HAPPY FOUNDERS DAY

306th Birthday for Hicksville

HICKSVILLE—This Thursday, May 20, marks the 306th birthday of the community with no special plans or program arranged for the day.

The 300th birthday of Hicksville in 1848 found the community alive with excitement. The date in 1848 celebrates the purchase of the present day site of the community from Chief Pugnipan by Robert Williams, then of Hempstead.

Little is known of Williams before his arrival in Hempstead. It has been stated, but not proven, that he was born in Wales and was a brother of Richard Williams of Huntington and a near relative of Roger Williams of Rhode Island.

Chief Pugnipan was Sachem of the Matinecock Indians and the purchase was made for an unspecified "quantity of trading cloth". There was no definite boundaries for the purchase but it covered nine square miles including all of present day Hicksville, part of Plainview, Jericho, Levittown and Bethpage.

Williams probably died in 1681 while in Maryland. In general the career of Hicksville's earliest land owner is shrouded in mystery.

For several years following the tercentennial celebration in 1948, which embraced an eight-day series of events concluding with a great parade, an effort was made to continue annually a costume dance for the community. This was discontinued two years ago due to lack of interest and support.

The early development of Hicksville was slow. It was nearly 100 years after the Williams Purchase that the land he bought was surveyed and divided into smaller portions in 1745. In 1836 the LIRR built a single-track rail road line out from Jamaica to a point on the road to Jericho and this marked the early settling of Hicksville.

Frederick Heyne in 1849 bought 1,000 acres near the Hicksville rail road station. Streets were marked out, lots sold and home building began. The following year the first public schoolhouse was erected. In the same year the present-day Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church congregation was organized.

The following table of population traces the growth of Hicksville over the centuries:

1648 to 1745	"a few families."
1888	estimated, 900.
1902	over 1,300.
1919	about 4,000.
1929	over 5,500.
1942	7,351.
1954 (today)	35,049.

CANVASS STARTS SOON:

Firemen Prepare For Annual Appeal

HICKSVILLE—Thousands of letters will be going out in the next few weeks announcing the 26th annual Labor Day Parade and Tournament of the Fire Dept. and solicitation for the volunteers' welfare fund, according to John Jeanson, general chairman.

"As you no doubt know," the letter opens, "our fire house and the apparatus with which we protect your lives and property are provided by the Hicksville Fire District, but there are two other things which you may not know: First, no members of this volunteer fire dept. receives any money for his services as a fireman. Second, the fire district cannot provide funds for our welfare work: we must raise them ourselves.

"The five companies consist of members highly trained in firemen, to furnish you with the best possible fire protection and free oxygen service in an emergency; therefore, giving you one of the lowest rates of fire insurance in Nassau County. In 1953, your fire dept. answered 379 calls of which there were 23 emergencies, and 24 false alarms endangering hundreds of lives. Please cooperate with us to curb this dangerous hazard.

"Within the next few days," the letter continues, "a uniformed fireman will call at your home. We hope you will receive him cordially, and contribute to our welfare fund. Please feel free to ask him any questions you may have about your Fire Dept. Also we appreciate and wish to thank you for your generous support in the past."

The firemen will be issuing numbered receipts which will determine prize winners at the annual free block party of the firemen on Saturday night, Sept. 4, in the parking field opposite the firehouse.

Ernest Dieterich and Charles Sauer are co-chairmen with Jeanson in charge of the house-to-house canvass and tournament arrangements this year.

Midget Racer Driver Killed

FLEMINGTON, N. J.—Brooke Durant of W. Barclay St., Hicksville, was fatally injured here, Sunday, when his midget race car turned over during a feature race at the fairgrounds, here. The 23-year-old driver leaves his wife and a six-months-old baby. He was a Long Island Lighting Co. employee and had driven midgets and sprint cars at Freeport Stadium in recent years.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning, May 20, at Henry J. Stock Funeral Home, Hicksville, at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. Edward H. Stamm of Trinity Lutheran Church, officiating.

Durant is survived by his wife Louise; son, Glenn; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Durant; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Durand; and brother, David.

Burial will be in Pinelawn Cemetery.

CENTRAL OPERATING headquarters of the Long Island Lighting Co. on Old Country Rd., Hicksville, in a little more than a year since it was established here has proved a national and international attraction. Among the visitors here have been people from England, France, Greece, Brazil, Cuba, Panama, and even the Philippines, Korea, and Japan. The utility industry has sent representatives from almost all the 48 states. Above are the storage facilities at the new headquarters which keeps the supplies and equipment, necessary for extending and maintaining the LILCO facilities throughout the Island, readily available for immediate use.

Awards Highlight Music Festival

HICKSVILLE The High member of the Chorus. School musical group presented a beautiful picture in their new uniforms at their festival program, Friday evening, May 14. Both Band and Chorus have made real strides during the year and should be given the credit and support due them by the community to which they have brought honor.

An award from the All State Competition was presented to Roger Gatzke, President of the Chorus, by Harriet Spink, director, for it's splendid work at Bay Shore a week ago. Individual awards are on the way to each Special recognition was also given to Leona Ackerman, Jacqueline Dempsey and Josephine Trocola, three members of the Chorus who won solo awards in grades 3, 6 and 5 respectively.

Pierre Swick, another Chorus member, won an award in piano, and repeated for the Hicksville Festival a portion of the number he played at Bay Shore.

Still another award winner in piano was Michael Matthias, a member of the Band who also performed his solo for the program. Miss Dempsey sang "The Wind's in the South", one of the numbers she will do this Wednesday night for the Farmingdale Foundation final auditions.

Other solo performances of the evening were by Leona Ackerman, Jacqueline Dempsey and Josephine Trocola, who did a solo part in "Ride the Chariot"; another by Josephine Trocola from "Naughty Marietta", and a solo by Richard Hahlbohm of "Stranger in Paradise" from "Kismet".

Hahlbohm also did the narration in the Band's amusing rendition of "The Three Bears". In addition a small group of picked voices sang an obligato with the Chorus' closing number "I Believe". These were: Doris Ernst, Mette Simonson, Barbara Strauss, Agnes Arthofer, Judy Falkovitz, Nina Simonsen, Richard Adams, Robert Arthofer, Eugene Nye, Frederick Tanz and Gary Puccio.

Stage decorations and lighting were designed and executed by the Art Dept, under the direction of Paul Holmes, and added materially to make the program easy to the eye as well as to the ear. Twirlers were trained by Norman Seip, Band by Anthony Pollera, and Chorus by Harriet Spink. It was an attractive and varied program, for which congratulations belong to the young people and their directors.

Dear Jean:

Hicksville Kiwanis Club had a delegation from the Patchogue Club present at their meeting at the Millbridge Inn last Wednesday, for an "inter-club". President JAMES WALTERS reminds all members that this is 100 percent attendance month.

With ERNIE (What's a watch) DIETERICH at the stop-watch, the emergency company defeated the horse and ladder company on Sunday morning in efficiency in a sort of preliminary to the Big Challenge Contest between both companies set for Sunday, May 30. . . . The Fire Dept. ladies auxiliary is busy addressing envelopes for the form letters going out to all residents in advance of the house-to-house canvass by the volunteers which will get rolling in about a week or so. . . . Members are still talking about that cultural trip that the H & L Co., led by CAPT MANASKIE, took to Union City last Friday night. It was so successful that some of the boys are planning a return trip, this time with their wives. . . . Undersecretary WM. DANDA has reopened her business on Woodbury Rd. . . . MICHAEL SULLIVAN told the Chamber of Commerce directors, Friday, that it was almost useless to try and push the grade crossing elimination program for Hicksville until something positive is done about traffic conditions in the community itself. . . . Grumbling being heard from various quarters and the Town Board is right in the middle. Merchants fear the new parking lots will be used solely by commuters and commutes say nothing is being done for them—that the new fields are for shoppers. . . .

Boys and girls of the Hicksville Junior Jewish Youth Organization have developed a plan to sell their services for odd jobs. They will cut lawns and run errands. Money earned will be turned over to the Muscular Dystrophy fund campaign. . . . Veteran organizations in Bethpage, Hicksville and Plainview are trying to get community-wide cooperation in the display of the American flag this Memorial Day. If you need a flag for your place of business, look up JACK EIHMAN at Hicksville Fireworks for a special plan of the Charles Legion Post. . . . The Plainview Legion is offering free copies of a four-page comprehensive flag display code. You can get a copy by writing the Post at Box 578, Hicksville. . . . School board was scheduled to hire the expert to make that recreation survey for Hicksville, last night. . . . MILTON LEAVITT told the Dutch Lane P.T.A. last week that a vote on purchase of a four-acre site for another elementary school near Zedda Park will be held about Sept. . . . School Trustee EMIL SZENDY claims he has found that children in the Leavitt section living 1.2 miles from school are transported while those in the north east section who live 1.8 miles are refused a ride. . . .

While the first official tournament for Hicksville Fire Dept will be the contests at Lynbrook on June 19, the first drill at vamps in the mid-Island area will be the 6th Battalion contests at Levittown on June 8. . . . Remember the Bug House parade here last year? It will take place this year in Lynbrook on Friday night, June 18. . . . Official opening day ceremonies for the Central Nassau Little League are set for Saturday, May 29. There will be a parade starting from the Newbridge Shopping Centre at 1 o'clock. The line of march is north on Levittown Parkway, then right on Hempstead Ave to the field next to Dutch Lane School, Hicksville. . . .

7 Planes Skywrite In Colors

By SHIRLEY HUENLICH

Hicksville 4-2327

Hope that if your child attends the Lee Ave. School that you were one of the parents present at the P.T.A. meeting last Thursday, May 13. At this meeting, the following members were installed as officers for the coming year: Mrs. Phillips, President; Mrs. Koch, Vice President; Mr. Bergmann, Treasurer; Mrs. Del Persio, Secretary; and Mrs. Newberger, Recording Secretary.

Mrs. Edna Sutton, who is a member of the Hicksville School Board, spoke on "The Relationship of the School Board to the Schools". This was the last P.T.A. meeting for this term and if in the past you have not managed to get to the meetings, make a resolution that next fall you will take a more active interest in your child's schooling.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Capelluto of 29 Albert St. happily celebrated their third wedding anniversary with dinner at the San Su San in Mineola on Wednesday, May 5th. Their sons, John and Raymond, stayed with their Grandmother, Mrs. Ring of Mineola while their parents stepped out in honor of the occasion.

On Friday, May 7, the Hicksville Senior and Junior High School Glee Clubs traveled by school bus to Bayshore High to compete in singing with other Nassau and Suffolk schools. Both the Hicksville Junior and Senior Glee Clubs won a "B" rating.

While on the subject of schools, right here in our own development we have two high school students to be very proud of. Barbara Strauss of 7 Somerset Ave. and Robert Yost of 21 Ferney St. have been elected to the National Honor Society of Hicksville High School.

Saturday, May 8th, found Eugene Sladish celebrating his sixteenth birthday with a party in the basement of his home at 40 Somerset Ave. complete with all the trimmings. On hand for the festivities were: Barbara Strauss, Robert Yost, Salvatore Garady, Maureen Hyland, Elizabeth Swanker, Anthony Genevieve, John Check, Jean McCarthy, Monica Polochek and Rudy Ryaneck.

A week ago Sunday found most homes celebrating Mother's Day. At the McCann home it was a day of double celebration. Their infant son, Robert John McCann was baptized by Father Ballweg at St. Ignatius Catholic Church. The Godparents were: Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. McCann. About forty guests were present at the christening party held in their newly finished basement at 19 Mineola Avenue.

It was moving day at 28 Somerset Ave. last Monday, May 10th. Louis Cafaro and family moved from our development to a new split level home in the Morton Homes.

Everyone who saw Sunday's skywriting "See R.C.A. Victor for Colored T.V." will agree with me that something new has been added even in skywriting. Seven planes in place of the usual one or two, writing in color at that, made for a very different and pleasing pattern in the sky.

Luke Mercadante, former Democratic Mayor of Glen Cove, will be guest-speaker at a meeting of the Hicksville Democratic Club tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 8:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall on Nicholia St. The club endorsed Mercadante last month for nomination of Lieutenant-Governor of the State of New York in the November election.

Case of Fraudulent Friend

By MAY McLEAN

Hicksville, 8-5515.

From time to time we have been writing about frauds, and this is one in which we believe the home-owner will be interested. In new communities lonely homeowners tend to make fast friends too rapidly. Be careful because there are all kinds of people. We knew of such a couple who had ordered a landscaping plan from one of the neighbors.

This was a program in which the salesman—at no obligation whatever—would look the home over and make a scale model on paper with the various shrubs, trees, etc. that would go with the house. If one objects on the basis that he is not financially prepared, the salesman states that there is absolutely no charge for this plan. The shrubs can be delivered all at one time and not be paid for until ready. There is no service charge for this. One may sign up and have the plants reserved and sent as needed also.

These people had been buying things locally a little at a time, and had what they thought was an adequate amount of foliage on a 50x100 plot. They had a rose fence that encircled the property, about ten flowering shrubs, lilacs, forsythia, etc., six rose bushes, two maple trees, one weeping willow and five evergreen trees. However, they thought they would order a few extra items from this neighbor. Ordered were: 1 cherrytree, 1 magnolia tree, 2 rose bushes.

Along came spring, and time for delivery. Lo and behold: A tremendous package arrived. The delivery charge was over four dollars, which made them suspicious. However, they accepted the package.

Next day—another shipment, larger than the first came in. The housewife refused the shipment thinking there might be some mistake. That afternoon another package arrived, and the next morning still another. She kept refusing them and tried to see what the story was. There was no one to contact—couldn't find the neighbor in.

They were told by the express company that they would be charged for the merchandise even though they refuse the packages, and when they inquired as to sending them back to the nursery, they were told that shrubbery cannot be sent across state lines unless inspected by the department of agriculture. Meanwhile, they were responsible for the condition of the plants.

In the meantime, they opened the package they had at home. There were eighty rose bushes of a rare type. Still leaving room for doubt, they placed them in the car and went to that neighbor's house, thinking surely there was some mistake, only to be told by the neighbor these were not his working hours and to please contact him at another time.

The fact that the order was placed on off hours didn't enter into the picture.

It was then that they realized that something had been put over on them. They immediately sent a telegram to the nursery and phoned the local police to find out what they could do. One of the officers went to the neighbor with the customer to talk it over and the neighbor claimed that all of the plants were ordered, and showed signed orders corroborating his story.

They showed their order which in no way resembled the salesman's orders. As long as their signature was there, the salesman told them there was nothing that could alter the situation. The next day, the remaining plants that were at the express co. were dumped on their lawn. Nowhere in Hicksville were there two more miserable people.

They pressed the issue still further, and sent a telegram going into detail explaining the whole story being sure that they had been taken in by this nursery. However, they were reassured by the firm that they would in no way be responsible for what they had not ordered. This was the work of an unscrupulous salesman who padded his orders and received payment from the firm as he placed his orders.

Stick to your guns when confronted with such a situation. The salesman was at fault, and had given a bad name to the firm he worked for. The happy ending is that they didn't have to pay for the merchandise not ordered. You may not be as lucky. Our advice is to shop locally from businesses that you can go back to with any complaints.

CURRENT COMMENT:

Layer Upon Layer Of Govt

By Fred J. Noeth

THE INADEQUACY of unincorporated government for the fast growing Hicksville area is painfully demonstrated, once again, in the present situation regarding parks and playgrounds. A basically sound plan bogs down because we lack efficient machinery to put the plan into practice.

Builders have been required to set aside a portion of each project for use as play or recreation areas. This is commendable planning practice. But now that some 78 tracts of this kind have been set aside in our township, few of them are more than neighborhood rubbish collection depots because the township is not geared to make them useful.

This is no isolated example of the inability of township government to handle our needs and requirements. The civic groups of Hicksville have attempted in the past four months to obtain action on the playground question. They began in January and held their first meeting with Supervisor Lewis Waters at Oyster Bay, making the trip in a snow storm. Today the grass is green, the temperature is rising, and—for the most part—the situation is exactly where it was in January.

Twenty years ago the County Board of Supervisors engaged the Municipal Consultant Service to make a report on government within Nassau County. The report was not made for the purpose of promoting incorporated villages, but the comments in that report are worth repeating today:

Referring to duplication of services thru layer upon layer of special districts in unincorporated areas, the experts had this to say—"There is bound to be duplication of facilities, waste of funds and efforts, when a given territory and a given population are to be supplied with various services by a number of small, competing, inadequate jurisdictions."

It pointed out "One of the worst features of this condition is the decentralization of all financial planning. Each jurisdiction determines its own budget or plan of financing without taking into account the demands on the taxpayers that are made by other jurisdictions. This naturally results in piling up a burden of taxation hard to bear. The taxpayer is left with little defense and although it is true, that he is usually guilty of neglecting public affairs, it is also true, that if he attempted to watch all the transactions of all the local units, he would have no time left in which to attend to his private business.

"The great number of small units increases the cost of government and ties up large sums of money annually in special funds and bank accounts. No matter how able the heads of the various units may be, they can do little to offset the burdens imposed by an excessive number of units."

The trend toward the creation of more and more special districts to provide every conceivable municipal service has been with us for a quarter century. Hicksville today has every kind of special taxing district going with two notable exceptions, and both are on the way—a township drainage district, covering only unincorporated areas, and a sewage district.

We offer this further comment from Hon. Leslie J. Ekenberg, president, Board of Judges, Nassau County District Court, who published a book, "Our Way", in 1947. He wrote "The village represents one of the finest evidences of home rule. It is very close to the people and provides for many of their governmental requirements." Former Supervisor Charles Ransom probably never read this book.

American Legion -- News and Views

By ALLEN S. CARPENTER

The American Legion is made up nationally and locally of men and women who served our country. Each of them served our country during time of war, in the uniform of one of the branches of our armed services. But this service to our country does not distinguish members of the American Legion, from other Americans. Hundreds of thousands of Americans, yes, even millions of them, have served our country in time of war, but are not members of the American Legion—or any other veteran group.

The amount of social consciousness in the make-up of each veteran, determines whether or not he has, or will eventually, join a veteran's organization.

Many join for the companionship that comes from being a member of any congenial service-performing group. Some join out of a sincere sense of obligation to continue, in peace time, the patriotic duties assumed during time of war. Whatever their reason, it is basically social. They are men who like people. They have a personal desire to associate and work with others for the common good.

The Hicksville Post, along with other local American Legion Posts throughout our country, support the most worthwhile charities and Special Service Foundations. Never, in these meetings without the membership hearing the phrase, "I make a motion that we send the usual donation". During some of our meetings we hear the motion many times, and when the cause is worthy, and non-controversial, the motion never fails.

We have our own pet charity too. The Hicksville Post spends approximately five hundred dollars for gifts, cigarettes, and delicacies which we take once a year to the veterans in the mental wards of Kings Park Hospital. Each of the sixty-five American Legion Posts in Nassau County make this visitation once each year. Small posts join together to share the expense as each visit can cost up to a thousand dollars. Almost every Sunday of the year you will find, from thirty to a hundred American Legion members visiting their less fortunate brothers in the mental wards of Kings Park Hospital. This is only one of our many activities.

We extend an invitation to all, honorably discharged veterans, to visit us, and join with us in our program. Our next meeting will be at 8:45 P.M., Monday night, June 7th at the American Legion Hall. Subject of first importance, Election of officers for 1954-55 term.

Letters to the Editor

Says Higher Taxes Won Election.

By CHARLES DE SHAW

To The Editor:

IT SEEMS TO ME, now that the voting is over and the advocates of "Higher Taxes" have been elected, that the area of School District No. 17 who had been crying for equal representation on the School Board should now forever hold their peace. The small turnout for Registration; the way they voted on Election Day was a Community disgrace.

Havine chosen the Candidates to "Carry their Banner" prior to Registration, they failed to back up these Candidates, both of whom had been promised a huge Registration and Vote. On the latter they partially fulfilled their promise, since but 30 failed to vote.

IT SEEMS TO ME, however, that since the Area as a whole desired these Candidates (the absence of any other Candidate from this area supports this claim) they should have supported these Candidates en masse. Be that as it may, the damage has been done and can not be undone. The only consolation this area has (tragic though it be) is the fact that out of approximately 12,000 persons in the District eligible to Register and Vote, only 2,469 considered it worth their time to register, and approximately 2,187 voted.

When one considers that in many foreign countries, the privilege of voting is non-existent, we are lucky indeed that we still have that privilege here. Think of what those people would give to be able to vote. For that matter consider people in our own District who as yet have not received their Citizenship papers, but who are eagerly do in order that they may have the right to vote.

Dictatorship with all its restrictions on personal liberty arise from the indifference of people toward voting. When only a minority exercises their franchise, then it becomes the Rule of the Minority, instead of the Majority.

The privilege of voting is one of the most priceless heritages we have. Thus when only 20% Register and 17% Vote, a Community must hang its head in shame.

IT SEEMS TO ME, in conclusion, that we must be diligent that we cast not away our freedom by indifference toward the exercise of this priceless heritage. Let each and everyone who failed to Register and those who failed to vote, pledge that this shall not happen again.

Address Herald, Box 25, Hicksville.

(This is the concluding article of a series of three concerning the examination of Income Tax Returns conducted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.)

Q. How does the Bureau of Internal Revenue check Income Tax Returns?

A. We have already seen that with the exception of wage earners and farmers all other taxpayers are required to keep such records as will correctly reflect income. Failure to do so results not only in punishment by law but also taxes and penalties far in excess of what the tax would have been if properly based. If you do not keep good records the examiner sets up his own system. Thus far we have covered the first two of the methods listed below which he may use. Today we will cover the last one.

1. Bank deposits-expenditures

2. Net worth-living costs

3. Percentage or unit mark-up basis

The percentage mark-up basis is used in businesses where inventories are an income-determining factor and are incorrectly shown. In using this method the examiner uses as a starting point either sales or purchases. Sometimes sales are reconstructed from bank deposits. In general, however, the gross sales are accepted. The gross profit is then worked out by using the mark-up percentage for that particular business in that particular locality. Other expenses are then deducted from this figure to arrive at the taxable net income.

This method was much more widely used some years ago than at present. In those days the Bureau of Internal Revenue had staticials tables showing the national average percentage gross profit for every type of business. The Government did not always prevail, however. It was pointed out by the Courts that this procedure was not outlined in the regulations nor was the information available to taxpayers. Furthermore the statistics were based on national averages which may not necessarily be true in any specific locality.

Presently, when this method is used the Bureau will ascertain the mark-up of similar businesses in the immediate locality.

During World War II a retail liquor store was examined and had a deficiency assessed on reconstructed sales. What the agent did was to use the highest OPA mark-up on purchases to determine the sales figure. The Tax Court approved this method in a case where the owners were found guilty of selling liquor at prices in excess of the maximum allowed by the OPA. The business was purchased for $9,000 in 1941. In 1943 the reconstructed net income was $299,384.60. The Bureau did not allow this.

Conversely, in another case the Tax Court turned down the reconstructed sales figure of a cut-rate liquor retailer in South Carolina. The same method of maximum permitted OPA mark-ups was used. In those years it was difficult to get nationally advertised brands. Tie-in sales forced the taxpayer to buy four or five cases of off-brands in order to get one case of well-known liquor. The mark-up on off-brands had to be very low. The Tax Court accepted the taxpayer's sales figures.

Bishop To Breakground For Parochial School

BETHPAGE—Most Rev. John J. Boardman auxiliary Bishop of the Brooklyn Catholic Diocese, will visit St. Martin of Tours R. C. Church, here, on Thursday to administer the sacrament of Confirmation and to break ground for the new parochial school.

A simple ceremony is planned for 4 o'clock to officially start work on the new school. After the groundbreaking, Bishop Boardman will proceed to the church to confirm a large class of children.

Doctor Jones Says

By PAUL B. BROOKS, M. D.

This matter of juvenile delinquency—let's start by quoting a few facts, here. "In the past twenty-five years the population of the State and Federal prisons has increased seven times as fast as the national population—126 per cent to 18 per cent." Adolescents make up a "substantial share" of our prison population. Over a million of America's boys and girls under 18 "come to the attention of the police" every year. "The conditioning factors in delinquency begin far upstream" in the lives of law violators. These problems must be met "at their source, not years later."

What I'm quoting from (This is Correction, the State Correction Department's monthly periodical) it's an address Judge Moylan, of Baltimore, gave at an inter-state conference on correction, last Spring. We have had no end of articles on juvenile delinquency—psychologists, criminologists, writers—on their views: why kids become delinquent and what to do about it. Here's a man that speaks from experience and with authority. Otherwise he wouldn't have been invited to address that convention of experts.

The juvenile problem, as Judge Moylan pictures it, has two phases. First and foremost, preventing children from becoming "delinquents." That means discovering "the emotionally disturbed and maladjusted child" at an early age; and seeing that he gets skilled attention. The most likely place is in the schools. But it required "specialized services"—psychiatrists, psychologists, pediatricians and social workers. The majority of schools don't have such services available.

The other phase deals with the youngster that's already gotten involved with the law: a salvage job. That means having the necessary "specialized services" available to the courts—and used. Also, according to the judge, at least six times as many probation officers as we now have. The "army of juvenile court judges", he feels, should be leaders in creating public support for the urgently needed preventive services.

But the judge isn't pessimistic, he says, about the outlook. It's slow going but, each year, more is being done. He wound up his address by quoting Adelaide Proctor: "No star is lost we once have seen. We always can be what we might have been."

Traffic Topic On Wednesday

By DOROTHY GUELPA
Traffic problems resulting from the volume of workers leaving the Grumman Aircraft Plants at Bethpage will be the subject of a program at the North Bethpage Civic Assoc. meeting on Wednesday, May 19.

Thomas Rozzi of Grumman's guard force will represent his company and Thomas Pychoff of the township highway superintendent's office will explain procedures now in effect.

In an effort to increase club membership, a new series of contests will be originated by Edward Schreiber. Each month at the regular meeting, a beautiful prize will be awarded to a lucky member attending.

Antique Fair At Great Neck

The annual spring edition of the North Shore Antiques Fair will get underway Monday, May 17th and will run through Saturday, May 22nd, at the Great Neck Ice Skating Rink, 100 Cutler Mill Road, Great Neck.

Dealers from all over New York State, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont will participate in the Fair which will be open to the public daily from 1 to 11 P.M.

Ranging from primitive Americans through the more formal European antiques, exhibits of furniture, paintings, bric a brac, jewelry, glass, silver, brasses, copper, bronzes and other decorative accessories will be offered for sale.

An added attraction will be a rare 1905 Simplex sports car, winner of the 1909 Vanderbilt cup races. The car will herald the event in the streets of Great Neck and will then be placed on display at the show.

The growing trend in decorating with antiques, influenced by leading decorators throughout the country, has created a great deal of interest in this show, particularly with the new home owner contingent on Long Island.

The North Shore Antiques Fair is now the oldest established show on Long Island and attracts many collectors and dealers because of the wide range it offers to the public.

Postmasters Support Rees Bill

HICKSVILLE—Postmaster William G. Mollitor today announced the National Assoc. of Postmasters and the National Assoc. of Postal Supervisors have rallied to support the Post Office Dept.'s meritorious promotion and pay plan for postal employees here and elsewhere.

The 33,000-member postmaster organization, of which he is a member, and the 20,000-member supervisory group, have decided the administration supported "Rees Bill" (HR 8648), provided the "best opportunity for advancement and increased pay for postal employees, and is in the best interest of the public generally", Mollitor said.

The administration plan, presented to Congress by Postmaster General Summerfield and embodied in a bill by the Chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, Rep. Edward H. Rees, Republican of Kansas, means "fair play" for postal employees and American taxpayers alike, Mollitor explained.

Postmaster Mollitor added, "Since the issues involved are of such vital importance to all Americans, I suggest writing to our Congressman, S. Wainwright, House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C., letting him know your views."

Obituaries

William E. Kunz

HICKSVILLE — Funeral services will be held tonight (Tuesday, May 18) at 8 o'clock at Mowen's Funeral Home, 18 E. Barclay St., here, for William E. Kunz of 86 Notre Dame Ave. who died on Sunday.

He was the husband of the late Mary T. Hassman. A resident here for 65 years, he was a member of the Exempt Firemen's Assoc.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Sarbanis; a sister, Mrs. Josephine Viethier; brothers Frederick, John and George; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The Rev. Edward Stammel will officiate at the funeral services. Burial will be in Holy Rood Cemetery, Westbury.

Jeanne Huettner

HICKSVILLE — Jeanne Huettner, formerly of 87 Broadway, Hicksville, died on May 14. She is survived by a son, Alfred Huettner; daughter Carolyn Abramowski; and four grandchildren. Services were held Monday, 17, at 1 P.M. at Henry J. Stock's Funeral Home, here. Interment in Plain Lawn Cemetery.

However, our program on the whole is inadequate. Volunteer workers of necessity cannot devote full time, their enthusiasm wanes and they fall by the wayside. The risk of personal financial liability and the lack of trained personnel in the program are deterrents to new volunteers. It is scarcely necessary to say that a recreation director, highly competent, informed in youth recreation matters, and especially skilled in working with youngsters is necessary to the success of any good program.

The employing of such a director by the Board of Education and the setting up of a comprehensive program for the entire community using the available school facilities could be the "ounce of prevention" necessary to impede the spread of delinquency and the resultant expensive "pound of cure". The juvenile jail now under construction in Nassau County is costing taxpayers a half-million dollars!

HICKSVILLE GABLES:

May Crowning for Sodality Day

St. Ignatius Loyola Church

Sunday, May 9 we attended the May Crowning in St. Ignatius Loyola Church as a feature of World Sodality Day. The Ceremony, which took place at 3 P.M., also included the reception of new members into the Blessed Virgin Sodality. St. Ignatius was the center for all Sodalists from northern Nassau County. The members of the Blessed Virgin Sodality of Hicksville took part in the Crowning and the moderator was Fr. Leo Goggin. A sermon on Timidity was given by the Rev. Ronald A. Barry of St. Raphael's Church in East Meadow.

The Crowning itself was very beautiful. Miss Mary Reitz of 191 Plainview Rd. was May Queen with Miss Ellen Muensch of Kramer St. and Miss Patricia O'Malley of Broadway as chief attendants. The Queen wore a rich blue gown covered with matching tulle. The dress was enhanced by matching tulle gloves and cape. Miss Reitz carried a satin pillow on which was placed the daisey, and carnation crown. Her attendants, Miss Muensch in a soft pink gown and Miss O'Malley in blue each carried bouquets of daisies and carnations, the latter corresponding in color to the bearers dress. The Three main celebrants were ushered into the church by twenty one other Sodalists, each beautifully gowned. These girls made an arch under which the Queen walked to the altar where she crowned the statue of the Virgin to be followed by her chief attendants who laid their bouquets at the Virgin's feet.

Anne McGunnigle, Gerry McGunnigle, Madeline McGunnigle, Lyndia Noeth, Irene Reiff, Patricia Muensch, Eleanor Vojer, Bernadette Lemaureux, Rita Benson, Dorothy Benson, Anne Marie Morshauer, Carol Freilich, Elizabeth Mahoney, Patricia Kochler, Janet Nawotny, Patricia Durdiller, Barbara Sidorski, Christine Wren, Carol Reilly, Eileen Donahue and Carol Brady made up the arch.

We would like to send best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John Seith of 15 Gables Rd. who celebrated their seventeenth wedding anniversary May 11. The couple's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Seith Sr. of Islip and Mrs. Mary Phramer of Uniondale spent the day with them.

Sunday, May 16, Mr. and Mrs. Sternhill of 2 Gables Rd. entertained Mrs. Sternhill's sister, Mrs. Jean Antler, her husband Bill and children Bobby, Stephen and Cheryl. Mr. and Mrs. Antler spent the day.

Miss Betty Fernandez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Fernandez of 9 South Elm St. won a B medal for her artistry on the piano at the "All State Music Competition Festival" held at the Bay Shore High School Friday, May 7. Miss Fernandez also won a class B medal for her part in a Melophone duet with Miss Mary Meyer. Betty, who has been taking piano lessons for a year and melophone instructions for three, played the piece "A Curious Story" on the former and "Five Little Ducks" on the latter. There were some 50 entrants from Hicksville schools, a total of 150 children present.

We would like to send best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Nagley of 35 Gables Drive who celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary May 11.

The local girl scout troop held a father-daughter dinner in the Stevens House in Baldwin. Attending from the Gables were Patricia, Oliver and father of 6 South Elm St., Rita Giannelli and father of 11 South Elm St. and Betty and Adele Fernandez and father of 9 South Elm St. Betty Fernandez was awarded a pin for her five years of work in Scouting.

Just a month ago the St. Ignatius Choral Group under the direction of Mrs. Schaeffer won the competition at Sacred Heart Academy which entitled them to compete at the CYO day in Brooklyn.

We were very happy to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans of 34 South Elm St. recovered their German Shorthaired Pointer, Tanzi. The dog had stopped off with some children who returned her when they discovered to whom she belonged.

Related congratulations go to Eunice Harrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Harrigan of 293 Plainview Rd. who was confirmed in the Methodist Church of Hicksville, Old Country Rd. April 26.
