the party and the children stage a masked and costumed parade in the school yard.

Because Mrs. Corbie, known to many as the former Evelyn Sumner, is both a mother and a former teacher, she is more acutely aware of her duties as a P-TA president to bring into closer relation the home and the school for a more intelligent training of the child.

Not Newcomer

The Corbies came here in 1946, but Evelyn Crosbie is not a newcomer to the community. Her family moved here from New York when she was five years old and built their home on Jerusalem Ave. It is this same beautiful home where Evelyn was married, that is now to house the Hicksville Public Library.

After graduating from Hicksville High School and New Paltz State Teachers College, Mrs. Corbie taught for eight years at the Hicksville East Street School and the Junior High School.

Her husband, Robert, was in the Navy during the war as a lieutenant commander and was with the first group to enter Hiroshima for study of the effects of the Atomic Bomb. He is now employed as an architect with the New York Central Railroad. The Corbies have a 9-year old daughter, Nancy Ann, and a 3-year-old son, Robert Lee.

Mrs. Thomas Marino, membership chairman, extends a cordial invitation to all mothers and fathers to join the P-TA and share with other parents and teachers their interests and experiences.

During the evening, Scout Executive George Byrne staged a little stunt. He asked every boy and man present to count the items in his pockets, including the contents of wallets, coins, etc.

When the final tally was taken, LeBaron reported "38." A close second was Eugene Stachio, long time Scouter, with an eighty-plus on a quick count. The boys present dropped out when the score topped 60.

Lack of Snow Don't Grip John Brandt

HICKSVILLE—The town highway department has 47 units of equipment ready to swing into action in event of snow, Highway Superintendent John R. Brandt, told the Lions Club, Wednesday night, but he's not sad because there has been no call for their winter emergency service. He estimates that in a normal 10 to 12 inch snow storm, he can get every one of the almost 500 miles of streets and roads of the township plowed in 12 hours.

Curbing of streets in new developments, he added, provides a special hazard for snow plows and may lead to breakdowns. Since there are no delineators for the curbs, mechanized plows can be broken if they hit these street boundaries.

Brandt also spoke of his business experience in the community and voiced the opinion, as a local resident and not as a public official, that the village needs a Chamber of Commerce and must encourage industry to locate here.

He was introduced by President Roland Heberer. Sam G. Weiss announced plans for the Lions Charter Night on Mar. 18.

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Hicksville, was held Monday night, Jan. 23, at the parish hall. Miss Roberta Lindeman, president, conducted her first meeting.

Miss Lindeman appointed the following finance committee: Mrs. Emily Weickmann, Mrs. Emily Lembke and Mrs. Alice Stuhmerr. Mrs. Stuhmerr was welcomed as a new member.

Sound Off News and Views of VFW Post 3211

My good friend Chaplain Fred Sullen, called the Herald office last week and left word for me that he was one of the first to receive his insurance dividend check. His Army serial number was 3235107. Thanks for calling, Fred.

The appeal I made for old Christmas cards on January 11th, really brought forth some excellent results. I have received hundreds of cards from you folks and I sure appreciate your interest. One kind lady sent me a large package loaded with cards from Brooklyn. Bill Horns, who edits the column, "Over The County Line," in the New York Journal-American, recently gave the subject some publicity in his column for which I am thankful, because every bit helped. All I can say is thank you one and all for your wholehearted cooperation.

I understand that at the next meeting of the Post, Feb. 13, we are to be honored by having a speaker. He is a man well known in 3211 circles and a real ardent supporter of the VFW. His topic will be "How Not To Fish," and the individual in question is none other than the man who says "Watch the birdie," Frank Mallett—telling of his fishing experiences encountered on Sunday, Jan. 22nd. Make it good, Frank!

Were you one of the members to receive a letter from the Membership Committee informing you that your 1950 dues haven't been paid, as yet? If so, I hope by now you have notified them of your intentions to remain in the Post by forwarding your check to the Quartermaster Joseph Retzhard.

I hope that as soon as the ground is broken for our new clubhouse, the membership committee will present plans for the biggest membership drive in the history of our Post. Hundreds of VFW prospects have moved into our territory, during the past few months, and unless we tell them of our fine organization, our new building and future plans, they may never get to know us. It is an idea to work on and I hope that our most able Membership Chairman, Stanley Klevanoski, will grasp the opportunity.

A bigger membership in our Post will furnish the men we need to make 3211 the best civic group in town; enable us to promote greater appreciation of the principles of Americanism, and give our commander the manpower it takes to handle important community service projects. This in turn will encourage the loyalty of those who already belong to the VFW and inspire others to join.

Whose telephone number is Hicksville 3-2661W? Just call it and ask for reservations to our Annual Dinner Dance to be held Feb. 11th, and you'll never regret the call.

THE OLD SARGE.

—8 School Sites

(Continued from Page one) great many new school buildings at different points IN ANTICIPATION of future needs, but rather that adequate sites should be obtained at this time to care for future requirements, and that some building be started at points which unquestionably must have attention in the immediate future.

"Your community, when it is largely developed, will have need of a number of elementary school units located at strategic points so that in the main few grade children will have to walk more than one-half mile to attend school. This arrangement, of course, cannot be made for every child, and especially at the beginning of the new school building program, since some time must elapse before the community can finance all of its long-term building needs. In locating schools we also must take into consideration hazardous highways and traffic arteries, using them as district boundaries when possible, so that children will not have to cross them. While it will be impossible to arrange this for every child, at least an attempt should be made to minimize this traffic hazard for the vast majority of the elementary school pupils.

"It is our judgment that immediate steps should be taken to acquire a number of sites for future school buildings, and we strongly urge the acquisition of adequate acreage so that these school properties also can be developed for community playground purposes. We already have called your attention to eight sites that should be secured for future school and playground purposes, and when our survey is completed, we shall call your attention to two or three more long-term sites which, however, apparently do not present an immediate problem," the letter concludes.

the Sportlight

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

As forewarned in this column, the Roslyn A. A. burns itself out along about mid-season and drops out of the picture insofar as the NCABL championship is concerned.

First sign that the fire is getting cold came at Locust Valley, last Friday, when the Hilltoppers were dumped by some 11 points.

Our original contention that the race is between Jericho and St. Dominics still stands.

One big step towards a decision will be taken at Oyster Bay, Sunday night, when those two clubs clash. Jericho is in a better position in the race and could take a loss and still remain alive.

St. Dominic's, with two losses already, cannot. That is why we like the Saints for this particular engagement.

We do not believe the Jericho defense can withstand the driving Saints offense unless the game is exceptionally well officiated.

St. Dominics 72, Jericho 65.

Hicksville could do both the Saints and the Vamps a big favor at Roslyn tomorrow night when they face the A. A.

This will be the third game on the Road for Frank Ruggiero's crew and the second week the Blue and White has not had a home game for its usual Thursday night stand.

A victory over the Hilltoppers would be a big lift for Hicksville and, although it is possible, you have to stay with the hometown in this case.

Roslyn 61, Hicksville 57.

The same old cry of the hot stove league has it that semi-pro football is finished in Hicksville.

Again?

A lesson in division and the depleting power the two platoon system has on the treasury of a team would be in order for those who think along those lines.

In the old days the kitty was divided much the same as it is today but top shares did not approach the number that are handed out in this modern age.

Only eight to eleven men usually received full shares previously but with the two platoon system in vogue now no less than 22 players got full consideration.

By simple division that means that a full share now will not stack up with a full share of yesteryear.

There is nothing wrong with the semi-pro game that a reduction in prices and a real earnestness to entertain wouldn't cure.

Hicksville representatives in the Long Island Golden Gloves split two matches before 2,700 fans in the Hempstead Garden, Thursday night.

Bob Swain broke like a sudden storm on Northport's Pete Vassello and achieved enough damage in 52 seconds to be awarded a TKO. It was Swain's second win in the 160-pound class.

In the 147-pound novice division, Cyril Rumens was de-cisioned by Jerry Azenaro from East Northport. Rumens wasn't as free swinging as he was in winning his opening round match and Azenaro penetrated his defense to gain the verdict on points.

Hicksville fans have yet to see Bob Thomas throw the leather in the 112-pound novice class since there are only four entrants in that division. Thomas, who was a track star at HHS, is rated a good chance to take the Golden Gloves in that class.

Working on the assumption that the Hicksville High Comets couldn't play two games in a row as bad as the one they did at Roslyn, we figure they will edge out Farmingdale's Dalers, Friday night.

Hicksville hasn't lost at home yet this season but will have a tough time pulling out of its losing streak against the very good Dalers. We take the Comets 47-42. And Tuesday afternoon we like them by nine over St. Dominics.

Roslyn A. A. lost to Locust Valley because it was way off in its shooting and that is a fault Jericho is rarely guilty of so we take the Vamps in their game with the Yellow Jackets tonight at Jericho. Should be about 73-58.

For our predictions last week we took St. Dominics over the Kiwanis 66-61 and it was 65-59. We liked Roslyn High over Hicksville by 52-43 and it was 44-38 and we tabbed Jericho FD by 17 points over Port Washington and the Vamps bettered it by 83-46.

Seniors Romps 76-9

BY DOUG JONES

The Senior Team of the Hicksville PBC led by Ed Miller and Stan Gajewski racked up a 76-9 win over the hapless Farmingdale PBC. Hicksville plays Syosset tonight (Wednesday) at Syosset.

Plainview Firemen Plan Spring Dance

PLAINVIEW — The annual spring dance of the Plainview Fire Department will be held on April 15 at the firehouse, it was announced at a meeting Monday night. August Keute will be the chairman.

Saints Top Kiwanis 65-59

OYSTER BAY — The slim thread by which hangs the hope of another championship for St. Dominics was almost severed here Sunday night as the Hicksville Kiwanis put on a belated rally in a regular NSABL game to close a 16-point gap to two, but the Saints had just enough left to hold off the challenge and continued as a contender for this year's laurels with a thrilling 65-59 victory. In an uncontrolled rough and tumble clash both teams matched point for point for the first 12 minutes of the first half, but the hosts gained a 30-26 lead at half-time on quick scores by John DeBellis and Phil Knox. Extend Lead St. Dominic's went to the races with the start of the third quarter and before Hicks could collect itself had run up a lead of 16 points. With the tally 40-32 against them, the Kiwanians started the painstaking task of coming back.

Bob Tabasco, Chet Jarowski, Ray Fichter and Billy Byrnes each caught the nets before the period was over and reduced the Saints' advantage to 50-40.

The Blue and White kept right on coming through a wild scramble, and with four minutes left in the game only trailed 54-52.

An exchange of baskets left it 56-54, and then Jarowski fouled out. The leaping Phil Knox then tapped in three baskets to put away the victory, despite quick reprisals by Byrnes and Fichter.

Fichter, given his first full chance, came through handsomely with 14 points, while De Bellis was high for the winners with 13.

Roslyn Takes Comets

ROSLYN — Hicksville High's Comets were always within striking distance of the Roslyn Hilltoppers here, Friday night, but a shabby passing game prevented them from delivering any serious blows and the home team worked smoothly to a 44-38 victory.

It was evident that the Comets, in seeking their second, Eastern Division NSABL win in four starts, were intent on using a more deliberate offense than has been their practice, but the slower the pace became the more unsuccessful they were.

Designed to shake Dick Alcock loose, the plan was defeated because of continued wild or hesitant passing. The opposition has been covering Alcock with a blanket in recent games, and coach Jaworski has been seeking a way in which he would be able to get off more shots.

Alcock glowed in the few minutes that the Comets flashed any good form. He threw in 12 points altogether and five of them came early in the fourth period when the Comets cut the Hilltoppers' lead to 35-32.

However, the Orange and Black could not hold the form for any amount of sustained time, and the Hilltoppers were not in danger in the last four minutes.

The line-ups:

Roslyn (44)	Hicksville (38)
Venten	3 14 Rosengren
Amaden	3 10 Alcock
Galione	3 7 0 Mack

TRIBUTE TO MRS. KUHNE
To the Editor:
I want to thank you publicly for the tribute which you paid posthumously to Mrs. Caroline M. Kuhne in your recent editorial.

To those of us who know of her many expressions of thoughtfulness and generosity to our community as a whole it was indeed gratifying to see this article appear in our local paper.

To the world at large, the passing of Mrs. Kuhne was not significant, but to our folks in Hicksville it had a sadness which is hard to express, and her ability to create a floral piece which seemed to fill each individual need is not to be overlooked. She will be missed in this way by many, in the days to come. To have a way with flowers is a gift, God-given. It is heartwarming to know that at a time when Hicksville is facing problems of parking, new schools, bus problems, a new home for our library, we may pause and reflect our loss in the passing of one of the pillars of our community.

To those of you who are new in Hicksville, I can only say that I am sorry you have missed the

—To Ask Levitt

the new expansion, far in excess of what could normally be absorbed in the case of the average smaller developer.

Claiming that about 8,000 more students will be brought into the community by the new development, Roman foresees a tax bill of eight to 12 million dollars for new school construction alone. "Our present population requires two more schools than we have right now," he added.

See East Street Addition
Lawrence C. McCaffrey, member of the School Board, was drawn into the discussion by Roman. He admitted the School Board has held several meetings with representatives of Levitt and Sons and plans for future development of local facilities will be based upon the results of the Columbia survey now underway. An early step, he indicated, will probably be the construction of an extenion on East Street School, utilizing the present heating system, auditorium, etc., at a lower cost than construction of a new separate building.

The School District, McCaffrey added, is expecting about 300 or 400 more children in local schools "next year."

It was brought out during the discussion that any schools built in the 1000-acre tract of farm land within Hicksville District would be a charge, the way matters stand now, upon every taxpayer in the district. Levitt and Sons has not built any schools in Levittown or Island Trees, but has, in several cases, sold property for school sites to School District No. 5.

While the action taken at the meeting was primarily directed at the proposed Levitt construction, it was decided to seek like assistance from all builders who may construct 500 or more homes in the district.

Roman said he sees a peak reached about five years hence when not only elementary but additional high school facilities will be required in the district.

IN OUR OPINION:

Growth Results in Higher Taxes

AT THE RISK of sounding as though we are opposed to community growth (which we ARE NOT), we feel impelled to lay low a certain popular theory which is often heard in the mid-Island section these booming days.

The story goes something like this: With all these new houses—meaning new and additional tax-paying property owners—local tax rates should go down. The theory is false. Just study the report on taxes in this area published on the front page of this issue if you want facts.

Advocates of this inaccurate story reason out their version like this: More houses, more area valuation, more people paying—thus the cost is spread out and the individual cost is less.

But it don't work out that way for one very simple reason—more homes means greater demands for services. For example, a 100-acre farm is assessed for a certain amount. The assessment is lower on undivided farm acreage than it is upon a development laid out in streets. But when the development is built there are added miles of streets which require maintenance. There are more people living in that 100-acre tract, requiring more police service. And, of course, there are more children who must be educated.

We understand that Levitt & Sons builds about 4 1/2 hours to an acre, allowing for streets, etc. Thus on a 100-acre former farm we have 450 houses. If there is only one child in each house, it means enough additional children for an average grade school. New schools cost upwards of a half million dollars apiece. Additional schools mean additional teachers, custodians, supervisors, supplies, etc.

Further, many of the new houses being built in the mid-Island area, while they sell for $8,000 to $10,000, are assessed for less than half that amount. E. M. Podyen, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, in his annual report filed with County Executive J. Bessel Sprague this week, wrote: "We continued (in 1949) to assess all new structures on the 1938-39 price level. Our assessments at that time were 100 per cent of the current price levels. This price level did not change materially until after 1943. Because of the increased cost of labor and material, and the market, there is now a wide gap between assessments and sales."

Therefore in Hickville School District a house which sold for $8,000 is assessed for about $4,000 or less. With our current school tax, such a homeowner pays $70.80 in school taxes, which is considerably less than the cost of educating a child in our district. The results must be apparent: Unless some other school tax revenue is added to the community, the rate on the individual home must be increased. An example of "some other school tax revenue" source would be a factory or commercial building, which pays its share of taxes but uses none of the services.

There are about 3000 houses in Hicksville School District today, and the district valuation totals $15,000,000, plus. When Levitt — Sons builds about 3000 more houses in the School District, and each is assessed at about $3,500, it will only add $10,000,000 to our total valuation. In other words, the total number of dwellings will double, demands for services will increase proportionately, but the new valuation may fall short of the mark.

One of Hicksville's assets is its business section. If the business section grows, the business district can be expected to pay a fair portion of the increased tax burden. Therefore it follows that growth and expansion of the business centre actually can help keep taxes down for home owners in this area. Scattering the business district to the four corners of the community will not, in our opinion, help create a greater shopping centre.

An opposite extreme is the case of Plainview. There the new home developments are bound to increase taxes. The Plainview area has a low total assessment and has little hope of increasing it through commercial development since it has no business or industries to speak about. And yet, it needs schools and other expanded services to keep pace with its population increase.

Strangely enough, many new residents of this area don't seem to realize they have to pay the bills for the improvements they request. Too many have been taken in with the sales talk about "58 a month pays all," or "pay only $60 monthly." When local taxes exceed the amount calculated into their monthly payment, they can rest assured the banking institutions will be at their doors asking for the difference.
