Prayer Case Decided?

Has the State Education Dept., already made up its mind about the question of prayer in Public Schools? Education Commissioner James Allen says no but his own legal division and counsel appear to be talking differently. See editorial on page four.

Firemen's Labor Day Trophies on Display

More than 70 handsome trophies went on display this week at the School Administration Annex, Broadway and Marie St., the awards for the winners in the 34th annual Invitation Labor Day firemen's drill and parade sponsored by Hicksville Fire Dept. at Mid Island Plaza. James Taxter is chairman.

Auxiliary Seeks Trading Stamps

The Women's Auxiliary of the Long Island Lutheran High School Assoc., Brookville, is beating the drums for expansion of its membership and its service to the High School.

One of the Auxiliary's continuous undertakings is the collection of trading stamps of all kinds. To date, approximately $1,600 worth of stamps have been turned over to the Rev. Elmer F. Egnold, executive director of the Long Island Lutheran High School. Renewed effort by members of all Lutheran Churches is requested. The trading stamps collected will be used to supply as visual aids as possible for the High School.

A recent fashion show and tea was staged at the High School in Brookville with most gratifying results. The school was crowded to overflowing with members and friends, all of whom spent a most enjoyable afternoon. The Auxiliary is presently preparing for a luncheon in the Fall—an autumn buffet to be held Oct. 6 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Hicksville. The proceeds from this affair, as did those from the fashion show, will go toward furnishing the home economics room of the high school.

Open Letter to the Herald

I would like to publicly thank the Hicksville Fire Dept. for their speed and efficiency in putting out the fire at my place, Rudy's Bar, on Duffy Ave., Hicksville. Enclosed is another donation for their Welfare Fund which you can forward to the Honorary Chairman, Henry G. Eismann.

Your Truly,

For Republicans Only:

Complications In Primary Contests

Voters in the Town of Oyster Bay who are enrolled Republican are being warmly solicited to cast their ballots in the primary election of Thursday, Sept. 6th, unlike anything they have seen in many years. The reason is there are competing candidates for the GOP nominations on this region for the first time in maybe 25 years.

The situation has come about because of a seemingly lax provision of the election laws which permits a person to file a petition for a place on the primary ballot by obtaining a few hundred signatures. The law has been on the books for sometime but has rarely been exercised.

A Massapequa resident named Edward Werner has filed to oppose Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach of Bethpage for the party's nomination. A Hicksville Republican committeeman, John McFadden, has filed to oppose Councilman A. Carl Grunewald for the designation in that area. There are also competing lists of names for 26 delegates and 26 alternates to the State Republican Convention and contests for State Representative.

publican Committeemen.

The delegate and alternate list is so long, that paper ballots will be used in the Primary. However, the contests for nomination of Assemblyman, Councilman and in the south end of the Township for Congressmen, will be on the voting machines.

Candidates for ballot positions in a primary are decided by drawing lots. This may help confuse the voter. Fehrenbach is on line B (position 3) and Grunewald is on line A (position 5), so straight "party line voting" is out.

The issues involved in these contests are complex and vary from position to position. The decision will be limited to the choice made only by enrolled Republicans on primary day.

Degrees of conservatism have been injected into the race for State Assemblyman nomination while an apparent Hicksville area bid for GOP leadership may be connected with the nomination of a Councilman.

As a practical matter, few people vote in primary elections and the election law was recently changed, in the interest of economy, to eliminate primaries where there are no contests. The regular Republican leadership thus is confronted with the necessity of stimulating as large a turnout as possible to reject an obviously dedicated minority element.

For the first time in the county's history voting machines will be used in this primary election.

Underlying the contests for delegates to the state convention is a "conservative" bid to oppose the nomination of US Senator Jacob Javits and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Hicksville Republican Committee Chairman Francis J. Anderson is leading a call to all enrolled party voters to vote.

New Hampshire Paper Gives Support

Front page editorial support for the Hicksville School Board on its decision in adoption of a portion of the national anthem as a prayer was given on Aug. 17 by the Manchester Union, New Hampshire. The publisher has sent Joseph Catalano attorney for the school district, a copy of the paper and a note expressing endorsement of the School Board's action. (See Page 8)

Need Blood Donors

Vincent Hermann, an umpire in the American Little League is in need of a large supply of blood before he can undergo heart surgery. All interested should contact Richard Eaton at WE15 5-6553.

CD Units On Duty

The CD under Henry F. Brodbeck director will utilize two of Services at the Tournament, namely: Auxiliary Police and Communications Service. The latter will be represented by a portable unit at each of the following locations: (1) Strong St. Firehouse (2) East Marie St. Firehouse, (3) at Arch at the Tournament site in the Plaza, (4) at the entrance to Plaza, (5) at each of the Refreshment Booths in the Plaza.

The Auxiliary Police Service will be deployed throughout various sections of the Plaza as well as on the Parade Causeway.

Completes Training

Joseph R. Trella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trella of 3 South Elm St., Hicksville, completed recruit training Aug. 3, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

HARRY BORLEY, an ex-chief of Hicksville Fire Dept. and a long time member of the volunteer organization, is a candidate for re-election as Hicksville Water Commissioner on Thursday evening, Aug. 30, between 7 and 9 PM. The election will be conducted jointly by officials of the Town of Oyster Bay and Town of Hempstead at the Courthouse, Heitz Pl and Bay Ave., Hicksville. No advance voter registration is required. The Water District has experienced tremendous growth during his tenure as commissioner. Water supply facilities have been multiplied to the point where it is no longer necessary to restrict lawn sprinkling during the hot summer months. He has been a volunteer fireman for 38 years and is past president of the Nassau County Fire Chief's Council.

OLD FARM BARN on West John St., opposite the Hicksville freight yard, used to store building materials was severely damaged by flames of undetermined origin on Monday evening, Aug. 20. Volunteer firemen were called out at 10:08 and eighty men responded. They returned to headquarters with their equipment at 1 AM. During part of the time it was raining and lightning. The County Fire Marshal is investigating. (Herald photo by Frank Mallett)

Operation VFW Dear Jean:

William M. Gause Jr. Post No. 3211
By Eddie Klabin

The picnic committee reports their annual picnic held August 12 at Salisbury Park was a great success. Those who came had a great time. The days preceding the event, however, looked very gloomy with Mother Nature sending us a rainy spell and immovable black clouds. She must like picnics though. She gave us the perfect day for a sunny and pleasant.

George Kramer's garage took on the appearance of a warehouse the day before. It took two trucks to load all the food and equipment needed for that day. By 11 o'clock that morning the soda and beer was chilled, the water for hot dogs and corn was starting to boil and hamburgers were already being consumed by the hungry. Cooperation by the members and their willingness to help enabled the committee to take a break and join the festivities. There was no shortage of help from the beginning to end. Our thanks to one and all. The competitive games for the children and ladies, plus the baseball game contributed to the day's fun. All in all we had a darn good picnic. If you don't believe me, ask any kid who came.

We're sorry to hear about the passing on of Commander Edward Shannon's and George Walden's fathers, also Arthur Pearce's mother. The Post extends its condolences to these members and their families.

As stated before, our Post can use a paint job—inside and out. A paint party will be the topic at a future meeting. With enough willing members to grab a brush, the job will take no time at all. We should be proud of our Post and see that its appearance equals its principles.

I hear the V. F. W. Little Leaguers are doing a bang up job on the baseball diamond this year. Keep up the good work fellows. Thanks for the good job. We appreciate it.

Saying "I'm a member of the V.F.W.," doesn't mean a thing. Being one does. In another sense, Action Speaks Louder Than Words. What part are you playing? Next meeting August 26. See you then.

Asks Timely Question

I'm Johnny. I can't read or write. Da cop says I'm a juvenile delinquent. Da social worker says I'm the product of a broken home and a culturally deprived neighborhood. Da head-shrinker says I'm a bright kid but lack proper motivation. Da guidance counselor says I got a lotta skills, such as pickin' locks and soupin' up cars. I never learned in class. I only supposed to learn to behave myself in da class. Da teach says I'm an educational problem and gettin' more complicated every day.

Grow-ups is funny people. Dey say dey wanna help me. So dey yell and shout and gimme a lotta advice. But when I ask dem a simple question, dey either clam-up or gimme a lotta double-talk.

A funny thing happened just before school broke-up. I asked da teach: "Who is God and why should we trust in Him?"

Holy smoke, da roof caved in. Da teach locked da door, closed da windows and whispered to da class: -- "Dat's an expression what can't be explained in class because of da Supreme Court."

What I wanna know, if a girl like Virginia can write a letter years ago to a newspaper about Santa Claus, and get a classic answer, why can't I get an honest answer in school to a simple question today?

Wesnofske Backs Responsible GOP

Bernard J. Wesnofske of 153 Haverford Road, Hicksville, Republican Committeeman of the 10th Election District who is co-committeeman with William A. Bruno Jr. of Hunter Lane, this week urged all enrolled Republicans of his District to vote in the primary on Sept. 6 and support all of the responsible Republican candidates.

"I urge the support of all Republicans for Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach of Bethpage who has done such a magnificent job in behalf of the people of our community and township in the State Legislature, as well as our esteemed Councilman A. Carl Grunwald of Hicksville, the 26 responsible delegates and alternates to the State Convention headed by C. Bruce Pearsall and Edmund Ocker, respectively. I also urge the election of Thomas R. Fyncheon and Marjorie Lemanski as State GOP Committeemen.

"It is the responsibility of all enrolled party members to see that the people duly nominated by our great party are men and women of proven loyalty, ability and responsive to the needs of the community, the township and the Empire State."

Herald Editorial Comment:

Let's Get Some Judicial Opinion on Praying

It would appear, at this point, that Education Commissioner James Allen is going to rule that a part of the National Anthem cannot be designated as a prayer in Hicksville Schools.

Twice now, since the hearing on the matter in Albany, legal personalities close to the Commissioner have said as much. First Newsday reported, the day after the hearing, that minutes before the session its correspondent had been informed that all prayers in the schools are out. The quotes were attributed to Dr. Jehu of the legal division and Dr. Bradley, another aide to Allen.

Protests on this kind of pre-decided arrangement sent to Allen have brought back the written reply that he is not responsible for the quotes of aides and that he will decide the Hicksville case on the merits.

Yesterday the L.I. Daily Press quoted Dr. Charles Brind, counsel to the Education Dept., and Dr. Jehu's superior, that no prayers will be permitted in the state's public schools.

Commissioner Allen over the weekend received the final briefs in the Hicksville case and is expected to rule formally before schools open around Labor Day.

But it appears the decision will be anti-climatic: The legal brains in the Education Dept. are saying: "No prayers for children."

The Board of Education apparently can open all its meetings, as it has for nearly five years, with a prayer. The teachers can have a creed which acknowledges a Supreme Being. Even the Parent-Teacher Assoc. has its own prayer. Shall it be reasoned, as School Attorney Joseph Catalano pointed out, that it is perfectly all right for adults to pray or join in prayer -- even in a public school building --- but children shall not?

We hope all the advance "inside dope" is wrong. However, if the Commissioner rules against the Hicksville Prayer we trust the Board of Education will recognize the weight of community opinion in support of their action and submit the question to full legal interpretation in the courts.

Ice and Coal Were Very Important 40 Years Ago

By Joseph Steinert Jr.

Editor's Note - This the second installment in a series of articles Joseph Steinert Jr. wrote for the Long Islander in 1919-20, giving a glimpse of community life about 40 years ago. This is the sixth article in a series.

In 1907 a stock company was formed and a hygienic ice plant was started which continued to do business at a small margin of profit to the stockholders up to early this spring of 1919 when it was purchased by three of Hicksville's citizens who have since then took hold and have the plant on more than a paying basis. The plant has been turning out more than 25 tons of ice daily. We are also blessed with two large coal yards, one the Griffin & Rushmore yard, is equipped with large modern, elevated coal pockets. (Editor's note -- This elevated structure, a familiar one on our local skyline, has been leveled only in recent years).

Hicksville is also the main branch of the Nassau Lumber Co and has an extensive yard here. During the late World War Hicksville gave 140 of her best young men and women to the service of our country. All returned at the close of the war except three heroes whose remains are covered with French soil. The beautiful boulder with the Honor Roll tablet contains the names of Hicksville's heroes and heroines and adorns the plot of the Long Island Rail Road property at the Broadway crossing and is viewed by thousands of eyes daily.

(Editor's Note - The World War I boulder, in anticipation of the Rail Road elimination program, was moved after the second World War to a Memorial Mall on the Junior High School grounds, off Fourth St. Nearly 800 men and women served from Hicksville in World War II and a monument with their names stands in the same Mall).

Our Post office which is presided over by Postmaster John Puvogel and his staff of assistants, has grown in Uncle Sam's business to such an extent that recently it was rated as a second class Post Office. Through it, two Rural Free Delivery Routes are furnished mail by carriers.

Double Train Tracks

The officers of the LIRR witnessing the progressiveness and rapid growth of Hicksville, decided to do their part in assisting and built one of the finest depots on the road near the Jerusalem Ave crossing in 1909, double-tracking the line for quite some miles on both branches, Greenport and Wading River. (Today these are called Port Jefferson and Main Line).

A goodly portion of our people are employed in business in New York and Brooklyn and are regular commuters. For a number of years the large H.J. Heinz plant, east of the village, provided a boon to the farmers of this vicinity and gave employment to a large force of help in fall seasons but during the past three years the supply of produce to the plant fell off to such an extent that little is being done there now.

Hicksville has grown and is outgrowing itself to such an extent that more houses must be built to shelter the rapidly growing population. We have stores and business of every conceivable line and the equal of any city. Also we can boast of any branch of the mechanical line. To see our stores during the day and evening filled with patrons and both sides of our main business street filled with autos, you would wonder how the place grew from a few scattered dwellings to the pretty, progressive and hustling business place it is today.

Hicksville is in the Township of Oyster Bay, 26 miles from Manhattan and six miles from Mineola, the county seat. It is in the exact center, being eight miles from Oyster Bay and Long Island Sound on the north and eight miles from the Great South Bay on the south and is 160 feet above sea level, making it the most healthful location on Long Island.

We have two modern drug stores and three physicians, three lawyers, a justice of the peace and one constable. The latter two officials are elected by the people. We can also boast of a fine, cozy opera house.

YOU COULD NOT pose for this picture today on Broadway but about 40 years ago it was the start of a big day and all the traffic was gathered in this spot about opposite from the present-day Seaman & Eisemann building. John Puvogel was postmaster and active in politics.

(Editor's Note - The building to the east of Nicholas St School which in recent years has been a bowling alley and more recently a sewing factory was known as the Opera House. It was the first motion picture theatre in the community until the modern Hicksville Theatre was erected on Marie St in the late 1920s).

Fire Dept in 1919

The Fire Dept today is headed by the following gentlemen as commissioners: Charles E. Fassbender, William Braun, William Duffy, Nicholas Schmitt, George Neder. The chief is Henry Schnepf.

No. 1 Truck Company has 11 members with Osborn Pearce as foreman; no. 2 Engine and Hose Co has 22 members with A.J. Kasur, foreman; No. 4 Engine and Hose Co. has 25 members and Charles Ambros as foreman.

The Hicksville Fire Dept of today has time and again proved its efficiency and is equal to any first - class equipped department on Long Island. It is maintained by the first district through the levy of a fire tax and is collected along with the town tax annually.

Every year a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners is elected at the annual meeting of the fire district and the annual budget voted on by the taxpayers. Each of the fire companies elect their officers annually. Louis Munch and family occupy the living apartments in the firehouse and his duties are to act as janitor and to immediately sound the fire alarm on receipt of notice by phone or otherwise at all hours of the day or night. The efficiency of the fire department has been vastly instrumental in the growth and wide spread popularity of Hicksville. The first question of the many asked by a prospective resident is "what kind of fire protection have you?" When taken to the firehouse - and shown, they generally leave satisfied that we are securely protected.

Another benefit to the taxpayers of the Fire District derive from its efficient fire department is the big reduction in the fire insurance. The annual cost covering all expenditures for the upkeep of the fire department, apparatus, fire house, etc averages $1,800 (Editor's Note - The fire district budget up for vote on Sept 4 and advertised in this issue is $142,950) and at the last fire district meeting, Sept 10, 1919, the district voted an appropriation of $3,000 for the purchase of a new modern automobile hook and ladder truck. The department has also added to its equipment a powerful Packard motor hose apparatus which has proved its efficiency by enabling the Hicksville Fire Dept to break the New York State record in the motor hose contest held at Oyster Bay on Thursday, June 12, 1919, under the auspices of the Southern New York Volunteer Firemen's Assoc. and the trophy, a beautiful large silver cup, adorns the trophy cabinet of the firehouse.

Hicksville is proud of its department and the firemen deserve all praise. With the advent of the new motor truck which will soon arrive, the department will be fully motor equipped, consisting of two combination motor hose and chemical apparatus (the first truck was a Ford Chemical apparatus bought in 1917), one motor hose apparatus, and one motor truck, which equipment will equal any country village of the size of Hicksville with its 4,000 inhabitants. (To be Continued).

Marine Recruit

John Joseph Lane, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lane of 6 Elwood Ave. Hicksville, a graduate of Hicksville High School class of 1962, departed for Parris Island, S. C., where he will undergo Marine recruit training on Aug. 5.

According to Sgt. "Al" James, local Marine recruiter, Private Lane will receive ten weeks of recruit training prior to reporting to Camp Lejeune, N.C., for Advanced training.

Historic Feature About Firemen

Some little known facts and legends about the early days and formation of Hicksville Fire Dept and volunteer fire fighting in the community dating back to 1868 as recorded by William Quaritus will be featured in the HERALD in its next edition. The focus on the fire fighting history is planned to coincide with the 34th annual Labor Day Firemen's parade and drill in Hicksville. We think you will enjoy it.

Lightning Strikes Otsego Home TWICE

By Maurice B. Targrove

The crisp, crackling snarl of a bolt of lightning appeared to have whined itself above the home of Michael and Sadie DiPasquale, 10 Otsego Place, at 3:15 AM during a violent thunderstorm August 21. Mr. DiPasquale got up to check the children when Mrs. DiPasquale suddenly smelled smoke. The lightning, instead of spending itself overhead, had crashed through the roof leaving burned and scattered, shingles, shattered studs, splintered plywood and a broken TV wire that left a burn down the side of the house.

The DiPasquales called the Jericho Fire Dept. who responded. They checked throughout the dwelling to make certain no fire had started.

Checking the damage the next morning, Mr. DiPasquale observed that pieces had been jolted to neighboring properties and the street.

Ironically enough, the same house was hit by lightning a month and a half ago when a bolt entered through a vent, travelled to the basement and grounded itself with a brilliant flash.

They say that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. The DiPasquales are now consulting electrical experts to try and determine what makes their house so unique. EDITORIAL NOTE:— Perhaps it would be a good idea if all Birchwood families checked to make sure their homes are properly grounded.

Tuple Storm Flashes Here

A dazzling display of lightning and violent thunderclaps characterized the weather early Monday morning, Monday night and again Tuesday morning. The storms were caused by a mass of highly unstable tropical air moving northward from the Gulf of Mexico. This produced some of the most violent lightning seen here in years. The first storm, moving in suddenly at about 5:30 a.m. Monday produced almost continuous whitish lightning which lit up the sky like a series of giant electric bulbs turning on and off. Following the storm, skies cleared on Monday and the weather turned very hot with temperatures in the 90's.

Monday night, about 9:30 p.m., a second thunderstorm, again with bright lightning struck the area and lasted for about an hour. During this time the electric current went out on the west side of Yates Lane and the east side of St. Lawrence Drive. About 3 A.M. the third thunderstorm rumbled in.

EDITORIAL:

Cantiague Problem—A Good Start

West Birchwood and the entire Jericho community can be grateful that the problems caused by the delayed opening of the Cantiague School are in the process of being solved.

As readers of the West Birchwood News know the School Board has worked hard all summer on these vexatious matters. The entire Jericho community has been kept abreast of the latest developments in the long and weary story of the Cantiague School by School Board bulletins and stories in the West Birchwood News.

If, as expected, the School Board has adopted plan (Kindergarten-split session, all other grades full time) credit should go to Dr. Leon Westfall, Acting Superintendent of Schools and the principals of the various schools who spent many hours formulating plans and the Jericho School Board whose members William Mayhew is to be commended on his efforts to stimulate faster action on the part of the contractor.

The West Birchwood News has always felt that no special committee of the West Birchwood Civic Assoc. were needed to advise the Jericho School Board. Indeed, the evidence proves beyond a doubt that the Board and Acting Superintendent Westfall were on top of the Cantiague situation at all times. We congratulate Dr. Westfall and the School Board and trust that the Cantiague School will soon be open.

Are West Birchwood Dogs Being Hounded?

A perennial problem in West Birchwood is again arousing interest among residents as a result of the increasing doggy population in the community. It would seem that the dogs are being constantly hounded by non-dog owners who do not seem to understand that our community has not been quick to provide sanitary facilities for our canines.

For show hounds residing on the periphery of West Birchwood the problem does not exist. There are ample facilities provided by the State of New York, Town of Oyster Bay and Messrs. Sosnow and Schwartz. These dogs do not suffer from gastro-urinary inhibitions. These are happy dogs in complete communion with nature.

But alas, go back a few blocks from the boundary lines and you may find yourself in the midst of evidence proving that a dog's life is not an easy one. A dog must run, examine hydrants, sniff at trees, do a bit of digging once in a while. This is well nigh impossible in central West Birchwood. For one thing it's against the law to let a dog run loose. For another thing dogless residents have a peculiar aversion to having their grounds utilized for non-chemical fertilization, in liquid or soluble form.

Indeed, one harried resident of Craig St. went so far as to erect a sign in front of his curb warning any and all dogs to cease and desist from curbing under threat of prosecution by the law.

The problem is here and growing. Perhaps the Civic Assoc. should authorize the erection of community rest rooms similar to the facilities afforded Parisians. Strategic locations could be spotted by a special sub-committee of the Community Welfare Committee and recommendations made to the proper authorities. Perhaps toy hydrants could be installed at key points in each section of West Birchwood and be formally opened for service by the area's top dog.

Car Pool Opening to New York

WEST BIRCHWOOD NEWS has learned from a reliable source that Dr. Leon Westfall, Acting Superintendent of Jericho School District, will recommend to the Board of Education meeting tonight (Thursday) that Plan #2, K on split session and all other grades full session be adopted. If the Board accepts Dr. Westfall's recommendation, the plan outlined on this page, will be in effect with classes begin on Wednesday, Sept. 5.

The meeting in Jericho High School will hear a progress report from the builder, 3 M Corp. The report is not expected to show that any improvement in activity has caused the present target date for occupancy to change from that reported in recent issue of West Birchwood News, namely, no earlier than the end of October.

The report, prepared by Dr. Westfall, envisions the use of all existing facilities in all three schools for the purpose of holding full time classes. This includes use of the art, music, teacher's room, parts of the nurses room and the gyms.

The West Birchwood children will be in the same classes scheduled for the Cantiague School with the same teachers and when the Cantiague School is opened, all classes and teachers will move in a unit to the school.

NEW YORK STATE REPUBLICAN Platform Advisory Committee held a public hearing at the Garden City Hotel this week, at which time the public and representatives of various groups on Long Island presented a series of recommendations for possible inclusion in the GOP State Platform.

School Tax Rate Shade Under Peak

The Hicksville School tax rate for schools and public library purposes has been set at $5.612 per $100 of assessed valuation. It was $5.625 last year, producing a reduction for the first time in almost 20 years of 1.3 cents.

The school rate was reduced from $5.407 to $5.379. At the same time, the library rate rose from 21.8 cents to 23.3 cents.

Levittown School Board has set its tax rate at $6.098 per $100 of assessment this week. It was $6.45, for school and library purposes.

Cadet Kanawada, a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, is active in the ROTC program at Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa. He was graduated from Hicksville High School in 1959.

Says Toll Rates Discourage Boaters

David Ryan, Patrolman-Director of the Police Boys Club, home from an upstate vacation believes there is a deliberate effort being made to discourage boatownership on Long Island.

While a private car leaving LI will pay only 25 cents on Throgg's Neck bridge or Mid-Town Tunnel. Such cars towing a boat trailer pay 75 cents, or three times as much. The same is true on the return trip to the island.

In contrast, heavy trucks carrying loads running into tons are charged by the number of vehicle axles and only pennies more than private cars towing boat trailers (extra axle on trailer).

Exempt Firemen Hold Election

The visit was made for recreational purposes. It came in the middle of anti-submarine warfare training exercises.

Seeking Order For Daily Anthem

Conservative State Assembly hopeful Edward H. Werner wants State Education Commissioner James E. Allen, Jr. to "order the daily singing or recitation of the entire National Anthem at the beginning of every citizenship education class in all New York State public schools."

Werner, who is opposing Edwin J. Fehrenbach for the Republican nomination for State Assembly, Fourth Assembly District, in next month's primary, made the demand in a telegram to Allen, Monday night.

He told the Commissioner that the singing or reciting of the Anthem would be "consistent with the duties imposed upon you and the Regents" by Section 801 of the State Education Law. That section requires the Regents to "prescribe courses of instruction in patriotism and citizenship" in all state schools.

Werner said the proposal that citizenship education classes open each day with the National Anthem was first made by Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Van Allen of Hicksville. The Van Allens made the proposal, according to Werner, in answer to a petition asking Allen to outlaw the voluntary recitation of a portion of the Anthem ordered by the Hicksville School Board in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court decision banning the Regents Prayer.

Ability Grouping Is Explained

Dr. Howard Merideth, Assistant to the Superintendent for Curriculum in Central School District #2 reports that a general misunderstanding has developed concerning the recommendations for the project concerned with the education of gifted children.

The project which was recently developed under the direction of Richard Fernan, Principal of the T.V. Summers School and Chairman of the Committee for the Study of Programs for the Intellectually Gifted, does not call for a change in the district's method of grouping children.

On the contrary, the project has been designed to take advantage of the existing procedure of grouping children in such a way as to separate the extremes in achievement and ability. In schools with only one class per grade, naturally, the gifted are in that section. Schools with more than one class per grade have placed the gifted pupils in one or two of these groups with other children of at least average ability and achievement.

What has been proposed for the coming 1962-63 school year is not a completed program for the gifted. It is, instead, a project devoted to studying ways of identifying and solving the problems connected with preparing and implementing programs for the gifted.

Action on Youth

The CACY has announced the date of the community meeting on youth: Thursday, Sept. 20 at 8:30 PM. At this time the committee will present a summary of its findings on Syosset youth and youth facilities, and make recommendations for continued efforts by community organizations.

A variety of reports are being prepared for the over-all summary. Mrs. Miriam Kraus is assembling information, on community surveys; Sid Rennett, on the facilities of other communities similar to Syosset; Cathy Burggraf, on out-of-school facilities now available to Syosset youth; Bill Cooper, on services for youth; and Jeanne Levine, on in-school recreational facilities.

Outlaw the Anthem?

"Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just
And this be our motto: 'In God is our trust'"

Familiar or not, those words are revered by this country as strongly as the first stanza of the anthem from which they come, the stanza which begins, "Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light..."

Yet those words are now the subject of a deep and sometimes hateful debate between two sides, both of whom believe they are righteously motivated. The issue is whether those words, taken from the fourth stanza of our national anthem, can be recited in school instead of the daily prayer recently outlawed by the United States Supreme Court.

The immediate decision over whether the verse from the anthem can be recited in school rests with State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. Indication from Albany late last week was that the commissioner would have no choice but to rule that the reading of the anthem would place the anthem in the category of a prayer and, therefore, it would be unlawful under the Supreme Court ruling.

It seems inconceivable that the recitation of any part of the national anthem in schools or in any other place would be labeled unconstitutional. There is and must be separation of church and state, but to carry it to the extreme that we must disown our national anthem is ridiculous.

Either way, the matter is not one to be decided irrevocably by a state education commissioner. A test on this issue is most welcome, and a definitive ruling must be sought. And no ruling will be meaningful unless it comes from the body which made the original ruling on school prayers—the Supreme Court.

OMIT, SUPER PATRIOTIC Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thru the perilous fight,

If one quietly reviews the past few years of steady encroachment of radical, extreme views bombarded into the nation's ears, you can recall numerous cases of songs being written, books being burned and muzzles tightly placed over once-free mouths. It is little short of a miracle that the super-sensitive minorities and professional leftist reformers haven't smothered the Star Spangled Banner. The above represents an imaginary case where a couple of frightened, anonymous Federal Government censors tackle the National Anthem to fit the whims of this nation's own pressure groups and not hurt the feelings of our international enemies.
