Who Remembers Donnelly?

Wm M. Drout of 6 Carol Ave., Neptune, N.J., has written the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce seeking information to help him compile a genealogy record. He writes that around 1850 to 1900 a Donnelly family lived in Hicksville in the present-day Levittown area. He says that Benjamin Donnelly, who's wife was Margaret (Carl) Benjamin passed away on May 3, 1882, and requests information from local residents.

He also writes of "Jackass Lane" which, according to some older residents, was an early day name for today's Ave. The Chamber would like to help Mr. Drout if anyone has information, please write him at Neptune, N.J.

AFRICAN REPORT:

Kerosene Is Important Item

By Ken Foran

Kerosene is an important commodity in Kwazulu Natal, because there is no electricity. Cooking is still done over the fire, and many carry things on their backs. All would be very picturesque if it were not for the fact that kerosene is so scarce.

Health here is a matter of life and death. One is struck at seeing many women with babies on their backs, and knowing that has been going on for years, at the population. The infant mortality rate is very high in West Africa, for several reasons. We, as Americans, would consider the diet insufficient. Protein is notably lacking, lacking. And women are not become the best of burrs by accident, because diseases which have either been over come in the United States or are non-existent, have and continue to remove most of the livestock, with the exception of goats and chickens. As a consequence, is rarely a part of African diet. More than once I have seen children with enormous lumps, a sign of protein deficiency. Because meat has been part of the African diet in the past, it is difficult to break cultural barrier which binds these people.

One solution is a new food substance, developed at Stanford University and distributed by a Canadian organization called Food for Millions. However, those of us in Operations Crossroads, Africa, find it necessary to supplement our diet with daily vitamins. We also take precautions to boil our water for at least thirty minutes, add Halozone, a water purifier, and then filter it. That cup of water is much awaited. We don't have any records telling how many Africans have died from the water, but we do know that those who survive are immune. African babies do not sleep under mosquito nets as we do, nor do they use insect repellent, but again the adults seem to be immune to malaria. Already one member of our group has come down with malaria and we've been told that all of us have malaria. It is only because of Aralen, a fairly reliable suppressant, that the noted signs of the sickness do not appear. It is no wonder that Africa has been called "the white man's graveyard". Wild animals can hardly be considered as a health hazard.

I suspect that more hunters are killed in the United States than all people killed in West

Bid Opening Next Tuesday

Hicksville Board of Education will open bids next Tuesday night, Aug. 8, in the student cafeteria of the senior high school on the sanitation program which was approved by the voters in November, 1959.

Among the items being bid upon are: elementary school for Wilcox Ave., the addition of a symposium-auditorium to East St. St. 31, a permanent addition to Hicksville Senior High School and movement of temporary-type classrooms from various elementary schools to the Junior High.

An interesting alternate to the movement of the temporary-type classrooms is the construction of new temps at the Junior High.

An entire program had been rejected by a suit in court by former Board President Emil J. Kelly and nine other taxpayers, instituted by former School Attorney Harry C. Cichol. Supreme Justice Mario Pitoni found referendum of 1959 was valid and the matter was not appealed.

Just About Tops $90 Millions:

ASSESSMENT UP ONLY $502,259

The taxable assessment of Hicksville, which for more than a decade has been zooming annually by millions of dollars, has advanced by only a half million for 1961-62 just barely topping $90 millions. The reduction in assessment on the LI Lighting Co. electric operating centre on Old Country Rd., won during the past few months, has apparently offset normal gains won thru new residential, commercial and industrial construction.

The total valuation for Hicksville School District for tax purposes was $89,603,667 for 1960-61 increasing only $502,259 for 1961-62 to a new total of $90,105,926. It was learned Tuesday.

The new assessment will determine the school and other tax rates. Hicksville Board of Education is expected to set the tax rate at its next regular meeting, Aug. 11. The current rate is $5.174 per $100 of which 22 cents per $100 is for library. The rate is expected to increase.

In January of this year it was learned that the LI Lighting Co. which was assessed for $5,638,940 for its holdings on Old Country Rd., Hicksville, was seeking a reduction of about two million dollars. A reduction was won, but the exact amount was not available at press-time.

Also pending is the reduction sought on Mid Island Shopping Plaza on North Broadway. Supreme Court Justice Howard T. Hogan in August of last year granted a reduction of $1,184,780. This verdict has since been upheld by the Appellate Division and it is understood the case is being taken to the highest court in the State, the Court of Appeals, by the County of Nassau.

The valuation of Hicksville School District has been rising steadily for a quarter century. It was $13 million 13 years ago in 1948. It jumped to $37 million by 1952, $65 million in 1955 and $73 million in 1956. It has almost tripled in the past eight years.

In Training

Army Reserve Capt. Frederick K. Pavia of 37 Haverford Rd., Hicksville, completed the associate command and general staff course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., July 22.

Phased over a five-year period, the course parallels the resident course at the college. To complete the required 120 hours a year, students receive training at various installations but must complete the final two weeks at The Command and General Staff College.

SHARP INCREASE in community interest in fallout shelters has resulted from President Kennedy's recent nation-wide address on the Berlin situation. Here are State Education Commissioner James Allen and Lt. Gen. Francis W. Farrell, state Civil Defense Director, inspecting a family fallout shelter. Cost of materials, accommodating four persons, is said to approximate $250. Nassau CD has literature which can be obtained by calling ED 3-4500. Town CD Headquarters at Oyster Bay Town Hall reports an increase in public interest in shelters, but few volunteers for Civil Defense.

Town Awards Highway Bids

Superintendent of Highways Thomas R. Pynchon announced the award of four highway improvement contracts totaling $454,211 under the Town Highway Department's planned road construction and improvement program. Bids for three additional road projects totaling $192,937, under the program, have also been received and contract awards for these jobs will be announced in the near future.

The four projects for which contracts have been awarded to low bidders include: Surfacing of Pluquet's Lane from Woodbury Road to Jericho Turnpike, Woodbury. The low bidder was Lizza and Sons at $9,798. Surfacing of West Shore Drive, Fairwater Avenue, Amity Place and adjacent areas Massapequa. The low bidder was Lizza and Sons at $25,720.

Widening and re-surfacing of Merritts Road from Broadway to Hempstead-Bethpage Turnpike, South Farmingdale. The low bid-

Preview of What's Ahead for Hicksville

Speaking recently at the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce installation meeting, Town Highway Superintendent Thomas R. Pynchon forecast that things will be in a mess on Broadway, Hicksville, for a couple of years while the Rail Road grade crossings are eliminated by the State of New York.

The picture at left is from a recent issue of the Floral Park Gateway, showing the temporary turmoil in that village where the crossing work is moving rapidly ahead.

The progress of the Hicksville program is one which is questioned by more readers than any other single community topic.

Raynham Hall Dates Back to 1740

By H.S. Hole Town Historian

With the passing of years there are very few houses of Pre-Revolutionary War days left on Long Island.

Oyster Bay, which is the seat of government for the Township of Oyster Bay, is proud to boast of one such house, which was the old Townsend Homestead. This historical homestead is known as Raynham Hall and it is Oyster Bay's most historic possession and enjoys a unique heritage from Long Island's colonial past, the land upon which it stands having been purchased by Samuel Townsend in 1740.

During the War of Independence, Oyster Bay was occupied by the British, and Raynham Hall was headquarters for Colonel Simcoe, who was commander of the Queen's Rangers, who were entrenched on Fortified Hill - now called Fort Hill. Strangely enough, the street running up this hill to this day is called Simcoe Street, named after this Tory Commander.

A plot was hatched at this homestead or Rangers headquarters for the betrayal of West Point to the British. The plot was for Benedict Arnold to deliver West Point, up the Hudson River, to the enemy by ordering a link in the great chain across the Hudson River, below West Point, to be cut and the British vessels then could get through to storm the Fort at West Point.

It seems Samuel Townsend's daughter, Sally overheard the plot and managed to secretly get a message regarding this unpatriotic plan to her brother, Robert, who was in New York City at that time.

The message resulted in the capture of both Benedict Arnold and Major Andre, and thus the Hudson stronghold was saved and victory that might have been was turned into defeat.

Major John Andre, British spy, was often a visitor to the Raynham Hall and on his ill-fated last trip here the object of his sojourn was to confer with Colonel Simcoe about this "Tory" plan against the Colonists.

Prior to this event, Captain Nathaniel Hale, an American spy, for General Washington, was captured, and condemned by the British and subsequently hanged.

Hi, Neighbors

MURIEL SUGARMAN

If this column seems short—you are right! It is, and the reason for it is that there is very little news in Birchwood right now. Of course, with the 90 degree weather, everyone is just too hot to do anything but swim, or stay in their air conditioned houses.

The Pioneer Women "GET ACQUAINTED" Luncheon will be held at the lovely home of Shirley Israel on Aug. 9 at 1 p.m.

Miriam and Victor Perlberg returned from Jamaica, B.W. The trip back home by air should have taken 3-1/2 hours but took 17 hours. It was a harrowing experience.

For an exciting Fall week-end away join the Jericho Chapter of ORT at the Hotel Concord on October 13, 14 and 15. The Concord is famous for its indoor and outdoor sports, nightclub entertainment and wonderful dining—something for everybody! Call Alleen Puterman at WE 8-7129 for a reservation now.

Condolences to Harry Cohen of Fall Lane and to Pauline Telch of Forsythia Lane, who lost their beloved Mothers.

Victor Borge brings his sly wit and exciting musical style to the Forest Hills Stadium on Aug. 12. Get on ORT's musical bandwagon and see this dynamic Dane. Call Elmor Winthrop at WE 8-7305 for tickets.

Happy Birthday (seventh) to Jane Reuben of Maytime Drive.

HURRY, HURRY: Get your tickets to Pioneer Women for "A Night with Harry Belafonte" being presented Saturday, Aug. 26 at 8:30 p.m. at the Forest Hills Stadium. Contact Esther Feldblum-WA 1-1227

Welcome home to Evelyn & Sam Stabler who just came back from Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and to Florrie and Bert Pollock, back from Europe.

LAST CALL --- Dinner Dance and "Splash Party" - Jericho Hadassah at Four Seasons Country Club on Sunday, Aug. 6 at 7 p.m., $11.00 per couple. Call: Harriet Liebowitz - WE 1-5351.

Women Organize Business Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Nassau County is sponsoring a new club now being organized in the Syosset and surrounding areas. At present, eight clubs comprise the District of Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

The next meeting will be held at the Grass Hut, Jericho Tpke, Syosset, on Thursday, Aug. 10, at 12:30 p.m. All gainfully employed women who live or work in the area are invited to attend. For further information, call Mrs. Muriel DeLacy at MA 1-2890 or Mrs. Mary Pardoe at WA 1-1177.

HEAD NURSE: Dr. Chester E. Kaminster, of Jericho, executive medical director of the new Long Island Doctors Hospital in Roslyn, congratulates Miss Jane Zimmer of Merrick, who was named Supervisor of Nurses at the hospital, recently purchased by a group of North Shore doctors. Dr. Kaminster hands Miss Zimmer the day's schedule. The hospital -- once the site of the Turkish Embassy in America -- is undergoing a $250,000 face lifting and a complete change in staff and operation. (Photo by Drennan)

New Phone Directory Out

You'd expect to find numbers in a telephone book. But you mightn't expect to encounter them on the cover.

Yet the new Nassau telephone directory -- which will be delivered throughout the country starting next Monday -- displays on its cover some important numbers to remember, according to Robert H. Sneider, Jr., the N.Y. Telephone Company's general manager for Nassau.

They are the area codes 212 and 914, which appear in a map showing metropolitan New York area codes. Starting Oct. 1 the 212 code will be required on all calls from Nassau to any of New York City's five boroughs, and the 914 code will be required on all calls from Nassau to Westchester. The use of these codes will not affect telephone rates. This is part of a program known as Area Code Calling, which will help pave the way for future telephone growth, Sneider said.

The gray, red and yellow cover of the directory also calls attention to a new information system, which is described on page one.

"Gee, George, you're fickle."

Suggest Use Of 'Dog Days'

"Use August dog days to be top dog when September rolls around," states director Jerem Hurwitz of the 67 N. Broadway, Hicksville office of the Educational Skills Center. The center is currently taking registration for the final summer term. The course ends August 25.

Educational Skills Center is equipped to tutor all subjects on both the elementary and secondary levels. Tutoring can be done at the center or at home by special arrangement. Many students have availed themselves of the popular reading improvement course, while others have profited from the center's course which teaches you how to study. All subjects that are part of the school curriculum are covered by the center's instructors.

All interested people may make arrangements by calling WE 5-7420 or MY 4-0507.

Passing It On

by Irving Herskowitz

RUMOR has it that the empty store in the Birchwood Shopping Center will shortly house an oriental chow house. A PICTURE is worth a thousand words---go see for yourselves (close up) what a monstrosity borders the back yards of the dwellings on Hazelwood Dr. and Merry Lane. It's an appalling sight. TWO new model homes in West Birchwood are being readied for the fall home buying viewers. BIZ has been on the upgrade with all Birchwood merchants. Consensus of opinion among merchants attributes business rise to resident's new found loyalty towards community shopping centers.

A COUPLE of human dynamos are responsible for the tremendous job the Jericho Lodge of B'nai Brith is doing. Through the efforts of this Lodge the community of Jericho will be flashed to the far corners of the earth via the medium of Ed Morris' United States Information Program. No longer will Jericho be identified with merely a wall---our identification on this radio program will depict our town as the "voice of a typical American community"---which should make all of us justly proud of our "little ole burgh".

THE YOUNG 'UNS, (pre-teen) socials at the Jericho Country Club should be discouraged if the 12 year old gals insist upon acting like 16 year olds---especially when the boys are much older than them. They seem to have been "making out" too well. How efficient must a president be! J. C. Men's Club President Hank Berman was observed picking up all the cliche butts upon the conclusion of a recent board meeting.

TIED blood was the culprit during the few times "The Villager" took on an anemic looking appearance. After four years of digging up news everyone's blood is bound to thin out and if the thinning out process is not curtailed the sight of a skeleton sheet will prove very uninteresting. This newspaper needs new blood (but fast) in order to continue its reader's interest. A transfusion won't do the trick. We need the bones and flesh to go with this blood. Ability to write is of secondary importance. News and fresh ideas are important. Our good editor, the ever affable Dave Mark, won't even question the source of your news and views. Just pass them on to him and watch his handsome face radiate.

Beating Heat

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hauer, Mr. and Mrs. Al Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rosenthal all of Jericho, beat the hot weather this week by having dinner on the beautiful cool deck of WATER-SEDEGE, Long Island's newest Restaurant and Mariner.

by wild animals each year. Two years ago when a Cross-disembarked from the plane in Accra he was asked "Where are the lions?" To which the reply came, "In India." There are no lions in Africa. Elephants are only found far south of Ghana. The deaths of children have a social repercussion in West Africa. Males seem to die more readily than females. In Ghana there are seven women to every man. Polygamy has been the practice for years. Recently a Ghanaian has presented the concept of chiefs with a solution: only one wife is to be registered. It is hoped that this will discourage polygamy and at the same time simplify the inheritance laws, for only the registered wife will receive the deceased husband's property. The men often let the women do most of the work, making the women realize most business in villages, such as Accra, and Kumasi, are small and dominated by women. Next to marriage, the number of children that a woman has determines her status in the community. Unfortunately, when African males are around, the women are silent and most serious, but when gathered in groups, or alone, they are very gay and talkative.

Needless to say, that one of the prime aims of the government in Ghana is to eliminate the health problems that exist. This is being done in three ways. First, through the Mass Education and Community Development Department, which tries to educate the people to existing hazards and to remove such things as the water supply and sewerage disposal of communities. Secondly, through the National Research Council, which tries to find preventative for the most serious threats to the villagers and thirdly, through education of Ghanaians in medical science and the employment of expatriate physicians.

PAT FRANKLIN, 18, of Haverford Rd., Hicksville, is a statuesque semi-finalist in the Miss No-Cal Contest currently being staged at Loew's theatres in the metropolitan area. There's still time to enter the contest. Entry forms may be obtained at any Loew's theatre. More than $5,000 in prizes including a week's vacation for two at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach are awarded winners. Girls, 18 to 30, single or married, are eligible to compete. ## LI Economy Shows Gains

Long Island made a strong recovery during the Spring months and its economy is clearly poised for further gains in the second half of 1961, according to the Franklin National Bank of Long Island.

The Nassau and Suffolk County areas at the half year mark had "just about overcome the effects of last year's national recession," the bank added.

"Most of the recovery," Franklin said, "could be credited to the consumer end of the economy and construction trades. Sustained high incomes accounted for substantial gains in trade volume and services which ballooned quickly with fair weather."

Strong gains were made in the building trades during May and June, the bank noted, with home building running about 4% ahead of 1960's first half.

A slight fall-off in commercial and industrial construction, however, brought total dollar outlays planned to about last year's levels.

The cement truck drivers strike which began July 1 has begun to affect construction projects and employment more seriously as it runs through the month, Franklin said.

Construction workers have been harder hit than any other group, the bank noted, because of the severity of the past winter followed by a wet Spring.

Unemployment among Long Island adults had dropped about 15% in June from May, bringing the number of jobless to about 10% above a year ago. The work force meanwhile has grown some 2%.

Drawing suggests scale of Vacuum Chamber, one being built for Grumman will be 28 ft. high.

Steel scaffolding takes shape (above) for 'Clean Room,' where OAO will be built. Men (R) are Joseph Maier, Chester Parker, Robert Farren, in charge of architectural design, construction supervision, structural design, respectively, in Plant Engineering. Excavation and scaffolding behind them are for Vacuum Chamber installation.

Excavation in the South Hangar, now well beyond the stage shown here, will take 40 ft. diameter Centrifuge. Steel reinforcing holds heavy concrete wall.

New Test Lab and 'Clean Room' Will Aid Space Program

The South Hangar in Plant 5 is taking on a startlingly different look. Massive new equipment will transform it this year into what will be known as the Grumman Environmental Test Laboratory. One of its major functions will be the testing of space vehicles, including, among the first, the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory.

A circular excavation in the South Hangar floor is fast being made ready to receive a Centrifuge. This whirling mechanism, actuated by a 200 hp electric motor, will be able to subject a load of 2,000 lbs. to a force of 40 Gs. With a diameter of 40 ft. and a depth of 8 ft., it will be the largest privately-owned centrifuge on the East Coast.

Next to the circular excavation for the Centrifuge is a square pit, 14 x 27 ft., now being made ready for a 30,000 lb. Ling Shaker — designed to test, among other things, the shock and vibration capabilities of a spacecraft or satellite during launching. Around the Shaker will be erected a 23 ft. high sound-proof room. The Shaker itself, which will generate a peak force of 30,000 lbs. sinusoidal and 30,000 lbs. RMS random vibration, will be on a free block of steel-reinforced concrete mounted on springs.

The third big excavation in the Laboratory area will receive the massive stainless steel Vacuum Chamber, or Space Simulation System, being built for Grumman by the Chicago Bridge & Iron Company. This will be 19 ft. in diameter and 28 ft. high. It will be able to simulate an almost complete vacuum (10<sup>-7</sup> mm Hg range) and temperatures ranging from minus 320 to plus 350 degrees F.

To receive and record data for future use, there will be an electronic Data Acquisition Area in the Laboratory to receive and store information from as many as four tests simultaneously. The Centrifuge, Shaker, Vacuum Chamber, and Data Acquisition Area will be interconnected by service trenches carrying the hundreds of circuits and cables which are necessary to control the simulators and accumulate the test data.

Equipments already installed in the Environmental Test Lab include other shakers of 1200, 2,500 and 5,000 lb. capacities, an ultra-high vacuum chamber, and bell jars, one of which can produce a vacuum of 10<sup>-7</sup> mm Hg. Shock and impact test equipment is also in this area.

There is much talk these days about 'Clean Rooms.' Grumman will have one of these adjoining the Environmental Test Laboratory, to the north. It will be 80 ft. square and 27 ft. high. The 'Clean Room' will also be referred to as the OAO Manufacturing Facility, since its first function will be for the assembly, and demonstration testing of the OAO. It is laid out to include all spacecraft manufacturing facilities, the Optical Alignment and Checkout for the OAO star trackers, a Solar Cell room, and a Test Control room, Locker rooms and a room for cleaning tools will be built within the larger 'Clean Room.'

In an adjacent area will be located the Stability and Control System Simulator and its avionic control center.

Many persons and groups have had a part in the planning of the new test facility. Plant Engineering, under William E. McKay, is 'it' at present, as workmen hurry to lay the foundations and lines, add power and storage facilities, and complete the construction of walls, ceilings, air conditioning, etc.

A number of unusual requirements have been handed to Plant Engineering. One was to construct the 40 ft. diameter pit for the Centrifuge—keeping to a tolerance of 1/16 of an inch for aerodynamic surfaces. Since the arms of the Centrifuge will accelerate to 110 mph, simulating a force of up to 40 Gs, the surrounding wall is necessarily precise and SOLID.

The Shaker, generating vibration forces of up to 30,000 lbs., will have a 'seismic block' foundation to avert possible vibration-induced damage to Test-Lab walls. Ten springs, each 2 ft. high and 12 in. wide, made of 2½ in. wire, will support a 5 ft. thick concrete block weighing 115 tons. On this 'floating' block the Shaker itself will be mounted. Among other challenging problems for Plant Engineering were the design of a sound-proof room, 20 x 31 x 23 ft., around the Shaker, to muffle its ear-piercing wail, and the design of swinging doors "the size of hangar doors," that will really swing.

A jungle of scaffolding has been erected over the already completed pit which is to receive the Vacuum Chamber. The Chamber will be sunk below floor level so that a crane can be installed to lower the OAO, for example, into the test area from above. Utility lines are being moved and new ones added here.

The 'Clean Room,' although not a sterile room, will have many features to give it positive cleanliness. The structural framing, instead of being wooden, is 'metal lumber,' called Stran Steel, to which sheet rock can be nailed (yes, nailed). The sheet rock will then be 'papered' with a vinyl membrane, and the floor will be paved with vinyl sheet—all of this in the interest of dust-free surfaces and dimensional stability. 'Slightly positive' pressure is to be maintained at all times in the 'Clean Room' by means of special air conditioning and the use of air locks. A built-in vacuum cleaning system is planned. All fixtures and lights are to be recessed, and everything possible will be mounted flush.

When completed, the 'Clean Room' will be closed to all except authorized personnel connected with satellite and/or spacecraft work and maintenance. A window will allow visitors to view activities within the main room.

According to present schedules, the Centrifuge and Shaker will be operating by late summer. The Vacuum Chamber installation starts in mid-July. It will be operational by Jan. 1, 1962.

John Thatcher & Son is the general contractor.

Boys Club Teams Bantam Tourney This Weekend

Going Strong

by Henry Uffmann Jr.

The Alice Boys Club teams in the Hicksville Intermediate baseball tourney are still going strong in the third week of play. Every team is fighting hard for the league title and also a chance to compete for the district and county championships.

The standings are very close, and no one is giving up. The Aces slipped the Dukes, by a score of 4-3, in a close game all the way. Frank Cassalino took the mound for the Aces but was relieved by Andy Koehler. Don Otten pitched for the Dukes and lost a close 4-3. The scoring came in the sixth inning. The Aces took the lead, 1-0, in the second inning. The Dukes scored two runs in the second when Bobby Hendrickson walked. Back-to-back singles hit by Don Otten and Mike Wallach made the score 2-1, Dukes. The Aces tied in the third, but the Dukes took the lead and kept it, winning 4-3.

In the other game going on, the first place Aces beat the second place Dukes, 6-2. Bob Smith went for the Aces. Frank Cassalino started for the Dukes with Al Miller and Hackett relieving.

The Aces got 2 runs in the first when Smith walked and Perry Rick singled him home. Jimmy Arch also singled, making the score 2-0, Aces. The Dukes got 1 run in the second when Nick Carrera tripled and came home on a passed ball. Bob Smith struck out the side. The Aces got another run in the sixth when the Aces received 1 run in the second, two in the fourth, and one in the sixth. Bob Smith pitched seven innings striking out 18 batters, and walking 5. Cassalino was the losing pitcher.

Duck Racing Events on Tap

The running of the historic Vandevoort Cup auto race has been scheduled for this Sunday, Aug. 6, at the Long Beach Race Circuit.

On Friday, Aug. 5, the second running of the Rickenbacker Trophy for production cars will be the feature attraction on the two-day card of road racing.

The Vanderbilt contest, a 72.25 mile high speed event for Formula Junior cars, will see the tiny streamliners make 25 laps on the specially constructed 2.85-mile racing circuit in the sand dunes near the shore of Peconic Bay.

The Formula Junior cars, newest category in international racing, are tiny single seat machines which use engines from production cars. Last year's Vanderbilt Cup race, held on a course laid out in the vast parking area of Roosevelt Raceway in Westbury, saw the Junior cars average 75.95 m.p.h. over a rather tight 1.5-mile circuit before 37,371 fans.

The Long Beach Race Circuit, designed by professional racing engineers, closely approaches the pure European road course and permits speeds up to 165 m.p.h. on its 3,100-foot straightaway.

An Ice Cold Team

One of the more interesting baseball games occurred recently in Sedalia, Mo. In the top of the first inning, the Adco Little League club scored 11 runs off nine Sedalia Ice Cream pitchers. But the Sedalia Ice manager was pretty upset because his boys didn't come to bat. Darkness halted the game.

The St. Ignatius Loyola CYO will sponsor their Second Annual Bantam Baseball Tournament at the Hicksville Junior High School Fields, Jerusalem Ave. and Fourth St. this Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5 and 6.

Eight of the leading teams in the Diocese of Rockville Centre will square off at 10:00 A.M. on Saturday, Aug. 5th. First round winners will meet in the semi-finals the same afternoon at 2:30 P.M. to decide the finalists who will compete for the Championship Monday.

"Looks like some wives have to learn to take some things for granted."

signor George M. Bittermann Trophy and the Rev. Lawrence F. Ballweg runner-up award at 2:00 P.M. on Sunday, Aug. 6th.

The first round pairings are as follows:

1. St. Vincent de Paul (Elmont) vs. St. Thomas the Apostle (Hempstead)
2. Our Lady of Lourdes (Malverne) vs. St. Boniface (Elmont)
3. St. William the Abbot (Searford) vs. Cure of Ars (Merrick)
4. St. Ignatius Loyola Blue (Hicksville) vs. St. Ignatius Loyola Gold (Hicksville)

A newspaper we enjoy reading every week stated that the speaker at a veterans' dinner was battle-scarred. Hastening to correct the error, the editor reported in the next issue: "We sincerely regret that we referred to the speaker as battle-scarred. This should obviously have been bottle-scarred."

When you buy a new car, be sure a good dealer comes with it!

Add it all up and you've got to agree: It pays to deal with your Ford Dealer. • First, you get Ford's low prices—usually the lowest, whether it's a Ford or a Falcon or a Ford Truck. • Second, you get a wide choice. Pick the model and the price that suits you. No compromising, no "second bests." • Third, you get a car that's designed to save more while you drive. Ford is beautifully built to be more service-free. • Fourth, you'll get a better trade-in allowance for your old car, because we are volume dealers in used cars, too. • Fifth, you get service. Prompt service. Expert service. No corner service station can equal our stock of parts, our equipment, or our trained Ford mechanics. • Sixth, you get the best credit terms possible...including low interest rates. • Seventh, and most important, you're dealing with your friends and neighbors at your Ford Dealer's. We want you as a lifetime customer, so we go to every length to serve you. Now's the time to prove it. So see your Ford Dealer today!
