Marching Every Night:

Rival Picket Lines Crowds Grow

Two swelling groups of pickets continued their nightly parades in front of the Vigilant Associates real estate office at 234 Old Country Rd., near Newbridge, Hicksville, for the seventh evening, Monday. What had begun a week before as a group of seven CORE pickets and three anti-CORE marchers had grown into circulating lines, separated by alert policemen, exceeding 100.

At the same time the number of spectators grouped around the edges of the picket lines and across Old Country Rd had grown from a few curious into hundreds. The picket parade starts at about six o'clock each evening although lines were forming at 11 Sunday morning. On Monday night a helmeted riot squad of about 50 policemen arrived in two vans at about 9 o'clock and by 9:15 the CORE pickets had left the scene. The crowd then slowly dissolved.

Two young men were arrested at the scene, Sunday and police charged they found rocks in their hands. One Bethpage man was arrested for disorderly conduct, Monday night. A young Hicksville girl was hurt, Monday, when she fell while getting down from the shoulders of a fellow picket. A police ambulance was called to the scene.

Signs carried by the opposing pickets gave little clue to specific reason for the demonstration at that particular location. The following were noted Monday night: "We Protest Discrimination", "Jobs, Freedom, Equal Opportunity for all - LI CORE", "Force No, Reason Yes", "Is CORE Pink", "White Bigots Cause Black Slums", "Why Hicksville?", "How Many More Must Die?", "Dig It Bigot, Freedom Now", "Other Minorities Earn Respect", "Civil Rights for All", "Why Does Newsday Lie?", "Hicksville Never Had Trouble, Why Now?", "Respect is Earned", etc.

There appeared to be about one third more CORE pickets than the anti-group which included a number of teenagers. One of them carried a sign "People Support Your Children".

From time to time the two groups of circling pickets chanted and shouted. The CORE group also held hands from time to time and sang a little song. Sidewalk traffic was kept moving and the Vigilant office appeared to be open for business. A police official expressed the opinion to the HERALD that if the mass of spectators would go home the whole demonstration would end in a matter of minutes.

What Is It All About?

Television newscasts referred to the picketing for seven nights at Hicksville, Monday night, as resulting in a "riot." A few missiles were tossed Sunday evening and two were arrested. Another youth was arrested Monday night but there was no disorder.

According to informed sources who have followed the controversy it is alleged that a non-white Freeport man went to the realty firm and said he wished to purchase a house in a certain price range. No particular dwelling was involved. It is charged that he was told the firm only had higher cost homes listed, outside and above his range. Subsequently, a white man made the same inquiry and was promptly shown several possible buys, it is alleged. A spokesman for the realty firm has denied the allegations. The County and State Human Rights agencies have been studying the dispute.

As this issue of the HERALD went to press it was learned that The Hicksville Human Rights Committee has interested itself in the problem and has met with representatives of CORE. A meeting with officials of Vigilant Associates was being arranged.

New school district assessment figures for the Mid Island area were announced this week by the Nassau County Dept. of Assessment. The Hicksville District valuation is set at $97,896,382 compared with $93,265,108 for 1963-64.

The Jericho valuation is up to $47,130,235 from $45,006,920. The Bethpage valuation is $63,409,950 up from $58,953,180. For Old Bethpage the new total is $10,799,715. It was $10,699,370.

The Hicksville School Board is expected to set the new tax rate at its meeting of Friday night, Aug. 14. The present Hicksville School-Library rate is $5.97 per $100. An increase of about 40 cents had been forecast at budget time in May.

Kunz Seeks Re-Election As Commissioner Aug. 31

George A. Kunz, life-long resident of Hicksville and ex-Fire Chief, is a candidate for re-election as commissioner of the Hicksville Water District on Monday night, Aug. 31. Voting hours are 7 P.M. at the Hicksville Courthouse on Heltz Pl.

Kunz this week spoke of the District-wide program of improvements completed to meet the growing needs of the community for water supply, home and industrial use and fire fighting purposes during his tenure.

"The demand for water supply in the past nine years has been great and we have increased our supply by the installation of seven new wells during my term of office," he told the HERALD. "One new million and a half gallon prestressed concrete reservoir and booster pump on Dean St. and another two million gallon storage tank and booster pump station is now under construction on Stewart Ave."

"We have a weekly water analysis by the District engineers - Holzmaier, McLendon and Murrell - to assure the best and purest water supply for our District."

Born, raised and educated in Hicksville, Kunz has been active in civic and fraternal organizations all his life. He has been an active volunteer fireman for 44 years. He was captain of Emergency Co. No. 5 in 1935 and Chief of the Fire Dept. in 1947-48.

He is a past DDGM of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and a past State Councilor of the Jr. O.U.A.M.

Declaring that a vote for his re-election on Aug. 31 will be appreciated, he said "we as a Board of Commissioners have acted wisely and intelligently in the past in spending the water district funds for the best interests of the District."

No advance voter registration is required for the Aug. 31 election which will be conducted jointly by the Town Boards of Oyster Bay and Hempstead.

County Likes McIntyre Site For Historic Cantiague Rock

The possibility that the famous Cantiague Rock may finally come to rest near its historic location on W John St., Hicksville, was conceded this week by Eugene F. Gibbons, a Nassau Commissioner of Public Works, in answer to a letter from the HERALD making known the offer of O.E. McIntyre Co. to provide a special location.

Gibbons said his department is "proceeding to come to an understanding with the O.E. McIntyre Co concerning the fact that the Rock is public property and would not become the property of the company. This would assure that in the event of a change of ownership of the Company or other change the Rock would be protected."

He also wrote: "Thank you for your suggestion and we will be in touch with the O.E. McIntyre Co. concerning as soon as possible with reference to the necessary agreement before the Rock is relocated." The area to be made available by McIntyre is within a few feet of the spot the Rock occupied prior to the widening of W John St. by the County.

Hi! Bike Pilots!

Cycle pilots must obey all the rules of the road, just like motorists.

Make sure you know all the rules. When bicycling, be sure that you:

1. Come to a full stop at stop signs and red traffic lights.
2. Stop, look, and listen before entering street from sidewalk, driveway or alley.
3. Never hitch onto moving vehicles — a "free" ride may end up at the hospital.
4. Avoid riding after dark. If you must, wear something white and turn on lights.
5. Slow down at intersections. Get off and walk bike across busy streets.

YOU ARE DRIVING BLIND!

... When you turn to a passenger at your side or in the back seat for even one or two seconds. It takes only a split second for your car to swerve off the highway or into another lane of traffic.

A Fast Four-Hour Glimpse..

Don't Miss the World's Fair

By FRED J. NOETH

A visitor to the 1964 NY World's Fair who is old enough cannot help but try to draw comparisons between it and the 1939 Fair of a quarter century ago.

The present Fair is big and the walking can be hard on the legs as we discovered during a brief four-hour visit last week. We estimate it would take probably 30 or 40 visits to see everything and every exhibit in the place. Slide rides and express buses are great for getting about.

But among the things which struck us sharply:

Where are the friendly allies of yesterday? No England, no Italy, Japan is there and India and Sweden and some African Nations. But no Australia? No Germany? No, not even Russia.

And how about the grand and glorious 50 states? During our quick visit we were struck by the fact that some States were more or less represented: Hawaii, Alaska, Illinois, Oklahoma, Florida, New Jersey, New England (collectively) and of course, most nobly and grandly with the tallest structure at the Fair, by New York State. There are quite a lot of states with no representation.

And for some other thoughts, the prices range widely. Thirty-five cents for a hot dog (15 cents extra for sauerkraut), 90 cents for a shot of domestic rye, quarter for a bar-size glass of coke. But then you can spend the entire day at the Fair and not spend a dime and still have a good time. We would personally recommend that larger families come equipped with picnic basket. There are many convenient places to sit and eat.

The Fair is also much more deeply enmeshed in red tape than it was in 1939-40. It took us about a half hour to find the press entrance and then another hour or more (plus another couple of miles of running here and there) to get equipped with ordinary credentials. It was not thus a quarter century ago. It was complicated, but we remember getting our press pass in something under 10 minutes and we did not have to move more than 10 feet out of our way.

Of course the electronic age has really arrived and is in evidence on all sides. For example, when you enter the press gate you merely insert your special y treated card into the turnstyle and it goes into operation. It does not even have to be looked at by human eyes -- although there is a photo and physical description on the card which the Pinkerton guard can verify.

During our first quick look we only entered a few buildings. Most of the time we just walked and rubbernecked and walked some more. The New York State observation deck is tremendous. An egg shaped elevator with a trim miles at the controls whisks about 30 people at a time 200 feet up in to the sky. The view is breathtaking and on a clear day you can probably see out on Long Island to Hicksville and beyond.

NIGHT SCENE at the New York World's Fair of 1939-40 shows the General Motors "Highways and Horizons" exhibit with the Fair's famed Trylon and Perisphere in the background. The GM pavilion attracted some 25 million visitors. The GM Futurama at this year's Fair is as good if not better than 1939.

The Better Living Center is a tricky place. It is about four or five stories tall with a unique Hilton restaurant at the top which features at remarkably reasonable prices five or six separate staffs of chefs offering menus from North America, Europe, South America, the Orient, etc. You reach the top by riding an elevator (for which there was a long line of people waiting) or you ride to the top on one-way escalators. Then you have to walk down on gradual ramps and on the way you must pass dozens of booths which reminded us of the Mineola Fair of yesteryear. All kinds of demonstrators, booths where you can buy souvenirs, cultured pearls, a plastic gimmick to hold the telephone and leave your hands free, a camera for $2.65, etc. But the big thing was the booths of the folks selling encyclopedias. It seemed as though every set we ever heard of has a booth and all they want you to do is enter your name in a free drawing for a Caribbean cruise, a night on the town, etc. Of course, the names and addresses probably come in handy for the book salesmen at a later date.

Norelco (North American Phillips) which has a plant on Duffy Ave., Hicksville, where they make tv tubes, has a display in this building and thus is probably the only direct link our community has with the World's Fair.

We got somewhat annoyed at the LIRR exhibit of a model of Long Island, complete with a model train (which was not operating). While we realize it featured recreation points of interest, it bothered us to find Bethpage indicated (for the State Park) somewhere up North where Syosset-Jericho are located, but not a single indication of the whereabouts of Hicksville. The announcer on a taped commentator did mention the famous Long Island potato but how could he do that without reference to Hicksville? The dirty duck farms of Suffolk, which are said to be contributing to the pollution of our southern bay waters, is neatly labelled and so, of course, is Jamaica.

Among the features which we believe will warrant a return trip (next year, if necessary) is the Belgian Village still under construction. When you walk into the cobble-stone courtyard, you feel you have just taken a fast step to Europe. It is going to be a real attraction. We did think it a little odd that a Hungarian Restaurant was open for business in a section described as the Belgian Village -- but the waitresses with their native costumes do not seem out of place. The place is apparently going to be loaded with artists who will do a sketch of you (in about a half dozen media) for a small price.

And speaking of art. They have several booths where you can do your own "painting". It consists of a wooden tub (lined with foil) in the center of which is a glass case which holds a card about six by eight inches. They hand you a couple of those plastic bottles which you use in diners for spreading ketchup or mustard and set the card to spinning by means of a small motor. You squeeze various colors on the revolving card and it does make some interesting, if abstract, designs.

In the Better Living Center you could do this for 35 cents a spin or three for a dollar. Out on the street, next to the Schaefer Beer place the price was 50 cents a spin or three for a dollar. We guessed it was a matter of traffic and what it will bear. At the Schaefer bar the hard licker was going for 90 cents a belt and a bigger than usual glass of beer commands a quarter.

At Rheingold's Old New York, which is charming, it costs 15 cents to have sauerkraut on a 35-cent frankfurter at the entrance. But if you go inside to the Rheingold Tavern, the hot dog is still the same price but the sauerkraut drops to a dime. Maybe you don't get as much. We also noticed that you can do a little selective shopping in the area of souvenirs. At one stand, a plastic model of the Unisphere was tagged at $1.25. A little later we came upon the same model (same package, size, etc.) for $1.50.

UNISPHERE, symbol of the N.Y. Fair theme, "Peace Through Understanding," was engineered and built by United States Steel. The world's largest model of the globe, the stainless steel UNISPHERE rises 12 stories and weighs over 900,000 pounds.

Editorial.. Why Hicksville?

As pickets and counter pickets paraded in front of an Old Country Rd realty office for the seventh consecutive night, drawing the largest crowd of curious to date, one could not help but wonder why Hicksville has been singled out for this daily demonstration.

The signs of the pickets and the chants and cries of the marchers hardly gave a clue as to the purpose of the demonstration. The pickets and counter pickets have increased each evening and so have the number of spectators. And so have the representatives of news media.

Cameras are on all sides with fingers on the trigger waiting for something -- anything -- to happen. When there is an incident of any kind, reporters and cameramen rush to the point of activity.

To our inexperienced eyes the Nassau County Police are doing a good job of keeping spectators behind barricades by oral suggestion rather than any display of physical force. The police keep the marching pickets in motion. Back-of-the-crowd hecklers are quickly brought to order.

The pickets carry signs protesting unspecified discrimination, asking freedom, civil rights for all. Some are more pointed but not especially informative as to the purpose of the demonstrations: "How many more must die?", "Dig it Bigot, Freedom Now", and "Other Minorities Earn Respect", "People Support Your Children", "Hicksville Crime Rate is Low, Keep it So."

The image of Hicksville being portrayed to the state and nation by the daily press and television is far from flattering. We suspect that many of the pickets are not local residents and we believe that the reason for the continued demonstration is the notice being attracted in the media.

It is to be hoped that all concerned will soon tire of this nightly march and go about their normal business as soon as possible. The situation is one which could, if Sunday and Monday were examples, explode into some real difficulties.

President's Corner

By Arnold F. Winont

Some of you are probably wondering about the colorful membership cards and bumper stickers which you recently received in the mail. These are our own civic association insignia as designed by Len Greene. The "C.A." stands for Civic Assoc. These are to be displayed proudly and prominently. The sticker on your bumper will tell your neighbors and friends that there is a Civic Association, proud and strong, with more members than ever before and that you are one of them. It will also serve as a reminder to them, to join their community in concerted action for preservation and improvement. The membership card is your convenient pass to all Civic Association functions, your proof that you are a member and that you belong to your community.

Some of you have been wondering why you are still receiving the West Birchwood NEWS in spite of the fact that you may not have paid your dues. Many names have already been removed from the subscription lists. Yours may be next. The task is a slow and tedious one but it is being done and should be completed within the next week.

Laurels for Hy Strell. His informative series of articles on the Jericho Water District and their problems have gone far in cutting down the illegal and uneconomical watering of lawns. We have thought of many courses of action to follow where members of this community still fail to follow the rules. Frankly, something should be done. If you have any ideas on the subject send them on to Hal Brensilber, 86 Orange Drive, our editor, in the form of a Letter to the Editor. We shall be happy to print them. Let your neighbors know what you would like to do about the illegal watering. Let them know that you know they aren't playing the game fairly and squarely.

LETTER TO EDITOR: W. BIRCHWOOD NEWS

Dear Editor:

A great deal of interest has been shown recently in the establishment of a Jericho Public Library. Our Committee has been formed to evaluate this interest, and to determine just how feasible it is to bring a Library facility to Jericho.

We are exploring what use our residents make of neighboring library facilities; what they would expect of a Jericho Library in terms of location, services, and costs; and, generally, the degree of support in Jericho for such a community center.

Our Committee has already attracted many members, all responsible, community-minded people. We invite the active participation of all those equally concerned about Jericho's cultural, educational, and recreational future. If anyone reading this letter should be interested in the efforts of this Committee, he should contact:

The Jericho Water Supply

By HY STRELL

(This article is the third in a series on the Jericho water supply. Today's subject is the pattern of water consumption in the Jericho Water District. The writer wishes to suggest that the editors of the VILLAGER and the Syosset Advance might do well to read these articles before demanding a congressional investigation into the activities of the Board of Water Commissioners. It is unfortunate that the latter newspaper has seen fit to attack the Commissioners without the prior benefit of familiarity with facts and data.)

The unique problems of the Jericho Water District may best be understood by means of a simple comparison of basic statistics with the Hicksville District. With 15,000 metered users, the Hicksville District has 2,000 more customers than the Jericho District. And yet, the Hicksville District is smaller than the Jericho District in just about all other major respects. Hicksville covers an area of 7.7 square miles, in comparison with Jericho's 37.5. To serve its customers, Hicksville requires only 149 miles of mains while Jericho needs 250. Hicksville has eleven wells, and Jericho fifteen. The greatest single-day demand recorded so far this year was seventeen million gallons in Hicksville and twenty-four million in Jericho.

Examination of these figures reveals certain interesting patterns. In the first place, the Jericho user requires almost twice as much pipe-per-capita as the Hicksville user. The Jericho user must therefore "pay the pipe" for the luxury of widely-spaced homes. Since the Jericho water problem is a problem of economics, the greater cost of supplying water is reflected to a great extent in the severe water regulations.

In the second place, the figures show a disproportionately high rate of water usage in the Jericho District—1850 per capita versus 1130 gallons per capita in Hicksville on the peak day. This difference of 64% goes a long way toward explaining why Jericho needs watering regulations.

The twenty-four million gallons of water consumed in the Jericho District on July 1 is enough to inundate an area of ten acres to a depth of 7.35 feet. Where does all the water go? As might be expected, the water is not consumed anonymously. In the District office on Convent Road in Syosset, there is a panel which indicates clearly, continuously, and automatically, the level of water in each tower and the delivery rate of each pump. Day after day, the same pattern is observed. The Jericho tower on Jericho Turnpike is the first to drop pressure. The Wheatley tower then supplies water to the Jericho tower; the Syosset tower helps Wheatley; and Woodbury helps Syosset. The Jericho tower—the first to be exhausted—is the one that supplies water directly to the mains of the Birchwood community (Zone 4). Zone 4 is one of four zones in the Jericho Water District. It has 2,500 customers, and includes substantially all of Birchwood. The disproportionate amount of water drawn by this zone may be appreciated when it is recognized that the average water bill for this zone during the quarter ending Feb. 15 was eighteen dollars per capita. The average bill for Zone 3, on the other hand, was sixteen dollars for the quarter ending June 1. Since the four zones are subject to staggered billing, it is impossible to compare them over the same time period. But it is interesting to note that Zone 4 had a higher bill per capita over a less demanding period of time.

The greater use of water by the Birchwood homes is attributed to two major factors:

1) the need for watering a large number of new lawns.
2) inexperience of new homeowners with the detection and repair of leaks.
The detection and repair of leaks will be treated in a subsequent article. The need for watering new lawns will be given some comment here.

It has been established that a lawn requires little over a half-gallon of water per square foot per week. For a quarter-acre lot with about 7,500 square feet of lawn, this implies about 3,750 gallons of water per week in the event that there is no rain. This figure compares with an average per capita water usage rate of 1,850 gallons per day during the dry spell. It is clear, therefore, that LAWN ARE BEING OVERWATERED. A good rule of the thumb (based on a flow at the rate of six gallons per minute from a typical lawn sprinkler) is that a lawn of the above description should receive about ten sprinkler-hours of watering per week. If it rains, this figure should be reduced accordingly. Homeowners may be surprised to see their fungus infections and toadstool growths disappear when these limitations are observed.

There has been a great clamor in the local newspapers lately for the construction of a sufficient number of new wells to take care of peak demand. Plans for the construction of new wells will be discussed in the next article. It will be noted here, however, that the satisfaction of peak demand would require a total of forty-three wells. This figure should be considered in the light of the fact that only three wells are ordinarily required to satisfy the demand during the winter season.

Assoc Members Get Surprises

West Birchwood Civic Association members were pleasantly surprised during the past two weeks with the receipt of membership cards and bumper stickers proclaiming membership in the community organization.

Both of these documents were designed and created by Len Greene as a community service. Len Greene is an active member of the Board of Directors and the Community Services Committee, and is a professional commercial artist.

The bumper stickers should be mounted on the rear bumper — on the better car in the case of a two-car family.

SPEAKING OF THEATRE

By Flo Lubin

This summer a child was born. The West Birchwood Little Theatre Group and The Jericho Players were united and the Jericho Community Theatre was formed. With two such parents this offspring will surely develop into a healthy, strong and successful Community Theatre.

This is the "growing up time". The appropriate time for making new friends and learning new things from each other. A great time for everyone to help in the growth of this baby by active participation or certainly by interested support. Watching something grow is always exciting and being a part of it, even more so. Certainly, most gratifying and welcome is the continued support of an old friend, The West Birchwood Civic Assoc.

The first year of a baby's life is generally a busy one. JCT (Jericho Community Theatre) is no exception. Casting for the first of three major productions scheduled this coming season will be Sept. 3rd. More information on this will follow in later announcements.

Care of this offspring has been left to both parents' existing advisory boards. That's nineteen nurses, poor child! Officers were elected, a new constitution is being processed, high hopes and strong enthusiasm is evident.

JCT hopes to give as well as receive, not only in the form of good community theatre productions but in worthwhile community endeavors, such as the gift of $100.00 The West Birchwood Little Theatre Group recently donated to the Jericho Public School Libraries. I mean, after all, JCT is a well brought-up and appreciative child.

BOGATCH, BRUCKER ATTEND CONVENTION

REUNIONS . . . The 69th Infantry Div. Assn. will hold their 17th annual reunion on Aug. 14th to the 16th at the Shoreham Hotel Washington, D.C. All you fighting Irish who belong, better get those duffel bags packed and be ready for a wing-ding time. The 17th Airborne Div. Assn. will get together Aug. 7th until the 10th. Write Mittleman, 123 Melrose Ave., East Lansdowns, Penna. If any of my readers know the address of the 4th Ivy Leaf Div. Assoc. please drop me a note. I'd appreciate it.

REGIMENTAL SHIELDS . . . The Alligator on the 6th Regt. Shield indicates participation in the Seminole Indian Campaigns; The Scaling Ladder signifies the storming of the Walls of Chapultepec during the Mexican War; The top portion represents the French Arms of the "Lords of Dun" and recalls the 6th's World War I battles in France. To symbolize the service of the 14th Infantry Regt. in the Civil War the Badge of the V Corps (Army of the Potomac) occupies the upper portion of its shield. The capture of Manila is recalled by a Castle and Palm tree. The two arrows indicate its service during the Indian Campaigns.

REMEMBER WHEN . . . Phoenix City, Alabama, across the river from Columbus, Georgia, was a place to steer clear of on G.I. pay day? When you were up a tree, if you lost a few tent pegs for your shelter half? OHIO meant "Over The Hill In October" The "Stage Door Canteen" in New York City? The big steaks they handed us when we arrived back in the States at the camps mess-halls?

MAINLY ABOUT VETERANS . . . Miss seeing my old buddy "Bill Olitsky" since I've been away from Hicksville these years. Young Lt. Olitsky will make his Mom and Dad proud while he's with the Corps. Bill made the Marines proud of him while serving in WW2. (Makes one feel sort of old, doesn't it Bill? Ran into Past Commander Lou Mignone of AMVETS the other night, seems as if Lou has taken up gardening and was seen buying flowers at Emils Florist. VETERANS QUESTION . . . I read that a person worked for the VA for more than 40 years. Yet the VA wasn't formed until 1930. How Come? ANSWER . . . Originally, there were several organizations that served vets in various ways. One of the earliest of these was the Bureau of Pensions. Another was the National Home for the disabled Volunteer Soldiers. The Bureau of War Risk Insurance originally insured wartime shipping but later took over service to veterans. Several of these groups were combined into the Veterans Bureau in 1921, and this new organization was combined with other groups to form the VA in 1930. VETERANS QUESTION . . . Is a veteran given preference in obtaining employment? ANSWER . . . A veteran is aided in obtaining private employment by the Veterans Employment Service of the U.S. Dept. of Labor. This work is carried on through the local state employment offices in each of the 50 states. A veteran also has some re-employment rights for the job he held prior to going into service. Full details may be obtained at the nearest state employment office. And now before I close this little verse . . . The bristling guns, the bursting shells, Those shapeless forms will never tell The horror all the war has been; Now all those dreams are lost again.

Nine Pin Talk

By Henry Dockswell

It took our league about 7 weeks to discover that our 2 divisions were listing the various individual and team honors separately. This was a mistake and was rectified on the August 3rd sheet.

The combined results show that Larry Goldenberg leads all the men with a strong 173 average and Tina Bass heads the women with a 137.

"Lefty" Lenny Wainick has Hi Series with a 601 and Alice Meadows' 499 is tops among the gals.

Hi Game for a man is 233, accomplished by puny Morrie Herrick, and Elaine Brody, wife of the immortal Herb, leads the females with a 199.

The first 9 teams in each division are tightly bunched, and with 5 weeks to go no team has any stranglehold yet.

In Section 1 the Bruckners and Glucksmans are in first place with the Mithrad-Hamilton combo hot on their heels. Bass and Blum, in third place, get their big chance this week when they meet the front runners. This will be do or die for them.

In Section 2 we find the Skyler-Goldenberg team in first place. The return of Ruby Skyler, who had fractured a bone in his bowling arm, gave them the added impetus to shut out their last 3 opponents and move into the top spot. In second place are the Simons and Corwins, and in third is the team of Pitzholt and Weiss.

The Kohlen-Cushing team has the honor this week of meeting the front running Skyler-Goldenberg foursome. If Marty and Mack can add to their team's 40 pin spot they may be able to put a crimp in Ruby and Larry's plans.

Temple Activity Goes on Road

Temple Or-Elohim, Reform Congregation of Jericho, in response to many requests from new members and families contemplating affiliation has scheduled an informal open Forum on Sunday Eve. Aug. 16th, at 9 P.M. at 31 Saratoga Dr., West Birchwood. V.P. Eugene Slinger will be the host and Rabbi Dr. Herbert Rose will preside and answer questions. Officers of Temple will also provide information on the many phases of Temple activity.

This Aug. 16th informal 'Meet the Rabbi Nite' was planned at the West Birchwood location to meet specific requests for information and everyone is welcome. For further information call E. Slinger... WE 5-2438 or Temple Office, WE 1-8113.

Rumor has it that The Floyd Bennett Stores are negotiating for a Bus Depot on their parking field.

It is too early as yet to determine if this is so and what the desirability of such a depot is. At this time, we of the Birchwood Park Civic Assoc. cannot make any comment. First we must determine if the rumor is true. If so, we must investigate the pro-and-con of its effect on the community and lastly if it is true, what the stand the Civic Assoc. wants to take.

Meanwhile we report just the rumor which seems to have some good basis behind it. We will keep the community informed. Just another service of your ever alert Civic Assoc.

She thought she was alone among strangers... until an unexpected friend helped.

Sometimes it seems people are too busy these days to take time to help someone in trouble. But lots of folks are still ready to help, as one elderly lady discovered this year.

Somehow, in the rush-hour swirl of New York City's huge Pennsylvania Station, she missed her connection for the last train to Gainesville, Florida, where her daughter was expecting her. Upset, tired, a stranger in New York... she wasn't sure what to do next.

And then she saw a friendly face. She stepped up to Mrs. Helen MacBean, the New York Telephone operator on duty at the station's public attended phones. And Mrs. MacBean did help. She sat down with the lady over a cup of coffee. She learned about the missed train, and that the lady might have to spend the night in New York... somewhere. Mrs. MacBean knew what to do. She arranged to change the lady's train ticket for the following day. She reserved a room for her to stay overnight. She saw her safely to a cab, making sure all details about tomorrow's train were clear. Then Mrs. MacBean phoned Gainesville and told the folks who were waiting what had happened.

Later, Mrs. MacBean received a letter —

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for being so nice to my mother, and for phoning to tell us what had happened that night.

"It is now two weeks since you phoned the second time to ascertain that mother had finally reached Gainesville and I thought you might like to know that she is safely home....

"May people always be as nice to you!"

Do people take the trouble to help strangers any more? Yes. Lots of them do. Telephone people do. We're glad when they do.

Surprisingly Calvin Coolidge, most certainly not the talkative type, was well up among those making long speeches with a 4,500 word inaugural address. And William Howard Taft's initial talk as President ran to 8,350 words though—due to his tremendous grith he disliked standing for long periods of time. Even if he spoke at the fairly rapid rate of 125 words per minute his speech must have kept him on his feet for at least 40 minutes.

They did not engage in the traditional introductory address because each was a Vice President who was sworn into office immediately upon the death of the President and was not subsequently elected to that office. Tyler succeeded William Henry Harrison; Fillmore succeeded Zachary Taylor; Johnson succeeded Abraham Lincoln and Arthur succeeded James A. Garfield.

Last Week for American Seniors

By MILT PRYOR

The Hicksville American Senior League is now in its last week of play. If the Senior Long Island National Bank Yankees overpower the V, R, W, Orioles, the Yankees will be the Senior League champs. If not then a sudden death playoff between both teams will be necessary. At any rate, a winner will be decided this week.

The Senior League champs are also waiting for their contest with the International and National League counterparts. At this writing, a date has not been decided upon. We hope this occurs before the first snow storm. The Minor B season is still not completed. Last week's rainstorm prevented a winner being chosen, as the game ended in a tie. A meeting of all League Directors and Minor B managers is set for this week in order to decide when this game is going to be played.

At our last meeting, the annual drawing held in conjunction with the picnic, produced these winners: M. Cycon; G. Jacoby; M. Lemmole; J. J. Dantino; M. Meyn; Mc Caffery Agency; and R. Petersohn. Congratulations you lucky seven.

Andy Sadowski, dinner and dance chairman, reports tickets for the gala affair are printed and will be available to members shortly.

Chaplain, Mike Znach, has submitted the names for his telephone committee. Publication of the list should be ready by the next meeting.

Picnic chairman, Joe Roccaro, is leaning by the number of members and friends who plan to attend this year's outing. That beam would get bigger if Joe could get more volunteers to help loading the trucks this Sunday morning. This looks like it may turnout to be one of the biggest we've had in a long time.

Comrade Bill Kummer presented the Post with a pennant from the American Little League showing their gratitude for past support. Our thanks to the league and they can be sure we'll display the flag with pride.

The United Veterans Council of Pennsylvania, which represents 29 veterans organizations has renewed their support of S-5, the Cold War Bill, by imploring passage of this bill.

Effective Jan. 1, 1965, a new law provides that veterans who hold a National Service Life Insurance policy will not have to pay further premiums if they become totally disabled before age 65. This amends the premium waiver applied if the disability occurred before age 60.

This month, between Aug. 21 to 28, the V.F.W. will hold their 65th annual convention in Cleveland. There they will reaffirm and make new resolutions to benefit the veteran and keep our country strong and alert.

Remember, this Sunday is the picnic and the uniform of the day is swim suits and a hearty appetite for both food and fun. Then on Monday, Aug. 10, we will look forward to seeing many of you V.F.W. members at our scheduled meeting.

NEW ARRIVAL

A daughter, Kristine Anne, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Sweeney of 19 Bishop Lane, Hicksville, on July 27 at Mercy Hospital.

The boys of the American League went to Shea Stadium last week and not only did we all have excellent seats, but we witnessed a real exciting game with the Houston Colts. The more than 200 guests of the New York Mets are now looking forward to our third trip of the season. The Yankee Juniors have invited all our older boys to spend an afternoon with the Yankee Team. More about this trip in later weeks.

The coaches and Managers of the Hicksville American Little League have started baseball practice. This coming Sunday, we hope to meet with the Hicksville American Senior All Stars. Charlie Parfrey, the Senior League Director is keeping his starting lineup a deep secret. However, according to your truly, who hopes to manage these excellent athletes (The Men!) Our starting battery should be either Bill Moran or Rudy De Palma, pitching, and Dick Roethel or Lou Volpi as our catching greats. The other positions will be very hard to determine as these other candidates are all excellent ball players, and a decision will be very difficult one, indeed.

Some of our other ball players will be Mike Maddi, our flashy fielding first baseman, John De Rosa, who has finally learned how to catch the ball, Give-A-Yell Fred Rauchweger, when-in-doubt-just-yell!

I have already mentioned our mighty Dick Roethel, who overpowers our batters with his mighty windmill swing. Dick Eaton, our Prexy is going to play just to keep the game (7) honest. Ike Kaufman, the Ulell skipper who is sweating out a Minor B playoff. The Mighty Mel Bashan, whom we hope will be our Minor A League Director next year. Steve Barga, Irve Kullen, John Mahlstadt and Ralph Cahn will also appear, and last but certainly far from least Bill Ryan, who is certainly the fastest of our team. In fact, last week he raced a couple of his Little Leaguers, the boys of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association team, and made them appear as if they were standing still. This will be our lineup. I will supply the oxygen, and I am certainly sure that we will need it!

We wish to ask all who read this column to please sign our petition when it comes around. We also hope that you encourage others to sign this field petition as well. Last Sunday a number of our Little Leaguers and men policed the fields of the Burns Ave. School. We picked up all sorts of broken glass containers, beer cans, soda cans, torn containers and papers, and other miscellaneous trash. We have asked Mr. Madden to close the school fields after dark but he said that this was impossible. Yet these same men complain about vandalism and destruction of school equipment at the various fields. Yet, at this writing nothing has been done about it. I have yet to see a guard at the fields after dark. The police inform me that they are powerless to act because the fields are open, and therefore can not ask anyone to leave unless a disturbance occurs. We would appreciate it if our busy school officials were to inspect the contents of the trash cans at the Burns Ave. School. Incidentally, two of these trash cans were recently placed there.

We are seeking a man who wishes to become a candidate for membership on the School Board. We will try to get all the Little League votes for a good man. At this writing we can now guarantee him two leagues. I believe we can also get the third, after we have our combined meeting. We cannot rest on this matter. We must have adequate tournament fields for next year. It is too late for any games which are to be played this year.

All who are interested please call Milt Pryor at WE 5-6194. All who wish to attend our End of Season Dinner Dance at the Huntington Town House contact John De Rosa at OV 1-0084. We will need about 50 or more people.

There are still a few openings for manager and coaches in our League for next year. Our Senior League and Major League candidates are now over subscribed. However, there are a few jobs available for our Minor B League. We also have a Director and two assistants for the Farm League. We will need more coaches to help train our future ball players. All who wish to participate please contact Bernie Boyle at WE 1-7844, our nominating chairman.

This year has been a very successful one, indeed. Most of it is due to our very generous sponsors, who paid for our equipment and helped us field 22 teams. Our goal for next year is 30. This will give all the boys in our section of Hicksville who wish to play ball an opportunity to do so. We hope all of our sponsors will return, and that we will be able to get 8 additional ones. We would like two or three men to help out on our Sponsorship committee. So please let the League know if you are available. If you can spend any 4 hours a week, we can sure use your help. We have not heard from the other two Leagues about the consolidation of Sponsors and Purchasing for the entire town of Hicksville. I wish I knew why the savings of at least 20% on equipment and supplies is only Hicksville American League's concern. And why we will have to bombard our loyal town merchants with so many requests to sponsor a team. We hope to have the winners of the Senior League and Minor B League next issue. May the best teams win. Good Luck.

HI NEIGHBOR

If you are a newcomer in the Jericho-Plainview area, you may look forward to being greeted by our local Hi Neighbor representative. She will come bearing gifts and messages of welcome from civic and religious leaders as well as prominent businessmen of our community. She will acquaint you with various local activities and make your arrival a happier and warmer event. Should you have a brand new neighbor in the neighborhood, be sure to phone.

Nassau and Suffolk go for gas heat 100,000 strong!

More than 100,000 Long Islanders have made known their primary preference in heating fuel...clean, dependable gas heat! This tremendous vote of confidence means that LILCO homeowners and businessmen are ignoring the contradictory claims and investigating the true facts of gas. The record speaks for itself:

Gas heat is clean. It burns completely without leaving an oily residue to coat walls, ceilings, furniture with a thin film of soot.

Gas heat saves space. Gas is piped directly into your home. There's no need for an ugly fuel storage tank to take up room in your cellar. And there's never any delivery problem.

Gas heat is dependable. There are less moving parts in a gas heating unit. Fewer chances of breakdowns, fewer repair bills.

And, remember, when you convert to gas you get a first-year money-back guarantee on gas burner installation costs if your first-year heating bill exceeds LILCO's estimate by more than 10 per cent. For details call PI 7-1041 in Nassau, MO 5-5300 or HA 3-3600 in Suffolk.

Speaking of kids, the modern school-age child has it tougher than his "old days" counterpart. Where the latter kept warm in cold weather by running part of the way to school the former must stand and shiver waiting for the school bus . . .

The Sahara was not always a wasteland. Pictures chiseled and painted on rocks thousands of years ago suggest an area teeming with people.

CUMMINGS 'N GOINGS: We Salute William Koutensky

By JAMES CUMMINGS

William E. Koutensky, President of the Long Island National Bank, Hicksville, celebrating his 44th year with Long Island National which has grown by leaps and bounds in the last 14 years that we can personally recall.... Under his leadership and guidance the bank expanded a Mid-Island Plaza office to serve the needs of a great number of stores and it's thousands of shoppers... Since then branches have been opened in Plainville, Manetto Hill, Old Country Road, Bethpage, South Broadway, Center Shops, South Huntington and Commack office... The main office is located at 60 Broadway... A dedicated man to his work, Bill Koutensky and his lovely wife, Loretta, have watched the growth pattern of this Hicksville community over these many years... Among the many honors bestowed on him by the community for his many endeavors include the title of "Mr. Hicksville"... The Long Island National Bank is truly a community bank, where "Your Neighbors Serve You"... We join with the community in a personal salute to William E. Koutensky, whom we've had the pleasure of knowing these past 14 years!

HERE 'N THERE: Congratulations to Margie and Jim Mahoney of Indiana Street on their new addition, namely Margaret, born at Mercy Hospital... Jim tells me it's a "jubilee" celebration—all the best from your next door neighbor... New York "Jets" Football Team into Shea Stadium this fall - get your tickets thru the Happy Landing Fund in cooperation with the Police Department... Gertz fashion models at Milleridge on Thursday lunchtime are show-stoppers...
