FLOWERS FOR GENERAL:

Hundreds Cheer Ike As He Breezes Thru

The national election campaign came to Hicksville, this week, as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for president of the United States, and his motorcade breezed thru the community to the cheers of hundreds of students and residents. Working on a close schedule which covered 47 miles of Nassau County, "Ike" paused momentarily in front of Hicksville High School on Jerusalem Ave. to receive a bouquet of chrysanthemums from Mrs. Barbara Soininen on behalf of the local GOP club, Monday.

Herald photographer Frank Matlett had tough luck. He had the General in view, accepting the bouquet with the GOP club's huge elephant and hundreds of high school students in the background. Suddenly he found himself in the path of one of the five escorting motorcycle police and his reaction blurred the picture. What he got on film is displayed in the Herald office window.

"Ike" arrived at the high school about 11:35 as his party came up Jerusalem Ave. from Levittown, almost precisely on schedule. He was seated in traditional fashion high on the back of the car County Executive J. Russell Sprague was in the front seat with the chauffeur of the 1952 Cadillac convertible.

GOVERNOR ALONG

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey who was also in the party had apparently surrendered to the biting cold wind before he reached Hicksville and was almost unnoticed in the first closed car which followed the General.

A truckload of photographers followed a police car and led the General's convertible. About 15 other cars followed with GOP county and state candidates waving to the crowds. Four chartered buses marked "press" trailed the party.

High school pupils were lined up on both sides of Jerusalem Ave. in front of the high school, from Second to Fourth Sts. There were (Continued on Page 21)

Discuss Our New High School At Two Meetings On Same Night

By MARY HAUGHEY

HICKSVILLE—The trend in future education for the student to use the community as a classroom and the community to make more use of the school building will make the present high school building obsolete, according to Dr. Felix McCormack of Columbia University Institute of Field Studies in a talk to members of the Senior High School P-TA Thursday night.

"We know this new trend is coming, yet many high schools are being built today on a 1925 pattern with a few extra gadgets added and if the trend descends suddenly, the building will become obsolete."

45,000 POPULATION

"If Hicksville continues to grow as it has in the past four years from 8,000 to 27,000, and the new home developments in the area indicate such continued growth, the population of Hicksville by 1960

Question On Choice Of HS Site

HICKSVILLE—Allen S. Carpenter, member of the school board, was questioned at the Civic Assoc. meeting in the firehouse, Thursday night, on the proposed construction of a new high school on a site which "might be embraced if Levittown incorporates as a city." His reply was that it was not a problem to get alarmed about. The site of the $3 million project is district-owned property, formerly the Bergold farm, running east from Newbridge Rd. to Division Ave., above Elmira St. There had been reports that the proposed city boundary line would be along Old Country Rd., William Steinmann noted as he asked the question.

Much of Carpenter's discussion of the new high school is also covered in the report on the High School P-TA meeting of the same evening.

will be around 45,000," Dr. McCormack said.

The Columbia survey made at the direction of Hicksville School Board reveals that Hicksville will hit a peak school enrollment around 1958 with 6,000 to 7,000 children in the elementary schools and about 3,000 in the high school.

"After the 'bulge' of young people moving in with young children has subsided, you will have about 1,800 junior high school pupils and about 1,600 high school students," he said.

Dr. McCormack advised we build a high school to house that normal 1,600 high school enrollment and devise something else to take care of the 1958 peak.

"With 1,200 or more students in this present high school building only the very bright and the overly students will get attention and the rest will be lost," Dr. McCormack explained. He believes that the high school should have the room and facilities to discover the talents of the students which will in turn benefit our society.

EDUCATIONAL TRENDS

Dr. David Austin, an authority on secondary schools, spoke of his studies of the trend in education throughout the U. S. He said that the present use of definite class periods of 45 minutes or more will be eliminated as teachers find that group discussions, math problems and lab work are interrupted with bells signaling a change of classes.

"The colleges want to know what the prospective college student has done in extra curriculum activities to indicate leadership or other traits desirable for a college student but what has your high school been able to do to let the student show his leadership?" Dr. Austin asked.

He said that these extra activities must not be labeled as "frills" for they are very necessary for the development of the student as a person and area for such activities should be provided in the new high school so that it will be adequate for 1952 and superior for 1982 and 2002.

He said we must train our students to be intelligent citizens in an industrial society and so the educators turn to the architects to provide a building to carry out such a training program.

"We teach our high school girls to succeed in the business world and prepare them for college but we do little to equip them for the responsibility of home management," Dr. Austin pointed out.

"Probably more than 50 percent of the girls will eventually be home makers but your present high school can teach them little of the highly skilled career of home man-

How We Stand On Candidates

By FRED J. NORTH

THE HERALD is proud to support the candidacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower for president of the United States and urges its readers to vote for the General next Tuesday between the hours of 6 AM and 9 PM. Based upon our observation of the campaigns since the party conventions in Chicago, it is our conviction that our nation needs the type of leadership in national and international affairs which "Ike" is eminently qualified to produce.

Local voters have 13 other offices to fill with their ballots next Tuesday. Five of these are for County officials and we support the election of Republicans A. Holly Patterson for county executive, Theodore Bedell Jr. for county comptroller, Frank A. Gulotta for district attorney, H. Alfred Vollmer for sheriff and our own neighbors, Ernest F. Francke of Hicksville, for county clerk, and Leonard W. Hall for surrogate.

The county Democratic platform and the statements of its candidates for these five positions make support of them impossible. They seek the centralization of all authority in Mineola with merger and abolition of school districts, and other community lines. A prime mover in the plan to incorporate Levittown as a City, making the northern line the middle of Hicksville, is William Wedin, Democratic candidate for sheriff.

Irving M. Ives, incumbent and Republican candidate for United States Senator has our support for re-election. Democratic literature circulated by the county organization fails to even mention his opponent. Mr. Ives has proven his ability and worth in both Albany and Washington.

Ernest Greenwood of Bay Shore gets our unqualified support and endorsement for re-election as Congressman of the first Congressional District. He has repeatedly demonstrated during his first term of office that he gives ear to his constituents and acts upon their problems. He has made valiant efforts to keep his constituents fully informed about his activities. Besides lengthy, monthly press releases detailing his efforts from here to Montauk Point, he has been always available at home and in Washington.

After January 1, under a reapportionment of Congress by the New York State Legislature based upon the Federal Census, the First Congressional District will be smaller. It will embrace the Township of Oyster Bay from Jericho Tpke. south to Atlantic Ocean and all of Suffolk County. The mid-Island communities of Hicksville, Bethpage, Plainview and part of Jericho remain in the first district and it is our urgent plea that the voters send Ernest Greenwood back to Congress to continue his excellent work there in our behalf.

This is a precedent-breaking event for us to endorse a Democrat but we have found that Mr. Greenwood has, in addition to our own support, wide-spread non-partisan appeal. His Republican opponent, youthful Stuyvesant Wainwright, impresses us not at all. His selection was largely a Suffolk GOP decision and not especially popular even in that region.

Our vote is for Congressman Greenwood and we hope yours is too.

As for the balance of the candidates, we go along with most of the Republicans. Judge Marcus G. Christ we know and admire. Our brief association with him was on a strictly non-political level. He and D. Ormonde Ritchie of Brightwaters, Suffolk, are candidates for New York State Supreme Court Justices.

For State Senator in our area, we go along with William S. Hults Jr. of Port Washington, although we have been disappointed to date in his inability to get state funds appropriated and work directed towards Hicksville's Rail Road crossing elimination problem.

For State Assemblyman, we also back John J. Burns of

The Legionnaire

Forty-five Gifts For The Yanks containers were distributed throughout Hicksville Friday night by Walter Barnett and yours truly, ably assisted during the early part of the evening by Rudy Bousse and later by John Park. We hope you'll look for them whenever you go; bank, butcher, stationer, tavern, drug store, dry goods or hardware store. Mr. Businessman, please keep them in a prominent spot; Mr. Citizen, please deposit your spare (?) change! Hospitalized vets of three wars, few of whom are affiliated with any veterans organization, will benefit.

The heart of any organization, political, fraternal, or otherwise, is its membership and the American Legion is no exception. Without members we would cease to exist. Therefore, once each year, around the tail end of October this column takes a little time out from the every day run of happenings to insert a brief plug on behalf of membership.

As labor has organized into unions, as business people have their various units, as industrialists have the N.A.M., so you veterans have an organization leading the veterans fight whether the veterans be businessman, laborer or industrialist. You owe it to yourself to join the Legion. The small yearly dues required come back to you many times over through beneficial legislation either proposed or supported by the national organization. The work you do in your local Post (and the extent of that work is up to you) is reflected in the form of a better community and more comfortable hospitalized vets in the locality. And apart from doing for others, membership in the American Legion can mean new friends and a new life for you and your family.

Despite many impressions to the contrary the Legion does not engage in partisan politics. We do support honest and just legislation favorable to country and veterans and we are watchful for legislation harmful to our country and ourselves but there is no Legion support for political parties.

Please remember that the only string attached to Legion membership is your service anywhere in a recognized branch of the United States Armed Forces during WW I, WW II or the Korean conflict. Race, creed, color or point of service have no part in the American Legion. Think it over You need us; we need you. Join the American Legion now for 1953!

The Gala Halloween Party is Saturday evening from 9 to ??? Join your buddies bobbing for apples and showing off your costume. We guarantee a wonderful evening for all.

There are funds available for redemption of Legion Hall Inc. bonds should you desire to turn in at this time. . . . Our personal sympathies with those of the Post to Al Barlow in the loss of his father. . . . It's reliably reported that Commander Ed Becker doesn't always read before he signs. . . . Speaking of Ed—How does he get away with such short meetings? . . . The new P.A. system, which sounds like a million incidentally, was installed by Bob Schieferstein. . . . The American Flag, purchased jointly by the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the Lee Ave. School, has arrived ready for the dedication this Sunday. More such purchases to be made shortly. . . . We have a late arrival at every meeting—last week—Nick Harter. . . . That wasn't us, 'twas the Post Colors that wouldn't stand up last meeting. . . . We've been dodging the job for months but now we worry no more. Legionnaire Paul Gerech is writing a PBC Column for the Mid-Island Herald.

HERALD READER OPINIONS:

Post Card Proves Interesting

By LUCIA MCINTOSH

The Mid-Island Herald has more interesting news every week. Congratulations. The facsimile reproduction of NLHOA post card notice attracted my special attention. It says to its members: "How long will you tolerate Minority Domination?"

Well I ask them, How long? Furthermore how amusing to read: "minority HIG, rule must stop. Now, Hicksville and North Levittown (no such place existing) are both anti-HIG. Let's take local control from the Hicksville Incorporation Gang and give it back to the majority and the Town of Oyster Bay."

It might enlighten the few vociferous NLHOA members, that to my knowledge, since I became a voter in Hicksville with the first women's vote, I do not recollect there ever having been a "gang" of any description in Hicksville, and I am rather late to join any gang now. I do not have to defend my Sea Cliff, a little reluctantly because we recall the fact that he introduced the legislation which caused our community so much anguish—the local law permitting, if the town board saw fit, to split Hicksville Park and Parking District. However, both Hults and Burns did a very good turn by promoting special, emergency state aid for school districts of the area, including Hicksville, which has made the taxpayers load easier.

We would like to say a good word for Thomas A. Powell of Hicksville, Democratic opponent of Burns. But Mr. Powell has done little to demonstrate that he wants to be our representative in the state assembly and we are old-fashioned enough to expect candidates to prove themselves.

The last spot on the ballot is the election of a Town Councilman for a one-year term and our vote is for Arthur Isakson of Hicksville. This community could utilize two representatives on the Town Board. Certainly the number and size of its municipal problems warrant greater attention. While councilmen are assigned areas of the Township upon which to concentrate their efforts, they are not elected on such a basis. They are elected by the entire township, deciding in a body upon matters in all sections.

If we are to have regional representation on the Town Board (as with congressmen and state assemblymen), then it is up to the authorities to take advantage of the law which permits the election of Councilmen on a ward or area basis. Since such a system has not been enacted, then we feel justified in asking as the largest population centre of the Township for the election of another Hicksville man to the Town Board.

Mr. McCabe, the GOP incumbent, may be very competent but the single public appeal we heard him make in this area for the election impressed us not at all.

But whether you agree with our choice or not, we urge you to cast your vote next Tuesday.

reputation in Hicksville. I would advise these gentlemen to read our centennial history, to find out what prompts our devotion to our community and our ambition to see it progress.

The citizens of Hicksville, who attended the Town Board (park) meeting were all free and 21. They were not coerced into attending other than their own desire to be of service to their own community. We have not taken anything away from any majority nor from the Town of Oyster Bay. The Town board members are to be highly complimented for their unbiased decision.

The people who work on the committee for the incorporation of Hicksville are all members of the Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc. which sponsors the incorporation project. They are all men and women of high integrity and I am very happy to work with them. We are spending no one's tax dollars, but we have spent an untold amount of our time gratis in the service of our community.

People who have constructive work to do don't waste their time fuming and fussing.

If you live in Hicksville, come and join us. Our enthusiasm might, help you to appreciate our community. I take my American Legion Auxiliary pledge, which I took 30 years ago very seriously. It is:

"For God and country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order, to foster and perpetuate a 100 percent Americanism, to preserve the memories and incidents of our association during the great wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to participate in and to contribute to the accomplishments of the aims and purposes of the American Legion; to consecrate and sanctify our association by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

Appeal From Orton

By WILLIAM H. ORTON

The columns of this paper, the meeting halls, and the air in this community for the past few months have been filled with invective and vituperation. Hickville versus Levittown, SHALHO against NLHOA, "Stendy Sees It", "Sultan Says It", etc, etc, ad nauseum. SHALHO accuses the NLHOA of fostering discontent to serve Levitt; Stendy claims park split advocates working for higher taxes; North Levitt Home Owners Assn. assert reactionary element is trying to steal "our" pools; many long-time Republican residents join forces with local Democrats to unseat absentee township officials. School board candidates are judged not on their educational philosophy or capabilities but on how vociferously they present arguments for or against a split in the parking district.

Duo Pianists Present Brilliant Opener For Community Concerts

By ALICE M. WELLS

Hicksville Community Concerts Assoc. presented its first concert of the new season Saturday night at the high school auditorium for the subscribers of this area. This writer can only say that our two warm and delightful artists, Morley and Gearhart, were a piano team of extraordinary artistry, personality and sensitive musicianship.

The inception of the program which began appropriately enough with a Bach Chorale and Prelude "In These Is Joy" immediately showed that our artists were so rightly classified at the top of the musical ladder. One could sense true musicianship and clarity of beauty in this pure delight of genius. Each contributed so completely to the whole that each became alive in their capable hands.

UNASSUMING MANNER

Following this most gratifying beginning, we were highly fortunate in the rendition of the "Variations on a Theme of Beethoven" by Saint Saens. Seldom have two people been able to draw together such an abundance of intrigue and comprehension as was so evident in each variation. These two pianists working together seem in their unassuming manner to live with their music in its natural surrounding. Particularly so was the Fugal variation which was accomplished with astonishingly fine musical finesse.

The finale in the first group was most appropriately programmed "An American in Paris" by Gershwin. Morley and Gearhart accomplished more than some orchestras have attempted. Their understanding and versatile handling of the Gershwin was brilliant. One could picture vividly the very atmosphere originally intended. Through all of this could be sensed by the compatibility of two who were so sincere in representing this vehicle as it was meant to be.

The audience, which incidentally was warmly taken in by the personal program notes made by both pianists, received a rare treat in an encore after this group. The "Can Can" from the ballet "LeParisiene" was played with pianistic savoir faire.

Beginning the second group with Chopin's Nocturne-Fantasia from Opus 21, one was transplanted into a realm of melodic beauty beyond reality. It was breathtaking to realize that there were two pianists for the timbre remained pure and iridescent. Chopin at his best, this was a very rare musical experience.

"Dance of Terror" by de Falla recalled the audience to realities and chills. The whole painted a weird and exciting picture.

FRESH AND DYNAMIC

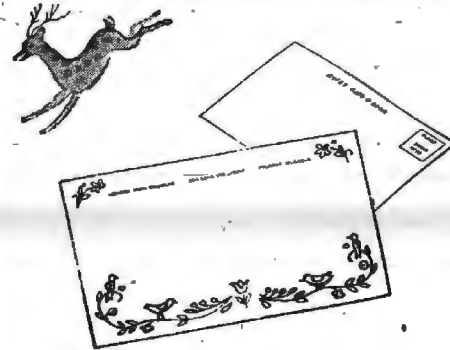

The very familiar Arensky "Valse" was so rightly programmed and played delightfully it took on new meaning because of the really fresh, dynamic interpretation throughout.

Whenever a program ends, it seems essential to perform a composition with verve and crescendos. Morley and Gearhart chose to finish their program with the last Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 so well known to concert audiences.

However, Mr. Gearhart arranged this composition for duo pianos and therein lay the stunning climax to this program. The finely woven arrangement plus a flawless rendition was again a rare experience. The Rhapsody took on a new color; it became a veritable bee hive of sensuous yet sensitive movement of grace. Undercurrents of mood and flamboyancy, coupled with modern harmonic content brought new excitement to the Rhapsody which should forever keep it in the repertoire of duo piano music. It was an overwhelming ending to a dynamic program.

Morley and Gearhart are generous.

ward. Hicksville had received a handsome reward, a tangible never to be forgotten heritage in Morley and Gearhart. Two charming people who have a musical approach which knows no bounds left behind them here hundreds of new friends who will treasure the experience of their visit for many years.

Auxiliary Gets Facts On Election

HICKSVILLE—The Mothers Auxiliary of St. Ignace School met on Monday evening, at the school hall, E. Nicholas St.

Guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. Elizabeth Miller of the League of Women Voters and a member of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Miller spoke on the privilege to vote and the part women of today take in voting.

Father John Wissler, moderator of the group, told the Auxiliary that they may bring a guest to the next meeting, when he will play the Sex Education recording. He also asked the group to be thinking about the new chapel for the new convent which is being built. His suggestion that each mother of the Auxiliary pledge $30 for the chapel will be discussed at the next meeting.

Mother Adelaide, principal of the school, asked that parents instruct their children on their behavior in the school buses. Also, there are quite a few unclaimed articles of clothing at the school office. Children should be taught to take care of their hats, gloves and scarfs.

Knights Honor William Wulfsen

Joseph Barry Council, K of C, Hicksville, will hold a testimonial dinner-dance at the Stockholm Restaurant, Syosset, Monday night, Nov. 3. Guest of Honor will be William J. Wulfsen, for many years Treasurer of the Council. Toastmaster will be Michael J. Sullivan, Past Grand Knight. Rev. George M. Bitterman, pastor of St. Ignace Church, and other members of the clergy have been invited.

have our Homes, recognize the sound and fury for what it is: an effort by minorities (with altruists and misguided enthusiasts on both sides) to assume or retain dominance. This type of controversy serves many purposes... it builds membership rolls in civic organizations which in turn become stepping stones for the politically ambitious; it sells newspapers for the publisher; and in a very few instances, it stimulates genuine community interest and participation.

Unfortunately the sides are so defined in our community that it has become impossible for a sincere citizen to take a positive position on any issue, whether it be schools, traffic control, or incorporation of the village, without being tried by the "Un-Hicksville Committee" (or the "Un-Levittown Committee") and labelled a renegade.

Is it not possible that the enthusiasm and labors be channelled into more productive fields? Are there not worthier projects before us? Our streets need traffic control lights, parking fields are overcrowded, drainage problems exist, and college scholarship opportunities for our children are always inadequate. These are true functions of civic minded citizens organizations. Let us end the bickering over the name of our community and start the planning on how to constantly improve it. 24 Acre Lane Hicksville, N. Y. Oct. 19, 1952

Four Suggestions

By MILTON G. LEAVITT

Would you be good enough to publish this letter as a reminder to your readers that the School Board of District 17 holds its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 8:30 P.M. at the East St. School.

I believe that you would be performing a public service if, each month, you would obtain from the Board a tentative agenda of the main business of the meeting, and publish it on the Thursday prior to the meeting.

I should like to suggest to the Board, through your newspaper, that a period be set aside at each open meeting for a discussion or questions by the public. This would encourage increased attendance at School Board meetings, more active participation in school affairs and would afford the Board the ideal democratic opportunity to ascertain the attitudes and wishes of the community on school matters.

An additional service that a community newspaper could perform would be to summarize the minutes of all School Board meetings, in addition to the regular monthly meetings.

HICKSVILLE GABLES: Cold And Sniffles On All Sides

By RUTH SCHULZ
HI-3-3649R

In my usual frantic search for news for this column, I found that nearly all of us hereabouts are in the same boat, with colds, sniffles, and what have you. John Tis, our next door neighbor, got a real break, as his wife, Marge, had a good dose of laryngitis and couldn't speak for days on end. Wouldn't my ever loving welcome a break like that? Seriously, though, hope that everyone on the sick list is feeling better by now.

Hear that Charlie O'Rourke of 12 Gables Rd. is in Huntington Hospital under observation, pending an operation next week. Hope that Bill Yunker of 4 Gables Rd. is feeling better, after his recent bout with the dentist.

Before I forget, there has been a time change in the coming "Food Fair" at the East St. School on Nov. 6. It has been decided to have the closing hour 9 P. M., instead of 5 P. M. as previously announced. This will make it possible for those who cannot get out during the afternoon, to come in the evening. Whenever you can get there is okay, but make sure you do!

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGee of 27 Gables Rd. has been the scene of two recent birthday celebrations. First, on Oct. 17, Miss Kathleen McGee was hostess at a luncheon in honor of her eighth birthday. The guests were treated to "hot dogs" with all the trimmings, plus ice cream cake and each received a comic book as a favor. Those present included Clifford Goff, Doreen Jakabek, Kathleen Seith, Billy, Patricia, and Mary Ann McGee, and Margie and Donald McGee.

Next, on Oct. 23, Miss Margaret McGee marked her fourth birthday with her little friends at a luncheon party. All present received remembrances of either cards, toy watches or crayons. The high spot of the party occurred when Mrs. McGee noticed her young son, Donald who is two, very busy in a corner of his bedroom with a box of crayons he had picked as a prize. Fearful that he might be marking the walls, she called to inquire if he was. One of the young guests informed her that he was doing no such thing, so, feeling relieved, she started to turn away, only to hear the rest of the sentence—"He's only picking the wallpaper off!" Oh, unhappy day! The guests in this group were Barbara Feuerstein, Doreen Jakabek, Clifford Goff, Jimmy Graham, Joan Pascal, Christine Seith, Ingrid Schelp and Donald McGee.

James, Byron, Jr. of 17 Gables Rd. was the guest of honor at a birthday dinner on Oct. 22. Mrs. Byron's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Roach were present, as were young James and Lynda.

Also on Oct. 22, it was the first birthday of Debby Nicosini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Nicosini of 35 Park Ave. Many happy returns to you all!

23 Fire Alarms During Week

HICKSVILLE—A tractor caught fire on W. Nicholas St. as gasoline from a truck was being put into the tractor tank on Oct. 21. The tractor owned by O. L. Pempa of 16 East John St. was damaged and a tire and the gasoline hose was destroyed. Firemen were called to the scene at 2:09 P.M.

Firemen were called to extinguish a grass fire that day at 6:21 P.M. on Elmira St. and Newbridge Rd.

A washing machine caught fire at the McClusky home, 21 Pewter La. on Oct. 22 and firemen were called at 10:42 A.M. Firemen were called to the railroad freight yard at 11:50 A.M. for a fire in a 1940 Buick. The cushions were damaged in the unidentified auto presumed owned by a commuter.

A fire in the Seagrington Gravel dumps called out the firemen at 2:05 P.M. on Oct. 22 and at 2:18 P.M. for a grass fire at 9th St. and Division Ave. and again at 2:16 P.M. for a grass fire on Kuhl Ave. No damage was reported in a fire call to the home of Mary June Leonhardt, 88 Boulder La. at 5:10 A.M. of the same day.

ROAST OVER DONE
A child at the Madden home, 67 Bobwhite La. called the firemen on Oct. 23 cause he could not shut off the electric stove. A roast in the oven over done after firemen were called at 3:54 P.M.

No damage was reported for an oil burner fire at the Delaney home, 37 Abbot La. on Oct. 23 at 11:25 A.M.

A 1941 Chrysler owned by Walter Schkelmko of 79 Meyers Ave. caught fire on Oct. 24 and firemen were called at 7 P.M. Grass fires kept the firemen busy earlier that day at Albany and Newbridge Rd. (Continued on Page 23)

Prudential Opens Here To Pace Local Growth

HICKSVILLE—Another step in the Prudential Insurance Co.'s plans for expansion of its sales and service activities in this area was completed Monday with the opening of a new office at 7 West Marie St., corner of Broadway.

The office is in charge of Staff Managers William L. McHenry and Warren H. Richmond, veteran Prudential representatives who for many years have been active in Long Island insurance circles. They will operate under the supervision of Sylvester J. Brooks, district manager in Huntington. Territory covered by the new office will include Levittown, Bethpage, Farmingdale, Plainville, Plainview and New Cassel in addition to Hicksville.

More than 100 prominent business, civic, financial and education leaders were present at an informal "open house" reception in the new Prudential quarters Monday afternoon. They were welcomed by Emanuel M. Belkin, director of agencies, Clayton J. Jacobus and Robert M. Wickham, regional supervisors, Brooks and other leading company officials from the Long Island area.

"Our new office is recognition of the tremendous expansion occurring here and in neighboring communities," Melkia said. "Evidence of the potentialities of this area is the fact that Prudential already has more than 18,000 policyholders and upwards of $20,000,000 of insurance in force in the territory served by the Hicksville office."

The Prudential official pointed out that the new office will handle administrative details as well as sales and service of all types of Prudential insurance. The initial staff of the office is 10 agents, he added, but this is expected to be increased later.

THIS IS A LOCAL ELECTION!

For COUNCILMAN

ARTHUR ISAKSEN

A representative of you on Oyster Bay Town Board is also being elected next Tuesday, Nov. 4. There is a one-year vacancy for a Town Councilman, a fact which has almost been overlooked in the heat of the national contest. We urge the election of ARTHUR ISAKSEN, a Hicksville man, for these reasons:

We Need Fearless, Honest Representation, Unhampered by Commitments to a Deeply Intrinsched Political Machine to

- ★ PROVIDE PARKING FOR SHOPPERS AND COMMUTERS . . . not apathy and experts.
- ★ PROTECT NEW HOME PURCHASERS AGAINST SHARP, SHODDY BUILDERS.
- ★ END BUNGLING OF LOCAL PROBLEMS.
- ★ RETURN GOVERNMENT TO THE PEOPLE.

PLAINVIEW COUNTRY HOMES Christening And Other Parties

By RAE CANTILLI

Hi Folks:

This weekend was quite a hectic one for me.

My little daughter, Laurie, was christened in the Plainview Chapel on Sunday by Rev. Edward H. Stammel, Pastor. My knees were shaking believe me I'm glad it is all over. The god parents were Miss Cecelia Cantilli and Roy Lund. Afterwards a small party followed with the immediate family and close friends. Among those present were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coutts of Roosevelt; my god parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Barber from Brooklyn; aunts Cecelia and Anne Cantilli, her uncle Harold Cantilli from Freeport. Also Roy and Bell Lund, Massapequa Park; Gloria and Al Shkursky, Bill and Joan Bowden, Baldwin; Bruce Lyons from Freeport and Val and Ruth Himberger, Plainview. Since the christening took place at 10 A.M., by 6 o'clock I was really bushed.

Another party was held this week. Little Billy Himberger from Island St. celebrated his 4th birthday with a big party at his home. The table was decorated with Jack O'lanterns, and had a Halloween theme. Among those present were Alice Myrick, Cathy, Dickie and Bobby Gessner, Tommy, Janie and Carol Payne, Kenneth Hartnett, Terry Richards, Dona and Laurie Cantilli, and Billy's brothers, Jimmy, David and Steven, all from Plainview. Believe me a good time was had by all.

Anyone that needs a good baby sitter, get in touch with Mrs. Vital who runs the Baby Car Agency. She informs me that there are dependable sitters available right here in Plainview. The rates are 50 cents an hr. from 7 P.M. to midnight, and 75 cents an hr. any other time. The telephone is HI 3-2677. I know some of the neighbors around here have very satisfactory service.

I would like to correct a statement made in my last column. The Toy Demonstration to be sponsored by the Plainview Fire Auxiliary is to be on Friday night, Oct. 30 instead of Oct. 31 as this reporter stated. I'm very sorry. My apologies to the ladies of the Fire Auxiliary. Please come out. There will be many things that will be of interest to you.

Well, children, that is all for now. See you next week.

NEIGHBOR DOWLING VIEWS NEWS:

School Board Convention Report

By JOHN DOWLING

I've just returned from Syracuse where the School Board's Assoc. held its 20th annual meeting. In attendance at the convention were representatives from every school district in the state as well as officials and dignitaries from the State Education Dept.

After attending all of the sessions and hearing several outstanding educators address the delegates I've come to the conclusion that as many school trustees as possible should attend these meetings.

My reasoning is based on the fact that it is an excellent way to keep abreast of how the educational authorities and leaders are meeting the challenge and threat to our way of life by preparing our youth for the roles they must play in the years that lie ahead.

The teacher can only impart knowledge. It is up to the citizens of every community to see to it that their teachers are furnished with the tools necessary to impart this knowledge, the tools being schools, textbooks, recreation and cultural aids, but most important is the amount of interest displayed by the citizens in their school systems.

Of particular interest to me while at the convention was the Public Relations Panel. This was moderated by the editor of Syracuse's leading newspaper and had as panelist some of the country's top men in Public Relations.

After an active discussion with many school trustees taking part it was concluded that school boards should make every attempt and use every available medium of communication to arouse public interest in the school system. "The more interested citizens and the more committees formed to work the local board of education always results in better school system," it was said.

Within three weeks Plainview residents will be asked to give their approval to a $1,250,000 bond issue to finance our urgently needed new school. Every resident knows or should know that our present class room total of 9 rooms cannot do the job. A vote for the new school on Nov. 19 is a vote for your child's education.

divided into five classroom groups. Each group has a qualified teacher in charge, employed by the Roosevelt School Board. To assist with personal needs of the children a matron is provided for each class. Mr. Muhlenbruck stated that due to relatively small classes, excellent equipment and high caliber instruction, wonderful progress is being made by the C.P. children with their education.

The occupational, speech and physical therapy is scheduled so that only a few children will leave a given class at one time, permitting instruction to continue without interruption. Children are taken from classroom to therapist by volunteer workers. Mr. Muhlenbruck was high in praise of these people who unselfishly give their time to help the C.P. children. To aid the volunteer worker each teacher has prepared a card for every child giving clear instruction for his care during lunch, personal needs, etc. The classroom group is never left unattended, matron or teacher being always present.

Information regarding admission to the school tuition charges, etc., may be obtained at the Center or by contacting the Roosevelt School Board. Mr. Muhlenbruck emphasized that the school is only accepting at this time children who are capable of being educated in the Center's classrooms.

TWO FROM HICKSVILLE

Two children from the Hicksville district are now in attendance at the Center. They are transported by Hicksville School Attendance Supervisor M. L. Chittenden.

In summing up the feelings of local educators toward the Center Dr. LeBarron said this week, "In the Cerebral Palsy Center the people of Roosevelt, through their Board of Education and UCPA of Nassau, have made an outstanding contribution to the parents and children of this area."

WOODBURY GARDENS:

Better Check On House Repairs

By GENE MALJEAN
HI 3-5515

By the time you read this piece, the meeting of Woodbury Gardeners will have taken place. Because of the deadline I cannot report the proceedings this week; however, in next week's issue I'll go over everything that took place. Due to a late change in plans the site of the discussion was moved to the high school from the East St. School.

While digging around in the garden, I met my neighbor—John Todd, who told me he is learning quite a bit at his weekly sessions at the high school. His course deals with the finishing of his attic. This week a movie is to be shown, depicting the actual job being done. I think this will do much to ensure assimilation of the instruction. The Chinese are right in their theory about a picture telling more than a thousand words. His wife, Millie is my classmate in sketching—and to hear her tell it, the new teacher is quite adept at projecting all phases of art. Due to preoccupation—I had to miss the past three weeks, but since speaking to her, I am looking forward to returning.

My wife, May—has also favorable comment on her instructor, Mrs. Schwartz in the tailoring class. Her criticism and comment are invaluable to May in making her coat.

Has anyone noticed the children pulling up cabbages in the farmer's land behind Ketcham Ave? It will be a black eye for our community if this practice continues. Let's look into it.

As I look over my calendar I have an ominous feeling—in so far as my house repairs are concerned. In December, when I find cause for work to be done on my home it will be on my own. You may be in the same boat. Therefore, it will be advisable to check with the builder in no uncertain terms in order to accomplish all unfinished discrepancies. You have priority, since the time is growing short. Get after them, for after your year is up—it's right in your lap.

Another item on the list to expedite is the lawn problem. I wish I had more time to work on mine, and if I do find the chance I'd like to reseed and fertilize the meager grass surrounding my house. The truth is that spring lawns fall short of a pleasing turf, whereas a fall sown lawn always shows a wonderful harvest.

It is a sad reporter I am to have neglected last week to announce the anniversary of Ray and Jimmie Stine. Incidentally, Carolyn Stine, their daughter, had her tonsils out this week. I hope she is recuperating rapidly.

Belated again—Jennie Sopke reached the ripe old age of one last week. I'm falling behind in my duties, I guess. I'll have to get on the ball.

It occurs to me that October is an anniversary month for Woodbury Gardeners. Mr. and Mrs. Klee also will celebrate their seventh anniversary this week. May and I are also October Nuptialists.

Tom Hogan must be a natural born organizer. The proof of the

OFF SOUTH BROADWAY School Dedication This Sunday

By BUNNY LAUER
Hicksville 3-2794 J

I just took one deep breath before I could bring myself to read the notice that Holly and Iva brought home from school—no school for the rest of the week. Out of the window went my peaceful mornings. The usual telephone gab fests, those wonderful extra cups of coffee (plus extra pounds). No, life couldn't be that cruel, but it was. And to think I'm still here to tell about it. Thank goodness that everything is back to normal and I'm patiently awaiting the opening of the Fork Lane School. Isn't it nice to have something to dream about?

Happy to hear that our own Iagrid Christ of Lee Ave. is on the nominating committee for our Lee Ave. P-T A.

Big doings in Hicksville. Thanks to the Kiwanis Club there will be a real nice party for all the kids tomorrow (Friday) at the high school. Glad that my crew hasn't reached the 4th grade—that entitles me to accompany them. See you all there and don't forget that mask!

Gwen Lynn Hawks of Lee Ave. celebrated her third birthday with a party for her friends last week. The decorations were pink, white and blue streamers and a large pink birthday cake made by mama was the centerpiece of the refreshment table. The kiddies received baskets and toy watches. The guests were Joan and Jeanne Varca, Lynda and Pamela Cochran, Ronnie Frame, Karen and Gary Logstead and of course, big brother, Robert. Gwen received many lovely gifts and a great doll carriage from grandma. Her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of N. Y. C. came out to visit the whole family Sunday.

Mercury Place was the scene of another party Saturday night. That one and only Ginny Varca, the gal who always has a smile for everyone, was hostess in her home at a bingo party. Players were Gladys Cochran, Joan Anderson, Agnes Sacco, Dot Rankin, Dot Hawks, Henrietta Bolger, and Florence Frame. After the game, entertainment was furnished by Henrietta Bolger who did the Dance of the Seven Flour Sacks. Dot Rankin rendered some operatic selections. Everyone had a real gay time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sacco of Portchester were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Sacco of Lee Ave.

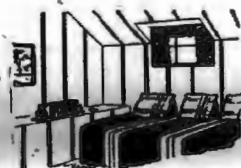

Congratulations to "Boots" Rathner of Bethpage who gave birth Friday. Mother and five children are doing well. Sex is still undetermined. Dad is a full bred "mutt". The pups are adorable, four jet black ones and one brown and black. Philip, the businessman, has already traded one for a football helmet. Wonder if I could do as well with one of my kids—maybe mink for one fresh little boy.

Hope you all have Sunday afternoon, Nov. 2, marked off on the calendar as the date for dedication of the new Lee Ave. School. Ohno, Paul just went into the tub with all his clothes on. Why mothers get gray! Quick a bottle of tincture.

OUR INTERESTING NEIGHBORS:

New Dutch Lane School Principal

By CRAIG WALSH

Patience, understanding, and above all, a good sense of humor are necessary attributes in any person working with children, according to John J. Chase, principal of the newly-opened Dutch Lane School, Hicksville. He says this with authority because of his years of experience as a teacher, and also as a supervisor of playground activities and as coach of high school and elementary school athletic teams.

Mr. Chase says that many a tense moment with a child is relieved by saying something to take his mind off his troubles and to make him smile. He agrees that this is an ideal that is sometimes difficult to attain, but that the successful teacher does it.

The new principal is no stranger to Hicksville, having been line coach of our high school football team for several years, and comes to the new Dutch Lane School with a wealth of training and experience. He graduated from Massachusetts University in 1942 with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. He was inducted into the army and served in the First Division, Seventh Corps, under General Lawton Collins. From the end of the war in May 1945 until he was released in February 1946 he served on the staff of General Collins.

As soon as he returned to civilian life, Mr. Chase joined the teaching staff of the Jericho elementary school, along with Herbert Cavanagh, principal of the new Fork Lane School. In addition to his regular classroom duties he also conducted the physical education classes for all classes from kindergarten through the eighth grade. This was done with the cooperation of his friend, Mr. Cavanagh, who took his classes when he was not busy with his regular work as manual training instructor.

Also during the time of his teaching in Jericho, he was the line coach of the Hicksville High School football team, serving under Chet Jaworski, in 1948, 1949 and 1950.

To get experience in secondary school teaching, he transferred to Roslyn High School in the fall of 1951. He also served as assistant coach of varsity football, and coach of freshman baseball and basketball.

Mr. Chase furthered his education during all this time by obtaining the degree of Master of Arts in Education from Columbia University in 1948. He also found time to attend courses at Boston University and Springfield College. He is also working for his degree of Ed.D. (Doctor of Education) at Columbia.

He came to the Hicksville school system this fall to become principal of the Dutch Lane School. Up to last week he and his teachers and pupils were housed in the East St. School. He says he is very glad to be in his own building and is looking forward to organizing a well-knit group of teachers and students.

He lives in Roslyn with his wife and two month old son Kevin.

Lee Ave School Checks On Health

HICKSVILLE — Weighing and measuring of children has begun at Lee Ave. School as part of the health education program, according to Donald F. Apt, principal of the School.

The growth record is something a child can see and understand and is a mirror revealing the relationship between growth and nutrition, sleep, rest and exercise, Apt said. By keeping a record of his progress the child can see the relationship between health habits and physical well being.

The annual examination of each child for scalp ringworm has been completed. This is done by looking at the child's scalp under a Wood's diagnostic lamp, which is an ultra violet lamp with a special filter. All children in our school who have been examined are free of this infection.

"Ringworm of the scalp is difficult to cure and often keeps a child out of school for months. Scalp ringworm may be described as localized, round, scaly patches with short, broken off hairs. It is spread by direct contact with lesions of infected persons or by wearing another's hats, using an infected person's comb. Animal pets are also possible sources of infection. The majority of cases are found in children under 14 years of age," Apt concluded.

I feel like a fugitive from the law of averages.—Wm. H. ("Bill") Mauldin—

LEVITT'S DECREE:

Take Over Hall Or We Close It'

William Levitt, builder of 17,500 homes in Hempstead and Oyster Bay Townships, put it on the line this week at a meeting he called of organizations which meet at his community hall on Levittown Pkway. He gave the representatives of about 70 groups—and the entire development—notice that unless they pressurize the Town Boards into taking over the maintenance and operation of Levitt Hall by the last day of this year, he is going to close it up.

The fine art of "lobbying" was outlined by the master builder among other facts and he promised the support of his newspaper, the Levittown Tribune, in propagandizing the area. Answering a sobbing plea from the owner of a Levitt home in Hicksville, an officer of the NLHOA, he pointedly promised that the Hicksville area will be circulated regularly with the Tribune.

A seven-man committee is being organized to develop the offensive which is scheduled to arouse the residents that they face the loss of the Hall unless they act. Membership of the committee will include the leaders of the Republican organization (Lester Engle was suggested), Democrats of Levittown (Ray Brand, advocate of City of Levittown), Levittown Legion, Levittown VFW, Levittown Civic Council, Levittown Hall Council and Dick Geruse, Manager of Levittown Hall.

Levitt declined a suggestion that he take the chairmanship. Nassau County District Court Judge Paul Wilditz also declined a suggestion that he be chairman.

SCHWARTZ OBJECTS
Arthur Schwartz of Spindle Rd., president of South Hicksville Assoc. of Levitt Home Owners, registered his opposition to the entire proposal and told Levitt that he preferred to "see a judge settle this issue. In my belief you obligated yourself to maintain the facilities in our area. You can say you're sorry but you are bound to a contract and are stuck with it."

He was recalling the stand of SHALHO and residents of the Hicksville section of Levitt homes who helped defeat a plan to split Hicksville Park district, creating a new North Levittown District, earlier this year. They had asserted the pools were promised "free" to home purchasers of the area.

Levitt said that if Hempstead Town Board can be convinced that the Levittown Park District should take over the Hall and that a joint Park District should be created straddling the Hempstead - Oyster Bay Town line, before Dec. 31 of this year, he would turn over the facilities and would take care of the cost of operation of the Hall and two pools in the Hicksville section thru 1953. Thereafter, maintenance and operation would be a district tax-charge and he estimated that spread over 17,500 houses it would amount to "about $8 per year."

He told the audience that not only does he receive no revenue now from operating the Hall, but is paying $8,000 a year in taxes on the real estate.

SULTAN UNHAPPY
Marvin Sultan of 80 Rim Lane told a tale of woe at the meeting. He bemoaned the fact that his organization, the NLHOA, had everything set for a split of the Hicksville Park District but when it came to the public hearing before Oyster Bay Town Board residents of the Levitt area stood up and opposed the plan.

Referring to the new plan, Sultan predicted "it is going to be a rough fight. We don't have a sympathetic newspaper. Your own newspaper won't support us editorially in this fight."

Levitt answered "After tonight we will support this, not because we happen to own the paper, but because we believe it is right and equitable. This is the first community we have built that carries our name and we hope to have many more."

At another point the builder said "if the people of Levittown realize that this building is going to be shut up, lock stock and barrel, they will show up and storm the place", apparently referring to a Hempstead Town Board meeting.

The SENTINEL

The Dutch Lane School Opens

By a fortuitous set of circumstances, Dutch Lane School is the first in this area to open, right in the section from which the dire predictions of "educational larceny" and "triple sessions" emanated. Not only is that section the first in this area to be provided with a new school, but it is also one of the two sections in Hicksville going on part "single sessions."

If space would permit, which it doesn't, it would be interesting to review all of the efforts, coupled to the schools, directed toward inciting anti-Hicksville feeling—beginning with the meeting on the Baird lawn in August 1950, followed by the accusation that the School Board was scheduling a vote on acquisition of the school sites at a time when new residents could not vote and, presumably, the issue would be defeated, and capped by the attempts of the "Education Association of District 17" to inculcate the belief that the School Board had no intention of providing, so far as practicable, "single sessions."

Oddly enough, the names coupled with that early agitation about the schools are the names found today in accounts of "North Levittown" activities. The pattern of activity is obvious.

Hicksville Provided Facilities

Now that crowded conditions in our schools are easing, it must be acknowledged by all that the interim period of extemporizing with facilities on hand was not too difficult.

The Hicksville Schools, built and paid for by Hicksvillites, took in our children, and all went on double sessions so that our children could have an education. The potato fields on which our houses were built had paid only a minute part of the cost of those schools. Yet there were people in this area, who wished to deny the existence of Hicksville Schools; they were the schools of District 17, they insisted.

PTA's Organize

Almost 600 people turned out for the joint Lee Ave.—Fork Lane PTA organization meeting, Wednesday. The Lee Ave. auditorium was full to overflowing, judging from the initial turnout, the PTA's at these schools will be virile organizations.

The SENTINEL has been asked to publicize the fact that, contrary to general belief, PTA membership in a particular school PTA is not limited to parents of children in that school. It is not even limited to parents of children in the school system, or, for that matter, to parents. According to the Parent-Teacher Manual, "Any person who is interested in the objects for which this association is organized may become a member upon payment of dues as hereinafter provided." It is of course somewhat unusual when a person who has no child in the school becomes active in the PTA.

The question was raised initially when it was discovered that Mrs. Shirley Karish, elected chairwoman of the nominating committee of the Dutch Lane School PTA, did not have a child in the school, or in the school system. It was also raised when one of the major nominations at the Fork Lane School PTA meeting was made by a parent whose child is in Senior High.

It is conceivable however, that, by multiplication of such circumstances, the name "Parent-Teacher Association" might become a misnomer.

PTA Activities

As the new PTA's organize, it seems worthwhile to re-emphasize the objects of the Association, as given in the Parent-Teacher Manual. "To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community."

"To raise the standards of home life."

"To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth."

"To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child."

"To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages of physical, mental, social, and spiritual education."

In the light of one unfortunate occurrence last spring during the first school board election campaign, an occurrence which caused considerable resentment and bitterness, it seems also worthwhile to re-emphasize certain policies of the associations:

"The association shall be noncommercial, nonsectarian, and non-partisan. No commercial enterprise and no candidate shall be endorsed by it. Neither the name of the association nor the names of its officers in their official capacities shall be used in any connection with a commercial concern or with any partisan interest or for any purpose other than the regular work of the association. The association shall

Before you read the next column, Election Day will have come and gone. It's not a very profound observation, I'll grant you and you could tell that yourself by merely looking at the calendar. The point of this is, if you are registered, get out and vote. By the tremendous numbers of registration I imagine there will be a large number of voters and you don't need any further urging. If you need a baby sitter or need transportation or both they will be available all day Election Day if you will call HI 3-4176 or HI 3-4192.

Have any of the rest of you been stranded without transportation because of the recent change in bus schedules? I have, but I wonder if it were an isolated instance. Some commuters had called me and said there weren't as many buses during the rush hours as were on before the change. If you have anything to add will you please call me and I will relay your message to the proper source. There is a committee of the Civic Assoc. working on the problem now and it will be to your advantage if you want the problem solved to contribute whatever information you have.

Saw Charlotte Vatter of Bunker Lane at the Mother's Auxiliary meeting at St. Ignatius' last week. The cast is off and Charlotte is doing fine.

Nicest thing about meeting other mothers is that you can compare notes on what the small fry are up to and when retelling some of the tricks my little dears get into I can almost convince myself its not too bad after all. While I'm on the subject, anybody know the magic formula for removing indelible lipstick from the face of one four year old and still leave the skin reasonably whole? I have to date used one jar of cold cream and enough soap to boost the stock ten points. Some of the goo came off but my son still looks like a direct descendant of Sitting Bull. And I assure you the resemblance goes further down than that from a different cause. He realizes it when he sits and that's no bull.

not seek to direct the administrative activities of the school or to control its policies."

During that campaign a letter was sent out recommending one of the candidates as the best qualified. It was addressed "Dear P.T.A. Members:" and was signed "Eata Orton, Vice Pres Elect Hicksville H. S. P.T.A. formerly Exec Committee, Parents Council" and William H. Orton, member Advisory Comm. Board of Ed. Scholarship Comm. HHS P.T.A". Mr. Orton's letter advocating peace in this area appears in this issue of the HERALD.

Hicksville School Practices

Considerable resentment and bitterness was also engendered by a subsequent letter, signed by Mr. and Mrs. William Orton and others, which contained the following:

"We want to know what goes on in all the classrooms. After all, the old fashioned dunce cap, corporal punishment, and discrimination against "slow learners" should not exist in this modern civilization."

The entire school staff, and all Hicksvillites proud of their schools, resented the implications of that statement. It did not promote peace in this community.

EXPECT TV STAR

A well known TV star is expected to entertain the children on Saturday, Nov. 8, at the annual two-day bazaar of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Hicksville, to be held on Nov. 7 from noon to 11 p.m.

Plans are being made to keep the whole family amused with a Chinese auction and delightful things to buy for the holidays.

The bazaar committee wishes to thank all the merchants, friends and members of the church who have contributed to the Bazaar Journal.

A reception for Mrs. Jesse Mid-dlemast, new county agent for Home Bureau, will be held Tuesday, Nov. 4, at the Trinity Lutheran Church basement, W. Nicholas St., Hicksville, at 12 noon.

A business meeting will be held in the morning and instruction will be given on ideas for Christmas gifts.

Opinion on Levitt-House Matters
By a Levitt-House Owner

All Advocates Of Peace

All sane-minded persons wish for the time when the current arguments over the continued attempt to "secede" this area from the Hicksville Park and Parking District, labelling it "North Levittown" in the process, are ended, and we all pool our efforts to improve the Hicksville community.

All right-thinking persons are advocates of peace. On that score, advocacy of peace we can all be in agreement with William Orton, whose letter is published in this issue of the HERALD. However, many of us cannot agree with what seems to be his proposed method of achieving it, mere cessation of all argument.

Mr. Orton is concerned only with contention; he is not concerned with the need for eliminating the causes for contention.

As such, his letter is recognizable as a kind of "peace offensive", advocating peace without a just settlement of the issues. Contention, including the arguments of those who oppose the "split", is "nauseating", those who participate are "misguided" or wish to "assume or retain dominance", "it sells newspapers for the publisher", it is just "sound and fury", "an effort by minorities". Argument, "Hicksville against Levittown", must stop; "hickering over the name of our community" must end; all presumably without cessation of the campaign to integrate this area with Levittown, or of the "hate" campaign against Hicksville and Hicksvillites.

On all of the issues involved, Mr. Orton is silent.

For peace in this area it is imperative that continued efforts toward the "split", an issue which has been discussed and settled, should stop, as well as all other efforts to integrate this area with Levittown, such as the move to include it in the "City". The "Levittown" signs in Hicksville should be taken down and moved to Levittown, where they belong. This area should not continue to be designated "North Levittown" by an assertive minority which has adopted that name for its organization. The "hate Hicksville" campaign should end.

If Mr. Orton is sincerely interested in promoting peace he should work to eliminate these causes for contention. Examination of them will indicate that they are all a kind of arrogant aggression. Termination of that aggression will terminate argument. Aggression can only be terminated by those who continue to attempt it. Defense against aggression must continue while aggression persists.

As Mr. Orton has in the past contributed his bit toward causing ill feeling, it does not seem likely that he will aid in stopping it now. Without such aid his "Appeal" must be regarded as a "peace offensive", perhaps calculated to discourage defense against the aggression which has plagued us for the past two years.

Thanks to you, we're growing too!

Like Hicksville, and all its neighboring communities, we've been growing fast in the last few years . . . keeping up with all the families who want a better, more secure future the Prudential way. Now we're opening a big new insurance office at 7 West Marie Street (corner Broadway) under the management of William L. McHenry and Warren H. Richmond. Our new office will serve Hicksville, Levittown, Farmingdale, Bethpage, Plainedge, Plainview, and Newcaseel.

From the Agents of our new office you'll get more of the same good service you always associate with The Prudential . . . service your family can depend on to keep them going if the unexpected should happen . . . protection that will pay for the groceries, pay off the mortgage and educate your youngsters if you're not here. Or make your own retirement years comfortable and carefree.

In fact, The Prudential serves you in more ways than you may realize. Dollars you invest in Prudential life insurance help your community and your home state to grow and prosper. Prudential lends money to local businessmen so they can improve and expand their businesses . . . to home buyers and builders to help families have homes of their own . . . to farmers to improve their farms and crops. What's more, these dollars earn interest which enables us to provide your Prudential protection at a much lower cost than would otherwise be possible. Right now Prudential has over $110,000,000 invested in Long Island.

Your security is our business. Now that we're bigger than ever on the Island, let us serve you in bigger and better ways.

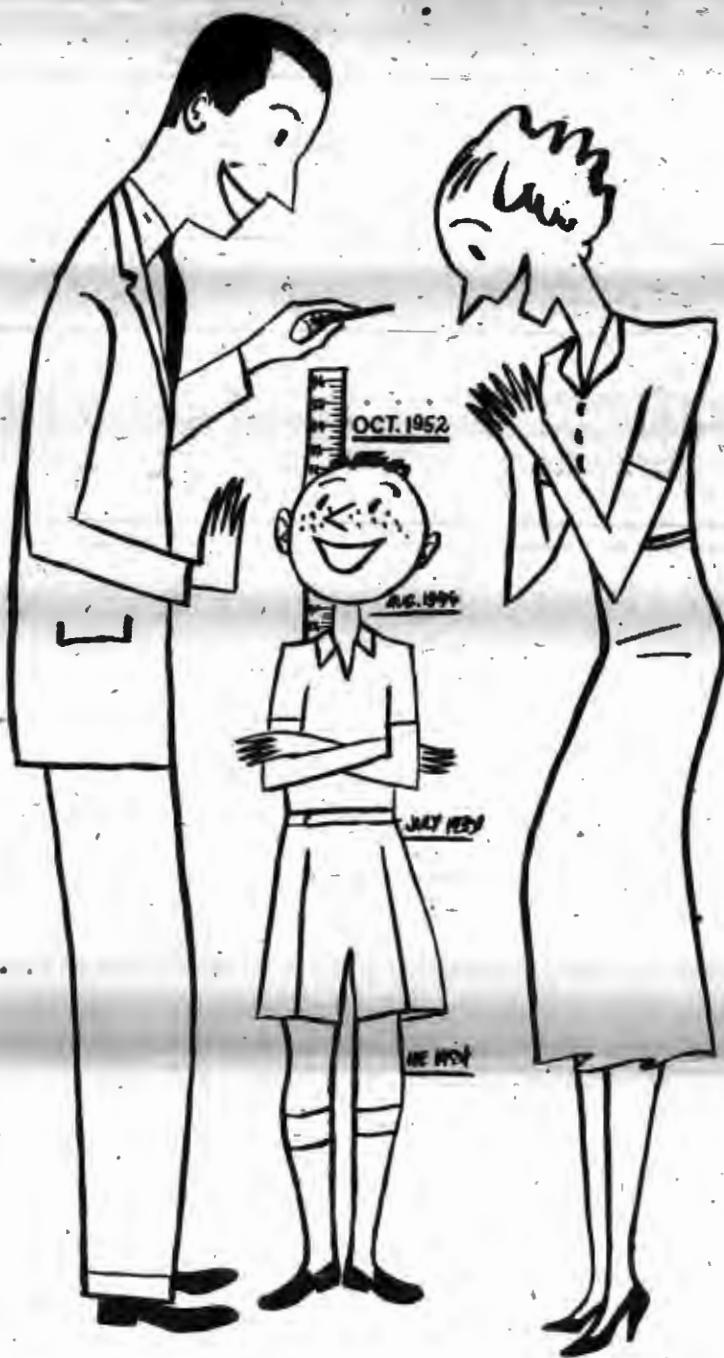

William L. McHenry and Warren H. Richmond head new Hicksville office.

"Bill" McHenry has been serving Prudential's Long Island policyholders for 32 years. He's a resident of Babylon where he is Fire Commissioner and a member of the School Board. A responsible citizen, he's a regular leader of Red Cross Community Chest, and Bond drives. He has three daughters and two sons and three grandchildren.

"Harry" Richmond began his Prudential career as an Agent in our Huntington office. Huntington folks will tell you Harry Richmond is a good man to know. He's a member of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, F.T.A., and the American Legion. During the war he served with the Army in the Aleutians. Harry's married and has a son and a daughter. AMVETS favor UMT and a selective program limited to the present emergency—HOUSING. We ask that veterans be given real protection on G.I. home loans. VETERANS AFFAIRS: AMVETS disapprove the Hoover Commission recommendations concerning hiring of veterans in public employment. We urge that veterans be required to pass Civil Service examinations and be at least 10 per cent disabled before they are given disability veterans preferences. CIVIL DEFENSE: We urge Congress recognize that Civil Defense must be considered as the fourth defense arm of our nation bearing equal also urge that this agency be placed under the importance to the Army, Navy and Air Force. How about you fellows who haven't been around lately dropping in and signing that dotted line? WHERE THEY ARE NOW: AMVETS... Sam Nearhoof back in Pennsylvania. Joe Faccoli in Utica... Brockman, Hartford, Conn... Hank Walker in New Orleans. Well "gang" that's all for this week so until I'm in the news again remember... VOTE... VOTE... VOTE.

JIMMY COOLEY

JWV Corner

By BILL OLITSKY
Lest we forget the sick and disabled men and boys who came back. Then who is behind cuts in veterans administration Hospital staff? Why are 2,250 hospital personnel to be cut from the nation wide 22,000 man V.A. hospital staff, a reduction of more than 10%? No attempt was made to prove that fewer veterans are now in need of V.A. hospital care. The cuts were billed purely as an "economy measure" without reference to veteran needs. The staff cuts were forced by Congressional action in cutting the V.A. budget by $31,000,000. Who or what men in Congress have already forgotten the men who fought and bled and have but this one place to turn to for proper care. Think, on the day of election, VOTE. Right this wrong with ballots, not bullets. Other government agencies, faced with similar budget cuts have continued to provide needed services, then asked for supplementary appropriations which Congress has granted. But V.A. administrator C. R. Gray, Jr. has ordered the cut though each year brings an increasing need for VA hospital services, especially among World War veterans because of advancing age. Again I say, think and vote. Where does the fault lie, with Congress or the administration or both?

Why is it that already 40 persons were laid off and two wards closed? 105 persons received notices of dismissal and four more wards are to be closed. Yes, this is taking place at Base Hospital 81. This base hospital with a total of 1500 beds now has a waiting list of 400 who need hospital care. Some have been waiting months for admission.

Fort Hamilton Hospital with 1000 beds and a waiting list of 400 will lay off 125 of its staff. Of Fort Hamilton's 1000 beds only 870 are now being used because of already existing understaffing. The new lay-offs may mean that as many as 300 additional beds will have to be empty. In that case only 570 out of the 1,000 beds will be available for veterans care or 57% of capacity.

The responsibility for the cut lies with Congress, especially the House of Appropriations Committee, with not too much protest from President Truman and the VA falling in line without too much of a fight.

Hicksville Post No. 555 Jewish War Veterans

We warn that medical standards already were at the danger point and that these reductions will surely jeopardize the health of all veteran patients hospitalized. This is but false economy. Instead the medical program should be intensified instead of cutting it.

This is just a small part of the picture. This is a national scandal! This is fact, you and I, veterans all VOTE along with your friends and neighbors make your automobile a Votomobile. Take them to and from the polls.

THE SCHOOLS ARE YOURS!

What Is Teaching?

By ROBERT E. TUTTLE
My neighbor, John Q. Public and I were discussing education.

"What is teaching?" was John's first question.

"First of all, good teaching depends upon the character and integrity of the teacher."

"The teacher is the key?"
"Yes, the teacher is the key—for teachers of character, integrity and sincerity can be relied upon to lead and guide the pupil aright.

This is true, today, because the schools are called upon to assist more and more in moulding the character of the youth."

"I always thought teaching was instructing Johnny or Mary in reading, writing and arithmetic," countered John.

"Good teaching has always meant that children learn basic or fundamental subject matter and skills such as reading and writing etc. However, good teachers are most concerned with pupils. Teaching like any other professional work requires that those who would be successful must be dedicated to the task."

"What do you mean by dedicated?"

"Simply this, Good teaching demands more on the part of the teacher than the time that classes are actually in session. Preparation for the next days instruction, personal improvement through advanced education and first hand experience, a genuine interest in children and youth are a few of the factors of dedication."

"Suppose I was going to begin teaching tomorrow. What advice would you give me?"

"Teach children, not subjects.
Recognize and demonstrate by your actions and words the dignity and worth of each and every pupil.
Begin by seeking the respect of the pupils. Seize every opportunity to encourage good conduct and seek to have every situation one in which learning can take place for the improvement of the pupil. Probably, most important of all, a teacher must be absolutely fair and just in all matters. No good teacher plays favorites or shows partiality to any pupil."

"What about discipline?"
"A teacher can seldom accomplish any worthwhile objective unless the class is a disciplined group.
It may be necessary for the teacher to discipline the group or individuals on rare occasions but by far the best and most successful discipline is that imposed by pupils upon themselves — discipline, in other words, should come from the inside of an individual."

"That sounds like a good theory."
"Rather, John, that is good teaching. Teaching should have as one of its goals the realization of self-discipline on the part of the pupil.
It is the task of the teacher to guide, direct and plan the educational program toward that end."

"Does that mean that a pupil does what he wants when he wants to?"

"I don't believe so, John. A Class room should reflect the outside world. When it does pupils are going to achieve things as a unit—many times. There is going to be a team spirit. There should be also periods of time when a pupil pursues his own interests—always under the watchful guidance of the teacher. In such a classroom pupils are going to learn some of the realities of life such as group living, planning and cooperation and the spirit of otherliness."

"Otherliness?"
"Otherliness embraces this idea of living. It takes a person from the self-centered approach to a feeling of worth because of the helpfulness and the contributions that can be made to society and other people.
There are several other things about teaching."

"Yes?"
"Successful teaching depends also upon the enthusiasm of the teacher. Enthusiasm begets enthusiasm. Children and youth are quick to respond to the enthusiastic teacher and are equally as quick to be guided by the feelings of a teacher who is bored. Motivation which means the creation of an interest and desire in the mind of the child, helps to foster the learning process."

"What about new materials and Mediums?"

"Audio-visual aids such as films, slides, recordings and radio and T.V. are rapidly coming to the forefront as aids in teaching. These have a contribution to make just as do pencils, paper and books.
Good instruction has always been an intense personal relationship between the pupil and the teacher—you recall the story of Mark Hopkins, the teacher, on one end of the log and the pupil on the other end.
This personal relationship seems destined to remain. These new materials are aids or tools our civilization has placed in the hands of the teachers — but they are not destined to supplant the vital role of the teacher as the key to the instruction of our children and youth."

Again, How About Signal Light?

Hi folks:

Happy Birthday across the miles to Lt. Jim Condon, formerly of McAlester Ave. Jim celebrated on Oct. 20th.

My daughter Jill, was 2 years old on Oct. 16.

Little Miss Abramowicz of 245 Duffy Ave. will be one year old on Oct. 26. Happy Birthday, Honey.

Mrs. LaDato of Meade Ave. celebrates her birthday this week. Best Wishes, Mom.

I hear the show that the Nicholas St. School P.T. A. put on last week was wonderful. I'm really sorry I had unexpected company and couldn't attend.

Lots of rumors around that the Old Country Road school is going to open any week now I wonder how true there are? If it is going to open soon, I wonder why they aren't putting up a traffic light? They surely need one on this speedway. I hate to cross it myself.

I see where the new factory on Duffy Ave., was taking application for jobs last week. I understand they are going to have three shifts.

Anyone interested in buying a second hand, 20-inch boy's bike, good condition, please contact me at HI 3-2437W.

NORTH WEST NOTES:

Civics Elect Officers On Nov. 7

By JAMES CUMMINGS

North West Civic Assoc. will meet Friday night, Nov. 7, at the Legion Hall on E. Nicholas St. A sample ballot has been mailed to each member to acquaint you with the nominees selected at our last monthly meeting. Each candidate for office will be introduced to the membership by President McCarthy as his name is called.

After electing our new officers a social will follow with refreshments, entertainment and dancing—the association will pick-up the tab. All our new neighbors are invited to join us.

BETWEEN ISSUES

We again urge each and everyone to vote as you please but vote on Nov. 4 at the Burns Ave. School.

Press Wireless had a hard time trying to reach a Paris monitor one night between 6 and 6:30 P.M.—according to the voice CBS was waiting on the phone to receive—every channel was cluttered.

Classroom Teachers Meet at East St.

HICKSVILLE — A meeting of the Classroom Teachers' Assoc. will be held Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the East St. School auditorium at 8 P.M. Presentation of informative material for the teachers will be presented after the business meeting.

with this voice from nowhere—we of course know that it was originating from Press Wireless on Cantigue Road here in Hicksville—no interference—who's kidding who? Now that all our main thoroughfares and several side streets are bluestoned, what say these concrete trucks use Burns Ave. instead of ruining a job well done by the Highway Dept.

FIRE ALARMS

Burns Ave. and Elmira and Newbridge Rd.

An unoccupied house at 250 Old Country Rd. owned by Frank Wells caught fire on Oct. 25 and firemen were called at 8:40 P.M. Origin of the fire was undetermined. Grass fires that day were extinguished on Liszt St., Moeller St., Cherry La. and Newbridge Rd., Duffy Ave. and Combs St., and on Woodbury Rd. near Petaki's.

Grass fires again called out firemen on Oct. 26 to Old Country Rd. and S. Oyster Bay Rd. and on Oct. 27 to Malone St., Laurel St. and Flower St.

ELECTED A MEMBER
NEW YORK CITY—Howard M. Plant, president of Metastah Corp. at Hicksville, has been elected a member of the Young President's organization.

EASI-BILD PATTERNS?

You no doubt at some time or other had that yen to do something. Like making a table, a lawn chair, a work bench—toys for the kids—horrible looking creatures—like mad dogs, wild looking cats—to keep the birds from eating that new grass seed. All these things can be made of wood or masonite. Yes—and hundreds of more actual size patterns to make everything from a bean shooter to a beautiful ranch house, household equipment, toys, a one car garage even, a five room house with Easi-Bild Patterns. Here's all you do. Stop here at Cashel's, ask to see "Uncle Tom", then select the item you want to make from our large library of patterns. Take along the necessary easy materials to make it with and you're all set for some real fun and relaxation. Save money, build it yourself with these Easi-Bild woodworking patterns. You'll get a real bang out of doing it yourself.

Feature Books Made Into Movies

HICKSVILLE—The Public Library is featuring "Books That Made the Movies" this month, with an appropriate display and collection of books. The exhibit features large, glossy photographs of scenes taken directly from such motion pictures as "Les Misérables", "The Big Sky", "The Red Badge of Courage", "The Plymouth Adventure", "Robin Hood", "Ivanhoe", and other films based on books.

In addition, there is a pair of photographs from "Alice in Wonderland", in which the scene (the one in which Alice grows and grows) as portrayed in the famous Tenniel drawings for Lewis Carroll's book is compared with Walt Disney's famous interpretation. The Library has a full collection of these fascinating contrasts of "Alice in Wonderland" drawings with cartoons, and they will be part of the special display in the Young People's Library building during Book Week, Nov. 16-22.

So many recent books have "made the movies"—both fiction and non-fiction—that we found many for you to take out, if the photographs whet your appetite for catching up on that back reading! "Pride and Prejudice", "The Green Years", "The Robe", "Kon-Tiki", "Lost Horizon", "Mutiny on the Bounty", "Little Women", "Pinocchio", "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", and "Treasure Island" not only made Hollywood movies, but have also been made into "Hicksville Public Library movies"! Yes, each of these stories also appears on micro-film. The Hicksville Public Library has sixty-nine such films and a ceiling projector with which bedridden persons may read "Projected Books". "Bugs of America" and "Butterflies and Moths of America" are two new books recently added to the reference section of the Young People's Library. "Looking-for-something", "I Can Fly", "It's Mine" and "Tubby, the Tuba" are new easy and picture books. Perhaps one of these will appear at the next "Picture Book Hour". This is a new venture and has been planned to appeal to preschool children and kindergartners. The Picture Book Hour is every Tuesday from 3 to about 8:30, and the Story Hour continues at 11:15 every Saturday morning.

Sees Pre-Election Coincidence

HICKSVILLE—"Reluctant Masterminds" of the intrinsically political machine in Oyster Bay Township have opened their "bag of tricks to dazzle the voters" in the closing hours of the election campaign, it was charged last night (Wednesday) by Arthur Isakson of 51 Arcadia Lane, Hicksville, as he noted the "coincidental hiring of parking and beach experts and makeshift patch jobs on town streets."

"My opponent has yet to state publicly why he expects to be elected to the Town Board on Nov. 4. He is just one of the boys and is confident that he will be swept right into office," asserted Isakson, candidate for a one-year vacancy on the Town Board as Councilman. "But the masterminds have been busy as a result of my charges of 'do nothingism.'"

"It can't just be coincidence that when public attention is focused upon the shameful commuter and shopper parking conditions in our fast growing villages that announcement is made of the hiring of a parking expert. It can't just be coincidence that within hours of Election Day highway crews are very much in evidence on streets of the Spiegel and other developments, where civics have been pleading for service for months without success, sprinkling around some blunders."

"It will be mighty interesting to observe, after Election Day, if the experts are still on the job and if the recommendations are ever put into effect. Hicksville parking problems have grown progressively worse. The record shows that in October 1949 when a citizens' committee representing the local service and business organization filed a report on parking and traffic conditions with the Town Board. Those recommendations were filed and have disappeared from the sight of man."

"Today, three years later, the conditions of which warning was given in that citizens' report have come to pass. In fact, they are even worse than was anticipated. And now at long last we get, not parking fields, but an expert to tell us what is wrong," Isakson told an audience at a Democratic rally in the Legion Hall.

Recent disclosures, he continued, make a reorganization of the township building department — including the appointment of experienced inspectors — imperative and he pledged that if elected he will dedicate his efforts to this end. He reported upon attendance last Thursday night at a meeting of homeowners in the Bethpage

Downs development where action was demanded from the County District Attorney.

To the tried and true Hicksville football fan the past week-end represented a very unhappy forty-eight hours.

It hurt deeply when Westbury rallied in the final five minutes, with the veteran Tom Fitzgerald clearly calling many of the shots, to go two games up in his series.

The Field Club's unbelievable stumbling at Glen Cove, the next afternoon, only added to the misery.

The games scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday show little promise that the Hicksville fan will be able to recover his sunny disposition.

Farmingdale entertains the Comets at Bethpage State Park and the Black and White travels to Westbury.

As far as this season goes the Comets have showed all the grit, fight and other such attributes which go to help out a team which is shorthanded from the start and the Dalers should be able to keep rolling against them.

Farmingdale has just begun to hit its peak while Hicksville must be looked for to have a letdown after the discouraging rush in which it lost to Westbury.

The Green and White annually gets overheated about this game and in a traditional sense this game demands as much from Hicksville as does the Westbury.

The Comets may pick up steam knowing that it is rare indeed that Farmingdale has beaten the Orange and Black twice in a row. In fact we think it has happened only once before and that in the brilliant days of Carl Holland and Co.

We are reluctant but the Dalers do have the power.

Farmingdale 20, Hicksville 12.

As for the Field Club a lot of work could iron out many of the errors performed in City Stadium last Sunday.

However, even if it were disposed to do so and could get twenty players out to practice it is doubtful that all the work needed could be accomplished before this Sunday.

Its 18-6 loss to Glen Cove the Westbury Vamps won everything but the ball game.

They have a host of talented runners and the Hicksville team is far from having a set defense.

The one big point in the Field Club's favor is that only the November games at Hicksville with Glen Cove and Westbury are league games. These October contests are profitable non-league meetings.

Manager E. Irving Jessor won last Friday. He argued that were one team to lose badly in the first game the gate would suffer badly if the return match was not a league game.

The gate angle convinced the league and judging by Sunday's result Mr. Jessor had a very clear crystal ball.

We wish we had it now for all we can see this Sunday in the rebirth of Long Island semi-pro football's greatest rivalry is Westbury 19, Hicksville 12.

OUTDOOR TODAY:

Posting Problems And Sportsmen

Fall's crisp days are calling farmers and land owners face an army of hunters to the field. Thoughtless, careless, and destructive activities of some hunters are the real reasons why so much land is posted. Too many folks seem to think that beyond the city limits, all is free land. Yet the city dweller would not appreciate a person walking through the flower beds, breaking down the back fence, shooting the dog, and leaving picnic trash on the front lawn.

But whenever something belongs to many people, too often there develops a lack of responsibility by individuals. Because of this, trouble starts, says Prof. W. F. Clark of Cornell's conservation department.

Cut fences, trampled crops, dead cows, broken windows, littered trash, opened (but not closed) gates are just a few things many

DALERS SATURDAY:

Westbury Rally Stuns HHS 17-13

HICKSVILLE—Hicksville High had its royal heroes carpet rolled out here, Saturday, but before those intended could march upon it the flashing cleats of Westbury's Vince Alexander ripped it to shreds and rallied the Green Wave to an 18-13 victory over the dazed Comets.

Alexander fired the Green Wave to two touchdowns in the last five minutes and sunk Hicksville football fortunes to its most dismal point since the black days of the late thirties.

This old and bitter series now stands at 13-11 in Westbury's favor. There have been three ties.

PERFECTION

A blanket of depression thus covered those who would have been honored for their part in what looked like a sure victory over the traditional foe.

Alexander scored the first Westbury TD from the 17-yard line early in the second period but end Ted De Lay smashed in to block his attempted conversion.

Soon after Hicksville marched 62-yards to score with Richard Evaschuk hammering the Green line and Bill McGumigle helping out with the alert recovery of two fumbles.

At the Westbury 28 Hicksville had Martin Katz hand off to Howard Speeding on the ancient Statue of Liberty play, and as it has so often before in this series, it paid off to perfection.

Speeding raced unchallenged to the endzone and Ed Scott just got one foot in to tally the extra point.

EVASCHUK 65-YDS.

Hicksville was protecting its 7-6 lead in the third period when Westbury moved 50-yards to the Comet 3. On third down De Lay barged into the backfield and recovered a fumble to check the drive.

The third quarter passed without a score but in the fourth Evaschuk broke over the left side, picked up two excellent blocks from Lou Millervolte and Speeding, and romped all the way.

His plunge for the extra point was short.

Westbury then came back 50-yards and scored on a fourth down fluke pass from Bob Dykman to Alexander.

It could have never found its mark but both Speeding and Scott tried to bat it down on the five and the additional push forced it into the air and Alexander was waiting in paydirt to take it.

Walt Rhind led a furious charge to block the point and Hicksville still had a 13-12 win if it would hold for three minutes.

It could not.

A minute later Alexander stormed the left side and raced 54-yards to the Hicksville four where Speeding brought him down from behind in a last desperate effort to save the win.

For three downs the Hicksville line held but a pass from Dykman found the Westbury ace uncovered in the endzone for the winning points.

It was the third time Hicksville has lost in the final five minutes this season and has left the squad limp for its date this Saturday with Farmingdale in Bethpage Stadium.

St. Ignatius Hustlers are leading the CYO Bowling League, Eastern Section, 18-5 with St. Francis' Red are in second place with 14 wins and 6 losses.

Arthur Baldwin of St. Ignatius Comets rolled a 206, 213 game in a 586 series. Howard Sopa of St. Ignatius Hicks rolled 200. Bill Wulken of St. Ignatius Reds 202, and Frank Kromer of St. Ignatius Princes 202.

be pleasant for both hunter and farmer. The sportsman is a guest on the farmer's land, and few farmers will refuse permission to hunt if they are asked. The farmer, on his part, can encourage this by posting his land with signs which may read "Hunting by permission only."

Cove Leaves Field Club In Shambles

GLEN COVE—The undefeated Hicksville Field Club hardly made it a contest here, Sunday, as the likewise undefeated AA tore into the Black and White, 28-0 before 1,631 fans in a non-conference clash.

In one of the worst defeats ever handed a Field Club eleven, the Covers scored once in the second period on a 16-yard run by George Spellman and then blew it open with three touchdowns in the last period.

While its offense sputtered and only crossed the 50-yard line once the Hicksville defense was disorganized and particularly by the Glen Cove optional lateral or hold play.

It was that measure by which the winners completely befuddled the B&W.

THOMAS FIGHTS HARD

There were only two moments of rejoicing for Hicksville fans in the fourth period George

Thomas, determined all afternoon, raced 45-yards from the Hicksville 13 and almost got away for a score.

At that point it was still 7-0 thanks to right end Herman Rigby who earlier intercepted a flat pass on the Hicksville one-yard line and ran up field 53-yards before he was overtaken.

Otherwise it was the Covers day and perhaps year. With nine minutes left Walt La Prairie went 63-yards on the hold lateral play and removed any question.

Pass interceptions and fumbles paved the way for Don Johnson to go 23-yards on a reverse and Billy Wilson 20 for the other scores.

Backboning the Glen Cove win was the brilliant George Fowler while Ed Coleman, really called up to power the Hicksville offense, played most of the game in a tireless and bruising effort on the defense.

PAPPY TAKES RIBBING:

It Was Unfunny In Cold Type

By Barbara C. Soininen

The man I love is not a very happy soul tonight. Unwittingly, I am at the bottom of it all—but the double cross of the L. I. RR., has heaped coals upon the fire. I never meant to make him a object of ridicule when I set down in black and white, his reaction to Y.P.T.-W.B. Day.

Of course I exaggerated the picture. But in a thoughtless moment his passing remark seemed mirthful. We have to write our pieces the Friday or Saturday before for the following Thursday's edition. What seemed hilarious to me at the time stated up at me, from the printed page with a glassy eye—sort of like a cold fish. I shuddered to myself and hid the Herald under the usual stack of other (treason-aid) daily papers and hummed my way through the rest of the day.

I picked the master up that night at the station when he arrived on the 9:05 and he went on to a cub scout committee meeting. There he met with "Mid-Island Herald constant and complete to the last page readers." In the melee that followed, he was completely needed. I didn't know about any of this until breakfast. The thing that made it sadder was, that he hadn't seen the blessed thing.

They brought out a copy and he read it under 28 twinkling eyes. I asked if he liked it. His only remark, in a resigned voice, was he didn't think it was up to my usual self. And would I please, in the future, give him complete anonymity?

That evening, he and the boys had a Father and Son Dinner to attend. When 6:30 P.M. came round and no father, I scooted up and down Plainview Rd., to "ye olde railroad stations" and through Broadway with its quaint Friday night traffic. Came 8 P. M. The boys were jumping with excitement, fellow church members were calling to ask where he was and I was still meeting train schedules. Frantic and head-light happy, from oncoming cars and crossing and recrossing train tracks, I could not decide if he was painting the town or had joined the mounties.

Just about 8:08 P.M., frozen, worn out, headachy, and undecided whether to have the screaming maniacs on Herzog Place or Bway, we caught up with one another. Explanation—train from Jamaica sailed right by Hicksville and he and about 20 others were deposited in the wilds of Babylon! Then ensued a cross country race, by train, bus and cab from Babylon to Wantagh to Levittown to Hicksville, interspersed with phone calls that never were answered.

The boys swear the phone never rang (operator apparently a Democrat—hal) I promised, I'd never write about him again—but I'm dancing with beer in my eyes while the man in my arms is all hopped up.
