1500 Enjoy Brass Pageantry Drill

Pageantry in Brass sponsored by the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps of Hicksville at St. Raphael's school grounds in East Meadow, Saturday night under the lights, attracted over 1500 spectators.

The girls are going to Washington this month under the auspices of the Charles Wagner Post to participate in the National American Legion Convention. Plans are being made, if funds available, to take part in the 1967 Exposition in Canada.

At East Meadow the winners were: first, St. Joseph The Patron of Brooklyn; second, Milford Shoreliners of Connecticut; third, Babylon Islanders; fourth, Lakeland Goldenaires of N.J.; fifth, Statenaires of Staten Island; sixth, Smithtown Freelancers, and 7th, Lindenaires.

The St. Ignatius Corps presented a demonstration during the evening under the lights.

Corps Director Tom Costa said he wished to thank the people of Hicksville, Jericho and East Meadow for their attendance and financial support of the program.

Two Residents Exhibit Rockets

Two Hicksville youths will be among nine Long Island teenagers who will travel to Clinton Air Force Base in Ohio this month to take part in the National Assn. of Rocketry meet. James Cobus, 16, and George Ludwig, 15, will participate in this annual event to be held August 16-19.

An added inducement to do well at the contest is the world championships to be held in Europe in May. The winners in each class will be sent to represent this country in the international competition. This is the first time world championships will be held.

FORMER PRESIDENTS of the Hicksville Board of Education were present at the Alibi Restaurant, Saturday night, when a group of friends gathered to honor Herbert H. Johnson (centre) who recently left the board after nine years of service. At left is Allen S. Carpenter and at right is Jerome Zettler. The trio had all served as president of the Board during their tenures. Also present was Cornelius McConmack, vice president and incumbent trustee, and Fred J. Noth, district clerk. (Herald photos).

Bernard Braun Will Be Missed

By Richard E. Evers

The passing of any decent, congenial and productive citizen is always a loss to his friends and community. But the death, last week, of Bernard Braun - after much suffering - leaves his family, friends and Hicksville much the poorer.

Mr. Braun, "Bernie" to his numerous friends of this community in which he was born, will be missed because he combined in large degree the qualities of a fine teacher, an energetic, resourceful administrator and a warm and loyal friend. Speaking as one who knew him as a teaching colleague and as a principal and as a friend, it is an honor to attest to all of his virtues.

A gifted English teacher in our elementary and Junior High School for 18 years, Bernard Braun became principal of the newly renovated and much enlarged Junior High in 1956. His enthusiasm for his new assignment was understandable, but his courage, leadership and unflinching devotion to the enormous task that materialized as the years passed is a real testament to Mr. Braun's outstanding place in the history of our schools.

As principal of "the largest New York State Junior High School under one roof" - a phrase he used at P.T.A. meetings and at which his faculty could smile wryly - Mr. Braun faced Herculean problems with the confidants of experience and trust in his faculty. He met his enlarging responsibilities with an amazing organizational grasp and a veteran teacher and native son's intuition for the possible and the largely effective in school matters and public relations. To parents, teachers and nearby residents who reflected on the unique nature of our Junior High - 3300 boys and girls moving serenely to classes every 45 minutes and unloading and loading on buses without youthful mayhem or vandalism - it has always been an arresting, amazing realization.

Bernard Braun was proud of his school's order and functional efficiency, but his student's academic and character development were concerns closer to his heart. His training and experience for almost twenty years were with intimate, smaller student bodies in this old farm community. Long before he ever grappled with the thoroughness of his forebears with the problems of our great modern Junior High School, he came to cherish pupil skill in the use of our language and in the appreciation of our literature. Always an advocate of balance in education, he knew the worth of mathematical and scientific training, and his interest as promoter and attendant at our Junior High Fine Art Weeks was well known. However, it was his love of history - his belief in Patriotism - that this commentator will long remember. Bernard Braun's instincts for what was wholesome and morally sound led him to place strong emphasis on encouragement of patriotism. He was always interested in the teaching of New York State and United States History. As for local Hicksville lore, he had a great knowledge, having been born and raised here. He knew all the old families - his own had settled here not long after the Civil War.

This writer always used the occasion of Mr. Braun's presence in his room for an observation of his teaching to "con" him into participation in a lesson on Hicksville history or civics. He could be counted on to answer a question directed to him and, in a flash, he would be spiritedly telling the class about Hicksville life when he was a boy. He loved to teach and, one feels missed the classroom in his decade of school work as principle. In the last years of his fruitful career, Bernard Braun was constant in his encouragement of a Junior High School program commemorating actively every holiday and national day of significance. He supported wholeheartedly the suggestion of his Social Studies Dept. to prepare programs of explanation and of music to be transmitted over the school public address system, on the eve of holidays, reminding students, faculty and staff of the significance of the day being celebrated.

A gentleman of fine education and culture and well traveled, he brought great energy and dedication to his year of principalship. A measure of the satisfaction and challenge he received from his leadership at the Junior High is evident in a remark he made to this writer, only a few weeks ago. Reminiscing from his sick bed, he said, "Yes - a lot happened in the school these last ten years, and I am glad I gave it all I could. I had a good time."

It is a tribute to Bernard Braun, too, that in spite of its great size, the Junior High faculty and staff are known for their splendid congeniality and rapport. His faculty always knew where they stood with him. Generous and sincere in praise, pointed and definite in disapproval, sympathetic to genuine problems, encouraging to those proposals of value to our children and school and community welfare, prudent but considerate in SUMMERTIME ATTENTION SPAN... is great when you have an attractive teacher reading a good story. Miss Linda Gridley, a Hicksville resident, reads to students in the Lindenhurst Elementary Summer School. Miss Gridley is serving as a helping teacher this summer before she begins her regular duties in the fall.

Town to Improve Local Streets

Councilman A. Carl Grunewald announces that the Town Board approved on his motion a contract award for the improvement of several Town roads between Newbridge Road and Underhill Ave., Hicksville.

The contract was awarded to George B. Clarke of Westbury at his low bid price of $136,875. Bids were publicly opened and read at Town Hall, July 14.

The project area includes West Marie St., West Nicholas St., Richfield Ave. and Morgan St.

CHURCH PICNIC

The second annual old fashioned family church picnic sponsored by the Holy Name, Rosary and Altar Societies of Holy Family Church, Hicksville, will be held on Sunday, Aug. 14, noon to 7:00 p.m., at Salisbury Park, Area 3X, Parking Field No. 6.

Blood Bank Here Aug 12

This is an opportunity for you to donate blood to your own organization's blood bank or to the Red Cross for use by our servicemen in Viet Nam. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Charles Wagner Post #421, The American Legion, 24 E. Nicholas St., Hicksville on Friday, Aug. 12, between 2 P.M. and 7:30 P.M. William Goebel Takes Bride Becomes Engaged

William H. Goebel of 7 Glenbrook Road, Hicksville was married on Saturday, July 30, at the Israel Center of Hillcrest Manor, Flushing, to Miss Barbara Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Golden of 83-75 Woodhaven Boulevard, Woodhaven.

The former Miss Golden is an elementary school teacher in the New York City school system. Mr. Goebel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Goebel, has just completed his law studies at N.Y.U. School of Law and is awaiting results of the New York State Bar Examination. He was graduated from Columbia College in 1963 and from Hicksville High School in 1959.

The couple is presently honeymooning in Bermuda, and afterwards, plan to reside in Forest Hills.

William R. Mayhew, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mayhew of 104 Dewey St., Jericho, was one of 534 students who received Baccalaureate Degrees from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Troy, New York in June.

Nancy Sheprow

At a recent family party, Mr. and Mrs. M. William Sheprow, of Levittown (formerly of Hicksville), announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lynn, to Kurt J. Wagner, son of Mrs. Marian Wagner and the late Herman Wagner of Hicksville. Miss Sheprow, a graduate of Hicksville High School and Claremont Secretarial School is employed as a legal secretary. Mr. Wagner is stationed at Moffett Field in California with the U.S. Navy. A November wedding is planned.

To Wed In Spring

Diane M. Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Snyder, Sr., of Hicksville have announced the engagement of their daughter, Diane May, to Steven I. Gould of Great Neck. Miss Snyder is presently a stenographer at the Nassau County Family Court.

Mr. Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Gould is a salesman for Altman & Wachtler Jewelers of New York City.

A spring wedding is planned.

Dear Lynda

DONALD F. ABT, Hicksville school superintendent, is on vacation for the month of August. MARVIN GIBSON will be in charge of the district until Aug. 19. WILLIAM MCCARTHY takes over from Aug. 22 to 31. Fairway Farms has won the milk bid for Hicksville schools in the amount of $90,336. The East Nassau Medical Group facilities on South Bay, Hicksville, are to be expanded. Next meeting of Hicksville Board of Education is scheduled for Monday night, Aug. 8 to 8 PM in the administration bldg. on Division Ave. Traffic lights will be installed on Woodbury Rd. at Park Ave., Pollack Pl., Briggs St. and Marilyn Blvd. School Bd. member HARRY KERSHEN is vacationing in New England.

"Air Conditioning in Our House" was the topic of HERBERT JOHNSON when he spoke at the Hicksville Rotary Club meeting this week. A quarter century of school board experience was represented at an informal gathering at the Alibi Restaurant on Saturday night in his surprise honor. Among those present were JERRY ZETTLER, ALLEN CARPENTER and CORNELIUS MCCORMACK and their wives. Also present was SHEILA HOEGL NOETH who served on the West Hempstead Board of Education. Our men in service would like to get mail. Among those is Pvt. ARTHUR F. NOETH, US 51586025, 87th Eng. Co., 199th Inf, Fort Benning, Georgia, 31905. Drop him a line, buddies. The first person to benefit by the regulation that persons over 60 are entitled to a reduced rate at Cantiauge Park Golf Course was MURRAY RACHELSON of the Hicksville Rexall Drugs in the Center Shops. We notice that a sign has been erected offering the Augustin house on South Broadway for sale or lease. And the Telephone Co. is expanding again at Jerusalem and Cherry St. A new employee parking lot has been set up on Cherry St. by tearing down the Sheprow residence. Something should be done about the change in grade between Old Country Rd. and various intersecting streets such as Richard, Carl and Frederick Pl. and shopping areas at the Center Shops and the A and P lot further West. What a mess and a strain on the underside of our cars. BILL MARKS is quitting the hardware business after 35 years. His William's Hardware is selling out, following the lead of Sausman's. This reduces the line of old-time hardware stores to Botto's, a comparative newcomer in the field.

ONE MORE...Eugene T. McNamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard T. McNamara, 21 Gull Road, Hicksville, strives for one more push-up during the physical fitness phase of his training at Marine Corps Officer Candidates School, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia. McNamara, a student at Saint John's University, Jamaica, is a member of the Marine Corps Platoon Leaders' Class program, designed especially for college students. It leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve upon completion of two six-week summer sessions at Quantico and graduation from college. McNamara is currently attending his first six weeks of training.

Veterans and their families are continuously writing to the Veterans Administration asking thousands of questions relating to "veterans benefits". Listed below are some recent inquiries dealing with compensation and pensions.

Q. - What is the difference in the terms "compensation" and "pension" payments made monthly by the VA?

A. - Compensation payments are made to eligible veterans or their survivors for disabilities incurred in military service. Pension payments are made to veterans with total and permanent non-service connected disability, and to eligible survivors of deceased war-time veterans whose death was not a result of military service.

Q. - My father received a small pension from the VA until his death four years ago. My sister through an accident that occurred when she was a child is unable to earn a living. I would like to know if she is entitled to a pension as she has never worked and will never be able to do so?

A. - The VA considers a "helpless child" as one who became permanently incapable of self-support, prior to age 18. If this is your sister's case, you should submit medical evidence to the VA to support his claim. If the claim is upheld, she will be able to receive pension payments.

Q. - I am a veteran who is receiving a nonservice-connected pension from the VA. I would like to know if I can receive my VA pension and Social Security benefits when I reach age 62 or age 65?

A. - A veteran may receive a non-service-connected pension if otherwise eligible as long as his income without dependents does not exceed $1,800 or with dependents $3,000 per year. Social Security benefits are counted as income.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Bernard H. Braun wish to express sincere appreciation to the Rev. Clergy of St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church, sisters of St. Dominic, Holy Name Society, Joseph Barry Council K, of C., Rosary Altar Society, Court Queen of Angels C.D.A., V.F.W., William Gause Jr. Post, Hicksville Fire Dept., relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness during their recent bereavement.

The family of the late Bernard H. Braun, "Village Square: the guy against everything."—Bill Trimble, The Ellicottville (N.Y.) Post.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE — Former Congressman Steven B. Deromian, second left, listens to views of fellow passengers regarding air line strike, at LaGuardia Field as he stands in line awaiting plane for Washington D. C. at American Airlines loading area. (American Airlines is not on strike.) The Republican candidate for Congress in the Third District, comprising North Hempstead and part of Oyster Bay Township also spoke with the pickets of the striking Machinists Union and got their views regarding the strike which has grounded five major airlines. Deromian has proposed to introduce legislation calling for the creation of a special impartial labor-management court to consider such labor disputes that affect the national interest, as this strike does. rejection of well-attended but dubious causes, he stood ready to back up his faculty. Too senior a teacher and too long a native resident to fear public criticism, he did what he thought was morally correct and beneficial to his students.

The well-springs of this fine man's life lay undoubtedly, to a great extent, in the affection and training of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Braun who survive their son. Loyalty to his church and faithful devotion to its teachings also account for much of his strong character and life-long vocational devotion.

A graduate of the old St. Ignatius parochial school, the Hicksville High School, holding degrees from religious and secular universities Bernard Braun was a fine example of the devout layman and civic-minded citizen. His hope and fortitude in the pain and affliction of his long illness and his Christian resignation in these last weeks is an inspiration to all who knew him.

Hicksville and his many friends will sorely miss this bustling, often chuckling, grand gentleman and scholar.

I was going to the bank, but it was raining.

Save money? I can't even save string.

I forgot my bank book.

I don't have a cent at the end of the month.

I just forget. My mother had a terrible memory, too.

No will power, I guess.

With our system, you don't have any excuses for not saving money.

There are 3,728 excuses for not getting around to putting money in a savings account, where it can do you some good. We've heard every one of them.

The truth is—some people (maybe you're one) will never be any good at do-it-yourself saving.

So we've figured out a system, at First National City, that lets you save money without even thinking about it.

You just tell us how much you want to put aside each month (as little as $10). We'll transfer this amount from your First National City checking account to your savings account. Automatically.

You never have to remember to make deposits. We'll remember for you. You get full interest as usual, compounded quarterly. Your account just grows and grows.

And the service doesn't cost you a cent.

See? All you need is the desire to save. We'll supply the will power. (You don't have a checking account with us? Come in to any branch, and we'll fix that, too. Only takes a few minutes.)
