Work Begins On Budget

The Hicksville School Board began work in earnest this week upon its 1963-64 budget which will be submitted to public vote in May. A special meeting was held last Saturday and another is scheduled for all-day this Saturday, Jan. 14, starting at 10 A.M. After three hours the Board completed, in tentative form, code 2 (which is the first section) and shaved about $5,000 off the budget get as suggested by the Administration.

The most significant portion of the code approved is the creation of a new position of administrative assistant to the Superintendent of Schools. There are currently two administrative assistants: Marvin Gibson and William McCarthy.

The new, third administrative assistant will be concerned with the development and possible expansion of vocational training and fine arts.

Gertz Gets Ready to Re-Open

Estimates of damage resulting from the Jan. 2 fire at Gertz-Mid Island were revised upwards during the past week by authorities. The County Fire Marshal was quoted as saying the damage resulting from the fire on the 5th floor may reach one million dollars, making it the all-time record fire loss for Hicksville.

This week Edward Gaynor, Officer Bay Town Building Dept. Manager, asserted that after studies by engineers of his dept. and a private engineering firm the building is perfectly safe and the certificate of occupancy has not been lifted.

There had been widespread rumors of alleged structural damage to the building, particularly on the upper level.

Several inspections of the building were made, starting with the evening of the fire. Immediately after the fire had been extinguished there were three groups of men holding meetings in the store. One was the group of Gertz executives, another was the people in the Fire Marshal's office and a third were insurance adjusters who were said to be prowling about even before the fire was in check.

Literally tons of merchandise have been trucked out from the basement via the delivery tunnel. People have been working around the clock on shifts to clean up the debris.

There were also further stories regarding the fire itself that came to public notice:

The general alarm of fire was not given for the entire store at once on Jan. 2. Sales and purchases continued for almost a half hour after the firemen were called to the scene.

A fire dept. spokesman told the HERALD that the fire was so intense and extensive on the fifth floor that it took almost a half hour to locate the seat of the

from the store proper can be seen. Round the clock crews have been cleaning up since the fire and Gertz has hopes of opening shortly, possibly within a week.

THE LATEST MCCORMICK SURVEY:

Tidal Wave of Population Hit Here in 12-Year Span

The newest survey of school plant needs in Hicksville prepared by Dr. Felix J. McCormick of Columbia University suggests a modest half million dollars to be spent on three projects to round off the long-range requirements of the school system. The report, prepared at a cost of $8,000 by direction of the Board of Education, has been filed with the District. It will be the subject of a special meeting of the Board with Dr. McCormick on Friday night, Jan. 18.

HICKSVILLE POPULATION growth from 1950 to 1962, with estimates forecast to 1980, reflecting a slight decline. — from Report of Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University.

Since much of the data in the report is a study of the growth of the entire community in the past 12 years, the HERALD plans to publish liberal extracts in subsequent issues.

Copies of the full report are available for examination at the Public Library, Jerusalem Ave. and Second St., Administration Building, on Newbridge Rd., Administration Annex at Broadway and Marie St., and the offices of the principals of the nine public schools of the district.

The introduction of the report by Dr. McCormick and Prof Henry J. Risetto of the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia, points out:

"The survey of the school needs of the District is one of a number of studies and analyses of District school facility needs which have been made over the past 12 years. Each of the studies has found the school district at a different stage in its transition from a sparsely populated area to a nearly saturated, primarily residential community. During this decade of change, local population and enrollments exploded and energetic school construction has taken place to meet the growth."

Toward the end of the report

there are conclusions and recommendations. It notes that during the past 13 years a "tidal wave of population and school enrollment hit Hicksville" and comments that the results of energetic school construction effort "are commendable".

Looking to the future, the report recommends a $400,000 addition to Willet Ave. school consisting of a kindergarten, six classrooms,

Thriving Town Replaces Rural Village of 1950

Published herewith is the first installment from the latest McCormick Report on Hicksville School Plant Needs just received by the Board of Education. It has been edited only to eliminate references to charts which do not always accompany this text. It will appear in installments during the next four or five weeks. ---Editor

Residents who note what is happening on a day-to-day basis may not sense the scope of the changes in a school district that a non-resident gets by noting the accumulated changes. Population, school enrollment, newly constructed school, residential, and commercial buildings, and highway developments have all changed the Hicksville school district community to significant extents over the last twelve year period.

The 1950 Institute survey report stated:

"Hicksville, the largest village in the Township of Oyster Bay, is situated twenty-eight and one-half miles from New York City, midway between Long Island Sound on the north and the Atlantic Ocean on the south. The village, although an unincorporated area of the Township, is an old, established community with local traditions reaching back over the centuries. In 1949 the village celebrated its 301st anniversary."

"This pleasant village, one of the oldest trading centers in America, prospered following the construction of the Long Island Railroad in 1836. Cattle raising, the chief local industry, gave way to farming, which did not lose its local importance until recently, when real estate developers discovered the area to be ideal for large-scale residential development."

"Hicksville now finds itself in a state of transition. The pleasant rural village seems destined to pass, to be replaced by a thriving town, serving as a major shopping center for eastern Nassau County."

At the time of the above statement, the school district population was estimated in the vicinity of 10,400 persons in approximately 2,800 dwelling units. In 1960, district population was tallied at approximately 47,500 persons, and by 1962 was estimated at 48,500 persons in approximately 12,000 dwelling units. The rural village has indeed passed and been replaced by a thriving town. Such growth in so short a time-span made Hicksville one of the fastest developed communities in the United States.

General Growth

Hicksville's rapid growth over the past twelve years has been similar to that witnessed in many areas of Nassau County. The location of Nassau County on the fringe of the occupational center of New York City, as well as the development of decentralized industrial and commercial centers throughout Nassau has assured the county's population growth to date, and will assure its continued growth in the decades ahead. Future population growth of Nassau County will probably be at a lesser rate, however, since land area for residential development is not as readily available as it was a decade ago.

In 1940, Nassau County's population was tallied by Federal Census enumerators at 406,748 persons. By 1950, even with the war-years restrictions on residential construction, the county population had increased to 672,765 persons. A decade later, the 1960 Federal Census enumerated 1,320,171 persons; a growth of 627,406 persons or 93.3 per cent in the 10-year period. A reputable estimate of 1962 population made by the Long Island Lighting Co. tallied 1,346,398 persons as residents in Nassau County. This represents a twelve year increase of 673,633 persons or 100.1 per cent.

Growth in Hicksville

The actual boundaries of the Hicksville School District are not coterminous with those of Hicksville itself or of the Hicksville Federal Census tract boundaries. However, each year since 1955, the Nassau County Planning Commission has worked cooperatively with local school districts, which carry on an annual school census to determine school district population. The annual reports of the Commission provide useful documents for planners of community or school affairs. Thus, since 1955, the District has had a yearly general population tally along with their usual school census tally of the children in the district.

In 1950 the District had a general population calculated at 10,405 persons. By 1955, a population increase of 29,762 persons had swelled local residents to a total of 40,167 persons. This 5 year growth was a gain of 286 per cent over the 1950 population. Population has continued to grow at varying rates since 1955. Between the 1955 and 1956 tallies, over 3,000 additional residents moved into the district. Again, between the 1959 and 1960 tallies over 2,200 new residents moved into the district. Between 1961 and 1962, only 111 new residents were tallied, representing the smallest gain to date; only 0.2 per cent over the 1961 enumeration. This is to be expected since land area in the district has become utilized to a near saturation point, and none is now available for large scale development.

Future Population

Estimating the future population likely for the School District is a far less hazardous enterprise now than in 1950 before most of the district's growth actually took place.

The general land area of the district available for residential use is currently at a very high degree of utilization. The likelihood of large-scale housing development is absent. In 1950, approximately 2800 house-hold or dwelling units were in the district. This core has been supplemented by over 3 units for every one which existed then, and currently around 12,000 household units shelter the district's 48,500 residents. Of these 12,000 units, over 95 per cent are single family residences, and only 3 to 5 per cent are rental apartment units.

Subdivision activity should remain at the low rate of the past year, and will involve minor developments of 5 to 10 units on scattered land parcels. Added to this will be individual house construction projects on scattered lots throughout the district. This will continue to use up the small number of such lots over the next 10 to 20 years. Such construction activity can be reasonably expected to produce as many as 500 to 1,000 additional household units before absolute saturation of between 12,500 and 13,000 units is reached around 1980.

Currently, housing occupancy in the district is a typical in terms of the number of persons occupying each household unit. Each of the district's 12,000 household units has an average occupancy pattern of slightly over 4 persons per unit. Such a pattern is likely to be achieved only for the few years that a district is witnessing high birth rates which accompany the generally younger population characteristic of large housing development occupancy. As residential communities stabilize, figures of 3.0 to 3.5 persons per housing unit are more likely. At present, Nassau County on the whole, much of which is "new" and some of which is "old" in terms of housing vintage, has an average occupancy of 3.5 persons per unit. It can be assumed with relative certainty that the District occupancy pattern will decline to a normal range of 3.4 to 3.5 persons per unit within the next 15 to 20 years, and can even be expected to decline beyond that before wide-scale reoccupancy by young families happens again, if ever.

Completes Commission

Richard Byrnes, art teacher at the Hicksville Junior High, has completed a private commission for a piece of sculpture 37 foot by 6 foot that is now installed as a decoration in an indoor swimming pool in Brookville. A smaller piece of sculpture was completed for Lacombe Park, 24 West 58 St., N.Y.C. Byrnes also has a one man show of sculpture scheduled at the Museum of Modern Art in Miami, Florida, for the spring.

Cantiague School Opens for Classes

470 Children Enter New Cantiague School

Dr. Leon Westfall, Acting Superintendent of the Jericho Public Schools, announces that the Cantiague Elementary School has opened on Wednesday, Jan. 2nd.

Approximately 470 children in the Kindergarten through the sixth grade started the new year in a most beautiful building. The school designed by the well known Architectural firm of Knappe & Johnson has many outstanding features. It is a two story structure that has been designed to include a 400 seat auditorium and two station gymnasium with showers and locker rooms, and a large cafeteria. In addition, natural light is used in the interior rooms by means of skylights.

The materials for construction not only feature pleasant surroundings conducive to good education, but also are functional and will require a minimum of maintenance for the life of the building.

The landscaping and playground areas blend with the architectural design of the structure.

According to Norman H. Skelton, Principal of the school, a special outstanding feature is the library. It is one of the largest elementary school libraries in Long Island and exceeds the American Library Association Standards.

The Board of Education has designated the building as a neighborhood school which will serve the West Birchwood section of Jericho.

The capacity of the school is 675 children and it is anticipated that this will be reached by in the near future.

Budget Meeting Jan 16

Annual Budget meeting of the West Birchwood Civic Assoc. will be held Wednesday night, Jan. 16th, at 8:45 p.m. in the auditorium of the new Cantiague Road School, it was announced by President Myron A. Kanter. Following the meeting there will be a guided tour of the new school which opened on Jan. 2nd.

Irving Gould, Civic Assoc. treasurer is preparing the 1963 budget which will be presented to the membership for ratification. The budget will itemize expenditures for all working committees and will set the basis for 1963 membership dues.

Both Kanter and Gould emphasized the importance of a large turnout for this meeting since financial stability is one of the necessities for a stable civic association.

Big Wind Freezes W. Birchwood Pipes

Insurance brokers were busy beavers last week after the big freeze and big wind of the Dec. 30th weekend crippled many homes in Jericho. A rapidly deepening coastal storm which stalled off New England pulled down Arctic air and strong winds over the Long Island area. Sections of West Birchwood were without electricity at least four times during the night of December 30-31st. With heat cut off, the house temperatures dropped rapidly and many hot water pipes froze and burst.

The frozen pipes appeared to be prevalent in the Majestic and Sutton models because of the location of hot water pipes in the attic. Even so, many Ambassadors had frozen pipes particularly in those sections which were without electricity. The temperature dropped to its coldest level since the big winter of 1960-61. The low in West Birchwood was one below zero. The cold winds from the northwest were at 25 to 30 miles per hour with occasional gusts to 40 m.p.h.

The cold was so intense and the wind so strong that reports of frozen pipes came from homes which had heat. Estimates of homes having damage from freezing pipes ran into the hundreds in this area.

Puerto Rico continues to attract a fair amount of Jerichoites for vacations. If you were there recently you would have run into Sandy and Hil Drucker, Danby and Phoebe Krelberg, and Bob and Marilyn Strauss. Vacationing in Las Vegas were Bob and Natalie Manners and Gil and Rhoda Goldman.

Ted Goldbaum of Orange Drive starred in a TV show called "Play Your Hunch".—Herb Lubin of Sullivan Drive was recently elected to Board of Directors of the new Whalers Cove Yacht Club in Cold Spring Harbor. The Lubins command a Chris Craft pocket battleship. —The Cantiague School PTA and the West Birchwood Civic Assoc. are uniting their forces to compete in the annual Scholarship Fund Show scheduled for Mar. 8th and 9th.

There are many activities in which your Little Theatre Group is involved.

For instance, in behalf of the West Birchwood Civic Assoc., some of our people are participating in a presentation for the Jericho Scholarship Fund Show. Another Committee is busy reading plays, looking for just that right one for our major production in the Spring.

Everyone is quite excited right now about going into the dramatic workshop. The group responsible, has been interviewing, telephoning and evaluating resumes for weeks in order to bring you the best possible teacher. They think they have really come up with the most dynamic, stimulating and eligible director possible. There are still a few openings in the Wed. night class available. Non-theatre group members are welcome to join us. Just contact M. Retkin for further information, GE 3-8931.

Various motives and talents have brought The West Birchwood Little Theatre Group together.

A play or theatre organization tempts the egotist or self-centered to "steal scenes". A half-back knows that if he does not work for the team, some guard may step aside and that half-back will find his block knocked off.

An Editorial..

Walking Is Good for Your Child

Cantiague School is open and functioning smoothly. Transfer of faculty and children from other District schools was accomplished with dispatch and Acting Superintendent Leon Westfall and Principal Leon Skelton are to be congratulated.

From observation the only traffic congestion around the school appears to be from the cars of parents who drop off or pick up children at the school. However, this congestion may be reduced (except in stormy weather) as many parents rediscover the old fashioned method of locomotion known as "walking". Indeed, walking is said to be positively healthy for children.

We have been informed by Police Inspector McCulloch of the 2nd precinct that a survey of traffic conditions is being made by the Nassau County Traffic Control people and any safety measures required to minimize traffic danger in the vicinity of the school will be instituted.

In the meantime the traffic situation at the entrance to West Birchwood off Broadway continues to be bad. We advise extreme caution when entering Broadway as cars continue to go through the red light on Broadway when we have the green with us.

Speaking of Theatre

Everyone should realize the need for a "team spirit" similar to that on a football squad.

The most important viewpoint for community theatre is "The play must come first".

The more self - interested players sometimes sacrifice the real meaning of the play for personal emphasis.

Given the opportunity, the less positive personalities may unfold splendid latent talents.

With an unselfish goal, the play as the high objective, all these people can work together with marvelous results. This is what makes the athlete or the actor surpass himself.

If individuals make themselves more important than the group, or the group makes the play less than its chief object, there can be no true community theatre. Its life would be a short one.

The meeting of the Mental Health Discussion Group of the George A. Jackson School will be held in the Faculty Room at 9:30 A.M. on Monday, Jan. 14, Dynamics of Conforming will be the topic of discussion and William Lewis, Jr., Chairman of the Psychology Department will moderate.

Please Say Yes To March of Dimes

"Please" say YES to the 25th Year of March of Dimes. Not only will your dimes and dollars collected by the Marching Mothers make research possible but it also will take care of Modern Medical Care, Scientific Medical Research and Professional Education," according to Sylvia Kassen, Jericho chairman.

"Can you imagine how many hours and days each month of research and patient aid will be possible from one hour you take to march for us? Just multiply that hour by a million. The really wonderful part of being a Marching Mother, is not only collection money. Your actual part is to fight against the crippling disease."

"DAD...
CAN I HAVE $20,000 FOR COLLEGE?"

Look ahead a few years and imagine your own son in this picture, asking the same important question. Your answer then will probably depend on the financial plans you make now. As the costs of a college education continue to rise, most families realize they cannot afford this expense unless they prepare in advance, following a practical, systematic plan. Here's where your New York Life Agent can be of great service.

He can show you modern plans through which you can be sure your son or daughter will have most or even all the funds needed for college. Two New York Life policies were designed especially for this purpose: The Educational Endowment, and Whole Life with Educational Endowment Benefits. Several other cash-value Nytle policies can also be used to help finance a college education.

COMETLAND

by JOE KOERNER

YESTERDAY'S HEADLINES --

Last year at this time, the nervous world of Comet Basketball coach Ed Petro was a bit different. His boys were coasting along on a string of nine straight wins and as the season progressed, they made it 14 in a row before dropping the duke to the Plainview "Gulls". This lone defeat of the regular season came as a result of a heart-breaking, one point loss in double overtime. It was the game of the year and the only one that coach Ed and his boys had to really sweat out. The rest were fairly easy wins, where the locals set the pace throughout and their opponents were relegated to the roles of basting in the pressure chamber. Just two short weeks before the Comets had swept through the finals by dumping Great Neck (North) 74-59 in the "Clarke Tournament." Plainview was the big bad wolf of Division I and MacArthur, in their first year of Varsity basketball, were the league peasy's. But how different things turned out this year. Westbury after being down 20-10 in the first quarter, went on to take the season's opener from the Comets. Great Neck's top trio of court wizards, Jay Fogelhus, Niel Eristek and Paul Singer, then combined their special talents to beat the locals out of the "Clarke Tournament Cup." Fogelhus had dumped in 36 points vs. Clark in the semis and continued his evil eye ways with 24 markers against the Comets in the finals. Eristek had hit from the middle like a man with 5-5 vision and Singer was the man from "Adlers" shoe dept. by grabbing every rebound in sight. They cooled the locals 71-47 and the Comets in turn had barely shaded East Meadow 59-57 to gain the finals. This was the second in a series of incidents designed to add more woe to the nervous world of Ed Petro. And the climax of these close quartered results came last Friday night in the big back room of last year's league party, the MacArthur "Generals". They nipped the Comets, 62-61, in regulation time, with the nerve wracking result that over 500 Hicksville fans were forced to commit themselves to a "Basketball Rest Camp" over the weekend. Bad cess to these cardiac ballgames that send a guy out into the street with a ticker doing the "Bossie Nova" in 3/4 time. But on Tuesday night we headed for "Gullville" when Plainview and Hicksville locked horns, but in doing so we made positively certain that our New Year's resolution was kept in force. "We solemnly swear to leave all basketball games that are decked out with 45 seconds to go." They're almost as bad as having a double saw on a longshot that gets clipped in a photo. Comet scorers were Bob Feldcher 23 points, Bill Luft 17, Chip Jaworski 13, Vin Hamigan, Bob Smith and Tom Kurniga 3-3 and 2. All in all, another fine high school basketball game that still leaves the Comets in their role of second top banana in the league. They're a sound ball club, ably coached and should be hitting on all five cylinders when the "Generals" visit Cometland on Feb. 5. This column figures this go round should be deciding the Section I championship.

BOWLING BITS--Comet bowling coach Harry Renn reports in with a third and fourth place standing for his Varsity and JV alley cats. The Varsity, in the third slot after three matches against Division Ave., Island Trees and MacArthur, are being paced by Jim Erwin, Jack Woodworth and Ray Straassburger. Erwin's the head pin with a 174 average, followed closely by Woodworth and Straassburger with 172 and 171. Other members of the Varsity squad are Ed Metzendorf, Don Bedell and Ron Marshall. And on the JV side of the alley in fourth place stand Gene Huber, Bob Pfeiffer, Gerry Alfani, Don Farrell, Les Lemsky and Tom Cardinale. Lemsky, Cardinale and Alfani are the best woodsmen in this section.

TUES. NIGHT BASKETBALL RESULTS--Varsity--Jay Vees Win -- Scorewise the Plainview "Gulls" dropped an 18 decision to the Comets last Tuesday night on the Plainview court, but in doing so clearly established the fact that a stranger, Gull bench could have helped stem the tide a bit. Plainview and Hicksville were tied 16-16 in the first quarter; stayed within six points of each other at the half but after that the Comets exploded for the win--Final score 84-66. Meanwhile on the jayvee side of the action, coach Steve Kellner and his quints had no better the dual win by nipping the Gulls 52-50 in the matinee--a real squeaker this one -- Hicksville was behind by three points with 30 seconds to go and it took a wild and woolly finish to finally cop the win. See ya next week with scorers and side-lites on this Comet sweep.

Our annual New Year's Eve Party was successful both socially and financially according to the report made at the last meeting. The next social affair scheduled is the Auxiliary's Valentine Dance on February 9th which will have a Roarin' Twenties Theme. Don't Miss It! Get your tickets from the Girls now as this is always a sellout. Agatha Cialdella is the Chairman. Our good comrades, Lou Cesta and Rudy Bouse will handle the annual March of Dimes canister collection on a co-chairmanship basis this year. If you can spare an hour or so to help distribute the canisters to stores, etc., please contact either one at once. We were pleasantly surprised by a visit from County Commander George Murphy at the meeting. This is his third visit since he took office last June. Must like Hicksville as no other County Commander has ever paid that much attention to us. Tell you fellows, the Charles Wagner Post is an important cog in the Nassau Legion set up. We're a big Post and we're gonna get much, much bigger, membership-wise...Wait and see...The Dark Horse winner this was Ralph Kissell. Our newly formed Research and Planning Committee will visit 5 Posts within the next two weeks seeking the answers to many perplexing and knotty problems which have been brought about by our Expansion Program. Incidentally have you noticed the rapid progress being made by the contractor on our new hall? Before you know it we will be ready for our Dedication doings, eh? One of the best ways for us to help dedicate the new building would be to have every member bring a new member in at that time. Come to think of it, why wait? bring in YOUR new member at the next meeting and let's really starting building our Post into the biggest and best in Nassau. In fact, Commander Murphy was stressing increased membership when he talked to the Post membership at the meeting.

GERTZ GETS READY

blaze. Firefighters could only get up to the fifth floor with the use of masks and breathing equipment.

Contrary to a lot of hopefully expressed wishes, the charge account records were not touched by the fire.

A woman in the basement restaurant left in such a hurry, when the alarm was sounded, that she left behind her change of a $20 bill. She tried for most of the afternoon to get back in, without success.

Two volunteer firemen stood by the night of Jan. 2-3 at the Gertz Store with a fire truck and charged lines handy in case of a flare up. They were replaced the next morning by two other volunteers who remained on post until four o'clock in the afternoon.

In no way related to the Gertz fire, JJ Newberry across the mall had his share of misery last week. The cold snap burst a water pipe and there was basement flooding. It was quickly cleaned up.

TIDAL WAVE

Library, related arts room and a gymnasium; a small $45,000 addition of classrooms at Woodland Ave. School and the expenditure of from $50,000 to $100,000 for conversion of Nicholas St. School into a central administrative building.

The additional rooms at the new Willet Ave. School and at Woodland Ave. should be undertaken immediately, the report states and hopefully would be ready in Sept. 1964, making it possible to phase out Nicholas St. School for classroom use.

The report is divided into five chapters as follows: (1) The School District Community, (2) School Enrollment, (3) The Existing School Plant, (4) Conclusions and recommendations, and (5) Financial Factors.

In the five year from 1950 to 1955 the population of the community zoomed 286 per cent from 10,405 to 40,167. In contrast, in the past year the population increased only two-tenths of a percent or 111 persons to reach 48,580.

Operation VFW

William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211
By Eddie Klesbing

The beginning of another year finds our country still taking a firm stand to preserve world peace. At the start of this year our fighting men stand guard in 41 lands overseas and are being relied on to keep the peace through the coming year. The Veterans of Foreign Wars stands shoulder to shoulder with these gallant warriors by dedicating themselves to aiding and assisting these returning veterans, upon completion of their tour of duty, in their rights to rehabilitation and welfare, service to their community and advocating Americanism to all citizens of this great country.

This year will find the V.F.W. seeking a more liberal and fair pension program, a more lenient attitude in the compensation program. They will recommend improved hospital and medical programs. To reaffirm opposition of communism and recommend complete support of all government agencies in protecting sovereignty of the United States is another goal. They will support a program of thorough patriotic education for the youth of our nation in order that they may better understand their heritage upon which our freedom is based and to give complete support to those educators teaching positive Americanism.

Sub-zero temperatures did not stop the New Year's Eve revelers from attending the annual party at the clubhouse. Compliments are in order to Andy Sakowski for his efforts in making it a happy one and to Mary, his wife, for the hard work in preparing the food and salads which was delicious. Delegated as the last person to leave in the wee hours of the morning, Andy was the first to get up having had to go to work. He may have by-passed sleep that night but he did so with the assurance his efforts were successful and all the guests had the good time he planned for them.

Our next meeting is: Monday evening Jan. 14.
