LILCO Pays Its Town Taxes

FRANK J. HYNES, left, Oyster Bay Town Tax Receiver, gets a check from Joseph Deegan, a LI Lighting Co. assistant district manager, representing a payment of $563,322 payment for the second half of LILCO's 1962 town property taxes. Based on a total school assessment of $6,369,995, the utility will pay a little more than 7 per cent of Hicksville's School Taxes this year or $383,306. LILCO's total 1961 tax bill in Nassau and Suffolk was $22,486,000.

Quote From Allen's Aides On Praying Is Challenged

The oral argument heard in Albany on Aug. 9 before State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. on the appeal from Hicksville School's decision in adopting a permissive prayer for school children was a "mockery and a farce", it was charged today by Board Member William A. Bruno Jr., if the Commissioner's top aides were correctly quoted in the daily press.

A daily newspaper correspondent reported that "minutes before Allen conducted a hearing on Hicksville's four-line school prayer two aides, Dr. John P. John and Dr. Allan P. Bradley, told a reporter that the education department's firm policy was that all school prayers are unconstitutional."

It is understood the School Board has taken exception to the Newsday articles regarding "obvious conclusions tending to slant the issues before you" and that the Board has not taken an official position regarding the question of whether the District would appeal an adverse ruling.

Lowway Property Prices In 1919

Broadway, Hicksville, property owners will find a comment in this week's feature on the community history on page four interesting. Joseph Steinert Jr., writing for the Long Islander in 1919, noted that property on Broadway could not be bought for $1,000 per lot but that it had been selling in 1850 for $1 to $5 per acre. Realty experts tell the HERALD the business property on North Broadway near the Post Office is currently worth about $1,000 a running foot of frontage assuming 100 foot depth of property. That would make a 60 by 100 foot lot worth $60,000. Industrial land is worth about $44,000 an acre and local vacant residential land, 60 by 100, has been sold for $5500.

Oral Arguments Heard:

Verdict on Prayer Due by Labor Day

The State Commissioner of Education, James E. Allen Jr., is expected to rule with the next two weeks upon the appeal from Hicksville School Board's action in adopting a prayer for use in the local schools which was the subject of an oral argument before him in Albany last Thursday afternoon. A separate petition to have William A. Bruno Jr., who was elected to the Board of Education last May removed from office, is expected to be dismissed by the Commissioner.

Joseph Catalano, attorney for Hicksville School District, was present at the hearing in Albany to represent the Board of Education. He also appeared, as a private attorney, representing Bruno.

Alfred Rubinstein appeared at the hearing as attorney for his wife, Miriam who had brought the two actions to Albany.

A report on the hearing was given at the School Board meeting Friday night, by Catalano.

Cites Composition

Catalano in his oral argument before the Commissioner noted four references in the Supreme Court decision to the composition of a prayer. He said: the Court in essence stated that officials of government composing or formulating or making up a prayer for permissive use in the schools was in effect the establishment of religion by the State, and therefore in violation of the Constitution.

"In the case before us," he told Allen, "we have an entirely different set of facts and circumstances. Elected officials of Hicksville, whom residents voted into office because of their trust in them to preserve the spiritual and moral needs of their children, approved for permissive recital in the schools as a prayer, the stanza of the National Anthem. The composer was Francis Scott Key who died in 1814. His composition was adopted as the National Anthem by the Act of Congress and approved by the President of the United States on Mar. 3, 1931."

"Justice Black, in his notation in the case, sanctions this composition as an acceptable recital."

"It is my holding that Justice Black did not abrogate the use of all prayers in the schools. The National Anthem is a manifestation in the belief of God and it was adopted by the Hicksville Board

Full Coverage Of Hearing Before Allen On Prayer

The oral argument before State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., in Albany on Thursday, Aug. 9, regarding prayer in Hicksville Schools was well covered. There were six correspondents and reporters in the audience, some representing wire services as well as local papers, and three photographers. Picture taking was restricted to before and after the hearing in the Regents' Room of the State Education Building.

An Albany correspondent, asking about the distance from Hicksville to New Hyde Park, remarked, "up here we call Nassau the bible-belt."

The hearing was concluded in

Giannelli Hurt In Train Mishap

Edward J. Giannelli 47, of 50 Lenox Ave., Hicksville, was taken to City Hospital at Elmhurst in fair condition Monday following the collision between a LIRR passenger train and a construction crane near Woodside Station in Queens. One passenger was fatally injured as the 100-ton crane sliced open the slow moving train like a can-opener.

Giannelli, owner of Edgman Press in Hicksville, is active in Democratic politics.

Both the Hicksville Fire Dept. and its ladies auxiliary won first award for best appearance at the annual Floral Park drill and parade earlier this month. The Ladies Auxiliary captured another first for best appearance in Bethpage at the Ninth Fire Battalion Drill.

ABOUT 400 HICKSVILLE youngsters were at the Mineola Playhouse on Aug. 2 to see a special children's drama "Ali Baba and the Thieves" as a feature field trip of the School Summer Recreation Program. The Recreation Dept. concluded its most successful and 5th summer program on Aug. 10 with a noticeable increase in registration. 50th Anniversary Of Local Couple

A family dinner party was held Tuesday, Aug. 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Behrens of 28 Sea Breeze Rd., Massapequa, in honor of the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Sidney of 45 Sterling Place, Hicksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney, parents of Vera D. Behrens, and Harriet M. Gerken, came to Hicksville as children, met at the Methodist Episcopal Church, then located on Broadway, and after a happy courtship were married on Aug.

Mrs. Sidney is still active in local organizations, church work is a member of the W.S.C.S. and Emera Chapter O.E.S. Mr. Sidney was formerly associated with Lawyers Mortgage Co. of New York City, and more recently with Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. Bethpage. He is also a member of the Manetto Lodge, F&AM.

The couple are presently residing in happy retirement at the Sterling Place address.

DON ZIRKEL, News Editor of the Brooklyn Tablet and resident of 34 Fountain St., Hicksville, will be one of the principal speakers at a publicity and public relations workshop at the national convention of Citizens for Education Freedom in Cleveland, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 17 and 18. Theme of the convention will be "Moving from Understanding to Action". The CEF is a nationwide non-discriminatory organization to defend the civil and constitutional rights of children in independent schools and to oppose discriminatory federal aid to education. Summer Test of Shelter

John G. Hurtle, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hurtle of 61 Notre Dame Ave., Hicksville, is among 100 volunteer Navy men participating in a two-week hot weather test of an underground fallout shelter at Bethesda, Md. The men entered the shelter on Aug. 1 and they were to leave on Aug. 15. It is the second test of the shelter this year—the first was conducted in February under cold weather conditions.

Dear Jean:

Congratulations to MR. and MRS. WALTER J. SIDNEY, of 15 Sterling Place, Hicksville, who celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary Aug. 14. Also congratulations and best wishes to newlyweds MR. and MRS. WILLIAM A. ANDERSEN. Mrs. Anderson is the former IONE WERNERBURG, of 95 Fifth Ave., Hicksville.

YOU CAN SAY YOU READ IT HEAR FIRST: Life magazine, some time next month, will have a feature article about physiological testing in schools with an updated lead-off about Hicksville. The author of the Life article is also publishing a book on the same subject. SIDNEY PELLEY was a guest speaker at Syosset Republican Club at the Four Seasons, Wednesday night, on the subject: "The Difference One Vote Makes". Sidney has been collecting examples on this theme for years. Really causing some headaches for political-minded people is the set-up of candidates on the voting machines in the September primary election contests. Candidates and their representative drew for positions on the line. Since the hearing in Albany on what is becoming known as the "Hicksville prayer case", School Attorney JOSEPH CATALANO has been getting mail from all over the nation. Long Island Commercial Review on Tuesday of this week reprinted our editorial about "WILLIAM E. KOUTENSKY, A Good Neighbor Indeed". Sign at a toll booth on the Tappan Zee Bridge: "Canadian currency accepted, 10 per cent discount". And not so long ago we had to hand over $1.05 of Uncle Sam's money to pay a $1 charge in Montreal. TOM DUNDON of Bethpage is the new public relations director at Nassau Republican Headquarters. Had a chat with BILL NELSON at his new chores with station WILL. He's still charged with the same old thing.

Juvenile vandalism continues to cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars, which is all the more shameful because we don't believe the culprits are representative of our youth. That fire at East St. School was blamed on juveniles. This week apparently a bottle of gasoline was tossed, down a cellar stair at Burns Ave. School, followed by a match and flames resulted. The old LUMM house on Newbridge Road has been boarded up, but somebody keeps getting inside to pull down plaster walls and leave peep bottles all over the place. We hear that SYBELLA CAESAR, transportation supervisor of Hicksville Schools, was the only lady present at a recent meeting of transportation people from a large segment of the state. Could be she's doing a "man's" job. In case you care, schools reopen Sept. 6 which is only 20 days away.

Heard from Miss MARY KELLER this week. She is still at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Brooklyn. Hope at this writing she is feeling better. Got well wishes to Mrs. EVELYN NOETH who is confined to her home with no visitors allowed. Hope you are feeling better soon, Mrs. N.

Congrats and best wishes to newly married couple, Miss GAIL LUND, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lund of Levittown to WILLIAM D. BRAUN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Braun of Jericho, who were married in Good Shepherd Church, Levittown.

MR. and MRS. FRANK KERN of 74 Cliff Dr., Hicksville, are the proud parents of a daughter, JANET ANN, born to them Aug. 13 at Nassau Hospital. The little miss weighed in at 7 lbs. 2 oz. MRS. KERN was at one time a reporter for the MID ISLANDER HERALD. Congratulate and best wishes to newlyweds MR. and MRS. GERALD HOFMANN, who were married Aug. 11 in Norwood, Ohio. Mrs. Hofmann is the former IRENE ALTHAUSEN, daughter of DR. MARIA A. THAUSEN of Hicksville.

ANTHONY SCHEFRANO of 19 Cornwall Lane, Hicksville, is a member of the scholarship and fund raising committee of Alpha Sigma Lambda, national honor society for evening students at Hofstra College which has announced a unique scholarship program for part-time students. JERRY SPIEGEL Assoc. will build an $18 million industrial complex on a 38-acre tract of space at New Cassel, Westbury, between Old Country Road and the LIRR and west of Wantagh State Parkway. Already in the area are Friendly Frogs, Miles Shoes, Acme Market, etc. Mid Island Plasma will pay $267,791.55 in school taxes in Hicksville under the newly adopted rate and based on its assessment of $4,884,240. Councilman CARL GRUNEWALD assures us that the town is taking a new look at the possibility of opening Carl St. to thru traffic in connection with the elevation of the LIRR.

MICHAEL KREMLER, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kremler of Princess St., is in Meadow Brook Hospital the victim of an accident in front of the CUMMINGS home on Myers Ave., Sunday. Mike was hit by a car. The proposal by ED MORRIS of Hicksville, franchise director of the county, for electrified train service out from Mineola to Hicksville was being discussed as long ago as 1925. It is still a good idea but with the present fiscal position of the LIRR, don't look for the dough from the company. Levittown School Board this week adopted a resolution that school sessions shall open with a recitation calling attention to our spiritual heritage and the existence of a Supreme Being. They stayed away from an actual recitation, or the word prayer, awaiting the outcome of the Hicksville appeal. Rumors that Supervisor JOHN J. BURNS may accept a position with the state government in Albany were regenerated this week when TOM PYNCHON resigned as leader of the Town GOP. Some observers claim that Pynchon will succeed Burns as supervisor. New School Board member GEORGE KUNZ has a new Chevy. SAM and KITTY WEISS came back from their trip to Europe on the weekend. The County Executive has invited our editor to have lunch with him. This being a five Friday month, the next School Board meeting in Hicksville takes place on Aug. 31, the last Friday. About 75 persons showed up last Friday night and the meeting was moved from the teachers' lounge downstairs to the auditorium, dispossessing a dramatic group in rehearsal. The School Board will start publishing a resume of its actions to be called the DIGEST. Some wit said it might be know as the INDIGESTION.

KATHLEEN JANCA, well known for her work for the PTA, has undergone major surgery at Central General Hospital, Plainview. Hicksville Fire Co No. 1 will hold its annual picnic this Sunday at the Strong St. firehouse. ARNOLD JEANSON is chairman.

Kellner Is Host To Senior Citizens

Senior Citizens' Day in Hicksville was climaxed Aug. 15, by an invitation from Sam Kellner to a "Surprise Supper and Square Dance" which was held at his Florida model homes on Newbridge Rd., Hicksville. Fred J. Noeth, editor and publisher of the MID ISLAND HERALD; William E. Koutensky, president of the Long Island National Bank; George Soll of Roslyn, Harvey Posner, Roosevelt Raceway, V.P., A.J. Costello, president of the Hicksville Seniors Inc.; Ira Block, Hicksville attorney, and Lawrence McCaffrey, president of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, were on hand during the card and game party during the afternoon to hand out special prizes. These gentlemen were recognized for their efforts in assisting the Senior Citizens.

Miss Ione Werneburg Becomes Bride

Mrs. William Anderson

Trinity Lutheran Church of Hicksville recently was the scene of the marriage of Ione Werneburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Werneburg of 95 Fifth Ave., Hicksville, to William A. Anderson of Elmhurst, Ill. Pastor Edward Starnoff officiated.

The bride wore a princess style, off-white, silk tulle gown with a short train. Her fingertip veil was crowned with white rose buds and lily of the valley, and ivy.

Lots Werneburg, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore a white linen sheath with embroidered overskirt of silk organza, and a green sash.

The bridesmaids, Julia Gibson, friend of the bride, and Hedy Andersen, sister of the groom, were similarly dressed. All wore crowns of pink roses and white daisies.

The best man was John Golttermann, cousin of the groom. The ushers were Kenneth Werneburg, brother of the bride, and Glenn Thole, a friend of the groom.

After a reception at Dahlstrom's in Huntington Station, the couple left for a honeymoon in New England. They are now residing in Chicago.

Mrs. Andersen will resume teaching at Luther South High School, Chicago, in the fall.

Mr. Anderson, son of Alaf Andersen and the late Mrs. Andersen, is employed as an accountant by Motorola.

Pearsall New GOP Chairman

C. Bruce Pearsall, attorney and Republican leader of Massapequa, is today the new chairman of the Oyster Bay Town Republican Committee. He was nominated by Thomas R. Pyncheon of East Norwich, Town Highway Superintendent, who resigned the position due to the pressure of his town duties. Pearsall was unanimously elected by the GOP executive committee in session Monday afternoon.

The announcement was made by Pyncheon at a meeting of 4th Assembly Republican Committeemen at the Four Seasons, Woodbury, Monday evening shortly after the action of the executive committee. He turned the chair over to Pearsall. Supervisor John J. Burns announced the creation of two new vice chairman positions in the organization.

Councilman Marjorie Post has been and continues to serve as a vice chairman. Named to the newly created positions are James Cardinale of Oyster Bay and County Clerk Francis J. Anderson of Hicksville.

Cardinale was nominated by State Senator Henry M. Curran and Anderson by Frank O'Connor of Locust Valley.

Pearsall announced that Angelo Roncallo, formerly co-executive committeeman, is the new Massapequa GOP leader and that the second seat on the executive committee has been given to Bethpage. Clifford Daley, Bethpage GOP leader, nominated Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach to the new executive committee post in his community.

Accepting the ovation of the assembly and the unanimous election of the committeemen, Pearsall paid tribute to Pyncheon as "one of the finest men I have ever met in politics". He said the town Republican organization owes Pyncheon an "undying debt of gratitude. Tom will go on to greater heights in our town."

He also pledged undying support to Joseph P. Carlinio, Nassau County Republican leader and Speaker of the New York State Assembly.

Remarking that it has been "a rather surprising day in the political activities of Oyster Bay and the County of Nassau," Carlinio made reference to what he described as the "very sudden and somewhat dramatic changes." He paid tribute to Pyncheon's leadership of the Republicans of the township during an interval of tremendous growth in population. He pledged Pearsall the full support of the county organization, and indicated the township may anticipate increased membership on the County GOP executive committee.

Carlinio also referred to Assemblyman Fehrenbach as "one of the most energetic and diligent" in the State Assembly and said that thru the Bethpage legislator's efforts the Town of Oyster Bay had received more state financial assistance for education than any other section of the State or County of Nassau. He added that Fehrenbach has worked closely with State Senator Curran in these endeavors at Albany.

Pyncheon became town Republican chairman and leader on Jan. 20, 1959. He has been Town Highway Superintendent since 1956.

Pearsall, the new leader, comes by his interest in politics naturally. His father and grandfather were active in Long Island Republican affairs. A distant relative was an assemblyman in the 1870s.

Born 41 years ago in Amityville, Pearsall attended elementary and high schools there. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce in 1942 and from St. John's Law School in 1948. He served two hitchhikes in the Marines, saw combat at the Saipan-Tinian operation during World War II and concluded his service as a first lieutenant in 1952.

He entered private law practice in Amityville in 1948 with Edwin R. Lynde, now presiding justice of the Nassau County District Courts. He was assistant Nassau County district attorney from 1953 to 1956. After leaving the DA's office he returned to private law practice in Amityville.

He became a Republican committeeman in 1952 and was elected the Republican leader of Massapequa in 1955. He was a delegate to the National Republican Convention in 1960.

He resides at 53 Bay Dr., Massapequa, with his wife, Virginia and their three children: Carlton Bruce Jr., 10, Diana, 8, and Jeffrey, 6.

Pearsall, speaking at a meeting of the Syosset Republican Club at the Four Seasons Country Club, Wednesday night, said that his political philosophy has not undergone any change since he was elec-

Charter Revision Deserves Your Attention

A group of 17 people, 10 Republicans and seven Democrats, is now engaged in the preliminary work of preparing revisions in the Nassau Charter which became law in 1938. Relatively little has been heard about this Commission and its activities, but it should be a major source of news during the next 10 or 12 months. It will be to the advantage of every resident and property owners to be alert to what is proposed by this Commission.

We heard James Gehrig, former judge of the Children's Court and now chairman of the Charter Commission, speak about this project at a meeting of the Syosset Republican Club, Wednesday night.

Gehrig traced lightly the background of the present charter which was adopted by the County voters in 1937. He had served as secretary of that earlier Commission.

The body has engaged the services of several experts to look into certain areas and prepared factual reports.

Without expressing his preference or position, Judge Gehrig outlined some of the matters being suggested.

Merge all highway maintenance under the County Dept. of Public Works? Consolidate the offices of town and village tax receivers under the county comptroller? Create a juvenile aid bureau in county police dept? Establish a traffic commission, possibly under the franchise dept? And what about the management of zoning?

There has also been advanced a proposal to enlarge the Board of Supervisors, possibly with elected area representatives.

Judge Gehrig urged everyone to follow the development of these issues which must be weighed in terms of tax costs vs possible increased economy and efficiency vs loss of home rule service.

We recall the development of the 1938 County Charter and it did generate considerable differences of opinion. We hope the people of the County and our local communities in particular will display the same critical interest as the Charter revisions are prepared for submission to the voters in November 1963.

Steinert Wrote Of Hicksville In 1919 When Population Was Only 4,000 Souls

By Joseph Steinert Jr.

(Editor's Note --- A quarter century after Frank Morris wrote a series of newspaper articles in 1888, portions of which were published here in the past four weeks, Joseph Steinert Jr. in 1919-20 wrote for the Long Islander of Huntington about "The Hicksville of Today".

(The following is published for a glimpse of the community and its citizens in the immediate post World War I period, 40 years ago).

In looking back 50 or 60 years the very few remaining old inhabitants of Hicksville have both happy and sad reminders of incidents in the old Hicksville with its sparsely settled gatherings of very few dwellings and a very few inhabitants in 1827, just 82 years ago, and looking about today dwell with love for the old settlement which was originally founded by Elias Hicks, also founder of the Hicksville Order of Orthodox Friends' Society.

(We attempted to correct the oft repeated comment that Elias Hicks founded Hicksville in an earlier article. Most authorities agree that Hicksville was named for Valentine Hicks of Jericho. — Editor.)

Of the old buildings in the early times a few still remain, among them being the Grand Central Hotel built in 1836; Peter Layton was the first proprietor. He was succeeded by Samuel Hendrickson. The latter was in possession at the time Hicksville was the terminal of the Rail Road in 1835 when stages left the Grand Central with mail, passengers and express to Huntington.

The shack used as a depot was also the Post Office and Jacob Dexeimer presided over both. The first old schoolhouse still stands, the brick building at the corner of Carl St and Broadway is owned by Henry C. Stolz. Another old dwelling of ancient days is the Cahill house now owned and occupied by Adam H. Lauck, corner of W. Barclay St. and Jerusalem Ave. The building now occupied by Sebastian Wucher, the baker, was really the first bakery in Hicksville.

There was also the Becker building, now occupied by Eugene Staehle on Broadway, and a few other old-time dwellings. Including the Mooney and Benn house on Woodbury Road, the John Hauser cottage, also on Woodbury Road; the brick house on Plainview Road occupied by Edward McCabe and family; the dwelling occupied by Mrs. Kasselholfer on Railroad Ave but the oldest of all is the residence of John Vincent on W. Barclay St.

All these buildings are today in a fine state of preservation. The first butcher was Albert Layton, who conducted his business in the present John Vincent house. The former Herzog store building was the first store established in the village and was then on the site of the then Jacob Christ property being purchased in 1859 by one Philip Buckerman, a baker, and one Henry Eckbert, who built a small shack and opened a grocery store. Buckerman conducted a bakery in the cellar of the Christ house, which is still there. This combined business was carried on for several years, when the partners had a disagreement and sold out the property and business back to Jacob Christ who continued to conduct the business on a larger scale up to 1861 when he disposed on the business to Moses Bahr, Louis Bahr and Moses Baum. These three ran the business up to 1863 when the property and business again changed hands, this time it fell to Fred Herzog Sr who continued the business with success up to the time of his death, when it fell to his son, William C. Herzog, who ran it up to about a year ago.

Voigt's Sawmill

In 1862 Charles G. Voigt Sr., opened a sawmill on East Nikolai St. The power was a horse. The business prospered and eventually crum and interior woodwork turning, etc were added which necessitated the replacement of horse power by machinery run by steam. This business has prospered during its passing from father to son and to grandson. The Voigt sawmill is one of the widest known on Long Island. Mr. Voigt also carried on the undertaking business with his sawmill, it passing from him to his son, the late Charles H. Voigt, who just before his death in 1909 sold the undertaking business to Harvey A. Turnure who is still the up-to-date village funeral director.

(Editor's Note - The business passed from Turnure to the late Archie Mowen to the present-day Vernon Wagner Funeral Home)

In the 1870's Julius Augustin started a grocery and general merchant business in the William Freytag store building on Broadway, which he conducted with success up to 1890 when he disposed of it to Henry F. Huettner, who has also run the business with greatly added improvements more successfully.

Another old-time store was the general store of Ernest H. deLanguillette, which some twenty years ago was razed to make room for the present I.W. Spiro Dept. store.

Henry C. Stolz has conducted a butcher business here since 1872. He is the oldest businessman here at present. (This store is today Vince Braun's Meat Market at 102 Broadway - Editor.)

Away back in the 60s a real bakery was started by George Wetterau and carried on after his death by his son, Daniel, who about 15 years ago sold out to Seb. Wucher who still conducts the business.

There are several old-time business industries still flourishing here. At one time Hicksville was noted for its gold, silver and aluminum manufacturing but there were at least 15 shops then and only two or three now due to the entry into the village of several sewing factories which gave steady work at increased wages to young women.

Village of Plains

Hicksville, also known as the "Village of the Plains", has grown rapidly and all her people have prospered.

In 1850 ground on the main business street was purchased at from $1 to $5 per acre. Today the same ground cannot be bought for $1,000 per lot. The village is cosmopolitan and enjoys the following churches: St. Ignatius Roman Catholic, Rev. Dean L. Fuchs, pastor over 47 years; Trinity Lutheran Rev. William Rusch, pastor; St. Stephen's English Lutheran, Rev. Robert Peterman, pastor; First Reformed, Rev. Irving P. Emmerick pastor; Methodist Episcopal, Rev. Walter Bickering, pastor; and Holy Trinity PE, Rev. Wharton McMullen, pastor.

Of fraternal and benevolent societies, we have the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Royal Arcanum, Knights of the Maccabees, Woodmen of the World, Rebekah, IOOF, Holy Name Society, Hicksville Benevolent Society, New Bridge Mutual Aid Society, Catholic Benevolent Legion. Also, Wagner Post, American Legion, Red Cross Branch, Patriotic Order Sons of American and Boy and Girl Scout troops.

Our Fire Dept. fully motorized, stands second to none on Long Island. Our Schools are unsurpassed from the kindergarten to high school, with a staff of 22 teachers. There is also St. Ignatius Parochial School.

Other important organizations

AROUND 1920 this motorized hearse of Turnure Funeral Home was the latest thing. The funeral home had been started by Charles G. Voigt Sr. in connection with his millworking plant on Nikolai St. This picture is from a collection of glass-plate negatives of Brown the Photographer.

are the Carpenters' and Joiners Union, the Hicksville Board of Trade, the Hicksville Civic Club and the Broadway Protective Assoc.

Hicksville also possesses an athletic club, organized in 1905, composed of the athletic young men of the village, who for years past have made a mark for Hicksville in athletic records, sending one of its members to Sweden where he participated in the last Olympic games in the 200-mile bicycle race and made good. This rider was Jerome Steinert.

Hicksville of today is surely modern with a population of 4,000 unable to furnish dwellings for the large number of would-be residents. It has the finest roads of macadam, concrete, and block cement sidewalks, etc. We only lack one necessity to complete its modern improvements — that is sewerage. That in time will come also.

Our telephone system was installed in 1895; our water hydrants for fire and household reached us in 1903, electric lights in 1904, the trolley line connecting Hicksville with New York City via Flushing and Jamaica in 1909. The South Shore Gas Co., now the LI Lighting Co., extended its mains and furnished gas for lighting and cooking purposes in 1913.

Away back in 1903 our people became so prosperous and seeing further prosperity ahead, decided Hicksville was large enough and wealthy enough to have its own bank. So in the fall of that year the State Bank, known as the Bank of Hicksville, was established in one of the John H. Hahn frame buildings on Broadway. The bank flourished and its business outgrew its facilities to such an extent that a large new fire and burglar proof building was built near the Broadway Railroad crossing and completed in 1917. In that same year it was deemed advisable by a large portion of the business men and farmers of the vicinity that a National Bank should be established here and forthwith under the supervision of J.B. DuBoise, one was established.

President's Corner

by George J. Frankel

Nowhere in this issue is an article reporting the effects of the delay of the opening of the Cantagius School on the Jericho School District. I want to extend my personal thanks to all the members of the Special Committee of the Birchwood Civic Assoc. who investigated this situation particular to its chairman, Mrs. Sheldon Gellman, for the many hours of work and many meetings held with Dr. Leon Westphal, Superintendent of Schools of Jericho School District.

I also want to thank the innumerable members of our Civic Assoc. who have called me or the other members of the committee to express their concern over the situation and their whole-hearted support of the committee's actions and recommendations. It is indeed gratifying to all of us to know that our position so truly reflects the will of the community.

As a result of all our investigations, our Special Committee is convinced that not only is it possible but it is most necessary to avoid putting our children on a split session. Since it is now apparent that the completion of the Cantagius School will be delayed we cannot afford to jeopardize our children's education by curtailing their classroom time.

We are confident that the Jericho School Board is as cognizant as we are of all the many educational and emotional problems as well as the health and safety hazards that inevitably arise when the school sessions are shortened.

We are grateful to Dr. Westphal for his cooperation in meeting with us and in helping us to convey our position to the members of the School Board. I am confident that the spirit of cooperation which has characterized all our conversations so far will result in a decision satisfactory to all concerned.

Lehrer of Birchwood Park Drive. --Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nathanson of Bounteous Lane who recently became proud grandparents.

Our sincere sympathy to William Spendell of Mellow Lane on the untimely passing of his beloved wife, Lee. Our condolences to their children and to Mrs. Mae Rappaport of Hazelwood Drive, sister of Lee.

Happy birthday to Miriam Frankel, wife of our Civic President, and well known Girl Scout Leader. Happy birthday also to Mark West of Merry Lane. Congratulations to Kay and Joe Fornio also of Merry Lane on their daughter's second birthday.

The Rothberg's (Joni and Ray) of Flower Lane had a double celebration on Aug. 14th. It was 7th Wedding Anniversary and the grand opening of Ray's new restaurant and coffee shop in Manhattan.

Welcome home to Sonny (Milton) and Shirley Lubliner of Forsythia Lane. They just returned from an Antique Shopping Tour.

Happy to note that Henrietta Morgenstern of Hodges Lane is feeling better. Sammy Resnick of Magnolia Lane has just expanded his Manhattan business, by opening a new retail outlet in our area. Best of Luck.

We are very proud of Rabbi Stanley Steinhart of the Jericho Jewish Center. Rabbi Steinhart gave the invocation at the House of Representatives in Washington on Tuesday, Aug. 14th.

"Life begins at 40", they say. If this is so, Lenny Wainick of Forsythia Lane is just starting out. Len just celebrated his 40th. Hope you have many more. His wife Shirley gave him a tape recorder with an attachment to tape phone calls. Those who have occasion to call, better watch what you say.

Syosset School Tax Rate Set

by Horace Bernstein

An increase over original estimates of $1,437,000 in assessments in Central School District No. 2, plus an increase in State Aid calculation made it possible for the Board of Education to LOWER the $5.43 basic district tax rate for schools for 1962-63 to $5.29 per $100 of assessment, a cut of 14 cents. (Ed. note: Birchwood homes in Central School District No. 2 average about $9,000 in assessments) The tax rate for Locust Grove (our area) is: Central School District rate $5.29; individual rate of $0.137 for a total of $5.427. To this has to be added the Library tax of $0.079 per hundred dollars of assessment.

Kenny Schechter of Birchwood Park Drive had his share of accidents in camp this summer. First accident netted him 16 stitches, and last week's accident will necessitate his wearing a medical collar for several weeks. Kenny, son of Sylvia and Stanley Schechter, is now back home.

Last week, 22 dutiful Birchwood parents made the long trek to Hallstead, Pa., to visit an as yet uncounted number of Birchwood children at a summer camp called Huskee. It is not our intent to recount the oft-described "camp visiting days" with their tearful greetings and farewells, the horse shows and exhibitions, the hills, the insects, the dust and the smog. And we shall not describe the campers' indescribable "cabins" from which they depart so painfully at August's end. Nor shall we dwell too long on the priceless artifacts created by the campers during long hours in their arts and crafts periods. Did we say priceless? Not true. Each and every ash tray, key holder, embossed leather belt and lanyard may be legitimately catalogued at $500 to $1000. And who is to say that the price isn't right?

The accompanying photo includes at least one member of the following Birchwood families: H. and M. Gruber, A. and F. Lovler, J. and S. Gold, M. and B. Karpel, S. and J. Shostack, N. and M. Turrell, D. and V. Mark. Other visiting parents, not in the photo, were Mr. and Mrs. M. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kass and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bass.

Due to the many complaints received by the Birchwood Civic Assoc. from the residents of the community following the Jericho School District's publication of the schedule for the fall term (K-3 split session) at the Jackson School, the Executive Board of the Civic Assoc. arranged for a Special Committee to investigate the situation. Members of the committee are Dorothy Weaderhorn (who is also Pres. of Jackson PTA), Rhoda Herrick, Dr. Robert Brown, George J. Frankel (Pres. of Birchwood Civic Assoc.) and Beverly Gellman, Chairman. After examining the Cantagius School site, we were convinced that the school would not be ready as originally reported. In fact, Mr. Mayhew had at the last School Board meeting, suggested that the Board "play it safe" by figuring a minimum of two months for completion. We tend to agree with him. With this situation in mind, the committee felt that by putting all the Kindergarten classes on double session as in the past, instead of having some on single session, a sufficient number of usable rooms would be made available so that NO grade would have to go onto split sessions.

At a meeting with Dr. Westfall, and also at the School Board meeting, we learned that the administration had recommended, and the School Board approved, of the K-3 split for Jackson School since they presumed that the opening of the Cantagius School would be no more than a matter of a few weeks.

Now they are not too pure of the time element involved and so are considering two alternate plans. These are: (1) K in all schools remain on the double session as in the past and the 1st grade in all schools go onto a split session, and (2) K in all schools remain on double session and NO other grade go onto split session. This would be done by utilizing the art, music, teachers' room, part of the nurses room, or the gym in any of the three existing elementary schools. (Plan #2 was reported at the School Board meeting as having been recommended by our committee.

Further meetings with Dr. Westfall have given us no reasons in opposition to our recommendation -- on the other hand, we have received no further ideas as to what the new recommendation of the administration to the School Board will be. However, in view of the anticipated delay in the completion of the Cantagius School, we are confident that the School Board will revise its schedule, as published, for the Jackson School, and we hope that they will adopt their alternate plan #2 which is the plan highly recommended by the Special Committee of Birchwood Civic. Decision on this matter has been tabled by the School Board until Aug. 23rd.

The committee will continue to urge the recommendation of alternate plan #2 of K remaining as in the past for all elementary schools, and NO grade put onto split session.

We will keep you advised of any progress made, or any School Board decisions, through future issues of THE VILLAGER.

VERDICT ON PRAYER

of Education in that regard as a manifested prayer.

The Supreme Court pronounced the rule in the case of Engel vs Vitale that the official prayer known as the Regents Prayer composed by government officials is unconstitutional. The reasons for the rule have also been expressed by the Court and both the rule and the reasons for it have been and will be the subject of debate for a long time to come.

"The rule that this petitioner (Miriam Rubenstein) seeks to establish is twofold:

"1. To set aside the National Anthem as a prayer on the grounds of unconstitutionality.

"2. To forbid any prayer -- neither petitioner or petitioner's children desire -- the return to God."

"But the most significant, the most alarming and the most vital elements are the reasons or motivations behind this petition and the petitioners request for the above rulings. Most times the reasons are disguised in the formality and legal pleadings and procedures. However, in this petition the slip occurred. The reasons were proudly, boastfully, and even defiantly proclaimed.

Catalano then read from Mrs. Rubenstein's petition: "The Board of Education does not represent the petitioner's choice of a pastor nor does petitioner share in the sense of guilt which members of the Board of Education have to seek salvation by."

Sees Veil Drawn

After this direct quote, Catalano commented: "The veil is drawn. Taking courage in considering the interpretation of the Supreme Court ruling, here is an attempt to undermine and destroy the rights of our spiritual heritage. I believe that we have been sterilized long enough to continue to succumb to the sensitivities of small minorities and factions.

"How many checks must be turned before we say 'stop'?"

"This I fear -- the asking guidance which inspire the well intentioned by the cold logic of erroneous assumptions to say to our children 'It is a disgrace to pray -- you should be ashamed to utter the name of God -- it is a sign of a sense of guilt.'"

"The appalling irony of it is that our adults, our leaders of government invoke the blessings of God before their formal deliberations. But it is shameful for children to do so. I believe the reasons are obvious. We, as adults, are a lost generation, because our spiritual roots are too deep and too fervently entrenched to be obliterated and destroyed. But our heirs, our children, the future leaders of this country's destiny can be indoctrinated now in their formative years, and as Lenin stated we will fill like ripened plums into his outstretched hands. Or in another instance: 'An American will raise the Red flag over Washington.'"

Catalano went on: "Make us ashamed to pray publicly and we will soon lose the spiritual environment that has made this country strong. Justice Black did not intend to weaken America's greatest power -- its spirit, generated and created in the loving form of God. Why did he add that footnote? Why did he use the words 'composed by government officials', if he wanted no prayer, why didn't he use the simple words 'no prayer and not any prayer'.

Become Robots

"The muscles of our industry, and the muscles of our armed forces are a dynamic force to deter any enemy of wrongful designs upon us. But take away the spirit, the dependence upon God and our religious heritage and we become robots to be controlled by another intelligence."

Rubenstein in his oral argument wished to have the two issues brought by Mrs. Rubenstein handled separately.

Regarding the School Board adoption of a prayer, he said he had no objection to the singing of the

—seems to be moving into the area of 100% absurdity.

A Hicksville, L. I., lady now wants recitation of the "Star Spangled Banner's" last stanza, as a prayer, barred from that town's public schools. This is the stanza that ends: "In God is our trust."

Outlaw the "Banner"?

It's okay to sing it, says the objector, but to say it as a prayer violates the Earl Warren Supreme Court's ban on public-school prayers written and authorized by public officials. Francis Scott Key, author of the National Anthem, was a public official?

We're beginning to hope that this whole argument may shortly become so ridiculous that the American people will horse-laugh the Warren Court decision into dead-letterdom.

National Anthem provided it is sung and the entire anthem is sung. He claimed the Supreme Court decision outlawed all prayer.

He charged the meeting of June 29 when the Board took its action had a "revival meeting atmosphere" and quoted Vice President Herbert Johnson on his call for a "return to God."

As to the matter of removal of Bruno from the School Board, Rubenstein charged the trustee had entered into a position of trust and subverted it for political expediency. Rubenstein said Bruno has the right to speak, however he is limited or waived these rights when he became a member of the School Board.

Catalano moved for the dismissal of both actions on the grounds that the petitioner had failed to prove her complaint or charges.

The Long Island Catholic this week quoted Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, speaking in San Francisco, as saying many people had taken the position that the nation's Highest Court had ruled out all recognition of God in public life. This is not so, he stated.

The jurist said the Court's decision dealt with a "state-written prayer circulated to state employees with instructions to order it recited at the beginning of each school day by children in a state-owned building."

He noted that the Constitution forbids government establishment of a religion and said: "No to me means no. That is all the Court decided, not that there should be no recognition of a Supreme Being."

JEAN C. GROSSO

the attending nurse, upon lifting an eyelid, recognized the symptoms of shock. (This girl had been brought to the ward by a housewife who had stumbled over the lifeless form on her front walk. This was all part of the Meadowbrook story that unraveled.

FROM DISK TELL THE WEE HOURS OF DAWN and at 12 a.m. sharp, little Walter, the boy that made this whole story possible came strolling out of the ward, with a knee bandaged like a mummy's head. There had been 9 stitches instead of 6 and the look on the proud father's face, bespoke a thousand words. Walter had taken his first real ordeal like the little man he was and in a matter of a few hours, the pain would be all forgotten.

A SHORT PROFILE -- Meet Michael Gonta, the new school district maintenance carpenter. Prior to World War I, Mike and his parents farmed their own land in Ukraine, but after the war, their country became partitioned equally between Poland and Russia. The Gontas' then became Polish subjects and continued their farming under very much the same conditions until a few decades later when World War II entered the picture. Mike enlisted in the Polish army, he and his fellow countrymen fought valiantly, but Hitler's powerful panzer divisions, almost immediately took over the domination of Poland. As a prisoner of war, Michael once again tilled the soil, but this time in the employ of the German landowner. The subsequent defeat of Germany led to further changes and the World War II treaty put Poland under Russian control. Farming once again but this time from Hitlerism to Stalinistic methods. Like many other Europeans, then and right up to the present day, Mike and his family, fled to West Berlin. Once again, a citizen of a new country, but this time, with an old new passport, that had been handed down from father to son. Mike has started as a laborer but carpentry was his forte and he became part of an army of men that rebuilt West Berlin.

With this job completed, there remained but one more move for the Gonta family that now include a wife and child. The Gontas' arrived in the United States in 1945 and after a few years of laboring on Long Island, he and his family moved to Hicksville. A few months later Michael Gonta came into the employ of the Hicksville School District as a groundsman, connected with the Building and Grounds Dept. and recently was promoted to District carpenter, filling a vacancy created by a retirement.

Lots of good luck in your new job Michael Gonta, not only a capable craftsman, but also one of those fine people you meet in the "Halls of Hicksville" each day of the year.

Library Corner

There are listed in "Subject Guide to Books in Print" some titles concerning all phases of World War II. Were you at Schweinfurt? Ploesti? Savo Island? With Merrill's Marauders? The stories of all these specific engagements and many more have been told in the last 10 years or less. While the accounts vary in quality they cannot fail to stir those who were there or who served in World War II battle zones. These books usually researched and written by reporters can give genuine insight into battle conditions and are generally objective in tone since it no longer is necessary to gloss over military errors.

War has long fascinated writers and has been responsible for some of our very best literature. From the magnificent account of the Peloponnesian war by the historian Thucydides, through Tolstoy, Stephen Crane, Hemingway, and James Jones the paradox of heroic sacrifice and tragic waste of war has struck a basic chord in the human consciousness. An article in the New York Times several weeks ago illustrated the rise and relative decline of some of our most promising writers after World War II. Norman Mailer, James Jones and several others have not been as effective when they ventured out of this milieu. Even Ernest Hemingway was uneasy and somewhat ineffective when not dealing with war or violence. The source of much creative writing is personal experience, but war seems to be peculiar in that it inspires many people to write who cannot always deal effectively with other material.

There are so many excellent books, fiction and non-fiction on World War II that it is impossible to include them all in this space. Among the best are "The Marauders" by Charlton Ogburn; "Ploesti" by James Dugan; the monumental "History of U.S. Naval Operations in World War II" by Samuel Eliot Morrison and "D-Day" by David A. Howard. Notable novels have been written by Norman Mailer, "Naked and Dead"; James Jones "From Here to Eternity"; John Horne Burns "The Gallery"; and a rather overlooked but excellent novel "The War Lover" by John Hersey. Memoirs of famous leaders are plentiful and interesting including Eisenhower, Montgomery, and the controversial British Lord Alanbrooke, Chief of the Imperial Guard Staff. Among several excellent books by the Germans we should include "The First and Last" by Adolf Galland, a history of the Luftwaffe, and "Panzer Leader" by Heinz Guderian. In addition to these and many other the library has purchased the multi-volumed set entitled, "U.S. Army in World War II" a complete and authentic history of all Army operations published by the office of the Chief of Military History of the U. S. Government.

Their purpose is service to the public and their goal is preservation of good government through ideals and philosophy of Republicanism. The GOP Recruits of Hicksville are not only interested in politics and government, but are presently engaged in many social events. For example, the chapter has entered teams in the Nassau County Council (governing body of Recruit chapters in Nassau County) bowling league and the Council "Par 3" Putt-Putt league. The chapter takes part in the annual card party and fashion show, the Washington trip, the ski trip, beach parties, picnics, barbecues, dances, and many local house parties.

Get on the band wagon and become a member of the Republican Recruits of Hicksville—meet other Recruits—make new friends—meet your local Republican leaders and strengthen the Republican Party through your efforts.

Dramatic Moments in Hospital

by Joe Koerner

TILL THE WEE HOURS OF DAWN -- Ever felt like jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge without the benefit of a parachute? Of giving up the old ranch or split level and heading for the hills? Or even worse yet, possibly toying with the idea of playing "Russian Roulette" with 6 live bullets in the chamber? Well cousin, if that's what's bothering you, and you feel a little bothered and bewildered by this modern high-pressure society, then get yourself a quick transfer from the fidgety express by hauling yourself over to the emergency ward of any hospital, any period of time between darkness and dawn.

It's a real eye opener that will send you home with the feeling that being behind 15 payments on the mortgage isn't worthy of a mention on the psychiatrist's couch. It was an unscheduled visit for us, brought about by an injury to a 9 year old boy. It had been an open wound, and part of the flesh from the right knee cap was left imbedded in a much traveled macadam road. We knew it would require a minimum of 6 stitches. There was an emergency run to the Meadowbrook Hospital and what we saw there during the intervening wait made us a little less concerned about being down to our last $10,000 bill and without a doubt, this visit did make life as it stood with us at that precise moment, a little easier to take. Time, 9:50 p.m. -- a stab wound victim, with daylight showing through teenager's wrist (an impromptu pencil and handkerchief was used to tie a tourniquet). 9:55 p.m. -- a police car came to a screeching halt, depositing a pair of police officers with a handcuffed youth struggling between them (obviously the stabber brought over for identification.) 10:00 p.m. -- an elderly gray-haired woman bleeding profusely from a shoulder injury (a car accident and the bright red color of her dress was no match for the resulting stain.) 10:20 p.m. -- an ashen faced man was carried in on a stretcher (there was no word on the cause or the outcome.) 10:35 p.m. -- a three year old boy arrived with his worried looking parents (a victim of a badly scorched hand derived from touching the burner of an electric stove.) 10:40 p.m. to midnight -- an endless train of assorted emergencies, which included a pretty, raven-haired teenage girl. Her lower lip was scarlet in color with stark white indentations from her own teeth. Her eyes had a wild grotesque appearance, and
