Civic Meeting Approves Dance

The general meeting of the West Birchwood Civic Assn. on Sept. 12 at the Robert Seaman School was opened by President Herb Platt before a large and interested group of members and residents.

The first order of business was the explanation of the annual Electric Eye Dance as well as a report from the Social Committee as to the expected attendance — 600 people — and the necessary additional funds — $466. The motion to approve the spending of the additional monies so that food might be served at the dance was overwhelmingly approved by the general membership.

Bob Parnett, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the proposed slate of officers for the coming year. They are: Myron Kantor, president; Donald Parnett, vice-president; Beverly Ruse, secretary; Bob Ballot, treasurer. The Directors-at-large proposed are: Herb Platt, Alice Parnett, Art Seaman and Joan Gilbert. Nominations were then accepted from the floor. Irving Gold nominated himself for treasurer. Any person interested in running for any of these offices can present their name to Herb Platt up to ten days prior to the election on November 10th.

A large group of interested residents then brought up the question of the gate on Niagara Drive being used as the measuring point to determine the 3/4 mile limit for school bus service to the new Canastota School. Art Caris answered all questions very ably and promised to look into the matter of reducing the distance. He assured the group that if any improvement existed he would present it at their next meeting on Sept. 20th and that they would try to solve the problem. It was decided that a petition would be circulated among those involved and that would be presented to the school board prior to the September 20th meeting. The Civic Assn. General Membership and the Board of Directors voted to support the community in their fight to have the distance measured from the school itself rather than from the six foot gate on Niagara Drive. No further action will be taken until after the school board meets. All interested residents are requested to attend that meeting on September 20th at 8:30 in the High School to show the board that we are concerned.

Personality Spotlight

Norman Siskind

A welcome addition to the Jericho School District staff is the new principal of the Canastota School. An educator for 12 years, Norman H. Siskind comes to Jericho, with a wealth of experience, understanding and devotion to his profession.

His life was moulded during his second year of high school. One day, an English Teacher who Mr. Siskind, recalls as quite outstanding, allowed him to take over the instruction of the class. This was his first experience in "teaching." An observer from the Board of Education, who happened to be present, was very complimentary. These words of modest praise and the love of teaching are what decided him upon his career; and what a career it has been. At the young age of 35, he has achieved what many other educators do not attain in a lifetime.

Originally from the Bronx, he attended William Howard Taft High School, received a BSS from City College and a MA and Professional Diploma (30 credits beyond a Master's Degree) at Columbia University Teachers College. He is presently enrolled in the doctorate program at St. John's University.

Mr. Siskind comes to us from Copiague, which was extremely unhappy to lose him. He distinguished himself there by becoming the Principal of the Scudder Avenue School in 1956 and as such was one of the youngest principals on Long Island with such a large responsibility; for this school was one of the largest elementary schools in New York State. Mr. Siskind met his wife, Edna, while they were both teaching at the Scudder Avenue School in Copiague. They now have two fine boys, Jeffrey age 3 1/2 and Paul age 8 months. Mr. Siskind is the first to admit that his wife, being a former teacher is quite helpful to him. As such, she has a sympathetic ear and is very understanding. However, being appointed a principal has had its problems. Ever since his son Jeffrey heard that he was appointed in a Jericho School, he only wants to go to his daddy's school. This would be quite difficult as they live in East Meadow, where they have resided for the last two years. Prior to that Mr. Siskind has lived in Copiague, having moved there from the Bronx. It appears that he is one of those rare people who didn't move to Long Island from Brooklyn.

One of his many accomplishments was the establishment of an elementary school library in Copiague. When he started there, none of the elementary schools

Is Jericho High Bursting Seams?

By MELVIN KOREKN, Ph.D.

In January of this year, the Jericho Board of Education requested a committee of citizens to investigate the problem of overcrowding in the high school. The committee consisted of 30 citizens from all parts of Jericho. Some of its members were nominated by the various civic associations. Some members were citizens interested in education.

The 30 men and women of the committee met several times from January to March, under the chairmanship of Dr. Kochmower. It requested information from the Superintendent's office, from the High School administrators, and from the school architect. Specifically, the committee questioned the high school authorities about the need for expansion. The junior-senior high school is new and was designed supposedly to accommodate 1200 students. The reports were that with its 1961-62 enrollment of 970 junior and senior high school students, the building was bursting at its seams.

The present building was designed carefully and economically to make provision for minimal educational needs. Without definite knowledge of the future increase of the Jericho school population, the builders planned cautiously. "Core" facilities were made small. These "core" facilities include library, lunchroom, gym, specialized lab, and so on. However, the Jericho educational system offers no minimal education, but the adequate program which neighboring school districts provide. This program soon crowded facilities which were small from the beginning. The room utilization charts inspected by the committee confirmed reports of overcrowding brought home by the students.

In 1962-63, the junior-senior high school registration is expected to reach 1200. This is the limit set in theory on the capacity of the building crowded by 970 students. By the 1963-64 school year, registration, according to old surveys, is expected to reach 1450. The need for split-sessions or other provisions will be present. The committee presented its own recommendations to members of the Board of Education in March. After studying these recommendations, the Board is expected to make them available to the community for discussion at a Fall meeting.

Fire Insurance Key Rate Drops from 35 to 28 Cents

Felix Franco, Chairman of the Jericho Board of Fire Commissioners, said today that the Jericho fire insurance "key rate" for commercial and industrial properties has been reduced from 35 cents to 28 cents. The community's fire grade improved from class 6 to class 5.

The changes were the result of an inspection of Jericho's fire defenses recently completed by the New York Fire Insurance Rating Organization. Franco said, The inspection was made at no cost to the District.

The key rate, a New York Fire Insurance Rating Organization spokesman explained, is the starting point used in the computation of individual building fire insurance rates on nearly all classes of commercial and industrial properties. The results of this computation, combined with fire loss experience, produce the fire insurance rate. One to four family residential properties are not individually rated, but the community's fire grade or class designation is used as the starting point for the fire insurance rate.

The engineers from the Rating Organization conducted the inspection in June of 1962. They made a thorough check of the fire protection facilities and proposed recommendations to the District which would improve further the municipal fire protection in Jericho. Improvements in fire defenses along the lines suggested by NYFRO could result in additional reductions in fire insurance rates.

The New York Fire Insurance Rating Organization, a service unit of the capital stock insurance companies, classifies the fire defense of municipalities to assist affiliated insurance companies in determining conflagration potential. The classification is also used by the rating bureau as one of the factors in determining fire insurance rates.

The most important factors considered in classifying communities are:

- ...Dependable method of handling fire alarms.
- ...Ability to supply water for fire fighting.
- ...Strength and efficiency of the fire department.

- ...Scope and enforcement of building, fire protection and electrical codes.
- ...Construction, size and congestion of buildings.

The classification is obtained by comparison of actual conditions in the community with the Standard Schedule for Grading Cities and Towns of the United States, published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The standards are based on recognized fire defense requirements and are continuously reviewed to meet changing conditions.

Most important fact being that these mature, stable people are not concerned with the possibility of looking foolish or the fear of criticism.

had libraries. He personally instituted an elementary school library which when he left totaled almost 2,000 volumes. The library was open every morning from 9-12:00 and staffed by volunteers from the P.T.A. He also is a firm believer in field trips for children and has for many years taken childrens groups to Washington. He commenced this program in Copiague and ever since then, it has become an annual affair.

Mr. Siskind's interests and skills are quite varied. He was on the Committee of Elementary School Principals of Suffolk County, whose primary function was to study methods of improving instruction in the classroom. He was a charter member of the Copiague Kiwanis Club. Further, our parents do not have to worry much if the school nurse is absent as Mr. Siskind was in the U.S. Army Medical Corps.

His lucky month is December. Not only was he born in December but he received his first teaching position and his first principalship appointment in December. When asked how he felt about coming to Jericho he answered with his usual warm smile, "I'm looking forward to the opportunity of working with the children of Jericho. I feel that this is an exciting challenge. The building facilities at the new Castleguard School are second to none. My staff, which has many varied backgrounds and experiences is excellent."

His new educational staff will consist of 18 classroom teachers, 4 specialist teachers, plus two other specialists who are to be shared.

Theatre Group Elects Officers

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 12th, the West Birchwood Little Theatre Group held its first general membership meeting of the season. Elections were held for the coming year with the following results: President, Florence Labin; Recording Secretary, Judith Lindenberg; Treasurer, Rita Linder. The Board of Advisors will consist of: Lola Rosenzweig, Elinor Winthrop, Elaine Monks, Annette Rubenstein, Bob Freeman and Danby Kreiberg.

"Dust Storm" is scheduled as the Theatre Group's next production to be given the last week end in November. Len Lazarus, who will direct the play was introduced to the group and discussed his aims, expectations and methods with them.

The Theatre Group was gratified to see a number of new faces at the meeting and while the play will no doubt be cast by the time this is in print, it will not be too late to join. There is always a need for new people backstage as well as onstage.

A one act play will soon be prepared for presentation at meetings of community organizations. Casting for this will be announced in the near future. If you are interested in any phase of Little Theatre work, please call WE 5-0900 or WE 5-6500.

Ten Pin Talk

By HENRY DOCKSWELL

What with trying to find out which alley who was bowling on, and what team was bowling against whom and oh Captain, My Captain, who are you and where, the 10 or 15 minutes of confusion was really funny. Just as all this was about calmed down, along came our Pres. Morry Herrick with a sample card of Bowling Shirts. More confusion. "There are only 10 colors," innocently observed one of the team captains, "and we're 12 teams, how are we going to work that out?" Morry nearly got apoplexy. No sooner did we start to bowl than along came Sy Strudler our league sec'y. More confusion. He needed names and addressed and I needed a new back. We settled. He got his name and I wore a belt. Suddenly from alley 23 came a sweet and gentle voice, "Now look fellows, I'm not such a hot bowler, so I'm telling you now. I'm here to enjoy myself and anybody who doesn't like it can hump it!" (cleaned that one up didn't I.) On this happy note and amid bursts of laughter we were off.

A new end of season trophy was added. The man who bowled the most 200 games or better would be so honored. Two men immediately made first claim. Sid Lang, bowled a strong 207 and Sid Simon threw a 221. Simon went even further when he came up with two more strong games to bowl a High Individual Series of 541.

These first two weeks everybody is bowling for a new average, and so, results and standings will not be determined until at least the third week. A season as individual averages are set, the team handicaps will be arrived at and the standings formulated.

Each team should pick a name. Any name will do. For instance, our team might pick the name, "Lions", in deference to our captain Geyer, who's first name is Leo. This will make for easy and pleasant identification especially when recognition is needed in this space.

Bloodmobile Is Coming on Oct 17

The Jericho Community Blood Mobile will be at the Jericho Jewish Center on Wednesday evening, Oct. 17th.

This community blood bank is open to all residents of Jericho regardless of race color or creed. The Jericho Jewish Center as in the past has generously donated its facilities for this worthy cause.

To become a member of this blood bank, one member of each family must donate a pint of blood. This pint donation enables the entire family to draw from the Jericho Community Blood Bank for one year. If both members of a family appear at the blood bank and are rejected for various reasons, they become members for the year anyway and are entitled to its privileges of drawing blood if it is necessary.

The blood bank will be set up between the hours of 6 and 8 P.M. Residents who are planning to appear and give a donation are reminded, do not eat or drink anything for FOUR HOURS prior to your donation.

Morton Mann who is chairing this Blood Bank, needs help from the various organizations in Jericho. He would appreciate all organizations who wish to participate and help publicize this year's drive to contact him at OV 1-1584.

Text of State Education Commissioner on Praying

Because of the widespread interest in the subject, the HERALD herewith publishes the full text of the Aug. 28 decision of State Education Commissioner James E. Allen on the Hicksville "school prayer" as follows:

The record shows that the Hicksville Board of Education, the respondent herein, on June 29, 1962, unanimously passed the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, that the following may be used as a prayer in the schools of Hicksville:

"Blest with victory and peace,
may the Heav'n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause is just,
And this be our motto, 'In God
is our trust.'"

This appeal is brought by Miriam Rubinstein who complains that this action of the Board of Education is in violation of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of New York in that the United States Supreme Court in Matter of Engel v. Vitale, 370 U.S. 421, has determined that a governmental body is without power to prescribe by law any particular form of prayer for use as an official prayer in the public schools. The respondent Board's only defense of its action is that the prayer recommended by them has been derived from the verses of the "Star Spangled Banner" and was written by Francis Scott Key and not by them. The Board insists consequently that since they are not the authors of the recommended prayer, the illegality impressed upon the Regents' prayer by the United States Supreme Court is thereby removed.

Irrespective of the source from which the language set forth in the recommended prayer is derived, the adoption thereof by the Board, which of course is an official body governing a political subdivision of the State, makes the prayer an official prayer. As I have already indicated publicly, the position taken by the United States Supreme Court, regardless of whether one agrees with it or not, establishes the legal principles relative to use of a prayer in the public schools; and it is the obligation of boards of education to comply with the decision of our highest Court.

It is, therefore, clear that the Board's action is illegal. School administrators, classroom teachers and other employees of the school system are agents of the board and if similar action were undertaken by them, the same legal objection would prevail.

It must be equally clear that the illegality of the action in this case lies only in the designation of words from the National Anthem for use as an official prayer. The National Anthem, or parts of it, may be sung, or read or recited, for there is nothing in this decision or in that of the United States Supreme Court which in any way precludes the utilization of the National Anthem as such in our public schools. Our National Anthem is entitled to our highest respect. It is one of the cherished documents and anthems of which Justice Black in writing the decision in Matter of Engel v. Vitale, supra, had the following to say:

"There is of course nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a Supreme Being, or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life of belief in God. Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the State of New York has sponsored in this Instance."

It is an important obligation of our public school authorities to see that our children know, understand and appreciate the historical documents and officially espoused anthems, such as the Star Spangled Banner, which are a fundamental part of our national heritage.

I am aware of and share the deep concern expressed by so many individuals and groups relative to the role of the public schools in the inculcation of moral and spiritual values in our young people. It has been repeatedly suggested, in the aftermath of the United States Supreme Court decision, that a period for silent meditation be set aside during the school day. The use of such a period would be a matter of individual choice, being spent in silent prayer or meditation according to the beliefs or desires of the individual pupil. I find nothing in the aforementioned decision of the United States Supreme Court which would prevent such a practice provided that the school officials do not influence the content of the period, limiting their direction to the setting aside of the period and to the maintenance of discipline. Furthermore, I can find no abridgment of individual rights in such a practice since the prevailing silence during such a period would prevent the intrusion of the religious beliefs of others upon the consciousness of any person present. The decision concerning the adoption of such a practice would be a matter for local determination.

While I can find no legal objection to the provision of a period of silent meditation, there are, however, valid reservations as to the educational value of a practice in which the teacher cannot have a positive and direct role.

Both the Federal and State Constitutions quite definitely intend to bar the use of the public schools for religious instruction or for the impartation of religious tenets. The Constitution of the State of New York (Article XI, § 4) reads as follows:

"Neither the state nor any subdivision thereof shall use its property or credit or any public money, or authorize or permit either to be used, directly or indirectly, in aid of or maintenance, other than for examination or inspection, of any school or institution of learning wholly or in part under the control or direction of any religious denomination, or in which any denominational tenet or doctrine is taught."

Recognizing the importance of religion, the Legislature has provided a method whereby public school authorities can cooperate with religious authorities and parents in providing an opportunity for children attending the public schools to receive religious education. Section 3210 of the Education Law provides that children may be excused during school hours to attend upon religious instruction in their own places of worship, and regulations approved by the Board of Regents have implemented this statute with necessary rules of procedure. This released time program has been reviewed by the courts, including the United States Supreme Court, and has been held to be constitutional. (Zorach v. Clauson, 343 U.S. 306.)

In addition to this, there are many ways in which the public schools can be and are a positive force in the inculcation of moral and spiritual values in youth and in the development of a respect for religion and for religious beliefs. The Regents are always concerned for this aspect of the school program, and in a statement issued by them in March 1955, entitled "The Regents' Recommendations for School Programs on America's Moral and Spiritual Heritage", the Regents set forth valuable suggestions for making the schools more effective in this regard. Other valuable suggestions and procedures can be found in the curriculum publications of the State Education Department and in other materials in use in the public schools.

While the Federal and State Constitutions forbid the teaching of religion in the public schools, they do not prevent teaching about religion. Indeed, if the schools are to carry out their responsibility for the transmission of knowledge, and if they are to prepare young people for the future by giving them an understanding of the past and present, they must inevitably teach about religion and its place in civilization. Religion has been a powerful and appropriate force in the shaping of every aspect of human development and civilization. By bringing to young people an understanding of what a vital force religion has been, is and will continue to be, our schools can create a vital interest in and foster an enduring respect for religion. It is in this way that the resources and opportunities of the public schools can be used most effectively and appropriately in helping students to acquire the values which stem from religion. It is in this way that the public schools can best complement and fortify the efforts of parents and religious authorities.

In our country we have a precious heritage of religious freedom which is the basis for our doctrine of the separation of church and state. It is the duty of the schools to make sure that every boy and girl acquires a thorough knowledge and understanding of the First Amendment, as reinforced by the Fourteenth Amendment, and of the reasons for their adoption. It is important that our young people understand that belief in the separation of church and state, both in the past and today, stems not from a desire to exclude religion from our national life but from a desire to ensure the full and free development of religion consistent with our basic belief in the rights and freedom of the individual.

THE APPEAL IS SUSTAINED to the extent indicated.

IT IS ORDERED that the resolution of the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 17 of the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, in establishing an official prayer for use in the schools of that district, adopted on June 29, 1962, be and the same hereby is set aside and vacated.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, James E. Allen, Jr., Commissioner of Education of the State of New York, for and on behalf of the State Education Department, do hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the State Education Department, at the City of Albany, this 28th day of August 1962.

James E. Allen Jr.,
Commissioner of Education.

No. 421, Hicksville

By ARTIE RUTZ

Look for news of a definite nature from the Building Committee at the next meeting -- All bids are expected to be in within a few days, and possibly a meeting will be scheduled shortly thereafter with the Legion Hall, Inc., officers to open and examine the bids -- One of the reasons for the unlooked for delay was the summer vacation story, which effects even architects and contractors -- At our last meeting on Monday evening, Larry McCafferty was the winner of a Building Bond Drawing -- Our hardworking Bingo Committee headed by Commander Neill are now seeing some gratifying results after a long, hot summer -- A meeting called by the Oyster Bay Town officials at Town Hall last Monday evening to explain the new Bingo operation laws was attended by Vice Commanders Dick Hochbrueckner and Artie Rutz -- Many of the changes are beneficial all around and one change in the law now permits us to advertise the fact that we are sponsoring Bingo at the Lion's Den in our building -- The Color

Guard will participate, along with the Auxiliary Color Guard, in the Steuben Day Parade on 5th Avenue, New York City, on Sept. 29th -- Another tip to members -- Look for a special report from the Color Guard at the next Post meeting -- And a short message to all members from the Membership Officer "1963 Dues are payable now." -- The Junior Post Commander's Dinner will be held at the Post this year on Saturday, Sept. 22nd -- Admission is $5 per head which includes a cocktail hour starting at 7:30 P.M. and is followed by a Turkey Dinner and Dancing -- For tickets at this late date call Chairman Bob Hasel or other committee members (George Johnston, Dick Hochbrueckner and Artie Rutz) -- County Adjutant Mike Ciadella will make the gift presentation to Junior Post Commander Pete Muller -- The drinks will be cold, the dinner hot, the speeches short and the music great -- Don't miss it!! -- Don't forget our visit to Kings Park Hospital this year is on Nov. 4th so please plan to go and lend a hand,

Operation VFW

William M. Gause Jr. Post No. 321
By Eddie Kleibing

An atmosphere of Yankee Stadium and major league baseball existed at the clubhouse last week when the Post honored the VFW Little Leaguers with an evening of entertainment.

Attending the fete in their gray uniforms and red lettering were: J. Otto, J. Smith, J. Kristensen, J. Betz, M. O'Brien, W. Walsh, M. Swedella, W. De Voe, S. Scarborough, F. Feeley, R. Sesselski and G. O'Brien. They were accompanied by Managers: F. Swedella and B. Kristensen, President of the American Little League; D. Eaton, and Director: C. Parfrey.

The opening pitch was the motion picture showing the highlights of the 1961 World Series. The films were loaned to us by Hap Healey, one of our own. Next Tommy Holmes, former National League champion with the Dodgers and Braves, gave an inspiring talk on baseball and sportsmanship. Autographed baseballs, donated by the Post, were thrown by Tommy to the champions without one error made on their part.

For youngsters, baseball is never complete without hot dogs and soda. This was taken care of by Bill Moran who was responsible for the buffet. In a short time all appetites were satisfied. All agreed it was good.

Our thanks to Bill Moran, Jack Mulligan who arranged for the appearance of Tommy Holmes, Lou Kilen who ran down Hap, the busy salesman for the films and Post member Frank Mallett for taking pictures of the event. I don't know who had the better time the guests or members. Our thanks to the champions for coming down. We had a great time!

The brief meeting that followed had two raffle winners. F. Shul won the greenstuff and Bill Rohnhoefer an autographed baseball.

Any member who lost their discharge papers and wanting to replace them can do so by writing to: Military Record Center, General Services Administration, 1700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis 32, Missouri. Do not write to the VA as they do not issue such records.

Don't forget! Next meeting Sept. 24. See you then.

The VFW's interest in Veterans Administration's hospitals is a recognized fact by their surveys and assistance in the administration's programs to provide for better facilities and treatment for veterans. Operating 170 hospitals with 125,000 beds the VA controls 10 per cent of the nation's hospital beds and employs 4 per cent of its doctors. Their intense research program has had some noteworthy accomplishments.

Recently the VA released additional information on its internal planted heart 'Pacemaker' which was first developed in a VA hospital in Buffalo New York by Dr. William Chardack.

The device delivers a series of continuous electrical shocks that help keep the heart beating at a normal rate in persons with complete heart-block. The batteries are good for five years and can be easily replaced.

An interesting story of the 'Pacemaker' in action began in 1960 at a hospital in Prague. Dr. Jan Dufak, a specialist in internal medicine at the hospital, suffered a partial heart-block. He wrote to the doctors of this country who sent him drugs for treatment.

In Jan. 1962 Dr. Dufak was the victim of heart failure and complete heart-block. The attack slowed his heart rate so he became an invalid. Having read of the development of the heart 'Pacemaker' through medical journals he wrote Dr. Chardack who in turn got in touch with VA officials in Washington.

The Dept. of State contacted Dr. Timothy Takaro, a specialist of the Otten, North Carolina VA hospital surgical service, who was in Moscow as a writing scientist on a three month United States-USSR exchange fellowship. Dr. Takaro was carrying a 'Pacemaker' with him as an incidental part of demonstration equipment in the exchange of medical knowledge under the fellowship.

On July 25, in Prague, Dr. Takaro's implantation of the heart 'Pacemaker' in the chest of the Czechoslovakian physician was a complete success. It was reported by Dr. Takaro that the physician will be able to resume his practice.

This incident only goes to prove that this country is far ahead of the Iron Curtain in this field. Let us hope that the excellent research the VA hospitals are doing in this field will continue so that one day heart disease will be eliminated as America's number 1 killer.

Incidentally, the latest issue of your VFW magazine features an interesting article on VA medical research.

COMETLAND

LEST WE FORGET DEPT-- This column extends its Golden Horseshoe Award to all new members of the District 17 family. 'Swirled Pendants with Clusters, Yet' go to new School Principals, Robert Whearty, John McGovern, and Richard Jemett (Nicholas East St., and Lee Ave.) and new Assistant Principals, Patrick Nasso, Raymond Pressman, and Louis Peague (Jr. High, Woodland, and Lee Ave.) Good luck also to Principal John Maher (Willets Ave.) and Assistant Principal Fred Bergmann (Dutch Lane.) Both are starting administrative assignments at different schools. And also, lest we forget, best wishes to William McCarthy, former Principal of Lee Ave. School, now starting his first school term as Administrative Assistant.

A BUMPER CROP--Not only did Chet Jaworski, top Physical Education Director for the district, request two additional pipe racks for the bumper crop of football uniforms being handed out this season, but he also reported that "Cometland's" Alumni Assoc. had sponsored two basketball teams this past summer. Both fared well in the summer recreation league; played at Long Beach and Island Trees. In the I.T. league, the locals copped the playoffs via a weak start and a very strong finish; dumping the first five out of six and winning the last eight. And in the Beach League, the Hicksville entry tied for the third spot in the playoffs, but dropped the boogie bag in the finals.

LONG LIFE LEDGER--May longevity by the reward for the new pamphlet 'Digest' published by the Hicksville Board of Education. It's concise, informative, and high interesting, and give the local taxpayers a 'bird's eye view' word portrait of the School Board's actions. Best of luck to all those engaged in the publication of this newsletter.

WELCOME MAT DEPT--Meet William Decker, newly installed Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds for the District. Bill

Office Hartmaier Among Aggressors in Texas

Army PFC Richard A. Hartmaier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Hartmaier, 54 Eleventh St., Hicksville, was one of 3,500 "Aggressors" who recently tested the combat readiness of the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex., in Exercise IRON FIST.

During the six-day maneuver Hartmaier and other "Aggressors" selected from Fort Hood's 2nd Armored Division subjected the 1st Division's personnel to simulated attacks with chemical, biological and nuclear weapons as well as with conventional armaments.

The 24-year-old soldier, an automatic rifleman in Company D of the division's 51st Infantry, entered the Army in August 1962 and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

He was graduated from Hicksville High School in 1958.

place finish in a county wide Civil Service test held last February in the Mineola High School, Bill was called in for an interview by the Hicksville School Board, and won out over two other candidates. And take it from one who sat in an adjoining seat (and who almost went blind trying to figure out this cryptogram,) a second place finish at 94% deserves the "Hoochy Kootchy Kumquat" award of the week. Bill Becker is married and the father of a teenage daughter, Loraine. His wife's name is Louise and the Beckers as a family unit migrated from Brooklyn to Long Island 13 years ago. Past experience for this newest member of the Buildings and Grounds family in the role of Maintenance Supervisor, ranges from service with the Cauldwell Corp. of New Jersey, the Glidden Corp. of Pennsylvania, the Ward Baking Co. in the Bronx, and the Tube Distributing Corp. in Garden City. "Nuff said Bill! Lots of good luck in your new position."

SPORTS LITE—Confucius say, "He who stands on side of hill, not on level," and in spite of the fact that the above quotation has no bearing on the case—let's just say that the Comets and Meteors (football and soccer squads) are doing the bone grinding bit these days and it will take a week or more to produce "Tomorrow's Headlines."
