Everyone Has a Story:

If Not Blizzard, It Will Have to Do

It may or may not have been a blizzard, Monday afternoon and evening, but most mid-island residents are prepared to accept it for the Blizzard of '64 until something worse come along -- and they rather it wouldn't. Almost everyone had a story to tell, Tuesday and Wednesday, of their experiences and the stories will probably grow with the telling over the years.

Somewhere between eight inches and two feet of snow fell, depending upon the authority accepted, and schools were closed Monday and Tuesday. Business almost came to a dead halt on Tuesday with many concerns closed for the day.

The increase in the number of motor vehicles on local roads since previous storms of this kind started the trouble late Monday and by five in the evening most major roads were a snarl of stalled and stuck cars, taxis and trucks.

Among the worst spots in the Hicksville area were North Broadway, a state highway, and South Oyster Bay Road and Woodbury Road, county highways. Police cars and ambulances became involved in the tangle and were unable to respond to emergencies. Fortunately there were no serious fire calls. Five trucks got stuck repeatedly in answering a couple of minor alarms.

Bars and restaurants near major, snarled highways reported lines of people waiting to use pay phones. About 100 people stopped at the Briggs St. firehouse Monday evening to seek shelter from the tearing cold and snow-laden wind. About a dozen made a night of it.

The Plainview Theatre, the nearby bowling alley and Old Country Manor were full of people for most of the night.

The fast moving wind kept sweeping the powdery snow into drifts which made plowing municipal authorities almost ineffective. When roads became jammed with cars bumper to bumper, plows could not move until abandoned cars were towed out of the way. By working all night, Monday, most major roads were open for winding passage around the abandoned and buried cars, Tuesday. Then came the back-breaking work of digging out the family car from a block of snow and ice.

The wet and freezing snow of Monday caked around motors and ignition systems. Even when cars were dug out, Tuesday, few of them could be made to get going.

The big buses managed to plow thru on most routes with schedules out the window. Taxi cabs got stuck everywhere, just like everyone else, and the Nassau Taxi which operates a big fleet out of its terminal on Herzog Pl at Jerusalem was down to five operating cabs by five o'clock Monday. Those few in service refused to make deliveries to side streets, keeping to the main highways.

Custodians and groundsmen of Hicksville Schools, under William Becker, worked thru out Tuesday night to clear school driveways, parking fields and sidewalks to make it possible for classes to be held on Wednesday.

PRIOR TO THE REORGANIZATION Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Long Island National Bank, Chairman Charles R. Carroll presented to President William E. Koutensky a 25 year Anniversary Cake for his perfect attendance at every meeting of the Board as a member. National Bank at All Time Peak

The Long Island National Bank during the past year increased its total resources by $7,396,000 to $89,209,000, the highest in the history of the bank, President William E. Koutensky reported to the Shareholders of the Bank at their annual meeting this week.

The following directors were re-elected by the Shareholders: Charles R. Carroll, chairman; James C. Dinkelacker, Norman C. Godfrey, James Herrschaff, William E. Koutensky, Malcolm E. Pierce, Herbert W. Purick and Joseph A. Reinhardt.

In his report, Mr. Koutensky pointed out:

"At year end, your bank had over $79,000,000 invested in United States government obligations, municipal bonds, mortgages, commercial loans, consumer loans and various other types of loans.

"The demand for bank credit continued to expand in 1963. Our loans reached a new high at the year end of $57,040,000 compared with $52,970,000 -- an increase of $4,070,000.

"By continuing the dividend policy adopted several years ago, the Board of Directors declared and paid, during the year 1963, a 90-cent per share cash dividend amounting to almost $300, 000." At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Long Island National Bank, also held this week, the following officers were re-elected by the Board: William E. Koutensky, president; Norman C. Godfrey, vice president; Joseph A. Reinhardt, vice president and cashier; James C. Dinkelacker, vice president; Gertrude A. Proctor, vice president; James Herrschaff, vice president; Walter A. Drescher, comptroller; and Charles R. Carroll, chairman of the Board.

Another HS Bomb Scare

The student body of Hicksville Senior High School lost another three-quarters of an hour of classroom time on Wednesday when another bomb-in-the-building warning came in by telephone shortly after 12 noon. The Board of Education in a recent statement to all parents had warned that added class days during the February recess or beyond the regular term ending date in June would be imposed.

Initial Report on JFK Fund

The following are the first donations to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Hicksville Fund. It is planned to erect a substantial flag pole, suitably marked and dedicated to the memory of the late President, in the triangle where Broadway, Jerusalem Ave. and John St. come together. The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and Town Councilman A. Carl Grunewald have been working quietly for months on plans for the rehabilitation of this entire area upon completion of the grade crossing elimination project. Donations may be made at the L.I. National Bank main office, Broadway and Herzog Pl., or by mail to the Herald, PO Box 95, Hicksville. All contributions will be acknowledged.

Demands Kunz Resign

The resignation of George W. Kunz, member of the Hicksville Board of Education for less than two years and its vice president, was demanded by a newspaper publisher at the regular Board meeting Friday night. Such a demand has not been voiced at a school board meeting in many, many years.

Robert L. Morgan of Litmore Publications stated at the meeting: "Mr. Kunz has misused his office and committed an action which is in the nature of bribery. It is an act that cannot be condoned by anyone and will bring disgrace upon the Board of Education."

Behind the demand was a series of decisions at the Dec. 13 School Board meeting when Kunz moved that one of Morgan's periodicals be no longer used as an official newspaper in the District for the publication of legal notices. Referring to editorial comment by Morgan in an issue of his paper published after the Nov. 23 building referendum, which Morgan opposed, Kunz stated the editorial "was one of the worst pieces of journalism I have seen and I think it impugned the motives of the Board members. I think it was a disgrace to the people of Hicksville and for that reason I don't see any reason why we should have to continue to have to keep this newspaper as an official newspaper of the District."

SUMPS: Word Well-Known to Long Islanders; Associated with Tragedy Locally

By Fred J. Noeth

The word sump appears in few of the smaller home dictionaries but its definition is fairly well known around Long Island where it serves a useful and important purpose. It first came into local use about 25 years ago and when it was first used in headlines to announce an initial one in Hicksville most readers thought it was a typographical error — a mis-spelling of dump. Because of the composition of the soil of Long Island (mostly sand under a layer of top soil) the sump works well at its task of returning surface drainage waters to the underground. Before sumps came into general use (most developers of the past decade have been heavily required to provide areas and dig sumps in planning housing areas. Prior to the advent to sumps, millions and millions of gallons of water were permitted to drain away to the sea water surrounding the island, forever lost. A sump is an area, usually a pit, which collects surface water, and permits it to seep back underground. The water supply of Long Island comes from only one place: The water that falls upon it in the form of rain trickles down thru the soil and feeds the wells. Theories that Long Island gets its water from underground rivers or channels connected with the mainland have long been disproved.

Certainly the first official sump in the Town of Oyster Bay if not in the entire county was announced one day about 25 or 30 years ago by former Supervisor Harry Tappan. It is still in operation to this day, taking most of the surface drainage by a system of huge pipes (almost big enough for a man to walk thru) running along Old Country Rd.

This first sump near the intersection of Charlotte A and Duffy in the west section of Hicksville was formerly a small pit for sand mining. The property was acquired by the county and labled a sump.

Took Toll Of Lives

While sumps serve a most useful purpose they have been the scene of many tragic accidents and before they were adequately fenced took a high toll in the lives of small children. There were at least a couple of drownings in the first sump, the writer recalls. Almost always near filled with water, it attracted a number of youths on hot summer days and some who dove in (despite warning signs) failed to return to the surface. Being a former sand pit, that sump is particularly deep and the side-walls are treacherous, collapsing underfoot and trapping young swimmers.

There has not been an accident at that particular sump in the many years since it was adequately fenced.

However a sump site in the south section of Hicksville adjacent to the homes built by Levitt and Sons was the scene of a double tragedy about 10 years ago which eventually led to the adoption of rigid regulations voluntum. Their pet little hats were the best part of the outfit. The men in comparison, were more gaily attired, in their red coats and light breeches and natty caps. There were so many gates and fences for the horses to jump over. Opposite the farm stand, there was a clearing where the foreman of the place lived nearby a high hill of cedar trees surrounded a very old Revolutionary cemetery. I always will smell the fragrance and the know the pungent odor of the cedars in that grove. I remember a stray bound left the pack and we found him there with a bad wound in his paw. They banded for that dog for days, a fact that we did not know of at that time. When the misunderstanding was straightened out he was just left to a family who loved this little regarding the fencing of these areas all over the County. Today a builder must first erect a fence, securely anchored at the base to a substantial thickness of concrete, before a single shovel of sand is removed.

Before this regulation was adopted as the result of pressure from an aroused citizenry, a child tumbled over the brink of the newly dug pit and was buried alive in the sand. Hicksville Fire Dept and police dug out the little boy but were unable to revive him. A makeshift fence of wood was erected about the deep hole and when it rained it filled with water. Then, within a matter of days of the first fatality, there came another. This time a child fell into the water and drowned.

The neighborhood and community became greatly aroused. On a Sunday men and women armed with shovels worked late into the night attempting to fill the tragic pit with sand. It was only when bulldozer was commandered that the whole in the ground was finally filled up.

Got Tough Law

Ernst Seemly who later became a member and president of the Hicksville School Board, together with Robert D P Easton of nearby Lee Ave and others organized a committee which called upon the county planning commission and other authorities to correct the hazards. Out of this effort came the requirement that the pit or sump area must be completely fellow for his remaining years.

These hunting jaunts usually ended up at the farm house with a substantial breakfast, consisting of fruit, hot oatmeal, bacon and eggs, plenty of hot muffins, no toast, coffee-after cupful of coffee. The men finished off the meal with pies of various kinds. One particular thing that puzzled me for years, were the peculiar markings on fence rails, posts or flat stones in the rambling miles of dividing field walls. Later I found that they were left there by the TRAMP population, now almost extinct, years ago, they were a species of their own, leaving messages to their fellow tramps, that such and such a place was a good place to eat, providing you used the axe on the wood pile for an hour. The Jones place was quite popular with this roaming tribe, their woodpile was piled neatly with well-fitted wood, a commodity that was important to the householder. They fed them with this small chore.

Today there are some 400 sump areas in the County and some occupy some real estate which is becoming increasingly valuable, particularly in the neighborhood of shopping centres and industrial areas.

A proposal has been made to the County Board of Supervisor by Supervisor Palmer Farrington of Hempstead that the County consider leasing the air space over certain selected sumps for the erection of structures which would produce revenue. The sump would remain and continue to serve its designed function. Above the pit, on some kind of arrangement of legs would be built a building in accordance with the zoning provisions of the adjacent neighborhood. In this manner even auto parking spaces could be arranged.

Such covering would probably improve the efficiency of the sump since water now lost thru evaporation would be reduced, it would also reduce the possibility of such accidents which occurred recently at a sump near Mid Island Plaza. A woman lost control of her small car and plunged thru the fence and a layer of ice on the water. She might have drowned if it had not been for the prompt rescue work of two clerks from a nearby supermarket. The water was up to the roof of the car when they pulled out to safety.

Important, too, was the social life of that community, as the auto racers took over for a day. Known as the Vanderbilt Races. When the time arrived several miles of highways were closed to traffic and used as the course. I do not know the number of miles required, or where the entire course was laid, or where it started, but I do know it went through the Woodbury Rd., out onto the Plainview road and continued through Plainview on the road to Farmingdale, but I do not think it went thru there, but what I do remember is, that the Plainview road was always called the Vanderbilt Cup Course Road at one time. It had one of the finest roads in the section of L.I. being very well cared for in its macadam days. Not too far from the Jones place there were four corners.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. L. Winfield Smith

HERALD READER OPINION

Brunswick, Maine

To the Editor: I certainly am enjoying the issues of the paper as I receive them each Monday, mail time. The interesting new developments, the political issues, the school problems, elections of municipal officers, highways, all add to the enjoyment of a locality I was once a part of, and which, is so much, so like our government here in Brunswick. We have the growing school population, new schools needed and the fight between the two factions, which eventually resolves itself into the progressive stage, no matter how hard the oldsters work at keeping the old way of life. And I like your policy of keeping the old ways before your public, there was an era, when the old time affairs were put far in the back ground. This is a nice era to live in. People are pleasant, agreeable and a lot is being done to help each one; the teenagers are not as bad as they are painted and alls right with the world. Issue, Dec., 26th.

The article on Hicksville government, past and present intrigued me. I once held a former Supervisor of Nassau County "way back in '05, '06 or thereabouts, I remember copying a book of names from very worn and delapidated volumns to newer ones for this man. Perhaps some of the oldsters may recall him? He was William H. Jones, lived on the Woodbury Road; he was mild mannered, a bit round, blondish and a rosy complexion, covered by a thick looking bristling mustache. He lived with his family at the old homestead, farm style, as he ran quite an operation cows, horses, poultry and garden truck, hay, too, I imagine. He lived with his family in a beautiful old house, typical of L.I. large and roomy and evident in the family for generations. The farm was not too far from Plainview a four corners, the building a considerable distance from the road, high on a side hill. I recall, especially, the huge chestnut tree that graced the lawn directly in front of the house, the gleaming white house nearly covered with its spreading branches.

STATE TAKES OVER JOB: Snow Mounts on Bway

Snow plowing and removal on Broadway, a state highway, and on some interesting county roads, such as Marie St., Hicksville, has over the years been an achievement in which the Oyster Bay Town Highway Dept. took justified pride. But not so this week when a near-blizzard hit.

Town Highway Superintendent Norman Wolf confirmed to the HERALD a reported change in State Public Works Dept. policy. Whereas in other years the town plowed Broadway and Newbridge Road and was never compensated by the state, State Public Works officials in Albany and Babylon told the town crews to stay away. Hereafter, the state will do the job and the state deserves the full blame for the deplorable condition of Broadway (from the Milleridge at Jericho Tpke. south to and beyond Hempstead Tpke) which apparently did not see a snow plow until late Monday night.

Wolf said that his office has been besieged with complaints about Broadway but that he was powerless to do anything in view of the State Public Works Dept. edict. He also disclosed that the County Public Works Dept. does not plan to remove snow from business streets. In the past this has been done by the town in a cooperative arrangement with the county.

The state apparently plans no removal of snow. On Wednesday of this week there were mountains of snow along the curb lines, spilling over on to the sidewalk areas and making pedestrian travel difficult if not impossible.

CD To Stock 3 Shelters

The Hicksville Civil Defense Unit 312 is planning to stock three more shelters in the near future according to Henry F. Brodbeck, Community C. D. Director. One shelter will be in the Mid Island Plaza truck tunnel, the space to be provided by Shop Rite Stores, in the same area as the 200 bed hospital that can be set up under the Plaza. The second location is in the Professional Building, 35 No. Broadway and a third at the Central Federal Savings and Loan Assoc. at Broadway and West John St.

Volunteers are urgently needed to help unload the trucks in stocking the shelters. All able-bodied persons over 14 who can help during the daytime, Monday thru Saturday, are urged to call the CD Director at WE 8-2776.

6 Select Pupils For LI Festival

Six students from the Jericho Public Schools have been selected to participate in the eighth annual Long Island String Festival which will be held in Freeport High School on February 16th, Sunday, at 3:00 P.M. The following Jericho pupils have been selected:

From Junior High School - Cindy Bellmar, Viola and Clorinda Mulligan, Viola.

From Elementary School - Kathy Combs, Paula Libera, Paula Grabler all Violins, and Steven Molloy, Bass.

Dr. Maynard Wetlaufer, Director of Music in Freeport Schools will act as Association and the New York Chapter of American String Teachers Association. Some 350 string students representing schools of Nassau County will perform in three orchestras drawn from the elementary, junior high, and senior high schools. Mr. Martin Reichman, president of the Long Island String Festival, announces the guest conductors as follows: Senior High School Orchestra, Emanuel Vardi, of New York City; Junior High School Orchestra, Vyatas Martjousias, Hartford, Connecticut; Elementary School Orchestra, Howard Lee Koch of Bay Shore.

The purpose of the Festival is to encourage and stimulate the study of string instruments in the schools. As proof that the Festival has been successful in this objective, the Festival has doubled its size since its inception eight years ago. The Festival was formerly held in one concert for both Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The application of over 650 string students last year indicated to the officers of the Festival that two concerts must be held to accommodate the growing number of string students in the two counties. This year, each county will now have its own Long Island String Festival. Both festivals will be managed by the Long Island String Festival Association with the same guest conductors conducting.

Ten Pin Talk

by Henry Dockswall

By the time you read this, the first half championship will have been decided. But at this moment, and until we have our lox and bagels Monday night to celebrate the end of the first half, we don't know who the champs will be. The Spooks or the Spoilers? Take your pick. Morris Garelick's Spooks have 79 pts. and Mort Levine's Spoilers have 77. It's position night and there's nowhere for them to go but at each other.

There were eight 200 games last week. This is the season high for any one night. Sid Sachs bowled one of them, shooting 201's last the rest of his Spoilers teammates weren't much help and they lost a squeaker to Norman Ney's Jets 4-3.

Sy Bruckner came up with his sixth one, an even 200, and when his Umlick teammate Horace Bernstein exploded with a 222 this was enough to make minced meat out of Murray Iske's farshlugens Bulls. This 7-0 victory jumped Sam Springer's Umlicks into sole possession of 3rd place just one point ahead of Leo Geyer's Lions.

Leo bowled his fourth good one a 211, and helped his Lions to a 4-3 win over Al Minoff's Bubulas. For awhile though, Al's Bubulas went berserk. Al himself threw a 200, Hal Garfinkel bowled a 218 and Ely Fisher came through with a 201 to salvage three points for their Bubula teammates.

One record was broken this past week. Sam Springer's Umlicks, during their whitewash of Iske's Bulls, hit a new High Team Series Scratch of 2491.

Three men are vying for the honor of Highest Average Bowler: Leo Geyer 173, Sy Bruckner 171 and Sid Sachs 170. Two others, Ruby Skyles 167 and Mort Levine 166 are threatening to make it a five man race. These five men would make a pretty good All Star Team to represent our league in any All Star competition in this area. Do I hear any takers?

Bank Offers Meeting Room

The Chase Manhattan Bank on Jericho Turnpike in Syosset will open its permanent office for business Monday January 20, 1964.

In the basement of the building a meeting room has been built with a capacity for approximately 100 people. In addition there is a fully equipped kitchen. These facilities will be offered free to any organization requesting it.

Organizations are requested to call the bank manager William McCasbill at WA 1-2355 for further information. The room will be assigned to groups on a first come basis.

NOW CASTING

Here I am, my little mouse and I, to keep you posted on current events in Birchwood Park. We want to keep you informed on a variety of things that are going on in various organizations or with your friends and neighbors. Birthdays, anniversaries, etc. How do we do this? It's quite simple. We listen in on phone conversations, linger behind closed doors when private conversations are going on, open up everyone's mail, but most of all we score it an interesting item when you call GE 3-9789 and give it to us personally on the phone.

Are you reaching a point where everything is either trite, boring or passe? You need a new interest! How about joining the Glee Club or the Dramatic Work Shop Classes. Why not come down to the first meeting of the "Jericho Players" on Jan 29th. Sorry I do not know where the meeting place is going to be. All I know is that they will have election of officers and an evening of entertainment has been planned. When I find out more about it I will let you know. In the meantime you can call Mini Gruber WE 8-8048 for further information on the glee club dramatic classes or the Jericho Players meeting.

I'll be down to get you in a taxi honey

The Nassau County Republicans recognized the ability of our own Ralph Diamond of Fountain Lane. They had him conduct the seminar for the presidents of various Republican clubs on how to run a political club.

The Golden Age Club is having their membership drive. They would like all who are interested to go to the J.J.C. on Tuesday afternoons. Rose asked me to tell everyone to plan to leave the meeting a little later as she might have something of interest for you. If you are curious or would like further information call Rose Berger. Essay Contest In Second Month

On Dec. 19, 1963 "THE VILLAGER" inaugurated its parent-student essay contest. The contest was started primarily for the youth of our community - to see if we are utilizing their ideas and if they themselves are contributing to the fullest in our ever growing and complex community. What basically is the role of a teenager in a community like ours? Do they have a role and do they assume it? Do we adults give them an opportunity to have any role in building our community? Out of all these questions and many more came "The Teenagers' Role in Our Community." It is open to all Jr. and Sr. High School students living in the Village of Birchwood Park at Jericho.

As an added feature, the essay contest is likewise open to all parents. Let's see if parent's ideas on "The Teenager's Role in Our Community" coincide with that of the teenager himself. The contest will be judged in two categories, those essays submitted by teenagers, and those by adults. Bonis and plaques will be awarded to winners in both categories. Plaques are on display at Phil's Barber Shop in the Birchwood Shopping Center.

In the interest of community spirit we ask all parents to submit essays and to request their teenage sons or daughters to do likewise.

For the interest of all concerned we are reprinting the rules for the essay contest.

Rules for Essay Contest

1. The topic of the essay will be "The Teenager's Role in Our Community". Essay will be limited to 750 words.
2. Contest is open to all teenagers. (Jr. and Sr. High School students) and adults, except members of "The Villager" or their families.
3. All entries will be typewritten and double-spaced on standard 8 x 11 paper.
4. The name of the contestant SHOULD NOT APPEAR on any pages of the essay itself. A sheet should be stapled to the essay giving name, address, and if a student, the grade and school attending. These name sheets will be separated and coded so that no judge will know whose entry he is reading, other than a student or adult entry.
5. Entries will be judged by Dr. Thomas Carey, Supt. of Jericho Schools; Dr. James Redmond, Supt. of Syosset Central School Dist. #2; and Mr. Sam Hecht, former president of the Jericho School Board. Judging will be based on appropriateness, freshness, clarity of content and sincerity. Decisions of the judges will be final.
6. A $25.00 bond and an inscribed plaque will be awarded to the teenager who submits the winning essay, and to the adult who submits the winning essay.
7. All entries should be mailed to "The Villager", Jericho,

N.Y. Closing date for entries will be March 31, 1964. Winners will be notified as soon as practicable thereafter, with presentation of awards to be made at the Birchwood Civic Association's Annual Election and Dance in May. Winning essays will be printed in "The Villager".

All entries become property of "The Villager", and will not be returned.

IDENTICAL PLAQUES, such as this one, will be presented to winners of THE VILLAGER essay contest on "The Teenager's Role in Our Community." They will be fully engraved with the name of the winner.

GHOST WRITER? By the way, my little mouse is sort of related to me so that puts him out, p.s. he is looking for a ghost writer's too. He has all sorts of ideas for "The Teenager's role in our community."

That's all the news for now.

Petito Speaker

The Syosset - Jericho Democratic Club's January Guest Speaker will be Michael N. Petito of Plainville, Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay. He will discuss the first weeks of his administration and will hold an informal discussion of other topics of interest. The Guest address, which will take place immediately after the election of officers for 1964-5, will be at the Syosset Town & Country Club on Jericho Turnpike near the Syosset Shopping Center on Wednesday, Jan. 22.

The 1964 slate of officers will apparently be elected without opposition.

Have you started your essay for the contest? They won't let me enter because I'm on the staff. DOES ANYONE WANT A

The result of the last paragraph in last week's column was amusing as I have been dabbling in local history for several years now but you will remember that we honored Past Commander John Harbes several years ago for the effort he made all thru World War 2 as the picture illustrated so well... Thank you, Mr. Editor... While on the subject, I mistakenly went home from the New Year's Eve party at the Post and wore Bill Biggs' overcoat??? He is patiently awaiting the return of his and he will gladly trade the one that was left for him back to the person that has his... Call him at WE 5-0807 and straighten out the error. Thanks in behalf of Bill... Our National Commander Dan Foley will pay a visit to Long Island on Feb. 20th and will be hosted at the Massapequa Post by the 10th District... A dinner will precede this reception at Olson's in Massapequa Park or is it Amityville at 6:30 P.M. Commander Dick Hochbrueckner and his lovely Cynthia will be in attendance and I presume the Color Guard will turn out at The Massapequa reception with our Colors later that evening... The National Commander skipped Long Island last year for the first time in recent years... Commander Hochbrueckner announced that Louis Cesta has accepted a new and important position at the Post, that of the Insurance Officer... this will include both Life and Limited Medical types. Since January 1st our Bond Sales have once more picked up again and I wonder if the first interest payments had anything to do with it... Hurry if you want to buy some of these 6% interest paying bonds as soon there won't be any left... Call Al Carpenter at WE 5-4739 for more information... Another new member has joined the Color Guard thus bringing their membership total to its all time high, he's Stuart Armstrong... Welcome to the "gang", Stuart... And now how about YOU signing up a new member for the Post as we are engaged rather heavily in the proposition of winning the membership race in our 3rd Division. See you at the next meeting and we'll have a good session.

Operation VFW

William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211
by Eddie Klebing

"For good reasons the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States of America is widely recognized for its understanding and leadership in matters pertaining to the security of the United States." These flattering words were those of Senator Hubert Humphrey at a recent session in Congress.

The good Senator from Minnesota was referring to the recent telegram VFW Commander in Chief Joseph Lombardo sent to President Lyndon B. Johnson assuring him of the support from the VFW in the administration's recent plans to establish a U.S. naval force in the Indian Ocean area.

This third largest body of water on the globe, for the greater part of Western History, was heavily patrolled by the British Navy. Now, with the virtual disappearance of the Royal Navy the area has become a dangerous power vacuum.

In World War II the Japanese almost penetrated it in a decisive way and the United States contributed to its defense notably with submarines.

The establishment of an Indian Ocean fleet is one of the most important and necessary steps our Nation can take to resist Communist expansion. The VFW has advocated such action for several years as indicated by their adopted resolutions at their conventions for years.

A gentle reminder to those who are receiving benefits from the Veterans Administration, be sure to complete the necessary forms and return them in time. Review your G.I. insurance coverage to see if it meets with your present and future needs. While you are doing that, check your calendar to see what you have planned for Washington's Birthday. If you have nothing, remember that's the night of our annual dinner and dance. Interested? So is chairman Frank Blesil. Contact him now if you plan coming.

TRAVELLING WITH NANCY: Quiet Christmas in Bolonga

Excerpts from letter from Nancy Johnson from Bolonga, Italy, dated 12/26.
We spent a quiet Christmas in Bolonga. Have been eating pizzas, in Italy they are as large as a plate, you eat them with a knife and fork, they cost 50¢ and a quart of wine is 45¢. Other food is more expensive in Italy than we found in Germany.

We have been driving through snow and rain, have 2800 miles on the car. Germany's Autobahns are excellent roads and free except the two going through East Germany to Berlin. There are two lanes in each direction with an emergency lane and large divider in the middle. They only have speed limits in the cities and in danger areas, otherwise it is unlimited. We average about 66 miles per hour on flat ground. They have double buses hitched together in the cities and big trailers hitched together. When it is windy, these trailers are all over the road. Italy's Autostradas are toll roads, we figure about $1 for 50 miles. We drove to Florence on the 24th and the road is unbelievable. We went through part of the Appenines and the road crosses many gorges 350 feet down on both sides and went through many tunnels right through the mountains. Wind and ice warnings were posted. Coming back to Bologna we drove through a storm worse than the blizzard of '48. We drove 20 miles per hour most of the way. A truck stopped to put on chains and another truck got stuck alongside on an upgrade. We tried to get up on the concrete center mall to pass them and got stuck ourselves. Between the three of us and a few Italians pushing, we got back on the road. As long as we kept moving we didn't need chains as we have new tires and plenty of weight. City driving is something else. Here the streets are labyrinth type and they always seem to be one way the wrong way. There is no such thing as going around the block if you miss a street. Gas is very expensive, about 65 to 70¢ a gallon.

We didn't celebrate Thanksgiving as they don't recognize this holiday in Europe and there wasn't a turkey to be had except at the Army base in Berlin.

Florence was just loaded with art. We saw Michaelangelo's "David" and it is perfection itself. We are going to Padova on the 29th to hear the opera Marion. We went to Milan to LaScala last week and attended two operas. Drove into Switzerland for a short visit.

In The Beginning WE SAID

This Is Our First Issue

This is the first issue of the Mid-Island Herald, the community newspaper for the fast-growing mid-island community of Hicksville and vicinity. It is presented without apologies although the staff realizes its deficiencies and opportunities for improvement. To this end, the comments and opinions of the readers for whom it is written and published are respectfully solicited.

The Herald makes its debut with supreme confidence in the future. We believe the people of this community want a newspaper devoted to their best interests. This is an independent newspaper owing allegiance to no one save the community and people for whom it is produced. Its real owners are the members of a partnership—and you, as a reader, are one of the principals in that partnership. The partners are the subscribers, the advertisers, and the folks who provide us with items of interest.

There are many debunkers at large in this age. The debunkers are the guys who can prove that Washington did not chop down a cherry tree, or that religion is not "fashionable," or that peace cannot come to the world. The ranks of the debunkers are small but they make a lot of noise. They would have you understand that you can't believe what you read in the newspapers. But informed citizens are not deceived by that tribe and you are invited to judge for yourself if the Herald deserves your support and confidence.

A spur to greater effort at this hour when our pride and joy bursts upon the community—without a touch of stage fright as we come before the critical audience—is the overwhelming expression of good wishes and pledges of support from all sides. It is our ambition to merit such confidence, to deserve such cheering section.

A community can exist without a newspaper, but stronger community spirit and understanding can be built if there is a well-read local medium for news, information and expression.
