Hicksville Public Library Really Taking Shape! Grade Crossing Work on Schedule

Thousands Going Back To School Next Week

The session starts at 8 AM and concludes at 3:30 PM. There are about 60 new members of the faculty for the fall term.

Robinson Quits As Executive

An Executive GOP Committeeman from Hicksville this week resigned as a protest against the "dictatorial tactics" of Oyster Bay Town Republican Leader C. Bruce Pearsall.

Philip F. Robinson, formerly Hicksville Republican leader, submitted his resignation in a telegram to Pearsall in which he also demanded that Pearsall also resign "for the good of the Party".

"Pearsall has made the Oyster Bay Town Committee a bunch of puppets on a string," Robinson said. "He is trying to make himself into an Ivy League image of the old-time derby wearing political boss".

Robinson said he is backing the three insurgent GOP candidates running for the Oyster Bay Town Councilmen spots in the Sept. 5 primary.

The three insurgent candidates are Arthur C. Levy of Syosset, George E. Bailey, Jr. of Hicksville, and William J. Musso of Plainview. Their platform slogan is "take the Government out of the hands of the political bosses and return it to the people."

Ryan to Leave Police Boys Clubs

Patrolman Director Dave Ryan of Levittown who has been in charge of the Police Boys Clubs in Hicksville and Oyster Bay for nine years is leaving Sept. 1, to join the newly organized Juvenile Aid Bureau of the County Police Dept. His successor as Patrolman Director will be Frank Darcy of Farmingdale. There are 1100 boys in Hicksville PBC and 500 in Oyster Bay PBC.

Organize PTA For Willet Ave

An organizational meeting to establish a parent-teacher unit at the new Willet Ave., School, Hicksville, will be held in the All Purpose Room of the School on Tuesday evening, Sept. 10 at 8 p.m. All parents of children in the school are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

100 American Flags to Fly

Broadway, Herzog Pl. and Marie St., Hicksville, will be a colorful sight on Labor Day when one hundred 3x5 American Flags on ten foot poles, attached to parking meter stations, will make their first appearance. The William M. Gouse Jr. VFW Post, will be in charge of installation and removal of the flags obtained under a project sponsored by the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce under William Jones, chairman.

The Labor Day Firemen's Parade starts at 9 AM on Monday with two blasts on the fire signals. Contests take place at Mid Island Plaza on North Broadway, starting at 1 PM.

John C. McCallion, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. McCallion of 47 Libby Ave., Hicksville, is attending the 16-week Radioman Class "A" School at the Naval Schools Command, Norfolk, Va.

Vamps Win July Award

Hicksville Fire Dept. won second place in the NY Daily News Vamps Award for July for its battle on July 1 against a stubborn fire in a paper plant. The Hicksville volunteers have previously been singled out for recognition in this competition.

First for July was Dix Hills with Bay Shore third and East Meadow, honorable mention.

Champs Coming on Labor Day

VIRGINIA PATTERSON of Hicksville will be one of the graduates of the Suffolk School of Nursing of Southampton Hospital when graduation exercises are held Sept. 6 ... Get well wishes to GRACE STOLL of Walter Ave., Hicksville, who will enter Nassau Hospital next week for surgery ... Belated birthday greeting to BILL CONTE of W. Marie St. who celebrated last Monday ... GENE SCHILLINGER reminds us about the Kiwanis Mile of Dimes. The closing date is Aug. 30 ... The Kiwanis will get a preview of the Worlds Fair on Sept. 11 ... Remember AL DUERK? We met him by accident on the street in Huntington last week. He was manager of Stop N Shop when it opened on South Bway ... Hicksville Chamber of Commerce Directors meet at 9:30 AM on Friday, Sept. 6, at the Seaman & Eisenmann building.

The Beverage Retailer Weekly wonders editorially if the fact that 10,000,000 cases of scotch are being consumed this year means that scotch has replaced some other beverage, or "Is there a growth in consumer consumption?" ... LARRY McCAPFREY, Chamber president, and BILL JONES, Phone Co manager and flag committee chairman, but in a couple of evenings this week assembling the 100 flags and poles for the Broadway display on Labor Day ... GEORGE CONNOR claims he knows where Judge Crater gets his mail ...

CATHERINE PROCTOR will start in Hicksville schools as a first grade teacher in Burns Ave School this fall. She is the second Hicksville High School graduate who, thanks to the Student Scholarship fund, became a teacher and then joined the faculty of her alma mater ... N. WILLIAM GLASER will not be back in Hicksville school system this term as a psychologist. He resigned as of June 30. Also not returning is GEORGES deNAGY, Junior High School French teacher who was also quite expert as a fencer ...

The Log Cabin on the Barbary Coast is being air conditioned ... We remember clearly when the Hicksville Lions undertook a noble project and bought three waste receptacles for Broadway. One of them is still standing at the corner of Broadway and Herzog Pl. but is sadly in need of rehabilitation. We noticed that in Oyster Bay village, attractive waste receptacles have been attached to many of the parking meter poles. How about something like that here? ... A long-time resident spoke to us in the bank the other afternoon. The fire alarm had just sounded and for the heck of it he held his watch to see how long it would take and first truck to respond. He was astonished to find the vehicle and men were enroute in about 30 seconds ... The Little Inn will feature hamburgers and frankfurters all day, Labor Day ... TOM GEARY has been vacationing up in the Catskills where he has many long time friends.

... Guess what: The President lost all the Ds in his name at the Casey Clambake. For the present, he is JOHN KENNY ... Also on vacation until Sept 9 is MEL VOORHIES who denies he is getting ready to campaign for office ... We understand a worker on the grade crossing elimination suffered a broken leg during the week when he fell from the viaduct near Jerusalem Ave ... Water Commissioner GEORGE A. KUNZ took former school board president JERRY ZETTLER on a guided tour of the new water district administration building on Dean St. earlier this week and Jerry was impressed ... That new ambulance for Hicksville Fire Dept. is due for delivery in time for its appearance in the Labor Day parade. It will replace the first ambulance bought with the contributions of residents, one of the most worthwhile investments ever made in the opinion of those who have found the need to use this emergency service ...

The Shady Maple Softball Team continued to be the only unbeaten softball team in Hicksville by trimming the Rainbow Bar, 11-5 Sunday ... The Amvets won the Little League crown, according to FREED (with 2 Es) BLACKLEY ... JOE MCGEE of Brentwood as of July 19, is no longer general and sales manager of Rokedale Foundry, 485 W. John St., Hicksville, according to the LI Commercial Review ... JIM COOLEY enters Mid Island Hospital on Aug. 30 for mouth surgery ... As of Tuesday, BILL CISLER was the only candidate filed for the Hicksville Water Commissioner election on Aug. 30 ... The Republican Primary Campaign Committee will gather results of the Sept 5 primary at the Old Country Manor in Hicksville on that evening. At this point the only question appears to be the size of the defeat administered to the insurgents ...

A new bar is scheduled to open shortly on the west side of North Broadway near Levitt's ... Welcome back to all the teachers. We hope you had a pleasant and enjoyable summer ... It is not true that board members who voted "aye" will be transported to the meeting in the new school district station wagon ... It arrived this week ...

LI Tech School Opens Here

The Long Island Technical School, located at 7 West Marie St., Hicksville, is opening its doors to High School graduates for a one year work and study plan in construction technology. Its Director, William J. Hornung says, "The plan is ideal for those who wish to go to work after one year of intensive full time training and continue with related courses in the evening.

"Upon completion of the day classes, the student is qualified to take a job as a Junior Draftsman in an architectural or construction office.

"This short and intensive work study plan is possible through the "Natec Programmer" a new teaching aid."

The programmer consists of a container, text book size, with loose leaf programmed and illustrated pages. As pages are raised, the instructional material is seen through a window in the container, thus providing a step-by-step learning sequence.

Hornung stated that the "Natec Programmer" will also be used in the Mechanical Technology and, in the Electro-Mechanical courses at his Long Island Technical School.

Water District Began 41 Years Ago:

Grave Emergency in Water Supply Began in 1941

By Fred J. Noeth

A dependable and plentiful supply of good water for human consumption, fire fighting, industrial operations, raising crab grass etc is pretty much taken for granted by a community blessed with it.

Forty-one years ago Hicksville Water District was established and it has grown over the years to the point where delivery of millions of gallons in a single peak day is no hardship. Prior to the creation of a municipal water system Hicksville was served by a private water company. Oldtimer may remember the old water works on Old Country Rd. at the corner of Carl St., the present day location of Frank's Alibi Restaurant. There were mountains of coal to feed the hungry furnace which generated steam to pump the water.

Early in 1921 the efficiency of the private water supply company had decreased to the point where supply mains were so badly encrusted with iron deposit that the pressure at fire hydrants was practically nonexistent. Laundry, cooking utensils, plumbing fixtures were stained with iron rust. The situation was so poor that some residents upon visits to friends in the Big City would cart home gallon jugs of clear water.

First Commissioners

A petition with 700 signatures was presented to Oyster Bay Town Board requesting that a water district be established. At a meeting of the Town Board held Aug. 30, 1921 the petition was granted. Appointed as the first Water Commissioners were August F. Deppisch and the late Ernest F. Francke and William L. Magill. A couple of days later the first meeting of the Commissioners was held at the office of Nassau Lumber Co. Magill was elected chairman of the Board, Deppisch treasurer and Francke secretary.

Subsequent meetings were held at several locations until May 5, 1925 when an office was opened at 71 Broadway in a vacant store formerly occupied by the Bank of Hicksville.

The State Water Power and Control Commission held hearings in Hicksville on Apr. 13, Apr. 20 and May 5, 1922 with one hearing on Dec. 15 of that year in Mineola. The testimony taken was voluminous. The George Elyman farm on Bethpage Rd was chosen as the site for the wells and storage tank, being the highest point in the community and then "on the outskirts of the village". About 4.75 acres were bought for $6000.

It was two years until final approval of plans for the water supply system came thru from Albany and work got underway. By November 1924, work was sufficiently advanced to supply water to the first Hicksville High School (now Junior High) on Jerusalem Ave. A year later and the Water District was prepared to supply water for fire fighting.

Lines were laid parallel, in many instances, to the old Water Company system and as far as we know there may still be miles of that old pipe buried around town if it has not turned into solid rust by now.

First Tank Gone

The original water supply was obtained from two wells, each about 150 feet in depth. The water was raised from the wells to an elevated steel storage tank 150,000 gallons capacity. This original tank, since supplemented with storage capacity running into millions of gallons was recently demolished in connection with the RR grade crossing elimination program.

By the close of 1925 there were 17.6 miles of water mains with 207 fire hydrants and 256 water services. During 1928 the residents of the Carman Ave in the Town of Hempstead applied for annexation to the District and this was approved. By 1930 a one acre site was purchased from the Fred Mallard farm on Newbridge Rd. and a 300,000 gallon storage tank was erected there.

The following year the Bloomington Ave. residents applied for annexation to the Hicksville Water District. This was the same year that the old private water company finally gave up the ghost, thus increasing the number of water services to a

Pickle Works Fire Of 22 Years Ago

ONE OF THE MOST DESTRUCTIVE fires in the history of Hicksville broke out on the morning of March 15, 1941 — twenty-two years ago — at the Lakeville Manufacturing Company's fire on Bethpage Rd. just north of the LIRR crossing. The frame three-story building was known as the "Pickle Works", having been used for many years by Heinz for the preparation of pickles and sauerkraut from local farms. The extraordinary demand for water to fight this immense blaze had an adverse effect on Hicksville water supply system and eventually led to its expansion. (Photo by Albert J. Wiley) total of 1,575.

Hicksville Water District started supplying Meadowbrook Hospital with water supply in 1935. The business of the district having grown, the office built in 1927 on Bethpage Rd was enlarged and doubled in floor space in 1938. In June 1939 began a rather trying period for the water district. The demand for water was by then close to the total capacity and the possibility of a breakdown of any pump or well failure could create a serious hazard.

Trying Years

We became quite familiar with the water district and its problems about that time and for more than two years wrote at considerable length of the controversy which raged. In November of 1939 the voters turned down a proposal to install additional wells and pumps in the vicinity of Cattagug Road.

Five alternate proposals were discussed at length at a public hearing on Jan. 29, 1941. On Feb. 27 of that year the Water Commissioners were advised that no. 1 pump was cutting out for no apparent reason, indicating a possible approaching failure of the well. A special election on a new proposition was scheduled for Apr. 24.

As the late Roland F. Davidson, long-time superintendent of the water district, recalled: "Early in the morning on Mar. 15, 1941 a serious fire occurred at the Lakeville Manufacturing Co. factory (see picture) necessitating a call for help from outside fire depts. The extraordinary 3000 gallon-per-minute demand with Westbury FD pumps added to Hicksville Fire Dept pumps nearly depleted the water storage tanks and caused the three pumping units to operate at above normal capacity."

Four days after the fire, probably the worst in the history of the community, the no. 1 pump went out of service and four days later pump no. 2 went out of business. That left the entire community and Meadowbrook Hospital dependent upon the supply of pump no. 3 alone. It was a grave emergency. Contractors worked around the clock in an attempt to restore the two seized pumps. An emergency hookup with Jericho Water District was made for partial assistance in case of fire demands. The call went out for all residents to conserve water.

But in the face of this situation only 371 valid votes were cast on April 24 when the proposition to increase the water supply came up a second time. The vote was 294 no and 77 yes.

The State Dept of Health expressed concern regarding the emergency situation in Hicksville. A court order was served on the Board of Water Commissioners on Aug. 7, 1941 directing them to provide additional adequate water supply. Finally on Jan. 2, 1942 a whitened down $50,000 proposition to increase the water supply was approved by the voters.

War Priority Sought

But the difficulties were far from solved. The war was on and the War Production Board denied an application for priority rating. Meanwhile efforts to reconduct the three original wells and pumps were somewhat successful. The matter of installing well no. 4 had to remain dormant in the absence of a federal priority.

When a hurricane in Sept. 1944 cut off all electric power, all three wells went out of service. For a few hours Jericho helped, but then finding itself in the same boat as Hicksville, had to cut off. A fire pump was pressed into service, connecting the Hicksville mains with Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp hydrants provided a small supply of water until electric power resumed four days later. (Grumman electric power had not cut out).

It was not until January of 1947, eleven years after the first recommendation to the commissioners for an increase in plant facilities, that a new pump on the Bethpage Rd site was in operation.

By the close of 1946 there were 44.5 miles of distribution mains, 451 control valves and 463 fire hydrants.

Today the Hicksville Water

District is housed in a modern administration center on Dean St. Harold Hammarst became superintendent upon the death of Davidson. The late Shirley Hicks had been the first superintendent.

The present Board of Commissioners consists of William A. Cislser, Harry Borley and George A. Kunz. His son, George W. Kunz, is vice president of the Hicksville Board of Education having been elected a trustee a little over a year ago.

Curiously, all three Water Commissioners were members together in Emergency Co. No. 5 of Hicksville Fire Dept. Cislser is an ex-captain while Borley and Kunz are ex-chiefs. They will be leading the fourth and fifth divisions, respectively, of the Fire Dept Labor Day parade next Monday morning.

In a future article we shall detail the present statistics concerning the water district of today.

Reader Opinion

Your editorial in the Herald dated Aug 15 on "Vandalism"—its really a shame for having these rascals around and the law does not apprehend them.

I'm having trouble also on vandalism but some day I may take the law into my own hand and make an example of them. I recently bought a house in Hicksville. I'm making repairs to a fence before moving in and for over a month, everytime I put up this fence some one takes it down; probably its done in the night. Last Saturday I found part of the fence down and no trace of the lumber.

Some day I may lay a trap for them, have someone sleep in the house at night, and any rascals that enter probably during the night will remain there like a dog.

A DISCOURAGED FUTURE RESIDENT OF HICKSVILLE

Herald Editorial Opinion

Just for the Record

Two matters of current interest need to be set straight.

First, the cost estimate of $100,000 resulting from annual vandalism in Hicksville School District, upon further analysis, appears to be rather excessive. This is not to belittle the grave problem nor the fact that vandalism is costing the taxpayers a great deal. Broken glass in school buildings during 11 months of 1962, for example, exceeded $2300 and it has been growing steadily. It was $1053 in 1959, $1670 in 1960 and $2245 in 1961. The cooperation of all residents coupled with some forthright policy decisions by the Board of Education appears to be in order.

Second, there are rumors — which have grown with the telling — to the effect that some Hicksville students will be attending classes in Westbury this fall and, in exchange, some Westbury students will be coming to Hicksville. The numbers which began with a dozen has grown to a hundred at the last telling.

These are the facts: Several Hicksville students will be attending the Nassau County Vocational School which happens to be located in Westbury but is in no way connected with that School District. Furthermore, there is no stated with authority, Hicksville students attending school in Westbury under any kind of exchange.

School Insurance Still Cloudy

A few weeks ago your Civic Board tried to get together with a few members of the Jericho Insurance Committee, but without success. Two members of that committee, were invited to attend a special meeting with the Board's Executive Committee to discuss the latter controversy that had ensued between this Insurance Committee and the Jericho School Board. Both answered that they would try to make it. Neither attended the meeting and neither of them ever informed the Board that they were not coming.

A meeting has been set up with Dr. Arthur Carta, head of the Jericho School Board, at which time the Civic Board hopes to learn the Board of Education's side of this controversy.

It is hoped that another meeting can be set up in the very near future with the Insurance Committee. This dispute is of grave concern to our community and both sides should be heard before an accurate report can be presented to our residents.

Ten Pin Talk

By Henry Dockswell

The last step in preparation for starting our winter league was taken Monday night, Aug. 19. Our League Press, Leo Geyer, called his Executive Committee together and finalized the roster of 12 teams. Although it was simply a matter of following league and Civic Assoc. procedure there was the sensitive area of how to handle the great overflow of new applicants (all members of the C.A.) in addition to the three non-residents who had bowled with our league last season.

Our league meeting last June had established that it was the will of the league to keep our roster to six man teams except in those cases where a travelling member made a seventh man necessary. The three non-residents were all aware that their presence in the league was only for one season as there was no waiting list of Civic Association members.

Our Aug. 15th deadline had brought a flood of last minute names and even to this date names are still coming in. It could only be after this deadline date that the situation was able to be reconciled according to the rules already prescribed. The large list of Civic Assoc. members now waiting for openings necessitated the three non-residents being informed that

Help Me Find Name

By Vivian Scoma

Hi! I guess you were curious to know what my little mouse was up to. Well, she and I are going to write you "news" column to let you know what is going on. It was, I suppose inevitable that I should fall into writing this column as most of you know that I am one of the biggest news finders in Birchwood Park. No, I'm not joking. I have a fresh, optimistic, well justified confidence about my ability -- with the help of my little mouse -- in spreading good cheer or any kind of news. I can't do without your help. I can't think of any job more difficult than trying to write a column without material, so HELP HELP HELP!

First of all, I need a combined name for my little mouse and this column. Send in your suggestions to "The Villager", Jericho, N.Y. We want to hear from you; and don't forget to let me know if Junior is going to be Bar Mitzvah or if there is a blessed event in your home or anything of interest -- For this, call me at GE 3-9789 or write to Vivian Scoma, 55 Midd' Lane, Jericho, and I'll see you news is included.

Be sure to lock your doors at night and plug up the holes in your walls 'cause if you don't send me some interesting bits of news my mouse may sneak in your house and... they will not be able to remain in the league. Unfortunately, this information could not have been given to them any sooner.

We also wish to advise that all names received after the Aug. 15th deadline will be held on the waiting list to be added only if drop-outs occur.

The entire Civic Board asked that it be officially noted in the minutes of their meeting that a unanimous vote of thanks be given to Elliot Spencer. The time and effort he has given for the second

Qualifies For Council

William R. Barton of 3 Craig St., Jericho, has qualified as a member of the 1963 President's Council of the New York Life Insurance Co., according to Paul A. Norion, vice president in charge of marketing.

President's Council members are the company's most successful agents. Only 219 New York Life agents have qualified from a field force of more than 7,500 agents in 25 general offices in the United States and Canada. Membership is based on 1962-63 sales records.

year in a row, to the job of league handicapper and bowling league membership chairman. He has been of tremendous importance to the overall success of this function. Thanks Elliot.

Our first night of bowling is Monday, Sept. 9th. The place: Syosset Lanes. The time: 9:00 P.M. The object: to have some fun.

President's Corner

by HORACE BERNSTEIN

It's been a short hot summer. All the children are back from camp. The older children are preparing to go to college, and the Birchwood Civic Assoc. continues to roll on.

Your Board of Directors, as well as the various committees have been working through the summer, organizing events for the coming season such as our annual "Meet Your Candidate Night" which will take place the last Tuesday in October, and preparations are already in the making for our annual election night dance that will be held in May.

Several problems arose during the summer. We either helped to alleviate or are still working on them. As you know, a controversy concerning school insurance arose in the Jericho district. Your executive board has held several meetings on this subject and more appear to be in the offing. A detailed report will then be given to our residents.

It has been brought to the attention of the Civic Assoc. that a major alteration of one of the homes is being done on Hazelwood Drive and Market St. Several residents have requested that we investigate the zoning.

All summer, the Town Planning Committee has been working on the entrance gates. John Anderson has submitted renderings which have been sent to Oyster Bay for approval. As soon as this is done, the plans will be submitted for bids and finally the gates will become a reality.

The Villager under Nat Warren has been going full blast all summer and the paper is showing all the hard work he and the editorial board are putting into it.

Our bowling league is just about set and Monday Sept. 9th is the first night. The Board of Directors has voted a special vote of thanks to Elliot Spencer for the tremendous job he did in setting up the league for the coming year.

The ten acres of land bounded by Forsythia Lane and Fountain Lane was sold by the school district to a builder. In order to be sure that strict adherence to zoning was maintained a letter was sent to the Town Supervisor. A copy of the reply follows:

"I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 25, 1963, on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Birchwood Civic Assoc. at Jericho regarding the 10 acre parcel of land at Jericho, the ownership of which you indicate has recently been com-

Press Efforts To Ban Parking

By Henry Dockswell

A few months ago, the Birchwood at Jericho Civic Assoc. Board of Directors was made aware of a condition involving the overnight parking of commercial vehicles in the community. A Town of Oyster Bay ordinance prohibits such parking in a residential community and is in the process of being enforced.

At its regular monthly meeting, on Tuesday, Aug. 20th, the civic assoc. was informed that a careful check of our community has revealed that there are a number of commercial vehicles parked on the streets night after night. Many of these same vehicles are also there on one or both days of every weekend. Aside from the unsightly look this gives to our community, the danger of an accident to one of our children is greatly increased. Some of our streets are worse than others, with cars parked along the curbs on both sides as far as the eye can see. Any child that would suddenly dart from behind one of these vehicles into the path of an oncoming car would very likely be hit by the unsuspecting driver.

Every resident should get his car off the street and into his garage or driveway. Certainly commercial vehicles have no place in our community unless performing their working function. Signs prohibiting overnight parking of commercial vehicles will be posted throughout the area and the police will patrol the streets to ticket all such vehicles in violation.

The Board was also alerted to its first look at plans of the entrance gates to be erected at Village Drive and Birchwood Park Drive to be clearly visible from B'way just a few feet away. These plans will now be submitted to TOBAY for final approval and the entrance gates should be a reality before we are much into the fall. This has been a long term project of your Civic Assoc. and when this entrance is completed, gates for Merry Lane at Jericho Turnpike and Birchwood Park Drive at Robbins Lane will be pursued. Assoc. needs the support of every resident at all times, and especially now. Your $5 dues, which directly and indirectly is more than returned in many ways is the only source from which all three entrances will be built. The Board earnestly appeals for the help and cooperation of each of us.

Jericho GOP Backs Incumbents

The Jericho Republican Club unanimously endorsed Councilmen Edward Poulos, Carl Grunwald and Edmund Ocker in the forthcoming Republican Primary on Sept. 5th.

Councilman Poulos is well known for his outstanding efforts and accomplishments as Councilman, on behalf of the Jericho residents. For many years he has served as Republican executive leader of the South Syosset-Jericho area and has always been active in the Jericho Republican Club. His running mates, Grunwald and Ocker, working with him on the Town of Oyster Bay attain its excellent reputation through-

Helping Johnny Get Along With Others

by LEONARD SMITH

In survey after survey, when parents are asked what they want schools to accomplish for their children, "learning to get along with others" is close to the top of the list.

In order for a youngster to live effectively in the world of today, he must learn to get along with others — family, friends, schoolmates, teachers. Children who get along with others seem to be more successful in their work than those who have difficulty in this respect. They may not be superior students, but because they are generally adaptable, there are many opportunities for them to achieve success.

The child's first few years may be free from rough spots as far as getting along with teacher and classmates is concerned. Because school is a relatively new experience for most of the children, and because they don't know each other very well yet, cliques, position of leadership, in-groups and out-groups will not yet have been consolidated.

In later grades, concern about getting along with others occurs more frequently, for a great many different reasons — "how does my leader really feel about me" — a poor grade — failure to win the class officer nomination of the lead in the play.

Children need the help of parents to interpret properly many of these situations. Parents can help children understand that as they grow older they will have to learn to get along with many different kinds of people — people who, including teachers, differ from each other in a great many respects. And that occasionally, there will be a teacher who is more strict and demanding, less patient and than an adored kindergarten or first grade teacher might have been.

With older children who think they detect hostility or unfairness in a teacher, a parent might say: "School is part of the world. In it, just as in the rest of the world, people are different — they believe different things and different things are important to them. When you're out of school, you'll be working with people like that too. It's part of growing up to understand that, and to work with different kinds of people."

Most important, if your youngster comes home and reports an incident or problem that seems to justify a complaint with the school, parents would do well to learn the whole story first, not just the child's side of it.

In general, parents can help their children who have difficulties in getting along with others by eliminating threatening situations (hostility, rejection, etc.) and by creating instead situations which give the child a feeling of security and appreciation. Under no circumstances should a child's aggression be met with an aggressive response from adults.

The Syosset Public Library has available to all parents a selected list of books dealing with the emotional well being of children and teenagers. These books are excellent in terms of helping the concerned parent to help his child to get along with others.

Troubles Loom For LI Boatmen

Noting the U. S. Coast Guard cut-backs in manpower and equipment planned for the Long Island area, Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach today called upon local officials in Nassau and Suffolk to re-examine their opposition to the proposal to extend the State Navigation Law to Long Island waters.

"We are heading for a storm of trouble on Long Island if we don't move quickly to establish uniform marine safety laws — and to enforce them," warned Fehrenbach, who is Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Boats.

At Public Hearings of the Motor Boat Committee in Nassau and Suffolk during July, municipal officials were generally opposed to the extension of the State Navigation Law to Long Island waters, the only New York waters outside its jurisdiction. To counter this opposition, Fehrenbach is planning a series of meetings with local officials to acquaint them with the workings of the State Navigation Law. "I am sure we can work out some method of extending the safety benefits of the Law — and still allow the legitimate home-rule control that rightfully belongs with local government," said Fehrenbach.

Offer Workshops For Adults

Mothers whose children are in school this fall will have the perfect opportunity to improve their skills in various workshops to be offered beginning the week of Sept. 16th at Art Forms Unlimited, Emily Blenheim and Shirley Schumacher, co-owners of the gallery located at 111 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, have recently announced a fall schedule that will keep them busy during the day with drawing, sculpting, painting, bookbinding, or making hats. For information call GE 3-6230.

Coming Events

The Jericho Jewish Center will conduct High Holy Day services on the following days. Rosh Hashonah Wednesday evening Sept. 18, and Thursday and Friday morning Sept. 19th and 20th. Yom Kippur services will be held Friday evening, Sept. 27th and all day Saturday, Sept. 28th. Tickets for the residents of the Jericho and surrounding communities are available at the Temple. (See ad for time and dates)

Work has begun on the Temple Or-Elohim grounds for the new home of Rabbi Herbert H. Rose, new spiritual leader for the Reform Congregation of Jericho. On Monday, Aug. 26, the concrete foundation for this one family dwelling was to be poured and the house is expected to be ready before Dec. 1. The entire Temple Or-Elohim family and its neighbors are anxious to welcome the Rabbi and his family to Jericho.

"The Jericho High School P.T.A. will hold its first meeting of the 1963-64 school year at the High School on Wednesday, Sept. 11th at 8:30 P.M. Dr. Thomas F. Carey, new Superintendent of Jericho Schools will address the membership. Parents will have an opportunity to meet the High School Faculty."

Mrs. Lois Oppenheim (OV 1-0857), President of the Sisterhood of Temple Or-Elohim, announces that the Sisterhood is planning a wonderful weekend at the Fallview Hotel in Ellenville, New York on Oct. 18, 19, and 20th. All our friends and neighbors are cordially invited to join us.

Vandals of Yesterday

By Joe Koerner

Who are they? What are they doing now and what kicks, if any, did they get out of being the rowdies of their day? First of all, they're the Doctors, Lawyers and Indian Chiefs of the modern era. They were a hell-bent group of scalywags, who asked no quarter and gave none in return. Their actions were very little different from their recent day counterparts but they had one thing going for them, that helped keep things within reasonable bounds. They had a healthy respect for law and order and the requisite for keeping a full set of crockery into adulthood, was never to sass a cop or get into a word battle with an elder. Both were dynamite and if a guy had reasons to doubt this sage advice, all he had to do was drag one of each home, to find himself with a gluepot full of woe. Nine chances out of ten, he got another belt from Pop and was relegated to the role of wood shed thinker.

In short, it didn't pay to sass a bluecoat and the best weapon of the day was a powerful pair of legs that under certain circumstances, could make Jesse Owens look like he was running backwards.

So let's turn back the pages of time about 30 years in fact and meet a delinquent of yesterday. His name was "Quonset Hunt" and he roamed the wild prairies of Swedetown, Hicksville, and Central Park (now Bethpage, and Jerusalem before that). He was about 13 at the time and he learned the sporting vandalistic dodge the hard way. . . . Sans everything, in the way of uniforms, except an old pair of sneakers and a hard head. Getting tickled, in a sandlot game in these days was paramount to getting a short circuit up queer street for much more than a few hazy minutes. And when "Quonset" played Soccer, he learned early in life, not to pay too much attention to the ball. . . . Just kick or be kicked was the motto. And as far as ice hockey was concerned, Quonset and his pals just labeled this pastime as organized mayhem. So what did they do for kicks on the weekend evenings? Long after their bruises had a chance to heal? Did they stand around a school yard? bang out 30 or 40 windows, rip down all the leaders on the building and even have a hand in arson? No. . . . Quonset was the normal sort of a guy, of his day. He had at least two fist fights a week to keep his nerves in shape but win lose or draw, never flashed a switchblade or kicked the other guy when he was down. He was a fair fighter and if he didn't play by the rules, his own rooting section would clobber him. He was a graduate of a local elementary School and just got by with his own special grade of honors. (A sheepshank over 70%)

He remembers a small wiry man who taught the 7th grade. The name escapes him now but the nickname doesn't. "Pussyfoot" they called her and if a guy or gal was up to no good in the classroom, look out! She invented the 30 year mortgage and spuck to the policy of, never doing anything today, that could be done with better results tomorrow. Pussyfoot had radar eyes and never missed a trick. If Quonset pulled a pigtail or threw an eraser, he was never caught in the act. That is immediately. But justice always triumphed when Pussyfoot made her rounds of the classroom as the official U. N. observer. She had a memory like an elephant and had a way of making bodies fall in the aisle, without too much commotion. "What'd I do now?" Quonset would always moan, after picking himself off the floor.

"Come now Quonset" she would purr softly. "I saw you pull, Kitty Kunquat's hair and throw an eraser at Frank Futter's head". And so it went, in grade school for dear old Quonset Hunt. He left in '32 for a crack at higher learning in good old Farmingdale High. During the first 3 years he quit twice to join the C. C. C.'s. On some occasions, he wore a derby hat and a swallow tail coat to school. He wore it a dozen times or more and even had the gall to impersonate Charlie Chaplin, by sporting a cane. He rubbed limburger in teacher's desk drawers and was a real cutup in the heavyweight class of rowdism. But that was before he was interviewed by Weldon E. Howitt, Principal of Farmingdale High. "Old Weld" as they called him, was a small figure of a man, only standing 6'6" and weighing in at 240. He had a way of multiplying ones' sins, by looking balefully over a pair of horn rim glasses, and bellowing softly. "What you, again?" The tone of his voice usually turned the verbal battle into a one way conversation, for "Old Weld" was the type of guy that could outshoot a wounded bull elephant. In his spare time he'd track down truants and wouldn't give up till the blighers were at bay. Quonset and his pals still bear the scars of one of these clayhole sores. And that's how the mop flopped for the 1% minority, 30 years ago. They vandalized everything not tied down and had a real ball scheming up new ideas on how to aggravate their elders. Quonset learned how to type in High School by taking 6 courses in Study Hall and one in typing. It took him 3 years to get out of the hunt and peck stage but he made it. He worked up his own newspaper, called the Swedetown Gazette and when he and his entourage of ruffians, found no news fit to print, they went out and made it. Quonset still has an old newspaper clipping that relates the tale of a local farmer hung in effigy. It turned out to be a dummy, hung high in an old oak, with a rope around its' neck. It made a great story. Other pranks included sending the undertaker to someone's doorstop, building a hut in the woods, with lumber supplied from a residents summer abode, lifting a chicken coop and depositing it, along with 30 to 40 cackling hens into a city critters backyard, miles away.

"And how about those wild rides in 'Fimpy's' Model T Ford", said Quonset as he gave for words, settled back and started to mention names. "Remember Wally and Diddle", he said. "Look where they are today. And how about Eddie, Tiger, Moose and Squat. They've got their own businesses" he went on. Names, seemed to tumble from his lips, like water over a dam. And in the windup, he convinced us no end-that Boys will be boys-no matter what the year. "But why such wanton destruction," we mused as we put our typewriter away for the night.

Joint Installation Set for Sept 14

Congregation Shaarei Zedek will hold a joint installation of Congregation and Sisterhood officers on Saturday evening, Sept. 14th at 9:00 P.M. For the fifth consecutive year, Congregation has engaged Cantor S. Kurz for the High Holidays. He will also chant the Shichos Services, Saturday night, Sept. 14th.

MARINE PRIVATE Robert Politz, son of Mrs. Paul Melis of 22 Cedar St., Hicksville, was graduated recently from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

us another imaginary nudge, accompanied by what sounded like a gleeful wail of laughter. He was trying to remind us that boys will be boys and that all of us threw a few stones in our day. "But we weren't as destruction bent as they are today," we argued. "Sure the 99% are still the same" we went on. They went out to become the Doctors, Lawyers and Indian Chiefs. But where did the 1% wind up, we asked? Quonset as usual and never one to be at a loss

THOMAS W. BEAN of 14 Meadow Lane, Hicksville, was selected for the United States Navy flight training program as a Naval Aviation Officer Candidate. He was sworn into the United States Naval Reserve on Aug. 7, by Cmdr. J. Hahn at the Naval Air Station New York (Floyd Bennett Field), Brooklyn. He will report to the Chief of Naval Air Training, at the Naval Air Station Pensacola, Florida, the "Annapolis of the Air", to commence training. His first phase will be the U. S. Naval School of Preflight—sixteen weeks of rigorous training in officer indoctrination and aviation ground training. Upon successful completion of Preflight, he will be commissioned Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve and proceed to the Basic Naval Aviation Officer School. This school emphasizes subjects such as—navigation, meteorology, air intelligence, communications, special aircraft weapons, aviation electronics and aircraft engines. During this phase he will also receive indoctrination flights in a variety of naval aircraft. Bean is a graduate of Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

Imperials Win Battle of Bands

Hicksville Dist. Recreation Dept. is pleased to announce that the winner of the local Battle of the Bands, "The Imperials" will represent Hicksville in the island wide competition to be held on Sept. 7th.

This event cosponsored by the Long Island Recreation and Parks Assoc. and Macy's will be held on the South Shore Mall.

Bands from many neighboring communities including Great Neck, Hempstead, Westbury, Rockville Centre, Freeport, Garden City and Oceanside, plus the Suffolk communities of Riverhead and Islip will be competing. The winning combo will receive blazers and be featured in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The Imperials were formed by a group of Hicksville boys about six years ago, the present group have been together for two years. In addition to playing for their own school dances and activities they have played for local church groups, K of C dances and a special benefit for Kiwanis of Hicksville.

Featured in this group are: Thomas J. Sullivan, Jr., Peter E. Popken, Thomas Miller and James Walker, Jr. They are managed by Elliot Gordin, 17 years of age.

Amvets Take League Crown

The Hicksville International Senior division Championship game was held at the Jr. High Field on Saturday Aug. 24. The Amvets Post #44 winners of the first half vs. McNamee Printing 2nd. half winners resulted in a 4-3 victory for the Amvets.

Both teams scored a run in the first inning and McNamee Printing went ahead with a run in the top of the third. The Amvets tied the score in the bottom of the fourth. McNamee went ahead again scoring a run in the top of the sixth. In the bottom of the sixth, Mike Toomey walked, Joe Grant hit a single and Steve Cooper followed with a double to tie up the score. An infield out moved Cooper to third. Bob Casatano squeezed the winning run from third. Bob Baranski the winning pitcher struck out the side in the seventh inning to insure the victory.

By winning this championship game, the Amvets Post also takes possession of the Elias Jabour Memorial Trophy from last years champions, the Charles Wagner American Legion Post.

New Program For Girls Scouts

This fall when the Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts resume their troop activities, they, like their sister Scouts all across the country, will be starting out with a new design in Girl Scout program.

There are two major changes which will be most apparent at first, the four new age-levels into which troops will now be divided and their new names. Brownie Girl Scouts are 7 and 8 year olds; Junior Girl Scouts are 9, 10 and 11; Cadette Girl Scouts 12, 13 and 14; Senior Girl Scouts 15, 16 and 17. Each girl will wear the new distinctive uniform of her own age level and will use the new Girl Scout Handbook especially designed for her group.

The new look in Girl Scouting represents a recognition of the changing needs of young people in a changing world. It aims to bring a richer and more meaningful Scouting experience to a larger number of girls while it keeps intact the fundamental principles on which the Girl Scout movement was founded more than 50 years ago, according to Olga A. Arnold, public relations chairman.

Calling all good Republicans

... you've been put on the SPOT!!!

Yes, if you are a registered Republican, you've been put on the spot by 'shadow' candidates who have capriciously decided to oppose our experienced Town Councilmen in the Republican Primary.

These men are the real Republicans ... whose very names spell out G. O. P !!!

YOUR support is needed, to help these men in the Republican Primary on Thursday, September 5th. These are your Town Board members who have ...

- carried out our forward-looking Town programs in zoning, recreation, industrial development and planning.
- devoted themselves to the principles of the Republican Party, and are pledged to fight the spread of high-rise apartment house development in our Town.
