How Germany Received News

The following message, dated Sat. Nov. 23, was received by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson of Meyers Ave., Hicksville, from their daughter, Nancy, a nurse touring Europe with some friends. Detained, Berlin, Germany, it read: "We were in a cafe last night at 9:15 p.m. when we heard about Pres. Kennedy and we were really shocked. It's amazing the reaction of the people, and Berliners in particular. Many, when they found we are Americans, asked 'What's going to happen to Berlin?' There were torch-light processions in the street. All people are very kind about giving us news and expressing their sorrow, not only for themselves, but to the American people. All dancing stopped for the night. Don't worry about us being in Berlin. If any kind of trouble breaks, it won't be here. We're going to East Berlin today, so shall see the reaction of the people there. Took us about one hour at the Helmsdorf check point and about six different gates."

Love,
NANCY

Request Early Holiday Mailing

The Postmaster said - "Here are the things to watch to be sure that every Christmas card and gift package will be delivered before Christmas Eve."

First, check over your Christmas card and gift list very carefully - be certain each address is complete, with full name, street and number, city, state and zone or ZIP Code number.

Second, stock up soon on sturdy packing materials for your gift packages, including heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cardboard, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.

Third, buy your postage stamps now. Be sure to use the colorful new five cent Christmas Tree stamps on your cards.

A GROUP of Hicksville Junior High School students including David Rule, Judy Sullivan, Rita Skolake, Dennis Sana, Bruce Galtr, Robert Farrington, Howard Rosen, Raymond Straffner, Steven Gordon and Joe Smithmore, saddened on hearing of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, decided to do something to express their sympathy. They were going to take up a collection and send a floral tribute. Then when word came that the Kennedy family wished such money donated to a charity or some other worthy cause and they changed their plans and set a higher goal. They decided to solicit the entire Hicksville School District in an effort to start a John F. Kennedy Memorial Scholarship Fund. They elected Bruce Galtr, Chairman, and Robert Farrington, first assistant chairman, and the other students took on the task of being Block Captains to engage the other students throughout the area to canvass the entire district. Flyers were mimeographed and maps blocked out into areas to canvass. They embarked on the drive on Sunday and has collected about $130 when they were told by the Nassau County police Dept., who had received a complaint, that they must have a license to solicit funds. In compliance with the law students on bicycles were dispatched to round up the students who were collecting.

Before the week is out they expect to visit Town Clerk William O'Keefe, receive the necessary credentials and continue the drive.

In an address to the Senate recently, Senator Keating spoke on the seriousness of the rights of veterans. He asked the Senate to move immediately after Veterans Day to establish a Committee on Veterans Affairs in the Senate. Dear Lynda:

SISTER EYMARD, O.P., was reading to her senior American History class at Queen of the Rosary Academy, Amityville, Friday afternoon . . . "and President Garfield was assassinated". She was interrupted by a knock at the door. As she went to speak to the other nun who had come to the door, the students whispered among themselves "A thing like that couldn't happen today. . . . Kennedy is too well protected, etc." She came back and made the solemn announcement, "Oiris, President KENNEDY has just been assassinated".

BEVERLY AHLSEN of 5 Spruce St. and RUTH HARDING of 56 Wishing Lane, are members of the College Choir of State University College at Fredonia. The choir will appear at the Lincoln Center of Performing Arts, during the first annual New York City Christmas Festival on Dec. 29 . . . Get well wishes to KENNY MCCORMACK of Pine St., recovering from an accident over the weekend. . . . Happy birthday wishes to MAUREEN MILLER OF Harding Ave., who celebrated on Wednesday. Many happy returns. . . .

You must have been struck, as we were, with the difference in the method of leaf gathering between the Town of Oyster Bay and County of Nassau. The Town is using new, modern vacuum cleaner-like machines that clean a street in no time at all. The County, on the other hand, still does it laboriously by rake and cardboard box. We'll leave it to you to decide which is more economical, in terms of manpower costs. . . .

Louis A. Matyas, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Matyas of 218 Second St., Hicksville, is attending recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

BY ARTIE RUTZ

THAT was a hectic and amazing weekend....I guess everyone saw it differently, yet everyone saw it the same....The shock of the assassination pressed on the very nerve center of our great American Nation....There was that audible click, the same we experienced when the Japs gave us the Pearl Harbor business, yet heard all around the world....The magnitude of happenings like these do not panic Americans but rather brings their toughest, unbreakable patriotic brotherhood to the fore....That click that spelled out that ALL Americans, regardless of race, color or religion were standing shoulder to shoulder once more, alert to the future....Our salute to Jackie Kennedy for the real First Lady fashion in which she conducted herself all throughout her terrible ordeal....As the London newspapers headlined "Regal"....The funeral cortege and ceremonies were watched by countless millions and each saw what he wanted to see....I guess us veterans were interested very much in the various marching units, honor guards, etc....Many of us saw things that we never saw before and I can say after comparing notes that our Country can be proud of the ceremonial units that took part in the tribute....The rapid machine-like firing squad of the Arlington Honor Guard....The marching of the Air Force Pipe Band....The changing of the Honor Guard at the Roundabout....The perfect cadence of the marching units, no matter which branch of service they hailed from....And that Black Charger who really wanted to take off and charge....Our Post wired a condolence message to Mrs. Kennedy within an hour after the word had been verified as true as to the President's passing....The tremendous out pouring of Post members and their wives attending the Post's tribute to our late President on Monday evening was very gratifying to our Commander, Dick Hochbrueckner, who just returned home from the West coast....The Memorial Service honoring President Kennedy was the first in the history of the Post as there was no precedent in the Legion's 45 years for such an occurrence....Commander Hochbrueckner conducted a wonderful service that saw Americanism Officer Richard Evers deliver a well thought out eulogy....Dolly Portuese as soloist gave a fine rendition of the "Navy Hymn" accompanied on the piano by Lil Boerckel....Chaplain Jim Carter, Vice Commanders Artie Rutz and George Johnston and Auxiliary President Madeline Swallow rounded out the team that helped the Commander to make the Memorial Service an item to be long remembered....The Color Guard was out in full force for the first time in many a moon and they did their usual ceremonials in an excellent manner....Thanks go to Bill Kuhlman (of Kuhlman Florist) for the kind help he gave when materials were needed in a hurry (and unobtainable due to the many store closings) for a display connected with the Memorial....Thanks also to our two young Buglers, Bob Mangels, Jr. and Tony Bellacera, Jr. for the fine clear "Taps" they played....Now its time we returned things to normal so this is all for this week.

THE UTILITY OF WORDS
....What else could possibly be added to that which already has been said in literally thousands of newspapers, throughout the country... But yet... A small town reporter must forsake the local sportsbeat and dedicate himself to the task of trying the impossible. Our beloved President, John F. Kennedy had gone the way of no return and never before an entire nation mourned and paid tribute, with every human emotion capable of being within the realm of man. Some cried openly they erroneously felt, they were alone in their great moment of grief. Others peeped ran to the nearest hiding place; betrayed by their own emotions. The feeling of the day ran the gamut of tears, crawling flesh, goosebumps, chills, lump in the throat, pressing chest pains that narrowed the windpipe... All were in evidence as the long hours of shock and disbelief, waned on. It was truly a day that America came back to life... If only for a 12 hour period. At first, it couldn't possibly be more than a sick, sick gruesome joke, akin perhaps in a minor sort of way to "Orson Well's, Martian invasion of New Jersey a few decades ago. But when the shock waves of fantasy had passed and the world of reality took over, the feeling of crawling flesh made it so reminiscent of President Roosevelt's passing, 20 years ago. This, the day of President Kennedy's assassination was most certainly a day that saw the United States grind to a sickening, sudden halt... and things were no different here in Hicksville, Plainview, Syosset, Farmingdale or elsewhere in the nation. Everything stopped and the pursuit of the Almighty dollar became secondary in importance. It was a day none of us will ever forget in our lifetime. Should a store closer Should a tear be shed-should a flag go to halfmast? It was also a day, where those in authoritative positions ran around in circles, making these decisions. They knew their own feelings but were uncertain of the feelings of others. As a result, most were afraid to make immediate binding decisions that would go past a 24 hour period. Everything seemed to be decided in a halter-skelter fashion and it made one wonder if an atomic blast would make this one seem orderly by comparison. Most all food chains and other necessary vendors remained open. They dealt in necessary services and were compelled to do so, at least until such time that the streets become deserted. The same thing happened in department stores and other areas, not immediately necessary to everyday living. The news of the President's death, spread like a cancerous disease and the end result defied description. Men and women who hadn't walked up 2 or more flights of stairs in the past 10 years, suddenly slammed the modern convenience of an escalator. They fled the buildings in droves, bent only to return home to the television set and hope to eventually find this was all a terrible hoax of some sort. Shoppers were sought out by cashiers and clerks, for the change they had coming to them. It was a nightmare of human emotion and the oddments were legion. An elderly man, in a fit of sudden despair broke his hand punching a concrete block wall. Others did things equally astounding. The old talked to the young. The rich to the poor... the upper to the lower and the middle and so on through the long day. People who accepted television as a modern convenience, used solely to provide a temporary stopgap in life... suddenly found themselves literally glued to the sets for endless hours of soul searching and watching. Repression was the order of the day but none seemed to mind the endless return of events, preceding the assassination. Men, women and children who had so often ignored the ritual of flag raising procedures, suddenly became experts in their own minds at least. True or false, perhaps... but the word went out that the American flag, once raised could not be lowered to half staff. The great majority rendered their own decision on this assumption... "Half mast, at all costs", they cried out... and so it was done in spite of any directives that might have come out to the contrary. This was a day that Americans of every creed, race and color, returned to the fold of humanity. It felt good to be a part of it... and long after the body had been lowered at Arlington National Cemetery; the lump remained. The one national disgrace of course were the number of sporting events held last Sunday. We who grieved, will find it impossible to condone infamous decisions such as this.

"Thank God... the few who were glad or just didn't give a damn, represented the tiniest minority of 1 in every million. This indeed was a never to be forgotten weekend and as such leaves us all with a soul searching question, left unanswered... JUST WHO WAS THIS MAN WHO MANAGED THROUGH DEATH TO BRING AN ENTIRE NATION TO A STANDSTILL... Was he black, white or green... Protestant, Catholic or Jew... Republican, Liberal or Democrat. He was none of these, but he was all of them combined. He was President of these United States and as such the tag of being the highest politician in the nation. But John F. Kennedy was not a politician in every sense of the word. He kept his campaign promises (for history be the judge of whether they were good, bad or indifferent) and walked a path of non-deviation. He gave courage to a nation when the course was doubtful. He followed a path that few would ever have the courage to take. He was loved deeply by those in agreement (a fantastic number came to light) and admired and respected by those that disagreed.

A Dedication

Through the wilderness of life, with head held high, He led his flock.
Through valleys deep with death and danger he walked, unflinching,
a solid rock,
In cheers of love, sighs of hope and kindly prayers he waded deep.
And now, amidst the tears of tragedy, he lies in endless sleep.
No tribute, no words, no prayers can ever bring him back.
He came, he gave, he loved and he was gone with the rifle's crack.
No other monument would suit him well enough but that we, his own, shall united stand.
That we, his own, united on the hill of life shall go forward, should carry his brand.
That we his own, shall bring to every corner known to man,
The torch of freedom, the ring of liberty, which he gave in his own short span.
Grieve we must and this grief is deep, but life and love remain the same.
We must take the light he gave and hold it high and carry on for his great name.
We must hold our legacy for all the world to see,
The things he gave, the hope he held, that all people would be free.
The above poem was written by a resident of West Birchwood reflecting his feelings on the passing of our late President John F. Kennedy.

3-Day Camping Trip for Scouts

Over the long week-end of Nov. 24 to 26, the Scouts of Troop 491, sponsored by the St. Ignace Loyola Church in Hicksville, enjoyed a three day stay at the Onondaga Scout Reservation in the Catskill Mountains.

The rainy weather failed to dampen their spirits and a roasting camp fire stimulated them more during a break in the rain. There was plenty of adventure for all with serious and good progress in Scout Advancement.

Most of the Senior Scouts completed the requirements for Cooking Merit Badge and met some of the requirements for other Outdoor Merit Badges. After attending Mass at Livingston Manor on Sunday morning, Scouting activities in camp were resumed with the older boys preparing the meals which from all reports were very good. The Tenderfoot and Second Class Scouts worked strenuously on their own advancement, pushing through a five mile hike over the hills and valleys of the Reservation. Since the terrain in that area is mostly uphill, some of the boys claimed they covered ten miles; one or two held out for fifteen.

All agreed upon the return home on Monday that they had a wonderful time and are looking forward to the next overnight hike.

The boys were under the leadership of Sam McCafferty, Camping and Activities man for Troop 491, Asst. Scoutmaster Vito Del Rosso and Committeemen Anthony Krynski and Jim Kelly.

"A fool and his money are always invited places."

I saw a soldier, rigid, tears running down his face,
I saw a horse without rider, pulling at the bridle,
I saw and heard a nation emit a grievous sigh,
I saw a flag - draped coffin disappear from sight of sky,
O Dear God, with all Thy knowledge,
Perhaps Thou can tell me
Why?

Carey Seeks Nike Site

At the Jericho Board of Education on Nov. 21, Dr. Thomas Carey, Superintendent of Schools, announced that the U. S. Government Nike property in Brookville is to be vacated and will be available to institutions, universities, school districts etc. The award is based upon who ever proposes a plan for the greatest public benefit. The Board adopted the resolution that the school district actively try to acquire the surplus Nike site.

If the district can prove 100% public benefit then the property will be given to the district at no charge.
Dr. Carey's report to the Board contained detailed information on the sites involved. The very good condition of the buildings on the property and the planned utilization for the property, Dr. Carey said that there were two parcels of land involved and he was applying for one entire parcel consisting of seven acres and sixteen acres of the other forty acre site. On the seven acre parcel he planned to utilize the present buildings, with slight renovations, as a primary school for kindergarten-third grade to relieve over crowding at the Seaman School. He proposes to use the other buildings for central education administration purposes.

On the 16 acre parcel Dr. Carey proposes to house 100 to 200 high school students pending completion of the high school addition. These buildings are in excellent condition and have central heating. The buildings ultimately can be used as a much needed public library for Jericho. Dr. Carey further explained that if the U. S. Government grants this property to the school district based upon Dr. Carey's plans, then the government can reclaim the sites or site if they are not utilized according to submitted plans. Therefore if the Jericho voters turn down the library, then this property can be reclaimed by the government.

Dr. Carey also envisioned parts of the property to be used as a driver education training area and a school bus maintenance shop.

There is a four acre section on the property containing woods, gullies, ponds and fields in their natural state. Dr. Carey proposes to use this parcel as a natural and biological experimental field study and laboratory area. A conservation preserve is to be maintained as a field laboratory for high school science use. Dr. Carey further proposes to buy four acres just in case we need another school. He stated that the district is growing and we don't know what will happen north of Jericho Turnpike and that we

Civic Board Makes Appeal

BY HENRY DOCKSWELL

Many commercial enterprises have sprung up in our community and your Civic Board is being confronted with the problem of answering the complaints being lodged. The Board appealed to the Town Attorney of TOWN and Deputy Town Attorney David Levine sent the following guide taken verbatim from our Town Ordinances section dealing with permitted uses:

"Office of a physician, lawyer, architect, musician, teacher, or professional person residing on the premises and when such use shall be within the main dwelling and occupying not more than one-third of the first floor area."

The Meadowbrook Club property which was recently refused a down zoning by TOBAY and has since appealed for annexation to the Incorporated Village of Brookville poses a serious threat to the future well being of the Jericho School District. If it is annexed it will apparently be down zoned by Brookville and broken up into small lots. This could lead to the breakup of the large estates in Brookville and as such become catastrophic in its implications to the financial picture of the Jericho School District.

The Jericho School Board has appealed to the Civic Association to lend all its aid and resources to trying to avert this. This appeal was made through Irv Weiss, chairman of the Jericho Education Committee. He continued his report with the very disconcerting news that, in the opinion of some higher educators presented at a B'nai B'rith College night, both Jericho and Syosset school systems were sadly lacking in their liaison with both parents and pupils and in their guidance programs. This will be thoroughly investigated by the Civic Board.

Another portion of Mr. Weiss' report concerned an organizational meeting of the Jericho School Board. Dr. Carey, Jericho Superintendent of Schools, was present and impressed the audience with his projected program of improvement in the areas of teachers, curriculum, guidance, discipline, etc.

The report concluded with an item called Vandalism at the Jackson School. It was difficult to believe that acts such as filing through heavy chains, money stolen from teachers' desks, alarm systems tinkered with and windows broken could be the work of 8, 9, and 10 year olds. But this was found to be

Incredible

Our community, in common with the rest of the world, was shocked by the incredible assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Friday, Nov. 22nd.

Residents spent the weekend glued to their television sets watching the funeral proceedings. All churches and synagogues in Jericho held special memorial services for the late president.

Schools were closed on Monday, the day of the funeral, and the West Birchwood area was quiet with most residents indoors mourning the late president.

Ten Pin Talk

by Henry Dockswell

This was a very powerful week. Six men bowled their way into our 200 club. Three of them; Norman Ney 200, Mort Levine 208, and Bill Kellerman 216, were just enhancing their membership, but the other three: Al Kaplan 213, Mickey Luxenberg 201 and, get this one, Sid Simon 257, were newcomers.

Sid Simon's 257 was the individual highlight of the evening. Capt. Sid was hot but the rest of his Demons couldn't catch fire and they lost to Murray Gittelman's Cockamamies 5-2.

The greatest team effort of the night was by Mort Levine's Spotters. Five of their men banded together and wreaked havoc upon Milt Goldberg and his Terrors. Mort, as previously noted, led the way with his 208 and increased his average three points. Sam Saltz raised his average seven points, Ely Stempler four points and Marv Levine and Sid Sachs one point each. This raised their team average by 16 points in one session, a previously unheard of accomplishment in the league at this stage of the season or later.

Needless to say they swamped the Terrors 7-0, picked up two points on the league leading Spooks who beat Murray Iscoe's Bulls 5-2, and amassed a new Hi-Team Series Scratch of 2463.

One other team achieved a sweep of their opposition. Al Minoff and his erratic Bululas clobbered Sol Rabinowitz's nameless pit's. Al's Boys almost forgot what 7 points looked like. It's been 7 weeks since they were last able to achieve a shut-out and this one was really a timely one. They jumped three spots up to 4th place and although they are a full 20 points behind the Spooks, a continued hot streak could put them in contention.

This week's line-up pits the 1st place Spooks against Norman Ney's 3rd place Jets. Norman's boys have taken 5 points from their opponents each of the last four weeks but if they ever needed a decisive victory they need it now.

Library Corner

When World War II ended and the GI's returned to marry and take possession of their 60's 100 plots in the suburbs, the publishing houses found a ready market for books on how to fix things around the house.

Some of these books give general advice on household maintenance, while others are more specific and consider only one subject, such as wiring, plumbing, etc.

In many instances the best information may not be in a commercial book but rather in a government publication. There are many books on sewing and the care of clothes for example, but the government pamphlet "Fitting Coats and Suits" may have the best answers. Most of the pamphlets that the library has are to be found under the appropriate heading in this case "Home Economics".

Another area covered by "how-to" books is business and occupation guides and handbooks. A number of publishing houses bring out a great many books each year in this category. For example, "How to establish and operate a retail store" by Robinson and Haas, has been popular enough to go through ten printings. A new book published by the same company, Prentice-Hall, is "How to avoid beginner's mistakes in selling real estate" by Tim Kirk. In almost every business the government has good information either at a small cost or for free distribution. "Establishing and operating a painting and decorating and contracting business" is an example of a subject covered by a Department of Commerce publication.

Still another field covered by "do-it-yourself" books is hobbies. With the advent of improved technology in hobby equipment a great many articles can be made and interests and talents developed that formerly were not available to amateurs. Forty years ago few people went camping; the cars were not particularly dependable and the equipment was expensive, heavy, and not always satisfactory. At present, however, it is not remarkable for a car to be loaded up with good equipment and for a family to go out exploring caves (The Complete Book of Cave Exploration, by Roy Pinney)..... birdwatching (The Study of Birds Made Simple, by Hilda Simon) or Rockhounding (Gemstones and minerals, how and where to find them, by John Sinkankas).

Now that quarter inch drills are selling at less than ten dollars in many stores, the part-time carpenter and home mechanic might enjoy building some toys (How to build children's toys and furniture, by Norman Cherner). Meanwhile the wife might be interested in the recent revival of needlecrafts (Teach yourself embroidery, by Mary Thomas).

For nearly any hobby there is a book to start the amateur on his way; and the library tries to get the best book in the field.
