TEACH Victory; Library Rejected

The record $13 million plus Hicksville school district budget for 1966-67 carried by a margin of 161 votes, yesterday, while the library budget was defeated for the second time in two years. During a day in which about 4500 of 6397 registered voters cast their ballots, candidates endorsed by TEACH carried the day.

Election Sidelights

Among the many sidelight incidents during the final phase of the Hicksville School District election included:

The reported difference of opinion between a leader of one of the candidate groups and the mate of an opposing candidate in the junior high auditorium which led to a physical exchange.

The appearance this year, for the first time in some many years, of colorful posters urging support of candidates for one team.

The kindness and cooperation of School District clerks in Plainview and Bethpage in making available some of their limited stock of the new voters registration cards when the supply for Hicksville was late in arriving. (They finally reached Hicksville and the borrowed cards were returned to neighbors).

Evelyn Silver of Thimble Lane will become the fourth woman in the history of the school district to earn a position as a trustee. In a close three-way race, she won over two male opponents. Florence Infantino in her second attempt in two years, was defeated by Harold Sternberger.

John J. McManus, unanimously appointed to the Board to fill the vacancy last summer when James Anderson moved from the district, lost by a margin of less than 75 votes to Harry Kershen, a teacher in Levittown, who was endorsed and sponsored by TEACH along with Mrs. Silver.

Cornelius J. McCormack was re-elected for his third three-year term, swamping Peter Scintino 3453 to 694.

The school budget was approved by a margin of 161 while the library budget went down by 74 votes. The trustees of the Public Library are scheduled to decide at a meeting tomorrow (Friday) night whether or not they will submit the budget in its present or revised form to another vote.

Joseph McCarthy was re-elected to a five year term as a trustee of the Public Library without opposition. He received 2837 votes.

The official candidates of TEACH were Mrs. Silver and Kershen. The same organization gave its blessing to McCormack and Sternberger. The Board of Directors of the Hicksville Classroom Teachers Assn. in an unprecedented move also endorsed Mrs. Silver. Kershen, McCormack and Sternberger. McCormack on Tuesday by telegram to the HCTA president had declined the endorsement on the grounds that he felt the action of a "school related" organization was inappropriate.

None of the candidates endorsed by GEET were successful but experienced observers felt that John Nelson and George Martin drew off enough votes from UNITED candidates (McManus and Conrad Freyling) to cause their defeats.

Martin, a previously unsuccessful candidate for the school board, polled a surprising 1373 votes in his run against Kreyling and Mrs. Silver although he made no appearances at candidate forums and did not cast a ballot himself.

The successful candidates will officially take office on the first day of July. Kershen was elected to succeed Herbert H. Johnsen who was not a candidate for re-election. McCormack will succeed himself. Sternberger will fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Irving Lawrence who was not a candidate.

In addition to Kershen and Mrs. Silver, who were the official candidates of TEACH, the incumbent Board members who were previously endorsed by the same group include Marvin Goldberg, Caleb Hornbostel and George Jackson.

Successful UNITED candidates on Wednesday were McCormack and Sternberger who were given endorsements by TEACH.

From Congress

By Rep. James R. Grover, Jr.

Just the other week, my office mailed about 130,000 questionnaires to residents of the Second Congressional District. These questionnaires are similar to those I distributed each year during my four seasons in Washington. They are aimed at getting your opinion on the various issues which confront this nation.

By the mail which we have been receiving in return, the residents of our Congressional District are more than cooperative in making their views known. They appear anxious. By the tone of what's written in the space left for remarks, they're relieved that someone in Washington really cares about the views of the people who pay for operating our government.

The questionnaire was prepared by students of Political Science and International Affairs at C.W. Post College. It's in multiple choice form so that it can be answered quickly and conveniently and every effort has been made to avoid "weighting" any of the questions.

The major fields covered are the international situation, the state of our economy and proposed legislation as it affects labor, business and the administration's programs. When I left Washington last week to return to Long Island, we had already received 6,000 replies. It's obvious that somebody on Long Island cares. Rest assured that somebody in Washington cares, too.

National Honors For Hicksville DECA

Hicksville's DECA Club firmly placed its high school on the map, Saturday night, when it received a high national award as the Chapter of the Year.

Recognition was bestowed during the annual convention of the National Distributive Education Student Leadership Conference at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel in Chicago. Chapters from 48 states, including Washington, D.C. and Puerto Rico competed for the highly coveted honor.

The award culminated five days of competition and educational workshops for the 2,000 student delegates, who also participated in campaigns for the election of national officers in the same manner that major parties select their presidential candidates.

Nine students represented Hicksville at the convention: Doreen West, Robert McNally, Rochelle Riservato, Margaret Moldovak, Peter Cramer, Gayle Schoenberg, Carol Chapman, Judy Goodman and Maureen Hanfman.

Miss Hanfman and Miss Goodman collected personal honors for their individual achievement at the event. Miss Hanfman, who is president of the local chapter, an officer in the state organization and holder of numerous previous prizes, was a national honor winner in the public speaking contest.

Miss Goodman individually has enjoyed numerous accomplishments as an officer in the chapter and a winner of several prizes. Judy was awarded a 3rd place trophy for a research project she entered.

Both young ladies are planning further studies of business course at college next year.

The school can proudly boast of the ownership of seven of the 14 national awards ever won by New York State chapters.

1967 Convention

At the general election in November, voters will elect three delegates from each Senatorial district in the state and 15 from the state at large for the 1967 Constitutional Convention. The Convention will convene in June of next year and is expected to finish its work in six months.

You will be reading a great deal about the convention, its hopes and its delegate-candidates in the months ahead.

State Senator Edward Speno who is chairman of the Nassau Republican Committee is disclosed this week that he has been seeking Convention delegates candidates who can give the broadest representation to the people of the state. On one hand it has been found that many leading educators and other professionals shy away from the idea of running on the election ballot. On the other hand, many politically oriented lawyers, judges, etc. are anxious to obtain the right to take part in reshaping the state constitution.

The Nassau Democratic Committee held an all-day symposium on the forthcoming convention at the Garden City Hotel, Saturday. While many of the panelists can from many political groups, the moderators for the most part were Democratic office holders or party officials.

Gov. Dennis J. Roberts of Rhode Island was guest speaker at a mid-day luncheon, being introduced by County Executive Eugene Nickerson. County Democratic Chairman Jack English did not appear on the program.

Breakfast with Senator

State Senator Edward Speno and Mrs. Speno were breakfast hosts at their East Meadow home, Friday morning, to representatives of the weekly press in the Senator's district. This tradition was begun last year. The proposed acquisition of Republic Airport, recommended by a Nassau-Suffolk Regional Planning Board study, was the topic of lively interest, although the discussion was "off the record".

Public Pulse

Various State Senators and Assemblymen have been taking the pulse of the voters they represent thru a series of questionnaires. State Senator John R. Dunne has disclosed his pulse taking. Among the findings: 67% of those answering oppose lowering the voting age to 18, 90% approve expanding of grounds for divorce, 67% want partial real estate exemption for persons over 65 living on fixed incomes, 90% oppose compulsory transportation of school children to alleviate racial imbalance in public schools, 72% want a Long Island Sound Bridge (56% of those favor the span from Eastern Suffolk to Connecticut, 54% oppose a bridge from Oyster Bay to Westchester), outright repeal of the State Sales tax is favored by 24% and opposed by 70%; compulsory arbitration of all labor disputes involving public employees is desired by 88.56% of those responding to the question.

ALL AROUND TOWN

Now— U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U.S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E—9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding Bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate. Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."

We hope you never receive a malicious or annoying phone call.

But if you should, here is what you can do, and what we will do to help

We're deeply concerned that some people are receiving malicious or obscene phone calls.

The majority of such harassing calls are made by misguided people. The best way to stop them is simply to hang up. But if the calls persist, please follow these suggestions:

- If the caller uses obscenity or doesn't properly identify himself or says nothing, hang up. Don't keep on talking. That's what he wants.
- Call your Telephone Business Office if you are harassed again.

HERE'S HOW WE WILL HELP:

- Our Business Office personnel throughout the state are specially trained to assist you.
- In difficult cases, our Annoyance Call Bureau will work closely with you and police officials to catch offenders.
- This special action group can arrange to:
  - Trace such calls.
  - Intercept calls to a harassed customer.
  - Interview the customer from whose phone the calls were made.
  - Terminate service of the telephone from which calls originated.

We believe this campaign will assure continuing progress toward the elimination of annoyance calls.

The New York Penal Law makes it a misdemeanor to use the telephone to make obscene remarks to a woman or child, or to threaten to commit a crime against any person. The penalty can be imprisonment for one year and a $500 fine.

Pageantry in Brass

By the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps

Throughout the years our Corps competed in many contests. Sometimes we have lost, and other times we have been winners. The significance is, however, that we have always tried. At times, of course, we have become discouraged. But, with a prayer and a little helpful word, we always perk up and begin again.

This summer, we are entering our second year in Marching and Maneuvering. We will participate in many contests and parades along the Eastern seaboard, including Washington D.C. and Albany. These outings will contain, however, no meaning if we learn nothing from them. Of course, we have a hilarious time in the motels, but that is not the whole story.

As we practice our drill under the burning sun in preparation for an evening contest, a great amount of cooperation is needed. The drum major gives the signals and calls the commands, and each one of us must do her individual part to the best of her ability.

The major is the leader of the corps and should be treated as such. She deserves the respect and obedience that accompany her authority. In our corps this idea can be difficult since there is a variety of ages. For instance, a nineteen year old cadet may have to listen to a fifteen year old drum major or a seventeen year old section leader. We must all remember to have a mutual respect for each other in this situation.

Since a drum corps is a voluntary organization, we all have to be willing to give much of ourselves to it. As we become better cadets, our sense of responsibility develops. We must be able to care for our own equipment, whether it is a bugle, a cymbal, or a flag pole. As members of the Corps, we are all expected to practice a certain amount of time on our instrument each day. Each must give so that all will benefit.

In Drum Corps, as in any well run organization, there is no room for a weak link. This dependence on the individual instills in us a spirit of discipline and self-sacrifice. Our leisure time becomes limited and sometimes nil. But, when we are out on the field trying our best, we know that all the sacrifices and disagreements are worth it.

As members of a Drum Corps, we receive much knowledge about music and people. Learning a marching and maneuvering drill is in itself an education. We find it amazing and sometimes, miraculous, that our instructors can contrive a way of getting sixty-five girls to think and to play together for a fifteen minutes show. We are all quite sure that our drill instructor will never cease to believe in miracles.

The precise drumming, the beautiful tone quality of the bagging, the quick snapping of the flags will all help to make the performance very appealing. But, behind each maneuver, each tap, and each note, there have been hours of practicing together to achieve perfection.

Our Drum Corps is made up of many different types of girls. Some of us are quiet and shy; others are boisterous or sensitive. Because we meet twice a week, we find that rehearsals

PETTY OFFICER 3/C Eddie Collins was the escort of Pat Boyce, who was chosen Queen of the Military Ball, held by the Nautical Cadets of the Hicksville PBC. The queen received her crown and a bouquet of flowers.

Military Ball Fine Success

The Cadet Battalion of the Hicksville PBC held their annual Military Ball on Friday evening, April 22nd. Many of the cadets were in attendance, looking very fine in their blue uniforms, while their lovely dates looked like a breath of spring in their pastel dresses. The evening started off with the grand march with all the Cadet officers and their wives participating along with the girls and boys. During the evening they were served refreshments by the ladies from the PBC Auxiliary. Towards the end of the dance a lovely queen was chosen. She was Pat Boyce, who was escorted by Petty Officer 3/C

Eddie Collins. The queen received a bouquet of flowers and a crown. Her ladies in waiting were, Deborah Grecz, escorted by Cadet Russell Costello, and Jane McCormack, escorted by Cadet Jimmy Camarata.

The music that was supplied throughout the evening was a fine group of four young men who call themselves "The Grem-lins". The bass guitar player is a PBC cadet, Master Chief Jim Romanelli. Jim has been in cadets for four years. The other musicians were Gary Bertram on the drums, George Tockmakis who plays rhythm, and Bob Lessick, lead guitar player.

Operation VFW

William M. Gouse, Jr.
Post No. 3211
by Eddie Kiebing

Forsaking their anniversary dinner this year, the Ladies Auxiliary sponsored a dance instead to raise funds as a contribution toward the purchase of a cottage for the orphans in our National Home. President Rita Aug. and all the members express their thanks to those who attended and who assisted in the help needed to make the affair a success.

Special thanks are given to those merchants and businesses who contributed generously to the girls when asked, namely: A & P; Bohack; Ellner and Pike; Fortunoff's; Gertz; Gillison's; Orbach's; Time Square stores; Waldbaums and Plymouth Rock, meat packers.

Servicemen - past, present and future - and their families will have a chance to witness what is probably the best pro-Army TV effort to date. A film entitled, "I Am a Soldier," is scheduled by ABC-TV for showing this coming Sunday May 8 at 8 p.m.

The hour long documentary focuses on one Army company commander as he leads 160 men in combat operations against the Viet Cong. The film is expected to have a tremendous impact on the audience.

The Veterans Administration advises servicemen attending college under a government-sponsored grant, scholarship or fellowship that they cannot draw GI Bill educational benefits for the period they participate in the program. The VA also added last week, that the time spent in such a program does not count in computing a serviceman's eligibility for cold war GI Bill benefits.

It is rumored that the Department of Defense has no objection to a 3.2 percent pay raise and there is a good chance the increase could come this July. Senate approval of the House passed bill is seen as a foregone conclusion.
