Advisory Group Backs Teacher Pay Increases

HICKSVILLE—Based upon a survey of Nassau County School Districts in which 54 out of 60 replied, the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Education here has adopted recommendations of a sub-committee on salaries headed by Jack Drutman and forwarded the report to the Board of Education. The recommendations provide for an increase in the present schedule, covering teachers and principals' salaries in the system. Members of Drutman's committee which held numerous meetings before compiling the report, suggested by the School Board, included John Ehrenfeld, Sidney Kosby, Patrick Naso, William Orton, Adolph Sojinen and Wilton Leavitt.

The Advisory Committee, headed by George McIntosh, voted to refrain from publicizing specific details of the report until it has been considered by the Board of Education.

The Committee was scheduled to hold a meeting last night (Monday) on the proposed expansion program including early submission of a proposition for the enlargement of additions to the four 10-room elementary schools opened a year ago.

Glass Dealer Wins Co. Stock

NEW YORK—Sidney Estow, glass dealer of Hicksville, has been awarded 100 shares of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. stock worth $4,175 at Friday, Jan. 15 closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and $1,000 in cash for naming the company's new high precision plate glass, Parallel-o-Plate.

Parallel-o-Plate is made on recently installed twin-grinding equipment, first of its kind in the country, according to an article in the New York Times. Much of the new glass will go to meet military requirements where freedom from distortion is essential, and some will be available for home mirrors, the Times declares.

Adult Enrollment Now Over 800

HICKSVILLE—With more than 800 enrolled in the Spring Term of the Adult Education Program held at the high school, Monday thru Thursday evenings, Director, Elery H. Bean today announced that there are still vacancies for a few students in "Automatic Transmissions" on Monday nights with special appeal to garage mechanics. There are also openings for a limited number of adults in the language classes in German, French and Spanish, he said. New enrollments are accepted each evening, except Friday, at the high school starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Lions to Hear Maritime Officer

HICKSVILLE—Lieut. Commander Louis E. Bejarano of the Merchant Marine Academy will be guest speaker tomorrow (Wednesday) night when the Lions Club meets for dinner at the Rainbow Restaurant at 7 o'clock. Commander Bejarano is a resident of Malverne. The club is making final plans for its part in the Joint Service Club dinner-dance on Feb. 6 at the Hempstead Elks.

Donate to Dimes March Yet?

HICKSVILLE—Mrs. Thomas J. Bergin of Park Ave., chairman of the March of Dimes here, urges all who have received appeal letters to please make their returns as soon as possible. Those who have responded to date, along with the earlier list published are: Gilison Knitwear, Manetto Lodge, Spiro's, Preferred Transmix Concrete Co., Bank of Hicksville, Kantor Bros., American Legion Post, Goldman's, Mrs. Hazel MacPherson, Argo Schildmecht Lumber Co., Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeMonaco and Miss Hazel R. Jackson of Mineola.

The Mother's March is now on and volunteers are very pleased, so far, with the wonderful response. Over 150 women are canvassing the Hicksville area and that, in itself, is very gratifying to have so many helping to fight polio, Mrs. Bergin said. She also announced that Lou Millevotte has been collecting from the business firms here.

Jamaica Woman Seeks Your Help

The assistance of the Herald has been requested by Mrs. R. Lambert of Jamaica in finding a family in Hicksville by the name of "Barden". She asks if the "family who received the bound dogs on Thursday from Jamaica will please contact her immediately". Mrs. Lambert's phone number is Olympia 7-0455. Friends of this family are asked to assist in relaying this information.

CONTROLS ISLAND'S ELECTRICITY:

MORE THAN 50 executives of United States electric utilities were visitors to Hicksville last week on Thursday and toured the L. I. Lighting Co.'s Central Operating Headquarters on Old Country Rd. LILCO Vice President Edward C. Duffy, right, explained the operation of the console controlling the electric network for the Island to Raymond C.

Judd of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co., one of the visitors. William McConachle, left, assistant planning engineer of the L. I. Lighting Co., was a member of the American Institute of Electric Inspection Trip Committee which sponsored the visit here.

Brengel Gets Real Expert With Cornerstone Routine

HICKSVILLE—School Board President Henry C. Brengel handled the trowel like a master mason at the cornerstone laying ceremonies for the Woodland Ave. elementary school building, here, for an audience of 30 adults and children yesterday (Monday) morning. It was the seventh cornerstone for the school expansion program he placed in three years.

The tiny metal box in the cornerstone was filled to capacity under the supervision of Dr. E. H. LeBaron, superintendent of schools, before the stone was set in place. Placements included: Miss Nina Plantz, principal of East St. School, with something from each class in her school; James Walters who will be principal of the new building, with something from Nicholas students who will attend Woodland Ave.; Olive Foyan, president of East St. P-TA; Mrs. Merton Wilbur, for Girls Scouts; Harry Ennenwein, Lions Club; Charles Montana, Kiwanis; Joseph E. Bayer, Long Island National Bank; and Dr. LeBaron for Board of Education.

Better Movies Plea to P-TA Council

HICKSVILLE—Providing better and more wholesome movies locally for children is to be sought through an appeal to PTA Council, it was decided at a meeting Jan. 19 of the Parent Teacher Executive Board of the Junior High School at the home of Mrs. Charles Glasser.

The advisability of studying the type of movie being offered to children was discussed.

It was voted to write "thank you" notes to the Hicksville merchants for their wholehearted response to our "Fun and Funds" Bridge. Surplus prizes will be auctioned at the next meeting February 4th.

A summer program for girls of Junior High School Age will be planned. It was thought that tennis, archery and other sports that would appeal to them could be provided.

The next dance for the children will be held Friday evening, Jan. 20.

RIGHT OUT OF TEXT BOOK:

8th Grade Pupils Here Taught It's Natural Move to Seek Home Rule

HICKSVILLE—The orderly process of seeking home rule in a community of over 5,000 persons through incorporation as a village is so logical that it is taught in the elementary school, here, it was learned this week.

A text book used in 8th grade, "America, Land of Democracy", gives weight to arguments advanced by the local Home Rule Committee in its continuing efforts to obtain Home Rule for this community of more than 30,000 persons.

"When one section of a county, or town, becomes more thickly populated than the surrounding area, the people naturally desirous of improving local conditions, petition the Town Supervisor to have the place incorporated as a village", the text book explains.

"Most states require that the matter be submitted to a referendum of the people, and that a certain population be reached before granting such a petition."

There are four classes of villages in New York. The first class has 5,000 or more inhabitants, the second class 3000 to 5000, the third class 1000 to 3000, and the fourth

Daily Street Sweeping by Town?

ELMONT—Discussing incorporation at a meeting of civic association members here last week, Lawrence A. Roman, chairman of the Hicksville Home Rule Committee, quoted what he described as "the little green gem" to demonstrate the tactics of those who attempt to deprive the community of self government.

He found particular amusement in the publication of the so-called Hicksville Research Committee on "Facts Against Incorporation" of the section about roads and drainage.

He quoted a portion which states "Hicksville has received considerable service in excess of less densely populated areas, such as considerable money spent on drainage and the FACT THAT THE STREETS IN HICKSVILLE ARE SWEEPED DAILY and in other areas only once a week."

Roman commented, "I have seen town highway workers sweeping my street only once in eight years. And that is the kind of twisted and inaccurate statements that the opposition to home rule uses" he warned the audience of nearly 200.

Miss Joan Rife Becomes Bride

Wearing a waltz length gown of white Chantilly lace over slipper satin, Miss Joan Rife, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric P. Tunke of 22 Spruce St., became the bride of Herman Schuman, son of Mr. Barbara DeLuca of 84 Spindle Rd., in a double-ring ceremony solemnized by the Rev. Edward H. Stammel in Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville, at five o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, Jan. 23.

The bride's fingertip veil, was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white Bible marked with white roses and streamers of lilies of the valley. Large bouquets of white carnations and tall lighted white tapers formed a pretty background for the ceremony. Three pews on each side of the church were marked with white satin ribbon and carnations. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Roberta Sipt, as maid of honor, wore a nylon and tulle gown in candy green created with a small satin capelet to match. Her halo hat matched her gown while her shower bouquet was composed of yellow roses.

The bride's brother, Albert Rife, was best man. Ushers were her cousin, Paul A. Huckenstein, and a brother of the bridegroom, Edward Schuman. The male members of the wedding party wore midnight blue tuxedos.

A dinner was served at the reception which followed in Legion Hall for 75 wedding guests. The bride and bridegroom cut a three tier wedding cake. Entertainment was presented by a group from Egg Monmouth, N.J.

To travel on their honeymoon, the destination of which was not revealed, the new Mrs. Schuman wore a navy blue gabardine suit with accessories in white. On their return they will be at home at 27 Lafayette St., Westbury.

Committees Disappearing?

The phenomenal population growth of Long Island of the past few years is bringing about a number of changes in our manner of living. And we can't help wondering if they are all good changes. The mushrooming housing developments are enveloping and swallowing up whole communities. Island Trees was first. Hicksville was threatened by Levitt building northward. Now Plainville has fallen victim. Many people will say, "So what?", but let's look into it a bit.

Community Problems

First of all, our country is built up of individual communities where people live together and work together on mutual community problems. Perhaps education of our youth is the most important of these. Certainly it is the most expensive. Other problems include maintenance of the community facilities to suit the residents, fire protection, police protection, sanitation, recreation, street lighting, and what have you. These community problems are best resolved by the people of each individual community working together as a unit. If we should ever lose that spirit of working together, we will lose something very important. We will suffer by the loss, but our children will suffer even more.

Community Center

In our youth our communities—our home towns if you will—all had a central location which was called the general store, the village, or downtown, depending on the size of the community. The people not only did their shopping, but they also did much of their "socializing" there. It was a favorite gathering place for the youth. There was frequently also a place where public gatherings for various purposes were held. For instance public band concerts were enjoyed by many people, young and old. These things exist in a great many communities today. But they are almost non-existent in this area, and it is our loss.

Shopping Centers

The great population growth placed such demands on merchants that new methods of merchandising were developed. In the last few years we have seen the development of mammoth shopping centers. Such, people go to them in droves and the owners may reap millions of dollars. But can these shopping centers ever take the place of "the general store, the village, or downtown"? Can they ever provide the community with the intangible benefits that help make a community a good place to live? These are indeed questions worth thinking about.

Loyalty To Community

People living in a community develop a loyalty to it. Most of us have a nostalgia for our own home towns. Our children are developing a loyalty to Hicksville and a great many of them will in future years think of Hicksville as their home town. This is a good thing because all of us need a sense of belonging and the idea of "home town" fits in very well to this need.

Divided Loyalty

Community life and community loyalty are disrupted by anything that tends to divide the people of a community. This is one of the many reasons why the overlapping special service districts of Nassau County are bad. It is one of the reasons why the Joint Oyster Bay-Hempstead Swimming Pool and Community Hall District is bad. And it is an overwhelming reason why Levittown Hall is bad. A community center, Levittown Hall was built in just about the worst possible location from the viewpoint of community loyalties. It became the symbol of community disunity and at best it can only represent an undesirable compromise in community spirit. We are afraid that for a long time it will be a monument to Levitt's foolishness in trying to force a loyalty to himself, and the community he named after himself, upon an unwilling people.

In People's Corner

By ALLEN S. CARPENTIER

Scoutmasters, Cub Masters, Scout and Cub Scout Committeemen, and Den Mothers work with our boys day after day, month in and month out. Their only reward is the inner conviction that they are doing something worth while—that they are in some small measure contributing to the proper growth and development of our younger generation. Scout Masters and their assistants hold regular meetings for the boys one evening every week. With their patrol leaders they attend planning meetings on another evening each week. They go to training courses to teach or learn, to cub pack committee meetings, district scouter meetings, and troop committee meetings each month. Week ends are often spent with the scouts on hikes or overnight camping trips. Most of their time is spent on scouting, and in what's left over, they earn their living.

Cub Masters and Adult Committeemen work on the planning of monthly programs, work preparing craft projects, work raising money to support their unit, work on membership, work on advancement and administration, work as councilors.

Written in the Interest of Better Local Government

Their work for the youngsters is carried over into their other community activities. Their interest in our youth controls their viewpoint in their associations with their churches, their parent teacher groups, their veterans organization, their civic associations, and all other community endeavours and activities in which they may find themselves engaged.

Cub Scout Den Mothers hold their regular meetings for the boys once a week, and probably spend another day in preparation. With the Cub Master and other adult committeemen they go to pack committee meetings, district round table meetings, training courses, and pack meetings. They spend a lot of time and energy day after day, week after week, working for our youngsters. They too run a house and raise a family—their work is never done.

Over 153 adult scouters in our hamlet of Hicksville serve our youth all year round. Once a year everyone is asked to do their part to support the scout movement. Why don't you join the proudest team in America, and serve with and for, the Boy Scouts of America, on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31?

Installation Social Was Fine

By MAY MALJEAN
Hicksville 3-5515

Those of you who didn't get over to the installation social for Woodbury Gardens Civic Ass'n. missed a fine time. The social activities committee was thanked for the splendid job they did for the Christmas party and all of the other activities in which they participated. Pierre Charbonnet said adieu as president, and introduced Don Drummond, who is president for the coming year. For complete list of officers, check civic notes. It was good to see all of the neighbors under one roof, and we all partook of food and drink, and on the whole a wonderful time was had by all.

Jim Peitras of Hillside Terrace is tiling his downstairs bathroom. It looks beautiful. Mrs. Jean Lains, of H.T. again, can get a discount for anyone interested on the detergent. All interested readers please phone HI 3-4325 or phone us. A Woodbury Manor note: The Zoddas, of Elm St., have finished off their basement. They have installed a kitchen and bathroom, and it really looks grand. Mrs. Kate Helfand, of Woodbury Manor, gave me a list of the names of the girls of the Sisterhood of Shari Zadek who are working for a donor dinner. The proceeds will go to the building fund. LOCKED IN What publicity man for the Amvets got himself locked in the hall one night last week for two hours?

Woodbury Garden Civic Notes

The Woodbury Civic Assoc. held its Installation Social last Thursday evening at the Amvets Hall on Marie St. The new officers are: President: Don Drummond, Briggs St.; Vice President Frank McDermott, Smith St.; Secretary, Frank Hamilton, Moeller St.; Treasurer: Marie Ragusea, Keacham Ave.

Committees to be formed are Social Activities, Auditing, Publicity, Civic Improvement and Membership. Executive committee: Tom Hogan, Vincent Road; Natta Powell, Keacham Ave.; Pierre Charbonnet, Briggs St.; John Todd, Fulton Ave., and Dave Roth, Keacham Ave.

In order to be extricated, the door had to be removed from the hinges from the outside. He phoned almost everyone he knew while he was locked in but, alas, it seemed as if everyone was out, except Jim Surless, who came to the rescue.

LOCKED OUT

The Kellys, of Vincent Road, are driving a new car. Good luck with it. Speaking of the Kellys, Mary Kelly will not forget the time she was locked-out of her house on a very rainy night. They have a spare key that they used to keep on the window sill. Mary asked the Mecklenburgs to help her reach the key from outside, Alas—no key!

Ruth Mecklenburg stood there holding the umbrella in the pouring rain while the trio went into a huddle. Since Mary was the slightest it was decided that it would be best to lift her into the kitchen window. Miscalculation—Mary got herself stuck in the window.

It was a sight to see these people in that teeming rain with Mary stuck half in and half out of the window. There was nothing else to do but laugh. Gallant Al Mecklenburg had the situation well in hand and gave Mary a not-so-gentle shove through the window. Thud! and they stood out there wondering what happened with Mary. When Mary's husband arrived home he wondered why they could not find the key which was right where it usually was.

MOTHERS MARCH

These women have volunteered their services to help out in the Mothers March on Polio in Woodbury Gardens: Mrs. Peragallo, Mrs. R. Manville, Mrs. H. Frank, Mrs. Steyer, and Mrs. Gropp. We wish to thank them for their help.

RECIPE

This is a recipe from Israel: Falafel (Israel's hot dogs). The popular snack to eat out of hand in Israel is Falafel. Overnight soak 1 1/2 lbs of chick peas in water 5-6 hours. You can also obtain chick peas in the can and eliminate soaking. Drain thoroughly. Put the peas through the fine blade of a food chopper together with six peeled sections of garlic and 2 T salt. Meanwhile, soak 2 small red peppers 5 min. in one cup water. Mix water and seeds from peppers into the chick peas. Shape and press into half balls in the palm of the hand. Dust with enriched flour. Fry golden brown in deep veg. fat at 375 degrees F. Drain on absorbant paper.

Comets First League Win 54-49

HICKSVILLE — Shaved by three points in its first two starts and indicated that Chet Jaworski's team is rounding into a compact, little unit. Hicksville's scoring was evenly divided, but the Orange got its push from the outside shooting of Ed Scott and Bob Paton while Dick Evaschuk produced the evening's outstanding defensive work. Less than 200 watched the game and the majority made the trip from Sea Cliff. Victory came unexpectedly from the foul line where the Comets dumped 20 of 34 shots to 15 of 27 for the losers. Despite the outside efforts of Scott and Paton, Hicksville was in serious trouble late in the second stanza when it was 28-22, Sea Cliff.

However, the Cliffmen were overzealous and fouled repeatedly in the final minute and a half and conversions by Joe Pepe, Paton and Evaschuk enabled narrowing the gap to 30-27 for halftime. STAYS IN FRONT Mike Contant zipped in a set two minutes after the start of the third period to give Hicksville a 36-35 lead, and the Comets controled a slow game from that point. Six-three John Nelson, with 18 points for the night, tried to pull the champs through the three baskets closed a Comet edge to 48-44.

Clever ball handling and dribbling by Paton, Pepe and Scott ate 68 seconds off the clock and once inside the last three minutes Scott bounced passed to Evaschuk in the bucket for a neat two points.

Sea Cliff had to come after the ball and Hicksville used the fouls to build up a six point edge.

SPORT-O-GRAMS
By Nat Ferrare HEAVY ODDS!
The recent, much-publicized basketball scandal should be basketball's best booster. When you consider how many thousands of young people play this fine game every afternoon and night of the week, you can readily appreciate the honesty of the sport. If one incident makes such nation-wide headlines, there is nothing much the matter with basketball. For that reason, all thinking people will continue to give their active support to the game. You can readily appreciate the importance of efficient automobile service. That is particularly true during the Winter months. Keep your car running smoothly in all kinds of weather. Have it serviced today at Broadway Service Station, Broadway and James Street, Phone HI-3-9702.

Name 9 Scout Fund Captains

Area captains were appointed this week by Mrs. Wolf Germann, of 32 Bronner Ave., community chairman for the annual fund campaign for the Boy Scouts of America.

Captains are Rod Hartjen, Walter Baxter, Sam Merin, Earl Krimsner, Henry Rockhill, Ed Callaghan, Ed Schutz, Doug Kent and Jack Michaelson. They and teams of Bethpage residents will center their campaign on a house-to-house canvass for voluntary donations January 31.

Because of the increase in Beth-page Scouting program, the campaign seeks to better the $1,200 donated last year. Six Boy Scouting groups now are active in Bethpage, enrolling Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, from age 8, through the late teens.

Mrs. Barta Heads Pius X Society

HICKSVILLE—Mrs. John Barta has been named president of the Blessed Pius X Society of St. Ignatius Church which is composed of parents of the Confraternity children and meets on the first Monday of each month at 3:15 P. M. in the St. Ignatius school hall. More than 2,000 children are confraternity members.

Name Bentley For President

FARMINGDALE—The Young Democratic Club of the Town of Oyster Bay met for the first time this year on Thursday evening at the VFW hall, here.

Carlton H. Bentley, 8 Regina St., Hicksville, was nominated for president of the club for 1954. Other candidates include: Murray Altman, 18 Hollins Rd., Hicksville, for treasurer; William De Leo, 10 Violet Ave., Hicksville Zone representative; Francis V. Guelpa, 4 Centre St., Bethpage Zone representative, and Ted Swienci, 13 Jarvis Ave., Syosset Zone representative.

Elections will be held next month.

The principle speaker of the evening was John Form, manager of the Hempstead office of the Social Security Administration, who discussed the new social security act, including the amendments suggested by the Administration.

HOME RULE

The text gives the lie to gloomy predictions of the minority anti-home rule element which claim incorporation as a village would result in a lot of "high paying jobs". The book explains "villages are miniature cities. They are governed by a Mayor and a Board of Trustees elected for a term of two years at a village meeting which closely resembles the town meeting. A pokes judge is also elected, but his term is four years. Officials such as the clerk, the treasurer, the assessors and the collectors and other minor village officials are appointed by the Board of Trustees for a term of two years.

"In villages of the first class, the Mayor receives a salary of $1200; members of Board $600. frequently they serve without pay."
