UP TO TOWN BOARD:

Must Change Code To Halt Gas Stations

HICKSVILLE—Only by legislative action, through revision of the 22-year-old township zoning laws, can the number of gasoline service stations be controlled, it was declared this week. Ernest F. Francke, member of the Zoning Appeals Board, which acts upon variance requests for gas stations, made the statement at the Civic and Community Assoc. meeting, Thursday night, in answer to questions. Estimates at the meeting ranged up to 40 operating or proposed stations in the community.

"We have reached the saturation point," past Civic Assoc. president William F. Geyer asserted. "Not only are there new stations pulling down assessment values, but they are killing off our limited curb parking spaces. When a station opens, we lose room on the curb for 10 or 12 autos to park."

Claims Values Gain
Francke commented that he understood that corner sites are bringing premium prices and that one corner was sold recently, he had been told, for $30,000. They add to the assessment total and "don't send anyone to school," he added. He indicated that the zoning appeals board is powerless to refuse a variance for a gas station.

DR. HAMMOND NAMES DISTRIBUTORS:

Church and Civic Group Reaction Strongly Protests Newsstand Filth

HICKSVILLE—Strong church and civic group reaction to the distribution of lewd pulp and slick newsstand publications was voiced here this week, stimulated by an article appearing in the Mid-Island Herald of two weeks ago. In the article Dr. Harold E. Hammond, director of the Hicksville Annex of Long Island University exposed the distributors of cheap pulp books and magazines which feature "almost every known vice." He charges two concerns are "largely responsible for a glaring and shameful disgrace." A chain reaction of organization protest has been in evidence since the article appeared.

The Hicksville Lions Club in session last Wednesday night reacted immediately by adopting a resolution of protest and taking steps to bring the situation to the attention of all Lions Clubs throughout Long Island. Pastor Howard Rogers of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church made the contents of Dr. Hammond's article the text of his sermon on Sunday, pledging himself to active participation for the welfare of the community's youth.

Mid-Island Fire Chiefs Urge Clean-Up

Mid-Island Fire Chiefs today urged all local residents and business concerns to clean-up their premises to prevent fires. Fire prevention week is being observed Oct. 7 to 13. Bethpage Fire Dept. will hold open house next week with vamps on duty every night starting Monday, Oct. 8, thru Oct. 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. to greet visitors and explain the workings of apparatus.

Hicksville firemen will hold an open house later this month, according to Chief Stanford Weiss who joins the other mid-Island Chiefs in reminding all that "since defective chimneys and heating apparatus are major causes of home fires, now is the time to see that your chimney and heater are clean before the really chill days begin."

"While you're in the clean-up mood, get rid of any rubbish dried grass, or weeds near your house or buildings," Weiss continued. "Check on oily rags since they're a real menace when allowed to pile up in attics or storerooms or any place away from the air."

"It's a good idea, too," he adds, "to look over your electric cords and be sure that frayed sections are repaired. Keep matches away from children and make sure the cleaning fluid you use is non-explosive. A check-up now may prevent fires throughout the year."

Chief Weiss is arranging for a special fire prevention program at the Lions Club meeting next week and the appearance of fire experts from the county at school assembly programs during Fire Prevention Week.

The Herald is today publishing a list of the Hicksville Fire Alarm Calls and Alarm Box locations. It appears on page 17 of this issue.

COOLEY ASKS, "HAVE WE FORGOTTEN SO SOON?"

Vet's Widow, 4 Kids Need Home

HICKSVILLE—Jimmy Cooley, Service Officer of the Robert O. Ulmer Post No. 44, AMVETS of World War II, Nassau County's first and oldest post, has asked the aid of the Mid-Island Herald in attempting to secure a home for a widow and four children of a W.W. II veteran who died last month at the Meadowbrook Hospital.

The widow, Mrs. Irvin Miller, Woodbury Rd., was left in a very poor situation and is now living on barely enough to get along with, with four little mouths to feed.

The unfortunate case came to the attention of Service Officer Jimmy Cooley a few weeks ago when Mrs. Miller appealed for a domtion to fill the Blood Bank at Meadowbrook. "Since then," Cooley stated, "we have tried every possible means to find another place for Mrs. Miller and her children so that they may have a warm room to wake up in, or be unaffected that the ceiling will fall in on them while they are sleeping. As Service Officer I have had the privilege of seeing some of the homes that vets or their families live in, but the house that these people are now located in is a shame."

"I sincerely hope that if any person can think of a place that they might obtain to rent fairly cheap as Mrs. Miller now lives on a pension and as every one knows that isn't much, please notify me at the AMVETS Hall, 28 East Barclay St., Hicksville," Cooley said.

"The late Cpl. Irvin Miller served three years with a Tank Battalion in the Pacific theatre of operations. I'm sure that with this action now going on over in Korea, the pain and sorrow of war hasn't been erased from our minds. We are fortunate," said Cooley. "Let us help those at home before we think of places elsewhere. Charity if it may be called that, begins at home."

BRIAR PARK, PLAINVIEW: Women Outnumber Men in Adult Course

By ETHEL BOONEY—SH 8-2422

We have some more new neighbors and I'm sure we all bid them a hearty welcome. They are Mr. and Mrs. JOE McMAHON at 23 Audrey Ave. and their daughter, Patricia, aged 7 months. They come from New York City and are now my backyard neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES REILLY of Flushing and their two sons, Kevin, 3, and Charles, 1½.

I started attending classes on auto mechanics at the high school Monday under the Adult Education Program. It was a pleasant surprise to see how the pupils are handled. Everything is strictly adult. There is nothing childish about it. I know that fear of being treated like children is one of the reasons many people haven't taken advantage of some of the wonderful courses available. The number of women in the class at least matches if not outruns the men.

I've had a number of requests to mention dogs in my column. I know you've all noticed a large number of dogs running loose in this section and if you've been working hard on your lawns, as most of us have, you know the terrible amount of damage that has been done to the lawns and shrubbery. There is no cure for this, keep your dog leashed up or tied up. It can be done. I have my fox terrier locked in the yard and although it is not always the easiest way of handling her, at least I know she is not destroying other people's property. Try it yourself. If all dog owners do, I'm sure our lawns will all look better.

There will be a P-TA meeting on Thurs., Oct. 4, at the Manetto Hill School, at 8:15 p. m. I'm sure all the mothers will want to see the movies of the school picnic which will be shown at the meeting. The P-TA is having an auction next month and it will be appreciated if you have a donation for auction. The items should cost about 50 cents.

LITTLE PATRICIA McMAHON has been ill with the crop but is feeling better now.

JACK MCGAVRAN came home from the hospital on Sept. 22 and he's been up and around all week. Of course, he still isn't completely OK, but I'm sure he will be soon.

EDITORIAL:

Let's Use the Hall

THE COMMUNITY HALL on Levittown Parkway, off Old Country Rd., Hicksville, if you have not been in it yet, is a fine building for community use. It has a large auditorium and several small rooms.

As we write, we are looking over the weekly schedule for the period starting tomorrow (Oct. 4) and concluding Saturday, Oct. 13. There are 46 meetings and events scheduled in the Hall for nine days, including registration of voters this Saturday and next since the Hall will be used as the polling place for three Hicksville election districts.

Except for Saturdays and 1 to 4 p.m. periods on Tuesday and Thursday, the structure is largely restricted to evening use. A quick study of the list of organizations meeting there reveals that about 98 per cent of them are Levittown groups. Many of these "chapters" and "posts" previously met in Levittown schools, East Meadow Republican clubhouse, Five Corners Restaurant in Bethpage, Hicksville Masonic Temple, etc., where a fee for the use of the facilities is charged. No charges are made at Levittown Hall.

The Hicksville Civic Assoc. proposed some weeks ago to the School Board that a request be made to Levitt & Sons, owners of the building, for the use of it during the day for school purposes. We endorse that proposal and believe the residents of the community will do likewise.

The Herald published a letter last week from several parents in the southwest part of the district expressing alarm because the end of half-day sessions for Hicksville public school students does not appear likely in the immediate future. There are more than a dozen kindergarten classes now in session for short periods of each day. Why not use the Community Hall for some of these sessions? The children would be closer to their homes thus avoiding the necessity for long, tiresome bus trips back and forth to classes. There certainly would be a saving in the cost of bus rentals each day, since a few less bus trips would be required.

The location must be good because Levitt & Sons sold the School District large tract of lands right next to Levittown Parkway, one tract immediately adjacent on the south of the Hall property and the other just a short distance to the north on Old Country Rd. If two schools are needed in that immediate area then the Hall must be in an ideal location for school use.

Use of the Hall for classrooms would not necessarily prevent its continued use by the numerous organizations which now meet there.

We understand, unofficially, the school board has hesitated to make a formal request for use of the Hall to the Levitt organization. Some members of the Board have been quoted as saying "we are not ready to take on outside space." But we feel this is not the same as renting or taking over a store, a church basement or the firehouse. The Hall is a pleasant structure now used by adults for recreation and civic affairs. It is, in our inexperienced opinion, well suited for school purposes.

We hope the School Board moves to request it before that weekly schedule of events is booked solid from morning till night.

Congratulations

THE HERALD joins the community in congratulating William E. Koutensky upon his promotion to the post of executive vice president of the Long Island National Bank of Hicksville. Under his capable supervision as cashier, the bank has steadily improved in its service to the community.

Cyclist Code for Safety

Here are some tips and hints issued by the Bicycle Institute of America Inc. that can help to keep bicycle accidents at a minimum.

There are more bicycle riders on the highways of the mid-Island section today than ever before. A great many of them are children enroute to and from school. Bicycles must obey the same laws as other vehicles on the highway.

HERALD READER OPINIONS:

Politicians Don't Promise Anymore

To the Editor:

Whatever happened to the old-time political campaign when the various candidates told the public what they propose to do if elected or re-elected? In talking about the town election on Nov. 6. Apparently the practice today is to promise nothing, and then you can't be expected to produce.

The incumbents have nothing to say about taxes for highway and other services are bount to increase. Large sections of the community are without street lighting, some after people have been living there for more than a year. Taxis operate without control of fares or practices. No program can be found by me on consumer parking. Traffic conditions are getting worse, but no traffic signals are installed.

And the opposition looks pretty sad. They offer no constructive program of what they will do to ease our problems if elected. I have talked to some of the candidates on the opposition party and they don't appear to be too well informed on what our problems are . . . no less come up with a program of what can be done.

You, Mr. Editor, groaned a couple of weeks ago about the lack of interest in the forthcoming election. Do you wonder why people are uninterested?

(Signed)

DISAPPOINTED VOTER.

REFUSED SERVICE

To the Editor:

In accordance with your request in last week's editorial, I will cite an instance where a Hicksville business refused my request for service in June of this year.

The toilet became stopped on a Sunday morning. I recalled that a certain plumber had an ad in your paper every week and particularly noted a Sunday telephone number. My wife called this number and was told by the person who answered the phone: "Oh, we never go into Levitt houses." This was said most distastefully.

I am inclined to think that most of the stories concerning such things are only hearsay; however, you asked for it.

School Board Checks

On Defense Families

QUESTION—Questioner asks about the number of defense workers in the Bethpage school district were given to the school children to take home, following the decision of the school board to conduct a survey to determine whether the community is eligible for Federal funds.

Defense work has been responsible in a large measure for the increase in population in this area, the school board feels. Federal aid to the schools district is available for the children of defense workers and more funds are available if the family moved here expressly for the purpose of working in defense plants, it is reported.

CURRENT COMMENT:

We Don't Like It

By FRED J. NOETH

NEW YORK STATE Dept. of Commerce this week came out with a new edition of its "Business Facts" booklet on the Nassau-Suffolk District. Without a doubt the booklet will be of value to businessmen seeking certain information about the region but we don't like it.

In the first place, under community statistics, the booklet lists only incorporated villages. You won't find mention of Hicksville, Bethpage, or even Levittown. You will find that East Hills had 279 dwellings and Westbury 3,745 (in 1930) as well as the population, number of retail establishments, annual sales, etc. for larger villages such as Hempstead and Garden City.

Now a report which intends to give a business man "basic information about a community" should at least detail the community.

The report also says the principal shopping centers are Hempstead, Rockville Centre, Freeport and Lynbrook in Nassau County. Again we ask, what about Hicksville? How about Levittown? Where's Glen Cove?

Our other bitter complaint about this booklet of "basic facts" is the complete absence of any listing of weekly newspapers. The report lists daily newspapers and radio stations (including a couple of feeble out-putters which don't even belong on the air), but fails to mention the weekly publications which form an important part of our community life. Nassau County probably has more community, weekly newspapers than any county in the state, outside the metropolitan area. They number about 40 and have a total circulation of about 80,000 or more.

We feel certain the Nassau County Press Assoc. will take strong and vigorous action in protesting this obvious slight to the weeklies of the county.

The $64 Question

DO YOU KNOW how to turn in a fire alarm? That question could be worth many times $64 to you, your family or your business.

Fire Prevention Week is a good time to remind ourselves of the simple precautions which can keep fire loss down to nothing. Nine out of ten home fires are caused by carelessness. That's fact.

This issue of the HERALD contains an up-to-date list of the fire alarm call signals for Hicksville fire district, published in response to requests from many readers (see page 17). The addresses given are also the locations for the alarm box nearest your home. Look it over.

If you are in a new section where the alarm boxes are being installed but may not as yet be connected to the system, learn the correct number to call and the manner in which to report a fire. The Hicksville Fire Dept. number is Hicksville 3-0026, manned 24 hours a day.

If you don't know how to use an alarm box, don't practise on your own. Stop at the firehouse and someone will be very glad to instruct you in the correct procedure.

THE HERALD office is now located at 98 North Broadway, next to the Hicksville Post Office. Our phones are the same: Hicksville 3-1400 and 3-0346.

8 Kindergarten Classes, 945 Pupils In East St. School, P-TA Hears.

One of the largest audiences since the beginning of the East St. School P-TA was made welcome at the first fall meeting last Thursday night by Miss Nina Plants, principal.

Dr. E. H. LeBarron, superintendent of Hicksville Public Schools, compared the Hicksville School system today with two years ago.

"Two years ago there were 1,467 students, including 92 kindergarten pupils," Dr. LeBarron said. "There were 65 teachers and three school sites."

"Today, there are 3,782 students including 269 in the kindergartens, 136 teachers plus the administrators, and ten school sites including the original three sites," he explained.

He said that there are 946 pupils in the East St. School with eight kindergarten classes. It is hoped that the new wing on East St. School will be completed by November.

"In spite of overcrowding and difficulties existing, the school system has added a full-time vocal and instrumental teacher," he said. "They have also managed to give some aid to handicapped children by sending two to the Amityville Sight Saving Class, two to the Lutheran School for Deaf in Mill Neck and a class for mentally retarded children has been opened in Nichols St. School."

Hans Benkert, who has charge of the school bus contract, spoke to the P-TA on bus service. He said that more than 60 per cent of the school children are transported daily by bus, or approximately 2,300.

"All bus drivers are qualified with certificates from Albany to drive a bus," Benkert said.

A film, "Our Precious Cargo," shown illustrated what one community did for the safety of their children, while being transported to and from school by bus. The movie permitted the audience to see and hear the new sound projector which the P-TA gave to the school last year.

The next meeting will be held on Oct. 11 at the school. Miss Ruth Holder will discuss the various ways in which a health program is carried out in the school system.

A card party will be held this Friday, Oct. 5, at the Masonic Temple on W. Nichols St., Hicksville, by the Manetto Count. Mrs. B. A. Sattig, Mrs. Florence Maxey, Mrs. Ruth Maxey and Mrs. Grace Balz will be in charge.

Close Canteen For Decorating

ISLAND GIRLS — The teen-age association on Hempstead Turnpike, is closed for repairing and decorating. It was announced this week by the adult Advisory Committee. Miss Robert Taggart and Mrs. Jules Burger, co-chairmen of the committee, urge parents not to go to the canteen unless accompanied by the co-chairmen to assist with the repairwork of the building.

The association is taking advantage of the offers of contributions made by businessmen and residents of the community and have already obtained from the North Shore Lumber Co. of Levittown for all the lumber necessary for repairs and additions. The carpentry work is being done by Mr. McNamee of 6 Carpenter Ln.

Final Registration For Firemen Set

HICKSVILLE — Fire Chief Stanford Weiss today warned all members of the department who are not enrolled and fingerprinted as civil defense volunteers that they will have their final opportunity at the October department meeting. Sheriff Daniel Munch, fire liaison officer on the CD council, stated that fingerprinting and photographing of the vamps, not previously enrolled, will take place at the session for the last time. More than 80 per cent of the members are already enrolled in the CD corps, he said.

HOLD FUN NIGHT

The North Bethpage Civic Association held its first Fun Night affair Saturday night, Sept. 29, in the clubhouse on Stewart Ave. Fun was the theme for the night and everyone did have fun.

Audience participation games, ably directed by Mrs. Thomas Olivieri, went at such a hilarious pace that it was impossible to keep records of all the prize winners. The well stocked kitchen did a booming business as the food was well prepared and attractively served.

Baseball was never played as hard as it was discussed around the liquid refreshment table. Jack Strong worked hard and well at the piano. Several members of the Tele-Mets were present to revive old times. Harry Koenigsenan, Jr., danced and Bill Benintendi played the saxophone.

Sunday morning found Art Burmester, Bill Monaloris, Ace Ernest, and Bill Benintendi removing the attractive decorations and remains of a good night of fun.

In view of the importance placed by the association upon the individual right to vote, a Town and County official have been invited to speak at the Oct. 17 meeting at the clubhouse. The speakers will answer questions from the audience.

Residents should please note that it is not necessary to be a member of the organization to attend any of the meetings or fun nights. The association is a community organization devoted to service to the community and its people.

GREET NEW MEMBERS

Ten new members were welcomed into the Bethpage Civic Association at a meeting held on Wednesday, Sept. 26 at the Powell Ave. School. Also present was a contingent of residents from the Bethpage Gardens in North Bethpage who are seeking assistance in obtaining street lights, police protection against prowlers, and stop signs at the Cherry St. intersection.

The Association will begin an intensive drive for new members during the coming month. Next meeting will be held Oct. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kranz, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Biondo and Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffmeier of Lafayette Ave. celebrated the birthday of Mr. Hoffmeier Sept. 20 with dinner at the Hotel Tart in New York City after which they attended a performance of Mae West in "Diamond Lil." Everyone had a grand time.

CD POLICE SWORN IN

Fifty-six members of the Auxiliary Police under Civilian Defense were sworn in by Lt. Harold Looney of the Nassau County Police at ceremonies at the Legion Hall on Sept. 26.

Cyril Ryan, County CD director, congratulated the men who form by percentage the largest unit in the County.

Conference Play Starts Sunday for FC

What could be the best shot in the arm for Long Island semi-pro football, gets underway when the Hicksville Field Club faces the Jones Boys in the Nassau-Suffolk Conference opener this Sunday.

Scheduled for Hicksville, the contest should attract a fairly large crowd, for the Jones Boys will prove to be one of the stronger members of the loop.

Hicksville defeated the Queens Alliance team 19-0 under the lights of Barton's Stadium two weeks ago, but a tighter battle is expected this time.

Last Friday night the Jones Boys defeated the vaunted Long Island Bears 13-12, and the Bears and Hicksville are co-favorites in the race for the laurels in the infant league.

It should be a rough battle, but we like Hicksville. 21-13.

We do not like to discourage our friends up at Hicksville High School, but we do feel that Coach Chet Jaworski's troupe has a real job cut out for it this Saturday, and we must conclude that Oceanside will win on its home grounds, 19-7.

Field Club Romps Over Hapless Sayville In Home Debut, 39-0

HICKSVILLE—The Hicksville Field Club did some tall and fancy stepping in romping over willing but hapless Sayville, 39-0, in the 1951 home debut, here, Sunday.

The Black and White scored the first time it got the ball in the first quarter when ex-Harvard star Chip Gannon threw a flat pass to Bob Kogel who went 16 yards to score.

Gannon converted from place-

Despite the fact that its offense was terrible Sayville, spurred by the fine play of halfback Tex Flowers, did hold off the Hicksville attack for a while.

Mid-way in the second period a fourth down bad pass from center lost 23 yards and gave the Black possession on the loser's 22.

Sayville held for downs on the 11 but a quick punt went out on the 20.

Gannon immediately passed to Kogel again. Kogel took it all alone on the ten and went the remaining ten to tally. A moment later Tom McNamee took a pitchout from Gannon and raced 45 yards to the end. Gannon again split the uprights from placement and Hicksville led 20-0 at halftime.

Rugby Makes Best

In the third period an involved handoff saw McNamee score again this time going 10 yards for the marker. A good end around with Lou Kogi carrying picked up the 12 yards that got the Field Club up close.

Local Youngsters Star in CYO Meet

MINEOLA—Boys and girls from St. Ignatius, Hicksville, and St. Martin of Tours, Bethpage, competed in the Nassau Catholic Youth track meet held at Chaminade High School on Saturday, Sept. 22.

A girls' relay team from St. Ignatius took first place in a 100-yard dash event and were presented with gold medals. The team included: Valerie Sayre, Eleanor Chaplin, Brenda Miller and Phyllis Jablonski.

Brenda Miller took second place in the girls' 50-yard dash and received a silver medal.

Elizabeth Chaplin received a silver medal for second place in the 100-yard dash.

Betty Way took third place in a 50-yard dash. Lynn Eisenhauer was second in a 100-yard dash. Joan Lauck was third in a 100-yard dash.

Second place in a 220-yard was taken by the relay team of Way, Yauck, Donovan and Chaplin.

In the boys' division Richard Kerstow took third place in a 60-yard dash. Thomas Adams was first in an 80-yard dash. George Tuckrott was third in an 80-yard dash.

Third place in a 100-yard dash

Zenza Holds Masked Grappler to Draw

BETHPAGE—Frank Zenza of the local PBC held a professional masked wrestler to a draw at the annual PBC Sports Show held here Saturday, Sept. 22, at the firehouse.

About 300 persons watched the show which included 11 boxing bouts, six amateur wrestling matches and two events using professional rules between members of the Roosevelt, Freeport, Inwood, Elmont and Bethpage units.

Zenza pinned Sal Grisofe in 12 minutes of a 15-minute match to meet the masked wrestler. Zenza showed amazing skill in keeping the masked man on his mettle through most of the 15-minute bout which ended in a draw. Identity of the masked wrestler was now revealed. Professional rules were observed in both of these matches.

Also included in the show were 10 acts of entertainment by members of the various units. Al Raffano, tap dancer, and Frank Zenza represented the Bethpage PBC. Referee for the wrestling matches was Billy Ellinger of Bethpage. Ed Summers of Roosevelt, Navy referee, and Bill Stumpel of Bethpage alternated in the fight bouts. Judges were Tom Rozzi and Ptl. director Robert Reynolds; timekeeper, Donald Grav. Announcers were Ptl. director Vince Baumer and Tex Surprise.

Trophies for the Bethpage winners will be presented at the next PBC meeting.

WIN GROUP PRIZES

BETHPAGE—Two local residents, employees of Grumman's were among the winners of 40 groups of prizes in connection with the $25,000 Long Island Industrial Fund give-away. It was learned this week. Alexander Mazzara of 20 Barbara St. won group 28: car range, case of Rheingold beer and electric table heater. J. C. O'Rourke of 31 W.

Great Neck Scores Quickly And Holds Off Comets 6-0

HICKSVILLE—Great Neck completed a lone pass, here, Saturday, but the seven yard toss from Art Weichbrodt to Pierre Rouzier ruined the clear and crisp Autumn afternoon for the Hicksville High Comets, 6-0. Close to 700 fans saw a first-quarter pass interference ruling against the Comets move the visitors to the Hicksville seven yard marker, from whence they struck their winning blow against an unsuspecting defense.

The green Comets tried manfully to get the tally back from the Blazers, who only a week before ran up 47 points against Farmingdale, but a serious elbow injury to their quarterback Harold Manasie stalled them badly.

Manasie was forced from the contest early in the second period due to a dislocated elbow and his job was thrust on the shoulders of sophomore Joe DeVaul.

DeVaul took to the task admirably but the Comets attack could not get into high gear.

BEACH 23, 29

Bob DeVeal, Cy Rumens and Harry O'Mack ran well for the Comets and twice got the losers within the Great Neck 30 in the first half but fumbled ended each threat.

While the Hicksville secondary did blanket all other Blazer aerials, the Comets scored with two completions in eight attempts. Hock hit Rumens once for 17 yards and Doug Jones made a leaping catch of another Hock throw for a 13 yard gain.

Most of Hicksville's offensive ability was confined to the first half for in the second Great Neck took over completely.

Bill Sweeney, Dick Patwell, George Zukowski, Frank Jeslak did work in the center of the Hicksville line where the Comets would not yield critical yardage.

The Hicksville High defense fared well in the face of three Comet runs and punts of six, ten and 21 yards which made the test all the more severe.

Great Neck enjoyed its widest gains in yardage and it stormed wide around the Hicksville ends and around the Blazer ends far to his right, and gained for 47 yards when he himself picked up 71 yards in this manner.

Following a late interception the Great Neck halfback went around the left side for 16 yards to the Hicksville 5 yard line but the visitors stayed within the tackles for three plays and gained nothing.

Time ran out before another play could be run off.

Church and Civic Groups Protest

Civics Protest

Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc.

Thursday night, after hearing a personal report by Dr. Hammond, went on record in protest and members individually signed pledges condemning the distribution of such trash "morally harmful to our youth."

St. Ignatius R. C. Church of Hicksville, long engaged in the same cause, indicated its endorsement of the movement. Stickers pleading retailers to sell nothing but decent and morally clean literature have been a part of the campaign of the Catholic Church to prevent the distribution of harmful publications.

Dr. Hammond said at a number of civic meetings during the past week that it would take more than the efforts of a few individuals to combat trash, on newstandts.

He exposed the Rockaway and American News distributors as being "largely responsible for the shameful and disgraceful situation."

He disclosed that "ten years ago, material of this sort was sold under the counters of shoddy bookstores and by disreputable merchants. Today it can be safely displayed flagrantly on the counters of ice cream parlors and other establishments where children gather. Either the parents are more indifferent than they used to be about the influences that shape the thoughts of their children, or they are ignorant of what has happened."

Cites Two Concerns

Citation of the Rockaway and American News companies by Dr. Hammond as "factoring large in the responsibility for this situation" was instrumental in creating the public reaction. He explained the plight of the retail store owner who is forced to display "trash pulp" or face the alternative of not receiving any of the better magazines and newspapers. The idea that powerful and tyrannical monopolies existed on the Island proved shocking to the uninformed public. Several indignant magazine retailers expressed their willingness to suspend business operations with the Rockaway and American News companies "until and unless they stop forcing filth upon us, even if the rest of the people in this town who sell magazines and pocket books don't have the courage to do so." It is Dr. Hammonds opinion that until "all retailers without exception indicate their willingness to go along with this drive, the few who are conscientious will suffice for their courage. If every retailer does his part," he continued, "the people who force this material on a gullible public cannot continue to do so."

"According to Dr. Hammond, the publishers of sex-laden magazines and comic books share the blame with the distributors. "In a very quiet manner," he stated, "certain third-rate publishers have 'put one over' on the American public. They have lowered the barriers of moral restraint on what can be written and openly distributed in a subtle, gradual manner. It has been so subtle, in fact that the general public seems to have let it occur without notice. The distributors, of course, will not be overly concerned with the contents of a magazine 'as long as it will sell.'"

"A committee of leading citizens of this area is now being formed," he revealed, "to actively combat this menace to the welfare of our children. No one can afford to be indifferent to this matter. The fight to remove such material from the bookstands and magazine racks is a personal one for every public-spirited citizen. This is not the banning of books or the censorship if thought, but the removal of an infection which enters the home and corrupts the thinking of our youth."

GREAT BOOKS COURSE

The course of Great Books will be a part of the Adult Education Program, it was announced last week by Walter Van Arnum, principal of Farmingdale High School. The course is to be held every other Tuesday in the Farmingdale Library from 8 to 10 p.m. beginning Oct. 9.

The leaders this year are August Danielson of Bethpage and Mrs. Iona Muse of Farmingdale. The leaders are not the teachers—the authors of the books are the teachers.

4-H GARDEN EXHIBIT

A garden exhibit sponsored by the 4-H Club will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at the new Bethpage School. Among the awards to be presented for best efforts in the show will be a radio donated by William Koutensky of the L. I. National Bank of Hicksville. The 4-H Club is sponsored by the Bethpage P-TA and Kiwanis Club.
