Expand School Directory, Calendar

A new and expanded directory and calendar of Hicksville Public Schools, including sports, recreation and adult education, is being mailed to all community residents shortly. The calendar runs from Sept to Aug. 1966, and has gained in popularity and usefulness in recent years.

The new term for Hicksville public schools opens on Wednesday, Sept 8, preceded on Sept 7 by teacher orientation and faculty meetings. In addition to certain school district activities and events, including regular and special meetings of the Board of Education, the calendar lists sports events and numerous national political and historical dates.

Under enrollment, the calendar notes that the student population for 1964-65 was expected to be 13,050 but was actually 13,144. When school closed in June of this year it was down to 12,936. In planning the 1965-66 budget, an enrollment of 12,675 was calculated. At the time the calendar was prepared the actual figure was 12,795.

Sees Suburbia City Branch Office

The suburbs may soon be able to lay claim to a new title. Long recognized as New York's bedroom, suburban centers around the metropolitan area may soon become known as Manhattan's branch office.

The branch office boom that received its impetus from the postwar population and industrial growth on Long Island and Westchester gives no sign of abating, according to Jerry Spiegel, president of Jerry Spiegel Associates, Long Island industrial and commercial builders.

Spiegel notes that years ago a company would send a representative out for a day to cover the suburbs. Today this has become both a physical and practical impossibility. The establishment of defense industries, research and development firms, light manufacturing plants and the many satellite businesses needed to support these major industries has made the New York suburbs one of the nation's leading markets. It, therefore, has become a full-time job for any firm to cover the suburban territory.

"The need for branch office space strategically located in the suburbs has helped generate a great deal of new building activity in recent years," Spiegel declares. "Many of the new office structures being erected are being tailored especially for the needs of companies seeking branch office space."

Spiegel explains that compactness and economy are two of the prime requisites for branch office space. He points out that most branch offices are generally one or two-man operations. Therefore under 1,000 square feet of space is usually the norm. However, simply because the space is compact it becomes even more important that it be modern and create a favorable impression. Naturally, the nature of the branch office operation will make a difference in the amount and type of space a firm needs. If the branch office is one that has a heavy volume of visiting clients its size and design will differ from one whose prime function is to serve as a place where a roving representative can receive and get calls, answer mail and provide a stopping off point between covering the territory.

"The Nassau County Republican Committee unanimously endorses all of its candidates selected in open forum by their respective delegates at convention," says Sen. Edward J. Speno, Chairman, Nassau County Republican Committee.

The Senator made this statement in announcing the appointment of Garden City G.O.P. Leader Richard Williams as Chairman of the Primary Committee.

"Our candidates were selected from more than 72 who requested to be screened by the Executive Committee of the three towns before their names were submitted to the conventions of the same towns," the Senator said. "There are only 4 primary fights in our party. This is very few considering the 9 new positions and 18 seats all in new districts."

Must State Tax As Separate Item

State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy reminds merchants and vendors of goods and service subject to the New York State and local sales taxes that the tax is to be stated separately from the cost of the item being sold.

"The law is quite specific on that point," he said. "It does not permit a taxable item to be advertised for sale with the implication that the vendor can absorb the tax in his retail price and not collect it from the buyer."

ANN MANNING, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Manning of Hicksville, has become engaged to Patrick Martin Masone, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Masone Sr., also Hicksville.

State and Local Sales Taxes

(Third in a Series)
SALES OF UTILITIES AND SERVICES

Sales of certain utilities and services are taxable under the 2 per cent New York State sales tax.

In general, the tax affects sales other than for resale of gas, electricity, refrigeration and steam as well as gas, electrical, refrigeration and steam service.

Also taxable are telephone and telegraph services within the state. Interstate and international telephone and telegraph services are exempt from the tax.

Other services which are taxable include the following:

1. Information by printed, mimeographed or otherwise duplicated matter except those used by newspapers, radio and television broadcasters in the collection and dissemination of news, the services of advertising agents and the furnishing of information which is personal or individual in nature.

2. Processing and printing items of tangible personal property, such as developing film and engraving silverware or glassware.

3. Maintenance, installation and repairing tangible personal property including such things as servicing or repairing automobiles, radios, television sets and watches, and the installation of appliances such as washing machines.

4. Storing tangible personal property and the rental of safe deposit boxes and similar space.

5. Maintenance and repairs of real estate, such as painting, masonry work, roofing, gardening, septic tank cleaning and plumbing where the work performed is done by a person regularly engaged in that kind of work and the job does not constitute a capital improvement to the property.

The following questions and answers relate to the sales of utilities and services:

Q. Who pays the sales tax on utility services where an apartment house tenant is billed by the management of the building rather than by the utility company?

A. The tenant pays the tax. The management buys the gas or electricity tax-exempt, for resale, and collects the tax on the sales to the tenants.

Q. Are stock market advisory services taxable?

A. Yes. Written information services including collecting, compiling or analyzing data of any kind are taxable. So is furnishing reports of a non-personal nature.

Q. Is the cost of having a deer's head or similar trophy mounted by a taxidermist subject to tax?

A. Yes. These are services performed on tangible personal property not held for resale.

Q. If a person buys his own material and has a tailor make him a suit, is it taxable?

A. Yes. You would pay the tax on the material when you bought it and the services of the tailor also would be taxable because it involves the production of tangible personal property. However, tailoring which involves repairing or mending is exempt.

Q. Would the installation of a new heating system in a home be taxable?

A. No. There is no tax on the cost of installing property which becomes a capital improvement to real property. However, the tax would be paid on the materials used in the installation.

Q. Are moving and storage charges subject to tax?

A. Storage of tangible personal property such as household goods is taxable, but moving expenses are not taxable if the transportation cost is charged separately.

Q. Are charges for boarding dogs, cats or other pets subject to the tax?

A. Yes. In addition, other services to pets such as grooming and clipping are taxable.

NEXT -- Rentals, restaurant meals, admissions and club dues.

Operation VFW

William M. Gousse Jr.
Post No. 3211
by Eddie Kiebling

Jim Klueg, past commander, who did such a good job as last year's chairman of the Voice of Democracy contest, tackles it again this year with the same enthusiasm he showed one year ago. The contest designed to encourage Americanism among high school students will be co-sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary this year. The theme for the contest will be "What Democracy Means to Me."

As the VFW opened their 66th annual convention in Chicago this week, John A. Jenkins, Commander in Chief, in an interview warned that the United States must not allow fear of Communist China to interfere with its military action in Vietnam or its overall foreign policy.

Two bills introduced in Congress recently would make it a crime and set harsh penalties for the harassment of servicemen and their families. The bills were the result of annoying and cowardly telephone calls by terrorists to a widow whose husband was killed in Vietnam. An article on the incident is in the August issue of VFW magazine.

The big military pay bill approved by both the Senate and the House goes to President Johnson this week for his signature. If he approves it increases could become effective September 1.

Veterans of World War II have less than two years to use their GI home loan benefits. VA guaranteed loans to those veterans will end on July 25, 1967. The formula for eligibility is: Ten years from the date of discharge, plus one year for every three months spent in active wartime service. Veterans of the Korean War can obtain VA guaranteed loans until January 31, 1975.

Well, it had to happen. With Uncle Sam tapping show business to do the morale building job only it can do to relieve the strain and MRS. LONG ISLAND, Diana Rembert of Syosset, receives the traditional bouquet of American Beauty roses and crown from Meadow Brook National Bank President, Walter E. Van der Waag, on the stage of the New York State Pavilion at the World's Fair. Mrs. Rembert was one of nine finalists in the competition, a preliminary to the 27th Annual Mrs. America contest.

Drama Discourse

By Elaine Huppmann

One of the most exciting theatrical seasons ever to be enjoyed by our community will be offered by the Jericho Community Theatre during the 1965-66 season. We were honored to be asked by the Scholarship Fund Committee to produce the musical show for the Scholarship Fund this Dec. 3, 4 and 10, 11th. This in itself will be thrilling to work in and be delightful to see.

We have also chosen various types of plays for our repertory company to whet the appetite of even the most avid theatre goer.

"Come Back Little Sheba" a very funny comedy will be given on October 29, 30, and November 5 and 6th. "The Mad Woman of Chailot", a magnificent, intense play will be given on March 18, 19 and March 25, and 26th. The varied and exciting season will conclude with the never to be forgotten "Come Back Little Sheba" on May 27, 28 and June 3 and 4th.

Mark the dates on your social calendar now so that you will be certain of seeing all of these productions.

The exciting news just keeps on coming from your theatre group! Dick Mazza, who directed "Anything Goes" and "Light Up the Sky" has again accepted the directorial reigns for the Scholarship musical. We'll all be delighted to work again with such a fine, young, and talented director.

We hope that many new people will join us this year in all of our productions, and especially in the Scholarship Show, which is opened to everyone who can do absolutely anything, in any capacity! A new apprenticeship program in the theatre crafts will be starting, so those of you who have never before worked on stage or behind stage now have the opportunity to gain new talents to add to your old ones.

There will be an open meeting on Sept. 1st at the Chase Manhattan Bank on Jericho Turnpike, Syosset at 8:30 P.M. so please plan to attend.

The Port of New York was used by 24,737 ships in 1964.

Editorial Comment.

Let's Take A Long Look!

There are established checks to assure thorough and deliberate consideration of any proposed changes to our national or state constitutions. Though they may at times be tantalizing because of the delays which they may cause in bringing such change into being, they have proven successful in assuring that the changes were truly for the better.

Similarly, certain checks were set up to assure sufficient deliberation in advance of taking action on proposed changes in the Nassau County Charter.

It now appears that there are forces at work to circumvent or minimize these checks in order to rush headlong into a referendum on a proposal to radically change this charter in regard to the number of supervisors and the areas which they will represent.

The fact that two proposals were put forth by the so-called majority and the so-called minority groups within the Charter Revision Commission, and the further fact that each of the six public hearings on the subject held by the Board of Supervisors clearly indicated a sharp division of opinion, indicates that the currently proposed Local Law does not have a clear mandate at any level.

There are a host of serious questions still to be answered, and it is doubtful that they can be answered satisfactorily between now and Election Day - during what promises to be the hottest campaign in Nassau history.

Such a change should not ride in, willy nilly, on the coattails of the currently popular "One Man, One Vote". Neither should it be buried under the popular anti-Tammany chant of "Ward Politics".

Let's take the time to get all the questions answered and to modify the proposal, if necessary, to assure that it will really be a change for the better for all the people of Nassau County. Just what is the hurry, anyway?

cial amount of $53,500 pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, to finance said appropriation. The plan of financing is the levy and collection of general taxes for payment of the serial bonds hereby authorized and the interest thereon.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:

(a) the period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the serial bonds herein authorized are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a, 56, of said Local Finance Law is ten (10) years.

(b) Current funds are not required to be provided prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this resolution.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this resolution and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation thereof shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of said School District, and said School District hereby irrevocably pledges its faith and credit to the punctual payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon and there shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in said School District a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this resolution and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of Section 50.00 and Sections 56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Board of Education relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds and bond anticipation notes, are hereby delegated to the President of the Board of Education, the chief fiscal officer of the School District.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds authorized by this resolution, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the School District is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This resolution shall take effect immediately.

SHORT AND SWEET

One of America's favorite hot weather treats may never have been invented if it were not for a shortage of dishes... On a sizzling summer day at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904 an ice-cream vendor faced a crisis when he ran out of serving dishes. A Syrian concessionaire who sold crisp sugar wafers quickly came to the rescue... He shaped his penny confections into cones to hold the ice cream. The portable combination was an instant success and it was not long before millions were enjoying the crunchy delight... Today Americans put away four billion servings of ice cream cones each year, more than half being consumed during the summer months... However, ice cream in all its forms is not merely a hot weather delight... Eskimoes like it so much that large supplies are flown in such frigid spots as Nome, Teller and Lost River... In Japan ice cream is served with all the delicacy of a home-cooked meal. Restaurants serve fried ice cream that is made by dipping frozen scoops in batter and frying them in deep fat...

Ice-cream has been enjoyed since Roman times. One obsessive eater, Emperor Nero, kept his slaves busy running for snow for confections from Rome to nearest white-capped mountains... One day a royal shipment of snow arrived in a state of slush on a blistering summer day and the angry emperor reputedly executed the general in charge...

The first world's fair, called the "Great Exhibition of Industry of All Nations," was held in London in 1851... It took sixteen and one half hours to transmit a 99-word message from Queen Victoria to President James Buchanan in 1858 via the first transatlantic cable... Lightning moves 30,000 times as fast as a bullet... According to the United States government an antique is an article made before 1830...

Suggests Study For Senior Citizens

An immediate study of Oyster Bay's pool and park complexes and public buildings, with a view toward providing suitable recreational facilities for the town's senior citizens, was proposed today by Assemblyman Edwin J. Feenstra.

Feenstra, Republican candidate for Oyster Bay Supervisor, said that there is a decided lack of such facilities in the area. "There are fine recreational areas for our youth, yet few places for the aged to enjoy their leisure hours."

"It is highly probable that both indoor and outdoor facilities that now exist could be converted and reserved for the use of the elderly. Minor structural changes in most instances would be sufficient to provide places for arts and crafts, discussion and theatrical groups, and even areas where the senior citizen could play checkers and other games and meet his friends," Feenstra stated.

CHARTER REVISION

To the Editor:

The members of the county Board of Supervisors have completed their county-wide hearings pertaining to the proposed majority recommendation by the Nassau County Commission on Governmental Revision to increase the number of county supervisors from six to fifteen members, each representing an equal population and voting on the basis of the Supreme Court's ruling of "one man, one vote--one vote, one value." Now, the board of supervisors, or to be more specific, the two supervisors representing the town of Hempstead (they control 57% of the weighted vote on the board and no bill can be passed over their opposition) will determine on August 23 whether or not the people will be given the opportunity to vote on this proposal at a referendum in November.

From all indications, it seems that Hempstead Supervisors Case and Purcell disapprove of a referendum being held on this most historic proposal. If their will prevails, the people will be denied the opportunity to determine whether they desire fair representative government, based on one man--one vote, or the present six man board of supervisors, where the weighted voting system places the power of decision-making in county affairs in the hands of the Hempstead supervisors.

In the past decade and a half, our county has witnessed fantastic growth, not only in population and progress, but also in problems. To meet our problems and to plan for the needs of the future, we have had to make changes; changes that we hope will bring a better life for every one. Likewise, to assure the people that they will have a voice in the future of Nassau County, a change is necessary in the structure of our county government; a change to fair and equal representative government.

For some, in this Age of the Sales Tax, the cost of this proposal for fair representative government becomes a serious question, and needless to say, a question that demands consideration and an answer. To face this problem of cost head-on for you, this writer has consulted with the County Bureau of Assessment and has studied the estimate county budget for fiscal 1965 in order to ascertain the approximate additional cost in taxes that the individual taxpayer would have had to pay if we had fifteen supervisors in 1965 instead of six. Here are the results for your careful consideration:

To meet the county's expenses in 1965, the individual taxpayer was taxed $2.15 on $100 of his assessed property value. For example: If the value of your property was assessed at $10,000, you paid $215; at $20,000, you paid $430. Therefore, $2.15 on $100 of assessed property value was the tax base rate. Now, if we had 15 supervisors to support instead of 6 supervisors under the estimate county budget for fiscal 1965, the additional cost for salaries and staffs would have amounted to approximately $700,-

000. Although this figure may seem excessive, the additional cost for the taxpayers would have been minimal.

As previously mentioned, the tax base rate of $2.15 on $100 of assessed property value was levied on the taxpayer by the county to meet county expenses in 1965. Now, in order for the people of the county to have supported 15 supervisors in 1965 without curtailing any of the other county expenses, all that needed to be done was to have changed the tax base from $2.15 to $2.17 on $100 of assessed property value--an increase of 2 pennies. Therefore, at $2.17 per $100 of assessed property value, the taxpayer, whose property was valued at $10,000, would have been taxed $217; at $20,000, he would have been taxed $434. As you can see, to have supported 15 supervisors and fair representative government in 1965 would have only cost you an additional $2.00 if your property was assessed at $10,000; an additional $4.00 if your property was assessed at $20,000. Such a minimal increase, I believe, is not too extravagant a price to pay for or to preserve and perpetuate the fundamental democratic principle of fair and equal representative government. In war, we have spent millions to protect our country and our fundamental principles of American democracy. In peacetime, we should be just as vigilant, fight and sacrifice just as much, so that our American democratic way of life will survive.

But now, you may not have the opportunity to render a voice on this most significant issue of fair representative government; the two Hempstead supervisors, controlling a majority of the votes on the board, may not approve of a referendum being held in November. We should be heard, we have a right to be heard, but it is unfortunate, due to the present weighted voting system of the county board of supervisors, that we may not be able to exercise our right to be heard on this issue.

Close Cantiague Links on Mondays

The golf course at Cantiague County Park in Hicksville will have a different "day of rest" from the course at Christopher Morley Park in North Hills so that golfers will not be inconvenienced. Cantiague will be closed on Tuesdays with Morley closing on Mondays. Due to the heavy amount of play received on weekends, the courses require a day off for intensive watering and to allow the grass to "breathe".

Jericho Tax Rate Goes Up 59 Cents

A tax increase for the Jericho School District of 59¢ for a total of $6.10 is expected to be adopted by the Jericho Board of Education at its next meeting.

The increased taxes was a result of the public approval of the School Budget as submitted to vote in May of this year. It was originally estimated that the new tax rate would be in the area of $6.53, but with a slight increase in assessed valuation as well as greater state aid the increase this year was not as great.
