HICKSVILLE WATER DISTRICT and the community as a whole has come a long ways during the interval between these two pictures. The Water District is this year celebrating its 40th year and to mark the historic event the present Commissioners conducted a tour of the new modern administration building on Dean St. for a group of community representatives. Special guests who have contributed much to the development of the water districts were (seated in picture at left) August P. Deppisch, only living member of the original Board of Commissioners (he's also seated at the left in the picture at the right) and Charles E. Colthurst who was commissioner from 1947 to 1956. Deppisch served for 17 years, ending in 1941. Pump No. 1 which early became the first administration building of the District on Bethpage Rd. and was

Joseph A. Reinhardt, Cashier of the Long Island National Bank.

On June 30, the water district hit a peak demand for this year with 16,206,000 gallons pumped. This is close to the all-time peak for a single day of 16,911,000 gallons recorded last summer.

The growth of the water district can be noted from these statistics. In its first year when the local population was 4900, it had 35 customers, growing to 1,065 by 1930. Today there are nearly 15,000 customers with a population of 54,000. Today there are 14 wells and four storage tanks with a fifth contemplated for Stewart Ave. The system consists of 149 miles of pipe and there are 1,480 fire hydrants in the 7.67 square miles of the water district.

Boys' Staters from Hicksville:

Men with a Future

By RICHARD EVERS
Americanism Chairman
Chas. Wagner Post 421

Where are the American Legion's Boys' State representatives of other years was a question which came to mind as Dennis Yattras, this year's fine candidate, came back from the program at Colgate University? This writer found them, as was expected, succeeding with scholastic activities, earning officers' commissions, traveling, working for tuition money and getting married.

Kenneth Foran of Foran Place, the 1958 American Legion Boys' State, has pursued a college career and summer activity program which has brought him enviable travel and humanitarian experience. A 1963 Dartmouth College graduate, Kenneth has completed his first year of law study at Cornell University. He completed the Marine Officers Training School at Quantico, Virginia and holds a Lieutenant's Commission in the Reserve. In 1961, he was sponsored by Operation Crossroads Africa organization, an organization working to help African peoples raise their standards of living by direct physical teamwork and study groups. Kenneth visited several African communities and lived and worked among the people. His 1963 summer activity was spent living in Rome, Italy, while working as an insurance underwriter apprentice for the second most important Italian real estate development company. Besides learning a bit of practical Italian, Foran had time to visit 17 countries. His scholarship awards recently include being honored by citation as the Dartmouth Rufus Choate Scholar in 1963. This summer, he is working in a traineeship sponsored by the Real Estate Board of New York City.

Ivars Bemberis, Hicksville's 1959 Boys' State, can stand as an example of what an intelligent boy with determination can do to prepare himself for life while bringing honor to his parents and community. Ivars, an immigrant boy from Latvia is remembered for his rugged middle weight competition as a wrestler in high school competition. He has just recently graduated from Dartmouth College where he attended on scholarship. Maintaining an high scholastic record while continuing to participate in college wrestling, Mr. Bemberis still found time to complete R.O.T.C. training. Commissioned a Reserve 2nd Lieutenant in the Army, last month, he was recently married. His immediate plans call for scholarship attendance at the Thayer School of Engineering of Dartmouth, following which he will enter Uncle Sam's service for two years of active duty.

Michael Cosonas of Gables Road, 1960's Boys' State, has completed his senior year at Hofstra University. Michael, a biology student with honors rating, is earning a Liberal Arts degree in Education with the goal of teaching. A member of Hofstra's R.O.T.C. program, he is at Indiantown Gap, Pennsylvania, undergoing a six week's summer training program. A scholarship winner, was recently granted in the elite national honor society of the Reserve Officers program, "Scabbard and Blade".

Stuart Shore of 26 Lantern Road, 1961 candidate, is a junior at Antioch College where he pursues a Liberal Arts degree. An outstanding scholar in high school, Stuart is seriously interested in creative writing.

Jeffrey Goldstein of 3 Sunnyfield Road, the 1962 Boys' State candidate of the American Legion, is a junior in the exacting undergraduate program of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Jeffrey, holder of a New York State Regents Scholarship, is pursuing a program in chemistry and physics. Active in high school student government and dramatics, he follows those extracurricular interests at Rensselaer. He is currently on the Dean's List, an honor, indeed, at a top-flight school of engineering. This summer, Jeffrey is working for a pharmaceutical concern in Manhattan, an employment choice indicative of his careful search for a worthwhile professional or business career.

Paul Cosasano of 119 5th St., 1963 Boys' State, has just graduated from the Hicksville High School. An unusually fine athlete with letters won in basketball, lacrosse and football, Paul added much lustre to the record of the Orange and Black. He will start the Liberal Arts program of St. John's University in September. Understandably, Paul is interested in putting his excellent sports ability and sound scholarship, to good use as a teacher.

Dennis Yattras, 39 Twinlawn Avenue, this year's Boys' State was chosen to represent Hicksville on the basis of all-around excellence. A true scholar and gentleman and an athlete, he has shown varied school leadership and cooperative ability. Dennis has his ultimate sights on a naval career and is working for an appointment to Annapolis.

Dennis has written the following letter to the Charles Wagner Post, American Legion, Hicksville:

"Let me take this opportunity to thank you for sponsoring me as a delegate to Boys' State at Colgate University."

"The week spent at this practical school of political science was an experience which will be long remembered. The new knowledge of the many and varied functions of our city, county and state governments, coupled with a now complete understanding of the duties of a citizen in a democracy will be invaluable in my adult life. The participation in the operation of political caucuses, served as an excellent simulation of actual political practices."

"Once Again, thank you for granting me this honor."

The Boys' State program of the American Legion is an unusually productive school of government and good citizenship. Its participants are outstanding junior classmen of a community's high school, selected by the principal and his staff for combinations of scholarship, school citizenship and leadership, and athletic performance and sponsored by local Legion posts.

Conducted at a college or university, the program is one of a week to two weeks' familiarization with the functions of local and state government and the duties of citizenship. In a unique activity of simulated government, the boys, upon arrival at the Boys' State site, are assigned to mythical political parties and to a city and county.

They proceed, through instruction by actual officials of government and through the mediums of caucus and convention, to nominate candidates for office, elect one and to function as elected or appointed officials.

In operation since 1935, the American Legion's Boys' State program has introduced over a half million potential youth to the duties and responsibilities both of citizens and of public officials.

Over 20,000 boys attend more than 47 state programs each year and so much stature does the program have that its participants are favored by college placement offices, personnel managers and the nation's service academies.

It will include laying 18-inch pipe from Fordham Ave. to Buckner Ave., and 24-inch pipe from that point to the existing system on Elwood Ave.

Local Delegates in Calif.

THE NASSAU COUNTY delegation was very much in evidence at the Republican Convention in San Francisco last week. Left to right are V. L. Leitbell of the State delegation, North Hempstead Supervisor Clinton G. Martin, Hempstead Presiding Supervisor Palmer D. Farrington and C. Bruce Pearsall, Republican leader of the Town of Oyster Bay, who participated in the several caucuses of the State delegation as well as the conferences on convention maneuvers. Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlinio (not shown) received nationwide attention for his efforts at sessions on the Platform Committee. Congressman Steven B. Derouanian (also not in picture) gave a sparkling seconding speech for Congressman William Miller for the vice presidential nomination. Local delegates endorsed the nomination of Senator Barry Goldwater when he won on the first ballot. (Maple Leaf Photo Service)

President's Corner

by Arnold F. Winant

This summer there is "something new under the sun". The Jericho community has been asking lately about all the talk for a Public Library in Jericho. I will try to answer some of these questions here. Actually the idea is not so new. About five years ago several community-minded residents tried to bring a Public Library to Jericho but the referendum was defeated twice.

What do I know about this entire matter? I know that in Wantagh, a community about Jericho's size, they tried to get a library for twelve years, from the first negative vote twelve years ago to community approval a year and a half ago. And now, just one and one-half years after the library got under way, the demand for its services is fantastic. Over 800 books a day go out! The Wantagh Library tax rate comes to about ten dollars per family per year! Wantagh, like Jericho, had been using two or three libraries in neighboring communities. They were "invited" out of one and the rates went up in another. This could happen here. It also happened in North Merrick. We know that in Hicksville a building-expansion program for the library is under way. Our non-resident fee of fifteen dollars is bound to be affected; upwards. Jericho residents already spend over $15,000 a year for non-resident privileges at Hicksville, Westbury, Plainville and Syosset. Memberships increase that sum substantially.

When our students study for College Boards, they must read material that is not to be found in a school library. Their reading must be exceptionally wide in selection! Our school libraries are now considered adequate by state standards for school facilities. But are there enough books, on a broad enough range of topics to meet all the needs of all our children, at convenient time periods during the day or evening? A Public Library does supply such a service. A set of encyclopedias in your home is not the answer. A Public Library maintains many sets of diversified reference collections! — And the most recent ones are always available.

How about us adults? Should we have easy access to technical and light reading on an adult level, at times of day or evening that comply with adult working hours? Besides the books that a library offers, it can be used as a community center, a place for meetings, for adult clubs, for hobby and lecture groups, for special film showings, etc. Would the community benefit from this. There has always been talk about blending Jericho into a real home-town kind of community not just a group of "developments" loosely assembled into a school district. Would a Jericho Public Library help us feel that we are getting there?

The Jericho Water Supply

By HY STRELL

(This article is the second in a series on the Jericho water supply. Most of the material used in these articles is based upon conversations between the writer and Cornelius H. Smith, Business Manager of the Jericho Water District. Today's story concerns the administration and makeup of the Jericho Water District.)

The Jericho Water District is an instrumentality of the Town of Oyster Bay, created by covenant between the Town Board and the Board of Water Commissioners on July 3, 1923. With the exception of the Commissioners, the employees are Nassau County civil servants. The Commissioners are elected by the consumers for three-year terms, staggered so that one Commissioner is elected each year.

The current Board of Commissioners consists of Chairman Howard P. Kreutzer, who has served on the Board for over thirty years; Treasurer Edward P. Bracken, Jr., a Mineola attorney; and Secretary Charles Kiel, Jr., of Glenwood Landing, who is also a LIACO vice-president. Business Manager Cornelius H. Smith is a career man with the Water District, having started as a meter reader and maintenance man 19 years ago. He has been in the District office for fifteen years, and has held the position of Business Manager for about five years.

The Water District is under the jurisdiction of the Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay. Although the District prepares its own budget and operates entirely within its income from water revenues, the budget is subject to approval by the Town Board. Budget hearings are held some time in August, and are announced in the Syosset Tribune and the Oyster Bay Guardian. The budget provides for the payment of employee salaries, the construction of new facilities, and payment for any water that may have been obtained from other districts. Operating surpluses are retained by the Water District in its reserve fund.

The Town Board, in addition to passing on the budget, is responsible for approving the construction of storage tanks and collecting as of Sept. 15 of each year an entered on the property tax bill, and become town liens against the offending property. The construction of wells is subject to the approval of the New York State Water Resources Board and the Nassau County Board of Health.

The Jericho Water District is bounded roughly by the Suffolk line on the east, the North Hempstead town line on the west, the school district lines of Hicksville and Plainville on the south, and the school district line of Oyster Bay on the north. Covering a total area of 37.5 square miles, it is the largest water district in the state. It serves 13,000 metered users representing a total consumer population of about 50,000. It is estimated that 96.5% of the users are residential.

Included within the boundaries of the Jericho Water District are nine incorporated villages, seven fire districts, and four school districts. The incorporated villages are Brookville, Old Brookville, Upper Brookville, Muttontown, Matinecock, Laurel Hollow, Oyster Bay Cove, Old Westbury, and Roslyn Harbor. The fire districts are Syosset, Woodbury, East Norwich, Jericho, Oyster Bay, Roslyn, and Glenwood Landing.

The District has four water towers, fifteen wells, and 250 miles of mains. The water towers are located in Wheatley, Jericho, Syosset, and Woodbury. The capacities are one million gallons, 1.5 million gallons, 1.5 million gallons, and two million gallons, respectively. The towers are normally connected to each other, and in addition have emergency connections to the towers in neighboring districts. When the towers are full, the water level in each is 402 feet above sea level. (This figure was erroneously reported to be 202 feet in the previous article.) The relatively high water level is required because the District serves some of the highest elevations on Long Island. The highest elevation in the District (the Otto Kahn estate) is within one foot of the island's peak.

The wells in the Jericho District range from 400 feet to 625 feet in depth. The water mains use twelve-inch diameter pipe encased in a sixteen-inch diameter sheath. The most recently completed well (on Wheatley Road) was placed in operation on June 1.

As in the past year's, are from all areas of the Jericho School District.

To qualify for the grant, confidential questionnaires are forwarded by the students directly to Princeton University. With the cooperation of Hofstra University, the final students are selected on a basis of financial assistance required for their education.

This is the fourth year in which the Jericho Scholarship Fund has made these awards and grants on behalf of the residents of the Jericho School District.

Fund Presents Awards, Grants

The Jericho Scholarship Fund Committee presented its Annual Scholarship Awards to five graduating high school students on June 24.

The students: Bruce Browner, 11 Maytime Drive; Jack Feinman, 12 Yates Lane; Arthur Kaminsky, 142 Leahy Street; Linda Lerner, 101 Village Drive; and Elliot Lipstock, 132 Hazelwood Drive received $100 savings bonds in recognition of their outstanding achievements in high school.

Presenting the awards at a ceremony at the Vienneuse Coach Restaurant were Dr. Thomas Carey, Superintendent of Jericho Schools; John Heller, Principal of the Jericho High School, Mario Della Vecchia, Chairman of the Jericho Scholarship Fund Committee and the members of the Committee. The students' parents were additionally honored by the Committee.

Each year, five awards of $100 savings bonds are presented to graduating students of Jericho High School who have exhibited outstanding scholastic ability during their high school careers. At the same time an announcement was made by the Scholarship Fund Committee of the presentation of grants totaling $3,500 to seven graduating students of Jericho High School.

These grants are provided to aid worthy students in their college careers and are contingent on successful completion of an acceptable college or business school program. Each student receives 40% of the grant prior to the first year and 20% prior to each succeeding year in school. The students selected in 1964,

Board Elects Dr. Carin, Hyams

The Jericho Board of Education held its Reorganization and Regular Meeting on July 7th in the High School Speech and Drama Room. Dr. Arthur Carin was re-elected as President of the Board, and Ira Hyams was elected as Vice President. Leo Sugarman was appointed as Treasurer, and the current law firm and auditors were re-appointed for next year. James Slattery was re-appointed as Business Manager of the School District, but the Board also moved that there be an examination into the possibility that the positions of Board Clerk and Business Manager might be differentiated in the future.

The First National City Bank was chosen to be the depository of District funds since its handling of interest would be more beneficial to the District than some other banks polled. The newspapers to be used for Board announcements were designated to be Newsday and/or Mid-Island HERALD. Henceforth, regular Board meetings will be on the third Monday of each month (rather than the third Thursday as previously.) Meetings will be held at a different school each month. It was also decided that henceforth, the audience would be polled early in the meeting for which items on the Agenda were of greatest interest to those present, and those items would be considered first. Also, it was suggested that in the future the Board's actions on bills might be deferred for the later part of the meeting.

Under New Business, the Board voted to remain part of the Nassau School Development Council, a group which jointly provides experts to appraise and then make recommendations in areas of concern to all member schools. The Council has recently analyzed work in Modern Math and Evaluation of English Composition.

The Board also discussed the recent ruling by the State that local districts be responsible for the 5% contribution to the Teachers' Retirement Fund which was being released to increase teachers' take-home pay. If local Boards must pay this sum, it could mean $75,000 in 1965 for our District, or about 15¢ on the tax rate. The Board moved to urge that the State which had mandated the change in the law should also pay the contribution.

In addition the Board joined with many other School Boards in instituting legal proceedings against the state to recover funds withheld by the State Teacher's Retirement system for a deficiency fund.

It has been determined that this fund has been satisfied during the past year and the School Board is trying to recover approximately $24,000 for the past year and prevent the state from continuing to deduct for this fund for next year. This would amount to an estimated $50,000 additional.

The Board also voted to retain Dr. Roscoe Brown of NYU to do another study of the projected growth of our District. Factors leading to this include: an unusual growth spurt in the Canigie and Seaman areas; the possibility of a parochial school developing in the near future; the definition of the Nike site as a school area; and the best possible utilization of our present school facilities.

Another matter that arose was that of the Student Accident Insurance.

Gertz American League Champs

By Milt Pryor

The Hicksville American Little League honors by sweeping a two game squad. The banters were last years' town champs, copping the American crown and then taking the National and International town contests as well.

The Gertz - Central Federal contest was a real cliff hanger. John Byrnes and Kenny Suarez were locked in a 2 all pitchers duel. In the last of the sixth inning with one out, Bobby Pryor, the Minor A rookie on loan to the Gertz squad smashed a triple to bring in Dennis Rosenblatt with the winning run. A smashing climax to a wonderful season. Manager John Byrnes and Coach John Uss are to be congratulated for bringing out the best in these young Little Leaguers. Many practice sessions and constant instructional meetings paid off for the team, as they are now 8 wins without a defeat in the second half of the League season. In early August, the Gertz squad will face the Major League Winners in the National & International League to determine the Hicksville Town champs. May the best squad win.

Our Minor A champs are still awaiting a response from the other two leagues in reference to the Minor A All Star game.

Carl Grunewald, our town councilman, whose party is sponsoring the Hicksville Republican squad, suggested that we contact the other two leagues for the Hicksville town champs of the Minor A. We have not been given any decision as of this writing.

Feelers have been sent out to the various graduates of our League to determine how many of the boys wish to have a Pony & Colt League or whether we should continue with our Senior League program. We would appreciate your replies as early as possible so that the Directors can determine what course of action we should take this coming season.

Our third Weekly Old Timers soft ball game was played last Sunday and although the bones don't creak as readily and the muscles are not as sore as they were last week, we all still have a long way to go. Like Kaufman is now blasting a long ball. John De Rosa is making fewer errors, and Mike Maddi is now a terror on the base pads.

Tag Day was held last Sunday, and we wish to thank the wonderful people in our area for their generous contributions. This money was badly needed. We wish to thank the many parents and Little Leaguers who volunteered to help out to make this 1964 Tag Day the best one that we ever had. It takes a tremendous amount of money and parent co-operation to run a Little League. Our townspeople have been super. We all thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your generous backing.

It has come to my attention that we have requested a meeting with the other two Baseball Associations for the purpose of having one graduate division for our League Graduates. We have also shown the other Leagues that with one combined purchasing group, we would be able to buy baseball supplies, uniforms and safety equipment at a saving to our community of at least 20% of our combined expenditure. No doubt our townspeople are tired of three different groups approaching them about team sponsorships. Our sponsors have been wonderful to our boys. Lets give them a break. Why can't Hicksville stick together as the other towns do?

Nothing has been done about our fields since last writing. If we have to take this entire problem to the school board, or our governing body at Oyster Bay, or if necessary to the Nassau County Leaders, we are going all out on this serious situation. We will not tolerate conditions that are now existing. Our boys will no longer be injured unnecessarily. We pay for good, clean fields, and I can't see why the parents, the directors, etc. must come out before the game and clean and rake the fields. Schwaab Field still does not have any benches. There still isn't any water for our boys to drink. The other Baseball Association in Hicksville voice similar complaints. If we combine under one head, we will have town strength and support. The rest is up to you. We are willing to start the ball rolling. Are you?

Matty Burgay of the Gillison squad allowed the Rotary team 2 hits to pitch a strong game. Lou Veltry had two hits to lead the Gillison Squad. Rudy DePalma, the Rotarians regular 2nd baseman played behind the plate and turned in a creditable performance. Dick Eaton (The young one) hit a double in the first inning driving in the only two runs scored against his father's team. Dick Eaton (The Elder) deserves a lot of credit for the tremendous job that he has done since taking over the managerless Gillison team in addition to his duties as league prexy. His squad is now playing the best ball in the league, with the possible exception of the Gertz powerhouse gang.

In the Minor A this week, Bill Coffey, manager of the Botto Bros. Plumbing and Heating squad is very happy about the rapid improvement of Bob Varga. His last three pitching efforts have been strong ones, and his pounding the ball hit the second half of season play has pushed his average way up in the 300. Keep it up Bobby, we're all with you.

With the split of their two games this week, Fairway Farms has lost ground to the Hicksville Republicans. Fairway must now win all their remaining games. If the Republicans do as well, then it's all over. Mary Goldberg, the Fairway skipper, told me that he is not continuing his guys out of the race, and he will not give up until the final out. Mary, you did it last year and we know you will sure try to do it again this one as well. Good luck.

Udell Drugs spoiled the unblemished record of the Mr. Softee squad with their stirring win last week. Udell Drugs is now 6 wins and 2 losses and the Softee team is now 7 and 1. Tech Alloy has added another win to their collection, and with the end of the league play in sight it is quite evident that the Tech-Alloy Welders has made the most team progress of any other team in the Minor B Division. Next year we will be seeing these boys as experienced ball players. That is my prediction.

Operation VFW

William M. Gause Jr., Post No. 3211
by Eddie Klebing

This coming Monday, July 27, the annual drawing held in conjunction with the picnic takes place right after the meeting. We wish the best of luck to all our friends and members who are helping to make this outing one of the best.

Then, two weeks from now, the big fun-feast takes place at Teddy Roosevelt Beach in Oyster Bay. Chairman Joe Roccaro will need all the help he can get from the members in the line of refreshments and game activities. Having been on the last three picnic committees I can assure you that from here on in the going gets tough for the chairman and his committee. Joe will welcome all the help he can get and you can volunteer to do that this Monday evening.

Other committees and functions are progressing smoothly, so we are advised, but no big action is being taken and there probably won't be until after the picnic.

Request from the Hicksville Fire Department to display our colors in the annual Labor Day Parade will receive an affirmative answer.

Gene Iatropelli, who hasn't attended a meeting for some time, attended the last one and received an additional reward by winning the Post raffle.

The good advice and hints from the Veterans Administration comes in the form of radio and television commercials, magazines, and many times through the veterans columns published in this newspaper. Some recent ones are:

While eligibility for loans guaranteed by the V.A. may be running out for many veterans of W.W. II it is not so in the case of unmarried widows of such veterans who died of service connected causes. These widows remain eligible until July 25, 1967.

Members of the armed forces reserves are reminded that they are eligible for disability compensation for injuries incurred in the line of duty during drill or other authorized active-duty training. Applications should be made at the nearest V.A. offices.

In closing, our next meeting promises to be an interesting one. So, come on down, I'll see you then.

Job Network Opens Local Office

A new concept in job placement and employee recruitment launches operated on Long Island this week as part of the Controlled Manpower network.

The local branch is a major unit in the national employment and recruiting system covering all important population and industrial centers throughout the country. The C/M system utilizes centralized computer control to register, identify and match up job applicants with employer requirements - from typists to top executives.

The new Hicksville office at 81 North Broadway will be headed by Eugene L. Bakewell of Cold Spring Harbor who is also a Regional Director of the national organization.

Clinic For Senior Citizens

Hicksville Senior Citizens will attend a Bowling Clinic, at the Bethpage Bowl, Hempstead Tpke. and Stewart Ave., on Wednesday, at 10:30 A.M.

Hicksville Seniors, 50 years young and up, have been invited to participate in this free Bowling. The Clinic will cover all phases of learning to Bowl, and will continue for five weeks.

Mrs. Conrad Heck, of 126 West Marie St., membership director, is co-ordinator of this project.

Reports from Washington

UNITED STATES FUNDS AID FOREIGN POSTAL SYSTEM

While the United States postal system cuts back on services, and complaints over inefficiencies grow, the American taxpayer's money is being used to expand and improve postal systems abroad.

Garden City Park has been office for years but United States aid will go into a new post office building in La Paz, Bolivia.

The Postmaster General has 2,500 requests for urgently needed new post offices over the country. Construction on hundreds of sites selected for approved post offices has not yet been started.

The Post Office Department has discontinued all Sunday window service.

Saturday window service has been cut to four hours.

Parcel Post delivery service has been cut back from six to five days a week.

Strangely, though, the money was found to design the costly ZIP code system, which is not even being used by the Post Office Department. A director of the United Federation of Postal Clerks says the Department "probably won't use it for another ten years."

While service is going down, postal rates are going up. While the American taxpayer suffers through cutbacks, and is told there aren't sufficient funds for the post office his own needs, his money is being used to improve and expand systems in South America.

Although first unwilling to acknowledge this fact, State Department officials now admit that "funds are being used to improve postal service in Bolivia."

Ironically, the AID subsidy program is going to pay the way to train two Bolivian postal officials in this country "in postal administration." It seems to me that our officials can stand some training themselves in efficient administration and use of the taxpayers' money.
