Mostly Editorial Opinion

New Era Begins

The year 1964 will undoubtedly mark the beginning of a new era for the mid-Island area and its inhabitants. There are some in the community who look ahead to the coming era with grave misgivings. Others anticipate the start of a period of new hope, progress and the general good.

Basically changes can be anticipated in two major areas: (a) the economic effect of the completion of the LIRR grade crossing elimination program by mid 1964 and (b) the direction of government, particularly on the township level.

Holiday Delivery: New School Budget

The proposed Administrative budget for Hicksville School District for 1964-65 has been completed and was presented to the Board of Education just prior to the Christmas holidays. During the first three months of the year, the Board will go over the budget in detail and adopt a final proposal for action by the voters at the annual meeting in May.

School administrators began work on the new budget almost the moment the new term began last September. Department heads, supervisors, principals and other administrators compiled their requests for appropriations which were drawn together in the office of the superintendent of schools, evaluated and then digested for submission to the Board.

Details of the proposed budget will be made known as the Board officially acts at regular and special meetings during the months ahead.

GEORGE V. O'HAIRE
First appointee of Democrat Supervisor-elect Michael N. Pettito. The former assistant US attorney will be Pettito's executive assistant.

Palmer Winner In Voice Contest

William Palmer of 110 Lamer Road, Hicksville, was judged the winner in the "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for high school students. Judging was held on Monday evening Dec. 16 at the Senior High School.

In addition to Mr. Palmer, other finalists were: Stephen O'Brien; George Sachs; and Ronald Warner.

Town Government

The development of Hicksville and the Town of Oyster Bay has been interwoven in the past three centuries and the fact that a Democrat will occupy the office of Town Supervisor starting on Jan. 1 is of interest to Hicksville as the largest population center in the 108 square mile township.

The structure of town government has undergone tremendous change in the past 30-odd years. Attorney Michael N. Pettito of Plainview will become Supervisor for a two-year term. He was elected in November to succeed Thomas R. Pynchon of East Norwich. It is beyond the memory of most when the last Supervisor was a Democrat no less a resident from south of Jericho Tpke.

Actually Hicksville, if the date of the Robert Williams Purchase in 1648 is accepted as the founding date, is older than the township. Oyster Bay was founded in 1653 and one of the witnesses to the transfer of the deed for the village from the Indians was our founder, Robert Williams. He had a number of disputes with Oyster Bay regarding the boundary line of his Plantation which were not finally settled until 1664. The following year he was listed as a freeholder (land owner) in the Town of Oyster Bay at a time when there were only 55 freeholders and inhabitants in the entire township.

Obviously in a span of 310 years of township history there have been changes in the politics of these administering the township. At the time of World War I Hicksville was pretty much a Democratic stronghold.

The last Democrat elected Town Supervisor was Benjamin Downing back in 1929, the result of a Fusion candidacy backed by Democrats and some disgruntled Republicans. After just two years in office he was replaced by Republican Harry Tappan who enjoyed long tenure and great popularity. He was succeeded by Charles E. Ransom, although it was reported that Ernest F. Francke of Hicksville had been slated for that nomination. (Francke was elected County Clerk, filling the office vacated by Ransom when he became Supervisor). Then came Lewis N. Waters, John J. Burns and Pynchon.

Although many services performed by the township in the years gone by have been consolidated under county-wide control (i.e., health, assessments, courts) in recent memory, other services have developed and expanded in the same period to meet new demands of the growing township. To provide some services (parking, sidewalks, community swimming pools, escalators, drainage) special taxing units have been devised to place the burden upon those said to be most directly served. Among the things that will be watched with interest after Jan. 1 will be Democratic efforts to fulfill pre-election promises to lower taxes by eliminating many special taxing districts (including water districts) by consolidation into larger township or even county-wide divisions. At the same time, the ability of the new Supervisor to provide and finance further services (recreation, senior citizens, etc.) will be carefully scrutinized.

Actually the Town Supervisor is in a some-

Time for Swearing

The incumbent Republican town officials who were re-elected last November will be sworn in by County Clerk Francis Anderson of Hicksville at Oyster Bay Town Hall at one o'clock in the afternoon on Jan. 1. An invitation was extended to Supervisor-elect Michael N. Pettito by Councilman Edward G. Poulos who will probably be spokesman for the Town Council.

Meanwhile, Nassau County Democratic County Committee headquarters in Mineola announced that Pettito will take the oath of office from an unnamed Supreme Court Justice at 3 P.M. on New Year's Day in the Town Hall. Followed by a reception in his honor at the Four Seasons Country Club from 4 to 6:30 P.M. The Democrat press release said the Republican members of the Town Board would be sworn in at the same time.

It appeared that the battle of the press releases began before the New Year.

Crossing Elimination

The history of the Mid-Island region, dating back 315 years to the Robert Williams Purchase of 1648, has been divided into three one-century eras. Observers of the local scene believe the new year will herald the fulfillment of the fourth era — the fully developed community.

For 300 years an area of nine square miles encompassed in the Williams Purchase has been generally known as "Hicksville" although larger than the six square miles of Hicksville School District. Only in the past 50 years have the identity of places such as Jericho, Plainview and vicinity emerged as full-fledged communities.

To appreciate the significance of the new era, it is worth looking back on the past. On May 20, 1648, Robert Williams bought nine square miles of mostly open plains from Indians of the Mathecock nation, one of 13 tribes on L.I. The first era then was "The Settlement" of what became known as the Williams Plantation.

The second era "Division" began in 1746 when the owners of the Williams Plantation, seeming to feel uncertain about their deed boundaries, agreed to submit and divide the area by measure. Land for highways east and west, north and south, was to be deducted in computing deed acreage. These roads became the beginnings of Old Country Rd (all the way out thru Plainview), Woodbury Rd. Plainview Rd., Hicksville-Jericho Rd. (Broadway), Jerusalem Ave and Bethpage Rd. Samuel Willis was given the assignment of making the survey with Jacob Titus and Richard Post as chain bearers.

The third, "Development" is dated from 1849 when the Hicksville townsite was laid out into the present day pattern of streets. Frederick Heyne in partnership with John Heitz bought over 1,000 acres and mapped out building plots.

This third era, now being replaced by the fourth, saw the coming of the LI Rail Road in 1837. Growth was slow. Population was recorded as 900 in 1888, 1300 by 1909, 4000 by the end of World War I, 5500 in 1926, 6772 in the Federal census of 1930 and about 16,000 by 1948. It has continued to spiral upwards to a present day 50,000 with land space for new residences becoming scarce. The greatest growth has been in the past 15 years.

The geographic location of Hicksville on Long Island has been clearly responsible for its development as a commercial center, particularly in the century and a quarter since the RR arrived. It is increasingly evident today with the location of a regional postal center in Hicksville serving a host of satellite post offices. While rail service is no longer significant as a mail route, the network of highways thru the community makes speed in motor haulage to all points of the compass most convenient.

The use of the name Mid-Island is of recent origin. Back in 1925 when a move to change the name of Hicksville was rejected (944 to 317) in a referendum, a suggested replacement with some popularity was Nassau Centre. First formal local use of Mid-Island came on Jan. 12, 1949 when the HERALD was founded. It has since been adopted by numerous business concerns, the most notable being the shopping complex which includes a 5-story dept store.

But the network of highways and the increasing volume of automobile traffic has brought with it problems which experts feel can only be solved by reworking the physical face of Hicksville. While the problem of rail road crossings at grade have been with the community almost from the day the trains began to run over 100 years ago, it has been one of more serious concern in the past half century. As the number of daily passenger and freight trains increased, the highway were blocked more and more frequently. By the 1930s there were complaints about fire apparatus being delayed in response to alarms. By 1947 the Hicksville Civic and Community Assoc. had a platform calling for grade crossing elimination and the civics were threatening to have the locomotive engineer given a summons for blocking a highway with a train for more than ten minutes.

Many people over the years contributed to the effort to bring about the elimination of

Mothers Enjoy Some Golden Moments Together

By Kathleen M. Hecker

As the fire of another year burns low we again have reached that time when many spend the season in a continual state of utter fatigue bordering on exhaustion. How refreshing it is then to see a large group of mothers gather together to spend a few golden moments when the tiredness, rushing about and general confusion can be laid aside. They are given a chance to sit back, draw breath and realize what the true meaning of Christmas really should be.

On Monday evening, Dec. 16th, the St. Ignace Loyola Auxiliary of Christian Mothers held their annual Christmas party. The decor was beautifully arranged with the Christmas tree and inspiring Crèche as the focal point. Each table had three large red Christmas candles, surrounded by pine cones and on the white cloths this had a startling effect. Mrs. George Dreher and Mrs. Vincent Spina are to be commended on the wonderful job they did in serving refreshments to such a large group with graciousness and a minimum of apparent fuss on any one's part.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Rev. Leo J. Goggin, entertained. They sang, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The Holy City," "Mussel Den," "Christmas Lullaby" and then "O Holy Night" with Sr. James Andrew, O.P., leading the voices.

Everyone received a gift which was distributed by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus with the help of ten or twelve willing little elves. The prize winners of October's Hat Show received their gifts appropriately enough at this Christmas party.

Mrs. Frederick Hess won the Dark Horse prize of $30.00 and Mrs. J. Sicard won the ice-bucket and bottle of Champagne.

Although there was no business meeting, Mrs. Ryan announced that the Cake Sale was highly successful and expressed sincere thanks to all the workers and especially the two chairmen, Mrs. Benjamin Beniamino and Mrs. Thomas Riley, for the effort they put into it. Mrs. Mary Dannhauser won the lovely statue of the Infant of Prague.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Jan. 27th, Mrs. Patrick McGee announced that due to the cancellation of our November meeting because of the death of our beloved President Kennedy, Msgr. Michael J. McLaughlin will speak instead at the January meeting. Msgr. McLaughlin is the Diocesan Director of Vocations and he will speak on integration.

The annual February Social will be held this year on Feb. 7th and will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Brady. Mrs. Ryan, in behalf of all the Sisters and the lay teachers expressed her sincere wishes to all for a happy and a blessed Christmas.

Third Graders Visit Idlewild

THIRD GRADERS
A trip to Idlewild Airport was a thrilling experience for Mrs. Kenyon's and Mrs. Farrenton's Third Grade classes of Nicholas Street School. The trip was made possible by the arrangements of William Miller, an engineer-pilot for Pan American. His daughter, Pax, is a pupil in Mrs. Farrenton's class.

Miller personally conducted the group through the Pan American hanger where the children had the thrill of getting in a D-C-8 jet. They, also, saw the training centers for the crews and stewardesses.

The next stop was at the Pan American terminal. The tour continued through the main part of the building including the museum showing the history of Pan America.

Mrs. Samuel Ferguson and Mrs. Joseph Buscarnito acted as class mothers. Appreciation is hereby expressed to Pan American and Mister Miller for the wonderful opportunity given these Third Graders.

New Building For Olds Dealer

Because its president has a preference for the warmth of colonial architecture, one of the most attractive automobile dealerships is now being constructed by Bruce Oldsmobile at 777 South Oyster Bay Road, near Stewart Ave., in the Hicksville-Bethpage-Plainview area.

The new building, according to Bruce Old's president Harold Flesch, has a colonial front and showroom area integrated into what is believed to be the most modern and efficient service area in the metropolitan region.

"This unusual combination," states Flesch, "is the result of a great deal of preliminary research including numerous personal visits by myself and the builder, Abe Shames, to other dealerships throughout the metropolitan area."

He added, "Not only did we interview the dealers and their personnel to determine the best operational design, but we also had a series of conferences with the architectural team from Oldsmobile headquarters before we settled on the final plans."

The use of natural building materials beyond the colonial front and entranceway helps to extend the Early American theme into the new plant which opens in January. The showroom and sales area is finished in attractive color schemes with white brick walls, warm woods and plum and marble slate floors.

Gregory Paul is the name of the new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Blake-Lobb of 24 Welden Ave., Jericho. He was born Dec. 14 at Mercy Hospital.

AN EDITORIAL:

A Well Deserved Thanks

Seymour Berkman's accomplishments with the West Birchwood News best exemplifies the unselfish attributes and constructive contributions of an individual to his community which is difficult to find and rarely appreciated.

For the past four and half years he has served on this newspaper both as contributor and Editor. As Editor he was responsible for preparing assignments and stories for publication 26 weeks a year. Many an issue has gone to press solely through the efforts of writing and editing by Seymour himself. During all this time he has never missed a deadline or issue and through his efforts our community has always been informed of all news affecting or concerning our area.

He has set high standards for this publication which he has always endeavored to meet. While doing so he has been subjected to abuse from the uncaring and unknowing, but his firm devotion to duty and the newspaperman's credo has always been his guide.

Due to the enormous amount of time that must be devoted we can appreciate the hardship and sacrifices that he has made during these years. Now because of personal reasons he has submitted his resignation as Editor.

Seymour has always felt that a newspaper should not be for backslapping and self congratulations so we are quite sure that he will realize our feelings when we say, Mr. Berkman, Thank You.

Speaking of Theatre

by Alice Nussbaum

The West Birchwood Little Theatre Group is, buzzing with excitement these days and with good cause. Aside from the fact that planning has begun on our spring production, we have become very inventive this year with exciting results. First we were surprised and delighted to find that we have a talented director in our group who is dedicated to helping the group develop in proficiency and confidence. To this end, he (Bob Sohm) has volunteered to direct a scene each month to be presented at our open meetings. The first volunteers for this project were Lola Rosenthal and Alice Nussbaum. The scene was from STREET CAR NAMED DESIRE, and was performed at our December meeting. The reaction to the scene and the entire idea was most flattering to Bob and to the two girls. Lola Rosenthal gave a touching portrayal as Stella in an extremely delicate scene. Alice Nussbaum was adequate (not really but modesty forbids an actress to write her own glowing review).

For our January meeting, Bob will direct Jeanie Glickman and Jerry Meister in a scene from TWO FOR THE SEESAW. If you missed the last meeting take our advice and don't miss this one. Anyone interested in working on a scene for a future meeting may call Renee Akinoske (We 5-6823) to discuss the details. This is a marvelous opportunity for anyone who has always wanted to try the stage, but in a small way, or for those who would like to tackle something a bit 'outre'. Bob is perfectly willing to have you choose your own scene and your own partner.

Kudos to the entire cast and crew of the Scholarship Fund Show. We were very proud of the contribution made by those from our own group—nice going gang! If you've been thinking about joining Theatre Group, stop thinking and do it now. This is the perfect time to start. Our reading committee is in full swing and casting should begin very soon for our spring production. This is the time to get stage fever.

Organize New Education Group

Citizens for Better Education an independent and unaffiliated school district wide organization of persons interested in improving our educational system, announced drive for membership in all of the neighborhoods that make up our community.

The members of this organization believe that interested citizens will be able to accomplish a great deal in improving our educational climate and in assuring that we obtain the best return for our tax dollar. However this organization also believes that the educational advances now beginning in our community can only be guaranteed and accelerated by a single membership organization of all interested citizens rather than by the many individual committees in different neighborhoods which in the past have attempted to deal separately with the multitude of problems faced by our school system.

Citizens for Better Education welcomes to membership all residents of Union Free School District #15 who are sympathetic with its program of improving the educational and cultural climate in the community.

All those interested in joining should please write or call Don Hirschhorn, 81 Orange Dr., Jericho GE - 3-9566 or Selma Constant, 9 Otsego Pl., Jericho, OV 1-4745.

President's Corner

by Arnold F. Winant

The downzoning problem presented by the Meadowbrook Country Club's application for annexation to the incorporated village of Brookville has been withdrawn. The statement seems fairly simple but finds its real root of solution not in the word "withdrawal" but rather in the word "defeated."

The withdrawal was only the acknowledgment by the Club of this defeat. Credit for the defeat must be given to those individuals and groups who had the foresight to fight and the trust in our democratic institutions that their will, representing the will of the people of the community, had

Berkman Resigns

At the Board of Directors meeting on December 18th, it was announced that Seymour Berkman, due to personal reasons, was submitting his resignation as Editor of the West Birchwood News.

His resignation was reluctantly accepted by Arnold Winant who expressed his personal regrets as well as that of the whole community at this news. Harold J. Brensilber, 86 Orange Drive, is the new Editor of the newspaper and all organizations and individuals requesting publicity are advised to contact him.

force and validity. This is our heritage and we must preserve it and remember it. Armed with the strength of truth and conviction, the people can and DO make themselves a potent force.

Our first Board of Directors meeting was held in the home of the Strell's on Dec. 18th. Our newly constituted Social Committee put forth tentative programs which excite the imagination and should provide much entertainment and pleasure for the community when they are carried into effect. Our Welfare Committee has promised to pursue such programs as a directional signal for Broadway and Marginal roads, noise abatement of Westbury Drive-In, school crossing programs and other programs which will benefit the community.

I personally feel that we have gotten off to a wonderful and exciting start for New Year ahead.

Request Nike Site

Both the Jericho School Board and officials of Brookville Village have joined forces in an attempt to secure two Nike sites from the government. These sites have been declared surplus by the gov't, are off Cedar Swamp Road in Brookville. As to what uses the property would be put to, if acquired, has not been made known.

Commencing with this issue we have instituted a new column which will enable the various community organizations to publicize their meetings. Bd Emphasizes Bill of Rights

by Selma Constant

At the meeting of the Jericho Board of Education on Dec. 19, there were 25 student teachers-in-training from Queens College present. They were there to observe how a local school board functions.

The Board held its meeting this month at the Seaman School and the P.T.A. of the Seaman School very thoughtfully served coffee and cake to all present. The Board expressed its appreciation to Mrs. Ruth Lang, President and to members of the Seaman School P.T.A. for their hospitality.

Associate Justice Brennan of the Supreme Court said in Nov. 1962 that there should be greater emphasis in the schools on teaching the Bill of Rights. This inspired a motion by the Board of Education which authorized granting two in-service credits for salary purposes to those members of the Social Studies Dept. of Jericho High School, who are recommended by the Principal, for participation and fulfillment all the requirements of attendance, papers, etc., of a 15 week course on Constitutional Law and the Bill of Rights, sponsored by the Long Island Council for Social Studies.

The Board approved the participation of Mr. Heller, Jericho High School Principal, in the Visiting Committee of the Commission on Secondary Schools of the State Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, to make an evaluation and accreditation study of Nyack High School in Nyack, New York.

The student enrollment projection was debated and sixteen new teachers will be hired based on the expected increase in students attending the Jericho schools.

Brookville village trustees have expressed an interest in working with the Jericho School Board in an attempt to win federal approval for the acquisition of two surplus Nike missile sites in the community. Dr. Carey, Superintendent of Schools, will set up a meeting with a Brookville committee to see if a mutually agreeable plan can be presented to the federal government.

Responding to an invitation from Committee officers, two high level representatives of Skouras Theatres attended a Welfare Committee meeting on Dec. 12 to discuss measures to abate the noise nuisance caused by un-used speakers left active by departing Westbury Drive-In Theatre patrons.

Seymour Londoner, Division Manager of Skouras Theatres, and his assistant, Larry Schain, described measures already taken by the Theatre and additional steps currently under consideration. Mr. Londoner advised the Committee that the outside speakers on the concession have been tentatively disconnected, and that additional help have been put on to turn down speakers that are not in use. The two rear most blocks of ramps (representing two-thirds of the theatre capacity) have been disabled for the season. An inquiry is underway to determine the feasibility of rewiring the speakers so that individual ramps can be shut off from the control room. Noting the tendency of patrons to move forward whenever possible, Mr. Londoner pointed out that individual ramp control could be used to deactivate large blocks of speakers in the rear of the theatre (those closest to Birchwood homes) during the course of an evening's performance. No definite commitments were made by the Skouras representatives other than an agreement to show screen trailers requesting patrons to turn down their speakers before leaving. Further developments will be watched closely by the committee.

In another development at the meeting, committee members voted to endorse a proposal by Boulevard Landscaping to provide Civic Association members with trees for curb plantings and other landscaping uses at a considerable discount. The contractor offered to supply and plant first-class quality nursery stock graded according to the American Nurserymen's Standard of Grades. The trees will have two stakes, will receive peat moss and bone meal at the time of planting and will come with a one-year guarantee. The contractor requires a minimum group order of one hundred trees, with a five percent deposit to be paid by February 28. The trees will range in price from $10 for a 1" - 1 1/4" caliper to $25 for a 2 1/2" caliper. These prices include planting. The Committee will request that deposit money be held in escrow until planting.

Interested parties are requested to write to Mr. R. Krevitz, Welfare Committee chairman, at 121 Old Country Road, in Carle Place. The writer should give his name, address, and phone number, and should state the number of trees in which he is interested. A representative of Boulevard Landscaping will then call to discuss further details.

Beware of Phoney Yule Bonus Checks

The Long Island Better Business Bureau warns area residents to be on the lookout for phony Christmas bonus "checks" which are being mailed by a Brooklyn furniture firm to promote the sale of merchandise. The BBB revealed that the envelopes containing the checks are almost identical to the brown manila envelopes used for mailing authentic government checks.

In bold capital letters, the envelope's return address states "Treasury Division." On the next line, in letters about one-fifth as large appears the name of a credit corporation.

Essay Contest Draws Praise

We have been hearing a great deal of good comment about our essay contest "The Teenagers' Role in our Community" which makes us on "The Villager" staff feel proud. It took us a little time to get the contest rolling, and naturally we want the response to be favorable. The plaques to be awarded are on display at Phil's Barber shop in the Shopping Center. Every one is invited to look at them. For those of you who have misplaced the rules of our contest, we do have an extra supply and merely call OV 1-2645 or write "The Villager" Jericho, N.Y. for your copy.

Remember that contest is open to all teenagers and adults in Village of Birchwood at Jericho. Subject is "The Teenagers' Role in our Community". Bonds and plaques for the winners.

Pupils Play Back The Revolution

Recently seventh grade students of Bert Jablon in South Woods Junior High School presented a four-scene play about the American Revolution to several guest classes and their teachers.

The events pictured included: "Dumping the Tea in Boston Harbor", "George the III Strikes Back", "Paul Revere's Ride", and finale, "The Firing on Lexington Commons".

Students chose background music which included the famous Revolutionary War hymn, "Chester" and the military sonata, "Battle of Trenton," loaned to them by Synasset Public Library record collection.

The presentation closed with the rendition of Henry W. Longfellow's "The Ride of Paul Revere".

Ten Pin Talk

by Henry Dockswell

The Spooks are getting spooked. With only three weeks left to the end of our 1st half, Morris Garelick and his men failed their first crucial test. They met Mort Levine's 2nd place Spillers and took it on the chin 5-2. Their 12 point lead of a few weeks ago has now dwindled to a mere 3 points. The bottom of Mort's batting order rose up and smote the Spooks a telling blow. Sam Salter, Phil Wasserman and Ely Stampler each raised their averages by 2, 2 and 3 points respectively and were chiefly responsible for this very important victory. It seems almost a sure thing that these same two teams will meet again on Jan. 6, the position night that ends our 1st half.

Meanwhile Sam Springer's Umglicks, Leo Geyer's Lions and Murray Iskoe's rampaging Bulls were having a field day. All three crushed their opposition with 7-0 shutouts. Leo came up with his third one, a 204, and with the help of Elliot Spencer, who had his first decent night in a long time, the Lions made a hearty meal of Herb Brody's Six Finks.

Murray Iskoe's Bulls who have been in last place 12 out of the 15 weeks of bowling suddenly went berserk. Only four times this season had they been able to squeak out a win but this time they were not to be denied. They swept Murray Gittelman's Cockamamies and jumped three places up to the dizzy height of 9th place.

Sam's Umglicks were not spectacular but their sweep of Sol Rabinowitz's nameless #11's put them in a tie for 3rd place and a chance for that trophy. Fred Green tried his best to avert this shutout as he bowled his second good one, a 214, but he got no help from his teammates, so down to defeat they went.

Bill Kellerman doesn't have a spectacular average but he certainly does have a flair for bowling 200 games. He just bowled a 214, his third such game this year and he is now only 1 behind Tony Barbella and Sy Bruckner, the two leaders. Milk Goldberg and the rest of his Terror's weren't much help to Bill so they lost to Al Minoff's Bubulas 5-2, but they had better wake up next week for they play the league leading Spooks.

Students Learn With Pictures

An assembly for ninth grade students was sponsored recently by the Business Department of South Woods Junior High. Students were shown a film on consumer education which dealt with consumer fraud. The film, entitled "Caveat Emptor" (Let the Buyer Beware), was helpful to the students in general and particularly timely during this shopping season.

Morton Michael, an assistant attorney-general, presented the film, which comes from the State Attorney-General's office. Mr. Michael answered questions posed by the students. The program was sponsored by Mrs. Sylvia Callenson, teacher at South Woods.

grade crossings, now nearly completion. Mighty cooperation was given by the Town officials in financing traffic studies and obtaining legislation to advance recent efforts spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce.

The finish of this job, scheduled for June of 1964, will truly begin a new era. Hicksville today ranks as the station which handles a greater volume of daily commuters than any other on the island, outside of Jamaica.

But what is bringing furrows to the brows of many are the plans for widening of Broadway from the Rail Road south to Hempstead Tpke. To handle what the State Dept of Public Works predicts will be the volume of traffic going thru Hicksville on Broadway, a state road, in the coming decade it is proposed to widen the avenue by slicing 44 feet off buildings (including many stores) on the west side.

Not to be caught in the blind which Floral Park now finds itself with the north side of Jericho Tpke (recently widened) almost void of buildings since the bulldozers passed by, the Hicksville Chamber is attempting to stimulate interest in planning urban renewal.

Town Government

what different position than the County Executive. He has only one vote on the seven-man Town Board (six councilmen) and is said not to have the power of veto. He does prepare the Town Budget which is subject to Town Board hearing and adoption. His powers of appointment appear to be limited to a few staff personnel. It has been announced that he will appoint George V. O'Haire of 16 Marilyn Lane, Hicksville, as his executive assistant at $14,000 a year.

Hicksville has enjoyed representation on the Town Board for many years. Prior to the councilmatic system when Justices of the Peace comprised the Town Board together with the Supervisor, local members included Judges Joseph Steinert, Andrew B. Heberer Sr., Charles H. Stoll and Joseph P. Lebuscher. First Councilman from Hicksville was John R. Brandt followed by Frank Chumsky, Henry McInnes and today A. Carl Grunewald. Hicksville has also been represented on the Zoning Board of Appeals with Ernest F. Francke, Grunewald and today Thomas Hogan.

Phone Co Seeks Higher Rates

The New York Telephone Company has filed tariffs with the Public Service Commission adjusting the rates for certain services. Basic monthly charges for most customers in the state are not affected.

The four-part filing is designed to bring a better balance between services used by certain customers and the charges for these services.

It provides for:

- (1) Expanding primary calling areas in many downstate suburban communities so that customers can all more telephones on a local basis. Many toll calls will be converted to a message unit basis at generally lower rates, resulting in a reduction of charges to customers in the communities affected.
- (2) Applying established basic monthly rates in those exchanges outside of New York City - where, as a result of growth, present rates do not conform to existing schedules.

(3) Increases in service charges for installing and moving telephones.

(4) to points within the state.

The new tariffs would go into effect in two stages:

Adjustments in service connection charges and person-to-person toll rates would become effective February 1, 1964.

Placing exchanges in their proper rate group, along with extension of local calling areas and elimination of certain toll calls, would go into effect in May, 1965. Before putting this into effect, a program for new equipment and wiring must be completed at an estimated cost to the company of $3.6 million.

Regrouping of exchanges means that monthly rates for service will be adjusted upward or downward for the customers involved so that comparable exchanges will have the same rates. Only 10 per cent of the company's customers are affected by this regrouping - none of them in New York City. Of the customers affected, half will pay increases of 25 cents or less a month.

For all downstate suburban customers, the combined effect of the higher charges from regrouping and the lower charges from the conversion of toll calls to message units is a modest decrease - averaging 10 cents a customer a month. Upstate, there is no regrouping of any large city. The increases upstate are minor and scattered, mostly in small communities.

The changes slated to go into effect next February 1 will not affect basic monthly rates for service. The 5-cent and 10-cent increases in charges for person-to-person toll calls within the state are provided to meet the higher costs of handling this optional service, and are consistent with similar increases in rates made earlier this year for person-to-person calls to out of state points.

The remaining change has to do with one-time charges for connecting, moving or changing telephones. These charges, now between $2.50 and $4.00 for residence customers, would be increased to a uniform $5.00. Today, these charges are lower than in any state in the country except Utah. Charges for connecting business telephones, now ranging up to $6.00, would be increased to $10.00.

The reason for higher connection charges, the company said, is to place them more in line with sharply increased costs for this work. Only minor adjustments have been made in such charges since 1936, and they still fall far short of the actual cost of performing these installations. Even with this adjustment, the proposed rates are among the lowest in the country.

"The filing offers telephone customers improved local calling arrangements, and provides a better balance between the services offered and the charges made for them," a company spokesman said.

One of the best—and continuing—Christmas presents the Post can get is new members. I am happy to say that this year our Hicksville veterans have awakened and have joined us at an unprecedented pace, since we opened enrollment for 1964 last fall. We are now pushing the leader in the 3rd Division for total membership and we are striving to become #1 in our Division before the County Convention convenes next June. Now is the time to ask your neighbors and friends to join us. Do your part in this great drive towards the top! Our newest members are Horace Lintio, Harry P. Swinnes and John Olson and to them I say, "Welcome aboard, fellows." Our Auxiliary Juniors and Sons of The American Legion Squadron members plus our Junior Band, paid their annual visit to Jones Institute last Friday evening and presented their annual Christmas entertainment for the oldsters... Judy Bosch, our wonderful Drum Major, was mistress of ceremonies for the evening and ably introduced each segment of the show. Paced by numbers played by the Junior Band the show was entertaining and in the right Christmas spirit. Little Maria Ciadella gave a remarkable demonstration of suppleness with her acrobatic ballet number and was well received. Our two choral groups entertained with Christmas Carols and songs appropriate to the season and Dianne Hodgkinson and Susan Evers showed how the Charleston should be danced. There was a clarinet duet by Jane Hochbrueckner and Billy Mangels, and a trumpet and clarinet set of numbers by Bobby and Billy Mangels. A recitation in front of the Christmas tree was delivered by Bobby Swallow and at the conclusion all the inmates were treated to Christmas favors which were hand made by the Auxiliary Juniors. In all, everyone had a great time. After the group returned to the Post the youngsters were treated to a Christmas party of their own and needless to say they had a good time. There were 35 youngsters and a dozen Legionnaires & Auxiliary members in this Christmas Cheer spreading group. Merry Christmas to you.

Operation VFW

William M. Gause Jr. Post No. 3211
by Eddie Kleibing

Our congratulations to William Palmer of Lantern Road for his winning script in the V.F.W. sponsored Voice of Democracy contest. Mr. Palmer now competes with the other high school students on the county level. Good Luck Bill. To Dr. John Rouse of the Hicksville High School, the other finalists, Stephen O'Brien, George Sachs and Ronald Wenzel we offer special thanks for their interest and cooperation.

"Dames!" That was the word that greeted our Ladies Auxiliary when they made their appearance at the Veterans Hospital in Northport last Wednesday. The inclement weather prevented a lot of people from attending and when we arrived there were only two other ladies present. Recipients of the justified expression "Dames!" were: President Mary Sadowski; Doris Klueg, Dorothy Mulligan; Roberta Obermeyer and Patricia Williams. Post members accompanying the ladies were: Commander Jim Klueg; Bill Froehnhoffer; Robert Williams; Mike Znach and yours truly. The Ladies Auxiliary ended their last meeting of the year on a note of cheer with a Christmas party. Both they and their guests had a good time. Winner of the drawing was Post member Frank Aug. Proceeds from the raffle are being divided among the veterans at Northport in the form of canteen books and to the children at our National Home to make their Christmas a little more cheerful.

I've often wondered if Santa's nose was naturally red or the color came from the cold weather. This problem was the furthest away in the minds of the youngsters who attended the Christmas Party for them last Sunday afternoon at the Post. They came to meet Santa and didn't care what color his proboscis was, or his beard for that matter too. The main attraction in his bright red uniform was greeted amid yells and screams when he made his entrance. It's a pleasure to watch the young faces and their actions when they meet their yuletide hero.

So another year is put to past. Let's hope the new year finds us all in good health and the V.F.W. continues and originates new programs to benefit the community for both the young and old. Happy New Year!
