School Board Must Keep Nicolai Open

The Hicksville School Board, under the law, has no choice but to continue to use Nicolai St School for classrooms. That was the legal opinion of School Attorney Joseph Catalano, confirmed by the law dept of the State Education Dept., read into the record at a special Board meeting, Friday night.

The special meeting was called in response to a petition signed by some 750 residents calling for the abandonment of the school, and then 40 persons attended the meeting and they represented both sides on views on the question. The discussion conducted by the Board President Jerome Zetler, ended at 8:30 PM and concluded at 9:40 PM.

In answer to the question of whether the Board can close the school and transfer its pupils, Catalano ruled that this is possible but only "under certain emergency and extraordinary circumstances when safety of the children is involved and to effectuate economy measures."

He said his information revealed that Nicolai St School has been found acceptable by authorities covering the standards of safety. Assistant Fire Chief John Specht was in the audience and stated the fire dept "had been worried about Nicolai" regarding the problem of buses parking in front of the building. However, this situation has been cleared up and he commented: "You people don't have too much to worry about."

He said the fire dept has pre-planned emergency action for Nicolai as well as other schools and major structures in the community.

Dan Jacobs of 20 Memory Lane who had apparently spearheaded the petition drove to close Nicolai said he was moving from the District, giving the impression that he was moving because his child had been assigned to Nicolai as a 3rd grader. Prior to the meeting on Friday he had told some people that he was going to move anyway.

Other speakers included a gentleman who had signed the petition but had since realized that his child would benefit by attending Nicolai and wished to withdraw his opposition.

School Superintendent Donald F. Abt said that if Nicolai were closed all second graders would go on double sessions in the fall. Under present plans, using Nicolai, all elementary grades will be on full session except the first grade.

A secondary petition to increase class size to 40 pupils, retaining students in their neighborhood schools, was rejected flatly. Abt said he could not support it and that the state frowns up class size over 35.

As for how long the building would be used for school purposes, it was pointed out that the McCormack forecast, currently in preparation, would hold the key. The McCormack study is expected in November.

Revival of Interest:

Should Cherry St. Go Thru Under RR?

With the Hicksville Rail Road crossing elimination program well underway, the question was revived this week concerning a highway underpass at Cherry St connecting the two dead-ended streets under the railroad. This matter had received some consideration during hearings before the Public Service Commission as early as 1955 but had been shelved in the interest of progressing the overall project.

CIRCLE on map indicates point where RR embankment will form a permanent wall between two dead-ended sections of Cherry St.

That the question of opening Cherry St for thru traffic is still alive was evidenced at a recent meeting of Hicksville Chamber of Commerce.

From Nicolai St to Old Country Rd., under the present plans, will be a solid embankment carrying the tracks. Theodore Birgant, consulting engineer for the Town of Oyster Bay, testified at the PSC hearing in 1955 that he recommended that the viaduct (or trestle) should be continued from Marie St to Old Country Rd or at least to Cherry St.

He was of the opinion that this would reduce hazards to children who "are prone to play and climb up the embankment to the tracks; particularly since there are three schools in the vicinity of E. Nicolai St, one of which is located adjacent to the railroad."

There was a subsequent hearing on extension of the viaduct and it was extended from E. Marie St to E. Nicolai St. Cost factors of going further were then cited. An estimate was offered for the cost of a bridge span over Cherry St.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting when the opening of Cherry St was mentioned, an official felt that it was "too late". However, an attorney experienced in such matters, has informed the Herald that such a change in the plans could probably be accomplished by a "change order."

Once the solid soil embankment has been raised from Old Country Rd. to Nicolai St the possibility of ever getting Cherry St opened appears very remote. For one thing, the cost at a future date of excavating, etc., would be several times greater than doing the job at the present time as part of the project, advocates declare.

Opening of Cherry St would ease the already heavy flow of traffic over the tracks at Nicolai and Marie St for east-west movement. This is particularly obvious on Sundays when services are held at churches in the immediate neighborhood and on weekdays with school buses congregating on the vicinity.

Comment on School Prayer Arrives from Many Places

(See Page 8)

Comments regarding the decision of Hicksville School Board in adopting a stanza of the National Anthem as a prayer which may be used in the schools poured in from almost every state of the nation and from far off Saigon, Viet Nam.

The action of the Hicksville School Board apparently made most of the nation's newspapers. Many letters enclosed clippings from papers in Chicago, Boston, the South and West Coast.

Jeannette E. O'Heeron with the American Embassy at Saigon wrote to Robert Eaton and the Hicksville School Board on Independence Day:

"I am not accustomed to writing letters of praise (or blame) to fellow citizens-in fact, this will be my first-but I cannot withhold my enthusiasm for your decision to use the fourth stanza of the "Star Spangled Banner" as an appropriate school prayer for those who want to have one. I'm sure the great majority of Americans in Hicksville, across the nation and around the world are proud to acknowledge "in God we trust."

"One does not have to come to a country such as this where right now, free man-Vietnamese and Americans-ARE standing, 24 hours a day, 'between their loved homes and the war's desolation' to realize that indeed, our dear country is a 'heavenly rescued land' and as long as there are school boards like yours and citizens behind them, He will continue to 'preserve us a nation.'"

"Congratulations. May your board be a model for every God-fearing community in the country."

The vast majority of the letters were thrilled and enthused by the action of the Hicksville Board. A very few were critical such as a letter writer in Rockford, Ill., who commented: "I attended public school in New York State for 12 years and I never recall having the morning period broke up by prayer meetings. Has NY State joined the Bible-Belt? Why this insistence on morning prayers. Let those who want to pray do so at home. Why force it down the throat of everyone. Next some crackpot will want the children to say grace over their school lunch box."

A woman in Richmond, Va., wrote: "An article in the Richmond Times Dispatch yesterday told of your decision to adopt a passage from the 'Star Spangled Banner' to substitute for an official school prayer banned by the Supreme Court."

"This is an action which will give comfort to many people, like me, who are dismayed and frightened by the implications of this ban....."

Watch Water Supply Next Week Cantiague School Opening May Be Delayed Past September

By Sonia Komreich

Residents of Jericho were today warned by the Fire Dept that on July 16, 17 and 18 the Board of Fire Underwriters experts will be conducting water flow tests in the community. As a result of these tests, which include opening hydrants in certain selected sections and measuring the water pressure, sediment in pipelines is sometimes stirred up. If householders find rust or sediment in their drinking water, they are advised to let the faucet run for a while or not use the water until later in the day.

CANTIAGUE SCHOOL as caught by WEST BIRCHWOOD NEWS photographer earlier this week.

A difference of opinion between the general contractor for the Cantiague School and the architect was revealed at the June 28th meeting at the Jericho School Board and the possibility arises that the School may not be ready for use in September. (See separate statement of School Board-Ed.)

The School Board, headed by President Samuel Hecht, informed the builder's representative, a Mr. Green of the MMM Corp., that the Board will definitely not approve the school for occupancy unless it not only looks, but is complete in all respects.

Green stated that he believed only the kitchen equipment might not be ready in time for the September opening. The members of the Board and the architect, Robert Buchter of the firm of Knappe and Johnson, agreed that this did not constitute completion of the school. Board members stressed the necessity of changing the windows and relaying the kitchen floor.

Board President Hecht stated that the Board members were expecting the school to be ready for occupancy by the end of the school year. He said that the Board was not prepared to have students attend a school which was not complete. When Green minimized the presence of a few workmen on the job doing finishing touches, the Board's position was that the workmen in classrooms would be regarded as a disgrace both to safety and the ability of the pupils to concentrate. Moreover, while recognizing the inevitability of a "punch list" of defects to be remedied, lack of completion would also involve additional and unnecessary expense to the community.

William Mayhew, Board member, is slated to meet with the four job superintendents, the contractor and architect Buchter to expedite progress of the building project.

Young Cyclist Hurt

Glen Frankel, 10 years old, was hit by a car last week when he rode his bicycle out of his driveway into the intersection of Orange and Lewis, West Birchwood. Glen sustained a broken leg. The Community Welfare Committee asks that parents caution their children to be aware of street traffic particularly when emerging between cars parked at the curb.

President's Corner Complete Plans For Stop Signs

by Herb Platt

Detectives working out of the 2nd Police Precinct under the direction of L. Atwell, have notified your Civic Assoc. that the young offender, who has bothered some children of West Birchwood and surrounding areas, has been apprehended. We understand the largely due to the efforts of the parents of the children involved, has this case swiftly been concluded. We are most grateful to these parents and to our wonderful police department.

Your Civic Assoc. and the Princeton Park Civic Assoc. were in constant touch with the parents and the police during the investigation. This was a problem which we felt was of concern to the entire community.

Suburban Gardener

by Ralph Pignataro

With all the lawn problems that we face this time of the year, you can now realize that trees and shrubs are the most inexpensive landscape items you can own. However, without a beautifully kept lawn around them they are insignificant.

Fungus growths and surface insects are the two most troublesome lawn problems at this time. To control fungus growths in your lawn, use any one of these materials: dyrene, ortho lawn and turf fungicide, thiram, tersan, adimium, or actidione. PHYNEL MERCURY IS STILL BEING OFFERED BY SOME DEALERS AS A FUNGICIDE. THIS MATERIAL IS "FATAL" TO MERION BLUE GRASS, AND IS HIGHLY TOXIC. IF YOU USE THIS MATERIAL, BE VERY CAREFUL OR BETTER YET, DON'T USE IT.

To control surface insects, such as chinch bugs, sod webworms, lawn beetles, wireworms, or chiggers, use Diazinon liquid or dry form or Eblon in dry form; these only are effective.

To obtain the best results when working with fungicides, insecticides, and weed killers, as well as on your lawn, use repeated applications. Consult with your nurseryman as to usage of the material you are using.

Now that your evergreens have put on about as much growth as they are going to, it is time to prune them so that they will retain their original shape or attain a shape you so desire.

VERY IMPORTANT: If you have not already sprayed your evergreens to protect them against taxus weevil, do it now. Dieldrin is the material to use.

Community Welfare Committee has completed plans for the location of stop signs in an area bounded by Rockland and Toga Drives and Clinton to Herkimer Place. Jerry Strumpf, chairman, reported to the WEST BIRCHWOOD NEWS.

Strumpf said that stop signs will be erected on the corner of every street bisecting Sullivan, Orange, Rockland and Saratoga. In addition, these aforementioned streets will have stop signs at random in order to slow up the flow of arterial traffic through the community.

With new construction developing, rodents are being dislodged from their nests by bulldozers operating in the westerly sections of the community. This dislocation, in conjunction with the nocturnal activities of some residents engaged in dumping garbage and grass clippings has resulted in complaints to Community Welfare by other residents who are being plagued by rats, declared Strumpf. He called upon all residents in the marginal areas bordering on the undeveloped lands to take care not to dump.

School Board Reports Progress

Constant Jericho School Board inspection of construction progress of the Cantiague Elementary School has indicated that the schedule of completion times of the various stages as indicated by the builder have not been met. For example, failure to enclose the building prior to the spring of 1962 resulted in a severe delay. On Thursday evening, June 28th, the Board of Education met with the architect and contractor for the Cantiague School to promote the earliest possible completion and to obtain the best possible estimate for occupancy.

The substance of the report is that the building may not be completed in time for school opening in Sept. The School Board will continue to apply every possible pressure on the parties responsible to make every effort to satisfactorily complete the building at the earliest possible date, a spokesman said.

Since the building may look complete and usable at school opening time, the Board wishes to explain why occupancy may be deferred until the contractor has fully completed his work to the satisfaction of the district.

County Fire Chiefs Gather at Jericho

Jericho Fire Dept was host to the Nassau County Fire Chiefs Council on Friday night at their headquarters.

Guest speaker was Edward Thompson, New York City Fire Commissioner, who spoke about coordination of efforts between New York City and suburban areas in fire fighting. He disclosed that in the near future, during times of mutual aid activity, both the city and surrounding area fire radio wave bands will be the same.

He also discussed fire prevention and the importance of a continuing effort. He gave warning of the hazards to fire fighters when carriages and bicycles are stored in hallways of apartment dwellings.

Plans are being made for a mutual aid exhibition by New York City at Glenwood Landing on July 29.

Postal Workers In Secret Ballot

Hicksville and Plainview Postal employees have participated in a Nationwide vote, the first of its kind, to select employee organizations to represent them in bargaining sessions with Postal authorities. The election was held June 16-July 1. Results will be announced shortly. The secret balloting, conducted by mail, followed an executive order signed by President Kennedy last Jan. 17.

Organizations which achieve majority vote among employees in the Post Office will be recognized exclusively as the bargaining agent for the employees. Agreements on such matters as working conditions will be resolved by discussion and ratified by written agreements. Federal employees including Postal workers do not have the right to strike. Since their salaries are determined by Act of Congress, labor contracts will not deal with questions of pay.

The present administration has indicated that the move toward recognition of Postal employee groups will advance the interest of Federal employees everywhere. While such groups have existed for several years this is the first time, according to Acting Postmaster Irene L. Murphy of the Hicksville Post Office, that their rights have been formally and permanently established.

Editorial from Brooklyn Tablet on Hicksville Prayer:

Now Who's Hysterical?

As was to be expected, the near-unanimous Supreme Court ban on the Regents' prayer received a near-unanimous bad press. The secular papers outdid one another in editorial protests which faithfully mirrored the reaction of the common people. Many of our religious leaders and government officials, particularly Congressmen, issued excellent statements on many facets of the decision and the further problems it raises.

(The least of these problems, but a real one, is the plight of the editors forced to reduce this wealth of good copy into the realities of available space. We recall no recent occasion on which we had to leave out so much significant material from so many friends. We apologize.)

Also to be considered is the minority, the secular humanists and Church-State extremists who support the court. And invariably, there are a few liberal Catholics in the crowd, less offended by the court than by the "hysteria" which, they say, greeted its attempted censorship.

Who is guilty of hysteria? Those who call it a "strange decision"; those who find it "extremely disturbing"; those who see it as "but a further step in a progressive deterioration of our American tradition?"

These are the reactions that the Catholic beatniks are ranting against. But these quotes are not from unreasonable men; they are from a statement (see page one) of the executive committee of the School Superintendents' Department of the National Catholic Educational Association.

The liberals can have the secularist reasoning of the Supreme Court. We'll settle for the calm statement of our education officials, who warn:

"As we look back over recent history, we find that whether because of national apathy or because of positive attacks by secularists, the religious foundations upon which this Nation was built have been undermined. . . . We hope this decision of the Supreme Court will arouse the Nation."

When the decision was first announced, Robert Eaton, retiring president of the Board of Education of Hicksville, L. I., declared: "As far as I am concerned, the schools will have one prayer or another—or they might as well not have any school at all." William A. Bruno, one of the newest school trustees in the Nation, suggested that Hicksville adopt the following as a prayer:

"Bless with victory and peace, may the heaven reward land
"Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a Nation
"Then conquer we must, when our cause is just
"And this be our motto: 'In God is our Trust.'"

When the motion was made at a school board meeting, there was an immediate uproar. The secularists protested wildly. (We are almost tempted to say "hysterically.") Trustee Jerome Zettler asked if they knew the author of the proposed prayer. It was written by Francis Scott Key, Mr. Zettler said. It's from the fourth stanza of the National Anthem.

An observer at the meeting reported that several jaws dropped a foot. One gesticulating protester may still be there, he said, jabbing at imaginary targets with his pointed finger.

The board, which has a Protestant majority, quickly went about its business and unanimously adopted the prayer. And when its action was reported at a meeting of 500 parishioners of St. Ignatius Church, the board drew a spontaneous round of applause.

If the liberals really want to know who's hysterical, they should visit the good burghers of Hicksville.

Little Leaguer Fireworks Victim

By Grace Holstein

Although this column usually starts off on a happy note—we wish to relate to all his friends—the to a serious accident on July 10. Joseph Beltrami is hospitalized at Hempstead General Hospital.

The shocking fact remains—fireworks are still being sold and purchased—even the statics point to and conclusively show the number of children who eventually are harmed. In this particular case Joseph was unfortunate enough to have one explode on his face. The League, at this moment, does not know the extent of his injuries. If, by chance, you read this column, Joseph while in bed, all your friends and neighbors are "roasting" for you.

To all his friends, get-well cards can be mailed to him at the above hospital. As he will be there for at least 5 weeks—we are hoping Joseph will be delighted with mail.

On a happier note:
FARM DIVISION: The DEMOCRATIC CLUB is now our farm division champs. With a close win over Perfect-Line 10-8 at East St. School on Saturday July 7, 1962.

MINOR CHAMPION: Happy to tell—MID ISLAND HERALD are champs for 1962 season. Hicksville Intern'l L.L. team came in 2nd place.

SENIOR "A" DIVISION: Mr. Farrell and Mr. Menzies are pleased to announce All Star Team will be managed by Phil Mazzulla and coached by Mr. Calvacca. Thru process of elimination All-Star team shall be chosen.

MAJOR DIVISION: All-Star team of Major division has been formed. Mr. Farrington will coach under Tony Kirsch. First all-star game shall be on July 21 at Westbury Field. Although she has not been named as yet—for the first time our official scorekeeper will be a FEMALE. Although I am not casting dispersions on the MALE sex—read your own implication!

LATE FLASH: IN THE FIRST OF A #3- Game playoff (for champions) L. I. BANK beat Perkins by 11-6 score. Winning pitcher was Bob Ullrich. Losing pitcher Gary Jackson. In the 1st inning-Youngmans hit the first HR with one man on. In the 6th Giordano hit a HR with 2 men on. Both teams had 3 runs in the 1st inning. L. I. Scored 6 times in the 2nd.

The second game of this playoff will be Wednesday. These results will be in next week's issue of Mid Island Herald.

It used to be that a fool and his money were soon parted, but now it happens to everybody.

Lightning Strikes Again

Another one of St. Ignace's baseball teams can be called champs as a result of the Grammar Gold's victory over St. Aidan's by a 13 to 2 count. They exploded in the very first inning when, with 2 out and 2 on, Augie Reinhardt clobbered a round tripper. They kept up the attack in the second inning with Ray Rottkamp banging out a base-clearing triple for another three runs. In the third inning Augie Reinhardt poled his second home run with one on for another two runs. With such a strong offense Bob Dentel coasted to his ninth victory, allowing six hits while striking out 11. The hitting parade was led by Rottkamp with three for five, followed by Reinhardt, Stenson, Harding and Glibowski with two hits a piece.

The Seniors of St. Ignace also had an easy time of it, trouncing St. Vincent's 17 to 3 with Jerry Smyth going four for four, Joe Cafara getting a homer, and Blasi, Rottkamp and Zimmerman getting two hits each. Zimmerman doled out six hits and got ten by the strike-out route.

The Girl Scout Camper Today

By Carolyn Miller

In the days of the pioneers, families moving West brought with them only the necessities of life and perhaps a few family treasures. It is difficult to figure out why they brought anything at all knowing that they would have to throw it all into the first vestige of water they were required to ford, but the fact remains that they did, and that for only the first 2 and 1/2 miles were they able to enjoy these small comforts.

The modern Girl Scout is not forced to suffer these deprivations. This is because she plans ahead, and packs wisely, and mainly because she brings to camp only those things vital to life in the wilderness. These necessities include a binding knife, a box of matches, a transistor radio, mascara and eye lash curler, three books and two comics, a snack reminiscent of Thanksgiving dinner, hair curlers, a compact, 96 hairpins, 14 hair clips, a 50 cent package of notebook filler, and the ever-useful lipsticker. Among the non-essentials that won't fit into the bedroll are changes of clothes, mess-kit boots, and hand-aids.

Anyone who has ever watched a T. V. Western (and who hasn't?) knows that the pioneers had to suffer the company of unsavory characters. Statistics show that out of every 100 persons on a wagon train, 10 would be sullen, trouble-makers; eight would be murderers traveling incognito; three would be mentally unbalanced, and the remainder would be scalped. The only unsavory characters that the Girl Scouts are expected to deal with are the Girl Scout leaders (only kidding, no offense), and a recent poll has shown that none of the girls have been scalped.

The pioneers were drawn together by the common bonds provided by their rugged lives. They drank from the same poisoned water holes, were tortured side by side for the entertainment of the otherwise underprivileged hostiles, and revealed in the same simple pleasures. A few of the more popular sports included shooting dogs, shooting Indians, shooting fellow travelers and getting shot. The common bonds of the Girl Scouts consist of attending planned games, (3 people showed up for the last one) fighting over the boats, and fighting over the best bunk in the tent (who in her right mind would sleep out). The closest Camp Edey can come to a poisoned waterhole is the water at Woodsman.

One other interesting phase of life at camp is the way that property is lost. At least when things were lost on a wagon train they could blame it on the Indians; all the missing property at a Girl Scout camp is lost due to carelessness. Campers are lulled to sleep at night and awakened in the morning by the forlorn voices of other campers who have lost their mess-kits, or worse yet, lipsticker.

Another disappearing commodity is campers. There is a fascinating similarity between the effects of wolfbane on werewolves, and that of work on campers. A simple sentence such as "Who is supposed to gather wood today?" will evacuate an area more efficiently and faster than if you stood there shouting "Fire!" all day. As a matter of fact, the only living things that won't be gone in 6 and 3/5 seconds are the bugs who won't leave until the fire is within 6 inches of them. This stubborn bravery probably accounts for the fact that you can't get them out of your sleeping bag.

I don't mean to seem cynical about camping. I am just as crazy about it as the next person (if not more so, but I do think that we could do with more of the pioneer spirit. If not the pioneer spirit, then at least let us be as hardy as the bugs in our sleeping bags. They must co-operate with each other; none of them ever get up and leave.

Back from Cuba

Marshall R. McIntosh, builder construction man, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McIntosh of 219 West Marie St., Hicksville, returned to Davisville, R. I., with advance party of Mobile Construction Battalion Eight.

The battalion spent nine months at the Naval Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

HICKSVILLE SPORTSMAN and attorney, Charles H. Stoll, landed a 428 pound Blue Marlin at Eimini using a 24 thread line, 72 pound test. Judge Stoll landed this unusual specimen, measuring 11 feet 4 inches from tip to tail, for which he had been hunting for many years, in the record time of 26 minutes. The Blue Marlin is being mounted and will join Judge Stoll's extensive office collection of unusual trophies at 41 Broadway, Hicksville. (Photo by Frank Mallory)

Hicksville in Babe Ruth Finals

The Hicksville Babe Ruth team of the Hicksville Baseball Ass'n. will play Bellmore American for the Babe Ruth District championship Saturday July 14 at Hicksville High School at 2 P.M. Hicksville entered the finals by defeating Massapequa North on Saturday and Massapequa International on Sunday.

The Saturday game was a 3 to 2 squeaker pitched by Steven Schalm who scattered 8 hits and really bore down in the clutch. Hicksville got its 3 runs on successive hits by Greg Hoberock, Bob Rosenfeld and Lenny Elrich.

On Sunday Bob Roehrig shut out Massapequa International striking out six and walking none. Art Murphy's single spoiled Roehrig's bid for a no-hitter. Art Hall's two hits drove in 2 of Hicksville's

3 runs in Sunday's game. Catching for Hicksville in both games was Ed Zawadzki.

The Hicksville Babe Ruth All-Star Team consists of the following players: Ronnie Mittendorf, Lenny Elrich, Lance Duggan, Tom Colling, Robert Roehrig, John Molloy, Greg Hoberock, Ed Zawadzki, Steve Schalm, Ricky Benime, Tom Boyes, Art Hall, Bob Rosenfeld, John Hudgins and Peter Seitz. Named as alternates were Wade Laremore and Richard Buonpane. The team is managed by Homer Hoberock and Gene Schlinger. Charles Cassar is Coach.
