PLUMBING REGULATIONS: Homeowner Finds Code Too Strict for Town

While practising plumbers in the mid-Island area generally gave their endorsement and voiced approval for the proposed Township Plumbing Code this week, at least one resident home-owner found sections of the proposed local law to which he strongly objects.

The proposed code was published in full in the Herald last week (Apr. 5). A public hearing upon the proposal will take place next Tuesday morning, Apr. 18, starting at 10 o'clock in Oyster Bay Town Hall.

'May Change Washer'

Philip J. Sundberg Jr., of 162 Lee Ave., Hicksville, charged the Code restricts "the citizenry from doing anything above changing a washer," unless a licensed plumber, and objected strongly to the right "of entry" granted the Plumbing Inspector in local homes "at any hour of the day or night to check your plumbing."

He did find the Code enumerates the best and most healthful plumbing practice in use today.

His letter to the Herald about the Code continues: "Consider, if you will, that such a code is necessary."

Deadline Sunday For School Board

HICKSVILLE—Sunday, Apr. 16 is the deadline for filing of designating petitions by candidates for the Board of Education, District Clerk Andrew B. Heberer said last night.

Up to that time he had received the petitions of Robert Cororan and Harry Ermenwein for the two vacancies on the school board. Election of trustees takes place on May 3. George McIntosh is understood to be interested in seeking election and his petition is in circulation.

Joseph Heim's petition for reelection to the library board has also been filed, Heberer added.

Froehlich Talks About Two Sites

PLAINVIEW — Henry Froehlich, chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee of the Manetto Hill School District, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Manetto Hill P-TA Thursday night, Apr. 6, at the school. He spoke in place of A.C. Ocker Jr., who was ill.

Froehlich described the two proposed sites for a school. The one site is a 17-acre parcel at Oak Drive and the Southern State parkway and will cost $2,500 an acre. The second parcel is an 11-acre site for $2,700 an acre, bounded by the Plainview Homes and Briar Park developments. The purchase of the land will be submitted to voters of the district on Apr. 28.

A film, "Safety on the Bus," was followed with a talk by Ermenwein.

Jericho Striving To Block Mass Building Project

JERICHO—Residents of this district are today circulating a petition asking the Town Board to forestall the mass construction of small homes of low valuation by revision of the Town Ordinance relating to minimum habitable floor space requirements.

While no specific recommendation should be, the petition makes it clear that the Town Board has the power to regulate and restrict the size of buildings "to promote health and general welfare." "to prevent the overcrowding of land," "to avoid undue concentration of population," and "to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks and other public requirements."

The petitions were presented at the initial meeting of the Jericho District Taxpayers organization, last week on Tuesday night, at the local school. About 100 persons attended.

Jericho Fights

Oppose Zone Change

Arthur Kaye, president of the new group, discussed the public hearing held earlier in the day before the town board. Marcel Weiss, purchaser of the former 283-acre Postwick property south of the Maine Matd and east from Hicksville-Jericho Rd., had applied for a change of zoning on four acres of property from residential to business. The Jericho group had registered strong opposition.

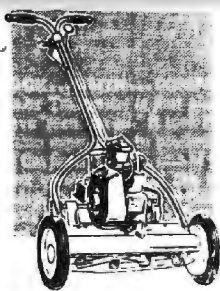

The Jericho District, it was brought out, now has a student enrollment of 150 pupils and its school is near capacity. Construction of 1200 homes as planned by Weiss, it was said, would cause new educational problems and skyrocket the local tax rate, since the valuation of the proposed homes would not carry a proportionate share of the increased tax burden. The site of the Weiss development is one-third zoned C and two-thirds zone D.

The problem is much the same as that which the Hicksville Civic Assoc. has been discussing in Hickville district, particularly with the planned construction of some 2300 homes by Levitt and Som this year. Lawrence A. Roman, president of the Hickville group, was present and outlined the local efforts.

The Board of Governors of the new group has been authorized to negotiate with Weiss and his associates. Councilman Frank Chumsky is a committee of the town board who will sit in on the conferences.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTIONS:

Jeanson Wins In Race for Asst Chief

HICKSVILLE—A narrow margin of three votes won the election for Arnold Jeanson as second assistant chief of the Fire Dept. Thursday night, in one of the closest contests in the history of the department. His two opponents were exactly tied.

Jeanson received 44 votes of the 132 cast by the firemen, Ralph Heberer received 41 votes for the office and Gerard Ofenloch also got 41 votes. There were 3 blank ballots and 3 ballots void.

The contest highlighted the election. Two write-ins were noted. "Fuzzy" Hamel got 2 write-ins for chief, and "Whitey" Dyckman received 4 write-ins for assistant chief.

Stanford Weiss was elected chief with 121 ballots, succeeding Daniel Munch, who was not a candidate for re-election. Edward Schluter, Jr., received 100 ballots. Others elected without opposition were Walter Baldwin, secretary; Joseph H. Eisemann, financial secretary; Fred Miller, treasurer, and Fred Masters Cr., delegate to the 9th battalion district.

Polls in the firehouse were open from 7 to 10 p. m. However, it was almost an hour after the polls closed that the results were made public by Joseph Braun, chairman of the board of tellers. Their job was complicated by the close count and the presence of questionable ballots which may have swung the election in the three-way race for second assistant.

Chief Weiss and other officers were formally installed at the department meeting, Monday night, by Fire Commissioner George Engel.

Appoints Committee

One of his first official duties for Weiss was the appointment of standing committees for the year 1950-51. They are:

Audit—Harold Manaskie Sr., chairman; Walter Danow, Henry Engler, Charles Ambron and William Glaser.

Law—Harry Borley, chairman; Joseph Eisemann, Walter Eicher and John Leckie.

Deputies—Frank Stizzo and John Miller.

Exempts—Walter Baldwin, chairman; Carl Eisemann; Joseph Eisemann, Dearen Healey, Hubert Ofenloch and Lawrence Baroletti (Department and company secretaries).

Grievances—Medard Ofenloch, chairman; Conrad Schlauch, Chas. Hafner, Paul Miller and Anselm Ofenloch (company captains).

Grandstand—Anthony Chayka, chairman; Raymond Vietheer, Charles Sauer, J. Hanley, George McCue, John Miller, George Engel, Conrad Schlauch, J. Gordon Ulmer and Edward Kemeier.

Labor Day Tournament—Edward Dwyer, chairman.

Racing Team—Gerard Ofenloch, captain.

Department Surgeon—Dr. Walter F. Stillger.

Department Chaplain—Andrew B. Heberer.

Fire Inspectors—Vincent W. Braun, Charles Steinhauer and George Metz.

BETHPAGE—Robert Gillespie was elected chief of the Fire Department at an election held Thursday night, Apr. 6, at the firehouse. Other unopposed officers elected were: Harold Looney, first deputy; George Ludwig, second deputy; Edward Schaaf, secretary; and Henry Schaaf, treasurer.

Jericho Firemen Elect Sidoraki Chief

JERICHO—Anthony Sidoraki was elected chief of the Fire Department at an election held Thursday night, Apr. 6, at the firehouse. He was opposed for the office by Joseph Oliveri and Ralph Piekta.

Eneo Manfroy was elected first assistant chief, Stanley Klobakowski was elected assistant chief in a contest with Louis Greggo. Other officers are: Joseph Mayz, captain; Philip Zulkofsky, first lieutenant; M. L. Chittenden, treasurer, and Francis Davis, secretary.

He asked the cooperation of parents in not allowing the children to cross the road to pick of mail, but rather to go directly to their homes after leaving the bus. He cautioned the parents of the danger of a child carrying pens or pencils in his hands on a bus in case he tumbles. He advised that each child sit with his books and lunch on his lap in order to keep the hands occupied and so lessen the hazards on the bus.

And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. . . My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: . . . My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. LISTEN TO THE DOCTOR: Should Public Know About Medicine?

By J. A. LOPENER, MD
2 Essex Lane, Hicksville

There was a time when doctors used to talk to each other in their own secret language—mostly Latin—when they often gave a very strange and serious sounding name to the most simple disease, when they never answered a sounding or his relative's question in a simple understandable way, but just shook their heads and smiled or patted them consolingly on their shoulders. There was also a time—not so long ago—that mothers chewed first the food they put then directly into their babies' mouths thereby often transmitting to them tuberculosis or other infectious diseases; a time when cow manure was used for healing wounds, etc.

All this was not done because medical science did not know anything about the dangers of such doings, but because of the complete ignorance of laymen of the basic facts of physiology, anatomy, hygiene, and preventive medicine. In the last 20 years it has been gradually more and more recognized that in order to prevent, fight, and possibly eradicate preventable or curable diseases not only progress in medical science, better training of practicing physicians, better hospitals and diagnostic facilities were necessary, but—just as important—full cooperation on the part of the layman. Such cooperation can only be achieved by spreading more knowledge among them, knowledge based on scientific facts and not on superstitious beliefs and bombastic talk of quacks.

Health education was introduced into many school curriculums, lectures are frequently held in P-TAs, newspapers and magazines report regularly on medical progress, new discoveries and treatments—and still, every practicing physician will tell you of what shocking ignorance in medical or hygienic matters he encounters among laymen. Even the educated, who know a lot of other sciences, history, literature and nuclear physics, know next to nothing of their own body, of the basic functions of its organs, of physical and mental hygiene, first aid in the house, proper nursing or preparing a sick diet.

That's why—at least in the opinion of this writer—every doctor, especially in smaller communities, where people have less time and access to educational institutions in this field, should devote at least a part of his time to the task of spreading knowledge and educating the layman as a public service. Greater knowledge will also help to prevent the development of anxiety neurosis based on ignorance and resulting fear which is often transmitted from parents to their infants, thereby laying the foundation for future neuroses in them.

Research, progress of medical science, better training of doctors, is one way, better health education and of cooperation on the part of the lay public is the only other way to bring about a healthier and happier life for the generations to come and for our country.

Charles Hartigan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartigan, Sr., of 27 Carolyn St., Bethpage, celebrated his second birthday with a party on Easter Sunday. The guests were his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. John Shenocks of Hicksville, grandmother Mrs. Anthony Spindler, Michel Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donelli and children, Robert, Carol and Mary Ann, all of Bethpage, Miss Madeleine Shenocks of Hicksville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sepanski of Mount Sinai.

Plumbing Code

essential for the health and welfare of the teeming millions of New York City where the majority rent and require the protection therein afforded from unscrupulous handiwork and owners who perhaps could effect a savings while slighting the diameter of a soil pipe.

"Change the location and reconsider: would the owner of a one and a half story structure (a coming sight in the township) by his knowledge, jeopardize in any way the health and welfare of its occupants, namely his wife, children and himself?"

"Moreover, many are they of us who find it more than a little difficult to pay the price of the pipe and fixtures much less the standard wage of plumbers for that laundry in the cellar or garage, or toilet later contemplated for the now unfinished attic. In addition, the plumbers themselves certainly would not take all the cost of licenses, permits and certificates.

Loss All Around

"Under the proposed code," Sundberg continued, "the residents lose all the way around: increased taxes, plumbing cost and miscellaneous fees.

"That a code is necessary is undeniable but let's be reasonable. The present practise followed in the township with regards to electrical wiring might well be studied for paralleling in plumbing. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, 85 John St., New York 7, N. Y., will send on request the wiring practices necessary to maintain fire insurance validity. At the completion of a wiring job, the home owner, through the LI Lighting Co., applies for an inspection, and having successfully passed this, is issued a certificate. It is as simple as that.

"The Town Board has supplied the plumbing practices. Let it now drop the proposed personal restrictions. Let us have only one plumbing inspector (code provided for board of three) and he without the constitutional right of freedom of entry at any hour of the day or night. Then I believe that we will have something that the people want."

Letters To The Editor

THANK YOU, MR. BEAN

HICKSVILLE — With the completion of another semester of the highly successful Adult Education Program, the time is certainly right to pay tribute to the man who has so conscientiously and capably headed the program, namely our colleague, Mr. Elery H. Bean.

From all corners we have heard and reiterated praise for Mr. Bean who has given so readily and ungrudgingly of his time and effort. Possessing such qualities as "understanding, capable, community-minded, fair, keen-sighted," this man is one whom we have all appreciated and enjoyed working with.

The people of Hicksville are very fortunate to have a man of Mr. Bean's high qualities — a quiet, yet completely efficient person, to head this worthwhile program and we all extend our sincere thanks to Mr. Bean along with the hope that he will continue to work for Adult Education.
 (Signed) AMW

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

HICKSVILLE — As a student of the just concluded Adult Education Program, I wish to state that I found this program most enjoyable and sincerely hope that it will continue in the future under the able direction of Mr. Bean and the people who conducted the classes. I am delighted to see that the budget for next school year includes an adequate appropriation for this project and hope that driver-training may be included in the fall.

What Counts???

That is a question we have been turning over in our mind since the trend in all sports has swung from rewarding consistently good effort in the season as a whole to recognizing only as real accomplishment these feats achieved in quick and unpredictable hours of post season play.

The annexing of both the National Invitation and N.C. A.A. basketball titles by the College of the City of New York is our main point of argument. Regardless of the respect one must have for City's brilliant execution in driving to the championships, it is felt here that City never should have been in either tourney.

If the New York schools had not forced the National Invitation to expand to a 22-team tourney back in 1949, City wouldn't be the rage of the court world today. In '49 the National was faced with the problem of having four teams from New York with just about the same mediocre records. The question arose as to which one should be invited. A decision was hard to reach so all four were asked and the tourney field enlarged.

All four were soundly bounced out in the first round. But the door was open and City used it again this year.

During the regular season, City won 48 and lost 5 games on the friendly homeboards of Madison Square. If the field had not been one for 12 teams, City could hardly have been asked with such a mark.

City got hot in the National and then was asked to represent District Two in the N.C.A.A. It was not so much for its seasonal record but for its showing in the National.

Getting it closer to home let's take the case of the recent Nassau Alliance race. North Merrick won the regular season race with an 18 and 1 record. Hempstead wound up in fourth place with a mark of 13 and 6. In the one game playoff, Hempstead won and North Merrick's fine season record went unrewarded.

Bringing it home we had much the same chance for such a happening here. In the very well conducted Junior P.B.C. league, the Clinches won 27 games numbering among them several wins over the Gueks. However, in the playoffs they had to beat them again to win the trophies.

A loss would have left the Clinches empty handed with 27 wins out of 28 starts on the season.

The point is that too much value is being placed on post-season play. Quality in competition is lost during the regular campaign with the club eyeing just a berth in the playoffs.

We are not in accord with thinking that places importance on a play off in which the contestants are not evenly matched by reason of accomplishment.

What do you think counts?

Bunny Population Gaining Rapidly

HICKVILLE — Long Island and the mid-Island section has more rabbits at large this year than it has seen in many a season and it's not because last Sunday was Easter.

Robert (Bunny) Botto, ardent members of the Sportsman's Club, has been calling weekly meetings of the rabbits in this section just to "court noses." Uncle Sam is not the only one taking a census in 1950.

Bob is chairman of the rabbit department for the Sportsman and it was his charge to obtain several crates of the animals from the west and release them around this community on lands posted by the club. He reports that this year has seen the arrival of crates and crates of the bunnies for release on Long Island under the auspices of clubs of sportsmen. The catbirds on the Island make ideal cover for rabbits, he has found, and the little animals are expected to thrive mightily.

After a series of weekly nose-counting meetings, it is noted about, the bunnies are due to "get a shot in the head."

THE MIDDLES . . . By Bob Karp

Sound Off . . . News and Views of VFW Post 3211

The Ladies Auxiliary of the William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was organized on April 25, 1940, at the home of Mrs. Julius Heberer. There were present seventeen interested women, of whom Mesdames Mary Colgan, Norma Dieffenbach, Betty McBrean and Charlotte Mack are still active in the Auxiliary today. The only Gold Star Mother member is Mrs. Emma Rohrback.

The members of the Auxiliary hold their business meetings on the first Thursday of each month and meet, presently, in the Holy Trinity Church Hall on Jerusalem Avenue. On the third Thursdays of each month the ladies have a social meeting at which time some worthwhile project is undertaken. At present the women are actively engaged in knitting and crocheting lap robes for the patients at St. Albans Hospital. Last Christmas, five such robes were distributed to patients at the Farmingdale Sanitarium along with candy and books for the children. Once a year they visit the veterans at the Northport Hospital, where they dance with the vets and entertain them, distribute refreshments and cigarettes.

The making of lap robes is a tremendous task, but the ladies are doing this great work only too willingly and cheerfully. However, if any readers have any ends of wool or any old wool that can be used or reused in making robes for these veterans at the various hospitals, the members of the Auxiliary would be most grateful to you for any and all donations. Your packages can be forwarded directly to Mrs. Henrietta Araell, president, VFW Auxiliary, Underhill Ave., Hicksville.

The ladies are at present sponsoring an Americanism Program at the local Jr. High School by showing history and travel films. Also, an essay contest on the topic, "Peace With Honor For America." To the first and second prize winners they are going to award a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and an essay medal, respectively.

On April 25, at an open installation in the hall mentioned above, the Auxiliary will install the following newly elected officers for the year 1950-1951: President, Henrietta Araell; Sr. Vice-President, Phyllis Wangerheim; Jr. Vice-President, Anna Vietheer; Chaplain, Laura Doering; Conductress, Magdalen Korfitzen; Treasurer, Dorothy Mulligan; Secretary, Florence Mavey; Patrie Instructor, Josephine Baggott; Guard, Martha Fitting; Trustees, Mary Colgan, Elaine Russell, Winifred Fitting; District Delegates, Dorothy Mulligan and Frieda Grimes; County Council Delegates, Mary Colgan and Martha Fitting; Banner Bearer, Violet Postenreider; Flag Bearer, Marie Muhlenbruck; Color Bearers, Catherine Lumm, Charlotte Maxey, Anna Aydent and Jean Meluchnik.

Ladies of the Auxiliary, you are to be commended for the special activities you are undertaking, the fine spirit that prevails throughout your organization, and for the splendid progress you have made during the past ten years. Keep up the good work!

IN-ONE OPINION:

Home Owners Complain--No Dirt

PETITIONS ARE TODAY circulating in all the new home developments of Hicksville, requesting the Oyster Bay Town Board to prosecute several developers as violators of the Town Topsoil Ordinance. The petitioners believe there are violations of the ordinance.

The petition states "the property surrounding our homes has been ruthlessly stripped of its natural vegetative cover and supply of organic material, rendering most all of our property unproductive for lawns and gardens, thus lowering land values.

"Bare earth has been left for the most part or covered so lightly as to allow the rains and wind to carry it off.

The petitioners call attention to the section of the town ordinance which states "there shall be left upon the surface of the land from which top soil is removed not less than six inches of topsoil."

As new home owners of the townships, they are addressing their plea to the town fathers.

The petitions are being circulated by the Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc. through its Topsoil Committee headed by William L. Geyer of 21 Grove St.

Meanwhile, residents of the Frank Homes section have begun an effort--independent of the petitions--to see if they cannot bring group legal action against their developer. A committee of four of the residents have been inciting their neighborhood to win support for their plan.

And on the local scene we note with pleasure that Governor Dewey has signed a bill which will authorize the Town of Oyster Bay to clean up vacant lots if the owners refuse to do so. The Town can move in, on complaint, remove rubbish and debris, and put the cost on the offender's tax bill.

The passage of this legislation is especially appropriate with the approach of clean-up week the end of this month.

And also on the local scene we note a warning from the County Health Dept. in its latest monthly periodical: "The Tick season is near". It will be recalled there was considerable agitation about tick control in this area last year, with little success. In the interval, a good part of the suspected area has been dug up and become the site of new homes.

However, the warning is timely. If an infected tick has been attached to the body as long as six hours, it is possible that Rocky Mountain spotted fever will develop. The common carrier in the eastern part of the United States is the dog tick--Dermacentor variabilis, according to the health department.

In removing tick, bare hands should not be used. A small piece of cloth, cotton or paper held between the fingers will afford adequate protection. Since dogs are carriers of ticks, they should be inspected frequently and all ticks removed from them with a small pair of pinners.

What's Your Problem

The HERALD will attempt to provide the answer to any local civic questions from its readers if they will write PO Box 306, Hicksville, or telephone Hicksville 3-306. Typical questions will be published here from time to time.

Q--Where is the unemployment office, formerly at 289 Broadway, Hicksville, now located?

A--Operating under one roof, the Hicksville office, the one formerly at 175 Jackson St., Hempstead, and the office formerly at 79 Washington St., Hempstead, of the Division of Placement and Unemployment, New York State Department of Labor, are now at 344 Fulton St., Hempstead.

Q. How much is being forgiven on the New York State income tax returns this year?--Newbridge Rd.

A. After your State Tax has been computed, 10 per cent of the amount is deducted this year. Returns must be filed by Apr. 15.

County Okays New Route for Highway

MINEOLA--Following a public hearing on Monday morning, the Board of Supervisors upon motion of Supervisor Harry Tappan of Oyster Bay, approved the proposed re-routing of South Oyster Bay Rd. to the west of Grumman's Plant 5, abandoning present right of way, as a through road, to the east.

When the new section is constructed an airplane landing trip will be extended. Grumman will provide the land necessary for the new right-of-way.

8 OUT OF 10 AGREE: Levitt Should Provide At Least 2 Schools For Houses Underway in Hicksville Area

Eight out of ten people agree with the Hicksville Civic Assoc. that Levitt and Sons "should provide two or three schools for the 3000 homes he plans to build in Hicksville School District."

That is the results of a sampling of local opinion conducted recently by the Herald. In 11 answers it was found that eight agreed with the civics, two disagreed, and a third had no opinion.

One of those agreeing commented, however, "Isn't this wishful thinking?" On the question "do you see cause for alarm in this Levitt movement north into Hicksville" seven said "yes" and four said "no."

Asked if the area in which Levitt is building in Hicksville School District should be called "Levittown" as part of a greater development, the replies were unanimous. All said "no," the area should be known as Hicksville.

Three felt it will be the general advantage of Hicksville to have Levitt develop the area, and eight felt it would be to Hicksville's disadvantage.
