Welcome Nassau American Legion

The Charles Wagner American Legion Post and the community of Hicksville is host today, Friday and Saturday to the 47th Nassau County American Legion Convention. The public highlight of the convention will be a parade of more than 100 units in five divisions on Friday night, June 4, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Legion Convention opened with a business session at the Clubhouse on Thursday night, addressed by Dr. Clifford Lord, President of Hofstra University.

The parade on Friday evening starts from Parking Field 11 going north on Bay Ave., west on Nevada St. (above Sears) to Broadway, south on Broadway to East Nicholas St. where the parade disbands in the parking fields near the Legion clubhouse.

A brief business session follows the parade.

Saturday is a day filled with competitions at the Senior High School athletic field starting at 9 AM. The third and final business session of the convention, including election of county officials, takes place starting at 1:30 PM at the Legion clubhouse. An installation ball is set for 9 PM.

Residents and business concerns are urged to display their American flags during the period from June 3 to 5.

JEROME ZETTLER, at right, President of the Nassau County Police Boys Club Inc. and a resident of Hicksville, watched County Executive Eugene Nickerson sign a proclamation of Police Boys Club Day while seated between Tom Grubel and Mark Baxter. Standing, from left, are Patrolman Joseph Cushing and County Police Commissioner James J. Kelly. The County PBC will hold its first annual parade this Saturday, June 5, at 1:30 PM in Mineola to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Police Boys Clubs. Boys from 29 units in the county as well as cadet groups will be represented in the parade.

THOMAS L. VOSS JR., an honor student and rowing champion in the Junior class at Hicksville High School, receives a proclamation - citation from Councilman Peter B. Allsopp of Mill Neck, Chairman of the Town Board's Committee on Shell Racing. Voss is a pioneer trainee at the Town's racing course at Centre Island Beach, established in 1963. He won the Singles at Philadelphia on May 15th, and other important varsity rowing events. He is a member of the National Honor Society.

Arrest Pair On B'Way

Pt. John Rowe arrested Charles Pettit, 18, of 159 Broadway, and Marcelino Aviles, 19, of 16 Duffy Ave., both of Hicksville, at 1:30 Thursday morning, May 27, at Broadway and W. Marie St. They were charged with brawling, using loud and offensive language, disorderly conduct and causing a crowd to gather.

Fifteen minutes later, Robert W. Scholtenko, 18, of 79 Myers Ave., was arrested at the Second Police Precinct police stationhouse, charged with interfering with a police officer in the discharge of his duties.

Dedicate JFK Memorial

The John F. Kennedy Hicksville Memorial was dedicated Monday afternoon at the intersection of Broadway, John St. and Jerusalem Ave. made possible by the volunteer contributions of time and services by many community individuals and organizations. In addition to a dedication to the late President, the memorial is dedicated to 28 Hicksville men who gave their lives in the service of the nation.

Several Gold Star parents were among the special guests of the occasion. Former Congressman Steven Derouman was the principal speaker. An American flag certified as having flown over the Nation's Capitol on Memorial Day 1964 and made available by Congressman Derouman was raised during the ceremonies by Mrs. Edward Farrell assisted by a color guard led by Arthur Hirsch.

Edward Quinn, co-chairman of the Memorial Fund Committee with Elaine Arnstein, was the master of ceremonies. Mrs. Arnstein unveiled the monument and bronze plaque.

There were musical solos by Marion Honeyman Martin and Steve Doyle, accompanied on a small electric organ. Numerous town officials and leaders of veterans and other organizations were introduced to the audience.

Patriotic Expression Is Vital Memorial Speaker Declares

The importance of patriotic expression, such as Memorial Day observances, to the stability of a nation was the theme of District Court Judge Francis J. Donovan, principal speaker at the Hicksville program, Monday morning.

"We know," he said, "that the stability of a nation depends in large measure upon the stability of a family life. It would be a rash person indeed who would propose we achieve national unity by destroying family life. I submit that the person is also rash who would destroy patriotism or destroy nations in order to achieve global unity."

Extended highlights of Judge Donovan's Memorial Day address are published elsewhere in this issue.

Fair weather favored the marching units and musical contingents in the parade which began at Mid Island Plaza, went south on Broadway to Old Country Rd. and thence to Jerusalem Ave. then to Hicksville Junior High School.

At the Memorial Mall, there was the placement of wreaths under the direction of Louis Cesta, grand marshal; several musical selections by the high school band and a combined mixed chorus.

James T. Surless of the Amvets was general chairman of the day's program. He extended greetings and introduction of distinguished guests.

Taps by Jerry Maler and Philip Storck of the senior high school concluded the program.

Skipper David Dow, veteran of the Spanish American war, was honorary grand marshal for the day.

Participating veteran organizations were Robert O. Ulmer Post, Amvets; W. M. Gouse Jr. Post and Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars; George Jakupko Post, Catholic War Veterans; Sgt. Ben Levitt Post, Jewish War Veterans; Charles Wagner Post and Ladies Auxiliary, American Legion; and Melvin Rohrback Post, Legion of Guardsmen.

A Fine Memorial

Memorial Day saw the conclusion of an effort begun early two years ago as the joint idea of Elaine Arnstein and Edward Quinn - the erection of a memorial honoring President John F. Kennedy and the 28 Hicksville men who, while in the service of the nation, died during World War I, World War II and the military action in Viet Nam.

The memorial, in the form of a modest monument and towering flag pole, was financed by many, many individual contributions and donations of money and services by organizations and business organizations. It will stand for generations to come at a point where it can be observed by thousands every day of the week. It is hoped that in time its location will be fully developed with landscaping, walks, benches.

The present site is on property in the title of the State of New York. It is hoped that maintenance of the area will some day soon be turned over to the Town of Oyster Bay park Dept. The State Public Works Dept. is not especially renowned for its attention to such details as grass cutting, plantings and maintenance.

Special mention in connection with this project is due to William E. Koutensky, president of the Long Island National Bank, who cooperated fully with the committee in providing a depository for funds and a point for receipt of contributions. Fred Sutter of Sutter Monumental Works also gave substantial assistance in the matter of procuring the monument and having it seated.

It has been a well conceived project, carried out to a fitting conclusion.

READER OPINION

The Bookmobile

To the Editor:

The Library Board does not subscribe to the notion, recently advanced in the public press that the bookmobile was the cause of the recent budget deficit. A bookmobile is undoubtedly one of the most useful and inexpensive ways possible to bring library service to the people who find it inconvenient or impossible to visit the library regularly. The bookmobile is now 5 years old; the expense of maintaining and operating the vehicle including staff, books, insurance and maintenance is less than $19,000 a year, about 1/15 of the budget. This ratio is maintained or even lowered year after year. For this cost, 78,270 books were circulated last year, nearly all of them to young children who very often cannot visit the library due to lack of transportation or safety concerns. While it is not possible to measure the monetary value of a book to these youngsters, if books have other values, the bookmobile has certainly more than paid its way in the community. We have ample evidence that it has fulfilled its purpose. The bookmobile circulates 27% of the library's total circulation. We hope taxpayers are not misled by the figure quoted in the local press of $30,000 expense per year. This is simply not so. This vehicle was purchased as a practical, inexpensive method of making library service available to all of the taxpayers in the community. It has been a success.

Census Bonanza For Township

Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Town board majority leader, disclosed that the Town of Oyster Bay will receive $933,911 more state aid during the next five years based on the preliminary figures of the now-concluding federal census.

"I am gratified that the Town Board saw fit to request the special census this year," commented Poulos, "in cooperation with the other two towns and the city of Glen Cove. This program has produced the maximum aid under the state's complicated formula for the benefit of town taxpayers. The formula will be revised upon the next regular federal census in 1970, when it is indicated the annual aid funds will again increase."

Poulos pointed out that the state aid reduces the local tax cost for beaches, incineration, highways, building, zoning and town administration. He said that all property owners who pay town taxes inside or outside villages will benefit from the increased state aid payments to the Town. There is reason to believe that state aid based on the preliminary report will increase as residents uncounted on April 26, 1965 file the required statement with the Federal Census Bureau. The Oyster Bay Office will remain open for this purpose at 219 Park Avenue, Hicksville, for a limited time.

The Town Board estimated that state aid for 1966 would have been $1,732,299 without the special census. The head count added $147,459, making estimated receipts from state aid of $1,880,359 for next year. In each of the four ensuing years the census will add about $196,612, thus totalling $1,929,512.

The special census appropriation was $65,000 and was made payable over a period of three years.

Said Poulos, "The Town Board will realize receipts of $933,911 over the five-year period -- and more if additional population is added -- at a cost of less than $65,000 -- a net gain of at least $868,911."

The preliminary population was given by the Census Bureau at 324,063, as compared with 290,055 in 1960, a net gain of 34,028. Incorporated villages accounted for 7,569 people in the net gain.

Post No. 3211
by Eddie Klebing

First, let's welcome John F. Lenta of 218, 10th Street, Hicksville into our fold. John also joined the ranks of a great many new members who win the Post raffle on the night they join the organization. We all wish you the best of luck John, and hope to see you often.

May is always a busy month for veterans organizations. Our Ladies Auxiliary's recently activated Junior Girl's Unit is finding this to be true as they, in a sense, are being introduced to community and welfare work under fire. On May 15th some of the girls accompanied Rita and Frank Aug to Mid-Island Plaza to sell poppies. Then on May 22nd they went with Rita and Frank Aug and Doris and Jim Klueg to Pinelawn Cemetery to place flags on the graves of deceased servicemen. Again on May 23rd they attended the installation of another Junior Girl's Unit at Farmingdale -- and don't forget their presence was also required at the Pre-Memorial Day services at Pinelawn Cemetery on May 30th and in the big Memorial Day parade last Monday. Busy little group eh?

Thanks to auxiliary member, Pat Williams, who supplied me with a list of the newly elected officers of our Ladies Auxiliary. The ladies who will be performing their respective duties in the newly elected posts are:

PRESIDENT: Rita Aug; SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT: Henrietta Arabel; JUNIOR VICE PRESIDENT: Joan Chwallis; TREASURER: Edna Van Luevan; SECRETARY: Doris Klueg; CONDUCTRESS: Kathleen Kane; CHAPLAIN: Marion Collins; PATRIOTIC INSTRUCTOR: Patricia Williams; GUARD: Jean Wood; BANNER BEARER: Jeanne Baggott; FLAG BEARER: Lucille Bless; COUNTY DELEGATES: Doris Klueg; Kathleen Kane; ALTERNATES: Marion Collins; Joan Chwallis; TRUSTEES: Mary Sadowski; Helen Pueling; Esther Palladino.

A VFW Truth Squad was established by Commander in Chief John Jenkins for the purpose of gathering information to supplement that which is already in the files of the VFW protesting the closing of 32 facilities of the Veterans Administration. The fact-finding group, made up from members of our professional staff which works daily with hospital and regional office problems have completed their tour and the general conclusion from those that visited the facilities in New York were: "All of the 6 VA facilities in New York State serve a definite need and should be continued. The vigorous fight for these facilities initiated January 12, 1965, the day the order leaked and the day before the official

Highlights of Judge Donovan Address Here on Memorial Day

Highlights of Memorial Day address in Hicksville by District Court Judge Francis J. Donovan:

On Sunday afternoon while considering how I might best sum up all of the proceedings of Memorial Day and give in a few words the special significance of the day, I happened upon an article by Captain Joshua L. Goldberg, a retired chaplain of the U. S. Navy. Captain Goldberg, commenting upon one of the recent collegiate demonstrations spoke as follows:

"During World War II, I served as chaplain at the Midshipmen's School at Columbia University. Thousands of students underwent training. I knew a great number by name. They went forth young and beaming with health and vision. Many did not return.

"A few weeks ago one held a different picture on the Columbia campus. A 'stand-in' by 200 demonstrators, locking arms before a brigade of the University's Naval Reserve unit, forced cancellation of the training corps annual awards ceremony.

"The rally was staged by several youth groups with diverse leanings. Speakers at the rally included a professor of history from Yale, a professor of sociology at Adelphi University, and several students. With chants denouncing the R.O.T.C. and vulgar remarks to visiting guests, the demonstrators were downright ugly."

Assuming that such groups are sincere and pursue a worthwhile goal, the question comes, why such ugly opposition to a patriotic expression?

I preparing for today's talk, I felt that it would be well to address myself primarily to the high school students, for it they on whom the future depends. It is they who must meet the campus demonstrators.

As a high school student would, I began work on my assignment by consulting a number of books in the Hicksville library - a stone's throw from here. In the course of my reading I found that persons with a literary gift appeared to be confused by identifying patriotism and nationalism. Such persons desire peace and prosperity and see the only hope to be internationalism. In their speech, in their actions and in their writings they therefore seek to destroy patriotism or the theory that nationalism leads to war and conflict between nations.

The distinction between patriotism and nationalism is a simple one. Patriotism is the virtue - nationalism is the vice, or to put it another way, nationalism is unreasonable quest of the material benefit of one's own nation without regard to how that nation may violate the rights of others.

The word "patriotism" itself is derived from the Greek word meaning "father," and it begins with love of family rooted in our very nature. This love, with its existing loyalty extends both to tribe and ultimately to nation and in its highest form is manifested by mutual love to the extent of sacrifice - that exists among the members of the tribe or nation.

We know that the stability of a nation depends in large measure upon the stability of a family life. It would be a rash person indeed who would propose we achieve national unity by destroying family life. I submit that the person is also rash who would destroy patriotism or destroy nations in order to achieve global unity.

In recent history we have seen what happens when the tribal unity is destroyed. This has taken place in Africa where we have seen that the breakdown of tribes has resulted in bloodshed and anarchy. Unfortunately those who are gifted in the use of words, are sometimes short on human experience or devoid of the analytical ability required in the solution of today's problems.

Looking back upon the parade which has just ended, we saw all of the various community organizations cooperating in public harmony. Here we saw external evidence of what makes Hicksville a stable community. Assume if you will a new resident entering our community and seeking to participate in that community life. In the absence of the community organizations, such as the Boy Scouts, the Civic Associations, the church groups and the fraternal organizations, and a host of groups that comprise Hicksville, it would be impossible for such an individual to make any contact. However, by joining one or more of the groups, he finds himself participating in community life through participation in the smaller groups. Such groups are natural and wholesome and in the national sphere I submit the procedure must be substantially the same. The task is not to destroy nations and the natural love which the citizen feels for his country. It is rather to work in, with and through such nations to the end that the nations may cooperate in harmony, with no conflict between the citizens' duty to his country and to the larger brotherhood of man which constitutes the inter national community.

Since patriotism is rooted in love, it fulfills the needs of our personality. A person having no love for his own country, is likely to have no love for any country. The person who has no love for his own family or his fellow citizen is unlikely to have any love for the alien or the stranger.

Returning again to the display which we see before us, it would not be amiss to note that the groups who promote ugly campus demonstrations also threw an occasional stone at the veterans organizations. As we saw the veterans parading this morning you probably noted some were a little too stout, some were bald and some were gray and many had difficulty keeping in step along the march. From a physical viewpoint, they are showing the wear and tear of age. However, as we look at such a group, we are looking at the citizens army which preserved all of the things which are good and which we now enjoy in America. Many of them have been grievously wounded and we know that many gave their lives. While they may be short of perfection it is such groups which have perpetuated the Memorial Day exercises.

It is necessary that we wave the flag and sound the drum and blow the flute and appeal through the senses to the emotions. Almighty God did not construct us as pure intellect. He gave us emotions as part of our very nature. Oftimes it is necessary to stir up the emotion by appeal to the ear and to the eye in order that the intellect may be set in motion. Were it not for these annual observances, perhaps we would forget our lessons in history and the sacrifices which have been made by others. If today the young people do take away one thought, I shall be happy, namely, you have no shame for your patriotism, no apology need be made for love in which it is rooted.

PRESIDENT Joseph F. Rohan, second row left, of the Hicksville Teen Democratic Club was re-elected for a third term as president. Rohan won by a landslide victory.

Also elected were all the members of Rohan's ticket. Vice-President Charles R. Karish, second row, Corresponding Secretary Marge Rosenthal, first row; Recording Secretary Fred M. Wilson, not shown; Treasurer David J. Jungman, front row, were re-elected. Rohan and Jungman were elected delegates and Mark Lenetsky was elected as Executive Coordinator of Committees.
