PTA COUNCIL SUPPORTS PRAYER AMENDMENT

The Hicksville Council of Parent Teacher Associations, representing over 6,000 members in a school district of over 13,000 children, has gone on record with Congressional leaders in Washington in support of an amendment to the Constitution which "will permit the recitation of a non-compulsory, non-sectarian prayer in the public schools" of the nation.

Mrs. Ernest P. Steloff of 32 Angle Lane, president of the PTA Council, has written to Congressman Emanuel Celler, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, House of Representatives; Senator James O. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee; US Senators Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, Congressmen Otto G. Pike and Steven B. Deroanlian.

"This Council", she stated, "after review of various proposed amendments herewith endorses Senate Joint Resolution 205 sponsored by Messrs Beal, Dworshak, Butler, Bush, Scott, Cannon, Capehart, Young, Byrd, Bennett, Mundt Carlsson, Fong, Talmadge and Williams, as an Amendment to the Constitution to permit the recitation of a non-sectarian prayer in schools supported by public funds."

"The members of this Council therefore urge your cooperation in bringing this proposed amendment to a favorable vote before the Senate and House of Representatives in order that it might be submitted to the individual states for their consideration in accordance with Article V of the US Constitution."

The joint resolution, dated June 27, 1962, provides:

"Section 1. Nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit the authority administering any school, school system or educational institution supported in whole or in part from any public funds from providing for the voluntary participation by students thereof in regularly scheduled periods of non-sectarian prayer."

"Section 2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission to the States by the Congress."

Report Out of Town Firemen Soliciting for Ad Journal

A warning was given this week by Robert Hammond, chairman of the Hicksville Fire Dept Labor Day drill and parade, that unauthorized persons have been reported soliciting local businesses and industries for journal advertisements. The Hicksville appeal for journal advertisements at this point is limited entirely to direct mail. Apparently the sponsors of a forthcoming drill in Amityville have been canvassing Hicksville stores and giving the impression that the project is the Labor Day event.

As a safeguard, Hammond suggests that merchants only make payments for advertisements by check payable to Hicksville Fire Dept; pay no cash to solicitors.

Robert Williams: Pioneer Leader of Long Island

by Jeri-Gale Cohen

In the 1600's there lived, on Long Island, a Welsh carpenter by the name of Robert Williams. This strong, educated man of about forty-eight years lived in Hempstead with his family.

One day, early in the year 1648, he went for a ride beyond the lands of Hempstead. Here he found vast acres of tall grass, spotted with wooded areas. As he rode further out onto the plain, his yearning for it became greater and greater. He found springs of clear water on the ridge lands north of the plain which could be used as grazing land for sheep and cattle. The wooded areas could be used for homes as well as for wood for fires.

Upon returning to the village, Williams began to inquire about the vast lands he had seen. After much traveling and questioning, he came upon Pugnipan, Pugnipan was one of the Matinecock sachems. His people claimed this area as their tribal territory. The two men arranged for another meeting. Williams returned home and wrote up a deed for the land.

On the 20th of May, in the year 1648, Robert Williams and two companions, Richard Willets and John Washburn, set out for a small woods the Indians called Cantigue. There, under a majestic white oak tree, they signed the deed with Pugnipan and some lesser chiefs. In exchange for the land, Williams gave the chiefs bolts of English cloth. Williams bought 9 square miles of the north-eastern section of the plain.

Years came and went and Robert Williams prospered from land sales and carpentry as well as sheep and cattle grazing. In 1666, he finally moved from Hempstead to a section of his lands near what is now Jericho. He built a home for himself and his family where they would have everything they needed as well as access to their friends living in Oyster Bay. Here he prospered until 1681.

During the year, Robert Williams had to travel to Maryland on some business. While he was on that trip he died, leaving behind him his wife, Sarah and seven

315th Anniversary of Robt Williams Purchase

by Bernadette Brower

315 years ago, on May 20th, 1648, Hicksville, Plainview and parts of Bethpage and Jericho were purchased from the Matinecock Indians for English cloth. Through this purchase, made by Robert Williams, grew Hicksville as we know it today.

During these years, this area has undergone many changes. From the scarcely populated area has grown a semi-densely populated, suburban area. An excellent school system, recreational, library and railroad system have been established during Presented herewith are the best essays submitted in the contest marking the 315th anniversary of the Robert Williams Purchase and the arrival of the Long Island Rail Road 125 years ago. They were written by 7th grade Social Studies students of Hicksville Public Schools in a contest coordinated by Richard Evers. The winning essay by Jeri-Gale Cohen "Robert Williams: Pioneer Leader of Long Island" will be recognized by the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce.

The judges were Paul Marks, chairman of the Junior High School Social Studies Dept; John Kearns, chairman of the language arts dept, and Albert Weissleder, — Editor.

The community of Hicksville remembers Robert Williams because of his purchase of this area from the Indians more than three hundred years ago. We are proud to be a part of early American history.

These years. On May 20th, this year, it is suitable that we recognize the significance of this purchase. We might correctly say that Williams "started the ball rolling" in the settlement of Hicksville. He made peace with the Indians, thus making it possible for others to eventually settle here. Each group of settlers brought with them their social and religious customs. Their religious ideas have served as a "backbone" to the various religious congregations as they exist today. Their social customs have also had a profound influence on the 20th century generations. These earlier peoples brought with them courage and patience, two characteristics so necessary for the growth of a good community. We all must agree, these two characteristics have in all Hicksville citizens who did do and still do much for this community. This Monday, May 20th, why not think of the great community Hicksville is, of the expansion it has undergone during these past 315 years and of Robert Williams, the "pioneer leader of Hicksville."

1836 - The Year of the Rail Road

by Leslie Auerbach

The coming of the Long Island Railroad in 1836 was one of the great moments in Hicksville's history. It meant the growth of population, a building up of Oyster Bay Town and the surrounding area and general improvement. In this essay, I shall try to show why all of this improvement came about.

One of the reasons goes back to a fundamental characteristic of man—his reluctance to live alone. Over the centuries, this natural tendency of humans to congregate has meant the formation of communities and a mutual dependence among people.

A prime reason for the sparse population of central Long Island was its isolation from large communities. New settlers vastly preferred to settle in coastal areas near New York City or across from Connecticut.

The coming of the railroad changed all of this. Throughout history, people have tended to congregate at centers of transportation, and this is exactly what the railroad made Hicksville. People who had formerly shunned Long Island's interior were now eager to buy land. Of course, the value of property in this area increased tremendously, another beneficial effect of the coming of the railroad.

These results brought more property to many people. Merchants and shopkeepers benefited from increased trade. Their higher profits enabled them to supply more goods that the people desired. This meant all-around contentment.

The rising value of land also pleased many people. Land agents came in and bought the land. This also meant an increase in prosperity.

Not to be forgotten are the direct effects of the railroad. Since more manufactured goods could be brought to the people, factory owners prospered and the people had fewer complaints about farm tools and other pieces of equipment.

In the over-all picture, the coming of the railroad meant more prosperity and contentment for people with all these attributes. It is no wonder that we celebrate this year the 127th year of the coming of the Long Island Railroad to Hicksville.

Extra! Extra! Williams Buys Large Land Area

by Johanna Seltz

On May 20th, 1648, an honored resident of our community, of Hempstead wound up one of the best business transactions he is ever likely to make. For the paltry sum of several lengths of fine English cloth, our fellow-townsmen received nine square miles of good, rockless grazing or farm land. Mr. Robert Williams bought this land, northeast of our town, from Pugnipan, Matinecock sachem, under the shade of a white oak tree in Cantigue woods. Witnesses to this trade were Mr. Richard Willets, Mr. John Washburn and under-chiefs Pomagan, Maseracur, Perawes, Namithung and Sachem Rosacum.

When interviewed, both Mr. Williams and Sachem Pugnipan seemed satisfied and pleased with the results of their agreement.

(Of course, all Sachem Pugnipan would say with a smile on his face so we drew the above conclusion). When we asked what he planned to do with his newly acquired land, Mr. Williams answered that he wished to sell parts of it, at a profit, of course, to some sheep and cattle. He intends to build a house on the land, but not too distant from Hempstead. When we asked Sachem Pugnipan what he plans to do with his cloth, he replied, "Ugh!" so instead of drawing a conclusion, we leave that up to our readers.

We wish Mr. Williams and Sachem Pugnipan the best of luck with their future plans.

The Robert Williams Purchase

by John Lepper

As I awoke, I remembered that today was the day I was supposed to meet Pugnipan for the signing of the deed. I dressed quickly and started out, not even thinking of breakfast. Down the road, I met Richard Willets and John Washburn who agreed to come along and act as witnesses. We traveled quickly across the plains until we came to the Cantigue Woods. There I saw Pugnipan, two other chiefs and several Matinecock braves.

Pugnipan directed us to a huge oak tree. Under this oak I drew a crude map in the earth showing the boundary lines. Pugnipan agreed to the boundaries, and I placed the deed on a nearby rock for him and the other chiefs to place their marks. As John Washburn showed Pugnipan where to sign, I stood thinking of all the land I was getting—nine square miles of it. I could use much of it for grazing cattle. With the wood from the trees I could continue with my carpentry. There was also plenty of cool, clear running water which I could fetch from one of the many springs.

When the ceremonies were completed, I took the deed and told Pugnipan I would arrange to have the cloth delivered to the Matinecock village the next day. Pugnipan consulted with his chiefs, and after a few minutes, he agreed. We shook hands on the deal on the insistence of Pugnipan. He had had other dealings with white men and felt that this was something that must be done. This action completed, the Indians turned and started back to their village. I stood there for awhile, watching them go and hoping that the Indians understood that I was going to keep the land because I have heard of the Indians trying to take back land that they have sold.

As Pugnipan disappeared into the woods, I started back to home in Hempstead, thinking "what a small price I had to pay for such a large amount of land. With more English settlers coming in every day, I may be able to sell the land at a profit for myself or I could keep it for awhile until its value rises. Maybe, I won't sell at all."

Jericho Bowling League

By Stan Furness

The final night of competition was as exciting and nerve racking as it could possibly be. The previous week Sam Goldstein and his Braves, eight points ahead of your's truly and his Yankees, lost eight points to Stan Stecker and his Lions. The Yankees "Flying Lions-Bombers-Wreckers," not withstanding nick names for team mates in all shapes and sizes, simply floundered against the last place Mets to also lose eight points, gained no ground and allowed Dave Weinstein's Cubs to pull into a second place tie.

The final games began without the usual bantering or joking. Anything could happen and almost did; conceivably there could be a three way tie for the first place and a "sudden death" play off.

The Yankees won the first two games and were leading in wood. One more win and it meant a tie for first place. The Cubs in the meantime had lost eight points to Hank Halbershad's Dodgers now leaving the spotlight on the Braves and Yankees.

The final game was tied in marks through the seventh frame then in the eighth the Braves took a 4 mark lead which they kept to the beginning of the tenth and final frame. Two misses on the part of the Braves and two strikes by the Yankees brought the game down to the anchor men of both teams. The Yankees needed two strikes to win the game and tie for first. Sam Goldstein of the Braves got a split-Yours truly left a ten pin standing....The Braves were the Champions!.....The Yankees second by four points....And just one point separated the Cubs in third place from the Dodgers in fourth. Yells, cheers, anguish and laughter marked the end of the game and season. The Jericho bowling league started the season with a 721 team average and closed with a 754. This is a lot of improvement. Looking forward we foresee another great season of exciting competition and enjoyment. See you all at Syosset next fall, till then... a healthy and a happy to all.

Firemen Check Local Gatherings

The Jericho Fire Dept. has announced that due to the increasing number of theatrical productions and gatherings with greater audience attendance in local public buildings, that in the future a uniformed member of the Dept. will attend all such productions.

This precautionary measure is being taken so that in the event of any emergency arising that there will be a trained individual present who will be versed in the proper measures to take in safeguarding lives and in the protection of any unnecessary damage to the property involved.

This announcement was made through the Office of Fire Chief Joe May by Lieut. Leo O'Farrell, who will be in charge of this new detail.

Li. O'Farrell stated that this action would prevent any recurrence of the Cambridge School Auditorium when the stage curtain burst into flames. While it was true that the fire was extinguished by members of the Jericho play, it wasn't until two hours after the fire that the Fire Dept. was notified of the incident. Jericho Fire Dept. is well equipped to handle this type of emergency and it's record has proven that it's response to a fire call is answered within minutes of notification. It was quite fortunate that the fire was minor in nature and easily controlled for by not calling the Fire Department there might have been a very tragic and costly fire.

If the need should arise for anyone in our community to call for the services of the Fire Dept. simply pick up your telephone dial the Operator and ask for the Jericho Fire Dept.

22 Jericho Teachers Given Tenure

By Selma Constant

On May 16, the Jericho Board of Education held its monthly meeting. Samuel Hecht, President, announced that the Town of Oyster Bay had denied the petition of the Meadowbrook Country Club to downzone their polo fields, thereby maintaining the current comprehensive zoning plan.

Dr. Westfall submitted names of new teachers for the district. One of the appointments will be a teacher from Bombay, India, licensed to teach elementary grades. She has taught in India, England and Nassau County and now will bring to Jericho students her first hand knowledge about Asia and its people.

Dr. Westfall submitted to the Board the names of 22 teachers to be approved for tenure. The list was approved and in the discussion which followed Dr. Westfall described the procedure by which a teacher is selected for tenure. He said that the teacher is on a three-year probationary period and during that period is given adequate assistance for professional growth. Conferences are held and the teacher knows how she is getting along. He assured the Board that good professional judgment is used in granting tenure and that the Board has to rely on the professional staff after they are sure procedures are right. The Board asked the administration to prepare for the Board a written statement of all policies and procedures used in granting tenure.

The Board voted to approve the Fire Alarm Committee report that the Telephone Co. Emergency Reporting System be installed in all the district schools. There will be a fire alarm in each building and when it is pulled a bell will ring in the firehouse and a light will flash on a special switchboard in the firehouse placing the exact location of the fire. There will also be a special phone in each building directly connected to the firehouse.

The school board also approved the appointment of eleven new teachers and Edmund Tanzi, as an additional principal for Jericho High School. Tanzi will be concerned mainly with curriculum and instructional supervision.

West Birchwood Women Organize Discussion Group

By Janice Strell

Housewives: Discuss the Great Novels. They are much more interesting and you will be too!

Although not presuming to compete with the New York Times for intellectual stimulation the West Birchwood Reading - Discussion Group does believe that it meetings provide an engrossing evening for the participants. Taking advantage of the home-study courses offered by the National Women's Committee of Brandeis University, several women of the community have formed a group in the Great Novels. Works by Austin, Dickens, Balzac and Flaubert have been discussed. Future plans include novels by important authors such as Turgenyev, Dostoyevsky, James, Conrad, Hemingway, etc.

Leadership for each discussion comes from the membership, on a rotating basis. The leader is responsible for supplying some background material concerning the author and work being discussed. A university syllabus provides the recommended course of reading to be followed and pertinent questions to be examined.

There is a membership fee of $6 per annum; and the cost of each syllabus (two are being used at present) is $1. These monies are paid to the National Women's Committee, which is the sole supporter of the Brandeis University Library. No participants are required to become members until they have attended two or three meetings. Meetings are held on the first Wednesday evening of each month at the home of one of the members.

Anyone interested in attending a meeting, or desiring further information concerning the group may contact Janice Strell at WE11-1-2680.

"I'LL TRY SIR"

In August, 1900, American troops, along with troops from four other nations, entered China to rescue their nationals besieged in the embassies of the walled city of Peking. During the attack upon the city, Musician Calvin P. Titus answered, "I'll try, Sir", to his commander's call for a volunteer to scale the 36-foot wall. Without assistance from ropes or ladders, Titus made his way to the top where he was subjected to enemy fire, but his heroic deed proved the feasibility of an assault over the wall, thus earning him the Congressional Medal of Honor.

THE CHANGING EARTH was the title of a student of geology undertaken recently by Mrs. Marion Sarnes fourth grade at Woodland Ave. School, Hicksville. The program included this panel discussion program for parents. Participants were, from left, Bruce Bernstein, metamorphic rocks; Deborah Vrona, fossils; William Miller, rock collections; Steven Suarez, igneous rocks; James McEnaney, sedimentary rocks; and Anthony Esposito as moderator. An exhibit was presented to instruct children in other grades. The study occupied three weeks.

Nautical Cadets In Fine Review

The Hicksville P.B.C. Nautical Cadets held their annual Parents Night on Friday, May 24th. The evening got off to a wonderful start when the cadets passed in review before such honored guests as Capt. A. L. Becker, 3rd. Naval District, Admiral Staff; Walter Chamarra, Pres. of the Nassau County P.B.C., and Jerry Zettler Vice Pres. of the Nassau P.B.C.

The boys looked elegant in their uniforms and the display was thrilling to watch. Other special guests included the Pres. of the Ladies Auxiliary Mrs. Florence McCabe, and the ladies all in full uniform. The Pres. of the Men's Club, George Moore and Patrolman David Ryan in charge of the Hicksville P.B.C.

The various units exhibited some of the things they had been doing this year. Communications sent and received messages via "walkie-talkie", radio, signal light, flag code; and team work in knot tying contests. The Medical Corp. displayed the various uses of first aid, and the Drill Team displayed a fine exhibition. The Cadet Band took over and marched and played superbly.

After much suspense and anticipation came the sought-after Cadet of the Year award, this year awarded to Charles Sauer. A great many things must be taken into consideration when selecting the Cadet of the Year. The boys must work very hard to achieve an award such as this.

The school gym was completely filled with all the proud parents and friends of these fine young men. The evening turned out to be a huge success.

Musicians Score In Festival

The Music Dept. of the Hicksville Public Schools announces that weekend, May 24 and 25, several performing groups, ensembles and soloists from the Hicksville Schools, participated in the New York State School Music Association (NYSSMA) Festival held at Syosset High School.

The purpose of the Spring NYSSMA Festival is to provide objective adjudication for groups and soloists and to grade them according to their performances. Hicksville groups did very well, receiving mostly As and Bs, and brought honor to Hicksville.

Marine Lance Corporal Stephen J. Reden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morey Reden of 8 Elm Lane, Hicksville, received a certificate of completion, April 18, upon completing a course of instruction in college Algebra.

FOR THE RESIDENTS OF BIRCHWOOD PARK AT BIRCHO

Ten Pin Talk

by Henry Dockswell

A feeling of happy excitement pervaded the alleys last Monday night. This was the last chance for any team to maneuver into a spot from which a trophy would be attainable. Next week was the final week of the season and it was position night.

The hub-bub was created as the men eagerly gathered around the newly posted league standings and schedule. From the looks of things any of the first six teams could wind up as the winner. Not everyone was going to win but there were other trophies: 2nd, 3rd, overall 2nd, overall 3rd, etc. Each of us seemed sure we'd come off with something.

The evenings results narrowed the field somewhat. Now instead of six teams in contention there were four.

Herb Bernstein came up with the highlight of the night, a magnificent 234. Believe it or not this was the only game his Lion teammates lost. Capt. Leo Geyer, a little earlier had bowled a 200, his seventh such game, and although Sid Simon's Trophies were fighting to avoid complete elimination, the Lions were not to be denied and they won 5-2.

Meanwhile, Dave Batterman's Tigers were polishing off the slumping "Mets" 5-2. Just two weeks ago Jack Sloan's boys held a commanding lead in 1st place. Suddenly they lost the touch and now they were in a three way tie for 2nd place, while Dave's boys were leading the league by the slim margin of one point.

Leon Newman sparked his teammates, as he bowled a fine 203, and Marv Cohen's "Champs" took all seven from Mort Levine's last half winners, the "Morticians". This all but killed the "Morticians" chances but it skyrocketed Marv's "Champs" right back into the 4-way fight for second half honors.

Horace Bernstein did himself proud. For the first time this year he bowled a 203 and then continued with a 171 and 174 to fall just 10 pins short of Gerry Reichgott's class B record of 558. His fine effort helped Sol Rabinowitz's "Invincible" to a 5-2 win over Fred Sapio's Royals, but it was in vain as they are way down in the standings completely out of contention.

Gerry has the trophy for Most Improved Bowler all locked up. He went from 144 to 152, an 8 point increase, and his closest contenders are Sid Guber, Julie Gersten and Sonny Lubliner, all with 6 points.

For most 200 games, Stan Jarvis still leads with 8 while Fred Sapio and Leo Geyer, with 7 each, are getting ready for a dor or die last effort.

Barbara Ann is the name of the new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy of 328 Nicholas Street, Hicksville. The little lady made her debut at Mercy Hospital on May 6.

HELP WANTED

From time to time, requests have gone out for volunteers to offer their writing talents to the VILLAGER. The responses to these appeals have been anemic to null. It is rather odd that in a community of over 1,000 homes, so few would be willing to take part in putting out a community newspaper.

If you want to try a flare at writing, contact your editor. If you know of someone who would be an asset along these lines, be a "tattle-tale" and let your editor know. He'll take it up from there. We also want teen agers to submit articles and items of interest. So everyone, offer your services—take a flare at writing and see your name in print.

Back With Us

For some unknown reason, "Calendar of Events" has faded from our newspaper. This column has proved exceedingly popular judging from the many queries we have had. We are happy to report that Ben Diamond will be back with us with her coverage on "Calendar of Events". All organizations interested in having their events listed please contact Bea at OV 1-1283.

Legionnaire's Log

Charles Wagner Post
No. 421, Hicksville

BY ARTIE RUTZ

It seems that now, at long last, our American businessman has finally awakened to the fact that Communists hate the sight of our Country's flag flying on our streets and in front of our homes. Several large companies are conducting nationwide campaigns to get the homeowner to buy a flag for his house at, or below, actual cost. Please note also that the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce is also conducting a drive to get United States Flags put on each parking meter on holidays. This Drive should be supported by the populace of Hicksville to the fullest extent. Money is needed for this project and anything thing you can do to help would be appreciated besides being a kick in the pants to the Communists. Call the Chamber of Commerce and ask for the particulars. Don't forget to fly your flag on Memorial Day! Honor YOUR Country and its Veterans by showing YOUR Colors. Work on our Expansion Program continues as the deadline for completion grows nearer and nearer. Don't be absent at our next meeting, June 3rd, this is election night. Sorry to report that the Executive Committee has declined our submitted bid for the 1964 Nassau County American Legion Convention, favoring instead, a bid for the 1965 Convention. Our Post is now in fifth place in the official county standings of the Mountaineer program membership. Our annual change over in 'command' seems to be more than just the normal thing this year, with the many, many changes affecting our organizational setup, the By-Law revisions; the recommendations from the Research Committee and the enlarged building, hitting home almost all at the same time. No doubt it will be weathered in due time so don't be backward, get that Happy Hicksville Habit. "See You At The Legion" now have all the dope on the housing situation at the forthcoming Dep't. Convention in Rochester on July 31, August 1, 2, 3 and 4 can answer your questions if you would like to attend. Just call me. Our Nassau County candidate for Dep't. Commander, J. Arthur Perry, is still the leading candidate and his chances of becoming Nassau's first state commander in more than twenty years look better with every day. We've come to the point where help is needed to paint our lower hall. Please contact Jack Ehmman and let him know you will help. Many rollers make fast work and we need fast work. Call Jack NOW!! After months and months of having our flag pole out of use due to the construction work, perhaps you will note the Stars & Stripes are flying again!

Operation VFW

William M. Gause Jr. Post No. 3211
by Eddie Kiebing

In spite of dark skies and the threat of rain, the Pre-Memorial Day services held last Sunday in the Pine Lawn Cemetery and sponsored by the veteran organizations of Hicksville proceeded smoothly. Peter Gordon of the Catholic War Veterans said the prayer. Bob Obermeyer (VFW) and Frank Eschbach (CWV) placed the wreath honoring the deceased veterans. The American Legion's Color Guard fired the salute. Also participating in the services were the St. Ignatius Girl Cadets, who incidentally, displayed the duplicate of our Post colors, which we presented to them several weeks ago.

Dedicated to Wilbur Trevors U.S. ARMY MEDICS 18TH. ANNIVERSARY, OKINAWA

"THE LITTLE WHITE CROSS"

There's a little white cross that is weathered and worn
Like a light it keeps beckoning me.
And it stands like a Shepherd, who's guarding his flock
On an Isle by the China Sea.
Oh the years that have past, have remained with me still
And the memories brought I will keep,
For he left me with things that more precious than gold
And to me he's not gone but asleep.
All the photos have faded, that he gave to me
But no pictures are needed of him,
For the friendship he gave to a Buddy in need
Shall never grow tarnished nor dim.
And someday I shall wander back over the miles
The miles that my Buddy helped free,
To stand once again by that little white cross
On that Isle by the China Sea.

Meet Stars on Wednesday

by Jim Cummings

When the "METS" come to MID ISLAND PLAZA next Wednesday evening, June 5th, they will receive a tremendous welcome from the HICKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR BAND under the direction of Charles Gougeon. This band of which we in Hicksville are very proud won New York State Championship in Competition recently at the N.Y. Coliseum. . . This year's beauty, Loretta Rissel, MISS RHEINGOLD will welcome the "METS" to GERTZ Hickville (on the Mall at Mid Island Plaza). . . The program kicks off at 7 P.M. with the HICKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND (really the "Sound of Music" we love to hear) plus the "MID ISLAND METS", our wonderful Little League team and other Little League Baseball groups are cordially invited to be in UNIFORM. . . There are "special" surprises for the teams in uniform, come early and hear the good news. . . The "TOWNSMEN" quartet will be in person. . . recent winner in the Mid Island Chapter group. . . COME EARLY - BRING THE FAMILY for a most entertaining evening. . . Be sure to see the General Electric "CARAVAN OF COMFORT" on the Mall at the Plaza on Friday and Saturday, June 7 and 8th. . . Watch for the announcement in your local papers next week. . . That was a real "live" bunny at LORRY'S Town and Country Shop in the PLAZA, Saturday. . . Christa Speck is her name. . . Lee Cohen, Manager was very delighted with the results of this promotion (see picture). . . FRANK CHILMISKY, principal speaker at Memorial Day Services held at Junior High School is without a doubt, one of Hicksville's busiest citizens between Kiwanis Club of Hicksville, which he has been serving since we first moved here over 14 years ago, Salvation Army Coordinator, former Town Councilman, and most important his wonderful wife and family. . . We all know that "Frank" will be "As Near As Your Telephone" when it comes to Hicksville. . .

The award-winning ST. IGNATIUS ALL-GIRL CADET CORPS returned from a successful day Sunday in Jersey City. The Corps is looking forward to their Canadian trip. . . This precision-group of young ladies is under the capable direction of TOM COSTA and the constant guidance of BILL (The Lord Mayor of Hicksville) MINIHAN. . . HAVE YOU HEARD? about the Big Theatre to be located at the Plaza. . . Freddy Evans plays trumpet. . . Food with sugar content will increase in price? . . .

We'll "Shoot the Works" at the PLAZA on Wednesday evening, July 3rd. . . Michael M. D'Auria is the new president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. . . The Mobile Registration Trailer from Board of Elections was well received by voters at the PLAZA. . . Among the crowd at the "Locker Room" Saturday in Sea-ford were the Barney Devlin's of Hicksville. . . Some people say "Hoot-Man" but Barney says "HOFFMAN" all the way. . . Friday, June 21st, is the FIRST Day of Summer and also the LAST Day of School. . . Use the best judgment when driving your car-make sure when you see a STOP sign-STOP fully, don't coast thru as we've seen many do - especially now as school draws to a close. . . Most important is that "if your driving make sure you have a Car". . .
