Fire Truck, Two Cars In Collision Sunday

HICKSVILLE—Two private cars and a fire truck answering an alarm were involved in a collision at Newbridge and Old Country Rd. shortly after eight o'clock Sunday night. The call was at 164 W. Nicholas St. at the home of John Borella and was handled by other volunteer firemen.

Walter Erickson, 29, of 3 Joland Ave., member of Fire Co. 3, was taken to Meadowbrook Hospital for treatment of a head injury when he was thrown from the fire truck by the collision. Frank Wallach, 34, of 182 Fifth St. was driver of the Co. no. 3 pumper.

Also taken to Meadowbrook for treatment were Rose Taranto, 28, and Donatzo Taranto, 36, both of 829 Pleasant Ave., East Meadow, passenger and driver of a Nash station wagon. They were treated for head and chest injuries respectively.

Lulu Bauman, 62, of 21 Lenox Ave., driver of a 1950 Dodge sedan, also involved in the crash, went home after treatment for a contusion of the head.

Dr. C. Kaminester gave first aid treatment at the scene.

Kiwanis Flies to Albany Dec. 7

HICKSVILLE—Members of the Kiwanis Club will fly to Albany on Tuesday, Dec. 7, for an interclub meeting in the State Capitol. They have chartered a Colonial Airlines DC 3 for the round trip. The delegation will meet at the office of Rite Fuel Corp. on W. John St. at 9:30 in the morning. The long-distance interclub gathering is expected to be a "first" for the Long Island Division of Kiwanis.

Pat Caputo of Rite Fuel Corp. has been elected a director of the Kiwanis Club and Andy Ferrara has been named recording secretary for the coming year.

Teen Club Going to Mineola Rink

HICKSVILLE—The Teen Club has arranged a trip to the Mineola Skating Rink for this Friday evening, Nov. 26, offering a 50 cent saving on a round trip chartered bus and rink admission at 80 cents—provided there are 50 participants or more, according to Edward Kist. If less than 50 take part, there will be a 25 cents extra charge per teen.

The chartered bus will leave from the high school on Jerusalem Ave. this Friday night at 7:30 P.M.

The Teen Club sponsors gatherings at Burns Ave. School every Monday evening and at Lee Ave. School on Wednesdays. Last week Lee Ave., which is a new activity, had 80 present. More interested adults are needed in that area to assist the program; according to Kist.

Sex Education Topic Monday

HICKSVILLE—The Junior High School Parent-Teacher Assoc. is offering parents the opportunity to hear the Christopher Recordings on Sex Instruction in the library of the junior high on Monday night, Nov. 29, at 8:30. The recordings are of national fame, designed for adults for the purpose of assisting them to present to sons and daughters, in a wholesome manner, the sacred topic of sex, according to Bernard Braun, P-TA president. A qualified person will be present to lecture with the records and lead in a discussion period which might follow.

3 Baseball Backstops Missing?

HICKSVILLE—Three baseball backstops for local elementary schools ordered and paid for by the school district apparently cannot be located. Emil J. Szendy, board member who made the report to the Board on Friday night, was named a committee to investigate together with G. Dean Croucher, business manager, and Herbert Purick, auditor for the school district.

Calling upon Croucher to produce the file on the purchases, Szendy said the records appeared to indicate that eight back stops had been ordered for delivery to Lee Ave. School. Croucher commented that the incident pre-dated his service with the district. Szendy noted that the invoices had been endorsed by Harry Erenwein, former business manager.

The eight backstop represented a purchase of $10,000.

MID WEEK EDITION ★

L.I.'s Only Twice Weekly Newspaper

Santa Claus comes to Hicksville this Saturday morning, Nov. 27, riding on top of a hook and ladder fire truck.

He will come up Broadway, starting from the corner of 4th Street, promptly at 10 o'clock. He will ride in state up the full length of Broadway going north to the Post Office at James St. and return immediately on Broadway to stop in front of the Long Island National Bank of Hicksville where a seat of honor will be waiting for him.

Thousands of boys and girls are expected to line both sides of Broadway, under the mile of Christmas decorations erected by the Chamber of Commerce, waiting for his cheery greeting.

He will be available at the seat of honor in front of the bank until all of the boys and girls have come forward and said "hello", giving each one a box of candy, according to Patrick J. Buffalino, chairman of the Christmas mass program.

In Santa's big Christmas parade will be the brand new 1955 Pontiac which will be awarded by local stores to some lucky shopper this year. All participating Hicksville stores today began issuing the Christmas award coupons which will determine the owner of the Pontiac and hundreds of dollars worth of other merchandise awards.

Szendy Deplores 3 to 2 Vote In Hiring Full Time District Clerk

HICKSVILLE—"For the welfare and peace of the School District" the newly appointed District Clerk-Administrative Assistant, lacking unanimous acceptance, should refuse the post, it was suggested today by Board Member Emil J. Szendy.

Szendy asserted that "all hope of ever achieving general agreement on the School Board in the place of arrogant domination by the three-man majority was lost Saturday morning when, after three hours of discussion extending into the small hours of the morning, the Cawley-School nominee for District Clerk was elected by a 3 to 2 vote".

The School Board went into executive session Friday night at about 11 o'clock to act upon the selection of a district clerk. However, before clearing the meeting room in East St. School of interested spectators, the decision to make the position "full time" was carried by a 3 to 2 vote.

Trustee Richard G. Schuel stated "the Board is on record to hire an Administrative Assistant and I move that the position of District Clerk be made a full time job." Joseph Cawley seconded the motion. By a 3 to 2 vote the Board in September on a motion by Schuel, seconded by Cawley and created the job of "Administrative Assistant" at an annual salary of $5,000.

Szendy and Arthur L. Eirich, who had both voted against the creation of the position in September also argued against making the District Clerk a full time job. Eirich pointed out that Mr. Heberer had performed many of the jobs suggested for the Administrative Assistant while a part-time District Clerk.

"It is generally known that the District Clerk is an important

Affranti May Take Post

As District Clerk Dec. 1

HICKSVILLE—Thomas C. Affranti, 36-year-old father of three children, will probably assume his duties as the first "full time" district clerk in the history of the Hicksville School District on Dec. 1 when he resigns his position with the Fairchild Engine Division at Mineola. He will fill the position held for more than 30 years by the late Andrew B. Heberer on a part-time basis. Since the death of Mr. Heberer in September, the post of District Clerk has been held without compensation by Richard G. Schuel, member of the School Board.

Affranti's selection from among 16 candidates for the office of District Clerk and/or Administrative Assistant to the Board of Education came at the conclusion of a two-hour executive session of the School Board which lasted until the small hours of Saturday morning.

He was chosen by a 3 to 2 vote upon the motion of Joseph Cawley, seconded by Schuel. President Edna Kuhne Sutton voted with Cawley and Schuel while Emil Schuel and Arthur L. Eirich voted "no".

Affranti will be employed at the annual salary of $6,000 to perform the duties of District Clerk plus such other duties as may be directed.

Mr. Heberer was employed this year at the rate of $2,000 a year.

The new clerk has been a local resident for three years and makes his home at 7 Gulf Road. He has been with Fairchild since Sept. 1951. His business background includes 15 years aggregate as a secretary (stenography - typing), bookkeeping, supervisor and nontary public.

Since the budget appropriation for the District Clerk for the current year (1954-55) provides only $2,000, it anticipated the balance of Affranti's compensation will come from the provision of approximately $5,000 in the budget for an administrative "assistant to the school board." This position has been described as recent School Board meetings as a sort of "public relations man."

The motion to hire an "administrative assistant to the board" at an annual salary of $5,000 was made by Schuel at a meeting on Sept. 13 and was carried by a 3 to 2 vote.

Upon the death of Mr. Heberer on Sept. 21, candidates for the position of District Clerk were interviewed with the thought by some Board members of combining both clerk duties and "administrative assistant" to make the position "full time".

Peak Enrollment of 13,400 Students Here Seen by 1962

(Second Article in Series)

Present and anticipated enrollment of students in Hicksville Schools are covered in the first portion of the Fourth Report by the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University. With 8,125 enrolled as of September of this year, Dr. Felix McCormick finds that long-range plans for permanent-type school plants to house an anticipated enrollment of 13,400 by 1962 from a population of 40,000 persons "remains essentially the same as presented in earlier reports".

According to Dr. McCormick the number of students enrolled will increase steadily until the peak of 13,400 in 1962, declining thereafter. His forecast covers the years thru 1965 when there will be 12,700 students.

Hicksville now has available or is planning facilities for approximately 7,700 pupils in "reasonable size class groups of 25." By increasing the size of each group to 30 pupils on the average, these buildings could care for nearly 9,500 with larger class groups or extended or overlapping sessions, the buildings could care for nearly 12,200 pupils.

The latest Columbia Report draws these conclusions in its estimate of future enrollment:

Elementary school enrollment (kindergarten thru 6th grade) should continue to increase from the present figure of 6,202 to approximately 8,600 pupils by 1958, and then should decline steadily for a number of years. By 1965, the enrollment in these grades will probably be under 6,000 pupils and by 1970 should be under 5,000 pupils.

The enrollment in junior high school grades will probably increase from the present figure of 1,333 pupils to a peak of nearly 4,000 pupils by 1964. The enrollment in these grades should then decline rapidly if the local birth rate falls as anticipated and by 1970 the enrollment should be between 2,500 and 3,000 pupils.

The enrollment in senior high school (grades 10 thru 12) will probably increase from the present figure of 600 pupils to nearly 3,400 by 1967. The enrollment in these grades should then decline rapidly to approximately 2,500 pupils by 1970.

Section 2 of the report on Plant Facilities follows:

"Hicksville now has available or is planning facilities for approximately 7,700 pupils in reasonable size class groups of 25. By increasing (Continued on Page 7)

Dear Jean:

This Saturday morning, Nov. 27, as I return from Canada will make the grand entrance into the community with hundreds of all the boys and girls on hand to greet him. When minutes of the previous Nichols School P-TA session were read at the meeting last week, EMIL SZENDY protested against the inclusion of remarks by the president regarding Szendy's statement in the Herald on P-TA area representation. However, students will still have to hoof it up the three flights. The school elevators will be designed to carry freight and supplies from the basement to other levels. . .

ON AND OFF ALBERT STREET: Waiting for Winning Calls

By SHIRLEY HUENLICH

Hicksville 4-2327

For the past few days every time the telephone has rung I've really hastened to answer it hoping that perhaps someone was calling to inform me that I had won the Norge Refrigerator being given away by the Shop and Shop Store or perhaps I had won one of the turkeys from the Susan Joy Shop. Well, needless to say, I haven't won anything nor have I heard who has.

Robin Godett of 2 Somerset Ave. was nine years old on Nov. 1 and celebrated the event with a Neri and their two daughters, Maureen and Patricia; Mrs. Josephine Annunziato; his grandmother, Mrs. L. Salomone; Mr. F. Salomone; Mr. and Mrs. J. The Carman's of 5 Somerset Ave. had a busy day on Saturday, Nov. 13. They and Mr. Carman's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Carman of 26 Argos St., Hicksville had dinner at Koenig's Restaurant in Floral Park and then went on to New York to see the play, "Anniversary Waltz" at the Broadhurst Theatre, which they all enjoyed very much.

Just One Month Til Christmas

By BETTY MOGAVERO
Hicksville 4-9711

Hello and a Happy Thanksgiving holiday to all of you. Time just literally appears to fly by, and it just doesn't seem possible that Christmas is only around the corner, but in merely a month from now all will be celebrating a holiday that is not only gay but which exudes a spirit that is contagious to all no matter what the religion.

Our deepest sympathy to the Vincent D'Angelo family of Wellsway Lane on the loss of Vincent's mother last Nov. 2nd. Mrs. D'Angelo of Brooklyn succumbed to a sudden fatal heart attack at the age of 54. All of your friends share in your moment of grief.

Wedding anniversary felicitations on the way to: Mr. and Mrs. William Beach of Cambridge Drive on their 11th year of married life which occurred on Oct. 29. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Maljean of Woodbury Gardens were married six years on Oct. 29 and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Combs of Cambridge Drive celebrated their 15th year of wedded bliss on Oct. 29. That is certainly a popular date.

Here's hoping that all of these folks are now well on the road to recovery or preferably up and around: Mrs. Roslyn Brill of Hunter Lane who has been laid up with an aggravating cold and muscular pain, Herbert Sullivan of Dartmouth Drive who happily has just made his exit from the hospital and with the aid of lots of rest and relaxation, I am told, will be fine again, and wouldn't John Huddy of Cambridge Drive who is at Mercy Hospital in Rockville Center with the croup have a double event to celebrate if he returned home in time for his birthday on Nov. 21st. Johnny will be three years old. And the mother of Mary - Author of Cambridge Drive - who was suddenly taken ill, I am happy to report, seems very nicely.

Eleanor Ulrich of Cambridge Drive won a door prize a turkey at the fall dance that the Lady of Mercy Church, R. C. held last week, which certainly should come in handy.

The Rosary Altar Society of the church will hold a Christmas bazaar on December 10th to run that entire day with all items which are to be sold coming from the Society's members. Most of the merchandise will be home made.

Happy birthday to: Patricia Cester of Cambridge Drive who was one year old on Nov. 7th.

Maurie Costello of Haoverford Road who was also one year old on Oct. 27th, twins Kathleen and Carol Meisner of Cambridge Drive who were 3 years old on November 7th, Tommy Summers of Cambridge Drive who was 6 years old on October 30th and celebrated with a party for his little friend and a special birthday wish to my youngest brother. Says who will celebrate the event on December 3rd. Best of wishes to all.

A surprise farewell celebration was held for Mary Cullen of Dartmouth Dr. in the home of Peggy Blohm also of Dartmouth Drive by the Tuesday night sewing club. Mary has bought a new home in Florida and will move after the holidays. Among the many beautiful gifts, Mrs. Cullen received was an electric steam iron and a mixmaster. Good luck in your new home Mary.

The Midway Jewish Community Center is celebrating taking title of their new home of worship this Sunday night with refreshments and open house to all.

Doris Sepanski of Ardsley Gate who attends Marge Williams dancing school of Hicksville, will participate as a tap dancer in the Christmas show the confraternity children of St. Ignatius, R. C. on Broadway will stage on Dec. 17 and 18. It will be held at St. Ignatius Church for the pleasure of the other confraternity children. Denies' brother, Armond, will do the singing. Such a talented family.

The dinner and dance affair at the Swan Club in Roslyn attended by the Hillside Terrace athletic team members and their wives was a memorable occasion. Not only did all have a very wonderful time, but there existed or I should say exists between these 20 men of different religions and different backgrounds scattered throughout different areas of our development the most heartwarming comradeship ever observed in any one organization. The very genuine feeling of friendship these men esteem for one another is a terrific and very rare thing to see.

THE SCHOOLS ARE YOURS:

Organization Of School District

By ROBERT E. TUTTLE
Superintendent Principal
Plainview Schools

My neighbor, Mr. John Q. Public and I were discussing local school district organizations.

"A friend of mine," began John, "bought a home in Nassau County. He assumed his children would go to a nearby school but actually they had to attend a school several miles away. How can one tell where school districts begin and end?"

"That is a difficult question as school districts vary considerably as to size, shape and type. But the best thing for new residents to do is to contact the nearest school. School officials will determine what district one's address is in."

"What about this matter of size?" asked John.

"Island Trees School District covers approximately two square miles while Plainview takes up about six square miles and is about the same size as the Hicksville School District. On a map of school districts, the boundaries make the areas look much like one of Grandma's patch work quilts, for there seems to be no rhyme or reason to explain why districts were laid out as they were."

"Are all district boundary lines hard to locate?"

"Not at all. South Oyster Bay Road divides Hicksville and Plainview School Districts. It is an example of an easily located boundary line."

"I always thought school district lines ran along roads or natural boundaries—such as rivers, lakes or mountains."

"Here again let me cite an example. In Plainview School Districts Old Country Rd. is a good east and west man made boundary line. Yet the district line on the south, in general, varies from 920 to 1,600 feet south of Old Country Road."

"Is that true in other districts?" inquired John.

"Yes, in a great many districts throughout the state the examples I cited are typical."

"How did this situation come about?"

"Districts were laid out over one hundred years ago in 1812 to be exact. At that time some of the roads that now exist just didn't."

"I suppose it didn't make too much difference when the land was used for farming but now with houses being built, it seems to me, the location of district lines becomes more important."

"That is true, John. Today many times the census enumerator is faced with the problem of which house is in which district. "What else should I know about local school districts?"

"You should know the kinds of districts, the district officials and their duties. Let's talk about the kinds of districts. They are common, union free and the union free may be divided into consolidated and central."

"That sounds complicated," John remarked.

"Not if you keep in mind that a local school district is a unit of government set up to administer the education over a certain area. The earliest and simplest type is the common school district organized in 1812. Today there are very few common school districts in the state. Most are of the union free type."

"What is the difference between common and union free?"

"Common school districts were organized when population and educational problems were small.

The union free type is attempt to meet the problem in a more modern manner. In a common school district there is a Board of Trustees, usually three in number and a District Clerk and District Treasurer elected by the voters at the annual meeting in May. But in a union free district there is a Board of Education consisting of from five to nine members elected by the people. The District Clerk and Treasurer are appointed by the Board of Education for a one year term. Usually in a common school district the Clerk and Treasurer are not compensated but in a union free district they are."

"What are the powers and duties of the board?"

"The Board, regardless of the name given to it, is responsible for the education of all the children in the district. The Board selects and hires the principal, teachers and other personnel; determines policy; provides facilities and equipment approved at the annual school meeting; approves supply orders, bus contracts and initiates any building program."

"You make it sound like a full time job being a Board member."

"It is an enormous task and the compensation . . .

SCHOOL NOTES:

How Govt Shares Our Problems

(This column is contributed as a public service by the Plainview Citizen's Committee for Better Schools. Direct your questions to School Notes, 118 Meteor Bird, Plainview.)

Herald readers learned last week of the grave powers held by our local school board. Their most frequent query to this column was as follows:

Q: To what extent do the state and federal governments share the burden of responsibility for Plainview's educational problems?

A: The Federal constitution leaves the responsibility for education to the states. The only time that the federal government steps in is when the courts decide whether a local situation is depriving anyone of "life, liberty or the pursuit of happiness without due process of law." The U. S. Office of Education studies our problems but has practically no power of action.

Education is defined as a state function. New York State's laws concerning education fill three good-sized volumes! Briefly, a governing Board of Regents is elected by the State Legislature.

There are thirteen members, each serving a thirteen year term. They in turn appoint a Commissioner of Education who then leads his staff. The state sets minimum standards for salary, personnel, buildings, programs. They audit local school board accounts every two years. They make financial contributions amounting very roughly to half the cost of education to the local district. They advise local districts on other matters when asked to.

But in principle they are dedicated to a belief in local control. They seldom order changes in a district's philosophy by virtue of their authority. Instead, they encourage programs by offering special financial aids to communities that will set up approved changes.

For example, the State believes that small communities would improve their education by consolidating into larger school districts. They offer extra financial aid to communities building such schools. They also pay the basic salary of any teachers engaged for adult education, making it possible for any district to afford such a program. In carrying out this principle of advising rather than ordering, they will let a situation get to a drastic point before interfering. Sewanakha for example, so neglected its building program that when the state ordered the school board to build new secondary schools, a $15,000,000 (fifteen million dollars) program of debt had to be accepted by the taxpayers.

At present, Plainview is one of those communities which is supervised by a district superintendent of schools. He serves primarily in an advisory capacity, giving his viewpoint on educational problems, when consulted by local districts. He is an employee of the state education department although he is elected by a board of school directors two of whom have been chosen for this purpose by your vote at Oyster Bay Township elections. These relatively unpublicized paid officials are chosen to represent you in electing your district superintendent who will advise the local school board you have elected.

The activity of the evening included the presentation of a gavel to Mrs. McIntosh by Mrs. Catherine Stauber, representing the Manetto Hill PTA. The budget to cover the fiscal year ending June 1955 was discussed and accepted. Mr. Bunce, Principal of the Jamaica Ave. School was introduced to the membership, and spoke briefly.

The guest speaker of the evening was Edgar Woodward, School Education Chairman of the Western Long Island District. He gave an interesting, and informative talk on benefits derived from being a member of the National Congress of PTA.

The association has added its support to the current movement for the erection of a state teachers college on Long Island. The members were urged to write to Dr. William S. Carlson, Pres., University State of New York, Albany.

To help bolster the treasury the group is sponsoring a Spaghetti Dinner, to be held on Dec. 4 between 6 and 7 P.M., in the school cafeteria, $1.00 a plate for adults, and 50¢ for the small fry under 10 years. The evenings entertainment will include a basketball game between the Plainview school team, and the Police Boy's Club.

Again, the principle that education should represent the will of the local community as much as is equitably possible is expressed through the election system so fundamental to the democratic way. You are your schools. Learn more about them. Better schools make better communities.

We Take Train To Montauk

By Fred J. Noeth

WE HAD OUR FIRST train ride out to Montauk and return to Hicksville on Friday. The trip was made in a special stainless steel Budd diesel-powered passenger car concluding a series of test runs over the Long Island Rail Road right of way. The test car left the Island the same night.

The trip was arranged by the LIRR for the benefit of the press, making stops enroute out on the Island from Jamaica to pickup newspaper representatives.

Aside from the novel experience of a pleasant two-hour trip out to a desolate community close to the eastern tip of Long Island, riding up front with the motorman F. J. McCann, Jr. of Massapequa Park and officials of the LIRR and Budd company, we had an opportunity to observe many of the features of the Budd RDC 1 which has proven a boon to railroads from Boston to Australia.

The LIRR has two of these cars on order, expecting delivery around March. We probably will see neither one of them around here since it is planned to put them into service between Babylon and Patchogue.

The features of the RDC (Rail Diesel Car) are many. It's a big car, by LIRR standards, measuring 85 feet. It is a very smooth operating and riding car, accelerating rapidly (the Budd man says it can cover five miles in five minutes from a dead start) and gliding to station stops. Two men can handle it—a motorman and a conductor. Operating controls are simplicity themselves.

While the official speed limit on the LIRR is 65 mph we got a peek at some of the test meters and dials installed in the car, Friday, which (confidentially) indicated it was capable of considerable more.

Except for the almost constant blare of the air horn (we never realized there were so many crossings on the LIRR out thru the pine barrens and plains in Suffolk), the ride was one of quiet floating along the rails.

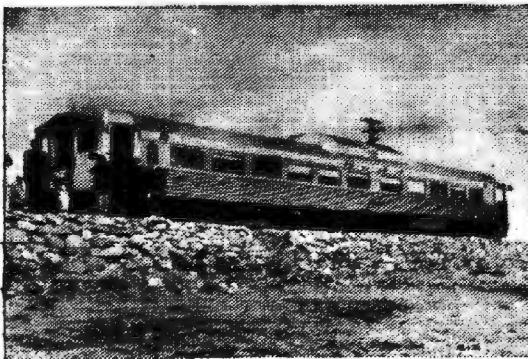

We left Hicksville station at 10:30 in the morning, breezed thru Bethpage and out over the South Farmingdale cut off to Babylon along the very famous section of tracks where Mile-a-Minute Murphy, so many years ago, made history by pedaling a bicycle 60 mph behind a steam train.

The special motorized car attracted a great deal more attention out in the Hamptons and points east, probably because even regular arrivals are somewhat spaced out during the day. (Going into Montauk we frightened two deer near the single track line).

The Montauk stop was made for lunch, served buffet style in Car No. 2000, the LIRR "business car", a kind of combination parlor car with a small lounge and kitchen. Chilling with LIRR officials at the Montauk stop we learned that some of them are giving serious thought to extension of electrified service from Mineola out to Hicksville—although just when it may happen is anyone's guess.

During the layover at Montauk, LIRR Superintendent Mock patiently answered our questions about snow plowing operations. A man from Budd, who has been with the test car all over the country, confided that he don't know what is going to happen to railroading in the future. His own son, a college student, recently had the first train ride in his life to play in an out-of-state football contest.

The return run was made in a driving rain without incident. It was dark before we got back to Hicksville.

RDC-1 which took us to Montauk. The bump on the roof is the intake air ducts, not an Astra Dome.

Szendy Deplores 3 to 2 Voting

(Continued from Page 1) post to the State Education Law. He is not just a stenographer who takes down and transcribes minutes of Board meetings. He should function free of influence or control, responsible to all the Board and all the taxpayers, and not beholden to any member or group for a job or livelihood. As such, a part-time official with independent income is to be preferred, not a fulltime staff employee established Friday by a three-man majority by the vote of 3 to 2.

CLARK DROWN

"Much has been said," Szendy continued, "by one member of the three-man majority about the unfavorable publicity the Board has been receiving in recent times and its possible effect on the reputation and borrowing power of the District. The solution proposed has been to clamp down on such publicity, not to remove the cause of it."

"Unfavorable public reaction to the election by the three-man majority of Trustees School at temporary District Clerk, with School seconding the motion for his own selection, may now be duplicated because of selection of a permanent District Clerk whose impending appointment as the Cawley-School nominee was known throughout the district for weeks ahead."

"The Board is likely to receive unfavorable publicity for this unilateral action as well, but that appears to be of less importance to the majority than diminution of Board affairs."

"Unanimity of Board selection is important in this instance, to the public and to the appointee. For the welfare and peace of the District, the present appointee, lacking unanimous acceptance, should refuse the post," Szendy concluded.

Men from the congregation will pump gasoline, ably assisted by some of the Sisterhood. An attendant regularly employed by Midland will also be on duty.

All proceeds for the day will go into the Building Fund of the North Shore Synagogue, groundbreaking ceremonies for which are expected early in December.

increasing size of such groups to 36 pupils on the average. When building new school cars for added 1,000 pupils, and by utilizing larger class groups or extended or overlapping sessions, the buildings could care for nearly 11,200 pupils. A list of the existing and planned buildings with their reasonable and emergency capacity ratings is presented in the accompanying table.

"With a reasonable size class group of about 25 pupils, the existing and planned elementary school facilities can care for 4,325 pupils. On this same basis the secondary school facilities can care for 3,400 pupils. Together, the existing and planned facilities can accommodate 7,725 pupils.

"By increasing the average class size to about 35 pupils or by using extended or overlapping sessions, the elementary school facilities might house as many as 6,115 pupils and the secondary school facilities might care for 5,100 pupils. Together, by increasing class sizes or by utilizing extended or overlapping sessions, the buildings might care for 11,215 pupils."

Conclusions and recommendations will be reported by the HERALD in the third article in this special series next Tuesday.

Dr. McCormick is most positive in making this report orally to the Board of Education recently:

"Within the next three or four years, the enrollment in the Hicksville schools will reach a critical position. The elementary school enrollment will be nearing a peak. The schools will be crowded and the need for extended or double sessions for at least a decade (10 years) should be clearly apparent."

"It is during these next three or four years that extreme caution will need to be exerted to prevent over-building the elementary school plant with facilities that would only be needed for 10 or 15 years."
