Vandals Cause $30,000 Damage To Floors In New HS Gyms

ABOUT 8,000 SQUARE FEET of flooring in the boys' and girl's gymnasiums in the new Hicksville High School must be replaced as the result of water damage which caused the flooring to buckle. Damage has been estimated at $30,000, resulting from the fact that two high school students apparently entered the school, turned on the shower room and left them running. The damage was discovered on a Monday morning. This is a view of the girls' gym where the water seepage has caused almost the entire floor to buckle to waist-high ridges. The youths responsible were scheduled to appear in Children's Court this week. Other picture on back page. (Herald photo by Frank Mallett).

Brings Home Dud Hand Grenade

By CHARLES H. DeSHAW
One never knows when war souvenits will turn up, and one never limits and replaced it again. She scolded him severely, and it did the same later when I heard about it.
My wife had a fright last week when my 5½ year old son walked into the house and calmly showed her a Hand Grenade that he was playing with. She immediately took it away from him, and after taking necessary precautions phone the police who came and picked it up.

From the way my son tossed it around it didn't appear to be loaded, but my wife took no chances.

After the police left, my son calmly informed her that he had pulled the pin out of the grenade allows her child to wander around without proper guidance, or know-vertley and I did to shift for itself, so the dog owner who allows their dog to do the same is cruel.

Unfortunately, being at an age when it is difficult to make them understand about auch things, he coldn't see why it was wrong for him to play with it, when the neighbor's boy who had given it to him, could. The neighbor's boy had found it in his house, and he and my son were throwing it around as if it were some large stone. Too many accidents occur because war sourenits are not placed out of the reach of youngsters.

The saying goes that "a dog is man's best friend", but is man, dog's best friend", but is man, dog's best friend. When we see dogs running around loose, and read of them biting someone, or being hit by cars, we wander.

It is an unconscious failing among many dog owners that they do not realize a dog is like a child, and must be trained, You could not expect a child to do the right things if they have never been trained, and the same applies to a dog.

I've heard many people who love their dogs, say, "I could never be so cruel as to tie my dog, or keep him in an enclosure or work."

Yet, in their very absence of doing any or all of these things, they are being cruel. They are endangering their dog's health as well as its life, and just as a mother who

FIRST OF A SERIES

Make Spre SERVICE Is Part of the Policy!

When you buy insurance, make certain that the services of a local, independent, professional insurance agent comes with the policy. Not all insurance is alike in this respect.

Your independent, local agent is not the employee of any one insurance company, he is a representative of a number of different companies. He can pick and choose from many policies and recommend those which best meet year needs. His concern is not to "sell" insurance, but to protect you against loss.

His job is not to just issue a policy for you. It begins long before, when he surveys your needs and suggests the best coverages. Nor is his job finished when a policy is issued. Actually, your independent agent is at your service 24 hours a day throughout the life of your policy. An accident—a fire—a theft may happen at any time of the day or night. That is when your agent must be "Johnny on the Spot"—the person to think of first when trouble comes,

THE OLE TIMER REMEMBERS: When They Voted On Our Name

Hicksville people are no longer as sensitive to the name of their home community as they were about 30-odd years ago. At that time there was a serious effort to change the name of the village, but the proposal was defeated in a referendum. Some believe the defeat was caused by the fact that few could agree on the substitute name. . . Bethpage had a name change over 15 years ago. Prior to the present name it was known as Central Park. The change was made for two reasons: (1) to capitalize on the national publicity and fame of Bethpage State Park, and (2) to eliminate confusion with the more famous New York City's Central Park.

But to get back to the Hicksville situation. It was in 1925 that the vote was held and the people decided to keep "Hicksville" by a vote of 944 to 317. A gala celebration and parade was held with floats and horse-drawn rigs. Judge Andrew B. Heberer was in the lead in the parade. . . And who remembers when the municipal water supply was parade... And who remembers when the municipal water supply was established to replace the old private system. The district was created in 1921 and the system was in operation by 1924, supplying the new high school on Jerusalem Ave. First water commissioners were Ernent Francke, William I. Magill and August P. Deppisch, all of whom still live in the community... The Water District had its office at 71 Broadway (part of present-day A&P)... The Ole Timer will be interested in hearing the recollections of residents and the loan of old newspaper clippings about the Good Ole Days...

Games to Play, Pass Along Travel Time

"Now is the time for all good men..." and women and children too...go on vacation. If you're a family that travels by automobile, I'm sure you have come across the problem of how to keep the children amused and occupied on a sometimes long and tedious journey. Listed below are a few car-games for parents and young-

Be sure to pack (and have accessible) a box, paper, bag or brief case with the necessary supplies—pendits, paper, crayons, and masbles, dried beams on buttons. Children will eploy the games more if there is some little prize for the winner of the various contests. If time permits, wrap up a number of small packages to use as prizes. If it is gum or candy, make sure there is enough so the winner can pass the treats to all in the ear. A little surprise may be opened at the end of the first 160 miles, 200 miles, etc. Save the best prizes to be given late in the day or toward the end of the trip. This little extra effort on your part will be well rewarded.

Den't start the trip with games. The children wall be excited and interested at the beginning. Wait until interest lags ... and have a very pleasant trip. identific in

"I SPY"

Let someone name an object, such as a blue car or red barn or any object you are likely to see as you are fiding flong. For instance, Let's suppose the object named is a red barn. Everyone, including the person who named the object must floor sharply until someone who sees a red barn calls "I Spy!" and points out the red barn to the others. Then it will be his turn to mame something to be found.

"WIN THE BEANS" (or marbles or buttons)

Give each player ten beans (or marbles or buttons) and tell him to think of an object he would like to represent. Perhaps one child will say, "I'll be a horse," another will add "I'll be a red barn," etc. Then everyone must watch to see if the car passes any of these things. If a red barn is passed, the one representing the barn will receive a bean from each of the other players. If a horse is seen, the child whe chose that will likewise receive a bean from the others. Only one barn or one horse may be used from each location if a group of barns or horses is spotted at once. At the end of thirty minutes or any given time, the one having the greatest number of beams is the winner and states a prize. — Emily Gallo. (More next week.)

Water Commissioner Wins Award

RUINS OF McGUIRE'S Pickle Factory which stood along the LIRR tracks west of Hicksville station, destroyed by fire about 1910, are shown here and the winner of the $5 cash prize, based upon the Herald contest rules of "first and most complete answer" was George A. Kunz of 17 Spruce St., Hicksville. Mr. Kunz, who is a water commissioner and a long time resident, recalls "I was going to school then and it happened between 12 PM and 1 PM. Quite a few of us boys who went to the fire played hooky" for the afternoon". The charred remains of the pickling vats are clearly visible at the right. More than 20 replies were received. Some thought it might be the nins of the silk factory later a glass factory, which stood near the same site. The silk factory disaster came some years later. The men in the picture, according to some who replied, were John Vincent (white shift) and the late Fred Fricks Sr. Another old time picture will appear in an early issue.

Telephone Exchange Set Up Here 60Years Ago For 25 Customers

Sixty years ago this month the first small telephone central office was established in the Taliaferro Drug Store in Hicksville, less than 20 years after the first line was strung across the still-unfinished Brooklyn Bridge linking Long Island and Manhattan telephonically for the first time.

The first switch board in Hicksville could serve 25 lines; however, four years after it was put in service there were 17 phones in service in 1900, 65 in 1905 and 138 in 1910. By 1915 the total had increased to 338 and ten years later it was 674.

1905 and 138 in 1910. By 1915 the total had increased to 338 and ten years later it was 674.

Today there are four exchanges for the mid-Jsland area of Hicksville and vicinity (WElls 1, WElls 8, WElls 8 and brand new OVerbrook 1) with 24,500 subscribers.

One of the first subscribers to telephone service in Hicksville was Adolph G. Rave. Other early subscribers were William Braun, M. S. Burrell, R. C. Colyer, John A. Deubel and William Braunfer.

Burrell, R. C. Colyer, John A. Deubel and William Duffy Mary Schers, who later became a resident of San Francisco, was the first operator in Hicksville
The first centure office in Taliaferro's Drug Store was on the wist side of Bway just north of the RR irack's (near the present day location of the Town Hall annex office). The first local instrument antedated the local exchange service. It was a public phone in the same drug store available to anyone to talk over the line running out from Brooklyn by way, of Jericho. Mr. Taliaferro was often asked to take messages from persons who called up and to relay them by messenger to their proper destination.

An item published in the Brooklyn Daily Tmes

An item published in the Brooklyn Daily T'mes of Feb. 21, 1896 reported "The New York and New Jersey Telephone Co. has had a representative in Hickayille during the last three days and he has succeeded in getting enough subscribers to pay the company to run a line to Hicksville and their representative, Mr. Yann, said that the telephone line would be erected by the middle of April.

would be erected by the middle of April.

"It is proposed", the aged clipping noted, "to connect Jericho, Central Park and Farmingdale with Hicksville. Among those who subscribed for a telephone to be placed in their house or store were Alart & McQuire, the H. J. Helm Co., John H. Hahn, Dr. J. Mann, Mrs. Julius Augustin, St. John's Protectory, Fassbender and Stande, Dr. C. T. Taliaferrow, Hicksville Pharmacy, E. G. Rave."

St. John's Protectory was at present day site.

St. John's Protectory was at present day site of the forty million dollar Stackler & Frank Mid-Island Shopping Plaza due to open in Sept.

After the first year of the awitch board in Tallaferro Dfug Store, the capacity was increased to 30 lines. At about the same time (Sept. 21, 1896) it was moved to the nearby residence of S. S. Stewart where it remained for many years. The service was moved to 22 Nicholai St. on Apr. 20, 1927 and about three years ago it was moved to 69 W. Cherry St. This new building, enlarged since its opening, today houses all the dial equipment of the four exchanges, for the Hicksville area. R. M. Mendes is commany for the Hicksville area. R. M. Mendes is company manager.

During the war years the number of local phones rose rapidly from more than 2,000 at the end of 1942 to some 3,300 by V-J Day. At that time a force of 24 operators at the switchboard handled about 9,500 calls daily.

By 1948 there were 37 operators handling 16,-000 calls/a day. Today, according to Mendes, there 162,000 dial calls daily in the four local telephone exchanges.

day relatively few residents do not have phone service and many homes have two or more instru-ments. With the start of the OVerbrook 1 exchange on July 8, Mendes says, local telephone subscribers assigned individual and two-party lines can now dial over a wide range which includes 17,000,000 telephones in New York and neighboring states, and the party of the contract of the contr

Board President Emil J. "The Board recognizes the time and effort that was put into that report" Stendy said. "However the Board is also bound to recognize the University of the Board in Alba to be urgent, and immediate needs of the community and the wishes of the people."

The proposition being offered by the Board on Aug. 18 calls for 36 temporary class units which can be receted capildly and less expensively than mancenty construction. The 36 units would serve the present elementary needs and later can be converted into escendary space. It is estimated they would be againstead they would be againstead of the committee also submitted a minority report by Sel Zimmerman which disagrees with the proposal of a permanent 22-room building on the Willet Ave.

Voter registration days were set for Saturday, Aug. 11 from 10 AM to 8 PM and Monday, Aug. 13 from 4 PM to 10 PM. St Ignatius Wins Title For 3rd Consecutive Year

By ELWOOD S. KENT, SR.
St. Dominic's went down to defeat 10-3 as Al Ferrari pitched the St. Ignatius Loyola Bantam team to the Nassau County CYO championship for a third consecutive year. Joe Lafano weighed in with two lusty triples, to carry off the batting honors, and assure victory. The rain over the weekend found the "Bantams" chafing at the bit; they are now primed for the Diocesan CYO championship and are raring to go.
