Parc Community Civics Near Legal Defense Goal

HICKSVILLE—The $1500 fund which new homeowners are raising for the legal defense of two Parc Community residents is only $500 short of the goal, according to Mrs. Peter Ferraro of 19 Terry St. Mrs. Ferraro and Dr. Sidney Berkowitz are the two residents being sued for $10,000 each by the builder for alleged damages.

Members of the Parc Community Civic Association have planned several events in order to raise the money. On Monday, Aug. 31, the group had a meeting at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Haumann of 11 Terry St. In order to achieve 100 per cent membership attendance at the meeting Dr. Berkowitz offered a Labor Day weekend trip as a door prize.

Mrs. Lee Grossman of 189 Willowood Dr., Wantagh, was the winner of the weekend at Lakeside Inn and Country Club at Ferndale, N. Y.

The group is planning a plastic party for Wednesday, Sept. 16, and a committee is working on a barn dance.

The accident occurred at Benkert St., 25 feet west of Broadway. Police reported the victim was in conversation with the occupant of a stopped auto when the accident occurred. Eugene Klueber of 6 Carson St was driving the fire apparatus. The woman was treated at the scene by Dr. Louis Luttge and removed to the hospital in the fire district ambulance.

Murals Decorate Bank Interior

HICKSVILLE—Five new murals grace the walls of the Bank of Hicksville, 65 Broadway. The colored photographs of familiar Long Island and New York scenes, were hung on Saturday, Aug. 29.

The pictures, taken by the Miller Mural Art Studios of Freeport, are of the Manhattan skyline from the Brooklyn Bridge; Sagamore Hill, the Theodore Roosevelt shrine in Oyster Bay; the water tower at Jones Beach; "Home Sweet Home," the John Howard Payne shrine near East Hampton, and a beach scene at Center Moriches.

These "new additions to the bank augment the decorating theme which was started last year with the mural of the Montauk Point Lighthouse.

Elderly Man Struck By Train

BETHPAGE—George A. Winkler, 71, of 6 Sheridan Ave was fatally injured when he was struck by a Long Island Rail Road train at the Broadway crossing at about 9:30 Sunday morning. He died an hour later in Meadowbrook Hospital. Dr. Louis Luttge administered emergency treatment at the scene. Walter Stephenson was engineer of the train.

School Bell Rings Again

HICKSVILLE—Wednesday, Sept. 9, is the day that area children have been waiting for, as a majority of them turn from summer activities to books and go back to school.

Local public schools along with schools of Bethpage, Plainview, and Jericho opened their doors Sept 9 for the new fall term.

St. Ignatius Parochial School will begin classes Monday, Sept 14.

SHOPPERS SURVEY PROVES Lack Of Parking Drives Business Out Of Town

HICKSVILLE—"Better parking facilities" is spelled out boldly and clearly by the shoppers of the community as the overwhelming reason why they shop in neighboring communities, according to the Survey of Shoppers' Opinion just completed. The survey was made by the Business Men's Assoc. in cooperation with the New York State Dept. of Commerce. While the conclusions reached in the report are not surprising to local community leaders, the damage being done to the economic development of Hicksville has been described as "shocking".

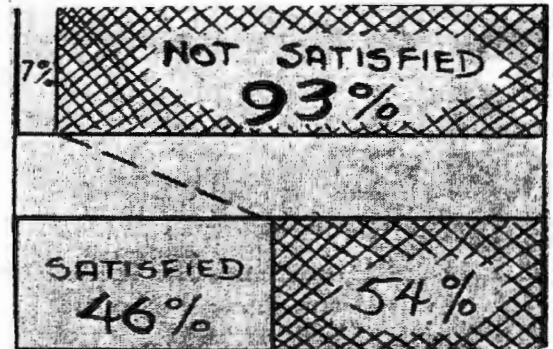

The report comes right to the point: "Hicksville merchants are losing more business to competitive communities than other Long Island communities survey."

It adds "Parking opportunities in Hicksville are evidently not comparable with those offered by competing communities; i.e., Levittown, Hempstead and Garden City. Of all suggestions from local residents to make Hicksville a better place in which to shop 'better parking facilities' lead all the rest. Two out of every three residents offering suggestions to improve Hicksville emphasized 'better parking'. Sixty-two percent of the respondents, twice as many as the average of other Long Island communities surveyed, indicated the chief reason for buying outside of Hicksville is 'easier parking' elsewhere.

"In other words, Hicksville will maintain its competitive position as a shopping community only if it is able to improve measurably and realistically its parking facilities in such a way that they are commensurate with facilities available in nearby competitive business areas."

The urgency is emphasized in other portions of the report: "A comparison of reason given by Hicksville residents with those found in comparable communities shows that the lack of adequate parking facilities and a wider assortment of merchandise is causing merchants to lose more business to Hicksville than in other Long Island communities surveyed. Thirty-one per cent more

HICKSVILLE SHOPPER OPINION

OTHER LONG ISLAND COMMUNITIES

Hicksville residents shop outside of Hicksville because of 'easier parking' than do residents of other communities."

This is also stressed in that part of the report on the use of autos for shopping. Seventy-eight per cent of those answering the questionnaire said they use the car in shopping. Only 15 per cent said they do not and seven per cent did not reply.

FEW SATISFIED

A tiny seven per cent said they were satisfied with parking conditions for shopping. But 93 per cent said they were not satisfied.

This has been compared with other Long Island communities (see chart with this article) where 46 per cent are satisfied in their communities and 54 per cent are not.

The survey sought to locate the areas where more parking is needed. The reply on banking was the poorest. Seventy-two per cent was not satisfied on parking for banking while six per cent was. Twenty-two per cent did not answer. Commuters came second with three per cent satisfied and 62 per cent not. Regarding the post office, 58 per cent were not

Crowds, Visiting Vamps Break Tourney Records

HICKSVILLE—All previous records for attendance were shattered at the 25th annual Labor Day Firemen's parade and tournament here yesterday (Monday). Police estimate 18,000 people lined the two-mile parade route and more than 12,000 were present on Levittown Parkway for the thrilling contests. Oyster Bay Rough Riders, winners of the recent state contests, captured the day's high point award nosing out Massapequa Indians.

NEW STATE RECORD

Oyster Bay, already the holder of three state records, shattered the mark in Motor Hose Class C formerly held by Bellmore, slaving the time down from 16:04 to 15:30 seconds.

North Bellmore and Oyster Bay equalled the state record for Motor Hook and Ladder Class C, 6 seconds flat. On the re-run, North Bellmore again evened the state record.

The tournament was held in cooperation with the Nassau County Firemen's Assoc. celebrating its golden anniversary. Weather conditions were ideal for the parade which numbered 5,795 firemen and auxiliary members, and for the six competitions. Spectators consumed the stock of 10,000 frankfurters before the events were finished.

The keen competition held spectator interest until the last event. As efficiency began, one point separated the Rough Riders and Indians. Oyster Bay added another point in efficiency to win the day with 18.5 points. Other final standings were: Massapequa 16.5, Great Neck Alerts 14.5, West Hempstead 7.5, North Bellmore 7.5, East Meadow 7, Hempstead Yellow Hornets 5.5, Syosset 4.5, Fort Washington

4, Garden City Park 2, Jericho 1.5 and Westbury 1.
Contest results were: Motor Hook and Ladder B, North Bellmore, 1st; Oyster Bay 2nd; Massapequa, 3rd; East Meadow, 4th; Westbury, 5th; Great Neck, 6th.

Motor Hook and Ladder Class C: East Meadow, 1st; Great Neck Alerts, 2nd; Oyster Bay, 3rd; Garden City Park, 4th; North Bellmore, 5th; Hempstead Hornets, 6th.

Motor Hose Class C: Oyster Bay, 1st new state record; Massapequa, 2nd; West Hempstead, 3rd; Great Neck, 4th; Hempstead Hornets, 5th; Oceanside 6th.

Motor Hose Class B: Massapequa, 1st; Port Washington, 2nd; Hempstead Hornets, 3rd; Jericho, 4th; Great Neck, 5th; East Norwich, 6th.

Motor Pump: Massapequa, 1st; Oyster Bay, 2nd; Great Neck 3rd; Syosset, 4th; Hempstead Hornets, 5th; East Meadow, 6th.

3 Get First Aid At Tournament

HICKSVILLE — Two firemen and a woman spectator were given emergency treatment at the firemen's tournament on Levittown Parkway, here, Monday afternoon. Dr. Walter M. Sulliger administered the first aid.

Margaret Potter, 21, of 169 Grand Blvd., Massapequa Park, suffered a bruised left shin. Police reported she apparently tripped and fell while ascending the east side grandstand.

James Martin, 29, of Vernon Ave., East Norwich, hurt his chest in the motor pump event and Lawrence Bennett, 26, of 177 Freeman Ave., Elmont suffered a chest injury in the efficiency event, the last of the day.

Dear Jean:

Customers of FRED WALTERS' Liquor Shop on W. Marie St., Hicksville, tell of the antics of the parakeet, petting known as "Half-Pint" who performs for all the patrons, Fred purchased the bird from Furry's Pet Shop next door.

Among the guests at the reception at 12nd St., New York City, following the marriage of BILL SILL of Hicksville, and DOLORES BAN of N. J. on Sunday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. James Edwardson and son, Mickey, Mrs. Edwardson's father; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Noeth, all of Hicksville. . . .

The Sunday News said that the public hearing on the Hicksville Home Rule vote petition will take place Sept. 19. We'd like to repeat that the date is Thursday, Sept. 17, at 10 o'clock in the morning. . . . The police did a fine job on Labor Day. The smooth-moving parade and the lack of traffic congestion in key points was a tribute to their efficient planning prior to the big day. . . . The Kiwanis bulletin says that the membership will see a 3-D movie at their Sept. 16 meeting at the Milleridge Inn. The Club will hold its chapter night Oct. 24 at the Hempstead Elks. . . . The line went around the corner for both the early and second showings on Friday morning. . . .

How Survey Was Made

Following a conference last March between directors of the Hicksville Business Men's Assoc. Inc. and Robert Barron, senior business consultant of the New York State Dept. of Commerce, a luncheon was held on April 16 for the presidents and representatives of 32 local women's organizations. A full listing of the participating organizations and representatives is given in the preface of the report.

At the luncheon meeting, arranged by the BMA, some 2,000 copies of a three-page questionnaire were distributed. The ladies were asked to take the forms to their next meeting and have them completed. A total of 466 questionnaires were returned, expressing the frank opinions of the women—the shoppers of the community—on local shopping. Of 466 responding, 330 added, as they were invited, further comments. It is described as "the customer speaking."

The questionnaires were shipped in lots of about 100 to the State Dept. of Commerce at Albany prior to the end of July where they were tabulated and analyzed and written into the report. It is dated Sept. 1953.

satisfied and 12 per cent were not. Those who need parking "while at work" amounted to only 30 per cent of the total (remember the answers were from housewives and shoppers) and 20 per cent was not satisfied while five per cent was.

Curiously, not one person commented or otherwise complained about the use of parking meters in Hickville.

Of the 466 customers replying,

930 added suggestions and comments on "what can we do in order to make Hickville a better place in which to shop?" "Better parking facilities" was the comment of 218. "Modernize stores and displays" came from 94 and "offer quality, up to date merchandise" from 94. "A clean, modern railroad station with elevated tracks to speed up ground traffic" was the comment of 84 shoppers.

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Next Dance For Teens

HICKSVILLE—The next Teen Canteen dance will take place on Friday night, Sept. 25, at the Masonic Temple on W. Nicholas St. under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club, it was announced this week.

The executive board of the Teen Canteen announced over the weekend that John Gabriel of Schiller St. has offered to work with the Canteen in establishing a theatrical workshop for teenagers. He has directed both professional and semi-professional theatre groups in Queens. A rehearsal hall is now being sought. Adults wishing to work with this group are invited to call Ests Orton at Hickville 3-7344.

ELECT BOARD MEMBERS
The board has elected O. A. Solininen, Mrs. Schobel and John Gabriel to the Board of Directors. Mrs. Schobel is chairman of the Planning Committee with Solininen on Liaison. Miss Jacquelin Dempsey and Al Frost will serve as directors on the Board until the Teen Council meets and elects its own representatives, it was stated. Teeners interested in joining the Teen Council are invited to call Mrs. Kist at Hickville 3-2077.

The Teen Canteen took 100 melodious teeners to see "A Night in Venice" at Jones Beach on Thursday, Sept. 3. One of the most fascinating items about the trip for some of the teeners were the binoculars attached to the seats at the stadium. These were used not only for viewing the production but also for surveying the audience, airplane spotting and other duties generally applicable to binoculars.

The teenagers also came equipped with an unlimited capacity for hot dogs, ice cream and soda pop. All in all everyone had a wonderful time. Chaperons for the outing were Mrs. Orton, Alex Levy, Marvin Sultan, Mrs. Charlotte Nichols, Mr. Vito, Mr. and Mrs. Kist and Mr. and Mrs. Solininen. Teen Canteen wishes to thank Larry McCaffery who procured the insurance to cover the safety of the teenagers.

CENTER CIVIC COMMENTS:

Where's Top Secret CD Report?

By GEORGE MCCARTHY
Well, at last we've learned something and as usual it's all fouled up with double talk and confusion. This past week in a press release, Mineola U.D. claimed to have forwarded the long awaited report on the Hickville "iness" to the state director.

The General says he never received any report from Mineola. "Tain't So", said the General, so now it boils down to who's telling the truth—the state or Mineola?

From our experience with the confusion boys of Mineola, it's a safe bet that the report was never sent.

It's too bad when our leaders must resort to this sort of dodging to maintain their sense of dignity. The old saying that the truth won't hurt does not apply to Mineola. It's apparent that the truth will and does hurt them.

Mr. Eginton helped the confusion early in the rebellion when he said, "The rebel ring leaders will never again serve Hickville C. D.", and then turns around and refuses to accept our resignations, until the state director decides the issue. This is just a sample of the double talk and confusion surrounding this situation.

The investigation ordered by the state director was turned into what Mr. Ryan chose to call a "top secret report". Why Mr. Ryan wanted to hide behind this "big secret" is known only to him. Possibly it was to cover up a whitewash report. Why the General never received this report is another mystery. Could it be that Mineola run out of whitewash, or is it that some things just can't be hidden from an honest investigation?

I will try a new policy in my next column by presenting guest writers who will present their opinions on this controversy. We are not whistling in the dark, there are too many people who want to see an honest and efficient C. D. force.

Time For Adults To Register

By MAY MALJEAN
Hicksville 3-8515

The fall term of the adult education at the high school will be on its way soon. You may register on Sept. 16 and 15 between 7:30 and 9:30 P.M. at Hicksville High.

This term offers all of the ever-popular regulars in addition to some exciting new courses. Pat Naso will teach a course in golf this term. I imagine you'd call that a "golf course". (Oww!)

Arthur Knerr has the latest in shorthand for you—Hy-Speed long-hand. It is the simplest system for taking dictation, and easiest to learn. It enables one to do 60 to 80 words per minute.

Another new one—Henry Moss arranges a course in contract bridge. And rearing and understanding your child, by Murray Gregner, should be most helpful. Gene will interview Harold Robbins on Friday as to his latest course in consumer education, as it fills a need for sound slide-rule anxious in buying, from a thimble to a car.

Harold Robbins continues his public speaking course, recognizing the need for education in this respect to those in Hicksville who may be called upon to speak in a group. It seems we have more and more civic associations locally, as time goes on. Those voted in office might be a bit awkward and ill at ease unless some preparation is made by utilizing such a course. Young executives in the continually growing Hicksville concerns must take advantage of public speaking education.

Interior Decoration is offered us by Joseph Renner, who is in the business in Oyster Bay. He will discuss general ideas, and will take the individual problems of the student into hand, and, by analytical discussion, will solve same. This course is not on the printed program, due to deadline.

Good To Live Out In Country

By SKIPPER GALLAGHER
Hicksville 4-4242

It's on a Labor Day weekend like this that one can be glad of owning a home out here. While everything on four wheels will be on the highway coming to say the least hello to us, we know we won't be among the traffic tieups. Just sitting in the back yard, relaxing, smelling the aromas from the next yard's barbecue, hoping they'll ask us to share the fun. This is the life. I, for one, hate to see the summer go, but this year with the unbearable heat of the past week, I can't hate to see it go too much. Just to be rid of the Kleenex's, eye-drops, and anti-pollen pills will be a great relief to the hay fever sufferers—me included.

I'd like to express my thanks to you, my neighbors, who told me how much they liked having a column in the Herald. Remember, please, all of you will enjoy it if you share your views, and views I can't write if you don't call.

My very first call came on Tuesday afternoon. A "Miss Dolores" who is a "dance instructor." She told me she is teaching dancing to children from 4½ years up—tap, ballet, acrobatic, etc. Her class enrollment is limited and she's closing enrollment on Sept. 12. So act fast if you'd like to sign up. Her address and phone number is 48 Westbury Ave., Plainview, and Hicksville 4-1133.

You can tell at a glance by the tans and freckles that the children had a wonderful summer. All are ready to return to school with a bright outlook and I truly think that's all due to the wonderful attitudes of you mothers. The new clothes, shoes, pencil boxes help, too, but the way each of you conveys to your child the feeling of really wanting to return is marvelous. For instance Ester Frank on Bentley Rd. had a party Wednesday for all the children who are re-

Bursting Bonds Of The Past

By Fred J. Noeth

HICKSVILLE is suffering growing pains and those pains, according to Robert E. Barron of the State Dept. of Commerce, "are an excellent indication that the community is neither asleep nor decadent. The community", he told members of the Business Men's Assoc. last night (Tuesday) "is struggling to burst the bonds of the past."

Mr. Barron is a senior business consultant of the New York State Dept. of Commerce. He has just concluded a report based upon a shopping survey. The report makes interesting reading and should carry considerable weight since it represents the viewpoint of the buying public of Hicksville.

The survey emphasizes the demand made repeatedly by business people of the community.

It goes without saying that everyone—with the possible exception of the Oyster Bay Town Board—knows that Hicksville has serious traffic and parking problems. This new study spells out plainly just how bad conditions really are in the eyes of the public. The cry for some definite action has been going on year after year, with little progress.

Four years ago this week, when the population of Hicksville was about 40 per cent of what it numbers today, we wrote editorially:

"The reader does not have to be told that the mid-island area is growing rapidly. With almost each new resident family comes another motor vehicle, increasing many times over the traffic and parking problems of the community. Unless something is done, Hicksville will soon find itself in the position of a community bypassed for another more convenient shopping district."

Four years ago we were talking about Levittown. The shopping survey proves conclusively what has happened. One 50-car public Hicksville parking field has been opened in the past four years, despite petitions, delegations appearing before the Town Board, letters, etc.

Levittown has replaced Hempstead as the place most local people go to shop, other than Hicksville. The answer is parking and traffic conditions.

We know something will be done about more parking fields, but after an interval of more than four years of pleading and promises and pleading we think it is not unreasonable to seriously question the efforts of our distant town board in attempting to solve our problem.

As Mr. Barron concluded: "Hicksville will maintain its competitive position as a shopping community if it is able to improve its parking facilities measurably and realistically so as to be commensurate with the facilities available to nearby competitive business areas."

Maintaining the competitive position as a shopping community is important to everyone in Hicksville. If the position is lost, then the tax return from commercial properties can be expected to decline—which means a heavier tax burden on every other taxpayer. In addition, if the shopping community declines in importance, the convenience, time and money-saving advantage of local shopping is also lost to us.

A basic reason for seeking self-government for Hicksville as an incorporated village is to obtain action upon such important problems as traffic and parking conditions. Township government, with officials who do not even live here and therefore are not confronted with the daily battle of the curbside, is obviously not geared to do the kind of job needed here.

We are convinced that the people of Hicksville want to "burst the bonds of the past" and modernize our methods of doing things which we can only do for ourselves—thru Home Rule and Local Government.

Those Special Districts

We are indebted to the Long Island Press for the short feature story telling how confusing the special district type of government set up can be. The story told of a resident of a Levitt house in what might well be Westbury, but nobody seems to be quite sure.

His mail is addressed to Westbury; East Meadow Fire Department supplies fire protection; his youngsters go to the Bowling Green School in East Meadow School District; he gets his water from our own Hicksville Water District; and his garbage is collected by the Bowling Green Estates Garbage District. And to top it off, the gentleman is chairman of the North East Meadow Civic Assoc.

The Press story made it sound a bit worse than it actually is. They said that individual checks are sent to each of the special districts, but that is stretching things a bit. We all know that the tax checks are sent, at least in our case, to the Town Tax Receiver who then distributes the money to the special districts. This does not include the School Districts which collect their own taxes.

"They'd Never Believe It"

We got a real bang out of part of the story. It reads, and this is a direct quote, "Homeowners in a small section of Nassau are never quite sure whether they're here . . . or there. They stutter and stammer when faced with a common question like, 'Where do you live?' and they don't dare explain it to their friends, because 'they'd never believe it'."

A Public Service

We believe it is a public service to bring to the attention of its readers the chaotic condition of the overlapping special service districts of Nassau County. So far, we in South Hicksville have been spared the confusing condition of overlapping special districts, although we are threatened with the overlapping Joint Oyster Bay-Hempstead Swimming Pool and Hall District which will come into being January 1, 1954 unless we are able to achieve incorporation for Hicksville by that time.

Districts Hold Own Elections

Although we haven't been burdened with separate tax payments to each of our special service districts, we do have to contend with the election which each district conducts. Several times each year we are called upon to cast a ballot in a district election. We have heard comments that people don't take an interest in their government because very few bother to vote in the district elections. No wonder they don't exercise their privilege! How much simpler and more effective if all the local offices could be voted upon at one time!

Why The Special Districts?

Just what is the justification for all of the special districts which cover Nassau County? We can see the point where the population is thinly spread out over a large area, and we can see the point when there is no cohesive community unit large enough to support by itself the services it needs. We can see the point of several small communities joining together to provide all with better services than any of them could provide individually. But when there is a large population concentrated as we are in Hicksville, and in many parts of present-day Nassau County, the reason for special service districts, especially when they overlap parts of several communities, escapes us completely. As far as we can see, they are completely unnecessary and undesirable in Hicksville, or for that matter, in any community with a large population.

Is It Possible?

Is it possible that we are getting more and more overlapping districts to make things worse and worse? Is it possible that this is being purposely fostered to make conditions so bad that we will be offered the "only solution" of making all of Nassau County a city? After all, it is an old trick.

Hicksville Part of Nassau City?

Can you imagine Hicksville as a neighborhood community of the Borough of Oyster Bay of the City of Nassau? Talk of Nassau City has been around certain quarters for a long time, but it has been several years since we have seen in the public press. But that doesn't say it's a dead issue. Perhaps the policy of those wanting a Nassau City is to push it very quietly and indirectly. Perhaps this was the reason behind making it so difficult to incorporate communities like Hicksville. Perhaps this is the party line that must be followed by a certain local politician who has achieved high office in county politics. Perhaps this might explain his public feelings about an incorporated Hicksville. Could be!

Job Not To Be Envied

Did you ever watch the life guards in the Levitt pools at five o'clock. That's the time they are called upon to evict all persons under 16. And no exception. We know it's not their fault (they are a pretty nice group of people), but we never did envy them at 5 o'clock. They must feel pretty ridiculous chasing out all the youngsters, and for all intents and purposes the parents who happen to be with them, especially on tired days like we had in the last week or so. However, orders are orders.

We hope they will not face this unpleasant task next year when Levitt will have nothing to do with the pools.

No. 3 Of A Series LANDMARKS IN HICKSVILLE

One of the first churches in Hicksville began over 100 years ago, when the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church organized in the Frederick Heyne homestead located on the west side of Newburgh Road. It was known then as the German Lutheran Church. Today the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church on West Nicholas Street boasts of this fine building. On the left you will notice the new parish house and school now under construction.

Dutch Lane P-TA Meets on Sept. 16

Work and play in equal measure are the plans for 1953-1954 by the Dutch Lane P-TA. The Program Committee headed by Mrs. Robert L. Munhall plans to start the year with a Social Gathering featuring a Buffet Dessert on Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 8 P.M.

John J. Chase, principal of the Dutch Lane School will introduce the teachers, following which the Class Mothers will act as hostesses at each table to help parents and teachers get acquainted.

During the year there will be an important lecture by Dr. Roma Gans, of Columbia Teachers College, on "Modern Educational Methods." Another feature will be a second play by the Arena Theatre Group of Levittown.

John J. Green, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has great plans for the year starting with a Square Dance to be held Oct. 23. A Cake Sale and a Spring Fair will be held later in the year.

Miss Werner Becomes Bride

Miss Patricia Werner daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank George Werner of Plainview Rd., Hicksville, became the bride of Louis Britt son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Britt of Sea Cliff, Sunday, Aug. 23.

St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church was the scene of the ceremony. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace and tulle, fashioned with a strapless bodice and chantilly lace jacket. Her fingertip-length veil was caught by a cup of matening lace and she carried a cascade of white glamelias.

Miss Marie Catapano of Glen Cove was maid of honor. She wore a gown of maize lace and tulle with a handkerchief point skirt, and a matching headdress, and she carried lilac glamelias.

The other bridesmaids were Mrs. James Hall and Miss Carol Mac Guffin, both of Glen Cove. They wore gowns fashioned as Miss Catapano's in lilac and carried maize glamelias.

James Britt was best man for his brother. The ushers were Al Werner, brother of the bride and John Bartone of Glen Cove.

A reception followed in the Bethpage Country Club. After a trip along the southern coast the couple will reside in Chapel Hill, N. C.

GLANCES BACK OVER YEARS:
 305 Years Ago Indians Relinquished Ownership

HICKSVILLE—Five years ago this village celebrated its 300th anniversary, and residents learned the history behind their bustling community. Recently, however, mushrooming housing developments have brought thousands of new families to the area. So we have gleaned bits of Hicksville history for the new citizens and for those who like to review the interesting sidelights.

The community was originally part of the vast Williams Plantation property, and the name of Hicksville can be traced to the Hicks family who, through marriage into the Williams family, settled on the Plantation. Elias Hicks was the first of his family to be connected with the property. His daughter, Abigail, married her cousin, Valentine Hicks. After her father's death, Abigail inherited the Plantation, and Valentine purchased more land.

Valentine and others had the Long Island Railroad incorporated, and the tracks were extended to this area in 1835. Soon the surrounding community began to build up, and in 1837 Valentine Hicks was elected second president of the Railroad. Hicksville of today was named after him.

Time To Teach Safety

By JOHN J. O'KEEFE
PLAINVIEW POST, AMERICAN
LEGIION TEEN-AGE
COMMITTEE

With the return to school next week of thousands of children it is estimated that more than 2,000 of these will die as a result of automobile fatalities and that many, many more will be injured, some for life.

With this thought in mind, the American Legion's Plainview Post urges all parents to work out and use the safest rather than the shortest route to and from school thus making use of police protection offered.

Teach the youngsters to stop at the curb and look both ways before crossing and then to cross only at appropriate and safe crosswalks.

Teach your child to walk against traffic . . . namely on the extreme left hand edge of the road and impress the youngsters with the need for obeying all traffic officers, school crossing guards, safety patrols or mechanical signs and signals.

Insist that they do not play in the streets, alleys or driveways, and allow no roller skating to or from school. Make certain they do not hitch rides on motor vehicles while cycling and if an older brother or sister accompanies the younger child, go over the route with them and insist on responsibility from the older one and recognition of authority from the younger one.

These rules were forwarded by the Institute for Safer Living con-

Cub Program Needs Leader

Cub pack 118 of Bethpage which is sponsored by the Parent Teachers Assoc. is on the point of losing their present cub master. Unless a successor is willing to take over, the cubbing program will have to be suspended. Will anyone interested in becoming a cub master please get in touch with Mr. Shortman, Hicksville 4-1706 for further details?

ducted by the American Liability Mutual Insurance Co.

While on the subject of school children, Plainview Legion Post's Teen age committee agrees with Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin, who calls upon parents to urge their teen age children who have taken up summer jobs to "Return to School and finish their education."

"Last year a third of America's 16 and 17 year olds, 20 per cent more than in 1961, failed to return to school after taking summer positions."

This is a serious problem. Young people are lured by the plentiful jobs at good pay and fail to realize that by not finishing their education now, they are jeopardizing their future earnings and advancement.

"The country needs trained people and informed citizens to help build a free and peaceful world and every additional year of schooling helps."

"More high school graduates over 25 years of age averaged $752 more per year than the 8th graders and high school graduates make almost as much as 25 as most 8th graders do at 45!"

"Parents should advise their children not to be misled by short term opportunities for teen age jobs. They should think of the long haul and give their children the break that education affords."

Quit that summer time job now and continue your education that will qualify you for a full time, better paying position later, that will eventually increase your chances for advancement. If necessary, take a part time after school hours job to help meet expenses, but by all means, kids, get that book learning now.

Informal talks by a panel of local teachers will be the evening feature with Miss Sue Doran, Miss Mona Wilson and Arthur Bunce talking about their experiences in Europe this summer. Mrs. John Griffin will talk on her life in Texas.

The Home Bureau will have open house tonight (Wednesday) at 8 P.M. at the Broadway School. Anyone interested in joining the organization is invited to attend. The group's first project will be an aluminum tray.

Now it can be told—the rumblings of the past few weeks concerning Republican nominees for committeemen Paul Dana and Tony Amato will not have their names listed on the ballot because their petitions were not filed on time. They were ready and filled out but got "kicked around and lost" by their messenger.

First Bethpage PTA Picnic Held

The first P.T.A. picnic at Bethpage State Park on Sunday, Aug. 30, was pronounced a success by the committee and all who attended. The group amounting to about 100 people met in the area before 10:30 A.M. and were pleased to find that enough tables had been saved for all. Some of the committee even had breakfast in the park to make sure of arriving on time.

Leo Shottland, committee chairman, started the children's games at 11:00 A.M. and every child won a prize. Those who won two or three events were given one grand prize such as a book and those who won one event or were "also rans" received cookies, kites, clay, candy, or trading cards. A complete list of the merchants who donated the prizes will be given at the time of the first P.T.A. meeting when the adults' prizes will be awarded.

The "children winning grand prizes" were Vaughn Carter, 3 wins; Edward Shottland, 3; Ann Stewart, 3; Helen Guelpe, 2; Kathleen Baumgardner, 2; Susan Merin, 2, and Dianne Fehnenbach, 2.

After lunch the "men folk" decided to skip the KP duties and try their arms on the ball field. All went well while the game was confined to our own group but—get out your violin, Mother—they were challenged by a team of young muscular men rumored to be from Hicksville. Fantastically, the score only reached 4 to 3 when no replacements for the P.T.A. team could be found.

About 3 P.M. everyone, exhausted but happy, packed up and left.

Joseph Kelly of 22 Jersey St. has been selected Chairman of the Nominating Committee to be announced at the Sept. 1st meeting of the North West Civic Assoc. Assisting Joe Kelly will be George Coburn, 84 Gardner Ave.; Bill Donohue, 59 Gardner Ave.; John Ehrenfeld, 82 Kuhl Ave. and Pat Boland, 63 Myers Ave.

The selection of Kelly by the Executive board is an excellent one, together with the committee which forms a cross-section of our community in presenting a slate of officers at our next monthly meeting, Oct. 6th.

The meeting was one of the largest in attendance during the summer months and lasted approximately three hours. Road and drainage problems were discussed in length by many of the members present and led to the formation of a "Road Committee", a suggestion presented by Pat Boland, former president.

President Johnsen then suggested to the members that this committee represent a cross-section of the development so as to give an overall picture of our problem. He further added that those selected during the day when the committee plans to call on officials at Oyster Bay. The committee includes: William Donohue, Chairman; Jerry Zettler, Bernard Gill, Pat Boland, John Ehrenfeld, Lawrence Roby, James Cummings, George Schult, Mrs. John Adams and possibly alternates depending upon the availability of these people on the day selected to visit Oyster Bay.

A plan for one-way streets was presented by John Finnegan for discussion and led to subject of "no-thru trucking". A study will be made on both of these programs, report to be rendered at next meeting.

The date for the pros and cons on Incorporation will be Sept. 18 at the Burns Ave. School. Lawrence A. Roman will speak for proponents and Ernest Francke will speak for the opposition (or have a speaker in his place, should he not be able to attend, it was learned). Each speaker will be allotted 20 minutes to present his side of the discussion which will then be followed by a question and answer period, it was announced by President Johnsen. There will be no other business discussed. This special meeting will be held for the prime purpose of hearing both sides of the Incorporation question. Non-members are invited to attend. The meeting will start promptly at 9 P. M.

KNICKERBOCKER NEWS

turning to school. They gathered in her back yard and had a wienie roast and soda pop was served. It was a farewell to vacation party. Wasn't that a lovely idea?

Remember last week I mentioned how Pat Paterno had a secret in keeping kids off his lawn? Now Pat is a very quiet little guy—wouldn't harm a fly—speaks in a well modulated voice. Never gets angry, but has a way with kids that's unbelievable. Not that the children are afraid of him. No, I wouldn't say that exactly, but here's what happened. See if you get a chuckle out of it.

Little Tommie McKiener's front tooth fell out. He wrapped it ever so carefully in a Kleenex and came out to show the kids. Somehow the tooth got lost in the vicinity of Dr. Paterno's lawn. Tommie quickly got all the kids together all over Pat's lawn to help find the lost tooth. And why, you ask, was this so important to Tommie?

"He didn't want Pat to find the tooth cause then he'd know it was him that was on the lawn." Unquote! See you next week.

Parents to Meet At St. Ignatius

HICKSVILLE — A pre-term meeting of one representative of each family of a child beginning kindergarten and the first grade of St. Ignatius school will be held at the school hall, E. Nicholas St. this Wednesday evening, Sept. 9, at 8 p. m. Mother Adelaide, principal of the school announced that bus transportation and other items of interest to parents of the students will be discussed.

Kindergarten classes will be divided into two groups: one group attending school in the morning and the other in the afternoon. All other classes, first to eighth grades, will be on full time sessions, 9 to 12 and 1 to 3.

Better watch that hose if you live in the Levittown, East Meadows, Uniondale, Bowling Green or Island Trees Water Districts. Sprinkling hours are from 7 to 9 A. M. ONLY. The prowl cars are on the lookout for violators. Water pressure is way down again at the crucial hours.

Party On Sunday For Activity Club

HICKSVILLE — A children's party sponsored by the Planned Activities Club will be given at the home of Harold Robbins, 22 Petal La., on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 13. This date is tentative.

Robbins has taken members of the group on sight-seeing tours of the state, and the party, which is to be a cookout, will culminate the summer activities. Prizes will be awarded for pictures which the children took on their trips.
