LAWRENCE A. SMALL, resident of Hicksville and employee of the Postal Service for over 32 years, will be the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner at the Westley Hills Tavern, Post Ave., Westbury, on Saturday, Mar. 30. Tickets may be obtained from Charles F. Sauer, newly elected fire commissioner (WE 1-0193) or Jules Mirel of Jules Mirel Advertising Agency 560 South Broadway, Hicksville (WE 5-1251).

HAROLD HAWKHURST of Laurel St., Hicksville, has been named to the $9000-a-year position as Superintendent of the Hicksville Water District effective Feb. 1. It was learned this week. The appointment was made by the Board of Water Commissioners of which Harry Borley is chairman.

Fire Routs Scouts Again, Bank Comes to Rescue

For the second time in less than two years, the Mid-Inland Council Girl Scout office has been routed by fire and forced to move to temporary quarters. The latest fire, Dec. 29th, in the Hicksville (Sutter) office building occupied by the Girl Scout Council headquarters, left their office flooded and with a gaping hole in the roof. The need for some place to carry on the day-to-day business of the council was of prime importance. Mid-Inland serves some 12,000 girls and 2,500 volunteers in Bethpage, Bowling Green, Brookville, Farmingdale, Hicksville, Island Trees, Jericho, Lev-ithorn, Locust Grove, Old Bethpage, Plainville, Plainville, Seaford, Syosset, Wantagh, Westbury and Woodbury.

A call for help went out. Again, as in May, 1961 when a fire in the same building forced the Girl Scouts out, the Meadow Brook National Bank came to the rescue. Office space in their Hicksville branch building was made available.

Mrs. Arthur J. Stone, Executive Director of Mid-Inland Council Girl Scouts, said, "Austin Pisk of the Meadow Brook Bank Properties Dept., and other folks at Meadow Brook have proved fine friends to us. Their help to the Girl Scouts we call 'a real good turn'."

Additional facts: both fires were at night and nobody was hurt. Neither fire started in the offices occupied by the Girl Scouts. The building is the Sutter building on the south side of the railroad tracks at the Hicksville Station.

Sister Joseph Damien, who is Assistant Pro-tem of History at St. Joseph College for Women, Brooklyn, was the recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship to study in the Far East during the past summer.

Local alumni, parents, and friends will enjoy an elaborate smorgasbord supper followed by dancing to the music of Jack Harvey's orchestra. Proceeds will go to the Bucknell Club Scholarship Fund. Reservations may be made by contacting Laucks.

READY ABOUT FEB 15:

New HS Gym Floor May Resist Heaves

The Hicksville High School boys' gym is getting a brand new floor at a cost of $16,680 and is expected to be finished about Feb. 15, it was learned this week. The entire floor buckled out of shape as the result of a water leak over near zero New Year's holiday. Cold weather propelled by high winds caused a water leak in an equipment room.

It was the second time in the short history of the high school that water leaking on the wooden floor has caused it to swell into wooden 3-foot-high waves which cannot be returned to shape. Shortly after the building was occupied water overflowed from the boys' shower room, the result of vandalism.

The third new floor, known as the Powerlock Gymnasium Floor System, incorporates steel channels which are riveted into the concrete. The maple flooring strips are in turn fastened to the steel channels. The contract was awarded, on an emergency basis, to Haywood Floor Co Inc of New York, the lowest informal bidder among five. All the old flooring was removed by the School Custodial staff.

Budget Progress Pace Snail-Like

Work on the Hicksville School District proposed budget for 1963-64 which had advanced at a good clip at a session a week ago appeared to bog down at the special meeting last Saturday on Code 5, Maintenance of Plant. The Board will hold its next special meeting on the budget a week from Saturday on Feb. 2, starting at 10 A.M.

Relatively minor changes were made in the figures recommended by the school Administration. This year the Board has been on a "round out" spree, eliminating odd dollars and cents on some proposals, usually downward.

The meeting concluded at 1:20 PM with agreement to meet again on Feb. 2, all day.

McCormick Reports

The latest Report on School Plant Needs in Hicksville School District, prepared by the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University, was the subject of discussion at a meeting on Friday night, Jan. 18, in the high school Little Theatre. There were less than 20 persons in the audience although it had been well advertised in advance.

Prof Henry J. Rissotto, associate of Prof Felix J. McCormick, made the presentation with the aid of a screen projector in the absence of Dr. McCormick. He read the recommendations of the Report, which will appear in full in the HERALD serialization of the Report, and suggested that the present temporary type classrooms should be kept at the elementary schools for four or five years, or until 1968. These units are scheduled for movement and attachment to the senior high over a three - year period. Rissotto recommended that the

Dear Lynda:

Sorry to hear that little eight-week-old KEVIN CUMMINGS was hospitalized a couple of days during the week and we hope his recovery is speedy. When time came for Daddy JIM to check out the infant, the clerk wanted to know if Kevin had a television in his room!... Crowds at Mid Island Plaza were tremendous when Gertz re-opened, Thursday, after the recent fire. Parking became a premium and one Gertz official had to ride around for 10 minutes to find a place to park his car....Received a post card from WILL STOLZ who has arrived by plane at Riverside, Calif., where the temperature on the day of his arrival was a very comfortable 77 degrees....Also a postal from GRANDMA STOLZ from Winter Haven, Fla., reporting "never saw such damage that the cold wave caused to the orange groves down here. Things are quater"....JIM GORIS is chairman of the Hicksville Rotary Club charter night to be held at the Milleridge Inn on a date to be selected.... Franklin National Bank predicts that during 1963 economic activity on the Island will mean 25,000 to 30,000 more jobs for the year. Two new Grunman contracts are credited with 5,000 new jobs alone....When a couple of friends heard that FRED KLINE had returned to the hospital, Sunday, they made a bee-line for Plainview General. Not satisfied with the official comment that Freddie was not a patient, the friends searched room after room. Later they discovered that their buddy was in Oyster Bay Hospital, Bayville.

Sometime this summer, Hicksville will get some welcome relief when the Board of Fire Commissioners puts into effect a silent alerting system to replace during night sleeping hours the noisy sirens and horns which have been used for generations. This became a partial issue in the recent Fire Commissioner election, although it was claimed the Fire Board had the matter under consideration for some months before MEDARD OFENLOCH made it a campaign pledge. However, there had been no public prior announcement of such a plan before the candidate raised it....We heard this week that HUBERT OFENLOCH, currently living in Las Vegas, would like to be remembered to all his many local friends....Somebody said after the School Board meeting-discussion regarding the MCCORMICK REPORT, last Friday night, that there were at least eight candidates for election to the Board in the audience. This is a high percentage, considering there were less than 20 spectators.... Rumors are current that a new newspaper will make its debut locally within a matter of months, if not weeks....The former home of the HERALD on Broadway, next door to our present location at 225 Broadway, south of Old Country Road, hit the dust in a big way, Monday, FUNGELDS mighty crane gave the two-story structure a couple of socks and down it fell. The building was a landmark of sorts, dating back over a half century. It was at one time the home of a printer (present-day Maudsley press) and then a fishmarket and then a newspaper office. The area has already been cleared and the building will probably not be replaced. As a result, our office should be clearly visible from both Old Country Rd. and South Bway....

C. BRUCE PEARSALL, chairman of the Oyster Bay Town Republican Committee, was host to a cocktail party at the Holiday Manor, Bethpage, on Friday afternoon for the weekly and daily press. It was a pleasant affair....ARTHUR FERRO, long associated with the real estate business in the community and a past commander of the American Legion, is now associated with the Montana Agency on North Broadway....Hicksville Chamber of Commerce is arranging a limited number of reprints of the series of articles on Hicksville's past recently published by the HERALD. Further articles are scheduled following the publication of the new McCormick Report....R.A. ESSLINGER, jeweler and optometrist in Hicksville since 1906, owned the second Ford in the community. Before that he travelled from his home on West Ave to the store by bicycle....Somebody said the other day the Hicksville GOP Recruiter chapter has been disbanded....One week left to get your 1963 auto license tab. Let the Rotary Club get it for you and assist a worthy cause at the same time. In this weather it is worth a dollar fee to avoid waiting in line....

day, Jan. 23, when services were held here at 1:00 p.m., officiated by Rev. Edward Stammel. Interment followed in Pine Lawn Cemetery.

They just did.

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—nay, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Approval Seal Issued Monthly

The CEIL Committee, (Committee Elimination Indecent Literature), of the Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of Mercy R.C. Church in Hicksville has been actively engaged for the past few years in obtaining the cooperation of the local stationery stores within the Parish area. In conjunction with the Joint Committee for the Elimination of Indecent Literature, of which they are a member, The CEIL distributes monthly to the cooperating stores, a Square Yellow "Seal of Approval."

Since there is only one store in the area who refuses to cooperate, and continues to display openly, lascivious material, the society would like to publicly commend the following stores: Clearview Coffee Shop, South Oyster Bay Road, Plainview; Sam Parmet Stationery, Woodbury Rd., Plainview; Cy's Luncheonette, Old Country Rd., Plainview; Julie-Ann Luncheonette, Central Park Rd., Plainview; Maplewood Stationery, Old Country Rd., Plainview and M & M Stationery, Old Country Rd., Plainview. Parishioners are asked to cooperate by patronizing only those stores who display the "Seal of Approval."

Highly commended by the Society are Nassau officials: former Dist. Atty. Emanuel Levine, Dist. Atty. William Cahn and State Senator Henry M. Curran, Vice-Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on obscene Literature, who seek Laws to limit the sale of "Girlie Magazines."

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting of the Joint Committee for the Elimination of Indecent Literature which meets the last Monday of

THE LATEST MCCORMICK SURVEY:

Future Reviews and Revisions Advised

(This is the third installment, reprinting portions of "The School Plant Needs of Union Free School District no. 17, Hicksville" better known as the McCormick Report. This installment concludes Chapter II "School Enrollment". -- Editor)

Estimate of Future

Any estimate of future school enrollment is difficult to make because the number of factors influencing school enrollments are numerous, complex and variable. As noted, the most important factor in the District's future planning is the declining of enrollments as stabilization and "settling down" of the community takes place.

Actually, three estimates of possible enrollments were made to establish a defeasible range within which a highly probable resultant would materialize. These projections were labeled "Moderate", "Minimum", and "Maximum". They represent, in the opinion of the survey staff, the extremes and also the most probable enrollments for the district. Any estimate of future enrollment is valid only to the degree that assumptions concerning the variables hold true. The projected "Moderate" enrollment potentials (see accompanying table--editor) are based on the following assumptions:

1. RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION - An additional 385 new dwelling units will be erected in the district between 1963 and 1970, and an additional 500 units will be erected between 1970 and 1980.

2. TYPE OF RESIDENTIAL UNIT - Most of the residential units erected between 1963 and 1970 will be single-family units. An increasing proportion of the units erected between 1970 and 1980 will be in multiple-family structures.

3. TYPE OF FAMILY MOVING INTO THE DISTRICT - Although many of the new units erected in the district over the next few years will be occupied by young families, an increasing number of these units will be occupied by older persons with fewer children per family.

4. ZONING ORDINANCES - The zoning ordinances will probably remain reasonably stable. However, an increasing number of variances will be granted to permit multiple-unit structures, especially in and near the central business section of the school district.

5. POPULATION - As a result of limited residential construction and an increasing number of older persons in the district, the present school district population of 48,580 persons, after a slight increase over the next few years, will gradually decline to approximately 47,200 persons by 1970 and to 45,000 persons by 1980 (this trend might be reversed by substantial changes in the zoning ordinances to encourage the erection of large, high-rise apartment buildings).

6. BIRTH RATE - The birth rate in the district will decline gradually from the present rate of approximately 22 births per thousand population to about 18.4 births per thousand by 1970 and to about 18 births per thousand by 1980.

7. PAROCHIAL AND PRIVATE SCHOOLS - The parochial and private schools over the next several years will continue to care for approximately the same proportion of pupils as they have cared for over the past few years. By the late 1960's, however, additional parochial school facilities at the secondary school level will be available in or near the district and the proportion of local children attending parochial secondary schools will increase.

8. KINDERGARTEN ENROLLMENT - For the next few years, about 92 per cent of the eligible children will enter the public school kindergartens. By the late 1960's the parochial and private schools will start initiating kindergarten programs and the percentage of eligible children cared for by the public schools will decline. By the mid-1970's, about 20 per cent of the local kindergarten and elementary children will be cared for by parochial and private schools.

9. GRADE TO GRADE RETENTION RATIOS - The retention ratios in grades K-6 will average about .96 until the late 1960's. In the 1970's, the retention ratios in the elementary grades will increase to approximately .98.

The retention ratios in the various secondary school grades will be as follows:

Grade	Retention Rates
Grade 7 to 8	.98
Grade 8 to 9	1.04
Grade 9 to 10	1.03
Grade 10 to 11	.92
Grade 11 to 12	.83

The accompanying table indicates the projected enrollment range for the District from 1963 through 1980. The survey staff believes this "Moderate" projection will be most probable; and accepts it as a planning base for subsequent school housing considerations.

The "Moderate" enrollment projection indicates a very slight rise to a total K-12 peak of 13,265 students in 1963-'64. After that, the total K-12 enrollment will decline continuously for at least 17 years. By 1965, the K-12 enrollment should approach 12,675 pupils; by 1970 be near 11,000 pupils; by 1975 be down to 9,813 pupils; and by 1980 should be between 8,800 and 8,850 pupils.

Enrollment in the elementary division, grades K-6, will continue its 3-year decline, and by 1965 will be slightly over 6,800 pupils. By 1970, K-6 enrollment will be near 5,858 pupils; by 1975 be at 5,249 pupils; and by 1980, it should be slightly under 4,800 pupils.

Junior high school enrollment should also continue its decline, and by 1965 might go below 3,000 pupils. By 1970, it could decline to 2,595 pupils; by 1975 reach 2,233 pupils; and by 1980 be only slightly above 2,000 pupils.

Senior high school enrollment should continue a slight increase to a peak of just under 3,000 pupils by 1964, after which, it too should begin to decline. By 1970, it could reach 2,481 pupils; by 1975 be just under 2,300 pupils; and by 1980 be slightly under 2,000 pupils.

In light of the data and the projection the District has clearly experienced the one side of an enrollment bulge, and should be cognizant that the other side exists. The large-scale housing growth and the resulting in-migration no longer is the significant factor that it was all through the dynamic decade in Hicksville's growth. Now, other factors continue to be of prime concern. The local birth rate and the actual development and resulting enrollment in parochial schools will remain important factors affecting school enrollment in the future. It should be noted that while this projection is adequate for planning and developing school housing recommendations, school enrollment projections in the district should continue to be reviewed periodically, and revised if necessary.

William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211

By Eddie Klebing

Biting down on a wad of cotton with a swollen jaw, Commander Ed Shannon viewed the last meeting from the sidelines as Jim Klueg took over. Ed just had two teeth pulled. Myron Litwin broke his wrist during the holidays. We understand it is healing nicely and hope to see Myron at the meetings soon.

Andy Sadowski reported the New Year's Eve party was a financial success as well as a social one.

Remember, our annual dinner and dance being held at the Milleridge Inn this Feb. 16 is less than a month away. Tickets are still available at $8 each. Call either Bill Frohnhoefer or myself for reservations. Donations for the journal are coming in -- but slow. If you're interested in placing an ad in the journal, call Jim Klueg or Lou Klien. Copy must be to the printers by the end of this month, so you don't have much time.

Among those things George Walden, service officer, reported on was the fact that veterans of World War I may now file for their non-service connected pensions, even before they retire from private or government agencies. All that is required is the veteran's honorable discharge and marriage certificate when filing.

Recently, the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, opened its first completed building which has been named "The Martha Washington Building." Within this new facility, dedicated to education and patriotism is the J. Edgar Hoover Library on Communism. In this library will be placed comprehensive research material on Communism -- books, films, pamphlets, documents, displays and presentations. Because of the great importance of this library to free men everywhere the Veterans of Foreign Wars has undertaken to equip it as a National Community Service project. More information on this project and how you can contribute to it can be found in the latest issue of V.F.W. Magazine.

Arthur Fuelling has been appointed this year's "Buddy Poppy" chairman. Mike Znach, heading the picnic committee, obtained August 25 from Sellersburg Park as this year's picnic date. He is waiting for confirmation.

Helen Fuelling, Mary Sadowski,

Dorothy Mulligan, Ed Shannon, Arnold Brashwiler, Bill Frohnhoefer and Eddie Klebing made the trek to the Northport Veterans Hospital, January 16, for this year's annual visit.

Remember: People drawing veterans pensions only have until January 31st to file financial statements with the Veterans Administration. Failure to do so could stop payments immediately.

Angelo DeVito won the raffle at the last meeting. I hope I win the next, which is Jan. 26. See you then.

Library Corner

At the end of each year, it is customary to present a list of "the best". The "best" new stories, the "best" photograph, the "best" drama, etc. The following book titles are not necessarily the best, but we feel they will be attractive to general readers.

The following books are, in our opinion, some of the best written and most interesting of 1962. Whether they are the "best" in a literary sense, only time will tell. We do feel they represent a fairly wide-range of talents and interest and should attract the general reader.

FICTION

Porter, Katherine Anne - Ship of Fools. This is an everyone's must read and one of the highly praised books of recent years. While it has serious weaknesses as a novel (a minority opinion), the character sketches, the graceful writing and the devastating indictment of humanity make it a memorable experience in reading.

Jones, James - The Thin Red Line. A fine novel of the World War II Guadalcanal campaign. Using the usual format of a company in combat, Jones shows the horror, savagery and heroism of war as well as it has been done. It strikes an unusual balance between cynicism and a tough sort of compassion that, in this reader's opinion, gives real insight into human beings exposed to deadly danger. One feels that this must have been the way it was; this must have been the way men reacted. First rate.

Faulkner, William - The Reivers. Faulkner's last book, it shows one of the masters of American literature in a comic mood in this story of the adventure of three Mississippi innocents in the metropolis of Memphis. A bawdy and funny book. It is Faulkner at his second best, which should be good enough for most of us.

Drury, Allan - A Shade of Difference. This too has serious, perhaps fatal, defects as a novel. It does hold your interest, in very popular and a tough sort of a complex tangle of United States domestic policy regarding race and its effects on world opinion, does shed some light on this problem. Very readable.

NON-FICTION

Tuchman, Barbara - The Guns of August. A masterful resume of the crisis ridden month of August 1914 when the first World War was almost lost to the allies. Miss Tuchman writes very well, is accurate and brings history alive. Very highly recommended.

Nixon, Richard - Six Crises. An unusually frank and self-revealing political autobiography. Mr. Nixon takes us through six events of his political life, e.g., the Alger Hiss case, that are well-known to all of us. A book that no one interested in recent American History will want to miss.

Van Every, Dale - A Company of Heroes. This is a "sleeper" not generally included in current lists, perhaps because of the subject matter. The book is a history of the American frontier during the Revolution with special emphasis on George Rogers Clark and Joseph Brant, the famous Mohawk chieftain. The heroes of the American frontier in the seven, eighth and nineteenth centuries have been little known and neglected by historians. This book, part of a series by Mr. Van Every, brings them to life in a thrilling narrative.

Carson, Rachel - A Silent Spring. A frightening and important work on insecticides, this book was judged of sufficient notice by the President to direct a Department of Agriculture to look into the situation. Mrs. Carson claims the new insecticides are poisoning and killing many birds, plants and insects that are useful and predicts dire consequences for the human race if they are not more discriminatingly. Controversial and informative.

Spotlight Interview

AS TOLD TO JOAN GILBERT

This month, the spotlight beams on Phyllis Forman, a personality whose many talents are known to the Jericho community. We remember her most recent successful effort, "The Best of Broadway," which Phyllis produced and directed in behalf of Bnai B'rith and the Jericho Players. Excerpts of this, under her direction, will be submitted in this year's Scholarship Fund Show.

It will be remembered by some of our "oldtime" residents that she directed West Birchwood's first entry in the Scholarship Fund Show and won first prize for originality. One of Phyllis' fondest hopes is to have an opportunity to combine the vast reserve of talent in Jericho into a glittering musical.

Phyllis Forman's academic and business background inevitably led her into the theatre arts. It all started at Walton High School in the Bronx, where at age 13 she wrote and directed her first variety show. At New York University, she majored in English with a minor in Motion Picture Production, Writing and Directing. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and became New York City's first Campus Queen to have this academic honor. She has written short stories for Seventeen Magazine, The Ladies Home Journal and articles for various theatre magazines.

Professionally, Phyllis was employed by the Benton & Bowles Advertising Agency as casting director. In this capacity, she was responsible for the casts of many radio soap operas and the radio version of the Perry Mason series. Television was coming into its own, and as the youngest casting director in the history of this well-known agency, she was in an enviable position. However, Phyllis wanted to write. In 1950, she was hired by the story department of 20th Century Fox. In this period, she wrote the first screen treatment of "Letters to Three Wives," which went on to win the Academy Award under the finished script of Joseph Mankiewicz.

Phyllis proudly retains the original copy she wrote with a "thank you" from the then unknown Mankiewicz. During the years 1954-56, Phyllis worked in Florida writing special material for night club comedians as well as staging their acts. She was worked with Caesar, Sammy Kaye, Mervyn Amster and Morty Gunty. Some of the well-known supper club comedians still come to her for special material.

Phyllis has directed amateur groups in many communities on Long Island in such productions as "Pajama Game," "My Fair Lady," "The King and I," "Oklahoma!" and others. Her talented husband, Al, and twelve-year-old son, Douglas, lend support and encouragement to Phyllis' interest in the theatre.

In addition to being a devoted mother and wife, this amazing girl finds time not only for theatre affairs but also for ORT and a busness venture. In 1961, she and two other girls formed "The Fashion Showcase," an organization coordinating and producing unique fashion shows for stores, restaurants and women's organizations. Phyllis Forman is pleased with what she has already accomplished and, in her own words, "The future looks fashionable."

Republican Club Holds Election

The following officers and Board of Directors of the Jericho Republican Club were elected for 1963: Pres. Joseph Fontanetta, 1st V. P. Myron Kanter, 2nd V. P. Robert Ballot, 3rd V. P. Bartrum Helko, Treas. Bernice Forgosh, Rec. Sec'y. Elsie Post, Corr. Sec'y Vivian Scoma, Sgt. at Arms, Charles Pravato.

Attends Session

Leon R. Westfall, Public Schools Superintendent, Jericho, was among five hundred New York State school administrators attending the second annual convention from Jan. 13 through 15 at Grossinger's of the Chief School Officers of New York State.

Civic Dance Looms as Smash

The response to the sale of tickets for the annual West Birchwood Civic Ass'n Dinner Dance to be held at the Fontainebleau on Saturday, Feb. 16, has been tremendous. All those who want to attend should not delay in making their reservations now.

At the request of numerous residents the dinner dance is now open to non-residents and friends of residents are cordially invited. Anyone interested in purchasing extra tickets should call Shirley Weinstein OV 1-4556.

The price of $25.00 per couple includes cocktails, smorgasbord, prime ribs of beef dinner, unlimited premium liquor served all evening, Viennese Hour and Danny LeRoy's Band and his entertainers.

School Bd Topics Cover 4 Areas

By Selma Constant

The monthly open meeting of the Jericho Board of Education held Jan. 17 considered the following topics of interest to Jericho residents: fire protection equipment; a Saturday logic course, a proposed senior trip, and classifying district policies.

The Board resumed discussion of Hal Felsher's extensive report on various fire protection systems available. Mr. Felsher discussed the ADT system, the lease line system and the annunciator drop system. The Jericho Fire Dept. recommended the ADT system by which there is a connection between each school alarm and the ADT terminal. Trained personnel at ADT headquarters signal the Jericho Fire Dept. Mr. Felsher stated that he was interested in improving the present method of communication with the fire department, which consists of a clerk phoning the fire dept. through the switchboard. The Board thanked Mr. Felsher for his excellent report and asked him to be the Board's representative on a committee being formed to weigh the alternatives and make a recommendation to the Board as to improvements in the present alarm system.

Letter to Editor

Gentlemen: The Jericho School Board, who is responsible for the plans and recommendations submitted to the community for approval, is now trying to evade their responsibility to the people who elect them. Those parents of kindergarten and primary grade children in the belt from one-half to just less than three-quarters of a mile from the Cantigue School, are trying to get bus service for their young children. The Board considers the matter closed by saying that the placement of the Cantigue School was voted on by these same parents and any objections should have been voiced at that time. Such a statement completely ignores the fact that when the Cantigue School was voted on, many of these same homes were considered to be in the Robert Seaman district since that school is physically closer to them than Cantigue (just across the footbridge).

In spite of the later changes, most of these homes were nevertheless beyond the 3/4 mile limit until the Board decided to measure walking distance from the BACK door of the school. These homeowners, many with one, two or more younger children still at home, find themselves in the unenviable position of being located within reasonable walking distance of one school, but having to transport the child to another school farther away and with more streets to cross on the way.

I do not think that the School Board has any right to ignore such inequities for which they are primarily responsible.

Yours truly,
SANFORD SUSSMAN
56 Sullivan Dr.

Burglars Enter Eight Homes

Sunday, Jan. 12th was "Come and get it" day in West Birchwood as enterprising burglars broke into eight homes and made off with money and liquor.

There was destruction and damage in at least one house and in each case entry was made thru the rear door on an afternoon when no one was at home at the time. In the Loren Gilbert residence the thieves used a laundry bag to carry off the entire contents of the bar. County Police of the second precinct in Hicksville are investigating the robberies.

Police advise that the best and cheapest form of protection against robberies is to leave at least one light on inside the home, keep the outside lights off and keep garage doors closed and locked.

The best way, of course, is to stay home, load the trusty shotgun and wait.

100 Attend Budget Session

Approximately 100 people attended the Open Budget Meeting of the West Birchwood Civic Association held on Jan. 16, at the new Cantigue School. The enthusiastic group approved the 1963 Budget unanimously. A copy of the budget is printed in this issue of the paper.

The Open Budget meeting was held in conjunction with the regular meeting of the Board of Directors. All the regular committees of the Civic Association made their monthly committee reports.

The Education Committee reported that at the moment they are primarily interested in the work of a lay committee which was formed at the request of the Board of Education to study and evaluate teacher salaries. The Board feels that Jericho should be in the upper 25% of all communities in Nassau County as far as salary scales. The report of this lay committee will be presented to the Board of Education in February. The Education Committee is also looking into the possibility of changing the bus limits from 3/4 of a mile to 1/2 mile for the lower grades. This would require a vote by the entire school district.

WELFARE: The Welfare Committee again reminded all residents that the man to contact about broken or missing sidewalks is Dick Harrison. Stop signs, street lights, and street dedication are all high on the agenda for this committee.

SOCIAL: The big news from the Social Committee is that plans for the annual dinner-dance on Feb. 16 at the Fontainebleau are going ahead full steam. The tickets are now available and reservations are limited; so contact a social committee representative as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

A grievance period followed the regular reports. Residents of the newer areas were anxious to know when their streets would be dedicated; when their lights and stop signs would be installed; and when missing sidewalks would be put in. All of these questions were turned over to the Welfare Committee and action will be forthcoming. A major problem in the new area is the traffic situation which has resulted from the many cars dropping and picking-up children at the Cantigue School. The

Letters to the Editor Department

Last Friday, as I was entering Broadway from West Birchwood, a car went through the red light, going South on Broadway at a high speed, narrowly missing my auto and avoiding a serious collision. This car slowed down some distance past the intersection and then sped away again.

I reported this incident to the local police, but I'm afraid nothing will be changed.

I believe cars go through this light either because they are speeding or they do not see the light at all. Why can't a police car be parked near the intersection a few times every day to nab some of these speeders and discourage others?

With reference to not seeing the light, would it be feasible to put two additional lights alongside the existing one, so that each south bound lane on Broadway would be covered by a light?

I hope that this is not a situation where nothing will be done until the first traffic death at this intersection.

Ten Pin Talk

By Henry Dockswell

There was tension and excitement at Syosset Lanes Monday night, Jan. 14th. This was the last chance for any of the first five teams to jockey into position for a shot at the top. Next Monday night will be position night and the final meeting of the first half. The teams that wound up first and second would decide between them, on that final position night, who was going to take all the marbles. Only six points separated the 1st and 5th place teams and each night was worth 7 points if a team could sweep their opponents.

As luck would have it, Mort Levine's league leading Morticians Sid Simon's 2nd place Trophies and Sam Springer's 3rd place Misfits were all bowling teams in the second division. But not Leo Geyer's 4th place Lions and Dave Betterman's 5th place Tigers. They were meeting each other and the last time they clashed Dave's boys easily tamed the Lions 5 to 2. This time, however, the Lions had a secret weapon. The weapon? Leo himself. After losing the first game, Leo's Lions started back up. They took the second game by a wide margin and then proceeded to completely demolish Dave's Tigers with a new record High Team score of 920 from scratch. Leo's 211 led the way and even if I say so myself my 199 helped. This time the Lions triumphed 5 to 2.

Meanwhile, Sid Simon's 2nd place Trophies had been waylaid by Jack Sloan's Mets and they lost their series 5 to 2. This put them in a tie for 2nd place with Leo's Lions and brought up the question as to who would now play Mort's Morticians (they had taken their series 5 to 2 and remained in 1st place). Consulting the rule book, our Sect Sy Strudler found that the most total wood for the season would decide. Leo's Lions had it and so they will meet Mort's boys for the first half championship. But their work is really cut out for them. They are five points behind which means they must sweep all seven to win.

Murray Iscoe kept up his hot pace as he bowled another good game, a 202. Murray joined the league so late in the season that his bid for the high average trophy may not be allowed. The rule book will have to be consulted again on this score. But this was his second 200 game and at this pace he could very well capture that trophy.

Leon Newman, had ear and all, bowled his 2nd 200 game by hitting it right on the nose and he was the chief cause of the Misfits downfall. Leon paced Marvin Cohen's Champs to a 5 to 2 win over Sam Springer's crew and drove them down to 4th place. By the time you read this all the excitement will be over but at the moment the tension hangs high.

Police are cooperating to the fullest: and Mr. Siskind requested that parents pick their children up a short distance from the school rather than at the gate on Niagara. This would certainly help the situation.

Civic Bd Advises No Swimming Pool

By Henry Dockswell

Recognizing that swimming is a wonderful sport and that it is very beneficial for youngsters to learn how to swim, your Civic Board (upon recommendation of the Syosset Ed Committee) of Directors, nevertheless could not recommend a yes vote to the building of a swimming pool on Syosset High School's new gym site. With constantly rising costs and teacher's salary problems, the $50,000 needed to build the pool (even with the possibility of about half this cost being borne by the State) plus the added costs of maintenance would make the hoped for budget economies for the coming year an impossibility. The initial cost of this pool, in itself a primary consideration, would eventually be overshadowed by the varied maintenance costs which would join the circle of ever raising expenses.

Neither the Syosset School District nor the Jericho Schools have a Central Fire Alarm System. That is, there is no way for our fire departments to know that one of our schools are ablaze, unless someone picks up a phone and calls them. At such moment of fire, time is of the greatest essence. A few minutes of lost time could be tragic. (Ed Note: Remember the Zorn fire in Birchwood?) The Jericho School Board is presently considering installing a central fire alarm system. However, the type that are considering does not ring directly into the fire house. It rings in a central office of the system company and from there is relayed into the fire house. Some time ago your Civic Board recommended that more than one system be looked into, especially a type that would save even a few precious minutes by ringing directly into the fire house. Once again your Civic Board will submit its recommendations to the Jericho School Board.

Our Civic Town Planning Committee reported that within the month, inspections will be made for the launching of work for our entrance gates and we hope to have them up by the summer.

The Youth Committee reported that this activity was in dire need of help, especially on Friday nights. The committee's search for a reliable part time supervisor so far has proven fruitless and the press of personnel business has sometimes caused the few dedicated volunteers to be absent at the same time. One such occasion presented itself a few weeks back on a Friday night and the school had to be closed and the youngsters sent home. Until such time as another paid supervisor can be found this very necessary activity might very well have to be curtailed. This kind of organized group

Villager to All

The next two BIG VILLAGERS will be sent to all the residents of Birchwood Park to acquaint everybody with its contents. To acquaint the entire community with its never ending efforts to make this a better place to live.

As the voice of your Civic Association, the Villager wants you to know why there are free oil service contracts available to us; spots and social activity is all too rare and should not be allowed to disappear for lack of a few hours of supervision. Our community needs it.

Upon request, Joseph Farino and Jules Wiener, were invited to attend the Board meeting to inform the group of the latest developments in the Floyd Bennett situation. Our last issue reported that F.B. officials had promised to carry out the requests to rectify the conditions which as yet had not been rectified, the Civic Board is sending a letter to Dr. Heine, Commissioner of Health and to Mr. Cusumano, head of air pollution, to recommend the permanent shutting down of the incinerator if it is creating a health hazard.

why it is possible to erect entrance gates from the dues you members pay; why there is a youth group catering to more than 150 youngsters of our community; why you can meet your candidates just before election and know the men you are voting for; why you have school elections and budgets and how to vote on them; why when you have a problem, your civic association can make your voice heard in the appropriate places.

Three Birchwood Pupils Get Honors

Syosset High School inducted three of our students into the National Honor Society on Friday, Jan. 18.

Among those chosen were Marc Koplik, well known in our community for his activities with the Jericho Players and the B'nai B'rith Youth Group; Sam Kaplan of Fair Lane and Fred Franklin of Birchwood Park Drive.

Our very best wishes to these three for bright futures and to their parents, our congratulations.

Greatest Game in Comet History:

Dalers Sunk in Big Daddy Court Spectacular

By JOE KOERNER

"Good Lord!" yelled a wrung out, exhausted Comet fan, as he returned back to the bleachers after breaking "John Thomases" high jump record. He had just watched Bob Smith win the game from the foul line by tossing in the COMETS' 71st point and from there on in the spacious Farmingdale gym had resembled, Times Square on V. J. Day.

It was living proof of the tremendous spectator interest shown for modern High School Sports. The old and the young tumbled from the stands in a display of emotion, that will live long in the memories of those that follow the fortunes of the Comets. This was the "grand-daddy of all High School basketball games and if pulse pounding, heart skipping court fare happens to be your idea of tea...then Friday night's explosion in the Farmingdale gym, was the "H Bomb" of all time. Hollywood in its finest era couldn't possibly fictionalize a tale as "Frank Merriwellish" as this one. It's the story of, close to a thousand Comet Court aficionados that make their annual pilgrimage to a Section I stronghold. Last year the big action had taken place in Plainview and the cry had been "Gobble the Gulls". This time around it was "Douse the Dalers".

In the throes of wishing for this ecstatic, eventual, the young among the entourage, aged 10 years and the older grew feeble and died a thousand deaths over and over again. Last, but not least, this is the story of coach Ed Petro and his fiery quintet of never-say-die Comets who were on the verge of defeat so many times but never gave up the ghost. Farmingdale had a real crack squad going for them, and by virtue of their 2-0 league mark over MacArthur and Syosset, they were the front-runners in the league. The locals in turn were in a scramble for 3rd place and needed this win to stay alive. It was as simple as that. Now that the game is on the books, the Section I race, remains as ill-fitting as a $4.00 coat. Its as close as the nap on a "Nanking" rug and has enough pack leaders to drive a den mother to a rest home. But, this is all water under the bridge, so to speak. So, let's get back to Farmingdale on the evening of Jan. 18.

All the necessary ingredients were there, including a record throng of fans from both towns. The Dalers were at full strength and so were the Comets, with Vin Hannigan back in action after missing the Syosset game. This was as it should be, so come along with us and relive the most hectic basketball game in the history of Cometland.

The time was 9:12 p.m. to be exact, and by virtue of the outstanding play of Daler Ron Glancola, Farmingdale was leading 17-14 at the quarter pole. (Glancola, eventually went on to score 24pts. for the losing cause). At the half the Comets, seemingly out of contention, ran off 5 straight baskets in a matter of 1 min. 32 sec. They left the court leading 35-32 at the 3/4 pole, the Dalers sparked by Glancola, Tischler, May, Dale, Gates and Friedman, blew hotter than a $3 pistol and clipped off a 52-45, 3rd quarter. Again the Comets were down, pressing and being out-rebounded. But, then in that final drive down the stretch, the spectators from both sides, suddenly realized that this no longer was one of those ordinary ballgames. The officials wound up with a 2 min. time bomb in their hands, and it took the courage of a lion tamer to rule as they did. With a minute and a half to go, the Comets hitting on all 5 cylinders, in the form of Chip Jaworski, Bill Luft, Vin Hannigan, Bob Smith and Bob Feldcher closed the gap to 60-58. Seconds later, Luft scored on a fast break down court but the whistle blew and nullified, what would have been the tie. The Dalers made both foul shots awarded to them and upped the lead to 62-58. Angry shouts emanated from the Comet side of the stands as coach Ed Petro, normally a quiet, unassuming man, roared, beet-faced out on the court to protest the decision. His arms waved like a maestro leading Strauss' minuet in G. Minor. The Hicksville stands roared approval but the decision stood.

Petro returned to the bench to make a substitution. Bruce Damm, then went in to replace Bob Feldcher who had played a whale of a backcourt game up to this point. Seconds later, play resumed and Damm got possession of the ball. He fired it from the sidelines, barely one step inside the court. It hit the front rim of the basket, bounced straight up over the backboard, came down to hit the top of the backboard, bounced up once again and finally came down to swish gently through the net for what would have been a 62-60 score. But, again the whistle blew and another goal was nullified. If one thought the last Comet howl of indignation was a loud one, he should of flapped his ears on this one. It sounded like 937 shaved bears, set loose in a briar patch. Ed Petro stormed out once again accompanied by young and old shouts of fight to the death approval. He protested again, but this time he made it official. The Comets were protesting the game. The refs had agreed that the ball had hit the wire that lowers and raises the backstop, thereby causing a positive, reactionary affirmative that states very clearly, if a man carrying a football, gets kicked in the end zone while rounding 3rd base on an error, he loses his serve and his racquet gets 2 foul shots off the 1st tee. Seconds later, Luft scores on a fast breaking lay up and again comes the nullification whistle. But, let's not go into that again, even though Petro stormed out again with his coat-tails flying. Again, no satisfaction for the 3rd time in a row. Bob Feldcher went back in replacing Damm. Seconds later, Vin Hannigan clipped in the Comets 60th pt. (With the Dalers in possession, Ron Glancola swept down court making it 64 for the HOSTS. Bob Smith followed with a jump shot for the Comets, making it 64-62. Again, the Dalers in possession, raced down court with 40 sec. to go and tried for a crowded lay-up. Ken May lifted the ball amid a tangle of players. It hit the backboard, came down and spun lazily around the rim for what seemed like an eternity, before it finally dropped out. Bob Smith grabbed the rebound but it was batted off the court by one, of a group of Dalers. The Comets had possession with 8 sec. left. Time was called by the officials and then play resumed.

Jaworski fed to Feldcher, Feldcher passed back to Jaworski, Jaworski to Hannigan, Hannigan to Luft and there the game stood with 3 sec. on the clock. Luft turned quickly and fired a long one from 5 ft. behind the keyhole slot. It soared high and true, a thousand Comet hearts skipped a beat as it boomed in on target. The clock read 0-0-0 as the ball shot through the basket without touching the rim or backboard. Score 64-all and from there on in the rest of history. But, once more, during the 3 min. overtime period that followed, the clock was again destined to read a triple zero, only this time the game was out of reach. Seconds before, Vin Hannigan had dumped in the Comets 69th pt, the Dalers had failed to net the clincher and Bob Smith was in possession of the ball. He took his final shot with seconds to go. He missed. Farmingdale had won the game 70-69 and to prove it, the Comet fans gulped and grew quiet as the Daler fans exploded in a roar of victory. There were congratulatory hugs among the players, while the Daler fans continued their wild out-burst.

Dejected Hicksville fans started to leave, but then, an ominous quiet settled over the gym. It was reminiscent of the roar that had died to a whisper when the National Anthem had started to play, barely 1 hr before. Daler, Ron Glancola, had fouled Bob Smith in those hectic last 2 sec. and barely 2% of the assembled throng had heard the referee's whistle. And, now came one of the greatest moments in Comet sports history. The game was over and all players assembled near the sidelines. There would be no more books, layups or long ones this period, except those 2 pressure loaded shots that Smith was about to take. If he made 1, the game would continue on, if he made 2 he'd be the biggest hero in Comet history, and if he missed both, Bob Smith would probably never become anything more than a mediocre ball player. Complete failure would have haunted him for the rest of his life.

Once again, a sudden hush settled over the gym. Smith stepped to the foul line with 4000 eyes making him the center of attraction

The ref handed him the ball, once, twice and suddenly the game was all over.

Bob Smith had gained his niche of greatness in the halls of Hicksville and no matter where he goes in life he'll never forget his unforgettable moment of stardom in this "Big Daddy" of all Comet basketball games. Those that saw it were part of the greatest show of all time. Those that missed it will probably never see a game such as this again. The mold was destroyed by Farmingdale, a great team that didn't deserve to lose, and neither did the Comets for that matter. High scorers for the game were Bill Luft, 26, pts.; Chip Jaworski 14, Vin Hannigan 13, Bob Smith 10 and Bob Feldcher 8. Other members of this great Comet squad are Bruce Damm, Paul Colosano, Tom Kumiga, George Rivas, Gus Medina, Rich Medina, John Lansting, Don Katz, George Fillaphone, Paul Bronzino, Ken Perrone and Harold Smith. Win, lose or draw, they'll always remember this one and so will the fans that made their annual pilgrimage to a Section I stronghold.

Mercy League Meets Again Feb 5

The meeting of the Glen Cove-Hicksville League of Mercy Hospital was held on Jan. 15th at the home of Mrs. Vincent Braum of Third St., Hicksville. A representative from Studio Girl Cosmetics attended the meeting and demonstrated the proper use of cosmetics.

The next meeting of the League will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 5th at the Brookville Country Club.

School Budget

District take another look at the overall situation in 1967. Donald F. Abt, superintendent of schools, in apparent disagreement with Mc Cormick, urged consideration for a permanent 10-room addition to the Senior High School at a cost of a half million dollars now.

The Institute speaker felt the trend in vocational education expansion will be on regional lines, rather than community by community, a view point he said is favored by the state and himself.

Risotto said Hicksville is now in the last years of the small senior high school graduating classes and that the annual output will soon climb over 1,000 boys and girls.

He added that the senior high school is "a very fine building" and that with a capacity of 1940, its rate of utilization is 83 per cent.

The Board took no formal action upon the Report. The attending public was given an opportunity to ask questions but it appeared that many of the "questions" were really statements, some disagreeing with the McCormick Report conclusions.

Anthony S. Reina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony A. Reina of 54 Winding Road, Hicksville, is undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.
