Invisible Paint May Snare False Alarmist

HICKSVILLE—Older students of elementary schools were warned during fire prevention week assemblies and programs that alarm boxes of the fire district have been painted with a special substance which cannot be washed off and glows under fluorescent light. The painting of the box handles with the invisible paint which clings has been quietly undertaken to discourage false alarms in the community, the children at Woodland and Lee Ave. Schools were told by Assistant Fire Chief B. Medard Ofenloch.

"You can only get this substance removed from your fingers at the firehouse where we have the special solvent," Chief Ofenloch said. He urged youngsters to give prompt notice of fires but never to touch alarm boxes at any other time.

The firemen were called to another false alarm shortly after eight o'clock last Sunday morning at the corner of Essex and Cottage (Box 233) which has been the scene of several of the 40 false alarms given in Hicksville this year.

Democrats Open Headquarters

HICKSVILLE—The Democrats opened campaign headquarters here Sunday with William H. McCaffrey, Jr., Democratic candidate for State Assemblyman, as the guest of honor. McCaffrey recalled that the Democrats won a plurality last year and commended the committeemen and other workers for the record registration of 21,000 voters this year. He said that this is a strong indication that Hicksville will go Democratic by an even larger margin this year.

The campaign headquarters are located at the corner of Broadway and Herzog Place at the Long Island Railroad.

Thomas G. Evans of 39 Bobwhite Lane, Campaign Manager, announced the appointment of the following committee chairmen: Candidates Activities, Arthur Isaeken and Carlton Bentley (co-Chairmen); County and State Liaison, William S. DiLeo; Fund Raising, George Power; Signs, William Oltasky; Headquarters Office Manager, Carl Allen Rigdon; and Publicity, Craig Walsh. Evans promised to announce other appointments within a few days.

Find Old Book in School Wall

HICKSVILLE—Discovery of a 96-year-old child's history book during alteration work in the Nicholai St. School building was announced this week by Harold Robbins, principal. During alterations, several partitions were removed, resulting in discovery of one of a two-volume edition of "A Child's History of the United States," published by Harper & Brothers and dated 1858. The old volume will be preserved in the school archives.

Cedar-Cliff Sets Annual Dance

HICKSVILLE—The Cedar Cliff Civic Assoc. is planning to hold its annual dance on Nov. 12 at the Inn On the Green, Levittown. Past President James Glynn is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Music will be provided by the Minute Men. Tickets are $1.25.

School Board to Get Report On Hazard Plea Tomorrow

HICKSVILLE—Members of the Board of Education are expected to receive a report tomorrow (Wednesday) night at a meeting in East St. School upon the conference held by Trustee Emil J. Szendy and other local school district officials with the State Commissioner of Education in Albany, last Friday. Present for the session were Board members Szendy and Arthur L. Eirich together with Max W. Cheney, administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools on transportation, and Bertram Crane, attorney for the school district. Trustee Joseph Cawley has been named to participate on the committee with Szendy but was unable to take part.

Purpose of the conference was to discuss questions of hazards and safety as related to transportation of children attending district schools.

CHAMBER ABANDONS PROJECT:

Find Little Interest In Community Chest

HICKSVILLE—"Lack of interest" and public support for a community chest has led to abandonment of the project by the Chamber of Commerce. Attorney John F. Dobson, chairman of the Community Chest Committee for the Chamber, has filed a detailed report.

The report is published in full as follows:

The Committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to study the advisability of taking the organizational steps necessary to the formation of a Hicksville Community Chest is compelled, after careful study and consideration, to recommend that the Chamber abandon the project, at least for the present.

Submitted herewith is a brief outline of the Committee's work on this project.

The Board of Directors instructed the Committee in December of 1953, to give consideration to two alternatives:

- 1) The formation of a Community Chest to serve all of Hicksville, or
- 2) A Chest to serve only business and manufacturing in the community.

Letters which briefly outlined the first and more comprehensive proposal were sent to 21 civic and fraternal organizations in Hicksville requesting an expression of opinion. In addition, considerable newspaper publicity was given in local papers. Five replies were received. Two groups were unanimously opposed and two voiced interest. The fifth requested additional information, which was forwarded. The Committee discussed the proposal with representatives of various groups. Support of the proposal was lacking. Assuming, for the sake of argument, that support was present although unknown to the Committee, certainly the wholehearted cooperation and enthusiasm needed to undertake a Community Chest is not present.

Individuals and representatives of groups who contacted the committee saw little advantage to a Chest and many disadvantages. The following were most often mentioned:

1. Lack of sufficient local charities.
2. The inability of the homeowner to make the once-a-year larger than usual donation necessary to sustain a Chest.
3. Inability of the Chest to diminish the number of solicitations now prevailing.

After more than five months' study, the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to abandon further study on community-wide Chest and investigate the possibility of organizing one to serve the business, professional, and manufacturing interests in Hicksville.

The Committee had previously sent letters to national and county-wide charities asking whether they, if invited, would accept a share of the Hicksville Chest proceeds in lieu of their annual fund drive in Hicksville.

The Salvation Army, subject to withdrawal at some future date, consented.

- The following groups flatly refused:
1. The Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association
  2. United Cerebral Palsy Association of Nassau County, Inc.
  3. Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America
  4. Nassau County Red Cross Chapter

Others are slow in answering but based on conver-

DEMOCRATS LIST COMMITTEEMEN:

Happy to See Republican Club Adopt Line and Page Card Plan

HICKSVILLE—A partial list of Democratic committeemen in the community was provided yesterday by Mrs. Carl Allen Rigdon of 45 Arrow Lane as secretary of the local Democratic zone. Committeemen for 14 out of the 21 election districts were named.

"I personally extend whatever apologies are due to any open-minded voters who have been inconvenienced by the deliberate intransigence in the one-sided newspaper coverage in the Oct. 7th Herald. Volunteers are pouring in

400 at Jr High 'Back to School'

HICKSVILLE—About 400 persons attended the "Back to School Night for Parents" held by the Junior High School P.T.A. Thursday night. Dr. Wallace E. Lamb, assistant superintendent, was introduced and in his remarks he complimented the school faculty and stated he hoped their work "in education would rebound to the honor and glory of God."

A film, "Family Life," in which the cohesion of family unity was stressed, was shown. Miss Elaine Knecht is chairman of the program committee.

Elected to fill recent vacancies were Mrs. Robert Goodrich, vice president; Mrs. James Leavy, recording secretary; and Mrs. Allen Carpenter, corresponding secretary.

One hundred parents, faculty members and children attended the Family Picnic at Bethpage State Park on Sunday. There were games for young and old. Mrs. Peter Heilig was chairman of the affair.

The next general meeting of the Junior High P.T.A. will be held in the school auditorium on Nov. 4 when a Gay Nineties Musical will be presented. The cast will include parents and teachers.

to work in our campaign for the people's candidates and all are welcome. I can be reached at 3-8736," Mrs. Rigdon wrote.

"I take the liberty of speaking for the Democrats in saying we are most happy to see at long last the Republican Club taking some interest in the people. We are further gratified that they have adopted our plan of page and line cards which were illegal last year when we instituted them but which continue to be a distinct service to the voter this year. We will be happy to recognize the two-party system in operation and take our turn doing this job in alternating years.

"Apparently the Republicans in Nassau are seeing the light, but it is a case of too little too late. The people have always come first with the Democrats and they are going to elect our slate this time.

"Through some oversight, I must have overlooked the request which any fair-minded paper would naturally have made of me as secretary of the Hicksville Zone to provide the names of our committeemen to publish alongside the names of the other party, which appeared yesterday (Oct. 7). In the interest of fair coverage of both sides of the campaign, a partial list of Democratic committeemen is attached, and Mr. William

A. Cisler, our zone leader, will, he said, complete the list before press time."

(Editor's Note.—The request for a list of Democratic committeemen was made of Mr. Cisler and other party workers by the Herald at the same time that such requests were made of the Republican Club.)

"In new neighborhoods where there are not as yet any block captains," Mrs. Rigdon continued, "we will be particularly happy to

McGovern Here Friday Night

HICKSVILLE—J. Raymond McGovern, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, was a surprise guest at the Republican Club meeting in the Masonic Temple, here, Friday night. He is state controller. Also present were J. Russel Sprague, county GOP leader, and A. Holly Patterson, Nassau County Executive, together with local GOP candidates. A sound truck toured the community in the late afternoon to give notice of McGovern's appearance at the meeting.

CD Sirens Bleat 'Come to Fair'

Col. Louis M. Merrick, Director of Civil Defense for Nassau County, is most anxious to emphasize the fact that the sounding of the air raid sirens throughout Nassau County at 12:30 PM today (Tuesday, Oct. 12) is for the purpose of summoning Civil Defense workers to the CD demonstration at the Mineola Fair and Industrial Exposition only, and that the general public will not be required to take shelter or to halt their vehicles.

Nassau County Civil Defense says it greatly appreciates the cooperation of the Heard in so notifying its readers.

BART ST. P.T.A. MEETS
The next regular meeting of the Bart St School P.T.A. will be held on Thursday, Oct. 14, at 8:15 P.M. in the school auditorium. A film, "Passion for Life" will be shown as the evening's program.
Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria following the meeting.

Dear Jean:

CHARLES H. DODSHAW of 118 Brittle Lane, Hicksville, is a patient at Nassau Hospital in Mineola under treatment for a back injury. . . . PETER LYNCH, assistant county fire marshal was guest speaker at the Hicksville Kiwanis meeting last week, talking on fire prevention. . . . J. J. SMITH received a tab for nine years of perfect attendance at Kiwanis meetings, last week. . . . When a fire drill was held at Dutch Lane School last Friday, the glass in the alarm box door broke when it was being closed. The students had just about returned to classes, when the going went off again. They had to be waved back into sessions. . . . And at Burns Ave. School the alarm was sounded for a drill at the very same moment that the noon siren on the roof of the building went off. It was most realistic. . . . Asst. Chief MEDARD OFENLOCH admits that he was stopped by some of the questions shot at him by kindergarten students—such as, why is a fire truck painted red, what do buttons on the firemen's uniform mean and why are flashing lights on fire trucks red? . . . Hicksville School Board is scheduled to meet tomorrow (Wednesday) night at East St. School. . . . We hear that E. IRVING JESSE is among the candidates for the position of clerk of the school district. . . . Less than a dozen weeks remain until Christmas.

If you have a friend in service overseas, be reminded that Nov. 15 is the last day for mailing parcels to be assured of Christmas delivery.

The current issue of the Grumman Aircraft newspaper quotes MARIE ALCOCK on the subject of women smoking pipes. She resides at 26 W. Barclay St., Hicksville, works in Plant 1. She says: "I'm not quite ready to accept this new fad. It is the men who have been associated with pipe smoking and I prefer it that way. So let's go right on having the pipe smoking to the men".

The Republican Roarers of Hicksville are sponsoring a Barn Dance on Oct. 23. . . . Letters for Santa Claus are already arriving at the Hicksville Post Office. . . . SAM (Ultra Electric) WEISS has a new truck, a bright red panel job. . . .

The corrected phone number to call for EMILY'S School of Dancing, held Saturdays at the Amvets Hall on E. Marie St., is HI 3-9857. A number of readers found the previously published number of no value. . . . Our ole pal HAWKIE is in charge of refreshments for the meeting of the Horse and Ladder Co. this Thursday evening. . . .

SEA CLIFF — Assemblyman John J. Burns, who seeks re-election to the State Assembly from the Fourth Assembly District, embracing all of the Town of Oyster Bay, was Mayor of his home village here, and is a life member of the Village Officials Assoc., of which he was once president.

Asked to discuss the Long Island Railroad reorganization law, which is now under attack in the courts by the corporation counsel of New York City, he said:

"This attack will get nowhere. It's an old trick of Tammany Hall—go into court and get a headline. That works for a time, but, of course, the city hasn't a leg to stand on. This county is fighting back."

"Tammany is just using that as a lure to get votes. Even the corporation counsel knows the plan is foolproof. He lost interest just as soon as he got his headline. As a matter of fact, I could never fathom why the Democrats were against the railroad reorganization bill in Albany at that special session. They had no plan of their own to substitute. They came up with nothing to take its place. They caucused and caucused and promised and promised, then came up with an empty hat. Didn't even have an idea for even a slight amendment. Just a question of a bad boy saying 'no,' because he didn't think it first."

"This is the only plan ever submitted, ever thought of, that provides for payment of the road's just debts and for new cars, new equipment and rehabilitation of old cars. Why, some of those old cars are back on the rails—brand new!"

"By this time next year, we'll have the first of those brand new, air-conditioned cars on the rails. The increase in commutation was less than that demanded before reorganization, and under bankruptcy, we got nothing in the way of better equipment of service."

"My only fear," Assemblyman Burns concluded, "is what Tammany will do. Tammany is fighting tooth and toenail to elect the ticket that Tammany leader Carmine De Sario picked out. One of the plums pudding he'd like to get his thumb into would be the Long Island Railroad. We must keep Tammany Hall off the commuting trains. What a job De Sario would do as a collector!"

69th District Was Omitted

Member Tea For Sisterhood

PLAINVIEW — There was an unintentional omission in the list of Republican Committeemen for this area published in the Herald last Thursday. For the 69th election district, which votes at the new Jamaica Ave. School, they are Herman Williams of 19 Nassau Ave. and Michael D'Auria of 46 South Oyster Bay Road.

Salvation Army Making Appeal

MINOLEA — In reporting on Salvation Army services to the Armed Forces in the Nassau-Suffolk area, Ellis Heglund, Service Unit Director, stated this week.

"It is the established policy of the Salvation Army to provide a service where there is a need without duplicating the efforts of others. The need for a homelike retreat for the many young service personnel assigned to the Hempstead and Riverhead area results in two Canteen Club Cars, staffed by Salvation Army volunteers."

Similarly, it has been through this policy that the total program in the Nassau-Suffolk area has evolved and is continuing to accomplish," said Heglund, "It is through the cooperation and contributions of the many residents who understand our policy." Last year the residents of Bethpage contributed $980, and those of the Hicksville-Jericho Area $2,220.

The Annual Appeal for this year is being conducted in October and November. Twenty percent of the contributions are allocated to the local Service Units for local needs. Mrs. Peter Curcio is Chairman of the Bethpage Service Unit and the Hicksville-Jericho Unit is headed by Frank Chlumsky. Eighty percent is earmarked for the total area program.

DA Blames Parental Unconcern, TV, Comics for Juvenile Crime

HICKSVILLE — Nassau County District Attorney Frank Gulotta speaking on "Juvenile Delinquency" at the Dutch Lane P.T.A. meeting here on Tuesday night, Oct. 5, urged residents not to become alarmed at lurid newspaper accounts of juvenile delinquency but to ask "who, when, where and how", keep their "feet on the ground" and avoid hysteria.

"To date there have been only 78 cases of juvenile delinquency in the county, slightly more than half of last year's total. Only two out of each 100 kids gets into trouble and only one out of two goes to court. The other one, after conference, is released."

He urged residents to take a greater interest in teens, provide recreational and social facilities to keep them occupied. He said that kids are much the same as when he was a boy, only they express themselves differently. To illustrate, he said that not too many years ago any woman wearing a one-piece bathing suit or a man wearing only bathing trunks would be arrested. He still recalls when a woman with bobbed hair or wearing lipstick was "considered bad". Three primary causes for juvenile delinquency, according to the DA, are the home, TV crime shows and lurid comic books. Parents all too often shun their children aside and take little or no interest in school work, problems, activities or recreation. TV crime shows were blamed for emphasizing gangsters and comics because they show how criminals evade the police until they're cut down by other gangsters or the police.

"Too many adults forget their own youthful days or don't want to be reminded of them", he asserted.

During the question and answer period, Charles DeShaw of the Youth Coordinating Council asked if it is true that communities having youth centres have no juvenile delinquency. Gulotta replied, "No. Lynbrook has a centre but still has its little problems." DeShaw asked "Is it as great as before the youth centre?" and Gulotta answered "No. Being a member of the Lynbrook Youth Commission, I am in a position to know."

He said every community should have a youth council. DeShaw recited the progress of the Youth Council in Hicksville since a mass meeting was held in June, with current efforts directed toward establishment of a Youth Centre.

CURRENT COMMENT:

Before Election Drive Gets Hot

By FRED J. NOETH

ELECTION DAY is rapidly coming upon us. In less than a month we will be casting ballots to select the men who will govern our great Empire State.

As Election Day approaches it becomes increasingly difficult to view the candidates, the positions for which they aspire and the basic issues objectively. Posters on all sides urge us to vote for this smiling gentleman or that grim-looking aspirant.

In the heat of an election campaign, the League of Women Voters brings a refreshing, non-partisan reminder: "Vote Election Day, Nov. 2. Help choose the BEST public officials to serve your state and nation. The DECISION is yours."

The League with its 1954 facts for voters points out "in general the candidates proposed are men and women who have been active in the political parties, and whose point of view is that of the organization," adding that "political parties are essential to our system of elections; and are almost wholly responsible for the selection of candidates for most offices."

The League provides the following quick summary of the positions to be filled this Election Day:

Governor for 4-year term at $50,000 a year.

Lieutenant Governor for 4-year term at $20,000 a year.

Comptroller for 4-year term at $25,000 a year.

Attorney General for 4-year term at $25,000 a year.

Judges of Court of Appeals: Chief judge for 14-year term at $35,000 a year plus $5,000 for expenses. Three Associate Judges for 14-year terms at $32,500 a year plus $5,000 for expenses.

State Legislators: State Senator for two-year term at $7,500 a year, plus expenses defined by law. Assemblyman for two-year term at $7,500 a year, plus expenses defined by law.

U. S. Representative (Congressman) for two-year term at $12,500 a year plus $2,500 for expenses.

Justices of the New York State Supreme Court for 14-year terms at salaries which vary from $24,000 to $30,000 a year.

The entire State Legislature is being elected this year as it is every two years.

The entire House of Representatives in Washington is being elected—435 members—as it is every two years.

Asserting that "You, the citizens are the Key to Good Government", the League points out that "your vote in the general election will help influence the decisions your state and national representatives will make in the future."

How Fast Can YOU Stop?

How quickly can you stop at 20 miles an hour? Ten feet? Fifteen? Believe us, it'll be nearer 45.

We know, because of the safe-driving demonstration put on by students at Hicksville High School. It shows us just how wrong we've been in our judgment of such things as "reaction time" and "braking distance."

The demonstration, staged with the help of safety engineers from the Farm Bureau Insurance Companies, went like this:

A student with a reputation for good driving was told to build up speed to 20 miles an hour, then put on the brakes. From the instant he got the top signal to the time the car came to rest, he traveled 36 feet.

Carl Wellon, driving instructor, took the wheel for a stop at 40 MPH. His best was 120 feet.

Interestingly enough, most drivers don't do even this well. The student and driving instructor both bettered the national averages for stopping distances. They're both better drivers than we are. Probably better than you are, too.

All this drives home two points:

1. Driving a car is serious business. No driver—teen-ager or adult—can afford to let complacency or overconfidence sit with him behind the wheel.

2. Every driver—teen-ager and adult—should have a great big healthy respect for speed.

The New Tax Law—Installment 2 up to $1200. This benefit is granted DIVIDEND CREDIT: The new credit to persons over 65 years of age who have earned income in excess of $600 in each of 10 calendar years before the taxable year. It is available to younger persons receiving pensions under public retirement systems.

The following are considered to be retirement income for taxpayers over 65: annuities, pensions, interest, dividends, and rent. Pensions and annuities are the only items considered retirement income for persons under 65. The amount of retirement income upon which the exclusion is based is reduced by tax-exempt income such as social security benefits, railroad retirement pay, and veterans' pensions. In the case of persons under 75 years of age the amount of retirement income upon which the exclusion is based is reduced by earnings in excess of $900. This limitation does not apply to persons over 75.

The amount exceeded is not reduced by that part of pensions or annuities representing return of capital nor is it reduced by disability payments.

This credit is denied to nonresident aliens and taxpayers using the short form where the tax is computed by the Secretary of his delegate.

RETIREMENT INCOME: The law provides a credit of 20% on the amount of retirement income

Object to Widening Below Central Ave.

BETHPAGE—Residents of south Central Ave. on Broadway are up in arms over the proposal of local merchants, members of the Chamber of Commerce, who propose the widening of Broadway from Central Ave. to Hempstead Tpke. Opponents charge the move is being made "for monetary gain and would create a speed way and traffic hazards at crossings below Central Ave." More than 200 residents plan to take their opposition to Oyster Bay Town Board.

"The tranquility of a residential area will be converted into a nightmare of speeding cars and trucks travelling north and south from Hempstead Tpke to Northern State Parkway and reverse. This has not been discussed with the people south of Central Ave. These same merchants who propose this plan cannot prosper without the residents of our area," a spokesman for the objecting neighborhood told the Herald.

Doctor Jones Says

By PAUL R. BROOKS, M. D.

Folks my age—I imagine some've had the same experience I have. A radio or television funayman tells a story and it gets a big laugh. "That old chestnut!" (my first reaction) "I heard that when I was a kid!" Then it occurred to me: That joke's laid away in mental mothballs until it's so old that it's new.

I thought of that when an intelligent young friend brought up a "nuisance" question. An acquaintance of hers, up in the city—she'd complained about an unsightly rubbish pile or something near her place. "It may be a nuisance, the health officer said, "but it isn't public health." He suggested trying the police. "If such nuisances aren't public health," my young friend said, "isn't it about time the health authorities were letting the public know that?" Well, the public pretty generally had that straight 20 years ago. Maybe it needs a reminder—like the "booster" dose of toxide that stirs up their immunity to tetanus.

Nuisances—roughly there's three classes. A public health nuisance is something in the environment that's dangerous or detrimental to the health of "the public." That concerns the health authorities. Then there's a "public nuisance." It isn't health (in the commonly accepted sense) but it's unnecessarily annoying or disturbing to the peace, quiet, comfort and so on of the public. The ones to deal with that, officially, are administrative officials: maybe public works, police or, perhaps, a village board of trustees. A private nuisance is something involving individuals, like two neighbors. One of 'em's got a barking dog or something that annoys the other. Ordinarily those things get adjusted. Otherwise the recourse of the injured party is to hire a lawyer and go to court.

Fifty years ago a large part of a health officer's time was taken up with minor nuisance complaints: rubbish piles, dead animals, cesspools and what not. As they learned more about the causes of disease they realized that other things, usually, were much more important. They followed the principle: First things first. There's still nuisances but they've been revaluated.
