FARMINGDALE—The Hicksville Fire Dept. placed second in the firemen's tournament held here Sunday, Aug. 3, when the Farmingdale Fire Dept. played host to over 500 firemen and guests. Westbury FD took first place in the event.

The Hicks took first place in the Bucket Brigade and second place awards in Motor Hook and Ladder, Running Hook and Ladder and Running Hose.

Plainview Fire Dept. Ladies Auxiliary was awarded first prize for the best appearing auxiliary. The Plainview Fire Department took second place in Motor Hose. Bethpage was second in Ladder and in Efficiency. And Jericho placed second in the Bucket Brigade.

Kunz Replaces Apicella in CD

The appointment of George Kunz of 46 Aradia Lane, Hicksville, was the chief warden of Sector 1, Hicksville-Plainview Civil Defense area, was announced this week at a meeting of the CD Council. He succeeds Anthony J. Apicella of 840 Acre Lane who resigned the post. Sector 1 embraces the area west of Jerusalem Ave. and North Broadway, including most of the Levitt homes from the township line northward to the Spiegel section. The other sections of the CD area are east of Jerusalem Ave. to South Oyster Bay (2) and east of South Oyster Bay (3) to the county line. Director Frank Sutter said he regretfully accepted Apicella's resignation and that the latter had pledged to continue active in CD as a post warden.

Library Collects Local History

HICKSVILLE—The Public Library has started a collection of books about Long Island and its history, according to Librarian Helen Wheeler. Many libraries in Nassau County have Long Island history collections of reference materials for their borrowers, but until recently Hicksville students and local historians were limited to use of the Library's pamphlet collection.

Although the Library's "Long Island Historical Collection" boasts only a few volumes at the present time, it is well represented with histories, genealogies, bibliography, encyclopedic volumes, photostats, and records. They can all be seen, and used in the Reference Room of the Library's main building at 169 Jerusalem Ave.

Malnutrition Victim Found

HICKSVILLE—Austin Wilson, Age 40, of the County Home, Jerusalem Ave., Hempstead, was found on the front steps of Jones Institute on West John St., suffering from malnutrition Sunday, Aug. 3, at 8:45 P.M. Patrick Cunningham, superintendent of Jones Institute, found the man. He was treated by Dr. William Sauser of 135 Old Country Rd.; police reported.

Old Bethpage Seeking Merger

FARMINGDALE—Consolidation of Old Bethpage School District with Farmingdale District has been proposed to the local board by Thomas Duffy, president of Old Bethpage School Board. It was disclosed this week. Old Bethpage has an area of 3.2 square miles, no indebtedness, a 2-room building presently leased to Plainview District and a 1951-52 tax rate of $1.87 per $100 of assessed valuation. The Farmingdale Board is giving the matter consideration, according to President Ernest E. Gilson.

County CD Honors Frank Sutter

MINEOLA—Frank Sutter, Civil Defense Director of Hicksville-Plainview CD area, was presented with a certificate of appreciation, Monday night, for the services rendered by himself and his organization to the CD program. The presentation was made by County Director Cyril J. Ryan during an information second anniversary ceremony of the county organization, here. Directors of the 87 CD community in the county were honored. The program included a demonstration of radar and sonar.

SUNDAY, Aug. 10—Annual picnic of Charles Wagner Legion Post of Hicksville at Shady Maple, South Broadway, Hicksville.

SUNDAY, Aug. 10—2:30 to 7 P.M. Annual corn festival by Plainview Fire Department on Washington Ave., Hicksville. Detailed HERALD calendar on Page 8)

ALL AREAS GAIN EXCEPT JERICO:

Hicksville Property Worth $38 Million, Leads Town

MINEOLA—Hicksville School District is now assessed for $38,320,403, making it the largest in the township of Oyster Bay. Valuation has increased nearly five million dollars over the 1951-52 assessment, it was disclosed this week by the Nassau County Dept. of Assessment. The Hicksville total last year was $33,533,408.

The announcement of the new figures upon which is based the real estate tax rates for the year, seems to assure residents of Hicksville district that their school tax rate may decrease. The rate was $2.59 per $100 for 1951-52. At the preliminary budget hearing in April the school board announced the rate would probably be $3.55 on a $38,000,000 valuation, a figure which has been reached and exceeded slightly.

SET RATE LATER

The formal announcement of the tax rate for Hicksville and surrounding districts will come from the respective school boards.

The assessment for Bethpage has increased more than two million dollars with the new figure $16,383,025 compared with $14,414,645.

Plainview valuation has also soared, reflecting new home construction with the new total $5,338,945 compared with $3,453,270.

The Jericho valuation is down slightly for the portion of the school district in Oyster Bay Township being $13,813,250. However, there is a gain for the Jericho portion in the Township of North Hempstead up from $1,627,900 to $1,674,515 to make the total overall $169,425.

LEVITTOWN GAINS

In the Township of Hempstead, the valuation for Levittown (Jerusalem) District 5, the new total is $51,837,491 compared with $39,586,025 for 1951-52. East Meadow has leaped upward ten million dollars from $31,580,370 to $41,543,221, and Island Trees District is up from $13,087,530 to $15,335,080.

Great Neck has the highest assessment total for the county, $181,884,381, followed by Hempstead with $68,176,620 and Woodmere-Hewlett, $64,885,838.

For Hicksville District the assessment on real estate is $37,535,768 with the special franchise on utilities of $794,635. In Levittown the special franchise assessment is $654,800.

Rotary Speaker

HICKSVILLE—Mrs. Lucia McIntosh was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Rotary Club, Thursday at the Hicksville Inn. She presented facts and figures favoring the incorporation of Hicksville.

55 New Teachers Here When School Opens Sept 3

HICKSVILLE — Fifty-five new teachers, including additional instructors for the enlarged system and replacements, will join the public school faculty here with the opening of the fall term on Wednesday morning, Sept. 3. The announcement was made by Dr. E. H. LeBarron, superintendent of schools, at a Board meeting last week.

Complete units of teachers with their principals are being tentatively assigned to either morning or afternoon sessions at Lee Ave., East St. and Nicholas St. schools for the opening of the fall term, ready to move en masse with their students to the four new elementary buildings as they are completed.

While official opening dates for the four buildings under construction have not been set, the Board of Education learned from its Clerk of the Works, E.B. Terrill, that the favorable weather has kept the work moving, ahead of schedule in some cases.

The Board designated committees for the term assigned to the various buildings. Henry C. Brangel, board president, is on all the committees. The assignments include: High School, Edna K. Sutton; East St., Allen Carpenter; Nicholas St., Harry Ernswein; Lee Ave., Emil Stendy; Burns Ave., Ernswein; Dutch Lane, Mrs. Sutton; Old Country Rd., Carpenter; Fork Lane, Stendy.

The Board adopted the calendar for 1952-53 which provides for 183 school days, 6 holidays and one conference day. Holidays include Columbus Day, Oct. 13; Election Day, Nov. 4; Armistice Day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving, Nov. 26 to Dec. 1; Christmas, Dec. 19 to Jan. 5. Also, Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's birthday, Feb. 22; and Easter holidays, Apr. 1 to 13. The term ends June 19.

Dr. LeBarron announced he would return from his vacation on Aug. 22. Franklin Duerk, business manager, is out of the hospital and is carrying on at his home under doctor's care.

NLHOA VS SHALHO:

Dispute Credit For Traffic Light

HICKSVILLE—The installation of traffic control signal at Old Country Rd. and Levittown Pkway has been a major project of the North Levittown Home Owners since Oct. 10, 1951, the Herald was advised this week by Arthur N. Sverlip of 27 Bamboo Lane, NLHOA director and member of the public utility committee.

Sverlip objected to a report in the Herald of last week which indicated the traffic signal installation, expected to take place this year, may have been due to efforts of the South Hicksville Assoc. of Levitt Home Owners.

He said the project was begun in October 1951 by a phone call to the commanding officer of the Second Police Precinct at Syosset. This was followed with a letter on Nov. 1, 1951, and a petition to Oyster Bay Town Board in January of this year signed by 400.

Capt. Vincent Chimerzi, second police precinct commander, in a letter dated July 16 noted that Asst. Chief Insp. Louis Schneider (Continued on Page 19)

Dinners Got Cold

HICKSVILLE — A number of dinners were left standing on tables in Hicksville and Westbury, and traffic on the Old Country Rd., bridge over the Parkway was tied up in knots for a period of time when the fire alarm was sounded for Batch's corner, shortly before seven o'clock Monday evening.

The fire did not amount to very much, although it represented a total loss for John Romano of 3048 Crescent St., Long Island. The rise for the Parkway bridge approach concealed the actual incident from the many firemen and spectators who zipped along Old Country Rd., in private cars and these were blocked by fire trucks from both Hicksville and Westbury. The site of the fire was just about on the boundary line between the two fire districts.

A gasoline on a small motorcycle owned by Romano burst and the machine and its tires were ruined in the blaze.

There were three other fire calls for Hicksville vamps this week, all of them on during a 22 hour period on Friday, Aug. 1, starting at 1:28 A.M. and concluding at 11:56 P.M. The first call was when a heap of rubbish near the new Old Country Rd. School building ignited. A passerby called firemen. About 11 hours later at 12:26 P.M. the vamps were called for another rubble fire, this time in the new Allied Home development off Jerusalem Ave and near Walnut Lane. The final call of the busy day came at 11:56 P.M. to extinguish some more smoldering rubbish on Woodbury Rd., near Cedar St.

Ruby Langston Becomes Bride

Miss Ruby Mae Langston of 301 Nicholas St., Hicksville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Langston of Commerce, Ga., became the bride of Earl William Freidank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freidank of Old Country Rd., Melville, Sunday, Aug. 3, at St. Hugh's R.C. Church, Huntington, at 4:30 P.M. The double ring ceremony was performed by Father Judge. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, John Mattinson of 301 Nicholas St., Hicksville, the bride wore a fitted gown of white lace with a full tulle skirt over satin. Her fingertip veil with a border of lace fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mrs. James Nolan of Farmingdale, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of Nile green lace and tulle over satin with a lace bolero. She wore a fitted green headpiece and carried green carnations. Emil Freidank of Melville was the best man for his brother, Bernard H. Hendrickson of Amityville was the usher.

A reception for about 50 guests was held at the Chateau, Goudreau, Wyandanch. After a honeymoon to Georgia, the couple will reside in Huntington Station.

The bride was educated in Georgia and attended business school in New York City. She is employed at Republic Aviation in Farmingdale. She was voted "Miss Hicksville" for the Babylon Spring Tulip Festival this spring.

The groom attended school in Melville and Toax and Huntington High School. He has been working with a construction company in upstate New York and expects to be called soon for military service.

Celebrates First Birthday

A family party celebrated the first birthday of Jeffrey Kutner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Kutner of Field Ave., Hicksville on Monday, Aug. 4. Among those present were: grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutter; grandfathers, Joseph Kutner who was a weekend guest; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kutner and daughter, Carolyn; Miss Matilda Sutter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zipser, Mr. and Mrs. William Bean and children, Tommy and Kenny. The guest of honor received many beautiful gifts.

NEW NEIGHBORS

A warm welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zolnoski of 50 Myers Ave., Hicksville. The Zolnoski's who hail from Astoria, moved in this week to one of the new models in the Sunnymede Ranch homes in NW Hicksville.

Dear Jean:

Herald readers are given advance warning that a group of hunters will soon descend on the mid-island section, once again; selling photographs on the pretense of enrolling your child in a model agency. Same bunch has been around before with bill for pictures up to $25 where "contact" was made. . . . There has been NO CHANGE in the Plainview Water District rules prohibiting sprinkling of lawns, despite rumors to the contrary. . . . One street light near the Hicksville courthouse has been "out" for three nights and another, nearby, just glows feebly like it was ready to burn out. . . . We hear a for sale sign is currently displayed on the premises of one of the early officers of the NLHOA. . . . Curious fact came out at the NLHOA meeting, Friday night. When candidates for vice presidency were subjected to "loyalty check", ED RIPPLE said he had worked hard for the parking district split "right from the beginning." This contrast sharply with his statement before the Hicksville Civics when he was a school board candidate. At that time he said "split question" interested him hardly at all. . . . BUNNY LAUER has no column this week on doings down South Broadway, her first miss in about two years. The momentous event that prevents authorship is the continued "roof raising" mentioned last week. . . . We notice the County Board of Supervisors is continuing the employment of CARL E. LANGGAARD as consulting engineer for the proposed new county jail "at East Meadow" on a fee basis. Site of new jail is right in back of Meadowbrook Hospital and the last time it was mentioned there was quite a fuss raised locally. . . . FRANK J. DONOVAN of Hicksville, deputy county attorney, is the author of an article on county government in the current issue of the publication of the National County Officers' Assoc. . . . HAROLD E. HAMMOND, former director of LIU Hicksville and Brookville, and resident of Blueberry Lane, has sold his home here and moved up state to take his new duties as a college public relations director. He is well-remembered hereabouts for his efforts on the "clean literature" campaign and was one time considering a bid for the school board. . . . When ERNIE DIETERICH went to the Oceanside Firemen's tournament two weeks ago, he promised his kids he would bring home a couple of miniature firemen's helmets. He didn't find the opportunity and forget the whole matter until he arrived back in Hicksville. Then he dashed madly for Rogers 5 and 10 and bought two bonnets, which look like Cuban headgear. He claims the kids didn't know the difference when he explained the gear was for "lady firemen". Wait until they get old enough to read and find this important document in the archives. . . .

Listeners to the WKBS program, "Luncheon at Rothmann's" on Monday at 12:30 heard FRED J. NOETH, Herald editor, discussing Hicksville's growth with LEE HOLLINGSWORTH, station owner and program conductor. Also on the program were HERB STONE of Glen Cove Spotlight and ANGELO MARTONE, president of Glen Cove School Board. . . . Single girls 20 to 30 who are interested, can get the full details at the office. We have a letter from one VICTOR BIRKETT of Eastbourne, Sussex, England, who is 26 years old and has been training to swim the Channel. He complains that the English girls say he's too fat (he says he's just muscular) and he wants to be put in touch "with a nice American girl with plenty of fine, not slim, slinky, ice like English girls. I like them bonny." He promises to answer all letters "at once". . . . GEORGE HAUSER, director of the Bank of Hicksville and Liberty Aircraft vice president, was a visiting Rotarian at the local club meeting this week. . . . Today (Aug. 7) in Steuben County, is Potato Field Day at the 520-acre farm of GRIFFIN AND RUSHMORE of Hicksville at Atlanta. LY-MAN EDGECOMB, 28, is operator of the farms. . . . We heard this week that DONALD APT will be principal of the new Lee-Ave. school when it opens next month. . . .

INVITE PARENTS TO ATTEND Youngsters Show Arts & Crafts

HICKSVILLE—The second special event, Arts and Crafts Show plus Bingo and Doll Show, will take place this Friday, Aug. 8 at the East St., Nicholai St., Schools and Parkway Community Church Playgrounds. This event, sponsored by the Board of Education, is expected to prove popular as the youngsters have been working on their various projects since the opening of the playgrounds.

Parents are invited to visit the exhibit and to see the fine work that the youngsters have done. All the children are anticipating their parents' visit to show their summer's labors.

600 ATTEND DAILY
Once again, the daily attendance mark was broken, but instead of the usual big day, the weekly figure showed a daily average of over 600 per day. The daily attendance marks were: Monday 656, Tuesday 668, Wednesday 612, Thursday 61 and Friday 620. Monday's and Tuesday's attendance of 656 and 668 respectively, broke the daily attendance record and the weekly attendance was the highest in the four year history of the playground. As usual, the playground registration record continues to be broken with 1360 registrations recorded.

Because of the large enrollment at East St. School, another person will be employed to help supervise the youngsters, making four supervisors on this Playground. East St. has always been a popular playground and the daily attendance of over 200 proves that the youngsters are enjoying the facilities of the playground. Lon Millevoite, the supervisor of the East Street, has more youngsters on his one playground than the total attendance of other years. Miss Lorraine Ernenwein, Millevoite and Gordon Sissons, with the help of their assistants, have planned a big display at their respective playgrounds and would like to have the parents visit the playgrounds on Aug. 8 at 10 A.M. to see the Arts and Crafts display.

Hall To Campaign in National Race

OYSTER BAY — Congressman Leonard W. Hall, whose name will be on the ballot in the Aug. 19 primary for the nomination of Nassau County Surrogate, has left for Denver, Colorado on the invitation of Gen. Eisenhower to confer on the forthcoming national campaign.

Hall, who is Chairman of the National Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, will continue in that post until Election Day. At a conference in Flint, Mich. last week with Arthur Summerfield, newly elected Chairman of the National Republican Committee, Hall gave his assurances that he will lend his experience to the election of Gen. Eisenhower and a Republican Congress. "I shall campaign in my own county for the office of Surrogate too," stated Congressman Hall on his return from Big Fork, Montana, where his vacation on the ranch of Hicksville's Henry G. Eisemann was interrupted by the summons to meet Summerfield in Flint.

"We have a tough fight ahead," stated Hall at his office here, "to throw out the entrenched Democratic Party in Washington, but with Gen. Eisenhower and Dick Nixon as our candidate, there will be a Republican President in the White House next January."

Vamp Contests Now And Then

By FRED J. NOETH

LABOR DAY is traditionally a big day for volunteer firemen all over Long Island and for Hicksville in particular. The 24th annual Labor Day Firemen's Parade and Tournament will be held here this year.

Firemen's tournaments are well-established on Long Island but they are not so well understood or appreciated by newer residents, particularly those from big cities or other states. There are those who say the firemen's tourney is on the way out and they may be right. In Hicksville, for example, the local vamps (as volunteer firemen are also known) are having increasing difficulty, year by year, in finding a suitable site for competitions. Those who have been regulars at the Hicksville Labor Day contests over the years have noted that the larger communities no longer enter racing teams, although they do appear in great numbers with their apparatus, uniformed members and ladies auxiliaries for the big parade in the morning.

Earlier this season the Southern New York State Firemen's Assoc. held its tournament at Greenport. That same organization held a tournament in Hicksville back in 1900, although the contests were somewhat different.

W. Kintzing Post, writing in the Suffolk County News of Sayville, about old time tournaments recalls a competition held there: "The companies assembled at fire headquarters with their apparatus parked in the house. The men stood by it and were told that they had to go to a certain building and do thus and so—pour water from a certain number of buckets, filled at a nearby well or pump on a certain point in the roof, or put a stream of water from a hydrant into a barrel at a certain part of the building, then pick up all their apparatus and return with it to the firehouse. That was an ideal test of efficiency and worked very well at that small tournament of about six entries in each contest. It would be impossible at a large tournament where the course must be selected and the judges' arch and grand stand erected before hand."

Tournament competition today falls in the category of amateur sports events. The magazine "Exciting Sports" in its August 1948 issue featured "All-American Fire Fighters" asserting "there are star athletes among volunteer smoke eaters too." And the type of high-speed competitions of this day proves that. The article was about Hicksville Tournaments.

A high-speed, streamlined racing car—which is not particularly suited for regular fire fighting—roars down the asphalt road with a group of men perched on the tailboard, ready to leap. When the precise moment is reached, brakes squeal, the men jump for the hydrant carrying hose lines or dash up a ladder to make the best time possible.

In contrast to the big tournaments of the type held at Hicksville are the neighborhood competitions—such as the Ninth Fire Battalion contests at Farmingdale, last Sunday. There the events feature a minimum use of fast motor equipment and there are even several events where hand-drawn carts are used. To add a colorful touch, Farmingdale demonstrated a 90-year-old gang pumper, which works, at the events on Sunday.

There is a great deal of color at the firemen's parade and tourney in Hicksville. The number of participants is among the largest of any held in New York State, including the statewide competition which moves from city to city each year. This year it takes place in East Rochester.

The Hicksville competition is important for another reason. It is the last big, formal contest for the vamps each season. It therefore provides the opportunity for a final playoff between the top teams of the year. Outstandingly fast teams this year include East Meadow, Oyster Bay and the old standbys, West Hempstead.

Since the competitors each year attempt to better the time made in previous years, contests have become faster and faster. A fifth or a tenth of a second may determine a winner. We are inclined to agree with Mr. Post in his footnote comment that "timing should be automatic with contestants starting and stopping the clock themselves, which can be done electrically. At the present time three timers with stop watches try to take the time of a tenth of a second—humanly impossible", Mr. Post concludes. He is one of the real oldtimers, having been a charter member of Bayport Hose Co. in 1891.

For the most part you can enjoy the big parade on Labor Day morning by just taking up a position along Broadway between Old Country Rd. and John St. And who can resist the sight of brilliantly polished fire apparatus with metal work gleaming in the morning sun? And the smartly uniformed marching men and women with their dozens of bands of musicians?

See you Labor Day.

Says Local Hospital Is Vital Need

Dear Editor:

Has anything ever been done toward establishing a hospital in Hicksville? A lot of comment has appeared in the papers recently over the needs of Nassau County for more hospital beds for its growing population, but the emphasis appears on enlarging existing hospitals. This may be the simplest and most economical solution, but it answers only one aspect of the problem. Additional beds are well and good in existing hospitals, but existing hospitals are not convenient to this area. And convenience is a real criterion anyone who has had an accident or emergency illness can testify. I know that I for one am sick and tired, also, of how this or that mama-maniac did 70 all along the Parkway and got to Rockville Center 10 minutes before the baby. It ain't funny McGee.

The Mid Island area has grown terrifically and is still growing. New families arrive daily, increasing the number of children in the community—and children, as all parents soon learn, need prompt hospital care with disconcerting suddenness. We are also acquiring our share of factories, and regardless of safety programs, accidents in industry requiring emergency aid do occur. Traffic approaches the strangulation stage with collision casualties almost daily. Moreover, should a general calamity befall New York City (that atomic bomb, say) city hospitals would be cut off to Nassau; in fact, the case load might be reversed in our direction.

A hospital for Hicksville is no a matter of civic vanity but a vital need, as real as the need for a local fire department or police force. Consider why so many casualties in Korea have survived: because hospital care was available almost immediately to front line fighting. A hospital is either in reach when you need it, or it isn't worth having. When you moved here, didn't you make it a "first" item of business to look up a local doctor on whom you could rely in a hurry—or did you plan to drive back to Brooklyn whenever one of your family was ailing? Oh, yes there's Meadowbrook—so is there Kings County in Brooklyn; yet there are other good hospitals in easy walking distance of King County, yet none have empty beds because of that closeness. There is also the matter of Blue Cross membership and the inconvenience of seeking care through a non member hospital. As a matter of real pride, as a matter of vital importance to community health there should be a Mid-Island community hospital.

Which is largely beside the point. Anyone who can think can visualize the need for a hospital. The real question is—what has been done about it? And what it being done about it?

Does there exist any organization to project, to plan and push to its completion a Mid-Island hospital? Has any site been settled on, or is it waiting to be bought back from some builder at a fancy profit, the way school sites are usually acquired? Or if any of the old families with an immense house and a plot of ground is wondering how to immortalize itself have they ever been sounded out on a worthwhile legacy? Have the local doctors ever been questioned as to the prospects and possibilities of the venture, or do they enjoy commuting by car from office to hospital, especially in bad weather and Nassau's traffic scrambles? Have any estimates of cost ever been made? Is there any assistance program, state or federal, from which a grant can be obtained, and has it ever been requested? Has any local group—Kiwanis, Masons, Legion, or any other—ever placed a hospital or its agenda

If not, why not? To start the ball rolling, I here by offer a pledge of $50 toward:

VISITORS WELCOME

While visiting my folks this past week-end, I learned that there are several local fellows in the Organized Reserves, The National Guard and the ROTC. They will, undoubtedly have to go to summer camp for training and if they attend Camp Drum at the same time I'm there, I wish they would look me up so that we could chat a while.

I'll be attending Camp Drum as a unit instructor from August 5 to 26 and I will be with the 414th Military Government Co. If they do not attend during August, many of them will pass through Utica on their way to Camp Drum and since that's my permanent station for a while, they might like to stop off and see me there. My Utica address is: Unit Instructor ORC, 751 State St., Utica, phone 4-1743 or my home at 1193 Albany St., Utica phone 2-2477.

I'd sure like to see any and all of the home town boys and thought you might help us get lined up through a few words in the paper. CAPT. FRED FLUCKIGER, JR.

COMMENT ON BEACH

To the Editor,
A week ago Sunday was such a beautiful, hot day that I decided to take my family to Roosevelt Memorial Park Township Beach at Oyster Bay. It was about 11 A.M. when we reached there. My plans were to spend about three hours at the beach and then go home for lunch. I didn't mind the confusion of the ticket selling at the gate or the traffic jam with that antiquated one-way wooden bridge; my troubles began when I tried to park in a place where I could get out when I cared to.

Next we unloaded the car and each of us carried some of the beach equipment and we headed for a spot on the beach when I passed by a large pile of smelly rubbish which was there from Saturday.

After several pleasant hours of swimming we picked up everything and went to our car. Then my troubles really began. Some fool closed the only exit to my lane and there we were. The next half hour was a miserable one but fortunately one of our patrolmen finally got us out.

I could make this letter much longer but I know that there are more important items than OUR OWN (?) town beach.—But speaking as a resident taxpayer for the past six years, I think this situation STINKS!!!

THE SCHOOLS ARE YOURS: The State Has An Interest

BY ROBERT R. TUTTLE

My neighbor, Mr. John Q. Public and I had agreed to meet once each week to discuss education. John Q. had just moved into Nassau County from New York City. We met on the lawn at his house discussing education.

"Just how powerful is the state in public education?" asked John as he knocked the ashes out of his pipe. "I've always thought that Albany issued the orders and the schools followed them."

"No, John that is not entirely true. Actually the state lays down the general policies, rules and regulations for all the schools of the state," I said, sitting down in the lawn chair next to him.

"Well, what do you mean by general policies, rules and regulations?" countered John with a quizzical look on his face.

WHAT STATE SAYS

"For example, the state says a school year shall have at least 190 school days including holidays such as Columbus Day or Washington and Lincoln's birthday. Also, John, any teacher or administrator employed by a school district must be properly licensed by the state just as your doctor or lawyer is."

"Are there any other important items?"

"Yes, several others should be mentioned. Plans for a new building must be approved by Albany. Bus transportation contracts, fire drills and records of attendance are set or must be approved by the state.

"Also double sessions of classes each school day cannot be inaugurated without the approval of the New York State Education Department."

"That is interesting," mused John. "But what about the subjects taught in the schools. Does the state lay down any definite rules about that?"

"The experts in the state compile a syllabus for each of the various subjects taught in schools. A syllabus is a general outline of the subject, together with sources of information and suggestions."

"Does the teacher have to use that?"

"No, in many school districts," I answered, "the teachers make up their own courses of study which are submitted to the state for approval. The state syllabus as such is a guide. Also, John, it should be remembered that all educators from the state level to the local classroom teacher are engaged in teaching children as the primary goal rather than subjects as such."

"Who is the chief executive officer of our state educational system?"

"The Commissioner of Education is the executive head of our state school system. His position is comparable to the President of a large corporation, for he and his designated assistants are responsible for carrying out the interests of the state in education. Here is another interesting point, John. The Commissioner acts as a court of appeal deciding any controversies brought before him by the various school systems."

"How does the Commissioner obtain his position? He isn't elected is he?"

"No, not by the people. He is chosen by the Board of Regents." "Regents," pondered John. "That strikes a familiar note. I remember as a high school student I took regents examinations."

"Right, you are, John. Regents examinations are still given in our schools. The board of Regents, however, is a group of thirteen prominent citizens of the state who are recommended by the governor and elected by the New York State Legislature."

"Just what does the Board of Regents do?"

"The Board of Regents is similar to the Board of Directors of a business corporation. The Board meets once each month. Perhaps this will give you an even better idea," I said leaning through some notes. "Yes, here it is. Here is what is stated in a folder published by the University of the State of New York Press in May, 1951:

"The Board of Regents is the governing body of the University of the State of New York and the State Education Department."

"The primary functions of the Board of Regents are the formulation of educational policy for the State and the exercise of powers which reside in the University. The policies and procedures established by the Regents are known as Regents Rules and have the force and effect of law."

"You have me confused! What are these two agencies you just read about—the University of the State of New York and the State Education Department?"

"The University of the State of New York includes all secondary (High Schools) and higher educational institutions which are incorporated in New York State. The State Education Department with its 1600 employees is charged with the general supervision of the educational system of the state."

"There is one other thing about this that puzzles me," mused John. "How does the state know that local schools are carrying out education as the law requires?"

"The District Superintendent of Schools or the City or Village Superintendent of Schools is the field representative of the State Education Department."

"City Superintendents I know about as we have one in New York City. Dr. E. H. LeBaron is the Superintendent of Schools in Hicksville, isn't he?"

DR. LE BARRON'S POSITION

"Yes, Dr. LeBaron is the superintendent and as superintendent he is responsible to the state as well as the local community to make certain that state laws, rules and regulations are followed. He also submits various yearly and periodic reports to the State Education Department."

"That I see. But the District Superintendents?" questioned John. "To begin with all areas in Nassau County not employing a Superintendent of Schools are under the supervision of the District Superintendent of Schools. Nassau County is divided into two supervisory districts. Dr. John W. Chisholm is Superintendent of the First Supervisory District and Dr. Harry W. Gross is Superintendent of the Second Supervisory District. Both Superintendents have their offices at 1627 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York."

"How is the county divided?" asked John.

"In general the northern half of the county is the First District and the southern half is the Second District."

"What does the Superintendent do?"

"His duties are multitudinous and varied. But essentially the Superintendent of Schools is the chief executive officer over a certain area, charged with the responsibility of determining that schools conform to the regulations and rules of the Board of Regents, the State Education Department and the New York State Educational Law."

"This has been enlightening. I feel I have a clearer picture of the role of the State in education."

The next article in this series will be on the subject of local school district organizations.

New Hope in U. S. Patent for Hay Fever-Sinus

New York, N.Y. Relief never before believed possible in Hay Fever and Sinus congestion, the often distressing and newly discovered drug called H.E.D. Complex.

This new drug now released to the public under the name of H.E.S. was clinically tested on a large group of people by doctors associated with one of New York's largest hospitals.

Plainview Vamps To Enlarge Firehouse, Buy New Pumper

PLAINVIEW—Purchase of a new fire pumper, enlargement of fire headquarters of Old Country Rd. and plans for an ambulance fund drive are among the activities under consideration or action by the Plainview firemen, it was learned today.

A building committee has been appointed, according to Chief August Keule, to consider the enlargement of the fire headquarters.

DEMONSTRATION HELD
The Board of Directors of the fire company is negotiating to purchase the new pumper and arrangements are being made to buy a resuscitator. A demonstration of this machine was held at the firehouse on Tuesday night, July 29.

Ex-chief Edmund Ocker, chairman of the population subscription drive for the ambulance to be bought for the community, reports that the campaign is scheduled for the early fall. Clifford Denner of Graham's Lane has been appointed secretary of the appeal with Frank Kompass of 10 Virginia Ave. as treasurer.

Twelve members of the fire company now hold first aid certificates and more men are being enrolled in a new rescue squad in the company. Classes in first aid, with particular preparation for ambulance duty, are scheduled to start in early September for training of the rescue squad.

"OUT OF THE FOXHOLE" . . . POST-PICNIC will be held on Sunday, Aug. 24 at HECKSCHER STATE PARK. All the fun and frolic will start at 9 A.M. and adjourn at dark. Tickets now on sale at the clubhouse for the sum of $2 per person—children under 12 FREE. There will be hot dogs, soda, beer etc., and games for the grown-ups as well as the kiddies Hi-Lite of the day will be a softball game between the Ladies Auxiliary and Post. Let's not have the ladies whipping the post like the first picnic we had . . . what was that score 23-8??

MAINLY ABOUT OUR MEMBERS: Hal Cooley, Bob Serr and George Honoski will play with the AMVETS ALL-STARS at the New Farmers Oval, Middle Village, Queens on Aug. 22 when they cross bats with well known stars from the Mirror, Mel Allen, Sports announcer Don Dunphy and Barney Ross are among the Mirror celebrities. "Spike" dropped in to see the boys the other evening, but couldn't stay long . . . hear it was a heavy date. Wonder how many old football fans or players remember Ray Romano who played with the Black 'n' White back in 1940? After returning from service he played with the Anthonians, L. I. Indians, Bears, Lions (sounds like a zoo) then did a shift with J. C. Giants. No doubt will sign AMVETS before very long. The TROPHY that the post packed for Labor Day looks very neat . . . it's about time we donated some thing to the "big parade".

WHERE THEY ARE NOW: Matty Saurek living up-state. Joe Paocelli in the DEEP SOUTH. M/Sgt. Resanka stationed in Ohio. Sgt. Rogers now at home enjoying Tampa, Florida, weather. Charlie Gunther setting the world on fire in Birmingham. SORRY TO HEAR: That the family and AMVETS lost some one very dear, when Robert O. Ulmer Sr. passed away. To you, his family, our deepest sympathy.

REMEMBER THESE DATES: Aug. 15 monthly meeting. Aug. 24 post second annual picnic. DID-JA-KNOW: Some of our members have quaint hobbies. Johnny Swiricki makes lamps out of odd shaped bottles. Carl Arnesen paints designs on glassware and dishes besides making jewelry from shells and beads. Mike Eliah has some thing every stamp collector would like to have . . . stamped envelopes dated 1863 with stamps of the Confederate States of America.

DON'T QUOTE ME . . . BUT: There will be a "hot election" when the boys go at it for the 1952-53 officers staff come September. The County Commander should be very pleased that I can report, in a person to person phone call with JINK FALKENBURG MC CRARY's Secretary the star of Radio, Screen and T.V. will keep that date with AMVETS. The job that Jessie Mittleman done on those cards we wanted, topped other jobs we have ever had printed. Stanley Klein of the Long Beach post will run, for Nassau-Suffolk County Commander next year. A well known member of another veterans organization here in town will soon JOIN AMVETS. Well fellows that all for this weeks wash so until next time. . . .

OUR INTERESTING NEIGHBORS:

World Conference Delegate

BY FLORENCE VRYN

Behind the serene attitude of Runhild E. Wessel, when she puts the High Schoolers through their paces in English in Hicksville High, lies a wealth of experience her students probably never suspect. In addition to being a very capable teacher, Miss Wessel, who lives on Spindle Road in Hicksville, has been a delegate on the Non Governmental Agencies accredited to the UN, has traveled to Europe and possesses degrees that equip her to teach German, French and English on the High School level, and is a talented musician.

Miss Wessel has been a teacher in the Hicksville School system since 1936, which indicates, she adds with a smile, that this community is a very pleasant atmosphere in which to work. Many of our teachers have been in the school system for several years, which is to the benefit of the community, because it enables the teacher to grasp the picture of the society which surrounds the pupils.

Runhild's background is rich in the experience of a minister's child, for her father had churches in many small suburban communities, and she learned the friendly neighborliness of a well adjusted village. When she wished to teach she entered Mount Holyoke College, where she excelled in her studies. Her education was continued at Columbia University, where she took her masters in French. In addition, she constantly attends the numerous courses in various subjects which are offered to teachers.

TWO WORLD CONFERENCES

Her talents in human relations and the quiet efficiency which characterize her personality made her an ideal choice for a representative of the Nassau County Teachers Assoc. to the World organization of the Teaching profession in Bern, Switzerland in 1949 and in Ottawa, Canada, in 1950. The World Organization is a member of the Non Governmental Organizations of the United Nations, which acts in an advisory capacity to the Economic and Social Council of the UN. In addition to offering advice, the members of the NGO are then in a position to go home to their own communities and spread the information they have learned by contact with the United Nations.

In speaking to Miss Wessel it is apparent that she teaches because she loves the work and she feels there is nothing more rewarding. Her philosophy embodies the great advances made in the science of teaching, for she stresses that the parent and the teacher working together can help the child achieve his place in society as a well adjusted adult with knowledge and wisdom not learned from books alone.

Outside of her numerous activities as a member of local civic organizations and teachers groups, she is an avid collector and saves post cards from all over the world. When she can find the time, she makes her own clothes with a delightful flair and a professional touch. Her recipes are her secret and she is well known for her cooking. Each of her interests adds variety to her background as a teacher and her students benefit from her wide experiences world organizations and people of other cultures.

In Miss Wessel the parents of this community can see typified the highest type of teacher and she and the many others like her are well equipped to lead our children into the difficult world the future will hold.

There are more than 1600 tags issued for pools owned by Levitt and Sons in Hicksville, this season. One tag is issued for each Levitt house in the area where application has been made, a swimming pool committee member discloses.

The Committee plans distribution of a complete financial accounting of the funds donated by those who received tags as well as committee activities, it was revealed.

Blood For Korea

Call your Nassau Red Cross Chapter House at Garden City 3-3500 now to register for the Aug. 14 blood session at the Chapter House, 264 Old Country Rd., here. Hours for the session are 4:45 to 8:30 P.M. All blood collected goes to our fighting men.

County Trust Payments Increase, But Slightly

As the County Trust Co. of Levittown this week completed distribution of notices to Levitt homeowners in South Hicksville this week it was found that the news was not as severe as had been anticipated on the basis of earlier experience. Whereas Bowery Savings Bank mortgages had been hit hard in May with escrow deficiencies of more than $100 in many cases, the County Trust accounts range now appears between $40 and $70.

Average monthly payment increases, as a result, for many will be $4 to $6, keeping the monthly total for many below $60.

First statements from the County Trust early last month indicated deficiencies up to $130.

Sultan Wins NL Vice Presidency

The North Levittown Homeowners Assoc. elected Marvin Sultan of 63 Rim Lane, Hicksville, to fill an unexpired term for vice-president at a special meeting held at Levittown Hall on Friday night. In addition to the election for vice-president there were vacancies on the executive committee to which Arthur Szerlip of 27 Bamboo Lane, Rene Feralta, and Edward Ripple of Bridle Lane were elected. They serve until November, at which time the regular elections will be held.

Sultan and Ripple, Hicksville schoolboard candidate in the last election, were both nominated for the office of vice president and consented to answer questions put to them by the membership. These included a request for both men to state their views regarding the incorporation of Hicksville and the incorporation of Levittown City.

Sultan said "at the present time I am not fully convinced that incorporation for either community would be more beneficial than township government." Ripple stated at the present time he was opposed to incorporation for either community. Sultan added that while he agreed with the incorporation of Levittown City in philosophy he felt that the community could not long survive because of its lack of industry.

POLITICALLY AMBITIOUS
Both men were asked if they favored a split in the Hicksville Park and Parking district and both replied in the affirmative. Sultan, who is a relatively new member, was asked if he were "politically ambitious," and after a discussion of whether or not the question was in order it was allowed, and put to both men who replied they had no political ambitions.

Various constitutional amendments were suggested. It was suggested that the office of parliamentarian be established, that there be two vice presidents and that there be a corresponding secretary, and that the office of honorary president be established among other amendments. The last suggested, since it was not seconded was dismissed.

President Charles C. Miller at a suggestion from the floor appointed a committee to further promote the establishment of the North Levittown Park and Parking District and Szerlip was appointed temporary chairman of the committee. The meeting which was attended by approximately 40 people was described during the evening as comprising the "hard core of the organization."

Lecture Aug. 18

"Christian Science: God's Message of Hope and Healing" is the title of the free lecture to be given at Levittown Hall Monday evening Aug. 18, at 8:30 P.M.

RANCH HOUSE BLUES:

Comparison Of Water Bills

Do you think your water bill is too high? When, back in May, the Bowery Savings Bank upped the mortgage payment and required supplementary escrow amount, the bank explained that, for one thing, people in Levitt houses used far more water than had been anticipated in establishing the amount they would pay monthly.

Now that the County Trust statements have been received in the south-east area of Hicksville, many have found the bills reasonable, but some have found them "excessive." There has been a considerable comparing of bills by neighbors, with inconclusive results. As a public service the HERALD has collected data on ten accounts.

The SENTINEL

Maneuvers Toward City of Levittown

To those in touch with the local situation it was obvious that establishment of a separate North Levittown Park and Parking District was but a preliminary to integration of all the Levitt houses, and probably some non-Levitt houses, into one greater, super-Levittown. The form integration might take could be inferred from reports of meetings of the Levittown Democratic Club at which advantages of incorporation as a city were discussed by various out-of-town speakers. What was surprising to some was that the move toward integration were seemingly being abetted by the Republican Oyster Bay Town administration who backed the legislation permitting the "split" and approved "Levittown" signs in Hicksville.

Problems of Integration: Taxes - Railroad

It has been freely predicted that publication this month of the school tax rate for Levittown will dampen-off any enthusiasm there may exist in outside areas for "integrating" with Levittown. Rumors persist that the incorporators feel they must have a railroad station in the "city", and that the Hicksville station on the main line will be the better asset, re-named, of course, "Levittown".

NLHOA and the City

Candidates for vice-president of the NLHOA were roundly interrogated, Friday night, before a vote to elect was taken. Two questions asked were of special interest: "Are you in favor of the incorporation of Levittown?" and "If the Assoc. voted to favor incorporation, would you support it?"

Levitt-Homes-In-Hicksville Old Timers Club

Another significant question asked was: "How long have you lived in this area?" Both candidates had lived here for the full two years of this neighborhood's existence, and were acceptable.

Parliamentarian Needed?

Operational problems of the NLHOA are reflected by a proposed constitutional amendment to establish the post of parliamentarian.

Swimming Pool Cleanliness

The SENTINEL is told that the rising out of juvenile undergarments in pool water has been stopped, and that lifeguards have been alerted to prevent such occurrences. Maintenance of healthful conditions is of paramount importance in the operation of the pools. The State Dept. of Health's regulations and recommendation, published last week in the South Hicksville HERALD should be strictly followed and signs posted to secure compliance. As the SENTINEL has previously said, HOW the pools are used is far more important than any other question about their use.

Reciprocity Promised by Levitt Not Possible Now

The Hempstead Town Board attorney's recent ruling that Hicksville-area Levitt-house residents cannot be legally permitted to use Levittown pools even if the "split" were made again brings to the fore Levitt's promise in selling the houses and the manner in which he has kept them. Buyers were promised free use of "all of Levittown's magnificent pools." Yet six of these pools have been turned over by Levitt and Sons to the Levittown Park District operated by the Hempstead Town Board, making them unavailable to the Levitt-house residents in Hicksville. Our lawyer friends say a good case could be made out of it.

Keeping the GREENS Green

A surprise bit of information to come out at the "split" hearing was that the grass at the various Village Greens, as well as the marginal roads around these shopping centers, would become the responsibility of the Park District once these areas were deeded to the District by Levitt and Sons. Considerable concern is now being expressed about the condition of the grass on the Greens and the accumulations of week-end garbage and refuse at the various centers, and the probable cost of proper maintenance and cleanliness. The reported sale of the shopping centers by Levitt and Sons was recently announced in the papers, and it seems probable that Levitt will no longer maintain them or the surrounding areas.

Confusion and Congestion Dept.

As was pointed out when the Telephone exchange for this area was changed from Hicksville to LEVITTOWN, it is almost inevitable that people acting under stress at sight of fire will get the wrong fire department. What was not expected was that the Levittown Fire Dept. would roll whenever it got wind of an alarm, even into neighboring territories, adding to the confusion and traffic congestion as occurred last Friday in connection with a fire at the Allied Homes on Jerusalem Ave. North of Walnut Lane.

New Sign on Roof of West Village Green

Janbridge Pharmacy has an application before the Oyster Bay Zoning Board of Appeals for permission to install two signs, each 2 feet by 36 feet, on the roof of the West Village Green Shopping Center on Newbridge Rd. Nothing is said in the legal notice about illumination of these signs which, night, presumably, be seen signs. (Continued on Page 12)

Greetings to our new residents in the Hicksville, Plainview, Bethpage and Jericho area. Welcome to the mid island area of Long Island. When we first came to Hicksville just two years ago on July 15, everything was fine and exciting moving into our new home. Then there was the garden out we were missing something—local friends was the answer. You can't make lasting friends by hanging over the backyard fence, corners or chance meeting. We joined our Synagogue, visited and joined a veterans organization, visited the political clubs. I met people, many of whom are now my friends.
We of the Jewish War Veterans wish to extend a personal invitation as a veteran organization to the veterans and their families on Aug. 24 at 9 P.M. We will meet and leave from the Temple Shaarai Zedek on East Barclay St. To those who have no means of transportation, we have folks with room for guests. Just call Commander Sid Kaplan at Hicksville 3-1228, Sam Miesel at Hicksville 3-1089 or Bill Olitsky LEvittown 9-5168. Sam Miesel worked hard at picking out the spot at Hecksler State Park. There will be swimming, horseback riding and fishing. You need a New York State conservation fishing license. The permit will be good until the last day of December and now we are in the middle of the bass season.

Several games are being lined up for the picnic by Morris Stillman, Dave Katz and Dave Richman. Bring your sporting equipment, bats, balls, gloves etc.
Our next meeting is Thursday, Aug. 14. Come down and visit with us, get acquainted, make arrangements and the committee will be looking for advice to round out our coming program.
The Ladies Auxiliary of the JWV will hold a lawn party, Wednesday, Aug. 13, at 73 Sleepy Ln., corner of Jerusalem Ave. and Sumner Ln., at 8:30 P.M. Girls bring a friend. This will help getting acquainted before the picnic.
Just a note about our second Pleasure Hunt. The awards will be held on Nov. 15. We hope enough money will be made to continue our 24 committee visits to Northport and Mitchell Field Hospitals. We'd like every resident of Hicksville to send 25c to PO Box 182, Hicksville, with his name and address so that we may enter it as a subscription for this worthy cause. All the money will be used for local and veterans' programs and not one cent will go to solicitors or expenses in any way.

GOING AROUND THE LANES:
Only 26 More Days Until School

BY FLORENCE VRYN
LE 3-6487
Remember the calendar you see in store windows around Christmas time that tells how many shopping days till Christmas? For all the eager mothers I have a variation on that theme—twenty six more days till school opens. Even the youngsters are getting restless for it. Of course the second day they will long for the freedom of vacation again, but now the summer is beginning to wear thin—so they say.
We had a hectic week-end. My parents and my grandmother came over from Jersey to visit. Mom and dad had just returned from a trip to Quebec and stopped over on their way south. I have a sneaking suspicion they were lonesome for their grandchildren, but one afternoon here convinced them travel was wonderful. They departed looking positively stuffily eager to be on their way. We now have souvenir hats that say Quebec and the children are just as happy as if they had really gone. New travel note on how to see the world for nothing. Have your friends bring stickers back—it works with the kids anyhow.

Adeleide Cabble of Riding Lane has her fall wardrobe well started. She won the weekly prize in Todd's merchandise Club, Farmingdale. It works like a blanket club but you put money in each week toward a fixed amount and if you win the store matches what you intended to pay in at the end—if you are in a 25 club you have $50 credit at the end or you can stop paying and collect 25 plus what you put in. Good idea for our local merchants who can pay for your clothes in advance.

We used to go to Coney Island and once we moved to The Island I felt Coney was far removed. Just this week I heard that Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Abeles of Acre Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKenna, also of Acre Lane, packed their cars with the younger generation and they all took off for Steeplechase. They had a wonderful time and Maureen, Harry, and Steven Abeles, took John Roseberry, and the McKenna's young fry, Eileen and Peggy, brought their friends, Pat Jean and Anna. With the whole bunch whooping it up as they went down those long dips on the Roller Coaster you can imagine how much fun they had. Everyone stuffed on the usual Coney Island specials and their diets were way off that day, but it was worth it.
Say, I've been hearing stories that the busses on Jerusalem Ave. have at times run as much as an hour late. I know I've been stuck shopping when the next bus never did come and you just waited until the new shift or something came on an hour later. This is service, Mabel? So alright, it's nice the busses are here but after all we do pay for the ride and the little men who own the line aren't in business as a convenience for us. So let's have better service huh?
What's this I hear about the Shelton's of Admiral Lane making the trip to Saless, Mass and back today? Sounds like quite a feat, and I'd love to hear more about it. When I get the complete info I will as usual pass it along. Sounds like the soap opera apen't heard the old joke you will be forced to read it. The Island was named when an old Dutch sailor, spotting it for the first time inquired "S'lat 'en Island?"

Nancy Roseberry tells me she has new neighbors on Admiral Lane, the Sperlags. Bill Sperling will be going to Nicholai St. School in September. Welcome to Hicksville folks, we hope you will be happy here and we are pleased to greet new neighbors around the lanes.
Wasn't last week a wonderful time to go sailing? Jean Wolff of Spindle was visiting the Wardles in Amityville and they went out on their yacht. Ho hum, no one I know owns even a leaky rowboat, and I think the furthest I've been on the briny deep has been the Staten Island Ferry. In case you are one of the two people who haven't heard the old joke you will be forced to read it. The Island was named when an old Dutch sailor, spotting it for the first time inquired "S'lat 'en Island?"

Nothing is so quickly destructive of a neighborhood as garish neon signs. Even an un-illuminated roof sign is detrimental and certainly does not add to the architectural beauty of the structure upon which it is erected.

A hearing on the proposal is scheduled for Thursday evening, Aug. 7, at the Town Hall in Oyster Bay. It may prove futile to protest after that, when the signs are being erected.

Do we have active civic organizations, or only parliamentarians?

Opinion on Levitt-House Matters

Teen-Age Problem

(Third Article of a Series)
SCHOOL'S CONTRIBUTION TO ITS SOLUTION

Haphazard consideration of the teen-age problem is likely to lead to haphazard solutions. The problem has many facets, depending upon the natural bent, or predominant lack, of the child or group. The school cannot establish a program to suit the individual problem though, on occasion, it must do what it can to correct an individual situation brought to its attention by the attendance officer, or a classroom teacher, or the principal.

The days when education of the child was limited to instilling book-learning are far in the background; most schools, especially schools like those in Hicksville, take a direct interest in the rounded development of the child; their prime objective is to graduate a child who is well on the road of becoming a self-sufficient adult, an asset to the community in which he lives. With that objective in mind, the program evolves naturally. It evolves to suit the needs of the child, so far as they can be perceived and met.

The male teen-ager has almost unlimited physical energy which he must spend to keep him happy. His natural vigor must be served by mass activities. His developing interest in girls must be channelled, not thwarted. With a social existence outside the bounds of their families should be guided to wholesome contacts and wholesome gatherings. It need not be said that this is easier said than done; the growing child resents regimentation and refuses to participate in planned, over-supervised activity. He or she must have the kind of activity naturally craved under conditions as spontaneous and lacking in artificiality as practicable. If it is not available under properly directed conditions, it will be found elsewhere under far less desirable conditions.

What are the Hicksville schools doing? Right now their major contribution is operation of the various summer playgrounds, at Abraham Levitt field, East St. School, and the High School Campus. The evening program at the High School, beginning at 6 P.M., has been especially successful in keeping teen-age boys interested and out of mischief. There are frequently as many as 150 at play on the various fields, with as many as three ball games under way. Next year, the summer program should be even more effective, with play fields at all the new schools available.

The winter program, with the schools in operation, is more diversified and intensive, and more directly patterned to suit the various age groups. I was especially interested and pleased to hear that the children are taught to dance at an early age. Dancing is a natural and spontaneous expression; for the teen-ager it provides craved social contacts and an outlet for excess physical energy all under easily supervised conditions.

Both the Junior High School and the Senior High School hold regular school-sponsored dances. In addition, the High School PTA holds dances throughout the year, which they sponsor and manage. Effort should not be spared to make these prime events and maintain teen-age interest in them.

Then of course, we have football and basketball and tennis at the High School, with inter-school rivalries which can keep interest at fever pitch.

Space at the High School is now unfortunately limited; once our new High School is built and more space is available, I, personally, would like to see more hobby clubs, school-sponsored and with a teacher-advisor but run by the boys and girls themselves. Participation in winter sports is likely to be limited, and opportunities for indoor activities should be increased.

All of this should help keep the average teen-ager busy doing what comes naturally at that age, and help avoid a local problem. It is unavoidable, however, that there will be isolated cases requiring individual attention and correction. The school, this year, will have a full-time vocational guidance counselor who will endeavor to guide those not easily susceptible to the control which the school endeavors to exercise.

The biggest outdoor day of the year for members and friends of the Charles Wagner Post is this Sunday, Aug. 10, the day of the Annual Picnic. We ran through the menu for you last week so this is just a reminder to be at Shady Maples this Sunday for the feast and fun of your life.

The second big August project—the Monster Bazaar—is now rapidly taking shape and Aug. 18 has been set for the opening of the week long affair. Final details will be available for next week's column. In the meantime, keep your eyes and ears open. Advertising will begin soon for this indoor-outdoor Bazaar.

National Convention time is almost here and for the 3rd time in its 34 year history the scene will be New York City, which means we can all see and participate in the biggest veterans' convention of all time at a minimum expenditure.

Stag and husband-wife groups are already being formed to take in the proceedings and provided the two groups visit the convention on separate days we plan to join both and hope that a sizable portion of the membership can do the same. (P.S. We planned our vacation that way).

The Convention opens Sunday, Aug. 24 at 2 P.M. with a meeting of the National Executive Committee at the Statler and Interdenominational Memorial Services on The Mall in Central Park at 7:30 P.M.

The opening session of the joint American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary Convention will be held Monday, Aug. 25, at 9 A.M. at Madison Square Garden and at 7:30 that night the first entertainment will take place when the "Tournament of Music" (Senior Drum and Bugle Corps Competi-

Start College At Early Age

GARDEN CITY—Michael Leavitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miltor Leavitt, 41 Atlas Lane, and Miss Mary Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, 23 Rover Lane, Hicksville, have begun their "career" at Adelphi College here where they are participating in the work-study play program being conducted by the Long Island college's widely known education department.

Michael, who is 7 years old; Mary, who is 8 years old, began their summer on the Garden City campus on July 7 with some 47 other Long Island children who are also taking advantage of the unique children's summer program being offered by Adelphi.

tion finally is presented at the Long Island Stadium. On the same evening at Triboro the Seagram's Post four Ford Convertibles will be given away. If you haven't submitted your coupon from the June issue of the Legion Magazine hurry it in—you still have time.

The "spectacle" of the Convention—the huge parade—will start up 5th Avenue (from 82nd to 77th Sts.) at 10 A.M. on Tuesday. How long it will last or how it will tie up N. Y. C. is anybody's guess.

Business sessions will continue Aug. 27 and 28 at the Garden starting at 9 A.M. each day with election of officers approximately 2:30 P.M., Aug. 28. On Aug. 27 the International Maritime (life-boat) Races and Port of N. Y. Tugboat Races will be held on the Hudson River commencing at 4 P.M.

And a very important last word on the Convention—The Nassau County American Legion has reserved a suite at the Hotel New Yorker (28th floor). All you Legionnaires are invited. Suite is complete with terrace and orchestra.

AUXILIARY NOTES—Thirtieth Anniversary will be marked by a dinner at the Clubhouse on Sept. 27. Auxiliary members are entitled to one guest each (in most cases presumed to be friend husband). Orchestra will be on hand with Catering by Bonae!

Installation of officers will take place at Ernie Pyle Post in conjunction with Third Division installation.

Sylvia Gundlach, back from the recent State Convention reported Auxiliary gifts of $11,625, to the Legion Mountain Camps (for children) and $15,000 to Memorial Hospital $11,400 earmarked for children and $3,600 for a fellowship.

Incidentally Auxiliary reportedly outnumbered Legionnaires at the Convention.

Girls Enjoy Day At Jones Beach

BY DOROTHY GUELPA
Hicksville 3-1218W

Girl Scouts of Bethpage Troop 51 enjoyed an all-day outing to Jones Beach on July 13. Cars left Bethpage at 7:10 A.M. under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. DeLucia, Mrs. Dolly Caronia, Mrs. Calderone, Mrs. Dorothy Rabas and Mrs. Sloan joined the group later in the morning.

The Girl Scouts who attended were: Mary Ann Calderone, Jo Ann Caronia, Doris DeFrancis, Benedetta DeLucia, Nadine Horn, Carol Muro, Mary McCarroll, Bernadine McCarroll, Lynn Moynahan, Francis Szczesny, Clara Sloan, Judy Rabas, Diana Reardon, Barbara Simmons and Troop Leader Miss Antoinette Maggio.

The A&P building on Broadway is coming along at a fast pace. Now it's clear why the parking lot was put where it is instead of at the railroad station or the center of town where some felt it was solely needed.

Our deepest sympathy to Leo were upon the death of his father Shattland of the Bethpage Herald last week.

Last week I reported the theft of several bikes and referred to it as a minor crime wave but this week it appears we really have a crime wave with the report of a brutal attack on a young girl on the Bethpage Parkway. Audrey Bauer of Midlawn Dr., Massapequa, who will enter Bethpage High School next month, was beaten by an unknown assailant and left unconscious on the bicycle path. We urge mothers to take more precautions and perhaps save your child from a similar tragedy.

Winners were named Monday night in the Miscellaneous Club sponsored by the Bethpage Girl Scouts for the benefit of the Camp Edey Building Fund. The winners were chosen at the home of Mrs. Caroline Ellinger. They were Anna Mirabella, Mrs. Schinkel, Bessie Curtio and Ruth Larkin.

Ask Board Approval For Big Billboards

OYSTER BAY — A "V" shaped sign and a flat facial sign over the canopy of the building on North Hempstead Tpke., about 200 feet east of Hicksville-Massapequa Rd., Bethpage, are planned by Henry Nelson of 1901 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn. Nelson will ask the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance to permit the sign at a hearing tonight, Thursday, Aug. 7, in the Justice Courtroom, here at 7:30.

A variance for two 10' x 20' signs on north Broadway, north of James St. and Lenox Ave., Hicksville, will be requested by Stackler & Frank of 5 Liberty St., Hempstead.

A gas station at the corner of Plainview Rd. and Central Park Rd., Plainview, is planned by William John Harboes of Old Country Rd., Plainview, who will seek a variance for the structure, also on Aug. 7.

The Loneliness I Feel
 The world in which we lived in
 Is now a world apart
 For agony and sorrow felt
 Has struck within my heart.
 Each moment never passes
 Without my feeling blue
 And everything reminds me
 Of the things you used to do.
 I'll miss you every evening
 When at the door you'd wave
 And smile a happy greeting
 Those memories that you gave.
 But darling may your journey
 Be safe and when complete
 Looked down upon me here on earth
 And know again we'll meet.
 And when I walk to greet you
 In Gods realm that's up above
 I'll bring to you the things I've saved
 A lonely persons love.

NORTH-WEST NOTES Speeders Still Menace Children

BY JAMES CUMMINGS
 For more than a year now we have continually warned of the danger from cars speeding thru our development. Still there has been little or no heed paid as cars race in and out of the streets. The main arteries of Myers, Gardner, Kuhl and Nevada have taken on the appearance of "speedways" with little or no regard for life.

It has been brought to our attention that the biggest offenders are the residents themselves, along with other vehicles that service the neighborhood. Your Civic Assoc. has requested the Township to investigate these matters in a residential-populated area. There should be more definite action taken by the Civic Assoc. when they meet this fall to get to the bottom of this problem. The writer feels that if a petition is signed by the residents in the area it would certainly give call for greater safety measures in NW Hicksville to protect our children while they play. There have been several close calls in the area—but luckily nothing serious.

This should not cause a laxity on the drivers part at any time—for he must have his car under control at all times. It is very hard for the women to keep their eyes on the children all day or to keep them penned up in the back yard. Help them enjoy the balance of their summer vacation. Slow down when entering or leaving the area. Remember the life you save may be your own!

BETWEEN ISSUES: we noted the additional curbing being placed on Nevada St. by the Highway Department. This work will continue throughout the development until completed. Grandstands are in place on Burns Ave. for the Firemen's Labor Day Tournament with NW residents to have front row seats. Several families have moved into the new homes on Gardner Ave. What was formerly used as builder's field office is now occupied. A family moved into a new model on Myers Ave. next door to Fred Nelson. It is reported that Jerry Spiegel plans to put 70 homes on the farm between Myers and Burns Ave. Bill Albright of Montana St. lounging around on his vacation for 2 weeks. The neighbors say Vince Madonia up on North B'way makes a very good pizza pie. Why don't you try one? Bill Domakue of Gardner Ave. very earnest about furthering his fine musical ear. Bill has a new piano accordion. We enjoyed hearing Bill at a recent lawn party on Kuhl Ave.

Had the pleasure of renewing an old acquaintance last Saturday evening at the Holland House Lodge Inn on Merrick Road. Al Capp, very fine guitar man whom I had the pleasure of playing with in the old dance band days is now teaching guitar. If you are interested call ROALYN 9-15013 or write 185 Chestnut St. Greenvale. Al has worked with some of the top bands in the country. The Police Auxiliary Barr Dance is scheduled for Sept. 13 at the Manaspis Temple, on Nicholas St., Hicksville.

A fine evening is in store for all. Come as you may. real barn dance. Support this fine organization and make plans now to attend. Members in the development include, George McCarthy, liaison officer; Tony Pionick, Joe Geiser, Ed Fitzpatrick and Y.T. You'll be well informed on local news, when you read the HERALD each week.

The Nassau County ASA championship which first came to Hicksville under the banner of the old Loyolas in 1948 and remained here four straight years will go to some other community in 1952.

That was assured Sunday night in Glen Cove City Park Stadium when Carlo's Jewelers eliminated defending champion, Empire, 5-2, and Levittown pushed Botto Brothers out, 2-1.

The end did not come unexpectedly.

Botto was regarded as the best bet to hold the title in Hicksville but its schedule had shown signs of wearing the club a little thin and the illness of Teddy Smith left the entire burden on the shoulders of Bill Bordiuk.

If anything were to happen to the meekicket Botto was finished.

Well in the 2-1 loss the Black and White suffered at the hands of Floral Park at Jones Beach last Thursday, Bordiuk came off the stupidly constructed mound at the seashore stadium and wrenched his back badly.

Manager Bernie McGunnigle had no choice but to send Ray Hallern to the hill against Joe Smith and Levittown Sunday night and the all around performer turned in a fine job, but lost in a freakish encounter.

Smith held the injury riddled club to just three hits but two of them were timely and should have scored four runs.

In the first inning Hicksville had the bases loaded with two out when George Kamran drilled an apparent single into centerfield. However the ball just grazed the fingers of Jerry Kiesel, coming down from second base, and instead of two runs, Botto had a third out.

In the sixth Ed Coleman blasted a shot over second with runners on second and third. One run scored easily but the second baseman prevented the ball from going through and his top notch play enabled the second runner to be cut down at the plate.

Pete Zeiher helped Halleran's effort with a brilliant throw from leftfield to cut a run off at home in the fifth.

Centerfielder of the club, Jack McCrosson, was recovering from a knee injury that forced him to be hospitalized during the week which further weakened Botto's position.

It was, however, the fact that the team wasn't hitting Smith that produced the loss.

Empire was hampered too by the absence of Herman Rigby's hitting powers but it was doubtful that he could have helped tireless Jim Barone overcome the kicking around the Empire fielders gave the ball.

Ralph Ferrara of Hicksville caught a very creditable game for Carlos.

The Loyolas were most successful in their ASA competition. They won the New York Metropolitan title in 1948. They defeated the Astoria Willows, Queens Champions, and Otis Elevator, titleholders from Westchester County, for the right to enter the Mid-Atlantic Regionals.

In that tourney at Floral Park the Loyolas were eliminated by Syracuse and Plainfield, New Jersey.

Seeing the ASA title must rotate elsewhere. We hope personally it ends up in Mr. Smith's and Levittown's pocket. Joe is deserving of the triumph and Levittown's club has ninety per cent of its strength coming from within its own area.

And that cannot be said for the rest of the teams left in the tourney.

Dutch Lane put up a determined battle against the Hawks, leaders in the high school division of the baseball program, before bowing 13-10 on its own field last week.

The visitors indicated their power early and scored four runs off Lane starter Don Kelton in the first inning.

A two run double by Charlie McGunnigle was the big blow.

Displaying considerable spunk, Dutch Lane bounced right back in the bottom of the inning on a walk to Dick Stillman and a home run by Buzzy Marks.

The Hawks overcame this jarring of Pete Nygren and scored eight runs in the next two frames to go in front 12-2.

GRAND SLAM

In the last of the fifth three straight walks got the Hawks in trouble and Frank Libasci underscored it with a grand slam home run to close the game to 12-6.

The winners nicked Kelton for a tally in the sixth but Dutch Lane went to work and picked up four runs in the sixth to make it 13-10.

There was a dramatic finish in the last inning. With two out, three walks loaded the bases for Dutch Lane and Libasci came up again. He hid to overtake the Hawks was

PBC Moves Ahead In Softball Loop

HICKSVILLE—Pitcher Dick Kerbs was the steady hand as the PBC won over the Post Office, 6-0, and Sleepy Lane, 9-2, to gain a three-point lead over the field after the fifth round of the Hicksville Softball League.

The victory over the Sleepy Lane club came rather easily, but it was the impressive shutout over the Post Office that sent the PBC stock soaring.

Kerbs held the PO to just three hits in the victory that may prove to be the springboard to the regular season championship.

In his support Harold Manaskie jumped on Ed Coleman and smacked a first inning home run to get the winners off to an early start.

A single by Manaskie was also in the center of the scoring in a two run third inning. In the fifth frame it was a single by Stan Keller and a double by Doug Jones that got another pair of runs over.

PINE LODGE MOVES

A big advance was made by Pine Lodge as it won two contests and slipped into second place ahead of the Post Office and Oyster Bay which also got four points during the round.

Home runs by Cronin and Zinski plus some extra healthy clouting by Duncan, Block and Sparkle powered the Bethpage team to a 13-4 victory over the Rockets.

The same group provided the runs in the Lodge win over improving Sea Cliff, 5-2.

In the most win contest of the week, the Post Office edged the Rockets 4-1 in a creditable game.

The PO started its quest for the badly needed points in the first inning when hits by Mel Voochries, Ed Coleman and Stubling chased over a single marker and it was a double by Jerry Kiesel two innings later that proved the deciding blow.

Dick Swain walked and came home on a hit by Matt Triangoli for the losers only run.

In other developments the S&L team forfeited to Oyster Bay and the contest slated for Friday was postponed.

And he went down swinging hard on each one. McGunnigle had two doubles for the winners as did Mike Moskowitz. Marks joined Libasci in striking home runs for the losers.

Nygren, McGunnigle Pace Hawks

HICKSVILLE—Peter Nygren's third and fourth pitching victories powered the Hawks into first place in the High School Summer Playground Baseball League during the week.

A 16-1 win over the Eagles and a 7-0 joust with the Midgets pushed the Hawks two games in front.

In another close game the Cobras scored their first win by taking the Eagles 6-4.

Nygren was both a pitcher and a hitter in the one sided win over the Eagles. He allowed only two hits and contributed to the attack with three hits. Included in the Hawks' ten hit attack were two singles by Pat McGunnigle.

Joe Nao and Paul Nemeck got the losers only hits.

FIRST PLACE FIGHT

The Midgets needed a victory to tie the Hawks for first place and almost came up with an upset.

It was Nygren again who pitched a fine six hitter to gain the verdict. His opponent, Dennis McQuillan also pitched six hit ball but the Hawks put two of them back to back in the final frame to chase over the winning marker.

McGunnigle picked up two more singles in this contest and Fred Mazon got a pair for the Eagles.

Leo Kanowada tossed a four hitter at the Eagles and was the victor over Grouse Kelly who gave up only two safeties. However, Kelly had poor support and lost despite the fact that Paul Nemeck went three for three with the stick.

As the teams started their fourth week of action under the direction of William Anderson, the Standings were: Hawks 5-0, Midgets 3-2, Cobras 1-4 and Eagles 1-4.

PLAYGROUND ACTIVITY:

Adams Royals In Front At East St

HICKSVILLE—Adam's Royals took a half game lead in the East St. School Summer Playground baseball league a week ago.

Captain Tim Adams hit a home run and a single to pace the Royals to an 8-3 win over the Dragons.

He also pitched a three hitter but Phil Lamenza and John Vanocove reached him for homers and Ken Nelson lashed out a triple.

The next day Joe De Viva with a single and double, Richard Zoda a triple and single and Tom Kuzza with a homer and a single lead the Royals to an 8-3 win over the Clyclones.

TRAFFIC LIGHT

er said in November that consideration would be given to the request for a signal.

A resurvey of conditions was made on May 26 of this year and a report dated June 2, said the light is needed. On June 4 the installation of the signal in 1952 was ordered, Chementi concluded.

Correspondence from Capt. Chimenti to the NLEOA committee refers to the County Public Works Dept. report on the intersection as being in "Levittown, New York."

The SHALHO had voted at a meeting earlier this year, apparently independently or other efforts, to seek the cooperation of authorities in getting the signal also.

The price of justice is eternal publicity.
