200 Residents Protest Lumber Yard By Homes

HICKSVILLE—More than 200 residents have signed a petition protesting the establishment of a lumber yard off South Broadway, here, according to Leonard J. Bivona of 27 Mineola Ave., spokesman for the protesting homeowners. Mrs. M. Schneider of 32 Ferny St. told the Herald: "The town has granted Schildknect Lumber Co. permission to open a lumber yard along side of residential homes. The home owners were never notified or any signs posted that a lumber yard was planned. We knew nothing about it until July 27 when trucks moved in and said they were clearing for a lumber yard with a proposed railroad siding and a private road that was raised three to five feet above the town streets and back yards of the private homes that were zoned by the Town of Oyster Bay."

Schlicting Is New Clerk

Breschard, Jr. Schlicting is a graduate of the local schools and was president of the Parent-Teacher Assoc. here when there was a single unit.

3 Additional Polling Places For Aug. 18

HICKSVILLE—The School Board has had prepared and is issuing for publication this map defining each voting district for the Aug. 18 referendum. New voting districts were recently established to provide more places of registration and voting, and to ease the congestion evident at the last election when many could not wait the two-and-one half hours frequently required for registration and voting.

The School District has now been divided into seven voting districts in place of four. In general, registration and voting places are the local elementary schools. Registration will be this Saturday, Aug. 11 from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Monday, Aug. 13 from 2 P. M. to 10 P. M. Only those who did not register during April 1956 must register to vote. A person entitled to vote, must be:

1. A citizen of the United States.
2. Twenty-one years of age.
3. A resident within the District for a period of thirty days next

(Please turn to Page 7)

THIS MAP of Hicksville shows the boundaries of the seven election districts for the registration of school referendum voters and the actual voting on Aug. 18. Burns Ave. area is unchanged. East St. has been divided with Woodland Ave. Old Country Rd. is divided with Dutch Lane, Lee Ave. (formerly old high school) is divided with Fork Lane. Detailed information is being sent to all registered voters and is available at the schools named.

MISS FARLEY RUNNING? Citizens Group Backs Goodrich And Kent

HICKSVILLE—The election of Robert E. Goodrich of 47 Angle Lane and Elwood S. Kent, Sr. of 127 Pollok Place, here, as trustees of the School District for short-term positions on Aug. 18 was today urged by the Hicksville Citizens for Better Government in School Affairs. Nominating petitions in behalf of both men have been filed with the office of the District Clerk and as of noon Tuesday were the only petitions received. The deadline for petition filing was 12 midnight, Tuesday.

A petition was being circulated late Tuesday to nominate Miss Mabel R. Farley, retiring principal of Senior High School, for election to the School Board. At press time it was not known if Miss Farley would consent to run, if such petition were filed. Persons who had signed her petition did not recall which of the two vacancies would be sought.

Another unconfirmed report said that Sol Zimmerman might not file, due to lack of support, and that former District Clerk Thomas Affuldi may file at the last moment.

The Citizens for Better Government in School Affairs disclosed that in interviewing several candidates for election to the school board, consideration had been given to Sol Zimmerman, among others, and in a vote of the membership Zimmerman, had received far fewer votes than any of the several considered.

All persons who did not register for the annual meeting last May were today urged to register either this Saturday, Aug. 11, between 10 A.M. and 8 P.M. or Monday, Aug. 13, from 2 P.M. to 10 P.M.

The special election will take place at seven district schools (see map) on Saturday, Aug. 18 with polls open from 2 to 10 P.M.

Agreement On Classroom Need

By CHARLES H. De SHAW

Since 1950, Hicksville has heard the cry for more and more classrooms. In 1950, the cry was heard. We have been told by a certain group that, unless we keep building more classrooms our children will be on triple session. When the proposition for Wildwood Rd. and Willet Ave. permanent schools were defeated twice in 1955 by the voters, we heard that our children were doomed.

Considering the need for more classrooms and in view of the defeat of the aforementioned propositions, our new School Board is submitting a proposition for the construction of 36 semi-permanent type classrooms, on Aug. 18 for the vote of the populace. This should have made the advocates of more classrooms happy. Strangely enough, this isn't so, for many of these very same people have publicly announced that they intend to work for the defeat of the proposition—because they want the people to vote for a more expensive permanent school building of 22 rooms. One can only speculate as to the reason behind this inconsistency.

Does it make sense for this group to throw away the opportunity for 14 additional classrooms? It does if they can be compared to children who won't play unless they get their own way. Are all of these people really interested in providing more classrooms, or are they interested only in providing what will become "white elephants" when the leveling off period begins a few years hence? It is quite apparent that there is more to this inconsistency than meets the eye.

In-laws have been the butt of jokes and innuendoes for many years. The mother-in-laws have been depicted as nasey, domineering buttniksies, whose aim in life is to destroy the marriage of their son or daughter; while the father-in-laws have been depicted as bumbling, casper milquetoasts, scared to death of their wives. Actually these types are the exception rather than the rule. Most in-laws are as wonderful as mine, making every effort to help in whatever manner they can. After all the success of their son's or daughter's marriage means as much to them as to the couple themselves.

For that Cadillac look and ride, see the new 1956 Studebaker at Puccio Bros. in Syosset Willys show room on Jackson Ave., Syosset. Both the looks of this car and the price that the Puccios will give it away for will make you enthusiastic. Here is your chance to buy the car that's completely new, with all accessories, at a price that is way below the so called low price class.

"Ted" Schiefel, Principal at Dutch Lane School, leaves for his vacation the last two weeks of the month. He and his wife, Alice, plan on touring upper New York state. Have a good time, folks. Ray and Ethel Poelker's vacation is over, and the day before, he was to go back to the job, Ray was discovered working in his yard. Sort of getting into the working groove, eh, Ray?

Alfred Rubenstein of Fifth St., and Martin Greenfield have set up a law partnership at 45 W. John St. (Nassau Press bldg.). Drop in to see them if you have a legal problem, or just want to spend time chatting.

Terrell Objects To His Dismissal

HICKSVILLE — Oscar B. Terrell, former Clerk of the Works for the School District in a letter to the School Board last Friday evening, strongly protested the manner in which he was notified of the termination of his services.

He said that he had been notified by letter on July 8, that his services had been terminated as of June 30, and that a conversation with Dr. Wallace Lamb, superintendent, later revealed the fact that the letter was correct, and that it was the decision of the Board. He said that in private industry it was customary for a month's prior notice of termination, and that in view of this he felt that he was entitled to one week termination pay and two weeks vacation pay.

Joseph Cawley, School Trustee, raised the question as to when Terrell's services began, to determine just when they ended. Board President, Sandy recommended the letter be tabled until the records could be checked to determine this.

Need Insurance ID For Canada

If you're planning a Canadian vacation this year, be sure your travel plans include special identification cards from your insurance company, is the advice offered to motorists by James Masteron, 45 Berkshire Road, Hicksville; local agent for Allstate Insurance Co.

Strict financial responsibility laws in five Canadian provinces require U. S. motorists to carry these special identification cards, he points out. These provinces include Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, British Columbia and Manitoba. The necessary identification cards may be obtained from your insurance company before you start your trip.

Western Union Ready For News

HICKSVILLE—Telegraph facilities unprecedented in size, duplicated both in Chicago and San Francisco, are being installed to transmit news of the presidential nominating conventions to the nation and the world, it was stated today by Mike Pandolphi, local manager of the Western Union Office.

More elaborate preparations than ever are being made, Western Union announced, because the 1956 conventions are being held in different cities and one immediately follows the other. With growing public interest, the 1956 conventions may well rival the record-breaking volume of 19,664,472 words of news from the 1952 conventions.

What Your INSURANCE AGENT can mean to YOU

THIRD OF A SERIES

Your Agent is a NEIGHBOR

When a fire, a bad automobile accident or other loss occurs, there is small comfort in knowing that the loss is insured by a company which may be hundreds or thousands of miles away. When trouble comes, you may be shocked, bewildered and confused. That is when you want to know that your agent is a neighbor—a friend in need who is as close as your telephone.

It is at such times that the services of your local agent become indispensable. He is at your side to give reassurance and advance. . . . to help guide you in rebuilding or having repair work done. . . . to smooth the way and speed the work of claim settlement. When a loss occurs, your insurance agent forgets his established office hours. He is on call 24 hours—day or night.

Goldstein Finds LIRR 'Favors' Well-Earned By Local Commuters

HICKSVILLE—The residents and commuters of this community do "have to be grateful for 'favors' from the Long Island Rail Road. It was asserted this week by A. Allan Goldstein, chairman of civic affairs for the Glenbrook Civic Assoc. "We are paying a very high rate of fare", he pointed out in a letter to the Herald, "and no other public rail road carrier is available to us".

Goldstein also commented:

"We were fully aware that recent legislative action gave the L. I. R. R. permission to raise its rates when it felt it was necessary and that we had the right to appeal after it went into effect. However, we did not know that we were also signing away our privilege of insisting upon safe operation before unsafe procedures were put into effect.

"According to a letter we received from the Public Service Commission, in response to our recent protest against reversible signalling between Hicksville and Jamaica Stations, this matter is being studied by our Railroad Bureau and when completed we will hear from us further. In the meantime the equipment is being installed and all other necessary changes made.

"We can only be sure of one thing, the new system will be put into operation. In spite of the above quote, Mr. Schultz tells us it is already approved. We can't help but feel that the Public Service Commission has already approved the operation and is just repeating the old practice of lip service in response to complaints.

"Momentarily setting aside criticism of the project and approaching it from the viewpoint of the R. R. . . . This new plan is supposed to improve service. Has anyone seen a new schedule that will give us facts instead of indignant words and promises? Perhaps if these facts were put on paper they wouldn't look so rosy. We have asked repeatedly for two years for 'facts' concerning the 'improvement' of the R. R. service. We get them, from the Public Service Commission, after the Railroad puts them into effect.

"$750,000 is a lot of money for a Railroad to spend when it is supposed to be running in the red. Was this expenditure covered by the recent increase or is this also to be added to our fare? If this decision was based upon an improved schedule it should be made public so that the man who pays knows what he is supposed to be getting. Is this schedule in the hands of the Public Service? Is an expenditure being authorized without consideration of the Commuter's ability to support it?

"The motorists of Hicksville will also be very happy with the following response to our complaint about the traffic jams caused by the R. R. crossing and the operation of trains thru it. We quote, with respect to the placement of train #231 at Hicksville, the President has informed us that this matter was reviewed with the Nassau County Police and they are in accord with the manner in which the Railroad now platforms this train. He further states that he has issued special instructions to the crews to make every effort to disperse passengers with a view toward reducing the loading time at Hicksville.

"Notice all the difference in the jam-up at the station? If you've been stuck in traffic lately down at the R. R., it is because of a parade or sump'n. Don't complain. It could be worse and it will be. This is not only one of the biggest headaches for the commuter and the little house wife who has to pick up the breadwinner at the station but it is murdering the downtown business area. The next thing you know you will be told to shop in the opposite direction! The Railroad was there first. You don't have to keep your store down in the center of town . . . move to the outskirts."

Navy Seeking Suffolk Land

CALVERTON—The U. S. Navy has requested approval from Congress to acquire additional land interest in several thousand acres surrounding the Grumman-operated Naval Industrial Reserve Aircraft Plant here near Riverhead.

The result of a combined two year study by the Dept. of the Navy and Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., the proposal calls largely for restrictive covenants and navigation easements, with only a small portion to be purchased outright by the Navy.

Grumman, a chief supplier of Naval aircraft, presently uses the facility for the final assembly and flight testing of its jet aircraft. All its other aircraft operations continue at the older plants in Bethpage.

Hear Anti-Fluoridation Speaker

The North Bethpage Civic Asso. on July 18 presented as its guest speaker, Mrs. Herman Mehr of the Greater New York Committee Opposed to Fluoridation. Mrs. Mehr, in presenting the viewpoint of the opponents of fluoridation confined a large part of her address to the presenting of medical opinions supporting her contention. Some important points made by Mrs. Mehr are as follows:

That fluoridation is still an experiment and that not enough time has elapsed to see a true picture of possible harmful effects; That a better plan would be to find the true cause of tooth decay and remove it; That there is a small margin for safety and that mottled teeth have resulted from fluoridation; That sodium chloride used in fluoridation is 80 to 100 times more toxic than calcium chloride; That 40 million people have turned it down, for too many questions remain unanswered; That it is wrong to medicate the population by force.

At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Mehr invited questions from the audience, after which literature on the subject was distributed. Her visit ended with warm applause from the audience in appreciation for the dispassionate, factual and thought-provoking contribution Mrs. Mehr had made to the meeting.

The North Bethpage Civic Asso. will discuss possible future action at a later date.

Newest Drive-In Has Opening

The opening of Century's Route 110 Drive-In Theatre on July 25 was an outstanding success.

The 110 Drive-In which accommodates 2500 cars and features the world's largest screen, was filled to capacity and acclaimed as the most fabulous Drive-In Theatre on the Island.

Leslie R. Schwartz, President of Century Theatres, has announced that the receipts from the opening show would be donated to the Melville Fire Dept., the Dix Hills Fire Department and the Student Loan Council of Central School District No. 5.

The 110 Drive-In Theatre is located in Huntington township between Route 110 and Walt Whitman Road, just south of Exit 40, Northern State Parkway and north of Exit 32, Southern State Parkway. A dual entrance from either Route 110 or Walt Whitman Road permits a smooth flow of traffic from the highways to the six box offices.

The 110 Drive-In opens every evening at 6 P.M. and offers a well equipped kiddie playground free for all children.

Lutheran School Opens Sept. 10

This coming Sept. 10th, the 4th Lutheran Parochial School of Nassau County will open at the Church of The Good Shepherd on Cental Park Road, Plainview. There are three other Lutheran schools in Nassau. In the order of their establishment they are: Nassau Christian School, Mineola; Trinity Lutheran School, Hicksville; Redeemer Lutheran School, Seaford.

The other schools began their establishment with just a few grades and gradually expanded. This plan will also be followed in Plainview. For this coming school year, 1956-1957, a Kindergarten will be established and in subsequent years more grades will be added until an entire elementary school is available. One of the basic reasons for this procedure Pastor Hinsch said: "In establishing a school, and a good one at that, there is so much that we must learn that the wise procedure seems to be to make haste slowly."

The School Board officers and members are: Henry Trapp Chairman; Edward Passer, Secretary; George Aitken, Financial Secretary; Roger Hovden, Frank Kennel, members of the Board. Edward Ocker, President of the congregation; William Bischoff Sr., Vice - President of the congregation, and Pastor Hinsch attend the School Board meetings as ex-officio members.

APPOINT TEACHER

After careful analysis, the Board is certain it has one of the best teachers that is available. She is Mrs. Rodney Schabel. Mrs. Schabel is a graduate of Hunter College where she also earned her Master of Arts degree and became a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Her husband is also a teacher at a Lutheran Day School in Rego Park.

As far as school room facilities are concerned, for the first two years the church will use their present facilities with certain adaptations which can be readily made. The plan is to erect an educational unit on the ten acre site for use in Sept. 1958.

The intention of the school is to have no more than 35 pupils in a class and always to run the school on a full-day session once the grades are established. The only exception to this is the Kindergarten class which will have a morning session and an afternoon session.

Pastor John Hinsch was asked if the 4th Lutheran Parochial School of Nassau would be limited to those who are members of the Lutheran church. To this he replied, "It would not." Applications will be accepted from all interested parents as long as they realize that it is a church school which will incorporate religious instruction in their curriculum.

However, Pastor Hinsch noted that if more applications came in than there is space available then obviously, since the church member is supporting the school, the member would receive first consideration. Nevertheless, the school will be open to all.

At the present time Pastor Hinsch said there is room in the Kindergarten class for more pupils and any interested parties can contact the church office at Wells 1-3966 or the Pastor's home Wells 1-8336.

CURRENT COMMENT:

Classrooms Needed Now

By Fred J. Noeth

THE NEED FOR ADDITIONAL elementary classrooms in Hicksville is universally agreed upon. The need is most acute RIGHT NOW. The opportunity to provide 36 classrooms with speed and at reasonable cost is being offered the voters of the school district in the Aug. 18 referendum.

There are some people, who in the past have urged the construction of more classrooms, are now suggesting the vote on Aug. 18 be "no". These people hope, if proposition no. 1 is defeated in this referendum, to resurrect permanent construction which was rejected twice in 1955.

The request for a "no" vote is not realistic. Permanent construction, even if it were approved (which appears doubtful in view of the two elections held last year) would take upwards of two years until the day pupils could be housed. The need is now (effective this fall and more acutely in mid-term). The semi-permanent classes can be ready by mid-term.

The School Board invites you to take a look at the semi-permanent structures, now offered for vote, at Woodland Ave. or Fork Lane Schools this Saturday or Sunday afternoons. You will be impressed.

Don't be deceived by the high tax, expensive construction advocates. Vote "yes" on Proposition No. 1 on Aug. 18.

THE GREEN THUMB:

Time For August Checkup

By ALMA CRAIB

This is the coolest, wettest summer in many years, and on the whole it has been unusually good or gardening, so far. The perennials have been very ahead of themselves, blooming early and growing very tall. The annuals have been slow. They will probably put on a grand display in Aug. and Sept.

The Plainview Garden Club is having its first Flower Show on Sept. 8th at Jamaica Ave. School. There will be one class in horticulture for non-members, so groom your best plants for entry in the show. The condition of stems and leaves will count as well as the blossoms.

Garden chores are never done until the snow flies. If you have weeded and mulched faithfully all summer, you will marvel at the weeds that seem to spring up full-grown among your flowers and vegetables. But there they are, and if you pull them now, you will prevent them from raising a large family next year. One of the worst weed pests is foxtail grass which seems to be everywhere. As the name suggests, the seeds are clustered along a spike covered with coarse bristles. It is rather attractive in flower arrangements, but it is not good for anything else.

If you are going on a vacation, weed, fertilize, and mulch generously before you leave, and your garden will probably grow along nicely for a week or two without you. You'd better ask your favorite neighbor to pick the beans and tomatoes, tho. They have a way of ripening the main crop the minute you leave.

When you are at home, give your flowers a bit of attention every day. All blossoms should be picked off as soon as they fade. This makes a neater, more attractive border, and prevents the plant from wasting its strength in producing seeds. Many perennials and nearly all annuals will continue to bloom all summer if the dead flowers are removed promptly. Flower stalks on such perennials as shasta daisy, iris, columbine, delphinium, and coreopsis should be cut to the ground as soon as they finish blooming. Phlox and stock will send out side shoots of blossoms if the top cluster is cut back. Pansies are getting leggy. They may be cut back, or the long, bare shoots may be covered with earth up to where the leaves and flowers are.

Fertilize your roses for the last time this week, to nourish them for good bloom in Oct. Feeding them later than the first week in Aug. produces saucy growth that is apt to winterkill.

Moms need a feeling about now, too. A generous helping of fertilizer just as the buds are beginning to show will reward you with more and bigger blossoms. Don't forget that mums can be moved into bare spaces in the border even when in blossom, if you take a good ball of earth and water copiously.

Isn't it marvelous to have a lush, green lawn in August! This really is a wonderful garden year, even tho the abundant moisture has brought us a few more bugs. It is easier to spray insecticide than to adequately water a parched lawn and garden.

HERALD READER OPINION:

Voting To Finish The Attic

By MARY DOAKES

To the Editor

To say Mary and Joe were astonished at the doctor's report is putting it mildly. Triplets imagine! But that's what the X-ray showed.

After the surprise wore off they sat down together one night to decide what plans they could make for housing their three little new ones that soon would be here. They already had four children, two boys and two girls. As things were now the boys had one room, and the girls another, and Joe and Mary theirs. But with three more children, where would they put them?

A new house was out of the question. They had all they could do to make ends meet now. One ray of hope was that Joe was due for a moderate raise soon, but not enough to finance a new home. Besides they loved their home and often spoke of the days when the children would be gone off to live their own lives. They didn't want too big a house to rattle around in. With the new raise there was only one thing to do... what millions of American families are doing as their families grow... they decided to finish their attic.

The mother and father in this little tale are not unlike our School District. In the next few years our school enrollment will reach a peak and then level off. Just like our little family they will leave (the School System) and just as Joe and Mary felt they would not like to be left rattling around in a big empty house the School District would not want to be left with empty buildings. The taxpayers are not unlike Joe. They have just so much to make ends meet and don't want to go off the deep end with taxes.

Remember this little tale when you vote for the 36 temporary classrooms on Aug. 18. Vote to "Finish the Attic". It will supply rooms for when they are needed at a nominal cost. Think about it.

Goodrich Presents His Position

By ROBERT E. GOODRICH
TO THE PEOPLE OF HICKSVILLE

I am a candidate for the office of Hicksville School Trustee in the election of Aug. 18 because I believe I have the necessary qualifications and would, if elected, try to serve the best interests of all the people of Hicksville.

During the past year I have listened to a considerable number of people discuss the affairs of our school district. For this reason I believe I know many of the things the people want and expect from their schools. I believe the people expect the Board to act without fear or favor in assuming the leadership in obtaining the best possible schools for the most reasonable cost. In assuming this leadership I believe the people expect their Board of Education to seek and consider information and advice from the people and all other possible sources to assist them in making their decisions on school problems.

Some of the continuing problems upon which I believe the people expect the Board to consider and act include:

Provide, with all possible haste, adequate classroom facilities to house our fast-growing elementary school population. The children are coming into the system now and must be housed. The people of the district have expressed their opinion on the question of how they feel this problem should be handled. Twice last year they rejected expensive permanent construction which would take years to build and cost many times more than the semi-permanent structures being submitted for vote on Aug. 18.

In addition, there is the important matter of developing a school curriculum, subject matter and teaching methods to serve the best interests of all boys and girls.

Further, there is the elimination of unnecessary waste and extravagance in school spending. And further, the development of our present recreational program to more effectively serve the genuine needs of the community at the most reasonable cost.

I would greatly appreciate your support of my candidacy in the Aug. 18 election. If you have not registered as yet, please do so on Aug. 11 or 12. Those of you who might consider taking an active part in my behalf call WErs 1-6647 for additional information.

Lou Reinacher Sends Us A Note

Louis J. Reinacher of W. Marie St., Hicksville (now in St. Petersburg, Fla.) writes: "Regarding the trolley from Hicksville to Port Washington, Jamaica and Flushing—Yes, it started in 1908 and I rode the first trolley from Mineola to New Cassel. It was then called the City of New Cassel. One thing though, the end of the line was where Larry's Men's Store is and not the Professional Bldg. The rest of the story is very true. Yes, there was a lot of rivalry in those days between Hicksville and Westbury with Baseball Games and bicycle races too. One of the Steinert boys was a wiz on a bike. I used to run against a boy by the name of Peters who lived on Broadway where his parents had a candy store. I used to catch for Westbury ball team against Skip Eismann for Hicksville when we played down on West John St. ....

"The time Hicksville people voted on the change of name: It started in the Hicksville Civic Club and two prominent citizens had two different names to offer. One was Gary, after Judge Gary who lived in Jericho at that time; the other was Quentin, after Quentin Roosevelt of Oyster Bay. These names did not meet with general approval so both men went on record to oppose any name change ....

Mr. Reinacher was long active in Boy Scouting and held the position of Scoutmaster of Troop 91 for a number of years. His son, Ernest, has Reinacher's Paint Works today on E. Nicholas St.

For a total cost of $673,000 we can have 36 semi-permanent classrooms RIGHT NOW WHEN WE NEED THEM. Our elementary enrollment is increasing, but the peak is in sight. ## Plaza Retailers Organize Here

HICKSVILLE—A new approach to merchandising goods and services and to assist in carrying out community enterprises in an area with population in excess of 1,000,000 on Long Island was announced last Friday, July 27 with the formation of the Mid-Island Plaza Assoc. It is composed of representatives of the retail and service establishments which have leased space in Mid-Island Shopping Plaza, a huge regional business center scheduled to open this fall here.

Announcement of formation of the Assoc. was made by Alfred L. Weinberg, vice president of Famous Fashion Shops and temporary chairman of the organizational committee. Besides Weinberg the following have been elected directors of the Association:

Paul Walker, general manager, Gertz-Hicks; Eric Peterson, of First National Stores; Donald W. Hayes, manager, J. J. Leberry Co.; Sidney Rosenbloom, district manager, Bond Stores; Leon Gottlieb, of Lerner Shops; Kenneth Appleman, of Arthur Maisei Restaurants; Meyer Waldman, of Lorry's Men's Shops; Jack Domash, vice president, A. S. Beck Shoe Corp.; Samuel K. Otto, president, Courtesy Drug Stores, and Walter G. Stackler, partner in the firm of Stackler and Frank, builders and owners of Mid-Island Plaza.

The 11 directors are scheduled to meet this week to elect permanent officers and further advance plans for the Association's work.

"The purpose of the Association," said Weinberg, "is to promote the general business interests of the tenants of Mid-Island Plaza, to conduct promotional and educational programs, and engage in other joint efforts of interest and benefit to the public. We believe this is a new concept of public service."

With the $40,000,000 regional shopping center, four blocks north of the Hicksville railroad station, scheduled to open this fall, plans are now being developed for a pre-opening period which will include special previews for the press, local officials, and business, civic and industrial leaders in the area. The shopping center will serve, Weinberg announced. Following the opening, a continuing program of educational, cultural and entertainment activities will be developed, he said.

Finish Boy Scout Camping Vacation

By ELWOOD S. KENT, SR.
HICKSVILLE—Boy Scout Troop 91 finished their camping vacation at Camp Wauwexep, Wading River, in a blaze of glory as the following scouts appeared before a Board of Review, who travelled from Hicksville to Wading River to pass the scouts in their advancement efforts: Forestry Merit Badge—Andrew Miller and J. Edwardson; Cooking Merit Badge—Robert Oehler, Andrew Miller, Chris Reimels, and William Allan; Public Speaking—Andrew Miller; Star Scout—Andrew Miller; First Class—Elwood Kent, Jr. and Edward Perry; Paul Bunyan Award—Elwood Kent, Jr., Edward Perry, and Paul Giamonoco.

The Order of the Arrow ceremony was conducted at Camp and Paul Giamonoco was "tapped". This means that Paul has been selected by his troop to enter the "Order of the Arrow". It is an honor to receive this award. The ceremony will not be described as it would only take from future participants the surprises in store for them.

Many, many thanks to the committeemen who so kindly helped in order that the troop could spend two weeks at camp.

Offer $1,000 For Newspaper

One thousand dollars was offered today for any single copy of the "Long Islander", dated June, 1838 to June, 1839, the period when the Huntington weekly newspaper was founded and edited by the famous American poet, Walt Whitman.

The offer was posted by Gilbert Tilles, member of Berger-Tilles Projects, developers of a dozen large shopping centers on Long Island.

In offering the reward for a copy of the Whitman paper, Tilles revealed that plans are now under way to honor the noted poet at the formal opening of Great South Bay Center in W. Babylon on Sept. 19.

HURRICANE SEASON: Rules For Your Safety

The U. S. Weather Bureau compiled the following rules for safety during and after a hurricane: Pay no attention to rumors . . . act only on official advice. Leave low-lying beaches or flood areas early to avoid being marooned. Stay in your house if it is well built and out of high tide danger. Board up windows and brace outside doors. Securely fasten good lumber - makeshifts may do severe damage. Stock extra foods requiring no refrigeration and little preparation. Electricity and gas may be interrupted. Sterilize containers and store water in them. Water services may be cut off too. Boil water after service is restored unless the supply is known to be safe. Keep a flashlight handy at all times. Store all movable objects inside if possible. Open a door or window, slightly, on the side of the house opposite that facing the wind to equalize the air pressure until the storm passes. Stay in a safe place even after the storm has apparently passed. The lull in the "eye" of the storm may be directly over you and last from a few minutes to a half-hour or more. When it passes, the wind will return from the opposite direction, often more violently. Avoid panic.

Afterwards: Don't touch loose or dangling wires and look out for falling tree branches. Keep stored water until service has been restored. Drive cautiously - roadbeds may have been weakened in storm-hit areas. Be extra careful to prevent fires, especially if water pressure is low.

OF LEGAL INTEREST:

Idiots And Infants

By ROBERT W. CORCORAN
Member of the New York State Bar

All persons, except idiots, persons of unsound mind, and infants, are permitted by the laws of the State of New York, to dispose of their real or personal property by a Last Will and Testament, duly executed in accordance with the provisions of the Decedent Estate Law. Infants, eighteen years of age or over, are permitted to bequeath such personal property as they may own.

Yet, despite the privilege thus accorded by statute, few people take the trouble to place their affairs in order, so that in the event of sudden or unexpected death, the survivors will be able, with the least trouble and expense, to settle the estate of the decedent. The legal profession can well attest to the heartaches and financial loss which is occasioned by the failure of people to make a Last Will and Testament.

The law assumes that a person who dies intestate wishes that his property be distributed for him by the State. And this the State does, the law specifying the person who shall take the decedent's property in the various survivorship situations which may be found to exist.

In those cases where a man dies leaving a widow and children, the widow is entitled to but one-third of the estate; the children share equally the balance. The situation is the same where the decedent leaves a widow and grandchildren, the latter being entitled to share two-thirds of the estate.

Unfortunately, the tables of distribution, effective though they be, result in hardship in many cases, and do not always accomplish the descent of property which would have been directed by the decedent had he expressed his wishes by the making of a Last Will and Testament.

Experience shows, in the case of a widow left with children, that although the distribution provided by statute be mathematically equitable, it fails to provide the widow with sufficient funds to make it possible for her to properly raise the minor children. She learns, to her sorrow, that the law imposes on the parent the obligation of supporting the children, and that the children's property may not be used unless the parent establishes that she is physically and financially unable to supply them with necessities of life. Even when this may be shown, the necessity of court approval, and the requirement, in most cases, that a bond be filed by the administratrix, imposes additional and unnecessary strain upon the estate. In addition, the periodic and final accounting required by the Surrogate of a person who holds property as trustee for a minor or minors occasions further financial burden upon the remaining property.

The common belief that one who possesses but little property need not make a Last Will and Testament, proves unfounded, more often than not. For while the added expense encountered in administering the estate of a person who died intestate leaving extensive holdings may be more in dollar and cents, it is usually proportionately less, and less burdensome, than in those cases where decedent's estate is small.

In addition six sales agents will be assigned to this office to provide sales and related services. The office will occupy 3600 square feet in the new Professional Building which is completely air conditioned and provides parking space for about 40 cars.

Games to Play, Pass Along Travel Time

"Now is the time for all good men—" and women and children too—go on vacation. If you're a family that travels by automobile, I'm sure you have come across the problem of how to keep the children amused and occupied on a sometimes long and tedious journey. Listed below are a few car-games for parents and youngsters alike.

"HOW MANY HAVE I"

Give the players each a dozen beans (or marbles or buttons) and tell them to conceal the marbles in their laps or pockets. The one of the players takes several marbles in his cupped hand and shakes them saying to the child next to him, "How many have I?" If the correct number is guessed, the player gives all of them to the one who guessed correctly. For instance, if the player has seven marbles and the guess is "five", the guesser must give two of his marbles because he missed the answer by two. This game continues until one player holds all the marbles. Or you may set a time limit.

"COUNTING WHITE HORSES"

You get 5 points for a white horse on your side, 3 for a white dog or cat, 1 for a white chicken (only one at each place can be counted). Make 25 the winning score. If you pass a cemetery on your side, you have to start over.

"CONTEST OF STATES"

List the different States of the cars you see. First to get 15 wins.

3rd Place Battle In Fire League

Hook and Ladder Co. 6 won another game last Sunday by forfeit when Hose Co. 2 was unable to field a team.

The first and fourth place teams are due to meet on Sept. 23 and the second and third place teams on Sept. 30. The Championship of the fire dept will be determined on Oct. 7.

Standings of the companies:	Won	Lost
Co. 6	5	0
Co. 3	3	3
Co. 5	2	2

Vacation For Mother

Sometime during the year—most of us break away from our regular day-to-day work and take a trip to visit relatives or friends, or to see some other part of this country or even take a trip outside of the United States. Vacations are an established part of our American life; they relieve the monotony of everyday routine—and give us a chance to restore our physical and mental resources. And—since vacations are important to our health—they should be planned carefully to give maximum benefits.

Remember that doing all the usual cooking and housekeeping—perhaps with inadequate equipment—may mean that Mother will return home needing a real vacation to recover from the family vacation. The youngsters may not always enjoy the same things as Mother and Dad; therefore, the children should be in on the planning. Incidentally, the best vacations are not necessarily long ones—or the ones taken during the summer. Even the "off-season", or "backyard" vacations can be beneficial, as well as the one or two day excursions or "home-town" sight-seeing expeditions.

The ideal vacation is one that gives Mother a change from her regular duties at home; and provides new kinds of entertainment for the children. It enables Father to forget about the competition of business and working at stop speed—so that he can relax and enjoy a complete change from his usual activities. A vacation away from home calls for special plans to make travel comfortable as well as easy, regardless of whether it is made in one's own automobile, by train, by bus, by ship, or commercial airplane.

Relaxed vacations mean a lot more fun on the highway. In a frantic hurry, some drivers take foolish chances by weaving in and out of traffic, some short-change themselves on sleep—and drive when they're drowsy. Some even drive after drinking. These are all factors that contribute to making a driver a nervous wreck by the time he gets home again—if he gets home at all. The wise motorist really lives—he takes it easy on his vacation. He doesn't try to break distance records for miles traveled per day. He stays relaxed and taking his time—he avoids getting angry at delays, and doesn't take chances—but returns home refreshed and happy. And be sure to take courtesy and safety with you—you'll need them. The National Safety Council reminds—"Take it easy on your annual vacation. It's not hard to do—and it might save your life."

—Nassau Health Commissioner

Tells About Roundup In Michigan

By MARY P. WOODS
Hicksville Senior Scout

Late in June many Girl Scouts gathered in Grand Central station with one purpose in mind—to get to the 1956 Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Milford, Mich. Here, many people thought, was the beginning of the Roundup; but these girls knew the Roundup started for them last September when they first began their training.

Last fall I received notice that I was a candidate for the Senior Roundup and that a weekend had been set aside for us at Camp Edey where we would show our selection committee how skilled we were in camping and how well we got along with others. Then I received word that I had been chosen to represent Mid-Island Council at the Roundup. How proud I was to know that I was worthy of this great experience.

Our patrol was made up of eight girls from the Mid-Island and Great South Bay Councils. These girls met and worked with each other all winter and spring in preparation. We studied the history, learned the folklore and explored Long Island so that we would know about it when the time came to share this knowledge with others. We also improved our camping skills and helped make and collect our equipment. Our preparation was long and rigorous but we appreciated it when we finally got to the Roundup. Our training could not have been possible without the help of our trainers—Mrs. Lois Walsh of Levittown and Mrs. Judy Reisz of Westbury. These women devoted themselves to making us ready for our encampment.

SPECIAL TRAIN

The New York Central Railroad had a special train for the Girl Scouts. We arrived in Detroit on June 29 and were transported from Detroit to Milford by bus where we saw our dream for the first time—here was the Roundup. Within 36 hours the girls had pitched 3,000 tents on the fields of the Highland State Recreation Area. Every mealtime the smoke from 600 fires rose toward the sky and the American Flag flew above 150 troop sites. For the first time in Girl Scout history 6,000 girls came together to live with each other for twelve days.

On the second night we were there we had a campfire in the Arena which officially opened the Roundup. The voices of 6,000 girls rose in song with one theme: Americana. The first days were filled with meeting new friends and perhaps renewing old friendships. Girls from the United States, its possessions, Canada, Brazil, Colombia, Denmark, Sweden, Great Britain, Norway and many other parts of the world attended. One small gesture or word could start a friendship that will last many years.

COLORFUL PAGEANT

On many more nights we came together in the Arena. The Fourth of July pageant was colorful. It depicted the history of our American flag, our Girl Scout flag and flags from our states and many other nations. Olivia Layton, Girl Scout National President, spoke to us and told us that we had come together in Friendship. Dr. Lillian Gilbreth commended us on our endeavor. Jo Ann Warren, Senior Scout, read her prize-winning essay, "What America Means to Me". That evening we had a gala fireworks display. On another evening our Americana pageant depicted the history of our country from the cave man to the present day. On the last evening Dorothy C. Fields wrote and produced a pageant on the history of Girl Scouting.

While there we ate more than 16 tons of meat and fish off 35,000 paper plates and drank nearly a quarter of a million containers of milk and enough fruit juice to fill two 1,000 gallon reservoirs. We swapped things from our home states for things typical of other states. We swapped skills such as cooking and learned a little of other languages and dialects. Seven hundred men and women volunteered to lead our troops, handle our food, drive our trucks and help us in many other ways. By an Act of Congress. The United States Army came to our assistance to do heavy work and the Michigan State Police guarded us.

For years I shall remember this experience and cherish it. I am grateful for the help and encouragement I received during my years of scouting in Hicksville in this stimulating experience. For the remainder of the summer I will be a counselor at Girl Scout Camp Edey where I will be able to share my experience with others.

During the last few years Hempstead Bank has grown from a single office in Hempstead to an organization with nine offices in Nassau County.

One nice thing about this growth is the nice things customers tell us about our staff at these offices.

And the nicest thing customers say is they feel welcome every time they come in to do business or for information.

The welcome mat is always out—and extends right up to every desk and window at every office. Walk in some day soon.
