Press For Lee Ave. Traffic Lite

HICKSVILLE—Renewed efforts to get the installation of a traffic signal at the corner of South Bway and Lee Ave., were being made by residents of the area, particularly Lee Ave., this week. The State Traffic Commission on April 1 of this year issued an order for the signal to be placed by the State Dept. of Public Works "as soon as possible", following a two-year campaign by the Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc.

Traffic light installations are also being awaited at Bway and John St. (ordered by State in Feb. of this year) and Old Country Rd., at Levittown Pkwy., by County.

Westerners Win Fire Tourney

HICKSVILLE—The Westerners of West Hempstead took the top point trophy at the run-off of the rained-out Labor Day Firemen's Tournament here on Saturday before an audience of about 5000. The Westerners, traditional winners at the local tourney over the years, upset the experts who had forecast a win for the Oyster Bay Rough Riders, state champions.

While a number of firemen were treated for minor injuries at the Red Cross first aid station, police reports only listed Edna Klein, age 34, of 87 Cliff Dr. as a casualty. She fainted while watching the contests and was treated by Dr. Walter M. Stillger.

Sara Weiss, chairman of the tournament committee, today expressed the thanks of his committee to the residents and business people for their cooperation in making the 24th annual event a success.

Plan $10 Million Shopping Centre For Home Property

OYSTER BAY—Elaborate plans for a $10,000,000 shopping centre on both sides of North Broadway, Hicksville, south of Bethpage Rd. were outlined at a Town Board hearing here, Tuesday, during a zone change application. The site is the former property of St. John's Rectory which was founded in 1890.

AN EDITORIAL:

Delay Costs Another Life

THIS LIRR CROSSING on New South Rd., Hicksville, where the Rail Road has been ordered by the State Public Service Commission to install warning devices, was the scene of another death on Friday evening. A 33-year-old New York City driver, Arvid Lapins, was killed when an eastbound nine-car passenger train demolished his car, a 1952 Buick, headed north.

More than a year ago in July 1951 the PSC ordered the installation of warning signals at this crossing and Charlotte Ave., also in Hicksville, such work to be completed before the end of 1951. In December there was a near fatality when a car was clipped by a train at this point. Over the years there has been a series of fatal accidents at this crossing.

In January of this year the LIRR asked the PSC for a six-month extension of time and said it would go even further than the order—installing automatic gates which the PSC described as the "best kind of protection." Oyster Bay Town Board gave its consent to the extension of time. The extension would normally have expired about July 1 of this year.

This week when another death was recorded for this hazardous crossing (which lacks warning bells, flashing lights and other devices), the Herald learned that the LIRR had requested and had been granted another six-month extension of time to make a total of 18 months since the PSC gave its order directing the protection at this crossing.

Conditions at Charlotte Ave., which is crossed daily by school buses, are equally dangerous. How many more lives will be lost before adequate protective devices are installed?

INSIDE OUR SCHOOLS First Of Series The Special Class

By GORDON E. SISSONS, JR.
Special Teacher, Mentally Handicapped Children
Nicholas School, Hicksville

Success and achievement in school are important factors in the emotional development of a child. In order to attain success in school a child must be of sufficient intellectual maturity to cope with varying levels of abstract ideas. He must also be able to handle numbers in an arithmetical situation; and what is more important he must be able to apply these verbal and numerical ideas to other learning situations. He must have sufficient retentive powers in order to observe and study what has been taught. He must be socially mature enough to understand his position in relation to a group. He must be sufficiently at ease in this academic environment if we are to expect him to adjust reasonably well to the grade curriculum.

That individual differences exist among children has long been respected. Differences in intellectual endowment, social maturity, and emotional stability partially explain why all children do not attain the same degree of achievement in school. Mental retardation is an enlargement of the idea of individual differences. It recognizes the fact that there are children, who because of limited mental capacity, are not able to cope with the conventional academic program of the grades. No amount of encouragement, discipline, or application to grade school study bring fruitful results for these children. The solution taken by many school authorities is the organization of the special class for mentally handicapped children.

Mothers To Meet Monday Night

HICKSVILLE—The Mother's Auxiliary of St. Ignatius school will meet next Monday evening, Sept. 22, at the school hall, E. Nicholas St., at 8:15 p.m. All mothers having children attending St. Ignatius are requested to be present.

The educable mentally handicapped child has his potentialities as well as his limitations. His limitations of intellectual endowment should not prejudice our thinking that he can not actively participate in learning situations. His potentialities may not be as Town officials were told at the hearing, where no opposition to the change was registered, that plans include provision for establishment of a department store, a professional centre and large parking areas, including an area fronting on Bethpage Rd. to the east. The application was made by Stackler and Frank, developers of the Frank Homes and Woodbury Gardens developments in Hicksville.

OBJECT TO INDUSTRIAL

Opposition was registered at the hearing by residents of Vidoni Homes on South Broadway to an industrial change on property along the LIRR. Michael Sullivan, attorney for the applicant, Charles Schildknecht, explained that the change was required to provide access from South Broadway to currently industrial zone property. He suggested a meeting with the opposing homeowners to explain the proposal.

The Town Board reserved decision on the zone change applications.

Create New District 57

HICKSVILLE—This fast growing community will have another new election district, 57th in the town of Oyster Bay, for election day it was disclosed yesterday by Ernest F. Francke, local GOP leader. The district will be cut out of the present northeast 40th district which is roughly bounded by the Hicksville School District line on the north, South Oyster Bay Rd. on the east, Woodbury Rd. on the south and by Bay Ave. and Bethpage Rd. on the west. (Bethpage will also get a new district, see story on page 15).

The boundary of the new district has not been officially set, but the division may be along the LIRR or just east of Twinlawn Ave. The 40th district with Joseph Oliver of Hicks Circle and Sidney Kelly of Bay Ave. as GOP committeemen has its polling place at the Water Works office on Bethpage Rd.

Oliver will be teamed with James Treuchlinger of 60 East End Ave. for the new 57th district with the polling place in East St. School. Eventually this district will use the Woodland Ave. School, now being developed.

The new district will embrace

470 Register In Adult School

HICKSVILLE—Registration for Adult Education here got off to a good start with 470 signed up on Monday, the first night of registration. Most courses run for 10 weeks and classes start the next Monday, Sept. 22 (with the exception of Preparation of Foods for Freezer which starts Sept. 29).

Driver Training continues to be the course most in demand, Director Elery Bean said, and since a limited number of students can be handled in one course efforts to accommodate those who were disappointed are being made. Wherever possible extra classes will be formed. In addition, another class of 40 will be formed in November and the date of registration announced at a later date.

Most other courses are open for further registration on the first night of class for the convenience of those who were unable to register this week.

HEMPSTEAD—An open meeting of Volunteers for Stevenson Sept. 23, at the Shadow Lawn Restaurant, 152 Greenwich St., will be held on Tuesday night, here.

Dear Jean:

We hear that residents of at least one local development have been notified by their bank that the homeowners must hereafter pay their water bills direct to the water office. . . . It cost Hicksville Water District about $1 apiece to apply scotch-lite tape to one-third of the hydrants in the district. They make location of hydrants by firemen a simple matter. But almost as fast as the stuff is applied water officials have found it being removed—and by adults in too many cases. . . .

EMIL SZENDY, member of Hicksville School Board, flew to the West Coast, Sunday night, on a business trip. He expects to return this Saturday. . . . A personal appearance of TRIGGER, famous golden palomino horse of movie, TV and radio fame, will be made at the Levittown shopping centre on Oct. 4. Trigger is of course owned by Roy Rogers. . . .

Minerals Fair next year will be combined with the Industrial Exposition and take place under the grandstands at Roosevelt Raceway. . . . Physicians throughout the state are being alerted by health officials to possible outbreaks of a polio-like illness, particularly among school age children. While the disease has many of the symptoms of polio and is frequently mistaken for it, it appears to be limited to two to five days in duration with good recovery and no after effects. It starts with fever ranging from 100 to 103 degrees, general discomfort and severe and persistent headache. . . . The Long Islander in Huntington reports that HENRY PROEHLICH of Round Swamp Rd., Huntington, will be sentenced on Sept. 30 on charge of unlawfully cutting and removing shade trees from within the bounds of a Town Highway during Oct. of last year. The complaint was made by neighbors on Mannetto Hills Rd., South Huntington. . . . Take it easy, Bub. The manager of Eastern Camera's new branch in Hicksville at 5 West Marie St. is ARNOLD LANNER who by the way resides in Hicksville. . . .

Eight CD volunteers were enrolled during the sidewalk recruitment at W. Marie St. and Bway, Hicksville, Friday afternoon and evening, according to Director FRANK SUTTER. The recruits included five messengers, one auxiliary policeman and two skywatchers for the Syosset lookout. . . . Hicksville Lions will hold a joint meeting with Westbury club at the Wheatly Hills Tavern on Thursday night, Sept. 25, in place of their regular Hicksville meeting on Sept. 24. . . . Recent issue of East St. School news reports that $160 worth of damage has been done by window breakage in new additions. . . . Bank of Hicksville may delay big festivities connected with new addition to facilities until its 50th anniversary which comes next April. . . .

A new ladies wearing apparel shop will occupy the Huettner corner at Broadway and Marie St., Hicksville. The shop will occupy two stories. BETTY SINGERMAN, proprietor, informed the Herald that she will handle a complete line of dresses, sportswear, pre-teens and teens; also ladies cloth, tweed and storm coats. The store will have an entrance on Broadway and another on Marie St., near Eastern Camera's new Hicksville branch. . . .

BETWEEN DUFFY AND OLD COUNTRY:

Write Little Carol Note Today

Hi Folks:

I must start this column off on a sad note. It has been brought to my attention that Little Carol Pungello of 302 Old Country Road (off Cornwall Lane) is in the hospital, and will be for some time to come. It gets lonesome and boring for a girl of 9, and I thought maybe some of her neighbors and friends could send her a card or a book, etc. I'm sure she'd welcome anything. Her address is:

Carol Pungello
Rockefeller Institute Hospital
York Avenue and 66 Street
New York, N.Y.

Ernie Dieterich of McAlester Ave. has a birthday on Sept. 22nd. . . . Sherwood Heidel of Meade Ave. celebrates his on the 23rd. Kenneth Foster, also of Meade Ave. celebrates on Sept. 23rd. Happy Birthday to you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Combes Ave. were blessed with a baby girl on Sept. 4th. The little bundle from Heaven is to be called, Bernadette.

Joan Murphy of Combes Ave. will be 7 years old on Sept. 19.

The Madsen's of Meade Ave. had a double celebration last week. Mrs. Madsen had a birthday on Sept. 13 and they celebrated their Wedding Anniversary on Sept. 15.

Everyone seemed to have a nice time at the Firemen's Tournament last Saturday. . . . It was a beautiful day. If you didn't go you sure missed a good show. . . . I saw some of the younger boys started up their own business. For every case of empty bottles they picked up they were rewarded with a bottle of soda. For all the empty bottles I saw, I bet they were all in bed with a tummy ache the next morning.

Books Projected Upon Ceiling

By HELEN WHEELER, LIBRARIAN
HICKSVILLE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Recently the Hicksville Public Library was the recipient of a very generous and useful gift. The Hicksville Lions Club has given the library a ceiling projector and, to go with it, 69 microfilms of books for both adults and children. A complete list of the titles available at the present time appears in the library's catalog.

Democrat Hits 'Mineola Mess'

HICKSVILLE — Speaking at a meeting in the Legion Hall here last week, Joseph Liff of Great Neck, Democratic Congressional candidate from the second district, challenged local Republicans "who are raving about a 'mess' in Washington, to talk about the 'mess' in Mineola."

He declared that the situation in the county police dept., county sewers, drainage, highways and seaways constituted "the biggest 'mess' of all". The second congressional district embraces all of North Hempstead and the north part of Oyster Bay Township.

William A. Cisler, local Democratic leader, this week announced a regular club meeting at the Legion Hall, E. Nicholas St., on Wednesday night, Oct. 8, and a second open meeting with party speakers present at the same place on Wednesday night, Oct. 29.

Legs Broken In Auto Crash

LEVITTOWN — Violet Postenrieder, age 24, of 15 Andrew Ave., Hicksville, is in Meadowbrook Hospital suffering possible fractures of both legs sustained in an auto accident at Jerusalem Ave. and Heather Ln. here on Sept. 10. Mrs. Postenrieder, driving a 1951 Chevrolet, collided with a 1946 Plymouth operated by Rita Forman of 3 Cloister La. Miss Forman refused medical attention for pain in the right hip and back. Margaret McFadden, 21, of 2 Hook La., a passenger in the Postenrieder car, was also taken to Meadowbrook Hospital in the Levittown Fire Department ambulance suffering lacerations of the face.

BITTEN ON FACE

HICKSVILLE — Barbara Cowley, age 5, of 7 Ash La. was bitten on the upper lip by a dog owned by J. Miller of 46 Abbot La. on Sept. 10 as the child was playing in the Miller yard, police reports disclose.

Developed originally for use in military hospitals, this projector is portable and simple to operate. It is the library's plan to circulate these "Projected Books" (together with the machine which makes them readable) among the bedridden people of Hicksville. The service must also be limited to the area served by the Hicksville Public Library. In all instances, a loan of this valuable equipment should be recommended by the attending physician.

VARIETY OF SUBJECTS

"Projected Books" can open up a whole new world of enjoyment to the shut-in. There are books for people of all interests and ages. They include history, science-fiction, teen age stories, humorous stories, mysteries, westerns, fairy tales and other children's books, classic novels, short stories, religious books, and even travel books.

"Pride and Prejudice" by Jane Austen, "Two Years Before the Mast" by Richard Henry Dana, and "Muttiny on the Bounty" by Charles Nordhoff will be recognized by everyone; for those who prefer the more recent best-sellers, the library has on film "Cheaper by the Dozen" by Frank B. Gilbreth, "Kon-Tiki" by Thor Heyerdahl, and "Courtroom" by Quentin Reynolds, as well as many others. "Going on Sixteen" by Betty Cavanna, "Seventeenth Summer" by Maureen Daly, and "Senior Year" by Anne Emery are very popular with teen agers.

Among the Children's Library books which have also been made available on film are "Little Women" by Louisa Alcott, "Pinocchio" by Carlo Collodi, "The Five Hundred Hats of Bartholomew Cubbins" by Theodor Geisel, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" by Jacob Grimm, "Lassie Come Home" by Eric Knight, "The Five Chimney Brothers" by Claire Bishop and Kurt Wiese, "The Egg Tree" by Katherine Milhous, and CEILING PROJECTOR donated to Public Library for use of bedridden by Hicksville Lions Club.

"Mary Poppins" by P. L. Travers. A supply of application forms to be used by anyone wishing to borrow the projector and some films is available now at the library, 169 Jerusalem Ave., corner of Second St. Won't you tell your friends who might be interested and eligible for this new service of the Hicksville Public Library? (Anyone who would like further information should phone the librarian, Miss Helen Wheeler, Hicksville 3-1417).

OFF SOUTH BROADWAY

Hearty Welcome Home, Joe Gangie

By Bunny Lauer HI 3-27943
A great big Hearty Welcome Home to Joe Gangie of Lee Ave., who was just discharged from the navy. Barbara and Bernice Lauer who are home after spending their honeymoon in Florida took Margie to Idlewild Airport, Saturday morning, to wait for Joe's plane, but Joe's plane never arrived.

Poor Margie! However, a call to La Guardia Airport and they found out that his plane arrived over there. The trip to La Guardia was longest that Margie ever took in her life but like the pot of gold at the end of a rainbow, there was her Joe waiting for her. Ah! young love! Joe Jr., who is about 13 months and hasn't seen his dad since he was 10 days old, was at home waiting for them. It was one of the tenderest scenes when father and son met. Many an eye was filled with tears.

Margie, you can relax now your man is home to take over all the chores you picked up when he heeded Uncle Sam's call. Your long days of waiting are over, Joe, you too can relax for now you see that your loved ones are safe and healthy. Lots of luck too, you two wonderful people.

Had a very nice time at Mabel Teaner's Thursday morning when she had a Stanley Home Demonstration. Mrs. Jimmie Wallack was the demonstrator. Others present were Mrs. Lila Woodley, Mrs. Agatha Chase, Mrs. Henrietta Bolger and Mrs. Nevak who won the door prize.

Hilda and Jerry Merkle of Lee Ave. had company, Sunday. Her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Reichrath, and sister, Loretta, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Schick. Mom can sure bake, I know because we usually get a very generous portion in this house. Hilda, that plum pie was just luscious.

Congratulations to Dad. The Lauer's have scored again. He was elected Jr. Vice commander of Nassau-Suffolk District Council of Jewish War Veterans. As one of the first official duties of this office he was the official representative at the Queens County JWV Memorial Service, held at Pineslawn Cemetery on Sept. 14. Mom is President of the Hicksville JWV Ladies Auxiliary and Ethel Jr. is hospital chairman of the Local Post. In fact, Ethel went with a group of women on Wednesday night to Mitchell Field Hospital. Me, well I write this column, don't I?

It's wonderful having the school bus stop in front of my house again. It gives me a chance to meet a swell new bunch of gals.

Lila and Whitey and Small Fry Yola spent Sunday in the Bronx visiting Grandma.

The Legionnaire

Charles Wagner Post
No. 421, American Legion

The veterans' celebration at the Mineola Fair Friday night was quite a show and it played to a packed grandstand. The parade route started several blocks north of Jericho Turnpike, proceeded down Mineola Boulevard to Old County Road and along Old Country Road to the Fairgrounds West Gate and thence to the grandstand.

We are very happy to report that the American Legion representation was the largest of all veterans organizations present and was made up of small contingents from Posts throughout Nassau County. Carrying the colors for the Charles Wagner Post were Jim Carter, Ed Becker and yours truly.

Naturally participation in an event of this sort by the Post wouldn't be complete without some kind of a snafu and rest assured this venture was complete! Commander Becker feels however, that the purchase of a compass for Jim (follow me, I know these grounds like a book) Carter, will in the future, prevent us from heading for the northwest corner of the grounds to return to our cars by crossing the whole grounds to exit through the southeast gate. It's okay Jim; we all like a long walk to relax after a parade.

Thought you'd like to know that in spite of the miserable weather which forced the recent picnic indoors and cut attendance accordingly, the loss on the affair was reported by Al Barlow to be less than $10. . . . The American Legion is again behind the Field Club who expect to play at least 8 home games this year. . . . Refreshments stand will operate for all games if cooperation is forthcoming. . . . Auxiliary officers will be installed in Division ceremonies at New Hyde Park on Sept. 30. . . . Anniversary Dinner-Dance Sept. 27. . . . It's the ladies 30. . . . Bowling team had a tough first night. Jim Arneemann has high hopes for the future however. . . . Post has agreed to purchase a P. A. system and a committee of John Nees, Rudy Boese, Walter Barnett and Ed Becker are looking into the proposition. . . . Police Boys Club regular meeting night changing to 4th Wednesday at the Clubhouse. They can use more sponsors, Legionnaires!

In case you haven't noticed, 1953 memberships are starting to add up with latest renewals coming from Herb Lengwenn, Artie Bletsch, Ed Becker, George Metz and John Harbes. Among the newcomers are Joe Rapsidera, Gene Ziegler and Alex MacDonald.

And while we are on the subject of membership—Thumbing through some post Legion publications the other night we came across an article indicating that only about 40% of the Legionnaires in New York State wear the Legion Button. Also included in the report are two paragraphs concerning the emblem we liked very much and felt worthy of passing on to you.

"It's star stands out as a mark of heroics, its wreath is for those who have gone to glory, its outward rays are our hopes of tomorrow and together they are a combination of that certain something that makes a nation, a dream of what a people may become."

"Wear it proudly. . . . wear it always. . . . it's your badge of honor."

The Special Class

great, as his more academically gifted peer; but they are there to be developed and cultured.

FORGET LABELS

If we would forget our convenient labels and look upon the mentally handicapped child as first a child, we would immediately realize that what we want for him in the way of an education is basically the same for any child. We want to develop his potentialities, small or great, in order that he may take his place in the work-a-day world. This will demand of us that we provide for the mentally handicapped child, meaningful and enriching experiences that will help him become a socially competent, emotionally mature, and productive adult.

In view of his limited abilities the adjusted curriculum for the mentally handicapped child must maintain a balance between academic and social activity. Greater opportunity is afforded to these children for learning basically abstract ideas in a more concrete situation. Much can be learned by these children through the medium of creative and play activities. Assuming the play-role of a grocery clerk teaches them much more about oral and written language than books do. They have an opportunity to read food circulars, calculate grocery bills, and make change. They primarily learn to read for social competence, but if their abilities permit they may turn to reading as a source of relaxation or as a tool of research. There are no limitations except those imposed upon the individual child.

Limited attentive powers among mentally handicapped children demand that opportunity be provided for physical activity. This may take the form of play and competitive sports or it may be utilized for planned activities to develop physical coordination.

POPULAR MISCONCEPTIONS

Basically, the curriculum of the special class includes the teaching of the tool subjects in addition to providing opportunities for physical activity and coordination. There has been, however, much misunderstanding about the special class curriculum. Many of these misunderstandings are founded in ignorance and even in prejudice. One of the most popular misconceptions is that a great amount of time is spent in manual activity to the exclusion of learning how to read and write. In certain cases, mentally handicapped children this concentration on manual activity, may be preferable; but it is neither preferable nor practical for the educable mentally handicapped child who is in a public school. To become a first rate mechanic or skilled tradesman much more is demanded of a person than most mentally handicapped children have to offer.

This does not imply that mentally handicapped children cannot be taught a trade; but it does imply that training and application must be sought by the mentally handicapped child; and with this he only attains a moderate degree of facility. The Law of Compensation has long outlived its usefulness. Some mentally handicapped children become quite skilled in shop work; but this is only to be expected after years of training and application. They are not born with any particular skill. They have to learn along with the others.

In our Hicksville system the special class child enjoys the same privileges, and is subject to the same regulations, as are the other children in the school. He takes his music, art and physical training instruction from the same teachers as the other children. He is provided with instructional materials which he uses during a full school day. He is taught allegiance to his flag, and adherence to democratic principles. He is rated on his achievement in competition with children of similar abilities; and he receives along with the other children a report of his progress. He has his own classroom, materials and teacher. His classroom looks like any ordinary classroom with pictures and charts and samples of pupil work.

Mental retardation is not the exclusive property of any one race, creed or socio-economic group. These children may be expected to be found in the homes of professional people as well as those of tradesmen. Many come from well educated parents and homes in high socioeconomic areas. Others may be found in impoverished homes. They may be found almost anywhere you choose to look.

The parents of the mentally handicapped child have to be strong emotionally. There is much that they must learn about their child. It will require definite thought and application. I have attempted to set forth here a guide for parents of mentally handicapped children. It is sincerely hoped that they may prove to be informative and useful.

1. Accept your child.
Always remember that the mentally handicapped child is no less a child because he is handicapped.

Their feelings are hurt just as easily as other children—often times more so. They cry too.

2. Educate yourself along with your child.

Learn as much as you can about what may be expected of your child. Join educational and civic organizations in order that you may become better informed. The Assoc. for the Help of Retarded Children (A.H.R.C.) may be able to help you. This organization is composed of parents like yourself who are very much interested in learning how they may help their children. There is a branch on Long Island.

3. Know your child's teacher.
Now it is more important than ever that you meet the teacher and learn about the special class curriculum. Show the teacher and the child that you really are interested in his progress. Many times it makes the difference between success and failure in adjustment to the class.

4. Help your child help himself.
You can help to supplement the class program by providing responsibilities for your child to be carried out in the home. Give him real jobs to do—not just the ones you prefer not to do yourself or the ones you think he can do. Give him responsibilities that are commensurate with his ability and age. Grade these responsibilities and gradually extend them to include those of a more challenging nature.

Help him to find worthwhile uses for his leisure time. Encourage him to secure a hobby or some source of recreation. He will need a great deal of help from you along this line.

5. Be generous with praise and commendation.

Do not be afraid of overdoing it. Your child needs constant reassurance that what he is doing is acceptable to you and other people. Avoid indulgence, but overlook many things that might ordinarily cause you to criticize.

The Special Teacher seeks out the services of many people in order to assure the success of his program. Probably a teacher's first indebtedness is to his administrative superiors. To this end I have indeed been fortunate in having the inspirational encouragement of our Superintendent of Schools, Dr. E. H. LeBaron, whose foresightedness has permitted us to have this special program. James H. Walters, principal of Nicholas St. School, has availed himself and his services a countless number of hours, and his contribution to the Special Class Program has been of inestimable value. To School Nurses Ruth Holder and Shirley Matlock go a great deal of credit for the selection and

School Personnel

BY ROBERT E. TUTTLE

Principal, Mamette Hill School, Plainville

My neighbor, John Q. Public and I were discussing education.

"How many different types of personnel are employed in the schools?" was John's first question.

"For the sake of convenience and clarity suppose we divide them into non-teaching, teaching and other employees. If we considered all administrators in the non-teaching classification, all classroom teachers in the teaching category, then the other employees would be concerned with such things as building maintenance, office clerical and secretarial workers and so forth."

"How many types of administrators are there?"

"In general there are three types. Some school districts, Hicksville for example, have a superintendent of schools. Dr. E. H. LeBaron, as Superintendent of Schools in Hicksville, is the chief executive and administrative officer. Generally the Superintendent is charged by the Board of Education with the overall supervision of the school system. The Superintendent may delegate responsibility in various areas to others but fundamentally he is responsible."

"The others?"

"Secondly, public school principals. Principals are of three types. The district principal is the executive head of the schools in a given school district. The position is very similar to that of a superintendent of schools. Then there are building principals who are responsible for the educational program in a certain building and directly responsible to the superintendent or district principal. These building principals are of two types. If the building is small the principal may teach a regular class in addition to the administrative duties. If the building houses eight or more classes the principal usually devotes his full time to administration."

"We have talked about superintendents and principals. What is the third type?"

"Supervisors should be considered as part of the administrative setup. Large school systems generally have a supervisor of music, art, remedial reading, physical education and other subjects or activities."

"What do these supervisors do?" John Q. asked.

"It is their duty to help formulate a workable program of physical education, for example. In a large school system there may be six or more physical education teachers. The supervisor is the liaison person between the superintendent and the individual physical education teachers."

FORMER TEACHERS

"Most administrators have been teachers. Is teaching the accepted way to an administrative position?"

"It is not only the accepted way, John, for the most part it is the way. For example, in order to be qualified for a principal license one is required to teach a certain number of years."

"Is that the only requirement?"

"No, one must be qualified to teach in the field, either elementary or high school."

"What do you mean by that?"

"No elementary teacher can become a high school principal unless qualified to teach in high school. It is also true that no high school teacher can become an elementary principal unless qualified to teach in the elementary school. But aside from this certain courses in educational administration must be taken with the approval of the State Education Department. A principal's certificate usually requires a Master's Degree or its equivalent—representing 5 years of professional preparation."

"What about the teachers?"

"Teachers must be duly licensed in the field that they are going to teach. At present, regularly beginning teachers in the elementary field possess at least a Bachelor's degree—representing 4 years of professional preparation. Beginning high school teachers, regularly qualified, must have at least 5 years of professional preparation."

"That wasn't always true," said John. "I remember my Aunt Sarah taught school years ago by attending a training class for one year."

"That's right. Education like many other professional types of work has been requiring more and more preparation on the part of those entering its service."

"How are teachers hired?"

"Since 1945 there has been a teacher tenure system in operation in New York State in all schools employing 8 or more teachers. Under the tenure system a teacher is appointed for a three year probationary period upon the selection (Continued on Page 16)

BRIAR PARK, PLAINVIEW:

Support Vote For Our New School

BY ETHEL ROONEY HI 3-5324
Hello Folks,

How did you enjoy the sudden heat in the middle of that nice cool Autumn weather? I, for one, didn't like it one bit. We have even had the heat turned on already—and the change in weather was very unpleasant. I guess I can't make up my mind. I don't like the cold and I can't stand the heat. Isn't it a shame we can't order our weather "made-to-order."

The P-T-A. started off exceptionally well last week. I've never seen so many women attend. Of course, there are a good many new students so that may help to account for it. In addition, the members had an opportunity to meet all the teaching staff and John Dowling and Leland Baker, members of the school board. Both members of the Board urged us wholeheartedly to support the new school when it comes up for vote in the near future. It seems terribly expensive to me, but then so does everything you look at and the children really desperately need the new school. When you compare the cost to the one they've got now, it is actually proportionately less expensive.

The P-T-A. will hold a Bazaar toward the end of October. I'll have more details next week.

The Rosary for Peace group will meet at the home of Mrs. Rita Durcan on Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 8:30 P.M. Try to take this half hour out. A half hour a week is no great price to pay for Peace.

Karin Reidy of 25 Audrey Ave. had a birthday party, Saturday afternoon. I don't know how they did it, but there were just about twenty youngsters there. wouldn't like to have to manage a group that size. Kathy and Jimmy came home telling of a wonderful time so I guess everything went off O.K.

NEIGHBOR DOWLING VIEWS NEWS:

Where Credit Is Due

By JOHN DOWLING

Plainview Water Commissioner Ralph Atchue's utterances at the Civic Association's opening session of the Fall Season, last week, are worthy of commendation.

Mr. Atchue, who is the newest member of the three-man Water Board having been elected approximately a year ago, told an overflow crowd of Plainview Civics that he has always advocated open meetings "in order that citizens' groups and committees may be continually apprised of the Water Commission's activities."

that the Commission was engaged

Holding aloft a copy of the minutes of the Board's previous meetings, Atchue declared that they and other records were available for examination by any responsible group of citizens.

According to information supplied this column, one of the things that has irked Plainviewites for some months now is the lack of recognition given a Civic Association committee by the Water Commission. This committee composed of genuinely interested residents has, according to our information, made several formal requests to the Water Board asking the commissioners to meet with them.

These requests have been allegedly denied on the grounds, according to information received,

This appears to be a nebulous reason when it is common knowledge among Plainviewites that several residents serving on the Civic Association committee are qualified civil engineers and business men. Certainly they should prove an asset to any project being developed in the area in which they reside.

By stating publicly that he is ready to meet with any committees and make available the information requested, Commissioner Atchue has made a move that should be hailed by every resident of Plainview.

Civics Adopt 6-Point Program

By BOB McDONALD

PLAINVIEW — The first meeting of the season of the Plainview Civic and Community Assoc. was held Sept. 9. President Norman Rielly opened the meeting by presenting the following six point program to start the year off:

1. A more active interest in civic government by all members of the community.

2. Establishing of two committees. One to study the Park and Parking District Problem and the other to investigate street lighting facilities.

3. Formation of plans to combat present and future juvenile delinquency here.

4. To form a committee to check on local taxes to make sure that dollar-for-dollar value is being received.

5. Assist all new families in Plainview with whatever problems they may have.

6. Revise some of the present by-laws of the Association.

FIRE DEPT. STORY

Ex-Chief Edmund Ocker gave some of the background of the Plainview Fire Dept. The company was formed in 1927 and carried on for ten years without any tax aid whatever. In 1933 the company was chartered under the laws of N. Y. State. The present building was erected at that time. The Fire Dept. is presently planning to expand by adding a new pump. They also expect to start a rescue squad when the men are trained. At present there are 100 active men in the dept. and openings for 14 more. He said it cost the taxpayers 17 cents per hundred dollars to operate the Fire Dept. last year.

Frank Chlumsky, a member of the town board spoke very briefly on the function and organization of the town government. He stated that he believed that the Civic Organization should work toward a Park District and forget about the Parking District as he believes that Plainview will "never have a serious parking problem". In regard to the Lighting District, Plainview can have one but the residents will have to pay for it.

BRANDT'S PROBLEM

John R. Brandt was there to represent the highway dept. He stated that Plainview has one of the "worst draining problems on L. I.". He does not believe that the dept. is getting its money's worth from its workers. He has no positive plan for the future except to spend money. The tax rate last year for the upkeep of road and highways was 43 cents per $100.

The School Board represented by John Dowling and Leland Baker briefly explained the functions of the school board. They extended an invitation to the residents to attend the school board meetings.

The Water Board was present in force. They made the announcement that the water ban that has been in effect here for the last couple of months is now lifted. That is about all they could state. They were asked pertinent financial questions by the audience which they appeared reluctant to answer. Their replies brought a motion on the floor that a committee be formed to sit down with the water commissioners and go over the record books. A detailed report of the results of this conference is to be presented at the next Civic Assoc. meeting.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER REPEATS:

City Of Levittown To Embrace All Houses Built By Levitts

By CRAIG WALSH

All Levitt-built homes—north, south, east and west—are to be included in the proposed incorporated City of Levittown according to Ray Brand, Levittown Democratic leader, who spoke to the North Levittown Home Owners Assoc. meeting last Thursday evening in the Community Hall. He also claimed that incorporation would lead to improved community services and at the same time result in lower taxes.

Carl T. Sigman, Democratic candidate for Nassau County Executive, also spoke and said that taxes in incorporated communities are lower in spite of opposition claims to the contrary. He indicated that if he is elected he would act according to the wishes of any community that wished to incorporate.

Maurice Fleishman, City Manager of Long Beach, reviewed the progress of Long Beach under incorporation. One of the greatest advantages of incorporation, according to Fleishman, is that the government is much more responsive to local needs and the desires of the people.

It was stated that having industrial and commercial establishments is like a windfall in operating the schools and other facilities because they contribute heavily to school and other taxes.

A. N. Szerlip, chairman of the park and parking district committee, reported that a meeting had been held with Ira Goldman, attorney for Levitt & Sons, to discuss the future of the swimming pools and Levittown Hall. According to Szerlip, Goldman estimated the cost of operating the pools to be $6,000 per year and for the Hall, $30,000 per year. The detailed figures were not available immediately because they are now apparently located in Pennsylvania. As a result of the meeting, Szerlip said he was able to report that the fight to split the Hicksville Park and Parking District was "far from ended."

President Charles C. Miller confirmed this with the remark that "the fight is not over by a hell of a sight."

Senator Sees Democratic Plot

State Senator John D. Benagett of Rockville Centre speaking before the Levittown Republican Club in the Community Hall on Levittown Pkwy, Hicksville, Sept. 9, charged that the incorporation of Levittown as a city is a Democratic "foot in the door" plan. "There is nothing that Levittown could get as a city that it can't get faster and cheaper as it is," he asserted.

The SENTINEL

"Fight ISN'T Over By a Helluva Sight"

That was what Charles C. Miller, president of the NLHOA, reported after discussing disposition of the pools and the Hall with Levitt and Sons. The "fight", it was implied, would be for municipal operation of the pools and the Hall. It was said that the pools and the Hall had been promised to the Town Board by Levitt and Sons three years ago.

The Cat Is Out of the Bag

At last Levitt and Sons have indicated that THEY are directly interested in having and promoting municipal operation. Up to the present time they had studiously remained outside the discussions, even abstaining from participation at the public hearing on the "split".

What Came First, Chicken or Egg?

It must have been the chicken, because the Levitt organization dates its original offer to the Town Board back three years, before NLHOA. The "egg", the NLHOA proposal for the "split", was laid at a much later date. The moot question is whether it was the Levitt chicken that laid the "egg".

"Free Use" of the Pools

Seemingly, at the time that the Levitt organization was advertising free use of the pools to home purchasers, it was also arranging, at least so it was said, for municipal operation at the expense of those same home purchasers.

Municipal Operation Is Cheaper?

One of the undocumented freehand claims made in opposition to the Town Board's decision has been that operation of the facilities by a membership corporation would be the most expensive way of doing it.

Can Figures Lie?

It has now been announced that the cost of operation of the pools is $6,000, presumably per pool, as that amount would obviously be inadequate for two pools.

The 1952 Hempstead Town budget for operation of six pools $84,573.91, less an estimated income of $5,000 which did not materialize. That would be $14,100 per pool.

The cost of operation of the Hall is now announced at $30,000 per year. At the Aug. 15 NLHOA meeting, president Charles C. Miller said that the cost was $80,000 per year.

Taxes on the Pool and Hall

At the same meeting, Mr. Miller stated that taxes on the pools and Hall amounted to $12,000 per year. Has that figure been included in the cost of operation?

Levitt Should Deal With Home Owners

It has become increasingly obvious that the intermediaries now functioning officially or unofficially for Levitt are only further confusing the issues. Also, the Levitt organization must realize that these intermediaries cannot be considered to be spokesmen for this area. The promises contained in the Levitt advertisements as inducements to purchase were made to each individual purchaser, not to the NLHOA or the LCC. Only a representative and authorized group can or should speak for the home owners.

The matter is one between the home owners and Levitt, not Levitt and the NLHOA. If Levitt had elected to speak frankly and directly with the home owners instead of dealing only through the NLHOA, the matter could have been settled by now.

Also, the true objectives should be put on the record. Is Levitt interested in an equitable disposition of the pools and the Hall, or is his primary interest the separation of this area from Hicksville and its integration with high-tax-area Levittown? Most of us are interested.

OUR INTERESTING NEIGHBORS:

Local Candidate On Election Day

Arthur Isaksen since he moved to Hicksville from Brooklyn some two years ago has been meeting care problems head-on. He likes to find out things for himself and as a result in a relatively short period of time has acquired from firsthand investigation a considerable amount of pertinent information about local controversial issues which would take the average person a score of years to uncover.

His arrival occurred at the time when Hicksville Fire Dept. was being severely criticized by the NLHOA, the only civic organization in this area at the time, because of alleged failure to respond to an alarm on Fork Lane.

SHALHO ORGANIZER

He felt that the facts, acquired in his forthright and direct manner, did not justify the allegations, and that the matter was not handled in a manner consistent with traditions of democracy and fair play. There followed other incidents where he felt that free discussion was stifled whenever the speaker seemed to disagree with those in control. It didn't take long for Isaksen to talk it over with his neighbors, and soon SHALHO began to take shape.

Isaksen moved here into what is known locally as the "A" section where the names of the Lanes all begin with that letter of the alphabet. His home is on Arcadia Lane. "Arcadia" is said in the dictionary to be "any region of simple pleasure, rustic innocence, and untroubled quiet," which is just what Arcadia Lane has not always been.

The South Hicksville Association of Levitt Home Owners, or SHALHO, as it is more popularly known, is Isaksen's brain child. It was he who breathed life into it about two years ago when we were all practically strangers to each other, to give coherency to the active, but unorganized feelings of many residents concerning the activities of a small group who seemed to many intent upon impairing our good relations with the rest of Hicksville. Under his leadership the organization has taken its place among the important civic associations of our community with several important accomplishments to its credit.

Since that time Arcadia Lane, which is also the address of several staunch members of the other civic organization in the area, has not been Arcadia, in spite of Isaksen's natural friendliness and gregariousness.

Natural friendliness, his leadership of SHALHO and his active participation in Democratic Party affairs, has now brought him the nomination for election to the Oyster Bay Town Board. Among the first party nominations of residents in this area. Because of his nomination he has now found it desirable to resign the presidency of SHALHO to permit him to devote full time to the campaign for the election.

Isaksen who is 37 has been employed by the New York City Board of Transportation for the past eleven years. He devotes whatever spare time he has to several hobbies, including photography.

His home is decorated with a number of informal portraits of his children, Arthur, aged 11, and Arleen, aged 9. He also has a collection of rifles which he prizes very highly. And during the open season he descends Long Island for the Adirondacks where he has bagged several deer in previous years.

GOING AROUND THE LANES:

Take Care, Driver In Training

By Florence Vryn LE 9-4497
Take to the hills, my friends, and stay there for the next ten weeks. If I get in to the new driving class at the high school the streets won't be safe for man or beast. I can just see some of you sitting back and sneering (nicely, of course) because you can drive. Well, so far I can't but I'm remedying that as of now. From now on you will hear reports of trees that walked up and hit a fender, parked cars that moved right into my path and in fact all the list of excuses I've been getting from the rest of you for the past two years. All kidding aside, our Adult Education course is a fine way to learn to drive. You learn the right way to do it and better still it keeps you and hubby on speaking terms. Can you just picture you're patient spouse saying "the clutch—now shift, I SAID SHIFT censored, censored." If you didn't know about the class sooner, join up next term.

Joey Privitera had a birthday Sunday, his third. To celebrate his new and advanced age he's been driving a beautiful red tractor up and down Story Lane. Must be the influence of all the home building out here all the little guys want tractors. Every time we pass McPherson's sales in town my son pauses and looks longingly at the yardful of tractors they have. After seeing Joey's he'll settle for one like that.

Nancy Roseberry was telling me about the Needlework Guild of America. I never heard much about it before perhaps you hadn't either so: It was started in England over 70 years ago after a great mine disaster, when the women made clothing for the poor. It was brought to America and the idea is the same, to supply the needy with clothing, linens and towels. There are no paid employees and no dues. Every member pledges two new articles. Then at the yearling "in-gathering" the articles are sorted and distributed. Anything left over is sent to other charities for distribution. I think that's a fairly accurate picture and if there are any spots to be covered I wish someone would fill me in on the rest. I thought many of you might be interested in a charity which demands no dues, and where there are no meetings and I'm sure all of us can manage to donate two small items for those who are less fortunate. If you are asked to give, remember it's in a good cause.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Glaser of Ballpark Lane had to miss the first meeting of the Junior High PTA because of a sprained ankle. All the girls can relax now cause she tells me she feels much better. Girl, had I turned on my ankle, I would have snapped it if, after all the Good Hammers I've consumed this summer. Hi Ho, I can always earn an extra tuppence posing for the before pictures. You know the adds that show this is before and this is after. Have you seen the hag they had fly in on her broom to pose for one of the shampoo commercials on TV? My daughter says "all the lady has to do is comb her hair, mother, she doesn't even have to wash it." Got a point there. Funnier crack I have heard on TV in ages was on Art Linkletter's House Party. He asks all the little kids what their daddies do and he came to this little sprout who was about three and a half. The little tot very seriously answered "I think he steals." Wow. The whole show was splintered for the rest of the program.

Absolutely the nicest name I have heard in ages is Brian Dennis O'Mara. In case there was any doubt in your mind before this now you know (there have been those unkind enough to remark that none but the Irish produce such long winded speakers). Brian Dennis lives on Boot Lane and he's been here about a month. He has an older brother, Kevin and a big sister Denise, who is six. Young Brian is a bit small for me to judge but mark my words, when he gets in school there'll be no stoppin him. He'll talk the teacher out of anything at all with that name to live up to.

The gals around Fireplace Lane are lucky to have Milka Snedicker for a neighbor. She is the most interesting person I've spoken to in ages. She was born in Vienna and she's been in this country five years. Golly that girl speaks beautiful English. When I think of the horrible mistakes I made in my French lessons, I shudder to think what the results would have been if I had been set down in a foreign country. The Snedickers have a new son, Lester Alexander, who was born Aug. 4, at Mercy Hospital. He has an older sister, Pamela, who is four. Milka is just delightful to talk to and convinces me that I like doing this column, if only for all the nice people I meet. So don't read it, Mabel. I'll write it anyway cause it gives me a reason to talk to lots of nice neighbors. What's with the weather, Joe? So this is September? Strictly nothing at all. Well, I must get to the library and return the books that they must be sure are moss covered by now. Never get the time to take them back. Here goes and I'll see you all next week. (So, I come from South Jersey).

Hear Plea Tonight On Gas Station

OYSTER BAY—A request for a variance to erect a gas and service station replacement in Hicksville will be among the cases to be heard by the Zoning Board of Appeals tonight (Thursday) at a regular meeting in the Justice Courtroom at 7:30 p.m. The variance will be requested for the southeast corner of Holman Blvd. and West John St., Hicksville, by Mary Krokowski of 238 Mallard Rd., Carle Place.

The SENTINEL

ated only in the former, not in the latter. Let's get down to settling the matter. The "fight" should not go on forever. The NLHOA, and presumably Levitt, judging from the latest utterances from the NLHOA, have had their day in court. The decision has been against the "split". Disposition of the pools and the Hall can now be made without further ado under the circumstances and conditions clearly established.

Wanted: Assets Not Liabilities

The Wantagh Levitt Home Owners have petitioned to be included in the Levittown Water District. Their rates from the private water company to whom Levitt sold the system have been too high. They wish to share in the economies of operation of the Levittown District. Nothing has been said about also sharing the high tax rate resulting from the operation of other Levittown Districts.

The Hall as "City" Hall

One of the proposals made in connection with the "City" of Levittown has been the use of the community hall as "City" Hall. Another good argument against incorporation?

Dutch Lane - Hempstead Avenue

With Hempstead Turnpike only a short distance away, those bound for Hempstead Ave have frequently ended up on the Turnpike, and vice versa. Maps still frequently carry both the old name, Dutch Lane, and Hempstead Avenue. It would be a simple matter to revert to the old name. Oyster Bay Town Board should formally reinstate the old and far more colorful name. Similar street names should not exist in the same community.

Civic Duty Performed

A study of the voter register discloses that the NLHOA executive committee turned out in force to vote at the recent Water Board election when Anthony Apicella was a last-minute write-in candidate.

As Szendy Sees It:

Opinion on Levitt-House Matters
By a Levitt-House Owner

Need For Public Discussion

There never is much point in arguing your side with people who agree with you anyway. It may bolster the ego to find that your viewpoint is shared, but it imparts a false sense of rightness, and, perhaps, righteousness. The other fellow may have plenty on the ball; his arguments may be good and solid, but if you never listen to him you will never know what they are, and he will go on his way and you will go on yours, repeating the same old arguments to already convinced listeners, and getting nowhere.

One of the amusing high lights of the public hearing on the "split" was the opening statement for the proponents to the effect that the "pulse" of public opinion in this locality had been checked by the speaker and the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal. In the minds of those present opposing the proposal it evoked a picture of the proponents sitting in a circle holding each other's pulses. In no other fashion could such a conclusion have been reached considering the numerical strength of the opposition.

Differences of opinion, such as the difference between SHALHO and NLHOA detailed in this column last week, and especially differences of belief, can best be resolved by free discussion, preferably public discussion. Public discussion is especially helpful to those confused by the opposed arguments who would like to hear both sides and reach their own conclusions. It also frequently forces into the foreground the basis on which the arguments are founded; sometimes it can be demonstrated that there is actually nothing much to argue about, both parties are basically in agreement.

The public hearing on the "split" was invaluable in doing just that. The contentions on which all the arguments of the proponents were based were that Hickville was trying to appropriate the pools and that, unless the Hickville Park District were split, the pools would be lost to the restricted use of the Levitt home owners. Immediate testimony from the Hickvillites quickly proved that there was no thought of appropriation, and others quickly demonstrated that restricted use could be assured without splitting the Hickville District.

In the belief that public discussion would clarify the issues and materially contribute to their solution a "Town Meeting" on the "split" had been programmed earlier, with an impartial moderator from outside the area and with speakers to present all sides of the question. That was only partially successful as the proponents refused to participate, announcing that they were reserving their arguments for the public hearing.

At the public hearing both sides were given an ample opportunity to present their arguments. Whether one agrees or disagrees with the final decision, it must be conceded that the public hearing was effective in bringing the interested parties together and demonstrating that the "split" was not essential to safeguard the pools, the basic objective of the proponents, and that consequently there was nothing much to argue about.

Similar public discussions, formal or informal, perhaps patterned on the "Town Meeting," would similarly serve to clear the air of specious argument and achieve a meeting of minds.

They have a sizable collection of good records, and they very often have friends in, who bring their records, to share their listening enjoyment.

Most Beautiful Baby At The Fair

By Dorothy Guelpa
Hicksville 3-1218-W

The Mineola Fair always holds great excitement for the small fry. Half day off from school with candy, thrill rides, popcorn, etc. And for the older "kids" there's needlework competition, jelly and cake contests and the like. But the biggest thrill of all was experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Butchorn of 512 Central Ave. when their daughter, Charlotte, won first prize as the most beautiful baby at the fair.

According to Mr. Butchorn, no special gimmick was used to make her more appealing to the judges. "Just a nice little dress," Charlotte who is 18 months old now is no stranger to the public eye. She was born with two teeth and had her picture in many local papers.

The annual VFW Auxiliary card party will be held Saturday, September 20 at the VFW clubhouse on Nibbles La., Bethpage, at 8:30 p.m. Proceeds will be used for future visits to the hospitalized veterans, according to president Mrs. Jeanette Curcio.

ROSARY SOCIETY MEETS
A Tupperware demonstration was held at a meeting of the Rosary Society of St. Martin of Tours Church last Wednesday. Hostesses for the proposed series of parties to raise funds are Mrs. Raab, Mrs. Billington, Mrs. Muench, Mrs. Borrelli, Mrs. Wexler, Mrs. Schindler, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Guelpa and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. Ellen Simone reported a total of over $700 was netted from the Merchandise Club.

The annual communion breakfast of the Society will be held on Oct. 5 at Anselmi's at 10 a.m. Mrs. Lydia McNamee is chairman.

Meeting nights of the society have been changed to the first Tuesday of each month due to a conflict with the confraternity classes which are held on Wednesday night.

Didn't you think the firemen and women looked wonderful in the rain two weeks ago at Hicksville? The Auxiliary took second prize for the best appearance in a group of less than 25. They were practically dripping when they walked under the arch but Mrs. Simone's flowers never looked better. The men looked good, too.

All these sly references in town as to what the "Bethpage Improvement Committee" is going to do to set this town on its ear has everyone speculating. Me too.

Mrs. Sadie Benintendi of Silber Ave. is feeling better after a series of illnesses this summer.

New Pastor Takes On His Assignment
BETHPAGE—The Rev. Walter Rodowski of 108 Windhorst Ave., Bethpage, has assumed his duties as pastor of the Assembly of God Church of Bethpage. A Young People's service is held at 8 p.m. on Fridays.

THE SCHOOLS ARE YOURS!

of the principal and the recommendation to the Board of Education of the District Superintendent of Schools. In a school system employing a Supt. of Schools the Superintendent selects with the advice of his professional assistants and also recommends candidates to the Board of Education. A teacher candidate must always be formally appointed by the Board of Education.

"What happens at the end of the three year probationary period?"
"For just reason a teacher can be released during the probationary period upon the recommendation of the superintendent. However, at the end of the three year probationary period a teacher may then be dismissed by the Board of Education irrespective of any recommendation by the superintendent or appointed to tenure only if the recommendation is favorable. A teacher appointed to tenure serves during good behavior and can only be dismissed for serious or just charges. Teachers may accept another position, however."

"How are teachers' salaries determined?"

STARTING SALARIES
"Board of Education must pay salaries equal to the minimum for New York State as established in 1950 and as amended in 1951. Under the law, beginning teachers in Nassau County possessing a Bachelor's degree receive $2700 per year while those with a Master's degree receive $2900 per year. However most school districts in Nassau County have a higher beginning salary. It ranges from $2700 to $3250 for those with a Bachelor's degree and from $2900 to $2500 higher for those with a Master's Degree."

"Can a teacher tell what the salary will be in the future?"
"Definitely. Salary schedules provide for increases or increments from 12 to 16 years to a maximum. Some school districts provide for a maximum."

vide a super-maximum for outstanding work or advanced education."

"Do all school districts have the same salary schedules?"
"No, as long as the minimum requirements of the law are met a school district through the Board of Education can establish the schedule it desires."

"What about the other employees?"

"Civil Service employees are the clerical or secretarial workers in the school office, the custodians, permanent maintenance workers, bus drivers if the school buses are owned by the district, cafeteria workers etc."

"How are the salaries of these employees set?"

"By the Board of Education."
"I believe I'm familiar with the duties of these employees," said John. "Custodians we used to call janitors, eh? Are there any other employees?"

"Yes, larger districts are employing purchasing agents who select and purchase supplies etc. for the schools—subject to the approval of the Board of Education."

"That seems sensible."
"Yes, when school districts become large with several thousand pupils, several buildings, numerous employees, it seems to be in keeping with sound business practice for a purchasing agent, familiar with the work of the schools, to be employed."

The Sportlight

By HOWARD FINNEGAN

The Hicksville Field Club, flattered by the attention rained on it when Ray Halleran announced his willingness to play this season, is set to make another announcement that will bust the publicity tube.

The Black and White even now is attempting to lure Ed Coleman from the sidelines in its big scramble to meet the coming challenge to its Nassau semi-pro authority.

There is a hitch and it will take a learned teacher in mathematics and diplomacy to iron it out before the big dream is realized.

Hicksville High opens its football campaign against Oyster Bay at home this Saturday in a toss up contest.

On a hunch we will take the lighter-than-feathers Hicksville crew, 13-7.

Three regulars from last season's Hicksville High eleven figured importantly in the gridiron plans of Adelphi College until injuries cropped up.

Center Stan Kellner was regarded as first string material until he broke his wrist in a scrimmage. The Garden City school counts him lost for the campaign but he hopes to be back in six weeks.

Halfback Harry O'Mack was converted to an end before an unexplained trouble with his knees developed. He was given a week off and was expected back for practice after that.

Burly lineman Richard Patwell will probably see plenty of action with the team. He has already had plenty of service in practices and got more in the scrimmage with Lafayette at Easton, Pa., Saturday.

Ed Coleman, Bill Bordini, Jerry Kiesel and Brian Masterson all were named to the Jones Beach All-Star team, but only the latter accepted an invitation to appear in the annual contest, Sunday.

Herpan Rigby, leading homerun hitter for Tobin's Furs in the league, also made the All-Star squad but wasn't officially informed so therefore had to miss the contest.

Botto Retains RVC Laurels On Teddy Smith's Work

ROCKVILLE CENTRE—Teddy Smith pitched Botto Brothers to its second consecutive senior division championship in the Rockville Centre night league, here last week, as he threw a one hitter and a four-hitter at Boulevard of Flushing in 5-1 and 2-1 victories.

In the first game of the series Smith pitched hitless ball until two were out in the last inning before the losers got there first hit.

By that time Ed Coleman, with a home run drilled deep to left, Jack McCrosson, Bob Hock and Pete Zeiler had produced crucial hits to ice the verdict.

In the next contest of the two out of three series Bill Bordini hooked up with Dan Sontag for a 2-2 eight inning tie before the playing time curfew was invoked.

The two clubs resumed in the ninth inning Saturday night and Boulevard promptly belted Bordini for nine straight hits and nine runs.

The 11-2 victory ended the Series and it was up to Smith to win it. And in every tight squeeze he had it.

Botto got the winning runs in the second. Coleman led off with a slick bunt single. Ray Halleran was safe on a fielder's choice and Joe Laskowski walked to load the bases. Smith himself hit to short and a boot there got one man over.

Hock then came to bat and left and another run scored.

The losers rallied in the last inning but Smith retired the last man with the tying run on third base.

Jericho Enters Bowling Loop

MINEOLA—Jericho VFW Post 1082 Inc. will enter a bowling team in the Nassau County VFW Bowling League with the first game tonight (Thursday) at the Sheraton Alhambra, here. All games will take place here. The tentative Jericho lineup is Carman Oliver, Joseph Oliveri, Arthur Stewart, Vincent Yanuchi and George Casey.

Hock Signs As Property Of Cincinnati Reds

HICKSVILLE—Robert Hock, 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hock of 126 West Marie St., has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds of the National Baseball League for an undisclosed bonus, it was revealed this week.

Winner of the Baker Memorial Award as the outstanding athlete in the High School Class of 1952, Hock had a sensational year for the Hicksville High baseball team last spring and narrowly missed being named the outstanding player in Nassau County.

Hock is the first player to actually be signed by a major league from this area. He reports for spring training April 1, 1953 with the Burlington, Iowa club, farm team in the Cincinnati chain, and will play next summer in the Three I League.

The Class B loop has teams in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana.

COMMANDED ATTENTION
The Reds weren't the only team interested in Hock for his record with coach Bill Anderson's nine consistently commanded attention in the sports pages.

His feat of hitting safely in every one of Hicksville's 18 games this year caught everyone's eye. He belted the ball at a fancy .470 clip but his ability to hit in every contest was a dominating factor. The record books have not yet revealed any scholastic player in the history of the county to hit in every contest of a full schedule.

The streak was in danger only once and that came in the 17th contest. His hits were often timely and he batted in most of the crucial runs in the close games for the Anderson team but with Hicksville defeating St. Dominics 14-5 he did not have a hit in three official trips to the plate.

In the last of the seventh inning he came up and blasted a line drive over second for a solid hit and the Hicksville fans celebrated it as the most satisfying occurrence of the year.

He hit four for five in the season's final contest.

The major league scouts got a final look at him when he played with the United States Steel team in the Queens Alliance League this summer. Playing his home games in Barton's Stadium, the U. S. Club saw Hock convince the Cincinnati interests with a handsome .500 batting average.

Hock also played softball with Botto Bros. in Rockville Centre and despite a controversy on mixing softball with baseball, the talented young man hit over .400 and batted Botto to the title in the final stages of that race.

Barone's Homer Ties Up Series

HEMPSTEAD—Defeated 3-2 in the first contest, Empire Diner went 15-innings before a home run by Mike Barone won a 4-3 verdict over Liberty Aircraft and tied the championship series of the Hempstead Softball League, Sunday morning.

Liberty got a surprise jump on the defending champions in the first game. Three hits apiece by Herman Rigby and Cy Rumens and a home run by pitcher Jim Barone only netted two runs.

Barone came back in the critical second contest and the stick work of Rumens and Rigby gained a tie and a screaming line drive down the left field line by Mike broke up the exhausting contest.

The deciding game will be played this week-end.

Seek Five More Soccer Teams

HICKSVILLE—Honorary president of the Soccer-League Karl A. Weber called for the reorganization and endorsement of all members to organize five more soccer clubs in various sections of L.I. in order to strengthen competition, at a recent meeting of the league.

Active players living in Long Island, retired soccer veterans who care to coach or take interest in this sport may join the League by contacting Karl Weber, 300 Laclede Av., Uniondale, or call Hicksville 8-1818.

CYCLIST HURT

HICKSVILLE—Charles Johnson, 8, of 51 Eighth St. hurt his right shoulder when the bicycle he was riding and a 1947 Buick operated by Dr. Robert Ferdinand of 105 Halsey Ave. collided on West Cherry St. on Sept. 12. The bicycle was smashed and the right rear fender of the car was damaged, police reported. The child was treated at the office of Dr. Joseph Wycoff.

TRUCK INJURES BABY

HICKSVILLE—Robert Nuss, 2½, of 10 Apollo La. was hurt when he was struck by a Good Humor truck on the east side of Apollo La. on Sept. 15, second precinct police reported. The child suffered abrasions and lacerations of the face and right hand.

CHILD BREAKS ARM
HICKSVILLE—Mary Barnett, age 3, of 19 Clarissa Dr. fractured her right arm when she fell into a concrete opening on Sept. 10. The opening was built as an electrical pull box by the Nagengast Bros. of 47 Nicoll Ave., Amityville. The child was treated at Meadowbrook Hospital.

More Hunting This Season

ALBANY—More total days of hunting opportunity than in many years will be provided this Fall for sportsmen, the State Conservation Dept. announced today. More abundant supplies of small game is the reason. Monday, Oct. 20, is opening date in most counties for cottontails, pheasants and ruffed grouse. In the Adirondack Region's northern zone hunting gets under way Oct. 10.

For Nassau and Suffolk the season for cottontails is Nov. 15 to Jan. 31; squirrels, Nov. 1 to Dec. 31; pheasants, Nov. 1 to Dec. 31; ruffed grouse, Nov. 1-15; woodcocks, Oct. 23 to Nov. 17; ducks and geese, Oct. 25 to Dec. 18; and raccoon Oct. 29 to Feb. 15.
