Prudential Reception To Mark Expansion Here

HICKSVILLE—Operations of The Prudential Insurance Co. in the mid-Island area have expanded to such a degree that the office here is being made a separate district, it was announced this week. Heretofore the office has functioned as a branch of the company's Huntington District Office.

The territory of the new district will embrace not only Hicksville and Levittown but Williston Park, Westbury, Bethpage, Mineola, East Meadow and Plainview as well as a number of other smaller communities.

To mark its "coming of age," the new district will hold a reception in its offices at 7 West Maple St., Friday, Jan. 29. Several executives from Prudential's headquarters in Newark, N. J., are expected to attend. Also Emanuel M. Belkin, director of agencies in charge of all Long Island offices, who makes his headquarters in Brooklyn.

Change Speaker On RR Problems

HICKSVILLE—Paul A. Blauvelt of the LI Rail Road will discuss problems of the rail road at a meeting of the East Meadow Home Owners Assoc. next Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 8:30 PM in Levittown Hall, here. Coleman O. Parsons, president of the civic group, had invited William Wren, trustee of the LIRR who first had accepted the invitation and then, later, announced Blauvelt will fill the assignment. The public is invited to attend.

Civics To Exchange Information

HICKSVILLE—Representatives of 10 civic associations formed the Hicksville Civic Information Exchange at a meeting this week with the sole purpose of providing the various local groups with information on community problems. Participating are members of the Hillside Terrace, Woodbury Manor, Cedar Cliff, North West, Glenbrook, Parc Community, Millwood Gate, Twin Lawns, Duffly Park and Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc.

National Geographic Slights Us

The National Geographic Society magazine contains a map of Long Island which illustrates the location of Levittown but fails to show Hicksville. A reader reported this information, following a recent Herald article which showed that the current World Almanac lists Hicksville, Ohio, with less than 3,000 inhabitants but fails to include Hicksville, New York, with more than 30,000. The Ohio Hicksville is incorporated.

35 Join Jericho Civic Group

JERICHO—Thirty-five new members were accepted when the Jericho Civic Assoc met Thursday night, Jan. 21 at the firehouse which was filled to capacity. Among subjects discussed at the meeting were the flooding of basements in new homes, the progress of the new school construction with a tentative opening date in March for the new building south of Jericho Tpke, and taxes. President Harold Smith led the discussion of "where does your tax dollar go?"

Two Zone Hearings Tuesday

OYSTER BAY—Residents of Hicksville and Bethpage who have been watching the telephone poles in their neighborhood have received "official notice" of two mid-Island public hearings scheduled for next Tuesday morning, Feb. 2 at 10 o'clock in the Town Hall, here, on proposed changes of zoning from residential to business use.

The town fathers spurn the use of the advertising columns of the Mid-Island Herald, official newspaper for the publication of Nassau County notices, with the largest circulation in the area, and appear to prefer the more antiquated arrangement of tacking typewritten sheets to telephone poles.

The Hicksville application is by George Neder, Jr. for business "F" use of property between Miller Rd. and the LIRR with a Miller Rd. frontage of 120 feet from residential "D" for a special permit to use the property for "the storing, parking and housing of school buses and equipment". See Page 8

In Bethpage application is made by Jennie Amendola for business "G" use of Residential "D" zoned area for about 80 feet along the east side of Broadway in the vicinity of Nibbie Lane.

REMINDING RESIDENTS of mid-Island communities of the Boy Scout Fund Drive this Sunday, Jan. 31, are these Bethpage boys. From left, Explorer Scout Thomas Brady of 2 Iran Pl., Stephen Germann of 32 Brenner Ave., Robert Mais of 52 Barbara St. and George Lee of 10 Burkhardt Ave. Mrs. Rolf Germann is drive chairman in Bethpage where a kickoff breakfast for volunteer workers will be held at the Legion Hall at 8:45 Sunday morning. In Hicksville, William E. Koutensky is general chairman of 300 volunteers who hope to collect 5,000 contributions on Sunday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. (Herald photo by Frank Mallett).

Hundreds To Come Calling Sunday In Scout Fund Drive

Residents to support the growing Boy Scout program in the fast growing mid-Island area will be solicited this Sunday, Jan. 31, by hundreds of mothers and dads in a house-to-house canvass for voluntary contributions. About 300 workers will canvass Hicksville under the direction of William E. Koutensky, finance committee chairman, starting at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Bethpage workers will meet for breakfast at 8:45 Sunday morning to start their effort.

Breakfast Launches Bethpage Campaign

BETHPAGE—A large group of residents will make the house-to-house canvass of their area for voluntary Boy Scout contributions. The campaign will open with a kickoff breakfast at 8:45 a.m. Sunday at American Legion hall. For campaign workers Explorer Scouts of Post 118 will serve the breakfast.

Area captains for the solicitation, according to Mrs. Rolf Germann, who is chairman, will be Rod Hartzen, Walter Baxter, Sam Merin, Earl Kirmser, Henry Rockhill, Ed Callaghan, Ed Schutz, Doug Kent and Jack Michaelson. Additional Scouting parents or others who wish to help the campaign workers are urged by Mrs. Germann to report to the Legion hall anytime Sunday.

If You Will Not Be Home

If you will be away from home this Sunday, afternoon Jan. 31 your contribution to the Hicksville Boy Scout Finance Drive can be left at any of the following places; today, tomorrow, or the following Sunday, February 1st. Long Island National Bank, cor. of Broadway and Herzog. Montana Realty Office at 115 North Broadway. Hicksville Firestone Store, Broadway, Hicksville.

URGES FLUORIDATION

HICKSVILLE—Fluoridation of the local water supply was urged by a speaker at the Old Country Rd. P-TA meeting on Tuesday evening.

5,000 Contributions Goal in Hicksville

HICKSVILLE—Final drive arrangements for the Boy Scout Finance Drive here were completed Monday night at Henningsen's Restaurant.

In the absence of William E. Koutensky, Jack Ehnman co-chairman, stated that the 16 election district captains all have their canvass material, lapel buttons, etc. and are ready for Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31.

Charles Montana, co-chairman in charge of all election districts north of Old Country Road, will meet all captains and workers at the Legion Hall on Nicholas St., at 1:30 P.M., Sunday. Upon completion of the canvass workers will be served coffee and donuts at the Legion Hall.

Allen Carpenter, in charge of the election districts south of Old Country Road, announced that election district 48 will work out of the high school building under the direction of Thomas Bergin. All other district captains were asked to report with their teams to the Methodist Church Building on Old Country Road between 1:30 (Continued on Page 2)

See Answer To Home Rule Zoning Rights In New State Pamphlet

ALBANY—A brand new manual on "Local Planning and Zoning" in New York State, published by the State and issued by the Dept. of Commerce, this week gave advocates of Home Rule for Hicksville as an incorporated village tremendous encouragement. The question of whether zoning control would be obtained by a new village had been sharply challenged by the Anti-Home Rule Committee.

The new manual, discussing "legal authority for zoning", states: "The laws of the State provide that any city, town or village may adopt zoning regulations. * * * Under the law the legislative body of the town, city or village is empowered to regulate and restrict the height and bulk of buildings, the area of yards and courts and other open spaces, and the density of population; and to regulate and restrict the use of buildings, structures and land. Such regulations are considered an exercise of the police power to (Continued on Page 12)

Central Savings Notes Progress

Central Federal Savings and Loan Association, of Nassau County this week promised its thousands of shareholders that it would continue in 1954 the same sound policies that made 1953 its most successful year since its organization in 1937.

"We are proud of the past year's growth that saw both our assets and savings soar by about 30 percent each," said executive secretary Vance Carnahan, in a statement sharing institution's board of directors.

"We are grateful to the thousands who, through the years, have shown their confidence in us and to the thousands more who joined them in 1953," Carnahan declared. He pointed out that Central Federal, which has offices in Hicksville and Long Beach, opened 6,219 new accounts during 1953.

During the year, according to the mutual institution's 34th semi-annual statement of condition, savings soared from $7,966,230.38 to $10,137,772.06, for an increase of $2,171,541.68. Assets rose from $8,824,745.26 to $11,648,241.33, for an increase of $2,823,496.07. Reserves climbed from $482,449.38 to $587,811.20.

Central Federal divided $197,965.52 among its shareholders on December 31, bringing the year's total dividends to $199,706.55.

"All of those figures," Carnahan declared, "are the highest in our history and were made possible by the confidence of the community places in us. We cherish that confidence and will do our utmost to preserve it."

Name Eisemann L.L. Co. Director

MINNEOLA—Henry G. Eisemann, vice president, treasurer and sole owner of Seaman and Eisemann, Inc. real estate insurance, Hicksville, has been elected a director of L.L. Lighting Co. to succeed the late Col. Charles G. Blakeslee.

Born in Flushing and a resident of Hicksville since 1906, Eisemann has been associated with the insurance and real estate firm of Seaman and Eisemann, Inc. for 33 years.

He is also president of the Bank of Hicksville; a trustee of Eastern Savings Bank; secretary of KEF Manufacturing Corp.; a director of Franklin Shops, Inc., and vice chairman of the Nassau County Clearing House Assoc. Inc.

Besides his business connections, he has been active in community work. He organized and is a former vice-chairman of the Nassau County Planning Commission and former chairman of the Citizen's Committee for rezoning the Town of Oyster Bay.

Formerly director of the Nassau and Suffolk Lighting Co. and the Queensborough Gas and Electric Co., Eisemann has a good understanding of the problems facing a utility in this fast-growing area.

St. Ignatius Will Close Feb. 5 - 15

HICKSVILLE—Received into the Arch Confraternity of Christian Mothers by the Rev. John Wisliser were the members of the Mothers Auxiliary of St. Ignatius School at the meeting Monday evening, Jan. 25 in the school hall. The Rev. Father Wisliser is moderator of the group.

Mother Adelaide, principal of the school, announced that the school will be closed from Feb. 5 to Feb. 15 for fuel conservation. She also asked that all girls wear the standard uniform blouse for school wear. Mrs. Fred Georgens and her group were congratulated by the principal for their fine work for the Junior Red Cross.

Marjorie Montana, president of the auxiliary, said that a wonderful return was received from the bride doll and its wardrobe, given away at the Christmas party. She thanked Helen Moore, Peggy Service and Mary Ellen Odum, co-chairman of the doll award, for their splendid work.

It was announced that the date of the Valentine Social had been changed to Friday evening, Feb. 26. Husbands will be invited to this affair which has been specially planned. Marjorie Brown and Anna Breschard are co-chairmen of the Committee on Arrangements. Tickets will be available at the next meeting.

Frances Becker and Mae McNamara, chairmen of the first Friday Communion Breakfast, asked for more volunteers to help on Friday, Feb. 5th at 9 A.M.

The Rev. Lawrence F. Balweg, the speaker, took the members with him on an interesting and educational pictorial tour of Lourdes, France.

Mrs. James Burke was given the door prize. The next meeting will occur Feb. 22 with a program of interest to all mothers planned.

OFF MILLWOOD GATE

Property Owners Elect Murphy

By DOROTHY R. BROWN
Hicksville 1-9128

Thomas N. Murphy was elected President of the Millwood Gate Property Owners Assoc. at a special meeting held last week. The other officers elected were as follows: Vice-President, Eugene McGee; Secretary, Harry G. Smith; Financial—Secretary, Mr. James Cunningham; Treasurer, Mr. Louis Foster; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Gene Cody. Jack Henn, Martin Donlon, John F. Mulholland, Frank Szymanski, Thomas Killen, Vinci Campanella, and Mrs. Laure McVay were elected as members of the Board of Directors for the coming year.

These officers will be installed at the regular meeting on Feb. 4 at Lee Ave. School by Councilman Frank A. Chlumsky. After the installation, he will speak on "Town Government as it Effects New Developments" and answer questions of interest to the group. These questions may be submitted in advance to President Murphy of 87 Woodwing Dr. N. or your reporter.

Considering that the Polio Foundation spends over $4,000 for one victim in a year, the quota of $6,000 for Hicksville with a population of approximately 30,000 is very small. We should go well over the top in this drive, and will, if everyone will give generously when their representative knocks and asks for a donation. The good neighbors who will be knocking on your door in the Broadway Terrace Homes are Mary McCabe, Rita Witt, Sally Reagan, Esther Welsh, and Dorothy Murphy.

The following have volunteered to collect in the Millwood Development; Mrs. Susan Laurenti, Mrs. Louis Foster, Mrs. Edith Szymanski, Mrs. Thomas N. Murphy, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Mrs. Edna Boddridge and Mrs. Laure McVay. These people will be collecting during this week.

PERSONALS

James Szymanski of 4 Greenbriar Lane, celebrated his ninth birthday Jan. 22. Also Patty Boddridge of 26 Ferndale Road celebrated her seventh birthday Jan. 17 by going to another birthday party.

Patty with her mother Mrs. Edna Boddridge attended the birthday party of Carol Ann McVay of 24 Ferndale Road. Carol Ann who was 1 year old on Jan. 18 celebrated her birthday on Sunday with her Godparents, Mr. Raymond Herman Jr. and Miss Elizabeth Crevaux. Also her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Desire Crevaux of Elmont and Mr. and Mrs. Victor McVay of Uniondale were present at the party as well as Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herman and children. A delicious buffet supper was served and Carol Ann enjoyed sticking her finger in her birthday cake.

Did You See Eclipse of Moon?

By SHIRLEY HUENLICH
Hicksville 4-2327

Television, routine chores, social engagements and so on are all bound to keep us quite busy, but Monday night, Jan. 18, at 9:17 P.M. a special program was put on by the Heavens above, a Lunar Eclipse of the moon. (A Lunar Eclipse occurs when the earth is directly between the sun and the moon.) The Eclipse was over at 10:47 P.M. and if you missed the presentation, keep in mind that the next Eclipse of the moon will be in three years.

Somehow or other, a vacant lot does little to increase the beauty of a development or section. Many neighbors will be happy to hear that the lots cornering on Albert St. and Mineola Ave. have recently been sold to Anthony Esagro of Long Island City. Mr. Esagro plans to build in the spring and as soon as his home is completed we will be happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Esagro and their two children to Hicksville. His brother Angelo Esagro and family live at 11 Somerset Ave., just around the corner.

Birthday congratulations to Barbara Strauss, 7 Somerset Ave who was 17 on Jan. 23. Barbara celebrated the occasion at the Lawnview Restaurant on Broadway with a group of young people. Later the group went to the theatre in Hicksville.

The August Mandalas were busy people Saturday night, for in addition to their own three children, their two nieces were staying for the night. After tucking all the children in bed, they had their neighbors from Albert St. in for a little get-together. Everyone had a very enjoyable time and vowed that this will be the first of many happy evenings together for it's not necessarily the fancy cake and trimmings that make for a good time but the most important item is good neighborliness.

Diane Wharton, 10, of 175 Lee Ave. is one of the daily winners in the Hall Coloring

Contest sponsored by the Daily Mirror. From daily winners the judges are going to pick the first prize winner who will be given a free trip to Sweden. Good luck on Saturday, Diane, when you go to the Mirror office with your coloring set to compete for the main prize. (She was a winner in the recent Christmas Story Coloring Contest sponsored by the Herald in cooperation with the Bank of Hicksville).

Our thanks go to Mrs. Walsh of Marvin Ave. and Mrs. Murphy of Somerset Ave. who volunteered to collect for the March of Dimes in this section.

By MARGE KERN
Hicksville 4-1536

Edward Harmon of the Tax Assessor's Office was the speaker at the meeting of the Civic Assoc. last Tuesday with about 40 attending. Feb. 16 at 8 P.M. is the date of the next meeting in the East St. School, when all are asked to attend to see the progress of the organization.

Charlene Naas of 91 Cedar St. was four years old Jan. 17 and had a party on the 16th at her home. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naas. Helping her celebrate were: Carol and Patricia Barhold, Irene Leonick and Stephen Murray. Ellen Depew could not be there because of a virus infection.

Mothers are starting on their rounds for the polio fund. When a mother with a white container knocks at your door, give what you can. Proper identification has been given to each mother from the Polio Foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kern entertained on Sunday, Jan. 17 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dicon and daughters, Cheryl and Jill of Brooklyn.

My husband and I just bought a 1951 Ford since our car dropped dead during the recent snow storm.

Anyone that has news should call me or drop in to see me at 74 Cliff Dr.

The New York Live Steamers Society held its meeting at the home of Charles P. Naas, 91 Cedar St. on Jan. 24. The members were discussing the planning of the new track behind the Kingsport Municipal Stadium. For further information please contact Charles Naas at HI 4-1563.

My thanks to all who gave to the March of Dimes from my list. Those who were not at home may donate by sending money to the Polio Fund in your name.

CP Auxiliary Gets 4 Members

HICKSVILLE—Four new members: Marjorie Hollister of 66 Nassau Ave., Mrs. Nernie Traidman of 253 West Nicholas St., Helen Klewansky of 25 Willoughby Ave., and Madeline Baldwin of 20 Seafrog Ave., joined the local Cerebral Palsy Auxiliary at the meeting Wednesday night in American Legion hall. Mrs. Hollister was appointed program chairman and Mrs. Traidman, publicity chairman.

Jerry Echart and his wife, Ann, presented an interesting program as representatives of the Cerebral Palsy Assoc. Mrs. Echart gave a talk on the Cerebral Palsy Center in Roosevelt and Mr. Echart showed slides of the children and equipment used.

The next regular meeting will be announced later. Plans were made to hold a cake sale.

Mothers March Coming to Close

By CONSTANCE GIBSON
Hicksville 4-1482

As January comes to a close so does the Mother's March on Pollo. Mothers have been giving unselfishly of their time to aid in this cause, going from house to house. If someone has not yet come to your door and home please do open your heart and pocketbook to them when they do get there.

Those who have been working for the fund in and around our own Gables development are Mrs. William McAleer of 17 Gables Drive, Mrs. Edmund Kramer of 9 Gables Rd., Mrs. Martin V. Dunn of 20 Gables Drive, Mrs. Constantine Corneas of 14 Gables Rd., Mrs. William Allen of 28 Terrace Place, Mrs. George H. Smith of 269 Plainview Rd., Mrs. James V. Hood of 210 Plainview Rd. who has been taking in Center St. and McKinley Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Millevoite of 102 East St.

In connection with the Pollo Fund we were happy to learn that Mrs. Lee McCoy of 8 Gables Drive will turn over $70 to the fund as a result of the Neighborhood Club Newsagent. The paper has been discontinued much to the regret of its readers. We would like to congratulate Mrs. McCoy and the four club officers: Bernadette McCoy, Hinda Chernow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Chernow of 10 Gables Rd.; Pamela Knien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Knief of 2 Gables Rd. and Alberta Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Murray of 28 Gables Drive.

Every one wishes Bernadette McCoy a speedy return home from Mitchell Hospital. All her young friends miss her very much.

We would like to send birthday greetings to Mrs. Sam Waller of 301 Plainview Rd. whose day was Jan. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Oates and children Kathy and Michael of 29 South Elm St. have been entertaining Mrs. Oates brother, William Baird formerly of Bayville.

We would like to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Caracci of 3 South Elm St. who took over their new tailor shop on New Hyde Park Rd., Garden City. The Caracci's who up to this time have rented a store opposite the new site, call their shop Lou's Tailor Shop.

Heard from Mrs. William J. McAleer of 17 Gables Dr. that she expects her husband home from Chicago where he has been attending business. Mr. McAleer is driving down from the Windy City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of 303 Plainview Rd. attended the Annual County Ball of Amvet's in the Hempstead Armory. Mr. and Mrs. Olson were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quinn of Sussex St. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eich, also of Sussex St. and four other couples. The affair was highlighted by the presence of Billy Rose's Horseshoe Band.

Market 'Okay' Draws Protest

By Fred J. Noeth

RETAILERS AND OWNERS of business property in Hicksville, Bethpage, and even as far away as Farmingdale and Huntington, are understandably upset about the report that the Town Board has given, at least orally, its okay to the establishment of another so-called local Farmers' Market, this one off South Broadway.

The hearing was held upon the application for a special permit to establish a market and, it is recorded, opposition was voiced by adjacent property owners—namely the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. which stands across the street. The exact location of the proposed market is technically "Bethpage".

The farmers' market idea has probably given retailers and business people more ulcers and headaches than all the other problems of running a business today—including government regulations. The name is a misnomer. You won't find farmers at a "farmers' market". True, some produce is sold at some of the markets, but the big thing in such set-ups as practised on Long Island is the renting of table space or stalls to anyone who wants to sell a product or service to the public.

Established businesses strongly object to such markets because they consider it unfair competition. Established concerns have investments in attractive stores, carry known brands, provide exchanges with a smile, stand behind their merchandise, employ courteous personnel, pay their share of local, state and federal taxes of all kinds.

On the other hand, the vagabonds of the "markets" are generally "one-man" operations offering merchandise at prices calculated to lure the unwary. During our tenure as secretary of the Business Men's Assoc. we had complaints about certain sharp practices at other markets in the area from local and out of town shoppers who were under the mistaken impression that such activities would be the concern of an association of reputable business people. Disappointed shoppers have, we feel certain, unfortunately evaluated the merits of local shopping on the basis of a brush with the "boys at the market".

This problem has serious concern for our homeowners too. Local store owners pay a substantial share of the taxes which support our schools and other institutions. They contribute freely to local social, civic and fraternal organizations. Therefore, when certain factors are encouraged to make it unprofitable for any business to operate in our community, the economic growth of the community suffers.

This new and real threat to our business community—which is already in jeopardy due to serious parking and traffic conditions plus the unrealistic headlong construction of one new shopping centre after another—concerns everyone interested in the welfare of Hicksville and vicinity. You can join this fight to build our community by registering the strongest possible protest without delay with the town officials. Write or telegraph to Supervisor Lewis Waters, Town Hall, Oyster Bay, N. Y., or Councilman Frank Chlumskey, care of Town Board, Oyster Bay.

Flying Saucers Not From Space

HICKSVILLE—Flying saucers are not bringing visitors from other planets to our earth in the opinion of Willie Ley who gave an interesting talk on space travel at the High School auditorium Friday night, Jan. 22, under the auspices of the Public Library.

Two hundred and twenty-five listeners were fascinated by Ley's description of the various stages necessary in making the lunar trip. He told of the missiles used by the Army today and plans for future space travel. He thought that costs may be too high for the U. S. government to authorize enough research on a trip to the Moon in the "near future".

"Several myths about space travel were dispelled by the author, who said he was also sure that the so-called "Flying Saucers" were not secret weapons designed by the Soviet.

The Legionnaire

Charles Wagner Post
No. 427, American Legion

With a view to finally get a week end of rest we lay down early last Friday evening with every intention of skipping the County meeting. We were doing quite well too, until the phone rang at about quarter to eight and brought us a resolution calling for the endorsement of Gil Chichester for Department Commander would be introduced that night by the Ernie Pyle Post. Anticipating some opposition, it was felt necessary that four men from Chas. Wagner be present to validate the Posts eight votes. So we joined Ed Becker, who did the 'Phoning, Al Carpenter and Al Vitale and put in an appearance, voted for the endorsement which encountered opposition from only two individuals, then stepped out for a bit of refreshment and missed the roll call. Guess we voted in absentia—or something. Anyway, Nassau County has a candidate for State Commander—one we will be proud to support.

Good news for our Plainview Legion friends in that their permanent Charter is now on hand and will be formally presented to them by County Commander Fred Bestrand on Monday evening, Feb. 8. Look for Post County Commander Chichester and local Legion Lites to be present.

Time has come to plug the first Legion Dance of 1954—just 15 days from tonight. The committee of Bob Schickelgrath, Bill Arvidson, Artie Stetson and Walt Schlichting have promised to come up with a fine little dance and say they—"What better way to treat your lifetime sweetheart than the St. Valentine's Dance?" We agree, Try it! Feb 18! Post has received a number of thank you notes from individuals for our Christmas gifts. . . . Jones Institute has also acknowledged gifts. . . . And when we think of gifts we think of those taxed cigarettes for non-V.A. patients—Latest word indicates an awful lot of pressure will be needed to even bring Congressman Beckers bill to the floor. . . . How about the American Bible Society—2,200 Bibles to the American Legion in Nassau for distribution to bedridden and handicapped vets. Post made usual donation to the National Infantile Paralysis Fund at last meeting.

The Annual Boy Scout Drive is due this Sunday. Legionnaires who want to help should contact Bill Arvidson at once. But remember this—if you don't work—be generous.

The Auxiliary is conducting a cake sale this Friday afternoon so if you get your paper early hustle up to Fred Braun's.

Nice to know that comrades like John Nees and Jay Jabour take the time to call our attention to the Jan. 20 story in the N. Y. Journal American on the Posts contribution to the War Wounded Fund. Since the story appeared too late for last weeks column we turned it over to the editor, for his use. Main point, however, is the willingness to steer a little news our way.

Two more renewals—Russell Vaughan and John Marshall. Where are the rest of you?
Meeting Monday night! 'Til then—
BOB MANGELS

Six Teachers Present Program

HICKSVILLE—"We Learn By Doing" was the theme developed by six teachers of the Old Country School at the P.T.A. meeting held at the school Wednesday night, Jan. 20. Principal, Murray Duncan, general chairman; introduced the speakers who included: Mary Howell, representing kindergarten; Virginia Butler, first grade; Charlotte Hartman, second grade; Sue Henley, third grade; Virginia Spatola, fourth grade, and Violet Hilton, fifth grade.

The speakers told how the children are encouraged to learn through both their daily lessons and school activities.

Joseph Finnegan of the faculty was in charge of the second part of the program. He demonstrated the school's new taps recorder, a gift from the P.T.A. last Spring, and also the motion picture projector and film strips.

Open House concluded the program with the parents visiting the classes. They were shown papers written by their children, last September as compared with those done in January as evidence of the student's tremendous improvement.

The P.T.A.'s first fund raising event will be held Feb. 17 at the school, a "Country Social and Box Lunch Auction."

Joseph Finnegan of the faculty was in charge of the second part of the program. He demonstrated the school's new taps recorder, a gift from the P.T.A. last Spring, and also the motion picture projector and film strips.

'Doctor Jones' Says

By PAUL E. BROOKS, M.D.
Young babies—their earliest impressions of the new environment they've moved into—have you ever wondered what they're like? There's evidence, psychoanalysts find, that lasting mental impressions have been made even before babies were born. I know of one such, myself. They're unconscious, of course, and not understood. But they can persist into adult life and, possibly, have some effect on the reactions of the grown-up. They've come to light through dreams and so on and been more or less figured out.

This early impression business—what made me think of it was watching an intelligent, attractive and, ordinarily, dignified young lady entertaining a relative's baby. She'd taken him around, in his carriage, to show him to friends and neighbors. He'd gotten fed-up with being Exhibit A and was getting restless. She was putting on a show to distract his attention.

It wasn't unique. I've seen the same sort of performance many times. She went through various contortions: something between one of these oriental things you see on television and a bad case of St. Vitus dance. Sort of a chant went with it: something like "heehee-woohee, tookey-wooky, datchy-hatchy, woo." More or less, it was, like the "words" of one of those popular songs I've been hearing. It worked. Anyway he laughed. So did I.

Babies his age—he was just getting where he'd be beginning to put his separate impressions together to form ideas. With no experience and knowing no language, they'd be vague and confused. But, if he could put 'em into adult English, it might add up to something like this? "Gosh! What is this, anyway? I must've landed in a nest of nuts!"

Speaking semi-seriously, I've sort of wondered if, in the long run, it might not be better for these youngsters if, when we're making those early impressions, we acted and talked before 'em like sane, sensible, adult humans. On the other hand the folks that get famous for writing music like boogie-woogie or inventing comic dances—it could be some of those early impressions coming to the top. Who knows?

ALONG WOODBURY ROAD

Concern About Zoning Change

By GENE MALJEAN
Hicksville 3-3213

A parcel of land on Miller Rd. may be the site of a building to house school buses, with the resultant change of specification in that area from Zone D (Residential) to Zone F (Business). This has aroused great concern from those living along Miller Road and those who reside in developments bordering on it. The latter are Woodbury Gardens and the Twin Lawns homes, along with the Hicks Homes and the many private homes nearby.

Mrs. James Matthews invited all parties interested in blocking this proposed change to her home Sunday, but, as it was such short notice, all concerned did not arrive. Woodbury Gardens Civic Assoc. was represented at the meeting and Twin Lawns' President Joe Kenyon also. John Baker, who was at the get together, told this reporter that he is sure that the property in the neighborhood "will devalue" and that Miller Road is sure to be overcome with very heavy traffic.

Mrs. Matthews is asking for volunteers to sign a petition that would prevent re-zoning. She further asks for neighbors to accompany her and the representatives of Twin Lawns and Woodbury Gardens and Hicks Homes to Oyster Bay Town Hall on February 2 at ten A.M. to show visually the number of residents that are opposed to the change.

Those of you who desire to read the exact wording of the proposal

Woodbury Garden Civic Notes

The Woodbury Garden Civic Ass'n Executive Board met to determine a course of action to take regarding the proposed resolution to change a parcel of property along Miller Road from Residential D district to Business F. The results of the meeting will be made known to the members and the residents of the area before the public hearing which will be held at Oyster Bay Town Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 2nd at 10 A.M. The Executive Board urges all interested residents to attend the hearing and announces that car pools will be available.

tion may find it printed on a notice on a telephone pole on Miller Road. Mrs. Matthews may be contacted by phoning Hicksville 3-7888. She urges all residents who are anxious where near Miller Rd. to "protect their property investment by doing something NOW, not after the residential section here turns into a scene of bedlam." She hopes to have enough volunteers to obtain signatures for the petition, as it is something that devalues all property near the road.

CHARBONNET'S COURSE

I sat in on Pierre Charbonnet's photography class last week and found it a fascinating course. Now I know that there is a little more to a picture than just snapping the do-jigger. Seriously, he stresses that a good picture can come from an inexpensive camera if the proper light-speed-distance-opening, etc. are used. He is aiding students in their endeavor to create pictures that not only interest themselves because of subject matter that is familiar to them, but to interest others who do not know the subject of the picture but enjoy its photographic beauty.

Pierre teaches beginners and experts alike with that lucid manner of his that just seems to make everything clear all at once. He was showing me a new camera that has been developed that is equipped with a device not found on any other camera. It is designed to take some work out of taking pictures, and advanced photographers as well as beginners will be using these soon.

For any information on that last item, for those who are curious—phone HI 3-4470, as it is a little technical for this column. I'd like to add that you are not too late to enter this wonderful class by phoning that same number, or my own phone. This adult education is such a terrific deal that no one should let it slip by without taking advantage. Get back that "thirst for knowledge"—and then quench it. MOTHER'S MARCH AND DANCING

Name Models Of Fashions

Models for the card party and fashion show to be given by the Hicksville Catholic Daughters on Friday evening, Jan. 29, at St. Ignace Auditorium on E. Nicholas St. were named today.

They are: Eileen Barr, Claire Bauer, Connie Clarke, Anne Harmer, Ruth Hatalsky, Kay Kennedy, Joan Nedell, Evelyn O'Brien, Florence O'Connell, Margaret Dehan, Rose Picone, Mercedes Quinn, Anne Segesta, Rosemary Tricoste, Carolyn West, Marjion West.

Also, Caroline and Theresa Maneski, Anne and Gerry McGunnigle, Eileen McCabe, Anne Morschner, Betty Walsh and Alice Zeltman. Dresses and slacks to be modeled are sold by the Eileen Tempie Shop in Syosset. Among the door and sweepstake prizes for the benefit affair are a Chinese Planter lamp, laundry cart, set of Proton Ware dishes, blanket and many other beautiful articles.

Mrs. Joseph Sokolowski of 36 Salem Rd., Hicksville, who will be matron of honor when her sister, Irene Schultz-Hollis becomes the bride of George J. Lepore on Feb. 27, was one of three hostesses at a pre-nuptial shower Saturday, Jan. 28 for Miss Schultz held at the home of their aunt, Mrs. John Holloway of Franklin Square. The other hostesses were Irene Clifone, Dorothy Anzola and Joan Dunn, all bridesmaids-to-be. Twenty of the 30 guests present were from Hicksville.

RED-CROSS SPEAKER

"Weight Control for Adults," "Feeding the Pre-School Child" and "School Lunches" will be among the topics discussed by Mrs. Norman Hostler, nutrition expert for the Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross, at the first meeting of the Dutch Lane PTA, Hicksville on Tuesday, Feb. 2 at 8:15 at the school. The overall topic of her lecture is to be "Food and Good Sense." Her talk will be supplemented by films.

The Church of Christ, 105 Broadway, Hicksville, will be host this Friday night, Jan. 29, at 8 P. M. to the Metropolitan New York Area Youth Rally of the Churches of Christ. Gerald Dye, ministerial student at Eastern Christian Institute, E. Orange, N. J. will be the guest speaker. A period of fellowship, recreation, and refreshment will follow the service.

Baker's Dozen Club Honors Racines

Major and Mrs. Fred Racine of W. John St., Hicksville, were guests of honor at a party arranged by the Baker's Dozen Club at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Larry Evans, also of W. John St., the evening of Jan. 28.

Major Racine is leaving Hicksville for a year's tour of duty in Korea and Mrs. Racine will stay for the period with her parents in Maryland.

Although the Racines have been Hicksville residents for only four years, their friends feel saddened by their impending absence.

Other attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biasi, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kist, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lirihan, and Harry Petersen.

Announce Speaker For Home Bureau

"Your Social Security and the New Proposals by President Eisenhower" will be discussed by John Form, manager of the Nassau County Social Security Office, at the monthly meeting of the Hicksville Home Bureau Tuesday, Feb. 2, at the Legion Hall, Nicholas St. The business meeting will be at 1 P. M. The morning program will feature a demonstration of shell fish cookery by Mrs. Edward Korbman, assisted by Mrs. Cornelius Krupp beginning at 10 o'clock.

Classes being taught in the hall for February include: trap stenciling by Mrs. Eugene Werner; creating cotton dresses, Mrs. James Rodgers, assisted by Mrs. Stewart Jordan; fabric lunapad, Matilda Feitusch, and upholstery, Mrs. E. Irving Jesser.

A special class in Spring millinery will be taught by Mrs. Neta Everts, who is the county leader in millinery.

The following project leaders recently attended a county-wide program planning meeting in Mineola: Mrs. Freeman L. Parr, Mrs. Edward Korbman, Mrs. Eugene Werner, Mrs. Charles Pickering, the latter unit chairmen.

Women who wish to join the Home Bureau may call any of the above leaders or come down to the Legion Hall on Tuesday, where they will be most welcome.

Miss Helen Martin, a junior at Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, has been chosen manager of the inter-house hockey teams at the college. Miss Martin, the daughter of Mrs. B. P. Bouverie, Syosset, is a major in the field of American culture. She prepared for college at the Foxcroft school.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. James Henessey of Baldwin are the parents of a son, Roy Edward, born Jan. 18 in Nassau Hospital, Mineola, their first child. Mrs. Henessey is the former Marite Sutter of Hicksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Greggo of 10 Herman Ave., Hicksville, are announcing the birth of a daughter, their second child and first girl, born on Jan. 20 in North County Community Hospital, Glen Cove. The baby has been named, Diane Lynn.

Two Children Are Baptized

Two children were baptized at the Sunday, Jan. 24, service at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville by the Rev. Edward H. Stammel, pastor. They were Linda Joan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Geaslin of 63 Smith St., Hicksville, and Raymond Gary infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rausch of 20 Newmarket Rd., Hicksville.

Godparents of the former child were Robert Back and Mildred Back, and of the latter, Donald Rusch (proxy, Lawrence Realy) and Carol Goettelmann.

Home Rule

The book also takes note of the fact that there are special laws relating to Nassau County. However, it notes that the special laws apply to a county planning commission with no mention of zoning. The anti-home rule committee in a published booklet had made the flat statement "You may hear many different and novel approaches and explanations on the zoning question, but only one answer is true: zoning powers will remain in the town board of the Town of Oyster Bay and cannot be given to a village board by the incorporation of Hicksville."

WRONG ON ASSESSMENT

The same group had gone down to defeat in another assertion regarding the county charter. They had sought to find the effective date on new assessments as of July 1 of each year, but County Judge Cyril J. Brown in an unprecedented ruling had upheld the Home Rule Committee and found the effective date for new assessments as Aug. 1.

The new manual consisting of 88 pages quotes the village law relating to village planning and zoning, particularly section 173 "Grant of Power".

It also notes that since publication of an edition in 1951, several amendments to the law have been made. These are incorporated into the new volume. "The authority units which planning and zoning agencies are created, their organization and their powers, duties and responsibilities, are outlined and explained," a foreword by Harold Keller, commissioner of commerce, declares.

Cpl. RICHARD SILL of 2 Bank Lane, Hicksville, is now stationed above the 38th parallel in Korea. In a recent letter to his father he wrote that he is being assigned to a leadership training school in Japan for studies.

28th DIV. GERMANY—Army Pvt. Alfred H. MacDonald Jr., whose parents live at 21 Sommer Lane, Hicksville, recently arrived in Germany for duty with the 28th Infantry Division.

MacDonald entered the Army last June and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J. In civilian life he worked for the Garden City Hotel.

School Curriculum PTA Topic

HICKSVILLE — Information in answer to questions about the school curriculum was gained by parents Thursday night, Jan. 21, at the meeting of the North St. P.T.A. James Walters, principal, introduced the speakers.

Miss Ann Stading spoke in answer to "What is Being Done for the Above Average Student?" She said that exceptional children are urged to study and read beyond the regular classroom assignments and to share what they learn with the others. They are provided with stimulating materials such as maps and books to use in their learning pursuit.

She also warned parents that they should be careful not to "expect too much" of these children and not to provide them with too many outside lessons in music and dancing so that they may enjoy a happy, well adjusted childhood. Miss Sandra Seliger spoke on "Readiness for Learning", describing what factors are noted to find which children are prepared for the process.

Scribe Reports About Brownies

HICKSVILLE Troop 23 has been appointed scribe for the members of her group and sent in the following report of a meeting held Thursday afternoon in St. Ignace Novoty school. The troop leader is Olga Novoty and the Brownies are repairing dollhouses for the children's ward in a local hospital.

"The Fly-Ups" from Troop 23 were studying scout laws and promise.

"The Brownies were working on the dollhouses—they were putting up wallpaper.

"All the Brownies and Fly-Ups were planning on going to a theatre in Hempstead to see Lady Baden-Powell."

Puppet Show Fights Polio

HICKSVILLE—Three dollars has been added to the polio funds by Michael Linhan and friend who on Jan. 9 gave a puppet show for 15 children in Michael's neighborhood and for seven of his classmates in the second grade of the Burns Ave. School. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Linhan of 23 Byron Place.

Michael received some Peter Pan puppets for Christmas. A play about the "boy who never grew up" was presented by Michael, Robert Buckmann, as narrator, Carol Ann Harman and Teddy Swedala. Michael also presented a monologue with "Jerry Mahoney" as the actor.

to influence the children to read socially acceptable books, a habit if started in school often becoming fostered thru life. She advises the parents that the children should be kept physically and emotionally sound by providing for their adequate rest and diet. A child cannot concentrate in school, she pointed out, if there are troubles in the home. Refreshments were served by the executive committee with Mrs. Thomas Murray acting as chairman.

Cubs To Present Show Business

BETHPAGE — Cub Scouts will present "Show Business" as their theme for the first pack meeting of the new Cub Scout Pack 159 at 8 P.M. Friday evening, Jan. 29 in St. Martin's Church hall here. Ed Schutz of 7 Essex Rd, Gubmanter, said that skits would be presented by the five dens under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Hall of 4 Surrey Lane, Mrs. Frank Pilgrim of 8 Oxford Lane, Mrs. Stephen Patras of 17 Crestline Dr., Mrs. William McGovern of 6 Pearl St. and Mrs. Salvatore Negro of 31 Collector Lane, Levittown.

Walter R. Baxter of 56 Brenner Ave. is assistant cubmaster and Malcolm Traut of 19 Celestial Lane is chairman of the pack committee.

The pack is sponsored by the Mothers Club of St. Martin's Church.

All members of the pack and friends are invited to "Show Business."

Await School Board Report On Our Own High School

By DOROTHY GUELPA.
Bethpage will have its own high school despite reported efforts of the district superintendent to stop such a move. This was made clear at the meeting of the School Board on Tuesday, Jan. 19, by members who have been making inquiries outside the immediate circle of local school representatives. Of course, when and where are problems now being considered by the Board and their findings and progress will be announced soon.

Progress at the Pine Ave. School is practically an unknown word. At this point only 10 per cent of the work is accomplished while 50 per cent of the contract time has elapsed. James "Happy" Norman, clerk of the works, also pointed out several construction practices of the contractor that are said to be detrimental to the safety of the building, such as allegedly "trying to pour cement on two feet of snow all, and pouring cement in 20 degree weather without the use of a vibrator to settle the cement evenly and compactly," doing this even though he had been forbidden by a concrete specialist sent out at Mr. Norman's request, it was said.

The plans for the Central Blvd. School were taken to Albany last week by Charles Campaigne, Joseph DeLoe, and Victor Miller, accompanied by Mr. Wiedemann and J. W. Chisholm. Despite the fact that the plans did not please the local "powers that be," Albany okayed them in very short order. As the plans now stand the school will be two stories, 30 rooms with three kindergartens. This school is ready to be voted on by the taxpayers in the district about the end of February.

When the date for the vote is reached the registration books will be open so that all may be sure of voting. People who registered to vote at the annual meeting in May of 1953 may vote without registering. If registration was not made then, you must do so to vote on this school. Dates will be announced in this paper as legal notices so that you may not miss them.

Some days being a clerk in A. & P. has its interesting side... like the day the irate housewife threw the roast at the person on the check-out counter.
Plainedge it seems is really quintuplets; Bethpage, Wantagh, Farmingdale, Massapequa and Levittown. Mail deliveries were stopped Jan. 4 and all mail to be addressed returned to senders. No one has objected to undelivered bills, but just suppose some envelopes might contain money?

The "Happy" Normans are sporting a beautiful new car, a Dodge. Likewise the Ed. Fehrbachs.

GOOD Wishes FOR DOC
The North Bethpage Civic Assoc. voted to send a congratulatory message to "Doc" Bramati on his excellent job of snow removal in that area. That settles it girls—we'll all have to move to North Bethpage. Three days after the storm we all shovelled ourselves out only to have the plow make her maiden voyage Saturday night and push the snow all neatly back in sidewalks and driveways.

WELFARE FUND
At a meeting Jan. 20 the Fire Dept. Auxiliary voted to establish a welfare fund to be used for emergency cases or for families of members or any other worthy cause. Emma DeLuca was appointed chairman of a Ways and Means Committee to raise money for this fund. Evelyn Kranz, Ruth Schaff, Dorothy Mancini, Mrs. William Doyle, Mrs. Lee Agosta, Miss Dolores De Faria and Ellen Simone, president, will assist here.
Other president-appointed committees are: Friendship, Theresa Trapani, and Mrs. Fred DeWitt; Publicity, Evelyn Kraus; card party, Mrs. Jerry Donlan, Mrs. George Ludwig, Miss Elsie and Miss Lillian Ludwig, Mrs. Alfred Miranda, and Mrs. Anthony Marzucco.

Mrs. William Benintendi was welcomed as a new member. Hostesses for the evening were: Elsie Deusel, Mrs. Jerry Donlan, Mrs. William Doyle and Mrs. Pierre de Laffo.

Mothers See Atom Bomb Film

BETHPAGE—Precautionary measures necessary in the event of an atom bomb attack were pictured in a movie at the January meeting of the Mothers' Club of St. Martin of Tours R. C. Church in the parish hall, Jan. 19 at 8:30 PM by Jack O'Donnell.
Tickets for the Poverty Ball to be held Saturday evening, Jan. 20 were placed on sale and may also be obtained at Sunday masses, Jan. 24.

The following new members were introduced: Mrs. Robert Ammon, Mrs. James Hardy, Mrs. Joseph Buchanan, Mrs. Louis Schiaretta, Mrs. Edgar Ryason, Mrs. Raymond Olsen, Mrs. William McCabe, Mrs. Joseph Duffy, Mrs. Dominick Gentile, Mrs. Francis Payton, Mrs. Thomas Gaynor, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. James O'Hara, Mrs. Henry Soczko, and Mrs. Warren Early.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Bob Beierlein, Mrs. Michael Patti, Mrs. Thomas Coyle, Mrs. Robert Powell, Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. Joseph Strong and Mrs. William Weaver. Mrs. George Siebert was given the "dark horse" award.

CONTEST AHEAD

Seems to be a good fight shaping up for the two positions on the school board to be voted on this spring. The grapevine comes up with three people besides Pete Jurcio and Tom Rozzi, who haven't denied they will seek reelection.
Mr. Benintendi is running for the board and will have the following committee working for his election: Howard Grandjean, Dorothy Cavill, Al Kirschner and Mae Strong.

FAMILY DINNER

All Boy Scouts of Bethpage Troop 118 are invited with their parents and family to attend a Boy Scout Family Dinner to be held Monday, Feb. 11 in the Methodist Church, corner of Main and Grant Ave., Farmingdale.
After the dinner a program called "Thirty Minutes for Survival" will be presented, a live demonstration of air search radar, using activated equipment.

THE DOG POISONER: Precautions For Dog Owners

By TOM FARLEY
A warning by Raymond J. Hanfield, executive secretary of the National Dog Welfare Guild, that reports of dog poisonings are on the increase, serves to remind all dog owners that there are certain precautions they can take against this menace.

Best, of course, is to teach your dog never to eat any food not offered him by his master or a member of the family. But if this has not been done, or he has discovered some carelessly placed rat poison, it is well to know the antidotes for the more common poisons just in case a veterinarian cannot be reached immediately.

The first step is to empty the dog's stomach by mixing hydrogen peroxide (regular drug store strength of 3 per cent) with water (half and half) and pouring it down the dog's throat. Use a tablespoonful of the mixture to each ten pounds of body weight. This should cause vomiting in about two minutes. Warm salt water or mustard water can also be used for this purpose. Large forced draughts of milk or beaten white of egg are also effective.

After vomiting has stopped, give the dog about a teaspoonful of Epsom salts in a little water to empty the intestines.

Peroxide will act as an antidote for the phosphorus frequently used in rat poisons, and Epsom salts help combat lead poisoning. If symptoms indicate arsenic poisoning, however, administer one tablespoon of photographer's "hypo" (sodium thiosulphate) in a small amount of water. Egg white beaten into half a cup of milk is helpful if it is suspected that the pet has been given one of the mercuric compounds.

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

Coach Chet Jaworski hurried home mid-week from the Conference of New York State Athletic Directors held in Buffalo to prepare his team for tonight's invasion of Oyster Bay. The Comets are extended an outside chance in the as yet unsure Eastern Division basketball race. The major point in this contention is that having dropped its two opening games the Orange and Black cannot lose over the rest of the course.

As for Hicksville High this is the make or break struggle for the Baymen. If they take their second loss in their own backyard it is apparent they won't be in a favorable position on the road against Hicksville and Farmingdale.

Badly outscored from the foul line in their losses the Comets have been putting much of their precious limited practice time in from the foul line.

They must be sharp from there tonight. Oyster Bay is a free fouling club in its use of the all court press and has a bench to back up players who foul out. The policy isn't always fruitful.

Unheralded Roslyn went to the foul stripes 56 times against the Baymen and 85 conversions provided a nice cushion in a seven point upset.

Westbury bowed by four points but zipped in 29 against the far North Club.

Hicksville could take the weapon of victory from the Baymen if they could shoot 73 per cent from the foul line but we fear they cannot.

Oyster Bay 62, Hicksville 46.

Comet Keglars Sweep Covers

MANHASSET—A 2,129 pin roll by Hicksville netted a five point sweep for the Comets over Glen Cove here last week.

The Comets have been rolling right up with the leaders in the 2,000 pin class and show promise of vacating the second division where they ended up last season.

The win over the Covers who dropped to last moved Hicksville into a triple tie for fourth in the NSAL standings.

Serves On Committee

MINEOLA—Leander B. Wood of Hicksville is a member of the Credit Committee of the Nassau County Court House Employees Federal Credit Union following the annual meeting when Clarence E. Southard of Island Park was re-elected president. Southard, Mayor of Island Park, is an executive aid to the county commissioner of public works.

Honest Intent Ruling Saves Win

HICKSVILLE—A leading county daily hit the newsstands late Tuesday afternoon, with a story that the PBC had used a player not listed on the Hicksville roster in the NCABL records in its stunning upset over the West Hempstead A.A., and a furious chain reaction resulted.

Telephones rang all over town as supporters of the PBC tried to determine if the victory would stand.

The player in question was Sandy Saunders who was added to the roster of the club on the final day for such action—Jan. 18.

The newspaper went into the question when the Hub team informally challenged the status while relaying the news of the Hicksville win.

Eligibility chairman John Galasso of Oyster Bay informed the paper that the player wasn't on the roster.

Wednesday afternoon Galasso announced that the league accepted Saunders as a member of the Hicksville roster after a conference with league prey Dan Belcastro of Greenvale.

HOW IT WENT

The matter resolved in this fashion. The Hicksville club wanted to add Saunders on the mentioned final day and two players were dispatched to Westbury to file the formal statement.

Upon arrival at the hall it was discovered that the meeting of the league adjourned early. A hurried call to Oyster Bay revealed that Galasso was ill but would accept the card if presented before midnight.

Arriving at the address the Hicksville players not wishing to disturb anyone, simply deposited it in a mailbox and left.

However, it was a two family house and a neighbor, inquisitive about two young men around the grounds at that late hour, took out the card, not realizing its importance, and tucked it away.

Wednesday afternoon the neighbor presented Galasso with the card upon his return from work with regrets for forgetting about it for two weeks.

The name was right. The date was right. The house was right. And the time of delivery was verified.

Galasso then ruled Hicksville was in the clear upon the matter of honest intent and certified Saunders.

Over in Hempstead they are still shaking their heads about the handwriting on the wall.

Vision Of Fourth Title Better As West Hempstead Topples 57-52

WEST HEMPSTEAD—Steve Ruggiero's Hicksville PBC is confident that a fourth straight Alliance title is within reach following a 57-52 victory over the previously unbeaten AA, here earlier in the week.

When the Hempstead club left the gym after their nine game blazing start had been squelched the odds on Hicksville copping the flag a fourth time zoomed.

Service calls had ripped the local club apart and early indications were that the Hub team was a solid bet to sweep the honors.

But for the past three years the AA has been barred from the title because it couldn't beat Hicksville and the reorganizing lads of Ruggiero put the handwriting on the wall again.

SCHWARTING, SAUNDERS Recently returned from duty in the Coast Guard Ted Schwarting popped in the first six Hicksville points for a lusty start.

Ruben Callajas and John Ecnopolly were effective from the outside and the taller Hub crew just could not take a commanding edge.

It was 14-14, 27-25 and 43-41 at the periods. Hempstead had the lead in the two cases but Sandy Saunders turned the heat on in the last period with four driving buckets.

Sandwiched in between were solos by Pat Enos, Dick Kerbs, Stan Kellner and Mort Rosiner. The windmill attack put the PBC eight points up with three minutes to go and it was over.

Little Leaguers To Meet Monday

HICKSVILLE—A special meeting of the Central Nassau Little League Inc. (formerly known as the Northwest Little League) will be held in Levittown Hall here on Monday, Feb. 1, starting 8:30 P.M. sharp. All certificate members are urged to attend, according to Ray de Chester Jr., league commissioner.

Among the many issues to be resolved at the meeting will be the adoption of a new league constitution and a program of special events leading up to the baseball tryouts for the youngsters which are scheduled to commence Saturday, April 3.

The league also wishes to inform all members that arrangements have been completed for regular league membership meetings every second Wednesday of each month during 1954 in the auditorium at Levittown Hall commencing Feb. 10.

SPORT-O-GRAMS

By Nat Ferraro
Taking Nourishment!

Those of us who have been starved for baseball news since last October are now getting a little nourishment. We are beginning to read about players who have signed for 1954. And, usually, there is an item concerning those who have returned unsigned contracts. All of this means we are coming nearer to the training camp season. Once that arrives, opening day is almost just around the corner.

It doesn't matter what the season is... your car needs regular attention from dependable mechanics. Stop in to see us on a fixed schedule and your car will do a better job for you. Broadway Service Station, Broadway and James Street, Hicksville. Phone HI 3-9702.

Women Voters League Voices Objection To Bricker Proposal

Hicksville and Levittown members of the League of Women Voters are sending letters and telegrams to their Senators in Washington asking for the defeat of the Bricker Amendment, the bill authored by Senator John Bricker (R) of Ohio, seeking to amend the Constitution and limit the treaty-making powers of the President. Membership chairman Barbara Cass organized a telephone campaign during the week, calling members and friends, asking them to write letters concerning this matter. Charlotte Shapiro, International Relations chairman, also sent out letters urging members to write expressing their opinions.

Elizabeth Miller, president of the League here, received a reply from Senator Knowland (R., California) to her telegram which read: "Regarding your telegram Bricker Amendment, scheduled for early debate in Senate. William F. Knowland."

In an editorial June 12, 1958, the New York Times said, "The most that can be said about the Bricker Amendment is that it is superfluous. Even if the President and Senate should conspire to give away by treaty an inherent right of the American people, a simple act of Congress could eradicate and nullify so unlikely an action. The whole concept of the Amendment is to transfer to Congress, and even in important respects, virtually to eliminate altogether the President's right to conduct foreign affairs. In this shrinking world such an experiment is unnecessary, undesirable and dangerous."

Wainwright Mail About 50-50

WASHINGTON — Mid-Island Congressman Stu Wainwright will make available to Herald readers opposing views of two of his colleagues, here, on the Bricker amendments. The first is scheduled for publication next week. Wainwright said this week his office received over 39 letters pro and con on the Amendment with "sentiment equally divided. It is clear, however, that that the majority of the people writing to Congress and the President, as well as the general public are not aware of the real issue," he said.

Knights Pythias To Close Charter

HICKSVILLE—The local chapter of the Knights of Pythias will close its books to charter members on Jan. 31. Special Deputy Robert Spiro reports that 75 men have already signed. The group is aiming for 100 charter members by Jan. 31 and asks all men who have been members of other Pythian lodges in the past or who belong to distant lodges to call Hicksville 4-3438 for information on transference of membership. Members not now Pythians but wishing to join are asked to call the same number. The new lodge is Sagamore Lodge 817, Knights of Pythias.

Stackler Sees More New Homes

HICKSVILLE—Walter G. Stackler, President of the L.I. Home Builders Institute, this week forecast a production of approximately 40,000 housing units during 1958 in the four counties of Long Island — Brooklyn, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk. His prediction was based on reports during the past month from builders, architects, lending institutions, land planning engineers and land sales agencies.

"Reports gathered from a variety of building sources on Long Island indicate that plans for new construction of homes and apartments on Long Island continue steady", Stackler stated. "Architects report more work on the planning boards as do land planning engineers, while lending institutions confirm the fact that builders' applications for early 1954 commitments show no decline from 1953 levels. Actually, 1958 produced 36,000 dwelling units, but this would have been 10% greater had it not been for the nine week teamsters' strike."
