The assessment roll is also open daily at the town hall, here, from 9 AM to 4:45 PM until Tuesday, May 18. On that final date, a member of the Board of Assessors or a Deputy Assessor will be present at the Town Hall to review assessments and to examine all complaints. On file at the town hall are all properties in the Township of Oyster Bay including the mid-Island area.

Memorial Day Plans Shaping

HICKSVILLE—Letters of invitation have gone out to all local organizations inviting them to participate in Memorial Day Exercises on Monday morning, May 31. Seymour Lang, commander of the Jewish War Veterans, is chairman of the combined committee of veteran organizations for the program this year. All groups which have not been contacted, may call Chairman Lang at LE 9-2068, Legion Ed Becker at IV 6-5542, Amvets Harry Strembel at HE 7-3978, or VFW Wm. Froehlefer at HI 8-1087. The parade will start at 10 o'clock from E. Nicholai St. in front of the Legion Hall.

The flag committee of the Charles Wagner Legion Post is taking orders from business concerns for sidewalk flags, including curb holes. John Elkmann at Hicksville Firestone is in charge of the project.

Urges Female Political Action

WASHINGTON—More ladies in political activity is the hope of Congressman Stan Wainwright of the First Congressional District, which includes the mid-Island area, he said this week. "It may not be too long before Suffolk County brings forth more ladies into the political field," he commented. "The Republican County Chairman (of Suffolk) is to be congratulated for his enterprising and far-sighted views in this delicate field."

Active participation by more ladies is the objective of the new Centre Island Women's Republican Club now in formation with Florence Vryen of 10 Rising Lane, Hicksville, as chairman.

"The time has long past when women can be left out of political circles," Wainwright also stated. "Each passing year finds them taking an ever increasing and effective part in the management of our governmental affairs."

Coal Bin Fire Causes Damage

HICKSVILLE—Floor beams and wooden partitions were charred by fire in the basement of the home of School Board President Henry C. Breene at 126 E. Main St., Saturday evening. Firemen were called to the address at 6:27 P.M.

There was no one home at the time, and smoke filled every floor to the attic. Source of the fire was in the basement coal bin.

Assistant Chief Larry Ruttle was in charge of the vamps. The new portable smoke extractor of the Hook and Ladder Co. was put to good use in clearing the air in the basement which was thick with fumes.

Firemen were called out Sunday evening for a false alarm at the fire box in front of Lee Ave. School at 7th St.

The firemen also answered a call at the Stackler and Frank property, the former St. John's Proctory barn, on North Broadway on May 4 when wood stored in the old building caught fire.

Vamps also answered a silent call on Sunday morning when escaping oil from the furnace supply alarmed the family at the R. Carroll home at 168 First St. There was no fire.

Dad Rather Take Jail In School Bus' Dispute

MINEOLA—Robert Conlin of 29 Leigh Lane, Hicksville, went to county jail for ten hours, Friday, because he refused to pay a $10 fine imposed by Children's Court Judge James N. Gehrig. Ten-days or a $10 fine was the sentence passed when Conlin again declined to send his daughters, Diane, 13 and Maureen, 12, to junior high school because the Board of Education will not provide them with transportation.

The Charles Wagner Legion Post of Hicksville paid his fine since he is a member of the post, to obtain his release. (See Legion News and Views on Page 6 in this issue).

Conlin said he will not abandon his fight for school bus service for his daughters. "I am willing to lose my home and my job in order to show the phony politicians on the school board that I am sincere", he asserted.

PLAINVIEW—Robert Tuttle, supervising principal of the Plainview Schools, was felled by a heart attack early this week and is now resting comfortably at his home at 19 Virginia Avenue.

MRS. WM. MILLER, 15 Terrace Place, Hicksville, exhibited her oil painting entitled "Covered Bridge in New Hampshire" at the Hicksville Public Library recently. She is the mother of two sons and one daughter and has several grandchildren. She enjoys painting as a hobby. She is a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church Altar Guild as well as Independent Art Society. The exhibition is under the auspices of the Hicksville Adult Education Program.

Band and Chorus To Present Festival In New Uniforms

HICKSVILLE—The Band and Chorus are presenting their spring music festival at the High School auditorium Friday evening, May 14, at 8:30. This will be an especially colorful event since both organizations will be appearing in their new uniforms.

The Band uniforms are gray with orange and black trim and can be worn in four smart styles. The twirlers will wear their new white and orange outfits. The Chorus gowns are a beautiful blue-grey with white satin sashes having the school initials embroidered in royal blue.

These are the gowns for which Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller" was presented so successfully last fall. To add to the beauty of the uniforms, stage decorations and colored lights have been planned by the Art Department under Mr. Holmes.

Both organizations have had an extremely busy and successful season, and are looking forward to a fine audience of their friends and supporters. Near this summary of their year's work, they have both brought credit to their school and community and deserve their full support.

The Band began the season under the guidance of Charles Gouse, who is now serving in the armed forces. They have been very fortunate in being able to continue their training with Anthony Poliella who is carrying on Mr. Gouse's work. The twirlers have been trained by Norman Seip, Director of Instrumental Music, and the Chorus by Miss Harriet A. Spink Supervisor of Music.

Tickets are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students, and can

DEDICATION CEREMONIES of Plainview's new Central Park Road School were held recently. The building is a fire proof, functionally designed structure which was completed in six months. School Principal John Brooks. Back row: l. to r. are John Dowling, trustee; Creswell Delamain, trustee; Rev. R. J. Hanley, parish priest of St. Martin of Tours R. C. Church, Bethpage, and Rev. John Hirsch, pastor of the Plainview Lutheran Church. (Herald Photo by Frank Mallett).

NEIGHBOR DOWLING VIEWS NEWS

Decision On Centralization Soon

By JOHN DOWLING

Before too much time passes Plainview and Bethpage will have to face up to the forthcoming senior high school needs of both communities. Right now, the need for residents approved it and both the resident's approval and the state's action was upheld in the courts. This could conceivably happen in Bethpage and Plainview because neither district can afford to go it alone for high school purposes unless there's a sudden and drastic change in the assessed valuation of the two districts. This change can only come about by an influx of light industry in Plainview and the addition of more industry to Bethpage.

they're considering a change, the matter of centralizing the districts for high school purposes will have to be resolved before any secondary schools are erected in the affected communities.

It wasn't too long ago that the same complexity faced Glen Head, Sea Cliff and Glenwood Landing. The ultimate result was that the Dept. of Education stepped in and ordered a centralization vote. The residents approved it and both the resident's approval and the state's action was upheld in the courts.

This could conceivably happen in Bethpage and Plainview because neither district can afford to go it alone for high school purposes unless there's a sudden and drastic change in the assessed valuation of the two districts. This change can only come about by an influx of light industry in Plainview and the addition of more industry to Bethpage.

Memorial Committee Meeting Tonight

PLAINVIEW — The Memorial Day Committee will meet tonight (Tuesday) at Manetto Hill School, here, at 8:30 according to Alfred R. Schupp of Blane St., chairman. A speaker will be chosen at the meeting tonight. Services on memorial day will be held at the Firehouse. All organization representatives are urged to attend.

While it is true that Bethpage has industry at the present time, it is also true that Bethpage's tax rate is rising. Plainview's has dropped last year and will experience another reduction this year. Although this cannot be expected to continue in the future, the facts are that without the construction of a high school even though they have industry, the Bethpage district is faced with higher taxes. There's no doubt about it that the proffered solution of centralizing for high school purposes merits serious and thoughtful consideration by both districts before any definite plans are made.

ON AND OFF MILLWOOD GATE:

Cancer Crusade Well Over Top

By DOROTHY E. BROWN

Hicksville 4-8128

Have you planned to go to the Millwood Gate Asan May 26 Dance to be held in the VFW Hall? Due to lack of enough volunteers and the amount of time consumed by personal contact, the committee has volunteers in each district to sell tickets in advance to those interested in attending the dance. Advance sale is important in order to determine the number attending.

Those with tickets are Warren Nathan at 63 Fordham Rd., Jack Cody at 19 Mayflower Dr., Mrs. Patricia Drake at 2 Birchwood Lane, Thomas Murphy at 87 Woodbine Dr. N., John F. Mulhall at 10 Birchwood Lane, Frank Szymanski at 4 Greenbriar Lane, Eugene Magee at 87 Woodbine Dr. N., and James Montoux at 58 Fordham Rd.

Please get your tickets as soon as possible from the nearest agent in your vicinity and we know you will have a good evening and meet many of your neighbors for the first time.

The results of the Cancer Drive in the Hicksville area has been very gratifying. The goal was not by the end of the month and due to poor weather and Easter, many donations were turned in late, thus we are well over the top.

These results are due to the wonderful cooperation given the collectors by the Hicksville Drive Chairman, Joseph F. Bayer of the Long Island National Bank. Now to revert once again, after you have an excellent chairman, you must have the volunteers who give tirelessly of their time to go from house to house and ask for a donation.

I personally want to thank all those who helped collect in Millwood Gate Development. The total amount collected was $103.08 by the following people: Mrs. Louis Foster of 17 Birchwood Lane, Mrs. R. Golka of 76 Woodbine Dr. N., Mrs. Susan Laurenti of 12 Woodbine Dr. S., Mrs. Thomas Killeen of 28 Ferndale Dr., Mrs. Warren Nathan of 63 Fordham Dr., Mrs. Vincent Cuccioli of 8 Mayflower Dr., and Mrs. Josephine Kuczynski of 58 Woodbine Dr. E.

Also those of the Broadway Terrace Homes who kindly volunteered their time: Mrs. Miriam Wyman of 4 Gerald Ave. and Mrs. Mary Bede of 3 Marlin Ave. collected a total of $22.50 for those two streets. Thanks to all for a grand job well done.

We wish him better luck next year and sincerely hope Sandra will soon be out with all her little friends. Latest reports are that she is better.

In honor of Marcia Hellman's birthday on Saturday, May 8, and her grandfather's whose birthday was April 29, a family reunion was held at the Hellman's at 70 Fordham Rd. on Saturday. One of the trips taken while there was to Valley Forge Park. I hear that the dogwood blossoms in the park were to magnificent for words to describe.

YOU RING — WE BRING!

New York telephone Co

Dear people,

My name is Margaret Mullaly and I am 7 years old. I had a dog named Rover he was 1 year old. He was very kind and was my best friend. Now I am very sad and I have cried for days because your truck hit my dog Rover last Wednesday. It wasn't your fault but would you please help me find another puppy.

Thank you
Margaret Mullaly.

Why Margaret named her new puppy "Bella"

Charlie Triscritti, telephone repairman, felt mighty bad when we got the letter above.

He knew he couldn't have avoided hitting Margaret's "best friend." And Margaret's father, who saw the unwise Rover dash under Charlie's slow-moving truck, agreed. But even before the letter arrived, Charlie felt he should do something about it—accident or not.

His telephone teammates had thought so, too. They wanted to chip in to buy Margaret a new puppy. And that's why, in no time at all, she was the proud owner of a bouncy new friend.

Margaret was so proud and happy that she named her new pet after the man who invented the telephone. Of course, since the dog was a lady, the name had to be "Bella."

And we're proud, too, because this story typifies the spirit of service and friendliness of telephone people—off the job as well as on.

Is This The LIRR?

Here are a few quotations from a booklet distributed to commuters recently. "Now that we're inaugurating entirely new passenger schedules on the main line, we thought you might like to know a little more about the new service and how it will operate." And further on it reads. "You may be sure that we'll do our level best to give the fast, convenient, on-time service you and your communities want and have a right to expect."

No, this wasn't the LIRR. This booklet was given out by the Jersey Central Lines in announcing their new schedules which they promise will serve their passengers with greater efficiency and convenience. The Jersey Central serves commuters living in such towns as Elizabeth, Cranford, Westfield, Plainfield, Dunellen, and so on.

Other Rail Roads Improve Service

Several of the other railroads serving the New York area have recently improved their commuter service. The Jersey Central just reduced the running time from New York to Westfield, a distance of 20 miles, by six minutes. They have also inaugurated the use of brand new equipment. And this is the railroad that was in receivership a few years ago under the same trustees that the LIRR has now. The New Haven, long famous for its superior commuter service, recently added more modern, air conditioned cars to its commuter runs. And its present fares are substantially under the LIRR's present fares; its trains are much faster, and the cars are air conditioned. Would we appreciate some air conditioned cars in the months to come?

Only One Solution

If the communities of Long Island are to enjoy the same commuter service that those of Westchester, lower Connecticut, and northern New Jersey enjoys, there is but one answer. That is to operate the LIRR as the other railroads are operated. It has always been a maxim of railroading that in return for a charter from the state to operate, the railroad must not only handle the profitable freight business, but it must also serve the travelling public at reasonable rates.

Other railroads accept this, but not the Pennsylvania Railroad insofar as its Long Island stepchild is concerned. The LIRR is actually an extension of the Pennsylvania into Long Island, and area of 6,000,000 population. Maybe Long Islanders don't ship much freight each other, but plenty comes in from the west and by the Pennsylvania.

The obvious solution is to compel the Pennsylvania to live up to the letter and spirit of its charter by making the LIRR an integral part of its overall system. The Pennsylvania freight profits should apply to its Long Island commuter just as much as it applies to its New Jersey or Philadelphia commuter service. To permit the Pennsylvania to drop commuter service here, while hanging on to the lush freight business generated by Long Island, would be very foolish indeed. To try to operate a commuter service independent of freight profits, whether by an independent group or by a public agency, is to invite perpetual high fares, poor service, and deficits.

No Concessions Needed

New York State should not give the Pennsylvania any concessions for taking back the LIRR, and operating it as part of the overall system. They had it once and they ran it into the ground. They should not now be given anything they don't deserve if they should get a second chance to run it right. The State doesn't owe the Pennsylvania anything, but they owe the state a well run' railroad.

Eagles to Keep Charter Open Until End of Week

HICKSVILLE—John J. Gabriel, Grand Arctic Representative of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and head of the Nassau County Membership Department of that Organization, today informed the Mid-Island Herald that the current organization drive to establish a local lodge here has been "overwhelmingly successful."

He said that although a sufficient number of charter applications have already been accepted, the charter will be held open until May 16. Plans are already under way for the institution of the lodge and installation of officers on May 23.

Since last reported the Herald,

Officers to serve until June 1955 were nominated unanimously:

Worthy Pres., Elbert T. Linscott;

Worthy Pres., John J. Gabriel;

American Legion — News and Views

Charles Wagner Post No. 412, American Legion, Hicksville.

By ALLEN S. CARPENTER

Laws and regulations are absolute necessities in a society where people live together. Without laws and regulations to govern actions of people, each man would be a law unto himself. Might would be master over right.

Good citizens obey both the law and those regulations which may from time to time apply to them. As citizens of a free democracy, we reserve the right to disagree and to object to any one of the laws or regulations. We have the right to object to the specific law or regulation, or even to the basic principle behind that law or regulation. We have every legal right to make strenuous efforts to try to change that law or regulation.

But at no time do we have the right to take the law into our own hands and to violate the law or even to ignore it. Those men who take the law into their own hands, those men who will not abide by society's rules, those men who violate the law or legal regulations, must pay the legal penalty.

No matter how righteous the party may feel, if he purposefully takes the law into his own hands, and violates one of society's rules, he must pay the prescribed penalty. Society has no choice, it must enforce its rules—for the protection of the community of families—for the protection of society itself.

The American Legion is pledged to "Combat the autocracy of both the church and the military, to make Right the master of Might." Every American Legion member is pledged to "Foster and maintain law and order and to be ever mindful of his duty as a citizen."

When our American Legion Post paid the fine and secured the release of Robert Conlin from the county jail, we did not do so because we believed that member's actions were right. When he kept his children out of school in protest against the school districts transportation regulations, we knew he was violating the law. We told him some weeks ago that we could not support his action, an action that takes the law into his own hands. We told him that there was a right way and a wrong way to do what he wanted to do—and we told him in no uncertain terms that his was the wrong way.

In view, however, of his wife's plea, and in view of the family's plight (even though self-inflicted), our welfare committee acted in Christian charity to secure his release.

He has returned to his job of supporting his family, and we of the American Legion hope he will return also to his job of supporting the laws and regulations of our community of families, of our society.

Letters to Editor Would Elect Attorney for School

By CHARLES DE SHAW

To the Editor:

IT SEEMS TO ME that a School Attorney is as much a Public Servant, as a School Board Member. More so when it is considered that the Attorney is paid for his services, whereas Board Members are not. When this is considered, the Attorney should be a Civic minded citizen whose interest lies in serving the public—not so much for the stipend received, but for the service he can perform in their behalf.

It has always been my contention that a professional man who considers only the gratuity he receives for his services is not for me, for I know he doesn't have my interest at heart. His only interest in me is how much money he can get from representing me.

Unfortunately, this community has such a man, namely Michael J. Sullivan. School Attorney. For part-time services, he is reaping a "whirlwind of gold."

At the School Board meeting of April 28, when Board Member Sandy protested the amount of the following men have been ac-

Gorney, 19 North Dr.; Edward P. Jablonski, 84 Raymond St.; Patrick Foley, 4 Charles Pl.; Walter Chruseil, 49 Lenox Ave.; Lawrence Pagano, 96 Polaris Dr.; Fred Blackley, 32 Grand Ave.; Clifford J. Rusch, 22 Prospect St.; Fred J. Noeth, 22 Twin Lawns Ave. and Cyril James, McKinley Ave., all Hicksville.

Also Daniel Maragni, 628 Central Ave.; Thomas J. Bradley, 60 Fourth St.; Constantine Dethomas, 536 Central Ave.; Martin Piazzola, 16 Anderson St.; Leonard Gianattasio, 451 Central Ave.; Dominic Gianattasio, 325 Central Ave.; Vincent Puri, 1 Washington St.; Carmine Gianattasio, 539 Central Ave.; Vincent T. Spodobinski, 58 First St.; Bernard E. Rowman, 6 First St.; Patsy Giannacino, Central Ave.; Henry Granberg, 30 Sherman Ave.; Pasquale Montanarano, 70 Seventy St.; and Edmund A. Terranova, 76 Chesire Rd.; all Bethpage.

Also, August J. Joseph, 3554 Condor Rd. and Paul J. Giblin, 89 Sugar Maple, both Levittown;

Raymond Heuschneider, 16th St., Jericho; John G. Schmidt, 1129 Jackson Ave., No. 1, Lindenhurst;

William Kellerman, 22 Fieldstone Dr., Syosset; Frank Piazzola, 41 Country Club Rd., Bellport; and George Honeski, 31 North St., and Guy Beckham, 33 W. 19 St., both Huntington Station.

Membership in the Order of Eagles is open to all males between the ages of 18-55. The next meeting will be held tonight (Tuesday May 11) at Potski's Tavern, 245 Woodbury Rd., here at 8:30 P.M.

Sullivan's latest bill, Sullivan, replied, "No attorney would serve for a stipulated annual fee", and Dick School Board Member backed him up saying, "Only a fool would agree to such an arrangement".

It seems to me that the District could use a "Fool" such as that. At least the "Fool" would be a civic minded individual who considered Public Welfare above his own gain.

I have no doubt that there are many such "Fools", and the School Board would do well to inquire around for one; instead of maintaining the attorney they now have. Then this Attorney who was "giving so generously of his time" could devote all that time to private practice, which it seems to me would not be so lucrative.

The very fact that the Board must borrow money from the bank to pay his latest bill, because he isn't content to wait until the bond issue has been sold, confirms my diagnosis.

In conclusion, it seems to me that both Board Attorney and School Attorney positions should be elective, by the people of the district, with a stipulated annual fee announced at time of election.

Mr. Newborn will answer questions in this column.
Address Herald, Box 95, Hicksville.

This is the second of a series of three articles on examinations of Income Tax Returns conducted by the Bureau of Revenue.

Q. How does the Bureau of Internal Revenue check Income Tax returns?

A. As was explained last week all taxpayers are required to keep such records as are necessary in order to correctly reflect income. Only wage-earners and farmers with no other income are exempted from this requirement by regulation. Wilful failure is a misdemeanor punishable by law. Failure due to carelessness may result in taxes and penalties far in excess of the tax that would ordinarily have been paid. If the taxpayer does not have acceptable records the Director may use such method as does clearly reflect income. The three main methods are as follows:

1. Bank deposits-expenses.

2. Net worth-living costs.

3. Percentage of unit mark-up basis.

Last week we discussed the bank deposits-expenses method. Today we will treat the net worth-living costs method. The Tax Court sums up this method as follows:

"Where the net worth basis is used to compute net income, actual receipts and expenditures are not considered. Rather, the annual increase in net worth, adjusted for allowable depreciation, plus nondeductible expenses such as living expenses and personal expenditures, constitute the net income for that year. In using such method, the assumption must be that all of the taxpayer's income for a year is either used during the year or is reflected in assets on hand or the end of the year."

As can readily be seen this method is more satisfactory than the bank deposits-expenses method in simpler words it consists of adding up the value of everything you own at the beginning of the year and subtracting that from the value of everything you own at the end of the year. To that increase is added all expenditures for living expenses to arrive at your income for the year.

In one case an army colonel reported his pay of $4,144.65 as income for 1946. The revenue agents analyzed his net worth at beginning and end of the year and turned up unreported income of $33,270.79 . . . poker winnings! His luck held out, however, since he was assessed only the 5 per cent negligence penalty in addition to the deficiency.

In another case the Director assessed a dentist, who owned a hotel and taxicab company, $95,000 in deficiencies and penalties. Some years he filed returns, some years he filed no returns, and he kept no satisfactory records. The Director determined his income on the bases of bank deposits in five banks. The Tax Court held this to be incorrect because he often shifted funds from one bank to another. The Tax Court redetermined his net income based on net worth-living expenses and assessed deficiencies. For the years in which he failed to file there was a 25 per cent penalty added to the deficiency.

(Read next Tuesday's Herald for the third and concluding article on examinations of Income Tax Returns conducted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.)

the P-TA gift, a past president's pin.

Mrs. Roseberry said she wishes to compliment Miss Elaine Knecht on her newspaper "Together" which "has played a vital part in the success of the year's program."

Discussing the conversion of the present building, Dr. LeBaron said 1,500 children are now using the building which was built to house 850. This figure at present represents both High School and Junior High School. The critical peak years are still in the future, he said.

The Junior High School must be planned to care for 1,800 children in single session which will enable the building to house the 3,600 children expected in the peak years, 1962-3. The new Junior High School will be ~~1962-3~~ years school.

While preliminary drawings are not ready, Dr. Le Barson said that the additions would be two stories high, would add 20 rooms and convert the present building into a quadrangle. An arch large enough to admit trucks and cars into the quadrangle is planned.

The present gym will be used for girls and will be modernized to separate into two teaching sections as wished. One gym balcony may be left to provide a teacher's conference area with entrance from second floor. A new gym is planned for the boys adjacent to the athletic field. The gym may be divided into one or two teaching areas as wished.

The library will be on the second floor center and larger than the present. The new cafeteria will be located close to Second St. so that it may have convenient servicing. The present cafeteria will be converted into an arts and crafts room. The shop will be located at their present site but will be enlarged. He stressed the fact that it is planned to use as much of the present set-up as possible. The auditorium will be left pretty much as is, as it is not meant for convention hall. Large gatherings may be held in the gym, he said. The music rooms will be adjacent to the stage.

HICKSVILLE GABLES:

Want to Form Little League

By CONSTANCE GIBSON
 Hicksville 4-1482

Heard from some of the fathers and sons in and around The Gables that they would like to establish a Little League here in Hicksville. A few people have tried to get their sons into the teams now flourishing in Bethpage and Levittown, only to be refused since they do not live in the vicinity of the team. There are so many young boys interested in baseball here that the men and boys would like all interested to help establish a local team. If anyone is interested we would appreciate it if you would get in touch with us at the above number.

We would like to call attention to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evers of 34 South Elm St. lost their dog, Tanzi, a German Shorthaired Pointer, female, on May 3. The dog who is six months old and two inches in height is without a leash or collar. Tanzi is a brown and gray combination with two liver spots on her back one which encircles her tail. Her eyes are quite odd giving the appearance of being blood shot. Please if anyone sees or hears of Tanzi, call Mr. and Mrs. Evers at HI 3-0687.

There was a meeting of the representatives of various Hicksville organizations, service clubs, and churches on Monday, May 10, in the high school called by Leonard Urschel of 15 Gables Rd., chairman of the 1954 spring clothing drive committee of American Relief for Korea. Millions of Koreans are in need of warm clothing. We must help them. Mr. Urschel who is of Kings Point Academy hopes to get the support of all the townspeople not only of his own Gables, but as neighbors of his we must cooperate by offering all we can in this worthy campaign.

Best wishes go to Mr. and Mrs. Coyote Carpenter of 29 Gables Rd. who celebrated their 11 wedding anniversary on May 5.

Also in line for anniversary congratulation are Mr. and Mrs. James Montalto of 69 Rim Lane who celebrated their 18 years together on May 9. What could make a happier Mother's Day?

Heard from Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Caldwell of 295 Plainview Rd. that they and their daughters, Janice and Susan, spent Easter week with Mrs. Caldwell's mother and sister in Philadelphia. Kevin Evers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evers of 34 South Elm St. broke his right arm on April 26. Kevin was playing on a seesaw when the accident occurred. We hope he will mend soon.

Birthday greetings go to the Urschel twins, Virginia and Nancy, who celebrated their ninth year on April 27. Miss O'Leary's class at East Street School got a real treat when the twins had their party during class, distributing ice cream and cup cakes to all their classmates. The twin's father, Mr. Leonard Urschel marked his birthday the next day, April 28.

The building fund of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church has netted approximately $33,000 of the $50,000 it hopes to raise. Mrs. John Olson of 303 Plainview Rd. tells us that a Pasta and Pie Party will be held in the Parish Hall of the Church on May 17. Everyone is invited for a wonderful time.

Miss Barbara DiBella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William DiBella of 28 South Elm St. and Kathleen Seith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Seith of 15 Gables Rd. took part in the living Rosary services held in St. Ignatius Church at 2 o'clock Sunday May 2. The girls wore white dresses and carnations. There were five groups of ten.

girls to represent the five decades and ten EMIL Marriages each decade of the Roaring Twenties. The first group wore yellow carnations, the second red, the third white, fourth green and the fifth blue. Each started her prayer to be answered by the congregation.

The DiBellas also entertained Mrs. DiBella's Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thien of 237 Ovington Avenue, Brooklyn and her mother Mrs. Walter Johnson of the same address for Mother's Day. On Saturday, May 8 they attended the wedding of Mrs. DiBella's cousin, Miss Patricia Sullivan in St. Mary Gate of Heaven Church in Richmond Hill.

A Happy Birthday goes to Michael Edmund O'Rourke, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Rourke of 12 Gables Rd. who was 3 on May 8.

Relax Folks, Kids Were Brave

By SHIRLEY BUEHLICH
Hicksville 4-2227

The main topic of conversation around here this past week has been, "Did your child receive his or her polio injection?" Parents of the children in first to third grades really had a time deciding whether or not to give their permission for the injections. Of the people I have spoken to it seems that just about half the parents agreed to have their children receive the shots while the other group, for one reason or another, decided against it.

The parents of the children attending Lee Ave. School who gave their final OK and who are wondering how their little miss or junior behaved, can relax.

According to Mrs. Frieda Black, 18 Mineola Ave. and Mrs. Pearl Aello, 9 Mineola Ave., the two Polio Vaccine Volunteers from this section, you can be proud of your offspring for they were very brave and even those with a few qualms about baring their arms relented when they saw the lollipop waiting for them. This week the children will receive their second injection and then in about four weeks the third one.

Democrats Get Preview May 12

GARDEN CITY—A preview of the State Democratic Convention next Fall may well be in store for those attending the Nassau County Democratic organization's Annual Dinner on Wednesday, May 12, at the Garden City Hotel, here according to Lawrence W. McKeown of Baldwin, Democratic County leader.

The big expectations for a particularly exciting affair, McKeown said, are based on the fact that every one of the several men mentioned as possible Democratic candidates for Governor of New York State has been invited to attend, as well as numerous other Democrats of state and national prominence.

Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., W. Averell Harriman, James B. Farley, Judge Charles W. Frazee of Queens, and New York Mayor Robert L. Wagner, Jr., — all mentioned as gubernatorial candidates — have received invitations to the dinner along with Dr. Herbert H. Lehman; Carmine Di Sipio, Democratic National Committeeman from New York State; Richard Balch and Angela Parisi, chairman and vice-chairman of the State Democratic Committee; and Benjamin Wetzel, the State Committee's executive secretary.

Joseph Liff of Great Neck, chairman of the Committee of Fifty, in charge of arrangements, reports early ticket sales indicate a record attendance this year. Serving on the committee with Liff are three vice-chairmen, the Democratic Town Leaders of the county's three townships, Tom Abbott of Oyster Bay, Ray Brand of Hempstead and Carl Sigman of North Hempstead, as well as 46 local dinner chairmen who are cooperating with zone leaders in each of the county's 46 election zones toward the success of the affair.

In the Mid-Island area, McKeown pointed out, tickets and information about the dinner may be obtained from William A. Cisler, 5 Henry Place, Hicksville.

Been to town lately? The next time you are be sure to look in the window of Engle's Bakery on the corner of Main St. and Broadway. The fifth and sixth grade activity class of the Lee Ave. School has on display their red baskets and paper mache' puppets.

Happy vacationing to the Jack Taylors of Albert Street.

CNLL Opens Memorial Day

HICKSVILLE—This week all 16 major and minor league teams of the Central Nassau Little League took to the fields for practice sessions in preparation for the official opening games which have been tentatively scheduled for May 31 and the early part of June.

Despite delays because of bad weather, team managers are gradually shaping their squads into smooth operating units for the long fun-filled and highly competitive schedule ahead. Local fields are buzzing with activity as the youngsters sharpen their fielding and batting eyes and test their skills at various positions, according to Ray de Chester, Commissioner.

The team managers and the respective teams they will supervise are as follows:

Major League—Eastern Division
 Geno Burke, Ridgeway Tyrol Service Station; Leo Samberg, Professional; Charles Morris, Pan Am Pilots; Frank Muller, Long Island National Bank of Hicksville. Major League—Western Division
 Russ Barich—O'Donnell Movers; Stan Shepard—Shoe King Sam; Gordon Johanson, Boos Brothers Nursery; Bill Murphy, Greater Nassau Realty.

Minor League Division
 Roy Palmer, McPherson Powerglides; Ernie Sciarita, Hicksville Kiwanis; Don Valenti, A. C. English Plumbing; Jack Martin, McCaffrey Agency; Jack McCauley, Commiss Texaco Service Station; Jack Keating, Mid Island Herald; Frank Daniel, T. V. Mitie; Ken Bay, Empire Storage Warehouse Hicksville.

Farm team director Hy Rosenberg held a managers meeting at his home Saturday and many of the youngsters assigned to this group were notified of their teams over the weekend. Several additional team coaches will be appointed and the remainder of the boys will probably be contacted this week. Farm team registrations total 292 youngsters, and additional coaches are needed in order to keep the number of youngsters assigned to each team to a reasonable minimum. You can assist in this community program if you will devote a few hours each Saturday to the youngsters who want to play ball this summer with an organized group.

Plans are under way for a huge Decoration Day Weekend Parade
