New RR Station Is Taking Shape

The new Hicksville Rail Road station complex is rapidly taking shape as a visit to the site this week revealed. The above sketch-plan (not to scale) was made by a HERALD staff member to indicate some of the features.

The twin platforms will actually be longer than the width of this page permits. It runs down to the vicinity of Kaufson and Reed where another set of stairs will drop down into a pedestrian tunnel. Another pair of passenger shelters on the platforms are also under construction down the west end.

The waiting room on the ground level is well underway and workmen were installing the mail-baggage elevators this week. Passengers will have a fairly long walk from Jerusalem Ave. and in the future the widened Newbridge Rd. (now a portion of Jackson Pl.) will become the main point for arrival and departure of passengers.

Openings are provided next to the pair of stairways near the waiting room for the installation of escalators when the financing of that detail has been worked out.

The platforms and sheltering canopy will probably continue right across Jackson Pl. (future Newbridge Rd.) where steel has been set in place just recently.

Much of the area under the viaduct has been paved and black-topped and in most of the elevated section near the platforms is ready for loads of gravel and installation of rails.

Originally it was anticipated the main line would be in operation by December with the final completion next June. The main line will probably be running on the top shortly after the first of the year.

Planning Community Project As John F. Kennedy Memorial

A group of citizens will soon seek to enlist the support of the entire community in development of a lasting memorial to John F. Kennedy, murdered President of the United States. Complete plans are being withheld pending the receipt of approvals from certain authorities which, it is confidently anticipated, will be forthcoming.

It is believed the project will have widespread endorsement and support. The HERALD was asked to provide advance notice of what is scheduled to forestall a general flood of well-intentioned memorial fund solicitations.

The project will involve the opportunity for everyone to contribute, as they see fit, although not a great sum of money is involved in the execution of the plan, it was learned.

The community of Hicksville over a span of one hundred and twenty five years as it developed into a residential community has memorialized at least 11 former Presidents, including William McKinley who was also the victim of an assassin. In 1901 with 13 local streets bearing their names. See feature article on page four in this issue.

PTAs Answer

The Hicksville Council of PTA Units this week replied to published charges made by School Board member William A. Bruno Jr. regarding PTA.

In a letter to Bruno dated Nov. 21, Helen Henderson, corresponding secretary of the Council, wrote the Council executive committee decided by vote to "correct distorted ideas which you have about PTA. . . The statement that 'PTA leadership is nothing but captive, rubber-stamp outfits' is, in our opinion, presumptuous. It is the responsibility of any PTA leader to bring to the unit for discussion any legitimate issue that is presented, regardless of its source. Hence, the voice of the members is heard, resulting in the rule of the majority while respecting the rights of the minority."

memorial to John F. Kennedy feel confident the plan will be ready and made public within a matter of days.

B. MEDARD OFFENLOCH in his third try was elected to a five-year term as a commissioner of Hicksville Fire District on Tuesday as 142 votes were cast. He received 727 ballots and incumbent Stanford Weiss 675. There were 19 blank ballots. The margin of victory was 52 votes.

SANTA CLAUS will be in Hicksville this Saturday, Dec. 7, arriving on this festive 27-foot float where he will greet children individually and give them gifts. The float will be at the parking field at the corner of Jerusalem Ave. and W. Marie St. from 9 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Grand Union Supermarkets, according to Irwin Goldman, spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Lynda:

Although winter does not officially arrive until Dec. 21, we had our first snow flurries over the weekend. A visitor update tells us it snowed for two hours. VANCE BRAUN is selling those fine records by a Dominick Nun at his shop. UNCLE JIM was most impressed with a demonstration of presto logs earlier this week. Next regular meeting of Hicksville School Board is on Friday the 13th. Wow. Birthday greetings to LYNDIA SCOTT who celebrated on Monday, Dec. 2. Almost every store on the west side of Broadway has a mark somewhere about half way back to show what happens when THE WIDENING gets underway. Another Howard Johnson is rapidly taking shape on Old Country Rd. near the Parkway bridge. Another longtime newspaper friend, MARTY FORMAN, died this week. Our editor knew him from the days of the Review Star and he, as the first city editor of Newsday, gave our boss a job on that paper when it began back in a former Hempstead auto sales room.

Pledges for the Catholic High School building fund in St. Ignatius Parish of Hicksville have reached $389,000 with a goal of a half million dollars. St. Paul the Apostle Parish of Jericho continues to lead the entire diocese in percentage of goal achieved. To date the new parish has pledged $172,795 or 138.2 percent of its goal of $125,000. Don't forget Santa makes a personal appearance in Hicksville this Saturday morning. Rumor has the National Bank moving to at least six locations with its main office, but there is nothing definite or official as yet. We have this from well-informed authority. STAN HINDEN, political dooper for Newsday, claims that former town Supervisor JOHN J. BURNS "will seek" the Republican nomination to run for County Executive next year. What local Santa Claus drives to work in a Cadillac? BOOS BRCS provided the festive holiday decoration in Meadow Brook Bank. DIANE GHISONE representing Holy Family parish won first place in the grade 7-8 level during the Diocesan Art Exhibit held Nov. 30 at Our Lady of Mercy Elementary School in Hicksville. ELLEN NAGLE, also Holy Family, was a runner up in the three-dimensional category, grades 1-2. MICHAEL ADAMS of St. Pius X, Plainville, was first in grade 5-6 level. Hicksville Chamber Board of Directors meets this Friday morning, Dec. 6. H. LEVENSON will present a live magic show at Dutch Lane School, Hicksville, under PTA auspices this Saturday, Dec. 7 at 1 P.M. There will be cartoons. BEVERLEY AHLSEN of 5 Spruce St. and BARBARA MURPHY of 35 Bunker Lane, both Hicksville, go on tour Dec. 4, 5 and 6 with the Fredonia College Symphony Orchestra. DENISE Y. HASTINGS of Plainville is a member of the novice debating team of the State University College at Oneonta which recently scored four wins and eight losses in competition with experienced opponents. PAULINE ALBERS and ALICE COOPERMAN, both Hicksville, attained mid-semester honor standing at Claremont High, enrolled in the executive secretarial course which they expect to complete next May. The Choir of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church of Hicksville will be heard on radio station WHLI on Christmas Day between 2 and 3 P.M.

Our comments of last week regarding the difference in leaf collecting between town and county was intended to emphasize the systems used by the two levels of government, not criticize the people who do the work. We have the highest regard for FRANK STICCO and his good works, although a reader thought we meant otherwise. MRS MAURINE ABRASON and MRS SYLVIA KASSEN are co-chairmen of a proposed Christmas party for the inmates at the Nassau County Jail under the auspices of the March of Dimes. They are seeking donations of gifts such as cigarettes, shaving cream, etc. POSTMASTER IRENE MURPHY asks all to keep sidewalks clear of snow. Mail may not be delivered if access to your home is dangerous. And, please keep the dog tied up. Hicksville Kiwanis gives its annual Christmas Party for the old folks at Jones Institute on Dec. 18, according to FRANK CHILIMSKY. According to JOHN MCFADDEN, Frank had a birthday this week and we belatedly wish him so many, many happy returns. The Kiwanians hold their own Christmas party and meeting at the Old Country Manor on Dec. 24 at 12 noon. The Temple Or-Elohim of Jericho is having a cradle roll for preschool children on Monday, Dec. 9, 1 to 2:30 p.m. For information call RUTH LYNX, WA 1-0428.

MICHAEL CONNORS

HICKSVILLE — Michael Connors of 57 Ronald Ave., here, died Nov. 28 at his home after a brief illness. He was 67 years old. Mr. Connors, a World War I veteran, was an employee of the New York City Sanitation Dept. for 42 years. He was also a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and the Flushing Barracks, Veterans of World War I.

He is survived by his wife, Hannah; four sons, Michael, Richard, William and Joseph; two daughters, Mrs. Mary McCorey, and Mrs. Florence J. Kingsbury, and 16 grandchildren.

A solemn requiem mass was offered for him in St. Michael's R.C. Church, Flushing, and burial in St. Mary's Cemetery, Flushing.

MANUEL FERNANDEZ

HICKSVILLE — Manuel Fernandez of 18 Arpad St., here, died Nov. 29. He is survived by his children, Kathleen Peterman, Jean Wood, Dorothy Fernandez, Thomas, Harold, and Frederick Fernandez. Also survived by nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

He reposed at the Vernon Wagner Funeral Home until Tuesday, Dec. 3, when a requiem mass was offered for him at Our Lady of Mercy R.C. Church, Hicksville at 9:30 a.m. Interment followed at Calvary Cemetery.

Willie Ave. PTA, Hicksville, will sponsor a showing of a full length feature film "Gulliver's Travels" on Saturday, Dec. 7 at 11 A.M. Admission is 25 cents.

The President's Assassination

Some Highlights of Somber Weekend

Every phase of community life was dislocated and interrupted by the tragic news of President John F. Kennedy's assassination. Rapidly moving events made it impossible to present a more comprehensive report in the HERALD last week.

As word of the dastardly attack and later of the fatal and tragic results seeped thru the community (radio and television coverage, while it was tremendous, sometimes lagged behind the American interest as will be seen shortly), telephone volume must have zoomed as witnessed by repeated delays locally in obtaining the dial tone as the afternoon wore on.

Individual stores on Broadway resurrected ancient 48-star flags, lowered them to half mast and put them in the new parking meter holders. On Saturday the Chamber placed all its flags in the holders, each bearing black bunting as a sign of mourning.

A special issue of the Comet, Hicksville Senior High School publication, dated Nov. 26, made this comment on the situation in the high school where, for some unexplained reason, the announcement of the President's death never came over the PA system:

"The earliest stories were incomplete, jumbled and confused. The six bomb scares during the week indicated that there were some demented persons around and it was easy to believe that this person might start a rumor to add to his 'jokes'. Mr. Ruach interrupted classes on the public address system. When his announcement concerned only the Hootenanny scheduled for Friday night (which was cancelled), the tension was suddenly released and students laughed aloud. But the news continued to spread and fear mounted. Again, on the loudspeaker system. Everyone waited, hearts pounding within their chests for some official announcement about the President. But instead, it was stated that the football game and also the dance Saturday would both be cancelled. Even though President Kennedy was never mentioned, all knew why the events would not be held."

Continuing the local scene on Friday:

Adjourn Meeting

The Board of Education had a regular meeting scheduled for Friday night. The Board assembled, President George A. Jackson said a prayer expressing sympathy to the Kennedy family and called for a moment of silence. Only two official actions took place: first to close all district schools on the "day of the President's funeral", lower all flags on schools to half mast for a period of 30 days, and second, to adjourn the meeting until the following evening when the Board was scheduled to meet to tally the results of a referendum. The meeting adjourned in less than five minutes after it began.

School Superintendent Donald F. Abt called together all District School Principals at the Administration building Saturday morning for the purpose of putting into operation a school closing plan. From 10 o'clock till noon radio reports were carefully monitored for word regarding the "day of the funeral". Radio stations and wire services were checked for some official word. Reports were conflicting all morning. It was indicated a "state funeral" would take place in Washington on Monday, Nov. 25, followed by burial in Boston. But it could not be determined if burial would be the same or following day.

Finally and it seemed like ages it was officially announced that the funeral would be held in Washington on Monday, followed by burial at Arlington Cemetery. Abt, his staff and his principals went to work under a plan developed for emergency storm closings.

Radio stations were called. Also notified were ETA leaders, class mothers, faculty members. Clergymen were asked to make the announcement in all churches on Sunday.

Meanwhile, the School District was conducting a referendum on Saturday which began at 7 o'clock in the morning. It could not be cancelled, having been legally advertised over a period of five weeks.

Notice of no classes the following Monday was posted at each of the seven school polling places. It was learned the parochial schools would be closed also.

The Voting

Voting on Saturday was relatively light with approximately 54% of those registered appearing at the polls. What effect the tragic news of the day before had upon the voting is difficult to determine. Many voters called to ask if the referendum would still take place. Local radio stations cooperated in giving reminders that the vote was taking place. The use of sound trucks to give further reminders was considered and then discarded as possibly being in poor taste. Most stores were closed on Saturday and again the following Monday.

Less than 100 persons gathered in the student cafeteria of the high school on Saturday evening to hear the returns. President Jackson made the following statement when all results were tallied:

"On behalf of the Board and the Administration I want to express our appreciation to the taxpayers of our school district for their coming out to vote and their support of the building referendum in the face of a national calamity."

"Both the Board and the Administration spent a lot of time in preparing the propositions, in disseminating the details of the propositions to the voters and it is very gratifying to know that the program has been approved."

"We want to take this opportunity to thank the PTAs, teachers, civic groups for their help and assistance. Our job was made easier by this support."

"It is now our responsibility to get the approved program underway and completed as soon as possible."

A special memorial service was held at Congregation Shaare Zedek on Nov. 25th. An overflow attendance heard Rabbi E. Skatist eulogize the late President as a man whose work for peace commends him to the reverence of all peoples for all time.

The Arrowhead District of the Boy Scouts of America, in a memorial tribute to the late President, John F. Kennedy, participated in flag ceremonies at all the schools of Hicksville and Plainview.

In Plainview, the Scouts raised the flags of the schools to half-staff at 8:00 A.M., and in Hicksville, lowered the flags, before sunset.

The production of a special issue of the Comet, Hicksville High School publication, as a Tribute to President Kennedy, must have represented considerable effort by the staff: Howard Kralsner, editor-in-chief; John Scarola, assistant editor; Jesse Treu, managing editor and Larry Gottlieb, associate editor.

Evidence that there is a sharp division of views in the student body is reflected in the publication with one page of a tribute "from a liberal" and on another tribute "from a conservative". The authors are given as Robert Karen and Stephen O'Brien, respectively. Both tributes mourn the nation's great loss. The fact that separate statements, so labelled, are considered significant enough to warrant the use of 25 per cent of the space in this special edition could leave room for speculation.

Text of a eulogy delivered by Americanism Officer, Richard E. Evers, Charles Wagner Post 421, Hicksville, at the crowded American Legion memorial services on Nov 25 for the late President:

"It is always a sad occasion when an American Legion Post meets to mark the passing of a member, but no such memorial service can ever be as poignant as the one we hold tonight. For we come together not only to mourn the passing of a fellow Legionnaire and a comrade-in-arms of World War II, but a departed comrade who was our nation's elected President, shot to death by a fanatical assassin."

"Most of us have passed through a weekend whose melancholy events - were as compelling as they were awful, whose incidents jammed up and overflooded our minds until we were glad to turn off our TV sets and could ponder for ourselves the meaning and implications of our young leader's unbelievable death."

"One reflection that keeps retreating itself is that part of our residual youthfulness, simplicity and casualness may well be gone forever, and we are all, somehow, older and more at grips with reality and eternity."

"He was a daily visitor in our homes - this president - closer, indeed, than some who sit in this room with us. Modern communication and his newsworthy daily routine and interesting family gave us an intimacy with him that it is hard to believe is no more. Regardless of any reservations we may have had concerning his political policies, social views and personality, there are few of us who are not going to miss him - that jaunty self - assurance; the radiant, beautiful smile; his manly carriage and stance. Something of an old, congenial acquaintance is gone, some one whose arresting and charming accents will be missed as no more; whose quick wit-spontaneous and without malice - is now but a memory."

"But these memories are of his physical being - as attractive and copied as they may have been... We must turn now to the ideals for which the late president really stood, if we are to draw any lasting benefit from his martyrdom (and he was a potential martyr as is every public servant who exposes himself for us in the mixed-up society in which we live.)"

"Yes, history will actually judge John F. Kennedy's significance as a leader by the legislation he fought for, by the peace and justice he achieved, but he maintained - not by the personality many of us found so attractive. We must recall that an extremely popular mayor of New York City was judged much more harshly and truly by history than by his public."

"Indeed, in justice to John F. Kennedy, we must cut away the publicity, now, and try to understand and evaluate the ideals to which he was committed. He would want his friends to do this. For, if we do not study our young president's speeches, his legislative program and do not try to implement it as he would or as we can, the great outpouring of shock and grief we have witnessed will fade into nothingness."

"Our generation must try to use John F. Kennedy's cut-short life and hopes as inspirations for a better American Society. His death should not be a mere human sacrifice to irrationality but a force for our country's improvement. To let his large, worthwhile ideals go unimplemented will be to repeat the terrible mistake of our nation, after Lincoln's assassination. The martyrdom of President Lincoln, also, shocked most of his nation, coming at the apex of his career, but the noble attitudes of Lincoln, the inspiration inherent in his character and ideas, were stifled by the materialism (Continued on Page 4)

JOHN F. KENNEDY was a US Senator when he was pictured with John F. English, chairman of the Nassau County Democratic Committee, prior to a dinner held at the Garden City Hotel. The assassination of President Kennedy has led to some speculation regarding English's future in state-wide politics. He had been devoting considerable time to the development of a Kennedy organization in the state for a re-election bid.

13 Streets Bear Names of Former Presidents

At a time when there is active interest in a proposal to name a public intersection in Hicksville in the memory of President John F. Kennedy, it is interesting to note that there are 13 local streets which bear the names of 11 former Presidents, three of whom died in office.

There was, for a time, a street named - for the 30th president, Calvin Coolidge. It was renamed to become the continuation of Hetz Place, Jackson Place which could have been named for 7th President Andrew Jackson, may soon lose its identity when it becomes a part of re-aligned Newbridge Rd under the new RR station.

The first president is twice remembered with Washington Ave., Washington Pkwy and Washington St.

Roosevelt Ave had its name long before Franklin D took office, so it was probably named for Teddy, 26th president, who was the youngest president when he took office at the age of 42 to succeed William McKinley. There is a McKinley Ave and its namesake who abhorred violence, was shot by an anarchist terrorist and died on Sept. 14, 1901. Warren G. Harding, 29th president, died in office on Aug. 2, 1923. Harding Ave parallels McKinley Ave., off Plainview Rd.

There is a Harrison Ave. William H. Harrison, 9th president, served only 31 days in office. He caught pneumonia during inauguration ceremonies and died Apr. 4, 1841.

Also, there is a Jefferson Ave. (Thomas Jefferson, 3rd president) Madison Ave. (James Madison, 4th president) Monroe Ave. (James Monroe, 5th president) Pierce St. (Franklin Pierce, 14th president) Grant Ct. (US Grant, 18th president).

Actually, few streets have been named for people, although there are exceptions such as Hetz, Herzog, Kuhl, Myers and Lee.

Trees, states and cities of New York have been utilized as well as numbers from one to a dozen and colleges and universities, not including Yale and Harvard. The community was confronted with a very confusing situation about a decade ago which was resolved due to the persistence of Elery Bean, then chairman of a special committee of the Hicksville Civic and Community

Assoc., and the cooperation of the Oyster Bay Town Board and former Councilman Frank Chlunsky in particular.

When the Civic Assoc. committee under the leadership of Bean, now president of the Public Library Board of Trustees, undertook steps to eliminate duplication of street names there were no less than seven Maple streets and avenues and two, three and four of a kind of other trees and numbers.

The street with the longest apparent claim to a particular name was allowed to retain its name. The residents of duplicated named streets were solicited by the committee and asked to agree on substitutes. In this way the streets of the Spiegel development in the northwest section, near Mid Island Plaza, were changed from numbers to state names. In the same way, street names in the vicinity of Plain Lawn Cemetery were changed to names of cities of the State of New York. Petitions supported by 50 percent or more of the residents of a given street in agreement on a change were submitted to Oyster Bay Town Board, which has the authority, and changes were made. The post office department, County Planning Commission and other authorities were duly notified.

In addition, developers of new sections had their proposed names for new streets checked against the existing list when plans were submitted to the County Planning Commission and town authorities. The developer of Hillside Terrace chose colleges and universities. Hunter, Dartmouth, etc.

The homes built in Hicksville by Levitt and Sons were among the last of his massive project which began down on Hempstead Tpke. and with this final area, a pattern of names was developed there is the A section - Alpine, Arcadia, etc. and the B section - Blueberry, Bank, etc. If this plan had been instituted with the start of the Levitt development those same streets would probably have become the X, Y and Z section.

With all the checking, at least one duplication managed to slip by in recent years. Two streets in different sections are named Amherst. The Road is off Newbridge Rd in the Glenbrook Home section and the Lane is in Hillsice Terrace up in the middle east, north section.

And of course there are odd situations which puzzle newer residents. Why does E. Marie St (which on some old maps is listed as Mary St) suddenly become Plainview Rd at the corner of Park Ave? Locating a place of business on Broadway can be difficult. From John St south to Old Country Rd is known as just Broadway with its own set of numbers. Below Old Country Rd it is called South Broadway but the numbers continue right on. Going north from John St the door numbers climb as "North Broadway" and while this used to be called Hicksville-Jericho Road back in the days of St. John's Rectory, it is called North Broadway all the way up to Jericho Tpke today.

If you really want to confuse someone, suggest they park their car in front of number so-and-so Nassau Mall, Nassau and Suffolk Malls are the relatively little known names of the pedestrian-only "streets" in Mid Island Plaza.

William Levitt's street names added a nice little touch when they named a one-house street, crossing Oyster Bay-Hempstead town line, as Herald Lane (off Spindle Rd). He also named a Levittown street Eagle Lane but somehow missed the Tribune. The Levittown Tribune, which Levitt owned for a number of years, is still in business. The Levittown Eagle has ceased publication.

Back in Hicksville, the changes in the names of streets and the spelling of street names is sometimes the whims of the street sign painter. Old maps show Thorman Ave as Thornwood, Nicholas St (particularly the east section) was known as School St.

And speaking of schools brings to mind another well-intentioned plan prior school boards had to preserve "old" names. Lee Ave School has its entrance on Seventh St., Woodland Ave School is on Ketchikan Rd (although a recent map lists it as Woodland Ave) and Dutch Lane School was built on Hempstead Ave., since renamed by the County as Stewart Ave. The entrance to Old Country Rd School is by way of Rhodes Lane off Clarissa Drive.

Somber Weekend

and hatred of the Reconstruction Years... Our nation lost the opportunity of turning Lincoln's martyrdom to any large, immediate purpose.

Now our generation has its martyred president - the vivid memory of whose personality and ideas holds great possible inspiration for the days and years ahead of us. If his death is to serve mankind as did his living, we must give President Kennedy's outstanding qualities an opportunity to animate each of our lives.

"His physical bravery in wrestling with the pain and disability of war service, his nonchalance. In constant aircraft flights and his last bravery should help make each of us physically stronger; his jaunty, self-assurance may help overcome our timidity and doubt; the memory of his grand smile and wit may yet teach the lesson of good humor and humility; his vigorous daily schedule may serve to spur us to greater uses of our talents... He was a busy, but good example as a father. How often we had the example of his patience and good humor during his children's little intrusions at public functions. He was a visibly affectionate and proud husband; his last humorous remarks were about his wife.

"Lastly, and of most importance to us, comrades-in-arms who remain, President Kennedy was a highly religious man. He was glad to make visible demonstrations of fidelity to the faith of his fathers, but it was his deeper spirituality that may be more enduring. In his concern for an end to racial discrimination, for medical care for the aged, for help to lagging education; in his concern for governmental and management efforts to ease our mounting unemployment, he showed us all how to let our religious beliefs about brotherhood influence our lives.

"Comrade Legionnaires and friends, most of these qualities of our late President could help make our nation and world more wholesome and just places. But it is up to us now to carry on for that Comrade, who is tonight with the Commander of Heavenly Hosts."

March of Dimes Plans Speeded

Plans for the January March of Dimes were speeded up today as Southeastern Nassau Campaign Director, Benjamin M. Barnes, announced the appointment to Rudolf A. Bouse as Hicksville Community Chairman.

ALUMNI NIPPED 48-46...

Take a pair of playmakers like Gus Affler (Faculty) and Dick Alcock (Alumni). Add the likes of Jack Clarke, Chris and Frank Coletta, Jim McKinstry, Steve Dishnick, Bill Meyer, Jack Tucker and Bill Solby. Mix well with the fine officiating of Varsity basketball coach Ed Petro and you come up with a better than average court caper. "Well worth the going tab" said the court buffs who watched the Faculty cop the duke for the 2nd year in a row. And as figured in this 12th of an annual series, held last week at the Sr. High gym, Affler took high scoring honors with 24 points. Other scorers in double figures were Alcock, Coletta and Tucker. But the big scorer as expected was the Alumni Sports Dinner Fund (deducted for May). Alumni proxy Joe Nasso and dinner chairman, Howie Finnegan had a merry old time stomping the lid on the strong-bow after this one. Dick Hogan coached the front-runners and Bill Schrimpe the Alumni.

William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3711
by Eddie Kiebing

Members of the William M. Gouse Jr. VFW Post stood together on a proclaimed day of mourning to join the rest of the world in prayers for our departed president, John F. Kennedy.

The tragic weekend that started Friday, Nov. 22nd, will live in our hearts for a long time to come. It will be felt in our thoughts and deeds as evidenced on Thanksgiving Day last week.

The transition in government that gave us Lyndon B. Johnson our new president, shows us the ease in which democracy can work. Let us keep that democracy strong and working at all times so a courageous man did not die in vain.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, members of the Post and Auxiliary will meet at the club house then ride out to the Veterans Hospital at Northport. At the monthly dances held for the patients a different organization is represented each month. The dances are looked forward to by the patients with deep anticipation. This month the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary help our veterans forget their troubles for a night. Our Ladies Auxiliary is no stranger to these boys. Every fourth Thursday of the month the girls visit the hospital for the purpose of bowling with the patients. Canteen books are presented to the boys setting up the pins and only recently the ladies presented the hospital with six sets of bowling pins. Each year the Post brings along with them items donated from their members and friends. These donations can be in the form of hard cover and paper bound books, flower and vegetable seeds. The Post chaplain has a list of recommended donations and will relay them to anyone who wishes to donate to the hospital. Members and their wives who would like to join those already visiting the hospital that night are more than welcome. If you want to participate in anyway call Chaplain Edward Kiebing at Wells 8-3463.

Our next meeting is Dec. 9th. See you then.

other annual donkeybrook is scheduled for this Sat. night at the Jr. High Boys gym. Sr. High Faculty vs the Jr. High, with all proceeds going to the P.T.A. Scholarship Fund. Don't miss this court rivalry. ... It's for a good cause. UP & COMERS... Former Comet baseball coach Army Tomaine, now coaching at the Old Country Rd. School is heading for a distinction, few other High School coaches could rival in a lifetime. 3 of his former players on the 61 championship squad are starting to shake the minor league mud off their spikes and are making their way steadily toward the bigtime. Gary Sannosian former Comet smokeball artist is winging his way through the Western League with an impressive 12-10 record (177 strikeouts in 165 innings). An open door policy is going for him this year as a result of recent trades made by his parent club the Kansas City A's. Recently they traded 2 of their starting hurlers for outfielder Rocky Colavito. The move could give Sannosian his big opportunity. Another former Comet great, "Loping" toward the majors is Bob Cerone, the curve ball artist. Cerone is almost certain to get the "Starkist Yogi" treatment from Yogi Berra, this spring. And last but by no means least comes former comet outfielder Chris Coletta. Don't let this youngster pass by unnoticed. He's a Red Sox farmhand and after a great rookie year earned a jump in status. The Sox to protect their interests put him a short whistle stop away from the majors. & the club that buys him now (for an $8,000 price tag) must put him on their major league roster. This could happen in the days ahead. ... and if not this spring the worst thing that could happen to Coletta is another year of seasoning in the minors.

AND SPEAKING OF COMERS... Jim McKinstry is holding his own as a member of the N.Y. Jets professional football team. Mike Clair former Comet court wizard is hunting for a Varsity berth this year with St. John's University and the dark horses on the Comet horizon are Larry Wesolko (football) and Jim Erwin (baseball). Both of these youngsters have their Sr. year ahead of them and from that sign (or so says our crystal ball) the prospects are good in both cases.

DIS'N DATA... Welcome to the old-timers club for Grandma Dot Seide who joined the fold last Nov. 26th. The proud parents letting Blue Cross fade the action welcome 7 lb. 1 1/2 oz., Craig Alan Hatcher at the Flushing Memorial Hospital. Time 10:43 a.m. ... A new record for the Diaper Derby event. The proud parents are Thelma and Jack Hatcher. ... Lot's of good luck folks. Good luck also to Andy Koehler and Elizabeth Gay who returned to the Bldgs. & Grounds field a few days back.

MARGARET M. SMITH

I'm changing the color of my nail polish to fire engine red to correspond with the mood I'm in. . . . If I wasn't asked to help with the scenery and the costumes for the S.R.O. (Standing Room Only) scholarship show, I never would have known that Richard Fuchs of Hazelwood Drive wrote the musical arrangements for the show. After listening to the music I am convinced that the show will be a great success. It seems that my little mouse. . . . I think that he is turning into a wolf at this time. . . . was only interested in the beautiful teachers. Rather than spend your Friday, Saturday or Sunday evening with a best seller why not go to see S.R.O. and enjoy the talents that Jericho has to offer.

Good luck to Perry Goldberg of Bounty Lane. He has been accepted into the New York University Dental School and will start in September of '66.

I only wish that I had enough space to tell you all about the trip Mr. and Mrs. Milton Haft of Fair Lane took. They not only took a trip to Israel but also went to France and Italy, and they returned November 3rd on their son Stevens 12th birthday. When you see Mrs. Haft ask her to tell you about their climb up the Vesuvius. I'm afraid that I can not tell it as well as she does.

"MARIAN GUILD of St. Paul the Apostle Parish of Jericho has prepared a Christmas Party for its next meeting on Dec. 10, (Tuesday) at 8:30 p.m., at the Jericho Fire House. Entertainment, prizes, and refreshments are a few of the surprises planned for your enjoyment. For lots of fun and Christmas cheer, come and bring an interested friend."

The Spooks mad dash for the first half championship was finally slowed down. After six consecutive weeks of cloistering the opposition Morris Garelick's league met and bowed to Norman Ney's 3rd place Jets. Herb Bernstein, whose bowling has been far below his last years average, finally had a good night. No spectacular 200 games but he raised his average four points and led the way for his Jet teammates to subdue the Spooks 5-2. The best any of the other Jets could do was about bowl their average so Herb can really feel good about his contribution to this very timely victory.

Sy Bruckner came up with his third good game of the year, a 209, bettered his average three points to a very fine 167 and led the way for Sam Springer and his Umglicks to a 5-2 win over Murray Gittelman's Cockamamies. Sam and Sy have been the big guns for the Umglicks and if the rest of the team can pitch in they are not too far out of contention.

Eddie Roseman tried to take on Herb Brody's Six Finks single handedly but the job was too big. He bowled his best game in many a moon, a 220, but Capt. Herb and his secret weapon. . . . (Continued on Page 7)

Open Letter From Cancer Care Pres.

I have become somewhat distressed recently during our Door-to-Door drive. Actually, as always in our fund-raising campaigns, we have a majority of friends of CANCER CARE who are always generous in giving. They fully understand the tremendous job we are trying to do in helping the unfortunate cancer victim and his family cope with their tremendous problems that this dreaded illness presents.

However, I was shocked to learn from some of the girls who worked their hearts out, and their feet off, that there are responsible and intelligent persons in our community who, with complete lack of knowledge and the full understanding of the important work of this organization, would verbally attack and undermine CANCER CARE. Their arguments, completely unfounded, are heresy and they are merely acting as puppets in reporting stories and rumors as they heard them. It is completely false and can only do harm to the people who are in dire need of our service. Fortunately of the almost 1,500 homes we covered, these people are a mere handful, but even a few, are very disheartening to the great number of workers who do fully understand the help that comes to those less fortunate. They enjoy the satisfaction in knowing those desperate needs have been fulfilled and that they were instrumental in bringing it about.

Everyone has a right to give to whatever charity they choose, and since there are many, all worthy, we must perhaps just choose those that appeal to our hearts the most, and this is right. However, this should be done as a personal deed, without any discredit or maligning to any other charity. I can (Continued on Next Page)

JJC Teeners Memorialize JFK

Culminating what many called the most tragic and meaningful week of their lives, 30 teenagers of the Jericho Jewish Center held a memorial service for President Kennedy on Sunday evening, Dec. 1st at the Center. The service was led by Rabbi Steinhart and Cantor Goldstein and followed by most moving eulogies by Sharon Koff, Billy Herskowitz and Leon Gropel.

These three youngsters were part of the JJC Youth Group that went to Washington, D. C. on Oct. 22nd—the very day of the assassination. They drove past the Capitol at just about the time the fatal shots were fired but they did not hear the news until they reached Arlington where they were scheduled to stay. Of course, their entire literary was revised. They met and talked with Herb Kaplow, NBC correspondent, giving them and insight to the happenings all around them. Standing in front of the Dept. of Justice building on Sunday they witnessed the cortege from the White House to the Capitol when the President's body was moved to lie in State. They all expressed the feeling that John F. Kennedy was "their President" because he was the only one they have really known in that position since they achieved a degree of political awareness and because he personified youth and the vigor and hope of the young.

The Youth Memorial Service at the Center ended a mourning period that started with a special Memorial Service held at the Temple Friday night Oct. 22nd. Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning Services were also specially devoted to eulogizing this great man and the attendance of the many hundreds of congregants testified to the tremendous outpouring of emotion felt by all.

Life of Adolf Kates

by Gilbert B. Stein

At least once each day, the observant Birchwoodite will note an elderly gentleman of rather proud bearing and distinguished looks, take his constitutional around the large street block, bounded by Birchwood Park Drive, Oakwood St., Bounty Lane and Millpond St. Adolf Kates, formerly Senior Adolfo Kates of Havana, Cuba, is one of our most illustrious residents, who since 1960 has been living with his grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Simon at 139 Birchwood Park Drive, Jericho.

Mr. Kates is a "youngish" 77 year old gentleman, who was born in Belgium but had lived in Havana since 1916, when he was the owner of a pharmaceutical Laboratory and head of a firm of manufacturers' representatives. On Aug. 14th 1960, at 4 AM the bell rang loudly at his magnificent Havana residence. Mr. Kates after having just been awakened, took to his wheelchair which he had to favor then, following a recent heart attack, to receive none other but the President of the Cuban Supreme Court, a good and longtime personal friend. He had come to warn Senior Kates with the news that Fidel Castro had just presented to the Judges of the Cuban Supreme Court a new decree which they were forced to legalize at the risk of grave personal consequences, establishing the Cuban Peoples' Militia. While Senior Kates and his son were beyond the age limit of forced service, his 17 year old grandson, however, would be drafted almost immediately.

Thus, on that August morning, a quick farewell was said by Mr. Kates to old friends assembled at the Havana Airport, after passports, exit visas and other documents had been speedily arranged for by men in proper places. He was given clearance because of his heart condition, to leave Havana by air for the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., accompanied by a male nurse, in this case his grandson.

Mr. Kates, a much honored Cuban patriot, a man of great prominence and wealth, left literally with but the clothes on his back. Soon after, Castro confiscated all of his assets in Cuba, estimated at approximately 4 million dollars. During his active life in Cuba, Mr. Kates was the recipient of many extraordinary honors. They include more than 15 medals, which Mr. Kates will on occasion wear at a local civic or social affair.

Mr. Kates gave a lifetime of service to his country and he served many causes well. His active participation and leadership included affiliations and positions of Honor, in many fields of endeavor. In the humanities, field of sports, charitable organizations, the name of Adolf Kates bore distinction and honor.

Mrs. Kates, who unfortunately lost his wife in Cuba, has a son who now resides in Mexico City, holding the position of General Manager for Cheeseborough Mfg. Co. and Ponds, Inc., and lecturing there at the University. One grandson lives in Israel and he of course now makes his home with his grandchildren, Mimi and Merrill Simon in Birchwood/Jericho.

Mr. Kates is a fascinating conversationalist, whose knowledge is not only confined to Politics, Economy and History, fields to which he devoted a lifetime of service. He is a constant reader of news and current events and his comments reveal an uncommon understanding of all those forces, good and evil, which make our world what it is today.

We trust that as a result of this profile, many of our neighbors will stop and pause to say hello to Mr. Kates when next he marches down Birchwood Park Drive, proudly erect with that all-majestic military cadence, believing his true age. For it is indeed a privilege for our community to be able to count among our own a man of extraordinary distinction whose life reads like a legend, Senior Adolfo Kates.

OPEN LETTER

only urge anyone who has ever had reason to question that we do all we say, would, instead of discussing it with other lay people, call directly to the Chapter head or to National where they will get an honest and direct answer, and erase all doubts. In this way, you are doing a great service to those who look forward to our help. CANCER CARE is a voluntary agency, devoted solely to assisting advanced cancer patients and their families.

It operates under recognized standards of social agency practice.

We help any race, color, or creed who need help with problems arising from the patient's illness. We provide counselling and guidance and financial assistance. Professional social workers help families cope with the emotional and social problems of lingering illness. Where needed, weekly cash grants are made to help MODERATE income families pay for home-making, practical nursing, care in a nursing home, or other special services. There is no set economic level that determines the help that is given. There are many in our community who have received help and those who are currently receiving aid through this worthy charity.

I want to invite any member or non-member to call me for any information concerning CANCER CARE at any time. I would be most happy to discuss anything that required clarification on this subject.

I am appealing to my membership to show this letter to all non-members as well, so we can make everyone aware that we exist and why. It is indeed very important for all in our community to understand our organization. It might one day be very important to a friend, neighbor, or loved one who may now or one day need our service. Therefore, everyone should know we can share the burden.

I have enjoyed the satisfaction of working closely with CANCER CARE on a National level and only have praise and deep respect for a most capable social service operation. They are completely dedicated to the afflicted and their families and are responsible for relieving much heartache and worry. After affording myself a thorough education on CANCER CARE, I feel proud and privileged to be associated with them.

Final score - Fathers 51, Sons 48.

Legionnaire's Log

Charles Wagner Post
No. 421, Hicksville
by ARTIE RUTZ

Our Membership Drive continues on its merry way and our enrollment figures increase each week.... Today, let's welcome aboard as new members, Edward L. Brimlow, Edward M. Fox and Francis Bonanno....

Looks like a lot of our members are going after the individual membership award given by the Department of New York to any Legionnaire that signs up 10 or more new members.... We have gained one already and several members are half way there.... How about you? Don't you have friends and neighbors or fellow workers who should be in The American Legion??? Think hard, act fast and bring them to the next meeting on December 10th and introduce them around.... We need new blood as some of the old blood is getting awful tired.... I experienced a request recently by a prospective member who wished absolutely no publicity of the fact that he was joining our Post. He said that he should have joined "long ago and now he felt kind of ashamed for not having done so." The request was a new one but the story was an old one. "I wanted to join years ago but somehow I just kept putting it off!" This is too, too true of altogether too many veterans in our Hicksville community and they are glad when we personally ask them to join... This is why I urge constantly you talk to everyone you know about joining Hicksville's largest veterans organization.... You would be surprised at the numbers of veterans from surrounding territory who seek us out to join.... They know we are one of the best Posts in Nassau, and we are getting bigger and better every week.... In fact, last week I asked in this column, if anyone had a file cabinet they wished to donate, I must amend the request to include "it must be waterproof and fireproof and have a complete set of keys".... See we're getting choosy already!!!.... Also another item we could use if anyone cares to donate a new set of colors (our new ceilings are too low for the present ones) to the Post.... Cost is only $225.... So long Now.

WHLI to Air Nun's Albums

One of the most talked about albums these days is by Sister Mary Arlene, O.P., a Sister of the Dominican Order of Amityville, especially appropriate for this Christmas Season.... "Christmas In Song" (LP 102) is on sale at St. Ignatius Convent, 20 East Cherry St. and at Gerz, Mid Island Plaza (Main Floor Record Dept.).... Other albums recently recorded by Sister Arlene are "Golden Moments in Song" and "Irish Songs".... On Sunday, Dec. 15th, at 12:35 P.M., WHLI "The Voice of Long Island" will devote a 35 minute program, "Sketches in Harmony", to many of Sister's albums.... We sincerely urge our readers to tune in on Sunday, Dec. 15th, the musical selections by Sister which you will hear on this exceptional program were chosen with you, the listener, in mind.... Proceeds from all these albums go to the Dominican Sisters, Amityville, where one of the major needs presently confronting the Sisters is the completion of the new Queen of the Rosary Novitiate and College.... Be sure to get these records at St. Ignatius or Gerz, they will make a most welcome Christmas Gift and at the same time you will be giving in the true meaning of Christmas.... CUMMINGS' NGOINGS we hear that Bill Roemer finally received his Pipes (it was bad enough with the Chanters) now with Pull Bag Pipes - Hook Man! - Bill is now a full-fledged member of the Inland War Pipe Band of Long Island, with headquarters at the Irish-American Center in Mineola - so if you hear pipes up on Nevada St. in the wee hours - you'll know it's Will!um.... Mid Island Plaza beautifully lighted and decorated for the Christmas Holidays.... Caroleers etc. will be singing under the huge Christmas Tree.... Santa at "Santa's House" daily from 12 Noon to 9 P.M.... Congratulations "Comish" to Medard (Barney) Ofenloch, newly elected Hicksville Fire Commissioner.... We hear Medard is 1964 Labor Day Chairman for the Tourney & Parade....

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS - Richard and David Krogman, left and right, sons of Mr. and Mrs. August Krogmann of 6 Centre St., Hicksville, were home to spend the Thanksgiving Holiday with their family. Both are students of Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio. Richard, a Junior, is a pre-theology student, preparing for the Lutheran ministry. He is also a member of the well-known Wittenberg Choir, which is featured on the Lutheran Series of the Protestant Hour. Richard intends to accompany the Choir on a tour of Europe next summer. David, a Freshman, is a pre-law major. Both are graduates of Hicksville High School.

Travelling with Nancy Crazy German Traffic

Nancy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Johnson of 87 Myers Ave., Hicksville, sailed for Europe with two girl friends in late October aboard the Black Swan for Germany where she bought a car and will tour Europe for several months.

The following is one of what we hope will become a series of reports of her trip: Editor, Hi-

We've been in Hamburg a week and are leaving for Lubeck, then will stay over night in Hemstedt and onto Berlin for a few days.

Names Scouters To Key Positions

The Chairman of Arrowhead District of the Boy Scouts of America, David Schiffer, has announced the appointment to the District Executive Committee, the following Hicksville Scouters: Michael Delahanty as Chairman of Organization and Extension Committee and Jack La Salle as Chairman of Camping and Activity Committee.

Delahanty has been Scouting for 3 years. He has been Chairman of Cub Pack 432 and on the Organization and Extension Committee for the past 3 years. La Salle's Scouting goes back for more than 33 years. As a boy, Jack, achieved the rank of Eagle Scout. As a leader he was Scout Master of Troop 293, and field man who is a member of both the Audubon Society and the American Ornithological Union. He is a recognized authority on the birds of the Eastern Seaboard.

I got my car and wow, it's great and beautiful. They rolled back a big door and there it was on the showroom floor. It had two pink carnations on it. I had to have a luggage rack and seat belts put in there as they said they don't include orders for accessories on the States.

Doing OK driving in this crazy German traffic and I mean crazy.

Met the ship's crew in Hamburg and they took us to Zillertal (Salztown), a Bavarian place.

We've gotten so lost driving around all the harbours that Court St. seems like a snap. I named the car the White Swan.

Weather's been terrible here. It has rained at sometime every day since we got off the ship. I have a cold again but its not deterring any of our activities.

They have an automat type thing in it. Three oranges or three apples or a bunch of bananas for one mark-25 cents. They have a lot of inexpensive stands of counters here so we're eating okay. Will write eventually again.

Love NAN.
Last week the HERALD was privileged to publish a later report from Nancy regarding the reaction of the people in Berlin to the news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.
