Legion Would Halt Daily Singing Of National Anthem in Schools

Richard Evers, Americanism officer, in behalf of the Charles Wagner American Legion Post of Hicksville has again requested the Board of Education to discontinue a policy in effect for several years which requires the daily morning student singing or listening to the Star Spangled Banner. No action was taken by the Board when the request was made in previous years.

Evers in a letter to the Board, which he was invited to read at the meeting of the trustees last Friday night, declared "the Post's members continue to feel that daily contact with our National Anthem is far from an uplifting, enriching experience conducive to patriotism. It is, on the contrary, we feel, more of a deadening, meaningless exercise which, as the years pass, is lessening our children's appreciation of the unique, inspirational nature of the Anthem."

He believes the singing of the Anthem should be reserved for "special school occasions of significance such as weekly assembly programs, graduation ceremonies or important athletic occasions."

After some discussion, the suggestion was referred by Board President Herbert H. Johnson to the policy committee of the Board headed by Irving Lawrence which has a closed meeting scheduled for next Monday night. It was suggested the committee consult with school administrators and other organizations in the community, besides the Legion Post, before making its recommendations.

Evers, who is a social studies teacher in the Hicksville school, wrote "The Legion has been informed that the vast majority of social studies teachers in the secondary schools and their supervisors believe that daily contact with the Star Spangled Banner tends to affect detrimentally children's respect for, and appreciation of, this great inspirational air."

"In addition to this support of our position, we have learned that the Executive Board of Officers of the Hicksville Classroom Teachers' Assoc. late this past Spring voted unanimously to ask the Board of Education, this fall, to change its morning exercise policy as to restore the Anthem to significant usage."

It was noted at the meeting Friday night, that no communication regarding the matter has been received from the Classroom Teachers' Assoc. School Superintendent Donald Alb reported to the board, in summary, regarding a meeting he had with School Building Principals earlier in the day on the same topic and that he had some recommendations to offer, including the substitute of a variety of patriotic songs particularly in the lower grades.

Alb said the National Anthem is a difficult song for small children to sing, particularly in the kindergarten thru third grade.

Policy matters are part of the agenda for the special Board meeting on Friday night, Oct. 8, at East St. School and the committee may have a recommendation to offer on the Legion request at that time.

9 Groups Meet On Literature

A meeting sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Ignace Loyola Church, Hicksville was held Sept. 9 to discuss the problem of the influx of indecent literature in the Hicksville area. Many civic minded and fraternal organizations were represented at the meeting including: Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville; Our Lady of Mercy Church, Hicksville; Police Boys Club; Catholic Daughters; Mothers Aux., St. Ignace; Manetto Hill Masonic Lodge #1025; Knights of Columbus and Joint Committee on Indecent Literature, Seafoam.

After a general discussion of the problem and a display of the type of magazines readily available at "40¢ of Hicksville's newsstands," it was agreed that positive action must be taken to raise the quality of the periodicals sold in the area by making our wishes known to the news dealers. With this in mind it is intended that a permanent committee should be formed representing a cross-section of the area to review the material regularly.

Another general meeting, open to the public will be held shortly and an announcement giving the time and location will follow.

Toss Out Sealtest: Bd Cancels Contract For Milk Deliveries

Just 15 days after the start of the new term, the Hicksville Board of Education has cancelled a $100,000-a-year contract for delivery of milk to 11 public schools with Sealtest Foods Metropolitan Division of National Dairy Products. Declaring an emergency exists, arrangements to receive milk from another supplier went into operation on Tuesday.

The cancellation took place at the Board of Education meeting Friday night after an hour-long discussion which indicated delivery difficulties on almost everyone of the first few days of the school term. Specifically the complaints voiced were these: deliveries made before 8 AM and after 10 AM while the contract specified deliveries between these hours; sidewalk delivery rather than inside the building as stipulated and several instances of warm milk.

Henry Logan, sales manager for Sealtest New York area, was present at the Board meeting and took part in the discussion. He admitted the company had experienced some preliminary problems in servicing the schools but claimed corrections had been made.

School Lunch Director Barbara Fenerty reported to the Board that the problems included: consistently late deliveries, some schools either received no milk at all or order was drastically reduced, warm milk was delivered consistently (Bd of Health requires milk must be 50 degrees F or lower), because of late deliveries it was frequently necessary to serve juice instead of milk thus requiring additional bookkeeping. There were also problems with the delivery slips.

The contract for milk delivery this term was awarded to Sealtest on the basis of a joint bid with six other school districts. It was reported at the meeting that other districts involved appeared satisfied with the service they received.

As of Tuesday (schools were closed Monday) milk has been delivered by Grandview Dairy of Ridgewood.

Besides Hicksville, districts participating in the joint bid for milk delivery included Plainville, Plainville, Bethpage, Massapequa and Island Trees school districts.

To Build, Lease Sectional Center

Congressman Lester L. Wolff, announced Friday that a Post Office "sectional center" will be constructed by the Chestnut Park Corp. at the corner of Broadway and Lauman Lane at an estimated cost of $529,186. The Post Office Dept. will lease the building for five years, for a cost of $102,158 for each of the first two years and $68,000 for each of the remaining three years.

A sectional center is used for the sorting and processing of mail. The new building will have 44,104 square feet interior space, 7,500 square feet platform space, and 76,000 square feet parking and maneuvering area, Wolff explained.

Petito Snoozes, Fehrenbach Says

Edwin J. Fehrenbach, the Republican candidate for Oyster Bay Supervisor, this week labeled his opponent "the Snoozing Supervisor."

Speaking at the opening of Hicksville Republican Campaign Headquarters, Fehrenbach told his audience, "Yesterday, my opponent said the McKinney Management Report hasn't been implemented."

"What are the facts?"

"Since the reports publication over a year ago," Fehrenbach pointed out, the purchasing, administrative and multi-lit departments have been consolidated; the sign and highway departments have been consolidated; the engineering and building departments have been consolidated with the Board of Zoning Appeals; and four additional functions have been added to the Town Clerk's office.

In addition, Fehrenbach noted, there has been a reduction of personnel, "but humanely through attrition, resignation, and retirement of employees whose jobs were not filled after their departure."

Fehrenbach then told his audience, "It is plain the Supervisor doesn't know what is going on, and actually lacks interest in his job."

Fehrenbach said, "he did not introduce a single resolution or proposal before the Town Board between July 27 and Sept. 14 of this year. That's more than six weeks."

"And this, mind you, from the man who is going around this Town wringing his hands and crying that he is being impeded in his efforts. What efforts?"

Returning to the management report, Fehrenbach asserted, "The report has been completed for over a year. My opponent hasn't offered one resolution or proposal to implement any of the suggestions contained in the report, although he professes to be very concerned."

Lewis Recalls Battle of Bulge

The Battle of the Bulge involved thousands of men and covered many square miles. As with any battle, the individual drama tends to be obscured by the dimension of the fighting.

Some idea of what the Battle of the Bulge was like for the individual comes from talking to Robert D. Lewis, assistant cashier at Meadow Brook's Hicksville office, who lives in North Massapequa. Lewis was 19 years old, a member of an infantry company, during the Battle of the Bulge.

"Our division, the 99th, was in a holding position," he recalled. "We went out on patrols at night, usually to get prisoners. We heard reports from counter-intelligence that the Germans were planning a big push, but we didn't know when. So, we dug in, went on patrol, and waited. Bad weather set in early, then came snow, plenty of it, which turned to slush when the sun came out. At dawn one morning, without warning, the German artillery opened up and the shells came in without letup and by noon all hell had broken loose. A lieutenant herded what was left of the company and took us to an old farm house."

"We spent the night in the farm house, shells crashing through the dark. The next morning the lieutenant told us we were going to try to make it to battalion headquarters about four miles away."

"It was bad from the beginning. We had to stay off the roads because German tanks were around. We stayed in the woods. There was snow on the ground. At night we tried to get our shoes off to change our socks, which were soaked, but our feet were too swollen. That was the beginning of frozen feet."

"The next day it was hard to walk. The lieutenant tried to keep us together; we tramped through the snow and slush in our low-cut boots - we hadn't been issued winter clothing yet. Our feet were numb and as heavy as lead. Most of us had frozen feet, including myself. Walking just a short distance was an ordeal."

"We ran into remnants of other units. There was sporadic firing. The men hunched over in the snow and ate their rations, dreading the moment they would have to walk again. Our lieutenant walked among us, bandoliers of ammunition over his shoulder. He was a former football star and he gave us pep talks. One of the sergeants had frozen feet, too; he let the lieutenant talk, said nothing. The men came to their feet and slowly, like sleep walkers, we kept going."

When they finally reached headquarters, Lewis was taken to a field hospital, and from there he was sent to England. For a number of years he felt the effects of frozen feet.

"The thing that bothered us the most was the helplessness we felt. We knew things were going badly, but there wasn't much the individual soldier could do about it."

EDITORIAL OPINION

Things That Bother Us

- Monster poles are erected in Hicksville, thru the parking fields, to carry high voltage current of the Lighting Co and not a word of objection. The same proposal out in Suffolk brought a storm of protest from the townships involved.
- Nobody seems to know what's what about the widening of Broadway but there is plenty of conversation (most of it wrong) about the subject. When? Why? How?
- Nassau County Planning Commission seems determined to avoid Hicksville when it contemplates a transportation terminal. First it was a wild-eyed plan involving Roosevelt Field. Now it's a park and ride plan for, of all places, Locust Grove, even though the bulk of the commuters go from Hicksville.
- The seeming dearth of civic leadership in our community.

Critical of Budget 'Cuts'

Town Board Majority Leader Edward J. Poulos has demanded that Supervisor Michael N. Pettito explain how $50,000 could be saved in the Town's beach budget expenditures.

Poulos urged the Supervisor to outline the areas where his alleged economies could be achieved in the Beach Department as indicated in his message to the Town Board on Sept. 21.

At the Sept. 23 budget review of the Beach Dept., Poulos asked Pettito if the savings could be achieved by cutting the permanent personnel and asked for specifics. Pettito replied that the permanent personnel should be left as is, it is reported.

Poulos inquired if the seasonal personnel should be cut to achieve these savings. Pettito replied that he had no suggestions on cuts in these areas.

The $556,000 budget for the Beach Department was kept intact after the Board had rejected a proposal by Edward F. Brickell, Superintendent of Beaches, to add two additional jobs -- a maintenance man and a motor equipment operator -- at salaries totaling $12,219.

Poulos said that Pettito's suggestion to save $50,000 in the Town's beach budget was an admirable idea; however, he added, it appears to be "just talk" since he didn't indicate at the Beach Dept. budget review how these savings were to be achieved.

Poulos also pointed out that Pettito's recommendation to consolidate the Town Highway and Engineering Departments into a public works department had already been approved by the Town Board and will become effective next year.

Poulos disputed Pettito's claim that hiring more engineers to eliminate the need for consulting engineers would cut costs drastically. He said hiring more personnel would be more expensive "since the men and equipment could not be kept busy all year long on seasonal projects."

He also questioned the advisability of a self-insurance plan since it would require the "creation of a large reserve fund and would not bring any savings."

He also hit Pettito on the recommendation to use blacktop instead of blue stone on the roads as an economical move. "Blue stone is less expensive than blacktop," said the Board Majority Leader.

"In one breath the Supervisor is talking of economies, then turns around and suggests a more expensive road material. This is a continuing sample of his inconsistency."

Old Milestone Mystery Solved

Public Works Commissioner Eugene F. Gibbons reveals that Edward J. Smits, Curator of the Nassau County Historical Museum, reports that the "mystery of the milestones" has been solved. Recent findings by Mrs. Claire T. Ellis, a teacher in the Levittown School System, have provided a clue to the identification of milestone markers erected in the early 1800's in Nassau County.

These milestones were located on South Oyster Bay Road and Syosset Cold Spring Harbor Road from Plainedge to Cold Spring Harbor. The locations of at least five of the stones are known and two of the stones are still in existence. They were erected between 1802 and 1816, and bear mileage numbers and the initials WL. Although there had been some earlier suggestion that Walter Jones, a resident of the Cold Spring area in the early 1800's, might have erected the stones, there was no certainty until Mrs. Ellis uncovered a confirming reference. While working on a history of School District No. 5, she found a reference in a history of the Jones family on Long Island which mentioned that Walter Jones erected milestones from his house on the road to Cold Spring Harbor to the south shore.

Further research by the museum disclosed that Jones was an overseer of highways of the Town of Oyster Bay beginning in 1808 and was interested in road development. It was also determined that a capital J. was frequently written like a capital I in the 18th and 19th centuries, local tombstones having similar examples, according to Smits.

Milestones were first erected in America for early post office use and as road signs in the 1700's and early 1800's. There is a record of various ones in Suffolk County to provide mileage to the courthouse at Riverhead. The ones in the Town of Oyster Bay, however, are the only recorded ones in Nassau County and are an interesting remnant of an era when transportation depended on the horse and buggy.

Trotta Chairman For Score SCORE Here

The Nassau County GOP is intensifying its annual registration drive under the designation of SCORE "Special Concentration of Republican Effort."

Hicksville Republican Leader, Julius Schwartz, the Republican Candidate for the 10th Assembly District, announced the appointment of Gerard P. Trotta as the SCORE Chairman for the Hicksville area.

In order for any citizen to vote, he must have been a resident of New York State one year, Nassau County four months, and Election District 30 days. The period of official residence begins on the day he signs his contract or lease. To vote a person must re-register if he has moved even from across the street.

Men Overseas Tell Red Cross

What does the American serviceman in Vietnam, Newfoundland, the Azores, Germany, or anywhere else far from home, want for Christmas? Red Cross workers stationed with troops throughout the world have asked them for suggestions and found these answers:

1. Homemade things like candies, cake, sweater, and pictures of the family top every list.
2. Favorite brands of cigars, hometown papers, and "surprise me" gifts turned up in many of the replies.

3. Many of the younger men, including officers, are interested in gifts of clothing in the latest style trends to supplement the good but more conservative clothing available in the post exchanges.

The United States Post Office recommends that for military addresses overseas, surface mail should be sent between Oct. 21 and Nov. 10. Mail and parcels by air should be sent between Dec. 1 and Dec. 10. For the Far East and Southeast Asian destinations, the opening date for each method is recommended.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE Eugene H. Nickerson unearths 1st shovel of dirt during groundbreaking ceremonies of Aeroflex Laboratories, Inc. to be located in Plainview. Assisting Nickerson is Col. John R. Martin of Hicksville, President of the Company.

Tree Planting Gets Go Signal

The Oyster Bay Town tree planting program which was negotiated by the State Comptroller this year may be doubled to continue the program and catch up with the backlog next year if the incoming board authorizes it, according to Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Town Board Majority Leader.

The board made possible the continuation of the roadside tree planting by approving a provision for $40,000 in the 1966 preliminary budget for tree planting in the Town's general fund. The Board's action was unanimous. This year $20,000 had been provided in the highway district fund, the legality of which was challenged by the State Comptroller. Highway Superintendent Norman T. Wolf recommended to the Board that planting be set up for both spring and fall next year saying, "If we get the trees, Town forces will plant them and householders who have besieged us for them will be asked to water them."

He pointed out that the plantings are confined to the area between curbs and sidewalks and while best results are realized by fall plantings in times of drought, spring planting will have to be done if all of the approved requests for trees received this year and those anticipated for next year are to be honored. Planting will continue to be done in the order of applications received, he said.

"We sincerely regret that it has been necessary to advise so many applicants this year that the program was suspended," Sept. Wolf concluded.

Four Available For Appointment

Four persons have submitted their names asking consideration for appointment to the Hicksville Board of Education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Anderson who moved from the District. Reference to letters seeking the position was made at the School Board meeting, Friday night which adjourned before the matter could be considered on the agenda.

James G. F. Trimble who was an unsuccessful candidate for the Board last May claims 1,847 taxpayers voted for him and "the voices of these people will be completely ignored if an individual is seated who is the hand-picked designee of four members of the present school board."

Also applying have been Harold Sternberger of 229 Princess St., active in school district and community affairs, who stated he would seek re-election next May if appointed now; Philip K. Badger of 89 Ballpark Lane who owns a brokerage business in Hempstead; and Evelyn Silver.

As all who attended know, we had a fine time Saturday morning at the Twin Theatres. We wish to thank Mr. Kaplan, Manager of the Twin Theatres, for all his help in making our Young Folks Show a tremendous financial success. The many door prizes were awarded to the lucky winners. Among them Miss Stacy Powers who won the transistor radio (donated by Courtesy Drugs), and Master Jared Eisenstadt who won the Admiral table radio (given to us by Jamaica Refrigeration). Other donors of door prizes were Groeman Bros., Agway, M. Hober Inc., Thrift City, and Williams Discount Stores, all of Hicksville. All in all more than 30 door prizes were given out. The amazing Ward the Wizard started the show with his fantastic feats of magic wizardry. The many children who assisted Ward the Wizard can attest to his skills. All in all he had the entire audience enthralled. After the Movie which was "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," our Rock & Roll group, the Mid Island Five minus 2 appeared. The Band members were Tom Groody, Guitar, Bob Thallman, Drums and Jim Cummings, Guitar. Their songs and R&B numbers were really professional, and in not too long a time we predict that these fine artists will be right up there. All in all it was a really good show. The boys have promised to come out at one of our home games at Cantigue Park and entertain the crowd at half time.

Last Saturday, our Intermural Division games began. The crowd who attended these games saw some fine football played on the 40 x 30 Yd. field. Coach Art Torrellias, who winged to Europe after the game, said Coach Tom Walsh, and Warren Doolittle's Squad, The Hicksville Lions outplayed the Hicksville Mustangs 19 to 6. The Lion's Quarterback, Tim Donohue, led his team with fine passing and excellent signal calling. Micky Menno scored one touchdown on an interception and a second touchdown on a 40 yard end run, with key blocks given by Peter Walsh, and Richard Murphy.

Jeff Parker scored the third touchdown on a 20 yard pass. Scott Parker kept the Mustangs deep in their own territory with his long punts and sensational defensive end play.

In the Eagle Vs. the Lions game, the Hicksville Eagles coached by Dick DuBru Ed Grams and Pete Randall romped away to a 25 to 0 victory over the Hicksville Lions. Coaches for the Lions are John Maher, and Pete Morrissey. Ken Hartman, the Eagle quarterback, called a masterful game setting up many plays that allowed the Eagles to move to victory. Ed Grams scored 4 touchdowns, in fact scored all the points in the entire game. Both the Wildcats and the Eagles played fine defensive football. The Wildcats defensive unit led by Steve Bistany & Larry Haas hit hard and often. Defensively, the Wildcats quarterbacked by Larry Clock an excellent passer penetrated deep in Eagle territory only to be stopped by the Eagles Bob Judge, Ken Hartman, Wayne Randall and their stalwart team mates The Chinese Bandits "The Holt Terrors" and the "Mighty Mites" the three Eagle squads. The outstanding play of Eddie Grams scoring on 2 80 yard end runs plus an eighty yard interception return and a 60 yard second half kick-off return provided the margin of victory for the Eagles.

On the other front, our Mid Island chargers did it again. Bill Roth, our Charger coach was not able to attend this game as his baby's Christening occurred at the same time as the game. Chris Gagnaire took over the team for the day. After a slow start, our Chargers came from behind for their second win of this young season, and thus remained undefeated. Steve Malone received the kickoff and ran it back to the 50 yard line. Six plays later, Hicksville scored their first touchdown on a 20 yard pass from Brian McAuley to tight end Ed Moeller. The extra point was disallowed because of a Hicksville penalty on the play. From this point on until the end of the third quarter North Babylon dominated the game and forged ahead 12 to 6. Our boys just couldn't seem to get started. In the third quarter, Hicksville recovered a North Babylon fumble and from that point on played inspired ball as well as taking complete control of the game. Hicksville tied the score on the last play of the third quarter on a roll out around eight end by our ace quarterback Brian McAuley. Hicksville then edged ahead when McAuley went through the middle of the line to score the extra point. The score then was Hicksville 13 North Babylon 12. McAuley scored the last touchdown of the game in the 4th quarter when Brian picked up no less than 5 blockers for a 80 yard touchdown run. Key blocks were made by Chris Sistani, and Steve Powers. The extra point gave Hicksville an eight point edge with 5 minutes remaining on the clock. The extra point was scored by Bob Gagnaire of Hicksville. Final score Hicksville 20 North Babylon 12.

Starting with next weeks column, Team & League standings will be printed to inform our readers of Hicksville's position in the Nassau-Suffolk Football League.

Next week, Sunday, October 3, at 1 p.m. at Cantigue Park football arena, our team will meet undefeated Central Islip. This should be an exciting game and our boys would really welcome a big turnout to help cheer them on to victory.

Next Saturday, at 11 A.M., the boys and their guests will be going to Shea Stadium to see the Phils and Mets play. All, who have not turned in their parental permission slips please do so at once. The list of donations is growing with each passing week, next week we will endeavor to list all of our major contributors.

Dinner to Honor District Attorney

More than 1,500 guests are expected to crowd the Georgian Room at the Garden City Hotel, on Thursday, Oct. 7th, to honor Bill Cahn, Nassau County District Attorney. It was announced today by Sen. Edward J. Speno, Republican Leader of Nassau County.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Nassau Republican Committee.

Dinner is at 7:30 P.M. preceded by a reception for distinguished guests, including fellow district attorneys from Florida, Nevada, Arizona and other states, who will be on hand to greet the guest of honor.

Former Assembly Leader Joseph F. Carlino will be toastmaster.

Would Create 'Little Hoover'

A "Little Hoover Commission" created to continually review the procedures and structure of Oyster Bay town government was suggested this week by Bethpage lawmaker Edwin J. Fehrenbach, Republican candidate for Oyster Bay Supervisor. It was his theme in coffee klatches held in Hicksville.

Fehrenbach said the advisory group, which would be patterned after the Nassau Charter Revision Commission, would help him "to make certain that our governmental machinery is up-to-date and effective."

He said he would go on a talent hunt after his election throughout the town, "and County if need be" to find commission members. He said he wanted to tap the "vast reservoir" of outstanding individuals who have not time for active political involvement, "but who would be glad to participate in such a meaningful endeavor."

Pearsall Coins New GOP Theme

"New Republicanism" was given birth last week in the Town of Oyster Bay.

That was the term used by C. Bruce Pearsall, Oyster Bay Republican chairman, to describe his party's future in his speech accepting re-election as Town leader during which he also announced his decision to resign immediately after the coming election.

Pearsall told his audience, "Of all the political parties formed in this nation, I believe the Republican Party is the noblest instrument for self-government." Saying the GOP need to "re-gain its soul," the Town leader defined the purpose of a political party: "It must recognize the problems of the time and offer acceptable solutions."

According to Pearsall, this means solutions based on what he called the basic Republican principles of "moderation, responsibility, and sensible progress."

He stressed the GOP's need to become "responsive" noting, "when the Republican Party has been responsive, it has won."

Candy Campaign Frontero Seeks For Camp Fire Girls Phantom Opponent

The Camp Fire Girls of Nassau County are going door-to-door and setting up shop in their local stores and banks this month to sell candy for the benefit of the organization. The popular favorite, cashew butter crunch, is sold in an attractive canister. Another choice is old-fashioned cream mints. Look for your neighborhood Camp Fire Girl in her colorful red, white and blue service costume and buy her candy. After you've enjoyed these delicious candies, you'll want to order more for gifts. The candy sale will be held Oct. 1 through Oct. 31. The candy sale is the major financial endeavor of the Nassau County Council of Camp Fire Girls.

"I am running against a phantom," Vincent B. Frontero the Democratic candidate for the State Senate in the Fourth District said this week.

Frontero, in a speech before the Jericho-Syosset Democratic Club, described the incumbent Senator as a "will-o-the-wisp."

"Where is this phantom legislator? He hasn't been seen this campaign by the voters and from what we hear he hasn't even been seen by his own party workers."

"There are basic, brass-tax issues to be faced. I am ready to meet the phantom in debate on any grounds he chooses. Whether or not he will join me, I'll endeavor to reach every corner of this District to talk to the people."
