Four ballots were blank and five were voided.

SCHOOL BOARD CALLS FOR BIDS:

Offer Pre-Fab Bonus To Speed Class Units

HICKSVILLE — During a three-hour special School Board meeting, Saturday afternoon, the way was cleared for progress on construction of 40 additional classrooms with the adoption of a bond resolution and setting of dates for receipt of bids. A penalty-bonus arrangement on delivery of the pre-fabricated class units is incorporated in the bid advertisement. Board members Joseph Cawley and Arthur L. Elrich, on vacation, were absent.

To speed up construction of the additional class rooms approved by voters on Aug. 13, the Board will take separate bids on pre-fabricated units.

While final plans are being drawn for the location of the classes and attachment to existing buildings, pre-fabricated units will be bid. Board President, Emil J. Szendy pointed out that mass production of these units should result in a better price.

Plans are to be ready by Sept. 21. Bids on the 4-unit Lee Ave. addition will be taken Sept. 13 with delivery of pre-fabs Oct. 22 to Nov. 12.

The pre-fabricated 4 units for Lee Ave. are due Oct. 22 and a bonus of $50 a day will be earned for delivery between Oct. 15, and 22 and a penalty charged after that date. On the 36 units, the bonus period is Nov. 5 to 12 with the penalty charged after Nov. 12.

All votes on Saturday's meeting were unanimous. Present besides President Szendy were Trustees Carpenter, Elwood Kent, Robert Eaton and Habel R. Farley.

The Board is expected to hold a special meeting this Friday night, Sept. 7.

Anxious Youth Gets Into Navy

HEMPSTEAD — About a year ago, Kenneth J. Doyno, of 7 Valley Court, Hicksville, came knocking at the door of Chief Quartermaster Munson S. Dorais, USN, the local Navy Recruiter.

"How do I join the Navy?" he asked. "First you will have to be 17 years old. Then you will have to pass the mental and physical examinations, and your father will have to sign the Consent Forms," the Chief replied.

Kenneth was only 16 so he settled down to wait until he was 17. Only he didn't wait patiently. He constantly tried to devise some method of persuading the Navy to let him in ahead of his 17 birthday. He asked—if there was any way that he could slip around the age requirement. Maybe the Recruiting Station could make a little mistake in his age? It just isn't possible to make such a mistake. Maybe he could get in a little ahead of time? Not possible.

When the Long Island Companies were being formed he came over to Chief Dorais' house to see if it were possible to get in one of them. Not possible. Come around about two or three weeks before you are 17, Ken.

Finally on Aug. 29 he came to the Recruiting Station here to make his application for the Navy. This time the Navy will accept his application, because he will be 17 on Sept. 12, and the Navy expects to "Ship him in", Sept. 13.

BESIDES RUNNING TOURNAMENT:

Fire Dept Had Busy Day

HICKSVILLE — While the Labor Day firemen's tournament was going on here, Monday, the local volunteer firemen had a busy day with four ambulance calls and three fire alarms, including one in which a volunteer suffered from smoke poisoning and was hospitalized.

Joseph Quinn, 75, of North Bellmore, was taken to Meadowbrook Hospital at about 1:30 PM after he suffered a fatal heart attack at the tournament course on Levittown Parkway.

Three hours later, the ambulance rolled again when Hazel Maubo, age 32, of 25 Cherry Lane, suffered a fatal heart attack. She was removed to Mid-Island Hospital, Bethpage.

Meanwhile a fire was discovered at the Good Bar Ice Cream warehouse at Newbridge Road and Duffy Ave. causing considerable damage. In this fire, Edward Glinka suffered smoke poisoning. The fire occurred at 5:58 and at seven o'clock Dr. Walter M. Stillger ordered Glinka removed from the firehouse to Nassau Hospital, Mineola, in the fire ambulance.

There was an oil burner alarm at the home of Mrs. Warganz, 135 Blueberry Lane, at 7:19 and a call for a car on fire at Duffy and Newbridge at 7:56 PM.

The fire ambulance, manned on Monday by John Specht, Guy Smith and John Smith, Jr., made a final run at 7:40 PM when Bonnie Esposito, 9 1/2, of East Meadow was taken to Meadowbrook Hospital. She apparently suffered a head injury in falling off the grandstand at the course.

Bethpage Fire Dept. ambulance stood by to assist the local firemen at the course and they handled a call when a novelty vendor at the racing course apparently suffered a heart attack. He was taken to Meadowbrook and then released.

Throughout the day there were numerous cases treated for bruises and injured firemen and spectators. There were 15 American Red Cross first aiders at the course under the leadership of Kenneth Gerard.

A man's chief liability is his ability to make excuses.

Dear Jean:

Here's one for the book, from the Hicksville Kiwanis Bulletin: PAT CAPUTO, owner of Rite Fuel Corp., won the net low for the day at the inter-service club golf tournament at Brookville last week. The prize: 50 gallons of fuel oil delivered by GREGO BROS. and a year's free oil burner service by LOU SMITH. . . JOHN YENICK reports a fishing expedition with CHARLES KLEVANSKY on Labor Day and the fact that the party (consisting of three) caught 60 fluke. . . During the lightning-storm on Aug. 28, a bolt hit the HARRY STEWART garage on 20th St., Jericho. The lightning went thru the electric line to the main switch. The Jericho firemen answered the call at the home of the fire commissioner. No one was injured. . . Residents of Seymour Lane, opposing a garden apartment near them, claim nearly 1,000 signatures in opposition. . . ISAAC PENNER of Cantigue Rd., Hicksville, has instructed his attorney to proceed with legal action in court regarding the Town Board approval of an industrial zone in his neighborhood. . . Local residents are getting a form letter stating that "a friend" has entered their name for a subscription to a Bethpage paper. The "friend" is not named, but could it be WALLY WALLING? . . . JACK SCHRIER of 10 Eileen Ave., Hicksville, heads a new organization called Industrial Marketing Associates formed to serve the technical advertising and sales promotion of industrial firms in the aircraft, electronic and allied fields. . . When it reached 7 o'clock Monday evening, the county judges were ready to call the Labor Day tournament a day. Seven out of eight events had been completed. However, about 1,000 spectators in the stands began to chant "We want the bucket," "We want the bucket" and with the concurrence of the racing team captains, the bucket contest was held, finishing in the dark with floodlights. Plainview had a tough break in this final event. Just as they finished the judges discovered there were 13 men on the team instead of the limited 12 and they were disqualified. . . Mr. and Mrs. CLIFFORD PLACE celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary last week by going to — of all places — Niagara Falls.

The CRAIG WALSHs, formerly of Hicksville, mailed us a copy of the Chinese World from San Francisco. Most of it is printed in Chinese. . . Local Soroptimists who attended the Soroptimist convention at the Waldorf, recently, included GRACE FLIPPINGER and PEG SMITH. The organization is comprised of women leaders of the business and professional world. . . A fifteen-year-old girl, spending the summer here on vacation from Peekskill, died in Meadowbrook Hospital last week three days after she apparently swallowed 250 phenobarbital tablets. She went in a coma and never regained consciousness. . .

JOE McNAMARA, one of the staunchest workers in the North West Civic Assoc. of Hicksville, broke his foot at the Aug. 12 picnic of the Assoc. and will be laid up for weeks. JEAN LOWITZ, former recording secretary of the same organization, is in the hospital recovering from a serious operation. . . The Clam Bake at the fireman's tournament, arranged by HAWKIE'S Boys of Co. 6, was something new and proved popular. The vamps dug 30 bushels of clams — in Levittown, some was suggested. . . Great deal of excitement at East St. School playground, Sunday afternoon, when a youngsters fell from a slide and was apparently seriously injured. The boy's parents refused to permit his removal to the hospital for more than an hour, apparently because of their religious beliefs. . .

School Attorney HARRY GOEBEL was host for luncheon at Mineola to the committee who spent a tiresome morning checking the voting machines on the Aug. 18 election at the Board of Elections. The job took hours and proved nothing except that the originally announced tally was the same as that found by the committee when they looked at each one of the 14 voting machines which will remain sealed until Sept. 18. . . GRUMMAN Aircraft has received a five and a half million dollar contract from Indonesia for the production of amphibians. . .

Our sincerest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. FELIX BUDZENSKI of W. Nicholas St., Hicksville, on the recent death of their brother-in-law, JOSEPH KLOTKOWSKI, 84, of Albertson. Sympathy also to the Budzinski children, Mrs. PAUL YURA of Hicksville, Mrs. WILLIAM WAGNER of Plainview and FRANK BUDZENSKI of Glen Cove. . . Both Mr. and Mrs. M. Rotary Speaker On Security Laws

JERICHO — The guest speaker at the Hicksville Rotary Club meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 6, at the Milleridge Inn, here, was Sanford Blumenthal, Manager of the Huntington District Office of the Social Security Administration. The subject of his talk on old-age and survivors insurance was particularly timely as a result of the sweeping changes in the Social Security law enacted on Aug. 1, 1956.

Following his explanation of the extension of coverage to professional people, the payment of cash disability benefits at age 50, the payments of benefits to women at age 62, and other features of the 1956 amendments, Blumenthal answered questions raised by Rotary members.

Committee Makes Check of Machines

MINEOLA — A group of nine citizens, each designated by one or more of the four candidates in the Aug. 18 special election for Hicksville School Trustees, accompanied by School Attorney Harry Goebel spent three hours in the Board of Elections building, here, Friday morning, checking the results recorded on 14 voting machines.

Their efforts, reported at the School Board meeting on Friday night, indicated no material change from the results announced to the public on the night of Aug. 18 and published in detail in the Mid-Island Herald on Aug. 23.

The visitation of the delegation resulted from allegations and hints of possible irregularities voiced at the Board meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 23, by defeated candidate Thomas C. Affrunti.

All candidates were invited to be present at the examination of the machines as well as their representatives. Affrunti, who had been defeated by 21 votes, and sought to make an issue about examination of the records, was not present.

The study of each of the 14 voting machines, used in the Hicksville election and loaned by the County of Nassau which will remain sealed until Sept. 18 (and longer if a court order is produced) was assisted by Carl Reinz, custodian of the hundreds of voting machines.

The only slight difference between the recording taken by the delegation and the tally filed with the School Board by the inspectors and tellers was noted on Machine No. 54563 used in East St. School.

There it was found Robert Goodrich, running against Mabel Farley, was recorded on that machine with 80 votes while the official tally said 79; Proposition 1 was credited on the voting machine with 83 "yes" votes while the tally read 82 "yes", and Proposition 2 on the machine showed 66 "yes" while the score sheet said 65 "yes".

The differences were explained by Goebel as being noted in the records of the tellers' and district clerk. One female voter had insisted that the machine had not functioned properly and the tally was adjusted.

Taking part in the trip to study the machines were Raymond Schenck of 23 Rover Lane, E. Irving Jessor of 16 Raymond St., Jean Faichney of 36 Violet Ave., Anne Balfour of 28 Boulevard Dr., Marion Pritchard of 120 Winter Lane (accompanied by 3 small children), Mrs. James Donovan of 10 Spray Lane, Charles Krumenmacher of 215 Newbridge Rr., Mrs. Irene Gilchrist of 20 Francis Lane and Fred J. Noeth of 22 Twinlawn Ave.

The check-up included a recording of the individual votes cast for each candidate and proposition on each machine, the tally of votes cast for the day on the public counter, the reading of the permanent counters and comparison with the permanent counter reading prior to the vote, and the listing of the seal numbers.

The final figures, the total of 14 machines, were:

For Trustee:
Mabel R. Farley — 1,637
Robert Goodrich — 1,404
(3,041 votes cast)

For Trustee:
Thomas Affrunti — 1,479
Elwood S. Kent Sr. — 1,500
(2,979 votes cast)

Proposition No. 1
Yes 1,535 No 1,462
(2,997 votes cast)

Proposition No. 2
Yes 1,502 No 1,165
(2,667 votes cast)

The voting machines involved were: Burns Ave. School, 56271 and

5 Citizens Check Books

HICKSVILLE—Five people, in the company of District Clerk Walter F. Schlicting and two Board Trustees spent three hours Saturday morning at the Administration Bldg. going over the registration of voters on the Aug. 18 election. They included Harold Silvestri, Alan Campbell, Henry Linsky, Fred J. Noeth and Emil Waxburg. Board members present most of the time were Emil J. Szendy and Allen Carpenter.

56289; East St., 56289 and 54563; Woodland Ave., 56280 and 54575; Lee Ave., 54450 and 54454; Park Lane, 56299 and 54571; Dutch Lane, 56292 and 56262; Old Country Road, 56301 and 54449.

Reason for satisfaction is found in the news that spending in fiscal 1957 will be reduced to $388 per capita, $81 lower than the last Democrat seal year of 1953.

INDUSTRIES OF HICKSVILLE:

Amperex, Another Concern In Communications Field

By EILEEN WOLF KATZ

HICKSVILLE — Inside the Amperex Electronic Corp. plant at 230 Duffy Ave., here, about 300 employees do "ammonia-cracking," purify parts in hot hydrogen gas, mold glass, plate parts with rare and valuable metals like gold, silver and barium, and a good many other interesting manufacturing processes, all part of the manufacture of electronic tubes.

Almost none of the Amperex products are ever seen by the consumer. This, and security restrictions placed on the company for secret work it does for the armed services, have cloaked the modern brick factory from intimate public knowledge of what goes on behind its walls.

Also, the company is not owned locally. It is a subsidiary of North American Philips Co., a group of American companies owned by a Holland firm, Philips Gloeilampenfabrieken, sometimes called "the G. E. of Europe."

Actually, not all of the company's production is guarded by federal security restrictions. Only 40% is devoted to development work and the production of radar magnetron tubes. This production area is caged off from the rest of the plant, and only screened employees may enter and work there.

Another 50% is the making of transmitting tubes for radio stations and power tubes for industry. Another 10% includes a large variety of tubes — for X-ray and diathermy machines, Geiger counters, Hi Fi sets and hearing aids, and others. The company was the first to begin mass production of Geiger counter tubes. It has also made contributions in making radar tubes longer-lasting.

An electronic tube changes an electric impulse it receives into an impulse which humans are able to sense, such as a light, or a sound, or mechanical energy, or it can do the reverse process. In the case of transmitting tubes, it is the reverse process, changing sound into electronic impulses. X-ray tubes change the impulse into an emission of a particular kind of ray.

Tubes Up To $2100

Amperex Corp. began with the manufacture of motion picture tubes. Now the company makes an almost endless variety of tubes, in shape, size, price and use. It makes hearing aid tubes which sell for one or two dollars, and high power transmission tubes which sell for $2,100 each.

Some of the tubes are gold-plated to prevent their outer parts from oxidizing. Strange as it seems to an outsider, gold is the most economical metal which has been found for this purpose, when the plating process is considered.

Silver, barium and zirconium are other scarce metals plated onto tube parts. When silver, a good electric conductor, coats a tube part, it heightens what electricians call "the skin effect." This effect is the tendency of the impulse to travel along the outside of the filament rather than its core.

Large tubes which generate a lot of heat when current is going through them are put in water jackets or air-coolers by the Amperex people. Magnets, larger than the tubes themselves, are fastened onto magnetron tubes.

The inside of an electronic tube is a vacuum and all the parts have to be free from "contamination," with foreign particles. The parts are purified by being put in furnaces of hot hydrogen gas. They emerge smooth and clean.

The row of hydrogen furnaces in the plant look like miniature blast furnaces because flames spurt out of small openings in them. This is escaping hydrogen, which is ignited by a fire kept burning just under the opening. If the hydrogen were allowed to escape without being burned it might cause a fire, because of its high inflammability. The company has not had a fire since it came here in 1953.

Manual Work

Most of the tube manufacturing is manual. According to Myron Smoller, manager of advertising and sales promotion, there have been many improvements in power electronic tubes themselves in the past 30 years, but scarcely any in the manufacturing methods. The plating, glass formation, etc. are still not automatic.

About 75 of the 300 company employees are from the mid-Island area. Most receive their training after they are hired. There are twice as many men working for Amperex as women. Occasionally the company has recruited help from the local high schools. Martin G. Wolfert, director of personnel and plant security, estimated that the company has hired about 24 employees through the schools.

Wolfert said that so many plants have located along Duffy Ave., that the employees who work there could make a bus route profitable. Drives of workers walk long distances to and from trains and buses on Newbridge and Jerusalem Rds., he said.

Wolfert recalled that many of the surrounding plants were built after Amperex moved here, such as Sanita Paper Products and Alan Manufacturing Co.

The clean atmosphere here was one reason for the company's coming out to Hicksville, according to Smoller. Since 1930, when Amperex was founded, it had been located under the Brooklyn Bridge. A coffee plant and peanut-roasting plant nearby filled the air with dust, which made it hard to keep Amperex's manufacture free from dirt.

Also, Smoller said, the company wanted to have more room, all on one level. Here it has 100,000 sq. ft., far more than it had had in Brooklyn, where the company was housed on various floors of two buildings.

Amperex can now perform some steps in tube production which it did not have room for in Brooklyn. One of these is "ammonia-cracking" to make the hydrogen gas used in the plant's purification furnaces. The process is housed in a separate building here. It separates hydrogen from the nitrogen-hydrogen combination (NH₃) which composes ammonia.

The Hicksville plant is the only plant belonging to the company. Amperex is one of several firms here in the communications industry, including Press Wireless, Inc., and O. E. McIntyre.

The Staff Officers of our Post will attend a Testimonial Dinner for the Past Nassau County VFW Commander Philip C. Pecorella, on Sept. 26. Our Post had the honor and the pleasure of having Past Commander Pecorella attend one of our meetings during his year in office.

All interest and prospective bowlers — please contact our Entertainment Chairman George Walden immediately so that the respective teams and nights can be arranged.

The Post is making elaborate plans for an immense social evening on Saturday night, Sept. 17. All members are cordially invited to set this night aside and plan to attend. Commander Klein promises a most enjoyable time for all. Further plans will be announced at a later date.

Our membership chairman announced another new member for Post 3211 — Charles Sepanaki a recent newcomer to our town. Welcome, Charles, and we hope you will find 3211 the Post you have been looking for.

To the surprise of everyone present at the last meeting was the visit of Walter Aydent, who was just dismissed from the hospital the Thursday previous. Walter appeared rather shaky but well on the road to recovery.

Once in awhile a member who has been absent from meetings for quite some time due to business or other personal reasons, puts in an appearance. Last meeting night it was Jack Freitag. Nice seeing and talking with you Jack and here's hoping we will see you more often.

The Charles Wagner Post, American Legion, have invited all post members to attend the installation of their newly elected officers at their clubhouse on East Nicholas St., on Saturday evening, Sept. 8. Make a special effort fellows because our comrades are doing a real bang up job in their respective organization. 3211 extends to one and all of their newly elected officers our best wishes for a most prosperous year ahead and always. At the last regular meeting of the Post, it was unanimously agreed upon to give to our member Alfred Wengenheim, who is spending sometime in England, a year's subscription to the MID-ISLAND HERALD, so that he might not only be kept abreast of our VFW happenings, but also the up to the minute news items in and about our town. This will be the first copy of this great paper to go overseas to him. Be assured you fellows couldn't have picked a finer paper.

All members of 3211 are reminded of the great heritage we have in voting. Each and everyone of you gave of your time and talents in the Armed Forces of these United States protecting this great land of ours and especially the right of free men to vote as their conscience directs them. You would not buy a new car without at least driving it around the block. You wouldn't buy a new house without checking up on the neighborhood, the schools, and any back taxes. So don't vote in the dark in this exciting election year? Listen to ALL candidates. Read your newspapers, talk things over with your neighbors and think about the issues and candidates, and then make up your own mind.

Bethpage School Sets Schedule for New Fall Term

BETHPAGE—Supervising Principal Victor L. Miller announces that the schools here will open on Monday, Sept. 10th. All elementary classes, Grades 1 through 6, will operate on a divided session, the first from 8:15 A. M. to 12 Noon and the second from 12:15 P. M. to 4 P. M. Kindergarten classes will be on three sessions, 8:30 to 10:30 A. M., 11 A. M. to 1 P. M. and 1:30 to 3:30 P. M.

The High School, Grades 7 through 12, will be on full time, 8:30 A. M. to 3 P. M. All classes for the new Kramer Lane School have been organized and until the building is available these classes will be assigned to space in the Central Blvd., Pine Avenue and Powell Avenue Schools. The teacher of each class will start with her own group in September and remain with the group when each is transferred to the new building.

TEMPORARY PLAN

In order that the Kramer Lane children can be taken care of in the best way possible, all of the facilities of the Pine Ave. School were made available and as many children as possible were assigned to this school. Having made use of every room of the Pine Ave. School, the remaining children have been distributed to the Powell Ave. and Central Blvd. Schools. As a result, certain children who appear to be relatively close to the Pine Ave. School will of necessity have to be transported to other schools until the Kramer Lane building is made available.

To equalize the enrollments of the Pine Ave. and Kramer Lane Schools a very careful study was made of the area, Mr. Miller said. As a result, children within walking distance of these schools were assigned to the school nearest to their home. Beyond the walking area the students will be transported by bus.

All children who were not notified in June of the school they will attend, will be notified by mail before school opens. Children in the transportation area will be advised of their bus stops.

Next Monday, Sept. 10, the High School, grades 7 through 12, will attend school from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. Starting Tuesday, Sept. 11, all High School pupils will attend the full day session. Seventh and eighth grade classes will be housed in the Central Blvd. School until such time as the addition to the Broadway High School Building is completed. All Grades 9 through 12 will be in the Broadway Building.

CURRENT COMMENT:

Restoring Public Trust

By Fred J. Noeth

WE DEVOTED ABOUT 20 HOURS, Wednesday to Saturday of last week, to "covering" Hicksville School Board meetings and participating in a review of records and matters relating to the Aug. 18th referendum. A vast amount of this time was a wasteful expenditure of energy and time unless it served to restore complete confidence in our concept of majority decision.

This was the timetable:

Wednesday night, Aug. 29—Special meeting of School Board during which defeated candidate and former district clerk Thomas Affrunti harangued the Board regarding the election records. As the result of his hints and allegations, an inspection of the sealed voting machines and the registration books was arranged. All four candidates in the Aug. 18 election were invited to appoint representatives on permanent committees.

Friday morning, Aug. 31—Committee of nine people with School Attorney Harry Goebel spent more than three hours at the Board of Elections warehouse taking down the data on voting machine counters and comparing them with the tally sheets of Aug. 18.

Friday night and early Saturday morning, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1—Board member Joseph Cawley, who was absent Aug. 29, squandered two hours in a private inspection of the election records in the company of District Clerk W. F. Schlichting and then declined to approve the records of the Aug. 18 vote tally.

Saturday morning, Sept. 1—Five citizens (including one each representing the candidates and Mrs. Emily Waxberg for herself) spent another three hours, this time at the Administration Building counting the names of persons who signed the voter register on Aug. 18 and comparing these tallies with the records of votes cast.

Saturday afternoon, Sept. 1—Board meeting of Aug. 31 was continued for another three hours with Cawley not present.

The net result of all the examinations and record checking was to prove conclusively the accuracy of the tallies made known after the polls closed on Aug. 18. Nothing was changed, materially.

However, besides the wasteful squandering of people's time in a detailed re-examination of what was already an accomplished fact, the entire incident left the voting public with the impression that something had been done improperly in the first place.

In a nutshell, it is our considered opinion that some folks did not like the way the referendum and/or election of Aug. 18 turned out. The warmly contested proposition to build 36 additional and urgently needed classroom units was approved by the voters. The vote was 1,535 "yes" and 1,462 "no". The difference was 73 votes. The results were clear and the voters certainly voiced their decision at the polling places.

But this same attitude of "let's try it again" was apparent on the question of building permanent schools last year. In March, 1955, a referendum was held and the costly permanent buildings were turned down (Willet Ave.) with 1,115 "yes" and 1,147 "no". Advocates of those structures were not satisfied. They insisted upon a new referendum, charging that voters had not been sufficiently informed, etc. So another vote took place in November on substantially the same questions. This time the number voting was greater, but the net outcome was the same with (Willet Ave. proposal) 1,726 "yes" and 1,895 "no".

Most thinking people are prepared to accept the decision of the voters at the ballot box. History is filled with incidents where greater issues have been decided by a single vote.

Why this persistence to re-submit and to undermine the integrity of elections which, in effect, could undermine our entire democratic process of free elections?

Affrunti said Wednesday night he was not charging fraud in the Aug. 18 election. Professor Joseph Maloney, who held forth at the Aug. 29 meeting also insisted that he was not charging fraud. However, the insinuations and allegations have draped a cloud of suspicion and distrust over the conduct of free and open elections in our community. We await—and we fear it will be a long, long wait—a public statement from Affrunti and others involved in this business clearing the air and restoring public confidence in the integrity of the people who conducted the election as delegated officials and in the final expression of the voters themselves behind the green curtain of the voting machines.

HERALD READER OPINION:

Attack Upon CYO Unjustified

By Rev. Lawrence F. Hallweg
To the Editor:

Last week's issue of the Mid-Island Herald carried a letter that must have been read by thousands of people of Hicksville. Many of them, no doubt, are familiar with our Catholic Youth Organization and realize that the slurs and insinuations of that letter are absolutely unjustified. Many others, however, who are not familiar with our organization may conclude from last week's letter that the CYO is a disreputable, untidy, undisciplined group of invaders who periodically trespass on Dutch Lane Field without the knowledge nor authorization of the School Board and then, having worked their havoc, depart until another day.

The purpose of this letter is simply to correct such false impressions. I, too, witnessed the games played at Dutch Lane Field by the teams of 7 and 8 year old boys who proudly wear "ST. IGNATIUS CYO" on their uniforms. These second and third grade boys had previously played their games at the Junior High School Field. When the construction began at the Junior High School the CYO was authorized to use the Dutch Lane School Fields. I am happy to state that, despite the inconvenience involved, when the entire League was transferred to Dutch Lane where the facilities in no way compared to those previously enjoyed the change was made without complaint or criticism. The men and boys of the CYO are gratified for the opportunities afforded by the School Board for recreation. They are also sympathetic with the problem of assigning the desired facilities to the numerous baseball Leagues in town.

At Dutch Lane the men in charge of these CYO midgets improved fields. They played on assigned areas that should not have been used for baseball because of the rough and pebbly terrain. However, these were the areas assigned and our CYO sandloters experienced some of the most exciting moments of their young lives on these fields. I'm sure also that the few interested mothers and fathers who had the interest and took the trouble to come to the games also enjoyed themselves. My only complaint would be that there weren't enough of such spectators.

If the author of the letter to the Mid-Island Herald had viewed the CYO program at closer range he would have witnessed the seeds of Americanism and good sportsmanship already beginning to sprout in these little CYOers. Each game began with a prayer. Each game ended with both teams meeting to offer congratulations and condolences. I have been very much impressed with the spirit of good sportsmanship instilled in these youngsters by their coaches. The CYO has as its purpose to make our boys more American and more Christlike. In the baseball, football and basketball programs conducted by the CYO our youngsters are taught the basic virtues of honesty, truthfulness and charity through competitive sports.

To the author of the letter to the Mid-Island Herald the highly organized members of the CYO are a noisy, disorganized, untidy group of scoundrels. To me they are an organization of well-disciplined youngsters being taught true Americanism through the American pastime. A great deal depends on a person's point of view.

Two men looked out from behind prison bars. One saw mud — the other saw stars.

The gentleman who wrote the letter to the Mid-Island Herald saw red. Many others see red, white and blue. The School Board saw these colors when they granted permission to these youngsters to use the improved fields at Dutch Lane. So do the thousands of others who witness the various CYO activities during the year.

Many have paid high and fitting tribute to the organization and discipline of the boys of the CYO. After a recent game witnessed by a CYO contingent at Ebbets Field, the boys were highly complimented by the usher in charge. "They are the best group of boys I have ever seen," he stated.

Mr. Chet Jaworski, in charge of Physical Education at Hicksville High School, has told me personally that he has great respect and admiration for George Maguire the President of the CYO Athletic Assoc.

Last year the CYO entered the

Letters To The Editor

Long Island Midget Football League. The team and its management was highly complimented throughout the season for the discipline, good sportsmanship and good manners of the team. The high regard of the rest of the League for the St. Ignatius CYO was shown when Jim Hood of St. Ignatius, after a single year of participation in the LIMEFL, was appointed Vice-President of the League and the administrator of the Northern Section.

The principal and attendants at Port Lane School where the CYO played basketball during the past year were generous in their praise of the well-mannered, well-disciplined and tidy CYO. The person in

President, St. Ignatius CYO
Athletic Assoc.

To the Editor:

Last Thursday evening as I was thumbing through the Mid-Island Herald, I came upon an article which deeply disturbed me, headed, "Objects to Pleading at Ball Field".

The disturbing part of this letter was the fact that Hicksville CYO, associated with St. Ignatius Parish, was not supervised and that the boys just yell-yell-yell. I have followed CYO teams from Hicksville all over Nassau, Queens and Kings County. The list of sports directors, field supervisors, custodians of fields and schools including the attendants at Ebbets Field who have complimented the St. Ignatius CYO on the behavior of the boys, the caliber of the supervision of the boys and above all the obedience, sportsmanship and cleanliness of the boys is impressive.

This past baseball season over 500 boys were kept busy learning the fundamentals of baseball in addition to actually playing the games. I would like to outline the procedure used in teaching these boys.

We will take as an example one typical ball field where one league plays. One man who has organizational experience with both children and adults is put in charge of the field. This man handles all the equipment, disputes and schedules for the teams that play at his field. If any manager or coach of a St. Ignatius CYO team doesn't conform to the strict code of ethics of the organization he is summarily relieved of his job by the field manager and isn't allowed on a field until a decision is rendered by the moderator and board of directors on his conduct.

Managers of the teams playing on this field before they even teach the boys the fundamentals of the sport, instruct the boys on the purpose of the CYO which is as follows:

The purpose of the CYO is to give Catholic boys and opportunity for athletic activity. The object of such activity is to develop the Boys in 4 ways: Spiritually, Socially, Mentally and Physically:

1. SPIRITUALLY: By teaching, in a very concrete way, basic spiritual values such as Humility, Self Control, Obedience and so on.
2. SOCIALLY: By teaching how to get along with his fellowmen and how to work for the common good rather than for one's self.
3. MENTALLY: By teaching how to achieve victory fairly, through strategy, over a more capable opponent.
4. PHYSICALLY: By developing the bodily powers through healthy, supervised sport.

This fourfold educative purpose must always be kept in mind by the Boys and the Men directing and supervising such activities. The physical development is the least important purpose of such activity. The CYO is not interested solely in developing better athletes. It is interested in developing better men, better citizens, better Catholics. Such development may be the result of repeated victory achieved through team play and will to win or it may be the result of defeat graciously accepted despite the same effort for victory. The desire to win must always be present but never at the sacrifice of some nobler purpose.

The fourfold purpose of the St. Ignatius CYO as outlined above is the main reason that St. Ignatius CYO has been complemented in Nassau, Queens and Kings Counties for the basic development, behavior and obedience of its boys.

The above statements clearly indicate why I was deeply disturbed at the aforementioned article appearing in the Mid-Island Herald.

charge of the grounds at Dutch Lane School also complimented the CYO for its organization, discipline and tidiness.

Approximately 500 boys in Hicksville wear the emblem of St. Ignatius CYO. They wear that emblem proudly and they wear it well or they do not wear it at all. I do not attempt to justify the actions and conduct of each boy wearing that uniform but I can personally vouch for the organization, the discipline and the respect of the entire body. If I entertained any doubts about this I would dissolve the CYO immediately. I entertain no such doubts. I am proud of the 100 men who are members of the CYO Athletic Association, the women who assist them and the youngsters who are part of this wonderful organization and I am sure that all those who are familiar with this program share my sentiments.

Finds Attic No Example

To the Editor

By JOHN J. THOMPSON
In the Aug. 2 edition of the MID-ISLAND HERALD a letter from Mary Doakes drew a comparison between temporary schools and finishing the attic in the home when the family unexpectedly increases. On first reading the parallel seemed reasonable and valid. Second thoughts, however, soon showed that the analogy was both incorrect and dangerous.

A bedroom, after all, performs a different function than a classroom. In today's society there is no more important need than a good education. One's whole life course can be fundamentally affected by the quality of education received. On the other hand it is certainly possible to make do with an attic bedroom without in anyway permanently injuring one's children.

The psychological impact on educating children in make-shift, temporary, unsafe buildings will inevitably be tremendous. If the children are aware, as they are bound to be, that their parents do not value education highly enough to provide them with attractive, safe buildings in which to obtain that education, they are bound to react by not taking their education very seriously either.

The analogy is also incorrect in that the attic bedroom is as safe as the rest of the house from fire, but if insurance companies are to be believed, such is not the case with temporary school buildings.

The addition of the attic is probably in fact cheaper than buying a new house. In the long run just the opposite is true with temporary school buildings. Temporaries at best will cost only slightly less than permanents in terms of dollars and cents. In terms of education, temporaries will cost immeasurably more in terms of the future happiness and success of our children. To reason by analogy may be clever, it is not necessarily sound.

Town Board Adopts Cesspool Rules

Protection for homeowners of the township is increased under a new amendment to the Oyster Bay Town building code regarding the construction of cesspools, it was disclosed today. The amendment was adopted by the Town Board this week.

A public hearing on the proposed amendment was held Aug. 14 at Oyster Bay Town Hall with Supervisor Lewis N. Waters presiding.

The new amendment provides that "All cesspools or leaching pools requiring cement block courses deeper than fifteen (15) feet below the finished grade shall be prohibited unless such cesspools or leaching pools shall be constructed of "Pre-Cast" sections."

Supervisor Waters pointed out that the Town Board has been concerned with the present method of constructing cesspools for some time and had instituted a study of construction methods prior to the adoption of the amendment to the building code.

The new amendment to the building code requires that contractors "shall fence" every opening and at night shall place warning lights at the site during construction of the cesspools.

Are You Cleaning House?

If you are, we won't stop you but one idea for you as you clean. Keep your eyes open for possible causes of fire: quick-burning junk like old clothes, cast-off furniture and newspapers... overloaded electric wiring. A clean house seldom burns. Make yourself and your family fire-conscious, and remember:

DON'T GIVE FIRE A CHANCE TO START

If you're saving for your independence...

...where you save does make a difference

Every advantage counts when you're saving for your "Independence Day." That's why it pays to put your savings in an insured Savings and Loan Association. You benefit by many important advantages. Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Efficient service from men who know how to make your dollars work harder for you is another. And, of course, your money is safe because in insured Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government. These are the reasons why Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else! Whether you're saving for an "Independence Day"... or a "rainy day"... visit your nearby insured Association tomorrow.

thrifty to buy your new FORD truck
NOW!

- ① Prices are low—rising steel prices have not raised truck prices, yet. Ford trucks at today's low, low prices are the value of the year.
- ② Really big trade-in allowances—we're glad to trade... and are giving high, generous allowances for any truck you may have.
- ③ Outstanding truck selection—Ford builds over 500 truck models from pickups to Big Diesels. Choose the right truck for your particular needs from our big selection.
- ④ Save on operating costs—Ford's low-friction Short Stroke power and rugged chassis are designed for gas and oil economy, and to reduce downtime and major repairs.

Ford Trucks cost less!

Ford initial costs are low. Smart truck buyers also know that Ford on-the-job costs are low.

No other comparable trucks can beat Ford-pioneered Short Stroke engines for gas and oil economy. And with Ford, you get Short Stroke power in every truck—V-8 or Six.

Day-in, day-out dependability is another major reason why Ford trucks cost less. It means less downtime, lower repair costs, more work output.

And take durability—Ford trucks are built stronger to last longer. For the tenth consecutive year, insurance experts have proved that Ford trucks last longer. This accounts, too, for Ford's traditionally high resale value.

Prevent Left-Turn Bottlenecks

HICKSVILLE — A traffic plan to prevent left-turn bottlenecks, believed to be the only one of its kind on the Eastern Seaboard, has been developed by Nassau County officials, bus transportation lines and the tenants and builders of Mid-Island Plaza, huge regional shopping center scheduled to open this fall on North Broadway, here.

Announcement of the unusual method of moving traffic into and out of the 110-acre shopping center on N. Broadway, four blocks north of the RR station, was made jointly yesterday by Stackler & Frank, builders and owners of Mid-Island Plaza; Ervin N. Hatch, director of the Dept. of Franchises of Nassau County, and officers of the Mid-Island Plaza Assoc., Inc., which represents the several score of tenants and employers of personnel in the big business center.

Considered to be the outstanding feature of the plan is a method to prevent vehicular traffic tie-ups caused by buses and automobiles making left turns into the bus terminal and parking fields on the west side of Broadway serving the ten buildings in that area.

The builders, who own 40 acres of land on the east side of Broadway, are now constructing a roadway on that property parallel with the main thoroughfare; then at right angles to this roadway and directly opposite the main entrance to Mid-Island Plaza, they are building another short road extending east and west and will install a traffic light at its intersection with Broadway.

Thus, buses and automobiles approaching from the south, and desiring to turn left into the shopping center, will enter the periphery roadway paralleling Broadway by an entrance from Broadway several hundred feet south of the traffic light. The vehicles will proceed north along this interior road, make their left turn onto the short east-west road, wait for the traffic light to turn green and then proceed directly across Broadway into the bus terminal and parking fields on the west side of the street.

"This arrangement," the builders said, "in effect is the same as if an east-west street intersected with Broadway at the main entrance to Mid-Island Plaza."

"Left turns into shopping centers," the statement continued, "constitute one of the biggest problems faced by officials concerned with keeping traffic moving along arterial highways. At some centers, vehicular traffic backs up for long distances while cars and buses at the head of the line wait to make left turns. Even then, only a few vehicles are able to make the turn because of on-coming traffic. No such problem will exist at Mid-Island Plaza," it is claimed.

Another part of the elaborate traffic plan, worked out by the builders, bus companies and county officials, is the movement of buses

Four bus companies, operating seven routes from all sections of Nassau County, western Suffolk, and, through connecting lines, serving Queens County, will enter Mid-Island Plaza. These buses will load and unload passengers within 50 or 60 feet of the main pedestrian mall within the shopping center.

This is believed by traffic experts to be the largest concentration of bus service within any regional shopping center in this part of the country.

Besides serving shoppers going to Mid-Island Plaza, the seven bus lines are expected to carry large numbers of people employed by the scores of retail stores and service establishments within the big shopping center. They will continue to maintain the present stops at the RR Station and other local points, it was learned.

URGE BUS RIDES

"All employees will be urged to ride the buses, rather than drive their own cars to work," the announcement of the traffic plan states. "When completed, Mid-Island Plaza will employ between 5,000 and 6,000 people, and it is not intended that large areas of parking space be devoted to employees' cars. For those employees who do drive their own cars to work, a separate parking section and entrance will be provided far removed from customer parking space."

It was pointed out that collaboration between the Nassau County Dept. of Franchises, and traffic experts employed by the builders of Mid-Island Plaza, "has resulted in making Hicksville a center of radiation for bus service, with the bus lines having their own distinct and exclusive points of entrance and exit with an absolute minimum of interference with other forms of vehicular traffic."

Traffic within the parking areas and on the roadways inside Mid-Island Plaza will be controlled by a private police force equipped with two-way radio on its motorcycles and automobiles.

"It's almost like living in the ocean..."

"Out here on the tip of Long Island, we're practically surrounded by the ocean. It's lovely—but pretty isolated, too. So you can imagine how important the telephone is to us! And even though we have some really bad storms, service is hardly ever affected. When it is, the telephone men get things fixed up fast. They know how much we depend on the phone—and them!"

MRS. CHRIS PFUND

Whether the job is big or little, a telephone call can be a help. That's why good telephone service and a good telephone system are so important. Few things that serve so well cost so very little as your telephone.

Everyone has a stake in good telephone service... today and tomorrow
