School Bd Goes Halfway on Pay Raise Requests

The Hicksville Board of Education, after several meetings of its professional and non-instructional liaison committees with representatives of various employee groups, has agreed to granting 51 percent of the requests made. The total requests would have increased the budget for next fiscal year by $645,000 and the Board has agreed to provide $352,000.

Honored 20 Years Later

It took more than 20 years, but Raymond R. Viether of 147 First St., Hicksville, has been rewarded for his infantry duty with the 34th Division of the U.S. Army in Italy as of June 27, 1944. He has just been awarded the Bronze Star medal for his service.

Girls Shape for Crown

Push-ups, deep knee bends and other exercises are the daily routine as the 15 candidates for "Miss Long Island Water Conference" grunt and groan their way into shape for the Feb. 28 contest.

Harry Borley, Commissioner of the Hicksville Water District and Chairman of the Arrangements Committee for the Long Island Water Conference, reported seeing the local candidates, Blanche Barsauaskas of Ballard Lane and Lena Friscla of Underhill Ave., doing road-work between their respective homes and Karlson and Reed, Inc. on Barclay St., where they are employed. The girls spend their working days assisting in taking care of paper work related to water main installation projects in Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

After 136 monthly technical meetings during the past 15 years, it was decided to start the sixteenth year by honoring the members of the fairer sex on the water works team. Ray Heatherton, of radio and television fame, will be the Master of Ceremonies for the affair. The winner of the "Miss Long Island Water Conference" contest will fly to Bermuda to obtain a water sample to compare with the Long Island underground water supply. While staying at a luxurious hotel in Bermuda, "Miss Long Island Water Conference" will have to practice push-aways from the dinner table to keep that flattering figure. Meanwhile, back at the 13th meeting of the Conference in March, things will be normal again, with discussions regarding water supply, treatment, storage, distribution and administration.

Hicksville Water Commissioners Borley, William A. Ciesler

and George Kunz have pledged their efforts to assist a Hicksville girl to win the Long Island Water Conference crown.

Town Earning Money

Town of Oyster Bay taxpayers will benefit from the new higher rates on special time deposits. Town Comptroller Joseph A. Macedonio has deposited $1,900,000 in available Highway Funds at interest rates exceeding 5%. Deposits included $600,000 in a 60 to 179 day account at 5.5% and $300,000 in a 5.15%, 180 to 359 day account, both in the Franklin National Bank. The Town also deposited $400,000 at 5.25% in a one year account at the Long Island National Bank.

The new teachers salary schedule starts at $5900 compared with the current $5700 start and goes up in 17 steps to $9509 compared with a top of $9604. All reference to merit appears to be excluded from the new schedule.

In addition, the schedule for teachers pay adds two new divisions: BA plus 15 ($6077 to $10,138 in 17 steps) and BA plus 45 ($6549 to $11,505).

The following is a comparison of straight BA level, steps one thru 10:

Step	Present	New
One	$5700.	$5900
Two	5933.70	6154
Three	6167.40	6407
Four	6401.10	6661
Five	6634.80	6915
Six	6874.20	7169
Seven	7113.60	7422
Eight	7353.00	7676
Nine	7592.40	7929
Ten	7837.50	8183
Seventeen	9004.50	9509

The current schedule of salaries for teachers was adopted on Feb. 27, last year. In round figures, each teacher would receive about $200 more on the step increase. With the new schedule they will get an additional $200 or an increase of at least $400 in most cases more.

The sum of $285,000 was added to the proposed 1965-67 budget to cover the salary increases for teachers and $55,000 was added for the clerical and buildings and grounds staffs for their new schedules in salaries effective July 1.

The vote in all cases was six in favor, none opposed. Trustee Irving Lawrence was not at the meeting, Friday night.

A new schedule of pay was adopted for the cafeteria workers without additional budget funds. Board President Herbert Johnson indicated it may be necessary to add five cents to the cafeteria price list, unchanged in eight or more years, to continue the lunch rooms on a "self-sustaining" basis.

Silver Beaver to Local Men

John L. Ehmman of Hicksville and Edward Wilson of Bethpage were among eight Silver Beaver award winners honored by the Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Garden City Hotel Monday night, Feb. 21.

Jack Ehmman, partner in the operation of Hicksville Firestone Dealer Store on South Broadway with Clifford Freitag, has been active as a volunteer troop leader. He has also been active in fund raising, served as merit badge counselor and participated in training programs. He is an active member of the Charles Wagner Post of American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Little League and Parent Teacher Association.

Wilson, operator of the Beau Sejour in Bethpage, was a scout in Troop 91 of Hicksville and served as a member of the Camp Wawapeex Staff. He has been a merit badge counselor and active on the special gifts committee of the Council Finance Program.

SCOUTMASTER Kenneth Barto of Wantagh explains the rules of Long Island Lighting Company's BOY Scout essay contest to Troop 291 Scouts David Barto (center) and Richard Sluder of 4 Carol Court, Hicksville. Open to all Nassau and Suffolk Boy Scouts, the contest is being held as part of a joint celebration of Boy Scout Week and National Electric Week. For the 20 best essays on the topic, "Electricity Makes a World of Differences", LILCO is awarding four three-week all expense paid trips to a New Mexico Scout ranch and sixteen two-week tours at local Scout camps.

In other actions at the special board meeting at Lee Ave. School, the Board of Education added $40,000 to the proposed budget for the purchase of books for students of private and parochial schools, grades 7 thru 12, as required by the state education law. The amount of allotment was predicted on the school census with $25 per pupil allowed for grades 7 and 8 and $45 per student for grades 9 thru 12.

An executive meeting of the Board which had been called for Saturday morning, Feb. 19, by President Johnson to iron out salary schedule questions was cancelled.

There were less than 50 spectators in the audience for the meeting at Lee Ave. School, the second "on the road" session of the school year in an effort to develop public interest in the affairs of the school district. The only questions of the evening raised during the "public" portion of the meeting from 10:55 to 11 PM were presented by Florence Infantino.

The trustees utilized the portion during a coffee break from 9:30 PM to 10:06 to meet with Kathleen Janca, chairman of the citizens advisory committee on Public Relations.

The Board also approved the expenditure under code 200 of the proposed budget to pay six teachers at the rate of $600 each to participate for one month each in accompanying foreign language students in six groups to France, Spain, Austria, Italy and Puerto Rico this summer upon the recommendation of School Superintendent Donald F. Abt.

A proposal of the Classroom Teachers Assoc. to change the school year calendar and close schools from April 16 thru April 13 was rejected by a vote of four to two. The board also confirmed the results of a telephone poll of its members to close school on Monday, Feb. 21. The poll had shown the members in favor, four to three. The members present were unanimous in their approval of the closing and confirmation of the poll.

The meeting adjourned at 12 midnight. The next session will be held this Friday night, Feb. 25, in the new administration building on Division Ave. adjacent to the senior high school.

Federal Grant $81,259.83

Donald F. Abt, superintendent of Hicksville Public Schools, has been notified by the State Education Dept. that under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (Federal Aid), the community has a basic maximum 1965-66 grant of $81,259.83. Based upon 181.24 children aged 5 to 17 who in 1960 resided with parents earning less than $2000, the total eligibility is given for 222.24 at $365.64 per child as the Federal grant.

The School District is scheduled to receive, in the near future, applications in conjunction with the program.

The North Shore Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation for Research will hold a Sweetest Card Party Mr. and Mrs. nite at the Jericho Firehouse on Friday night, Feb. 25.

Pageantry in Brass

By the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps

In the past few columns we have introduced the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps and we hope, we have given you some inkling of what a Marching and Manoeuvring Corps is. This week we'll talk about the individuals that make up this organization. THE GIRLS THEMSELVES!

Just what type of person goes in for Drum Corps activities? Surely, a lot of hard work is involved and it consumes an enormous amount of time. Let's see if we can express, in words, exactly what makes these girls "tick".

The impression most people get when they see a Drum Corps come down the street is "Gee, they look good." But, when they listen to them practice the tune is a little different. "When will they ever stop playing the same song over and over again!" They fail to look beyond the surface.

The Corps, itself is composed of individuals, each with her own personality. Drum Corps isn't the only thing in their lives, although that might be the way it seems. A large number of our girls excel in many other areas. For example, last year Laura Hagen and Juliet Alimena, both excellent drummers, won a music scholarship. Laura plays the viola and hopes to continue her music in a teaching career; Juliet merited her scholarship singing. These girls spent a month studying at the University of Vermont. Jane Caldwell, Linda Smith and Pat Wayne, also drummers, are fabulous equestrians and have many Blue Ribbons to their credit. Janet Smith plays a solo soprano bugle. A freshman at Molloy College for Women, Janet earned a four year scholarship, her major field is science. Sue Kudless, a French horn player, won a scholarship to the University of New Hampshire. These are only a few of the individual accomplishments the girls have made; but they serve as an example.

A Drum Corps is made up of individuals who possess the same aim. On the field this goal is to put on the best show. Yet it doesn't end here. All that each girl is she must inject into the Corps and, hence, into everything else she does. Her sense of teamwork, her knowledge and most of all, her desire to share the good she has, all play an important part in her life as a whole. All her interests are shared, developed and expanded. This is shown in her ability to work with sixty other people as one mind. As each girl marches down the street, or steps off the line at a contest, it is an individual act done for the good of the whole. Because she realizes that this produces a good effect, in her desire to share, she will bring this with her where ever she goes - at home, at school, or at business. It is a part of her personality.

Tenacity of purpose is another high ranking quality of a Cadet. It takes many long hours of practice to be good, to be better takes even more hours. Yet there is a realization that people who wish to attain success have no working hours.

Drum Corps brings out a bon fire of love and teamwork that every girl will carry with her for the rest of her life. She is now, and will continue to feed this fire in all her contributions to Society. She knows what it means to be part of a team and that it is necessary to her role in helping to "Build the Earth."

Christopher Hewel of 33 Cable Lane and Joseph Pontrello of Turnbull Lane, both Hicksville, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogel of 33 Fox Lane, Jericho, are members of the Hofstra University Alumni Fund drive committee.

Dear Lynda

DR. JOHN C. FLANAGAN, president of the American Institute for research, will be present at the Hicksville Board of Education meeting this Friday night, Feb. 25, to present a report on the study measuring the adequacy and quality of education provided by Hicksville Public Schools. FRED UZAKIEWICZ of Hicksville was among 11 police recruits from Nassau sworn in last week by the NY City Transit Authority. Peggy's Southern Fried Chicken in the old firehouse on E. Marie St., Hicksville, opposite the main Fire headquarters is now open daily from 11 AM to 11 PM, according to TOM COLWELL. Call WE 1-7781 for free delivery. PHILIP ROSLER, formerly an account executive with Industrial Marketing Associates of Hicksville, has been named to the newly created position of Director of Advertising of the Ronson Corp. at Woodbridge, N.J. Congressman LESTER WOLFF has announced that Grumman has a billion dollar contract for completion of the Lunar Excursion Module (LEM) which will place a three man team on the moon in early 1970 and a $13.60 million dollar contract to increase long lead time effort in support of the fiscal 1968 procurement of A-6A aircraft for the Navy. JAMES CARDILLO of 90 Pollock Pl., as well as Mrs. WILLIAM F. SFORZA of 7 Pleasant Ave., Plainview, are on the committee for the annual fashion show and luncheon set for Mar. 23 by the Ladies Auxiliary of LaSalle Military Academy. It will be held at the Waldorf Astoria. When the Nassau Police Dept. recruit campaign vehicle visits around the county, it will be at the Hicksville RR station on Mar. 1, Birchwood Shopping Center in Jericho on Mar. 11 and Midway Shopping Center in Plainview on March 9. Hicksville Rotarians heard at their last meeting that EDDIE TEVERINI is back in Oyster Bay Hospital and not receiving visitors at present. Send him a get well card. We did not get all the details, but there was some kind of a disturbance at the high school basketball game, Friday night. The McKean warehouse on Old Country Rd., Hicksville, which was the scene of a very expensive fire has about been removed from the scene. Did you see that sign on Stewart Ave., on the way to Bethpage, offering fire place logs at the rate of "12 pieces $1.12"? There was a flap about milk delivery to Burns Ave. School recently. We liked this item in the Smithtown News: "Telephoned the Bulova Co. the other day and received the bright greeting '4:18 Bulova Watch Time, Good Afternoon'. I was impressed. Think what it could do for other businesses. 'Your time is my time', responded the funeral director. 'Time on my hands' tolled the jeweler. 'You take it from here'....."

Tie for First in CYO Competition

Our Lady of Mercy Girls Bantam White CYO team clinched at least a tie for first place in C.Y.O. Section 1 competition by defeating St. Bernard's 15 to 6. The girls will play their final league game on Sunday, Feb. 27 against St. Edwards of Syosset, who are in second place in the section, they incurred their only loss from Our Lady of Mercy.

The Boys Bantam A finished their season with a record of 8 wins and 4 losses and they finished third in their section.

The Boys Bantam B team playing together for the first time with all 5th and 6th grade boys made an admirable showing in that they held their own in playing against 7th grade boys. They will participate in the same section again next year, a year older and with that necessary experience.

The Girls Tyro Team led by Carolyn White and Jackie Florence have found themselves and have run off three wins in a row. This sport will give them third place in their section. They defeated St. Edwards of Syosset, this past week, 26-29; Maria Regina 34-21 and Sacred Heart 35-29.

The Boys Grammar Team will finish fourth in their section. Ray Radzinski has taken this group which never played organized ball before and blended them into a unit. They have made tremendous strides and if the league was starting now they would have a good chance of winning all the marbles.

The Girls Bantam Blue Team won their second game of the season, defeating St. Joseph 10 to 4. These girls are all fifth graders and will have two more years together as a team in the Bantam section.

There were 150 boys and girls involved and they always conducted themselves like ladies and gentlemen.

Police Promotions Effective March 4

Among 39 promotions in Nassau County Police Dept to become effective March 4 are the following in this area:

Harold E. Looney of Bethpage moved up from inspector to deputy chief inspector in command of the third division.

Least Cornelius T. Costello of Hicksville moved up to captain. Detective sergeants moving up to lieutenant are Charles F. Dumas and Richard C. Ketcham, both of Hicksville.

Yesterday's Headlines

By JOE KOERNER

SECTION 1 SLANTS ... A lot of ifs, and buts were tossed into the section 1 basketball bopper last Fri.-nite but one evening's end, the die had been cast. Plainview, by virtue of a close cropped 68-66 decision over the Clarke Rams, had become the 66th Divisional Champ. And there were none in the Comet Camp, to deny that the (5 sec. remaining) tap-in by the Gull's, Bob Herrmann, wasn't the proverbial straw that broke Hicksville's back. The Comet's, with 2 forfeits in their grab-bag, were out and Plainview was in...It was as simple as that. Now if Herrmann had missed those 66-66, he eventually picked up the overtime win, Hicksville would have been facing the Gull's (in Gullville) this Friday nite for the Section 1 Championship. But as things stand now, with the Divisional title, already being gonfied, the Comets will be merely suiting up in the role of the Spoilers... and spoilers they can be if they knock off Plainview for the 2nd time this season. (Hicksville won the first time around but had to forfeit, due to a late season ruling on Bill Corrigan's ineligibility) This of course leaves the Gulls in the position of pulling and LBJ... and knowing in their own hearts, that Hicksville, might have plans to play another 68 on the Plainview Organ. And should History repeat itself...look for the never say die, Loyal members of the C.R.F. to mean loud & long... "WILL THE REAL CHAMP NOW STAND UP". "Arrive early... stay late... and bring the embalming fluid and sedatives along", say the experts, who have lived through long past Hicksville. Plainview, Donnybrooks. Meanwhile back in last week's jungle of statistics, Coach Ed Petre and Asst. Coach Bud Bryan's Feverish Five, had a field day, de-borning Clarke to the tune of a 77-55 decision. Comets big and small got into the act, with Guy Van Wagenen leading the pack with 25 pts and 13 rebounds. Jim Webb and Frank Mulligan feasted at the rebound table with 20 & 14 respectively. Mulligan also earned 12 pts. Webb had 10. Jim (Houdini) Bergoltz was the other double figured scorer. He also spent the evening, playing his usual role of "Now you see it. Now you don't", with the Ram's defense, proving once again that ball handling is still one of the finer art of the game. The other scorers for Hicksville were, Jeff Doolittle, Jim McClain Dwight Eirich, Mike Masciello, Bill Forzyee & Jack Burke. And then like the night that always follows day... there was the Fri. that followed Tues. on the jam-packed Hofstra Court. L. I. Lutheran, the hosts treated the Comets like unwelcome visitors & knocked them off 76-71. It was only a non-league game... a tune-up for the upcoming Playoffs but to those afflicted with County Championship Fever, the Lutherans have 9 other bod-fellows with them in the Top 10. And as for us, we'll report the rest of this "2 for you... 2 for me, Cardiac nonsense," long distance. Bergoltz led the Hicksville scorers vs Lutheran with 23 pts & 13 assists. Van Wagenen (17) and Webb 16 were the other double figured scorers. Warning!!-

Post No. 3211
by Eddie Klebing

The veteran and his family ask thousands of questions concerning the benefits offered them by the Veterans Administration. Below are some of the recent questions. Additional information can be obtained at any V.A. office.

Q.- Are veterans of World War I eligible for GI home loans?

A.- No, but they may be eligible for housing benefits under the new Housing Act of 1965 administered by the Federal Housing Administration.

Q.- I have a son serving in Korea. Will he be able to obtain the new GI Insurance?

A.- The new law providing insurance coverage for servicemen is automatic. Any serviceman not desiring to be covered by the insurance can signify in writing. A small monthly sum is deducted from the serviceman's pay who are covered.

Q.- Will the Veterans Administration give families of veterans the right to make purchases at military commissaries?

A.- The Veterans Administration has no connection with military commissaries and cannot grant purchase privileges.

Q.- My pension was discontinued when I received an extra large dividend which put me over the ceiling. Does this mean I am no longer to receive a pension?

A.- If this was a one-time payment your pension will only be discontinued for the current year. Next year you will be eligible again providing your income reverts to the status it was prior to your pension being discontinued.

Q.- What is the best way to find out if I am still eligible for GI benefits for which I never have applied?

A.- Apply to the VA regional office in your state for a Certificate of Eligibility for a GI loan. That office will supply full information.

Q.- I have read somewhere that a veteran can collect a pension from the VA for the time he served in the service if he retires or becomes unable to work. Is this correct?

A.- Veterans of World War I, World War II or the Korean conflict who were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after 90 or more days service, or because of a service-connected disability, who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service may be entitled to a non-service connected pension if their income from all sources does not exceed $1,800, if single, or $3,000 with dependents.

Bouquets While I'm Living

They say that when a fellow dies No matter what he's been A saintly chap or one whose life Is darkly steeped with sin, No one will say an unkind word But all his praises sing.

His sins are all forgotten His good deeds are everything, Some folks will send in flowers Many more will come to call And all will mourn for "good old Jack".

As fast the tear drops fall, Now this might be the way to do, But I can't quite agree Jack can't smell those flowers now

It seems a waste to me. Nor can he hear those words of praise That all so freely speak Someone should have thought enough

To say them just last week! I want it different when I die No tear around my bed I'll take bouquets while I'm living You can knock me when I'm dead!

In The Wind

By Dan Carroll

If we were living two thousand years ago, we would be preparing for a great celebration. The earliest Roman calendar began with the month of March, and wasn't changed to the form in which we know it now until the time of Caesar. For March to start the yearly cycle is very appropos, for it is a month of beginnings. Most frogs lay their eggs at this time of the year, the woodchucks and chipmunks emerge from their winter headquarters, and the wild geese and ducks begin their northward flights. Sap starts to rise in trees and those delightful green buds begin to appear all around us. The month is named after the ancient god, Mars, who was the patron and protector of vegetation. But Mars was also the god of war and March can be equally fierce. It may leave us like a lamb but, as W.D. Howells put it, March may arrive

"tossing his mane of snows in wildest eddies and tangles."

Water Conference Objects to Authority Bill

At a meeting in Westbury, the Long Island Water Conference voted unanimously Friday night, to protest a bill introduced by Assemblyman Ely Wager of Woodmere, creating a Nassau County Water Authority.

This bill is sponsored by Nassau County Executive, Eugene Nickerson, and is to replace one vetoed last year by Governor Rockefeller.

The Long Island Water Conference met with a representative of the County Attorney's office and the only reason he would give for this bill was "to make people aware of the water problem." The Conference is protesting vigorously this reason for creating a political agency that would have the "same possibilities for scandal as last years Suffolk County Water Authority." There are several additional sections of this law which will cost the taxpayers money immediately and even more in the future.

This act calls for the acquisition of all private water companies in the County by floating bonds. The bonds and interest will have to be paid by the taxpayers. While municipal water districts are excluded at this time, the obvious next step would be to amend the law to acquire them. It is a known fact that the people in Nassau County served by municipal districts pay 1/3 to 1/2 as much as people served by the Suffolk County Water Authority.

The created Authority would be exempt from taxes that are now being paid by the private water companies. This means that the water rates of the people served by these companies would go up immediately. With taxes rising for necessary functions, this indiscriminate and useless bill would cause additional hardships of the people of Nassau County, The Water Conference declares.

The County Attorneys office, after saying they want people aware of a water problem, puts into the act a provision that would allow this Authority, with control by political appointees, to sell water to areas outside the County. There is even a provision that they may develop water source specifically for the purpose.

The Long Island Water Conference has sent a resolution to all Long Island legislators and the Governor to oppose this law from being forced on the people of Nassau County.

Bank Teller Saw Most Of US in First 2 Years

John Taylor, born in Scotland raised in England, has been in this country two years, but he already has seen more of the United States than most Americans.

John, a teller at the Hicksville office of the Meadow Brook National Bank, thinks this country has all the scenery Europe has to offer, and he should know what he is talking about because John and his wife spent a year, from June, 1964, to July 1965, touring the country.

"Why should Americans want to see the Swiss Alps, for instance?" said John. "All they have to do is see your Rocky Mountains. And in this country you have scenery that is unbeatable for grandeur and beauty—your pacific coast, for example."

The Taylors worked their way across the country. Their first stop was Washington, D.C. where John worked as a salesman in a men's shop. "One day a customer who lived in Maryland invited my wife and I to home to sample some southern hospitality," said John. "And that's the way it was wherever we went—people were very friendly."

From Washington they went to Florida. "In Tampa alone," said John, "we received four invitations to spend Christmas with families."

Texas they found big, hot and dry. In Ventura, California, John worked as a custodian in a ladies' shop. "That was the best job I ever had," said John, smiling. "I went to work dressed in a business suit, not overalls. There were thirty lovely girls in the shop; I was the only man there."

After a few weeks in California, they drove through Las Vegas. "The heat was pretty high—around 90°," said John. "But an hour away the temperature dropped down to the 30's—this was in May. When we got into Colorado a full-scale blizzard was blowing. In less than two hours 4 inches of snow fell. We stopped at the first motel; in a few minutes other cars pulled in. I was amazed to see women stepping out of cars dressed in bikinis and shorts, walking around in 4 inches of snow."

John is very impressed with the hardihood of American cars. "I have a '59 Chevy. On our trip across the United States, I put in 20,000 miles on the car. In places like Las Vegas it baked and in Colorado it went through blizzards. A few hours later, after going through a car wash, it was spotless. And all together I don't think I spent more than $100 on maintenance."

Another thing that impressed John was American highways. "No matter what part of the country you're in—even in remote sections—the highways are magnificent," said John. "And instead of going around mountains, highways are being built right through them."

The Taylors are looking forward to a trip this summer through New England and Canada. "When we came to this country we were totally unprepared psychologically for America and its people," said John. "We speak the same language but your country—so varied—and your people—so warm-hearted—have left a great impact on us."

Burns Ave. School PTA of Hicksville will show "5000 Ping-ers of Dr. T" by Dr. Seuss at the school on Feb. 26 from 1 to 3 P.M. Admission is 35 cents.

JOHN TAYLOR saw America almost at first.

FREE PARKING NEARBY MUNICIPAL PARKING FIELDS

There are 521 places where you can go on your boat next summer.

But there's just one place to go for your boat loan now.

That's right. One cruising guide lists 521 harbors and anchorages. Why not let Meadow Brook help you with a boat loan now so you'll be ready to take off when cruising season starts? Use our flexible financing plan for any marine purchase: engine, mainsail, dinghy, yacht, you name it. You won't find lower rates or faster service anywhere. Take up to three years to repay. (Five, in some cases.) Insurance included or not, as you like. We've been closely involved in boat financing for Long Islanders for years. We have 66 offices on the island and in New York City—not one of them more than 9 miles from the water.
