In a run-off contest between the Hook and Ladder Co. and Emergency Co. 6, continuing a "challenge" which began several weeks ago, the Emergency boys won.

Chief Arnold Jeansson was in charge of the judges who included George Neder Jr., and Jerry Klessel and Ted Fullam, captain and assistant captain of the Plainview racing team.

ANSWERING FALSE ALARM: Fireman Hurt In Collision

HICKSVILLE—A volunteer fireman is in Meadowbrook Hospital in a serious condition as the result of a four-car collision while he was on the way to answer a false alarm, Saturday afternoon. Edward W. Ennis, 34, of 7 Arch Lane, who is a member of Chemical Co. No. 3, suffered extensive cuts and injuries about the face and head and knees in the accident which occurred on Old Country Rd., 75 feet east of Morgan Ave. It was the 27th false alarm in the community this year. (See Editorial on page 6).

Three other autos, one of which was parked at the curb, were damaged. Paul D. Burke, 25, of Great Neck, driver of one of the other cars, was treated at the scene for face and head injuries.

Ennis was given emergency treatment at the scene by Dr. Joseph Wycoff and rushed to the hospital in a police dept. ambulance. He is a lamb girl, Nancy.

He was responding to an alarm of fire. It proved to be a false alarm from a box at Cedar and Stanley Streets. Four fire trucks and 20 men answered the call.

Police reported Ennis was headed east on Old Country Rd. A car driven by Manuel Perez of 6 Bridle Lane, also Hicksville, was headed in the same direction and was damaged on the left side. The front end of a car parked at the north side curb and owned by Rita Markoff of 34 Hyacinth Rd., Levittown, was smashed as well as the left side of the Burke car which was moving west at the time.

Ennis' car was a total wreck. Front, rear, both sides and roof were smashed. The fireman's head had struck the windshield. It was reported.

WORST FIRE IN 10 YEARS CAUSES $40,000 DAMAGE

HICKSVILLE—Damage estimated at $40,000 was caused Saturday evening when fire broke out, apparently in the kitchen, and ruined the Aircraft Restaurant at the corner of Herzig Pl. and Broadway. It was the most destructive fire in the community in over 10 years.

Prompt action by an unnamed passerby who pulled the alarm box in front of the Long Island National Bank brought the firemen to the scene before it could get beyond control. More than 100 volunteer firemen under Chief Arnold Jeansson fought the blaze which gutted the restaurant kitchen and caused damage to an adjacent decorating shop and a dress factory on the second floor.

While the flames were brought under control shortly after the vamps arrived, the volunteers remained on the scene for three hours until 11 o'clock, alert for further breakouts. Hundreds watched the firemen at work.

The building, a community landmark, is triangular shaped, right next to the LIRR tracks. It is owned by Jerome Israelson of 70 Fulton Ave., Hempstead. The restaurant is operated by Michael Kefalas.

JUNIOR FIREMEN of Twinlawns Avenue, Hicksville, are now conducting their own efficiency contests with use of a garden hose. Recent series of efficiency contests between companies of the fire dept. has given the youngsters the idea. From the left are Bruce Yatras (with nozzle), Dennis Yatras, Frank Mulligan, Francis Sokolsky and Arthur Noeth (running for hydrant, garden faucet). Picture was snapped by Dick Mallett just as the boys started down the course (across the lawn). Upended basket is the target and overshoes are worn in place of firemen's boots. Hicksville and Plainview volunteer firemen will stage an efficiency contest at Plainview this Sunday afternoon, July 4, starting at 2 o'clock. A special "leg trophy", which must be won in succession for permanent possession, has been prepared for the event.

McIntyre Opens New Plant Here

O. H. McIntyre, President of O. H. McIntyre, Incorporated, one of the world's largest direct-mail advertising firms, announced the opening of a new expand plant on Prospect Ave. (John St.) at the junction of Cantiague Rock Road, at the Hicksville-Westbury boundary line.

Founded only seven years ago in Great Neck, this young company has become a leader in its field, providing a highly specialized advertising service to such national and international clients as Readers Digest, Time, Life, The U. S. Rubber Co., Bankers Life and Casualty Co. and others.

"Our new plant will provide many opportunities for employment close to home for residents of the Westbury-Hicksville area," McIntyre's announcement stated.

"They will find this modern plant carefully designed to provide for maximum working comfort, convenience and a pleasant atmosphere.

"Designed by Marcel Breuer, the internationally known architect who planned the UNESCO Building in Paris, it contains a spacious women's lounge, a glass and drapé enclosed indoor dining area and an outdoor terrace where on pleasant spring and summer days employees can enjoy their coffee-break and lunch.

LARGE GLASS AREA

"There are large glass areas on the East, South and North sides, with very little glass exposure on the West side to minimize the effect of cold northwest winds in winter and the hot, late afternoon sun in summer. The glass is of unique design, consisting of alternate clear and frosted bands which diffuse light on dark days and reduce glare on sunny days. The building is the first of its size in this area to use this type of glass.

"The building was erected by Brown & Matthews, Inc., and according to F. Arthur Bickel, President of that company, the building is unique in respect to the many innovations designed for employee comfort and convenience. Huge exhaust fans will replace the air within the building in six minutes so that the atmosphere will always be fresh and clean. The fibre-glass and gypsum roof will carry water so that in the summer months the temperature inside will be 10 to 15 degrees lower than outside.

"Due to the expansion of our business, two departments will continue to operate in Great Neck," the announcement continued. "Of the total employees in the department moving to Westbury, some 90 per cent are making the move with us.

"For those without means of transportation, we have arranged bus service to pick them up in convenient stops in Great Neck and Little Neck."

Dear Jean:

Scheduled conference between Hicksville Chamber of Commerce committee and officials of the state Dept. of Public Works at Babylon, regarding local traffic conditions on such state highways as Broadway and Newbridge, could not be held due to the absence, because of illness, of MR. PARSONS of the state dept. Another meeting will be scheduled. Meanwhile, black rubber hoses have been stretched across the main streets in town to get up to date traffic counts. There is growing opposition among retailers to any plan to convert traffic on Broadway to one-way movement. . . . Capt. FRANK MUNCH, in Korea since March, is expected back home in Hicksville next month. . . . The Horse and Ladder Co. earned its title for keeps on Sunday. The boys just could not get going, after four turns at the hydrant. Perhaps they mimed the association with CAPT. MANASKIE on the team. . . . The boys in the COMICAL company, despite new speakers, had tough luck at the hydrant also. In this case, JOHN LARKIN should have been wearing those bright yellow shorts. . . . Although it was not one of the official trophies, the HICKS brought home one prize from Oyster Bay on Saturday. A lovely, just caught (within the week, anyway) was dangled from a wire hook on the truck windshield. GEORGE McCUE says that HAWTHURST used it like a airplane pilot would follow radar. . . . It was real nice of the Chief to provide a grand stand (on his truck) for the children of the assistant chief at the big fire, Sunday night. . . .

Town Board has permitted the annexation of 39 acres to the village of Massapequa Park, first in the history of that south shore village. . . . Dr. HENRY CURTIS, former Hicksville resident and now a member of the Hofstra College faculty, will be speaker on "Geology of Long Island" at the annual awards dinner of the New York State Science Teachers Assoc. at Adelphi, Thursday night. An apology is due DANIEL C. McDONALD and WILL FORDAN of the Harnett Homes for "slighting" their efforts in circulating petitions opposing that recent gas station application on Jerusalem Ave. Hicksville. The slight was not intentional and they deserve credit for mobilizing opposition which led to rejection of this plea. . . .

Six weeks of patient work by Postal Authorities, watching various mail boxes, etc., resulted in the arrest last week of the man accused of mailing lottery books at the Woodbury and Bethpage Rd., Hicksville, box. . . . A key has been turned in at the office with an attached tag stating "front door" and giving the address of 48 Carol Ct. Post office says this is not in Hicksville area. If you lost the key, you can get it at the Herald office. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. FRED J. NOETH, Twinlawn Ave., Hicksville enjoyed the preview performance of Arabian Nights at Jones Beach on Thursday evening as guests of Secretary CHESTER BLAKELOCK of the Long Island State Park Commission. . . .

ROBERTO REAL ESTATE, 116 Broadway here takes pleasure in announcing that Mr. Baldwin L. Fertig, Attorney-at-Law, is now located at above address for general practice of law. . . . Mr. Roberto has also leased space to the Bellrose Contracting Co., Inc. General Contractors.

Edward J. Mc Hale has been appointed branch sales manager of the Hicksville branch of the Hoffman Beverage Co. He was formerly in charge of sales at the Company's Brooklyn office.

HERALD READER OPINION: Solution To Bus Problems

By CHARLES DESHAW
To the Editor:

IT SEEMS TO ME, that the School Transportation problem, including increasing costs, can be solved easily and equitably for all concerned.

A considerable amount of investigation during the past several weeks has revealed the following faults:

1. The present Transportation Plan is outmoded, haphazard, and too expensive for the service it performs.

2. The present form of advertising for "Bids" is imprudent in that it leaves the School District "holding the bag".

3. The School District Transportation Officer is not experienced enough for the position he holds. This, however, is no fault of his own.

4. The School Attorney has erred in laying down a "Bill of Particulars" for inclosure in the advertisement for Bids.

5. The advice of Bidders for the Contract was not followed, or even considered by the School Board.

Besides revealing the above faults, the investigation has revealed how they may be corrected:

1a. Perusal of School Records for addresses of Students living a distance from the schools.

1b. Survey by automobile to determine mileage, and area conditions.

Smithtown Has Bull Legend

SMITHTOWN—What the wolf was to ancient Rome the bull is to this modern Suffolk village. Life-size the bull stands, cast in enduring bronze and posted in a commanding position in River Park.

The statue commemorates the legend of Smithtown's founding in 1665—the story of the enterprising Yorkshireman, Richard Smith. Richard McNicoll was colonial governor then, holding his commission from King Charles II, and to Smith he agreed to grant all the land he could ride his bull around in a day's time.

Either Smith was a preservative man or his beast was a rival of Paul Bunyan's great blue ox for the grant that was made included not only the area of Smithtown but the land for miles around.

Smithtown's bull is one of many unusual sights mentioned in a free guide, "New York State Vacationlands," issued by the New York State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany 7, N.Y.

CURRENT COMMENT:

Must Someone Be Killed?

By Fred J. Noeth

PERSONS CAUGHT turning in false alarms of fire in Hicksville will be dealt with as severely as the law provides, it was promised today by Vincent W. Braun, chairman of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

A volunteer fireman, Edward W. Ennis, was seriously injured Saturday afternoon in a four-car collision. He was on his way to the firehouse in answer to an alarm—which proved to be false.

The needless pain, suffering and hardship for Mr. Ennis and his family, because someone—for reasons best known to themselves—pulled the alarm box on the other end of town, is obvious.

Not so long ago a volunteer fireman was killed in an accident while enroute to answer a fire call—which proved to be false. Stern measures have been taken in New Hyde Park, where the fireman died. When a 16-year-old Westbury girl was caught turning in a false alarm a week ago, she was sentenced to three years at Westfield State Farm at Bedford Hills.

It is not known if adults or children are responsible for the more than 20 false alarms in Hicksville since the start of the year, but there has been strong suspicion on several occasions that children have pulled the alarm boxes “to see the fire engines”.

Fire Commissioner Braun warns that where children are found giving false alarms, their parents will be held fully responsible and liable.

The elaborate fire alarm system in Hicksville, among the best on Long Island, is a wonderful, efficient device—if it is utilized for the emergency purpose for which it was designed. The chance of error which can result when verbal alarms are given via telephone is totally eliminated by the electric alarm boxes which have been placed in more than 100 intersections.

Parents, teachers and other adult leaders must be asked to cooperate and impress upon their young charges the grave danger of giving a false alarm.

That Mr. Ennis escaped with his life in Saturday's collision was a miracle, in the opinion of those who saw the aftermath. Must a man—a volunteer serving his neighbors and community—be killed before the public reacts and brings an abrupt halt to false fire alarms in Hicksville?

THE SOUTH HICKSVILLE

Sentinel

By CRAIG WALSH

Teach Them To Swim

It is an amazing fact that two thirds of American adults are unable to swim. Not only do these people lose out on the enjoyment of water activities, but they also contribute to the high accident rate. About 7 per cent of all accidental deaths are due to drowning, more than from fire, asphyxiation and firearms all put together. Don't let your child become a statistic, teach him to swim. And if the national figures hold true in this area, there must be at least 3000 adults in South Hicksville who are unable to handle themselves in the water. The kids have no monopoly on learning to swim.

Opportunity Is Here

The reasons cited for so many people not being able to swim are lack of parental interest, lack of swimming areas, and shortage of instructors. Only the first of these reasons applies to us. We have the pools and the Red Cross supplies the necessary instructors. There is really no excuse for a youngster living here not learning to swim. If he doesn't learn on his own, then perhaps a little parental interest will get him to join the Red Cross classes.

Teach Them Young

The best time to teach someone to swim is when they are very young. Authorities agree that ideally a child should be able to do some swimming by the time they are six or seven. It is a good idea to give a small child close personal supervision while he is in the water, or for that matter, whenever he is playing near the water. It is important also to avoid shaming them about fear of water. It is best to coax them into the water by example if they show any hesitancy. If the parents themselves have a fear of water, they would be better off to leave it all to another member of the family or a friend when no instructor is available. But in any case make certain the youngsters become capable swimmers.

Class Schedule

Red Cross swimming classes are scheduled to start here on July 6. At the West Village Green pool in Hicksville they will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 12:30 and at the Levittown Parkway pool, also in Hicksville, on Monday and Friday at 10 o'clock and on Wednesday at 12:30. If these times are not convenient, residents of South Hicksville are entitled to use the Levittown pools, which also have Red Cross swimming classes, through the courtesy of the Joint Pool Hall district.

Members of the Hicksville racing team were just returning from the tournament at Oyster Bay, held that afternoon, and were coming into town when the alarm sirens sounded. While most action was directed from the Herzog Pt. entrances to the building, a standby line was laid across the RR platform and over the tracks to the north of the structure.

Chief Jeanson praised the men for their promptness and efficiency in handling the fire. An investigation into the cause of the fire was made by the County Fire Marshall's office the same evening. It was believed to have started in the restaurant kitchen, which was thoroughly gutted by the fire. The owner had closed for the day when the fire was discovered.

A false alarm from the Marshal factory on Duffy Ave. sounded immediately following the call for Herzog Pt. and Broadway, at a little after 8 P.M.

Just as the gamps returned to the firehouse at 11 o'clock in the evening, another false call came from the factory on Duffy Ave.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The membership committee, under the direction of Ed Schreiber, presented the applications of 34 new members who were welcomed into the organization at the June meeting. The committee report, delivered by Mrs. Molly Lang, pointed up the need of the newer residents for information on the operation of the community and the social activity to which they had been accustomed elsewhere.

Action was planned on three local problems during the course of the meeting. A petition is to be circulated and presented to the Town Board in opposition to a proposed 60-unit apartment house on Broadway in Bethpage and delays in local mail delivery and the installation of street lighting in the Stuart Homes development will be investigated.

By SOLOMON NEWBORN

Certified Public Accountant

Mr. Newborn will answer questions in this column.
Address Herald, Box 95, Hicksville.

(This is the second and concluding article on the pros and cons of operating as a corporation, partnership, or sole proprietorship.)

Q. What form of business organization affords the best means of operation?

A. Recently we discussed the general factors involved, such as life, liability, credit, etc. Today we will consider the tax factors.

BASE: A corporation is subject to income taxes and up to very recently was subject to excess profits tax. Dividends paid to stockholders are taxable to them but not deductible to the corporation. Salaries paid to stockholders—employees are fully deductible to the corporation. In a partnership each partner is taxed for his proportionate share of partnership profit, whether or not distributed.

APPROACH: The salaries of the corporation officers reduce the taxable income of the corporation. A reasonable portion of the profit may be kept in the corporation so as to keep the stockholders in the lower tax brackets. The tax burden then becomes the income tax on the corporation plus the income taxes on the individual taxpayers. And the comparison must be made as between this and the individual taxes without the corporate form. In a partnership or sole proprietorship tax is paid on the total profits. Once this tax is imposed and paid there is no longer any problem such as the dissolution of a corporation with accumulated earnings when the tax rates are higher than when the profit was originally made.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX: Up to very recently corporate earnings above $25,000 were subject to excess profits tax. However, at present there is none. Partnerships and sole proprietors have never had excess profits taxes.

CONTRIBUTIONS: A corporation may deduct up to 5% of its net income for charitable contributions. A partnership may not deduct charitable contributions; however, each partner may include a proportionate share of them on his individual return not to exceed 20% of his adjusted gross income.

EXEMPT INTEREST: If a corporation received income from exempt interest the distribution of it to its stockholders in the form of dividends is fully taxable. In a partnership each partner's individual return reflects credit for his proportionate share.

CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES: The effective tax rate for the excess of net long-term capital gains over net short-term capital loss is the same for corporations, partnerships, and individuals. A corporation may not deduct the excess of capital loss over capital gains, however the capital loss may be carried forward to five successive years against net capital gains. In partnerships each partner picks up on his individual return his proportionate share of the firm's capital gains or losses. Each may carry forward the excess of net capital losses for the next five succeeding years against capital gains. Any excess of capital loss over capital gain may be deducted to the extent of the lesser of ordinary income or $1,000.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES: The salaries of corporation officers are subject to social security taxes. Partners and individuals may be required to pay social security taxes on their self-employed income.

PENSION TRUSTS: Trusts set up for the benefit of officers of a corporation are deductible by the corporation. Partnerships and individuals have no such rights.

ASSIGNMENT OF INCOME: By transferring his stock a stockholder can transfer his income very easily and generally without having to consult anyone. A partnership interest cannot be assigned without consulting all of the partners. Such action dissolves the partnership. An individual may sell out all or part of his business.

Still Chugging

SYOSSET—Some of the oldest steam locomotives you're likely to see around anywhere go chugging along a track here. They're pictured, along with William W. Willock Jr., their owner, in the July issue of Popular Science Monthly.

A skilled mechanic with a love for making old machinery tick again, Willock rescued a 50-year-old locomotive from rust and restored it to working order. He also owns a 2½-ton baby steam roller, two hot-air engines, various smaller power plants and a dozen antique cars—gas, steam and electric, all of which he hopes to have running someday.

Lions Out Front In PBC Loop

The Hicksville Lions team is undefeated and in first position in the Police Boys Club Intermediate League. The Levittown Cobras and Hicksville Rotary are tied for second place.

In league play this past week game results were as follows:

The Hicksville Cards met the Hicksville Rotary and the Rotary went through an assortment of Card pitchers to win easily 9 to 0, June 21. Raymond Lazio, pitcher for the Rotary, held the Cards to 3 scattered hits one of them a double by Wiedman who was picked off second. Leading batter was also the pitcher for the Rotary with 2 hits and 2 RBIs.

The Hicksville Lions met the Levittown Cobras in a game between undefeated teams on June 22. The Lions were 3 and 0 as were the cobras. The Lions started right in and scored 4 runs in the first inning on 2 walks and three hits. The Cobras came back with 2 in their half of the first on 2 hits 2 walks and some slow fielding by the Lion infield. After the first inning the Lions started to work on the Cobras and won 12 to 6. Carl Schmitz won his 4th game and although he allowed 7 hits was never in too much trouble. The leading batter was Roberto who had 2 hits and three runs batted in.

The winless Plainview Dueces met the unbeaten Rotary on Thursday June 24 and the game was one of the best played at the High School this year. The Dueces won the contest 4 to 3. Right about now, the top major leaguers are all taking their rightful places on the batting and pitching lists. Up to the present, the established players have been among the first five hitters and leading pitchers. However,

'Evening Of Theatre' Held

By GENE MAJJEAN

Hicksville 2-8515

Last Friday and Saturday evening, the Plainview Theater Guild presented "An Evening of Theater"—including three one act plays: "The Purple Rim" a drama, directed by Vera McIntosh. Cast: Corinne Thomas, Mae Camerano, Marilyn Segal, George Karras, Stephen Thomas, Anne Betterino. "The Jeweled Hand," a mystery, directed by Vera McIntosh. Cast: Terri Sexton, Anita Paterno, Stephen Thomas, Jane Armetta, May Majean, Dot Ryan, Al Blumenthal.

"One Way Out of It" a comedy, directed by Stephen Thomas. Cast: Claire Budman, Stephen Thomas, Doris Sedore, Gene Majean. The Staff of the Guild: Stage Manager—Rae Cantilli. Lighting—Art Benji. Officers: President: Stephen Thomas, Secretary: Mae Camerano, Treasurer: Anita Paterno, Publicity Director: Rae Cantilli.

By the end of the two night run, it was obvious that the debut of this group came off in a highly professional manner. Many of the spectators came up to compliment the players after the show was over. And it seemed that the lines and the stage directions were engraved in the minds of the players.

The Guild had many obstacles from its outset that seemed insurmountable, but persistence and hard work and good direction put the production over to perfection. At the very last minute on the first evening—Stephen Thomas arrived huffing and puffing out of a cab which he took from the city because the power was off on the Long Island Railroad. At the start of rehearsals Vera McIntosh broke her leg. Many more occurrences seemed to try to frustrate the Guild but in spite of it—the crew displayed the spirit of "The Show Must Go On". And it did. It was quite coincidental that the performance was put on at Broadway, Hicksville. Now we all can say that we played on Broadway.

The next production by the Guild will be "The Heiress" by Ruth and Augusta Goetz, which played on the REAL Broadway. The group is available for fund raising for churches and other organizations.

LOCAL ATOM BOMBS

"Would any parent build his child a loaded gun to play with? Probably not, but there will be many parents bootlegging fireworks in to give the kids a big time on the fourth. And there will be a number of youngsters maimed—scarred—burnt—already we have read of a boy who lost his hand just last week because of a firecracker—and still another who was innocently swimming—only to be jolted out of his play—losing his eye because of a cherry bomb. Children will play with these fire arms only by permission of parents—and parents who give this permission might as well keep their kids loaded guns. We read enough about the H-Bomb and the A Bomb without having private bombs of our own.

SPEEDERS & STOP SIGNS

Speeders in Woodbury Gardens are being apprehended lately. The police caught a number of them last week . . . Speaking of such things, I have in my possession a copy of a letter directed to Police Capt. Chimenti, from the Civic Assoc. requesting stop signs in the areas affected by the heavy Farmers Market traffic through our residential streets. The letter also requests a patrolman to control traffic on Tuesdays and Fridays—the days of the Farmers Market trade. I believe that this letter will start the ball rolling. However, nothing that is worthwhile is ever accomplished without some passage of time, so we can expect a bit of a wait.
