Record School Budget:

Austerity Impact Hearing Theme

The impact of an austerity school budget on the students of Hicksville was sharply drawn during the annual public hearing on the proposed 1967-68 budget Monday night at the High School. A tax rate increase of approximately $1.10 per $100 was forecast. The budget will go to public vote on May 3.

Board President George A. Jackson presiding at the hearing where the audience fluctuated up to about 150 during the three-hour session. In his preliminary comments, noted that the Board resisted proposals which could have increased the budget by as much as $5 million. The $15,193,000 budget being submitted is $1,744,000 over last year.

He declared that 90 to 95% of the budget is "mandated" and would be included under an austerity budget.

He reported that under legislative action the District could get about $100,000 in additional state aid but that this advantage might be cancelled out because of the declining student enrollment and increasing assessed valuation of the district; i.e., the "wealth" behind each pupil attending will grow, thus depressing the advantage of "impact" special aid.

"The budget," he said, "contains some reasonable educational advantages for the District. For example, next September the Junior and Senior High School pupils will attend an eight, rather than the current seven-period day. Further, 16 rooms in the Junior High are being revamped into science facilities and two or three rooms in the senior high are being changed for the same purpose."

The planned eight-period day was the subject of considerable cross discussion during the hearing.

Questions from the audience as the budget was discussed code by code were answered largely by Jackson and Donald F. Abt, superintendent of schools.

The need for about 25 additional teachers next term, in view of the declining enrollment as forecast by Dr. Felix McCormack came in for sharp questioning. Additional teachers are needed, it was stated, to implement the eight-period day.

School enrollment was down to 12,120 last year as compared with 13,200 the previous term. It was reported. Spectators wanted to know "When do we reach the promised levelling off period?"

Florence Infantino asked several questions regarding the effect of an austerity budget as to commitments made to teachers on salary increases.

Diana Parker, president of PEACH, demanded to know why the school district was eliminating $39,723 for the purchase of all new library books next term.

Questions on austerity brought out the fact that about $500,000 could be eliminated from the budget. A spectator calculated this would mean a saving of about 75 cents a week in taxes for the owner of a home assessed at $5000 to $6000.

Guidance counselling came in for some sharp criticism. There are now 32 on the staff. One man felt that it would be better to buy library books and drop the guidance counsellors. "They never did anything for me," he said.

It was noted that about $60,000 may be deleted from the finished

Orist Millevolte Was Hicksville Sports Great

Orist Millevolte who achieved fame as a star Hicksville High School athlete in the late 1920s and as a dazzling half back of the famed county championship Field Club in the 1930s died suddenly at his home in Holtsville, Saturday, at the age of 56, and was buried in Suffolk County on Tuesday. Harold Bengold, coach of the unbeatable Field Club, and many of the team members and followers were present for the requiem services at St. Sylvester Church in Medford.

"Oris" as he was known, had moved to Holtsville from Hicksville 20 years ago. He and his wife, Antoinette, would have celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on July 4. He was found at home by his wife and daughter, Barbara, after they returned from an errand. He is also survived by daughters Anita and Pauline.

A 1930 graduate of Hicksville High he compiled an outstanding athletic record. Starting in the 7th grade in sports he made the varsity football and track teams before leaving what is today called the Junior High School. He was captain of the baseball and basketball teams in 1928 and 1929, captain of football in 1928. In 1929 he was six-letter man in gym, baseball, basketball, tennis, football and track. He was named all-Metropolitan halfback in 1930 and scored 111 points in one season. Most of his touchdowns were runs of over 50 yards.

While at Alabama University on a scholarship he made the first team in football. He began playing semi-pro football with the Locust Valley Yellow Jackets in 1932, joined the Hicksville Field Club the following year. The white and black Field Club racked up county-wide championships year after year. Orist played half back on offensive and safety on defense, frequently going right thru the entire game, unlike today's practice.

He has been cited by Newsday as one of the three greatest athletes to come from Nassau County. His brother, Louis, is the director of physical education in Hicksville Public Schools.

Employed by Grumman Engineering Aircraft Corp., he used to work with his brother, Carmen, in the management of Millevolte's Shoe Store on Broadway, Hicksville.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. Rose Millevolte; brothers, Carmen, Silvy, Louis; sisters, Mary DeMonaco, and Viola Fallon.

His residence was at 1039 Waverly Ave. in Holtsville. Interment was in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery, Copiah.

Latin Students To Cleanse Bird

Members of the Hicksville Senior High School Latin Club will observe the 2719th anniversary of the founding of Rome and the second anniversary, almost, of the dedication of the Roman eagle by giving it its annual washing this Friday, April 21, at 3:15 at the Hicksville Railroad Station.

Equipped with buckets, sponges, rags, and cleanser and looking like anything but ancient Romans in their blue jeans and sweatshirts, the students are honoring a pledge made by their advisor, Samuel A. Goldberg, chairman of the American language department at the school, that the granite eagle would not be allowed to accumulate the dirt that it did while perched atop the old Pennsylvania Station in New York City.

The three-ton bird was dedicated May 15, 1965, by the Long Island Rail Road and the Hicksville High School Latin Club at ceremonies marked by speeches by the presidents of the Railroad and the American Classical League and by a community singing in Latin accompanied by the high school band dressed in togas. A bronze plaque affixed to the concrete base gives passersby some information about the event in Latin, with an English translation, and admonishes them to "flee the past in planning the future."

Two Students Win Gold Medals

Two Hicksville Junior High School 7th graders earned first place gold medals in the North Nassau Science Congress at Nassau Community College, held Thursday to Saturday.

Recognized were Mark Shkowitz of 14 Boulevard Dr. in the physics category. He made a robot. Mathew Cahn of 35 Robbins Lane, Westbury, won for physics-math. He made a computer.

Attic Fire Calls Out 75 Volunteers

The Hicksville Fire Dept. responded with seventy-five men to an attic fire at 24 Meeting Lane, keeping the fire from spreading. Although seven children were in the house, at the time, all escaped with no injuries. The cause listed as "electrical" and damage slight.

BUDGET HEARING APR. 27

The Jericho Board of Education has announced a board hearing on the proposed school budget for the 1967-68 year and also on next year's library budget to be held in the High School Speech and Drama Room at 8:00 P.M. on Thursday, April 27. After the meeting, the board will entertain questions and comments from the audience.

Budget Phone Service

Questions from individual taxpayers regarding the Hicksville School Budget will be answered on May 1 and 2 from 7:30 to 10 P.M. Dial: 822-3444

budget before the May 3 vote because a planned vocational program with other districts, called the "cluster plan," will not take place next year.

On the point that teachers in adult education will get a raise in pay from $6 to $7 an hour, one spectator said he calculated what amounted to a 16 percent increase and wanted to know what happened to President Johnson's guidelines on salary advances.

Most questions during the evening centered upon Code 200, Instruction-Regular Day School, which at $9,359,896 is the largest segment of the budget. It was noted that increases in this code "are due to salary increments and changes in salary scales for 45 clerical employees (17,882), 717 professional staff employees ($637,446), 25 additional professional staff employees ($200,000) and lay help ($39,000), provision for sabbatical and terminal leaves for professional employees ($379,000), textbooks ($41,585), tuition for handicapped and vocational training ($113,440), various other expenses of $9,627." Summer work for principals and purchase of library books has been eliminated to effect savings.

The session which began at 8 P.M. concluded shortly after 11 P.M. All Board members were present except Caleb Hornbostel.

Single Contest on May 3; Hornbostel Not Candidate

For the first time in a decade or more that annual school library trustee elections will be marked by only a single contest with two incumbents apparently unopposed for re-election. Voting takes place on Wednesday, May 3, from 11 AM to 10 PM at seven elementary schools.

As the deadline for the filing of candidate petitions passed yesterday (Wed), George A. Jackson apparently stood unopposed for re-election to the school board and Abraham Fishman for election to the library board. The lone contest is between Joan Martindale and Thomas F. Nagle for the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Caleb Hornbostel who is not seeking a second three-year term.

Hornbostel had been unsuccessful in getting the meeting to continue a week ago so he could read the following prepared statement regarding his decision: "I sincerely regret that I had to make the following decision:

"Up until a week ago I still hoped to be able to run for re-election, but the demands of my office have been gradually increasing during the past several months - up to the point that I now can forecast that I will be completely tied up for the rest of this year and probably longer."

"Besides this, my obligations as a professional architect have increased in scope. The A.I.A. Convention meets this year, in N.Y.C. starting May 15th. When I should be campaigning in April, I must first be in Miami for several days as Director of Education for The National Institute of Architectural Education to judge and award their national graduate student prizes. Then when I arrive back - in the same capacity, I not only have to finalize the arrangements for nationwide architectural student activities for the Convention, but also play an active part in the convention. It was this type of industry - professional - educational collaboration I hoped to help develop for my own community.

But I have always felt strongly that a member of a Board of Education has an obligation and responsibility to fulfill and a member who is in absentia is not only morally wrong, but downright dishonest. And so I cannot run.

"When I first sought election, my platform was based upon 4 important points:

- "1. The necessity for an evaluation of the Track System.
  - "2. Through Citizens Advisory Committees to bring the people of Hicksville into closer relation with and better understanding of their educational system.

Amateurs Can Achieve

To the Editor:

Some men are "mad" in the right kind of way; Charles Gouse, conductor of our community orchestra, is one of them. The Verdi "Requiem" which he conducted at Hicksville High School last Friday evening is one of those colossal masterworks which strain all the resources of an institution like Lincoln Center. Everyone who took part in the performance or who went to hear it knew in advance that it was too difficult, too ambitious for amateur singers and instrumentalists. When the performance was over the skeptics in the audience were on their feet applauding Charles's proof that amateurs can achieve heights of beauty and eloquence which touch the soul, and the skeptics among his performers took home with them a radiance which was beautiful in itself.

No man does more than Charles Gouse to make Hicksville an exciting place to live, and he does it out of his own mad ambition to conduct great music. He commands my deepest respect. So too does William Goloske who assembled and trained the chorus and then stood before it to set an example of fine singing with his thoroughly professional rendition of the bass solos. Whatever these gentlemen do next I hope they hold fast to the "madness" which made Friday night's concert possible.

Hicksville, in my opinion, owes Charles Gouse a laurel wreath for the past and should protect itself by giving him an unbreakable baton for the future.

Bravo!

Library Candidate

To the Editor:

May I request the opportunity, through your newspaper, to announce my candidacy for the position of trustee of the Hicksville library. In fact, I am a candidate to succeed myself, since I was appointed in June of 1965 to fill out the unexpired term of office of the Reverend Nappi, who resigned.

Since I seek the support of the electorate, I should like to set forth my qualifications, and the reasons why I believe I can continue to make a worthwhile contribution to the work of the Library board.

By way of digression, let me say that there are five members of the library board, each of whom is selected for a term of five years. There is no salary or other prerequisite attached to the office; the only reward is the satisfaction that is derived from service to the community. Our library was established in 1926; it serves all of Hicksville; disposed of a budget of somewhat less than $300,000. last year; has one of the largest book collections in Nassau County and circulates over 300,000 books a year. It employs about 30 persons.

As to my qualifications: I am an attorney specializing in business and tax matters. I attended and was graduated from City University, with a degree in Business Administration, and from New York University, with degrees in Business Administration, and from New York University, with degrees in Bachelor of Laws, and Master of Laws in Taxation. I have practiced law since 1951. By reason of my training and experience, I am at home with both large print and small print; I can read and understand financial statements and budgets without wincing, and I strive to apply a questioning attitude to all matters which come before me.

I have been a resident of Hicksville since 1955, and active in community affairs. I have been president of North Hicksville Civic Association, for many years, and am now president of the Hicksville non-profit organization formed to enable foreign language students to study abroad.

By reason of my two years of experience as a Library board trustee, I have had the opportunity to observe and participate in the work of the Library board, and together with my fellow Trustees, to give it some direction. In the past two years, the Board has made significant strides in improving cash collections from fines and fees; in reviewing and updating its personnel policies; in adding to its equipment to give better service; in improving the physical plant, and in stepping up a program of community activities. We have maintained the high morale of our staff, in the face of the great inflationary period through which our country is passing, by meeting our responsibility in the way of salary adjustments. Most of all, we have sought to inculcate a spirit of critical self-examination of all areas of the library's work.

I subscribe to the principles which were set forth, as amended in 1961, by the American Library Association, concerning book selection and the freedom of our people to read. I am opposed to censorship of any type which would restrict such freedom.

Our library is the foremost cultural institution in our community. To each user, it offers the opportunity to enlarge his or her horizons and to stretch the mind. It serves as the paramount information center where we can keep abreast of a world in constant change. Good libraries make good citizens. My platform is to make a better library, by continued self-examination; by improving service; by making more magazines available for circulation; by opening and maintaining communication with the school system to better prepare for peak demands on library resources, thereby making the library more useful to our students, and to do

Pageantry in Brass

By the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps

We've been busy the past few weeks and our efforts are now beginning to take form. A few weeks ago our drill was only on paper and it looked like we had a lot of work ahead, we do; but we've made a start and as usual when you begin to see results the task becomes easier.

The teamwork involved in something like this is tremendous - the pieces must fit together tighter than a jig-saw puzzle, the catch is all our pieces are moving and thinking parts.

Yet there is a joy in knowing that you can succeed in thinking together and working together for a common end. It's amazing how rewarding the outcome when all this as economically as possible, consistent with our obligations to the community.

Thank you for the opportunity to say all this.

shared. Yes, each of us is an individual, we all have different interests and varied ideas. Yet we find that pooling our knowledge, ideas and energy is the key to the success of our Corps and all else we do. It's nearing the end of the school semester and it's again time to bestow well earned congratulations to the following members of our Corps:

Cathy Baroletti, of our baritone section, and Laura Hagen, of our drum section, have both earned membership in the National Honor Society. Both girls attend Hicksville High School.

Janet Smith, our sergeant Bugler, a student at Molloy College, Rockville Centre, and Joanne Willant, our former sergeant Bugler, a student at Manor Junior College, Pennsylvania, have both merited a place on the Dean's list at their respective colleges.

Joanne was also honored with selection for membership in the Phi Theta Kappa, Xi-Phi Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Editorial Opinion... The School Budgets

During the first week in May the qualified voters of area school districts will be asked to vote upon the appropriation of money to be raised by taxes on local real estate to operate the public schools for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1967. We have not heard of any budgets being reduced in total amount compared with the current appropriation which is not particularly surprising. The upward spiral has been going on for ten years or more and will continue.

Many districts are currently mailing out details of the new budgets and are holding budget hearings in an attempt to answer voter questions. The budgets are getting more complex, year by year, and no school board or school administrator could hope to answer in detail questions which might arise in the public mind. The budgets, for the most part, represent months of preparation by the school administrators in accordance with District policy and in session with the school trustees.

The vote on the budget becomes, in effect, a vote of confidence in the men and women who represent the community as a whole when assembled as the Board of Trustees. Almost without exception people who serve as non-paid school trustees seriously attempt to provide the best possible education at the most reasonable cost consistent with such built-in factors as previously approved bond issues, staff salary commitments, contractual arrangements and essential maintenance of the school facilities.

In most districts about half of the gross amount to be raised comes from taxes on local real estate. The balance comes in the form of state and federal financial assistance, some small revenues earned during the year. For most property owners, school taxes represent perhaps the largest portion of their total annual tax bill and naturally attracts the greatest concern.

Taxpayers who have rejected in recent years the budget as submitted have often found that this is not a quick or lasting solution to rising costs and rising tax rates. A budget that has been voted down can be resubmitted, with or without revision. Or the district can go on an austerity budget which means the elimination of some of those special services -- such as special bus service, recreation, adult education, etc -- which parents are least inclined to eliminate.

Study the budget offered by your Board of Education, attend budget hearings if possible, get to know the candidates who seek to represent you, and then vote the first week in May.

Students to Present Oklahoma! Next Month

Oklahoma is coming to Hicksville! The outstanding musical "Oklahoma!" will be presented by the students of Hicksville High School. The students hope to sing their way to another in the long line of successful musicals presented on the High School stage.

The cast, headed by John Mc Clain and Virginia Christensen, has been hard at work for the past few months. The crews, under the direction of stage manager Pete Goussios have also been preparing diligently since January. The cast, crews, and full orchestra are well on their way to making Oklahoma the best show ever seen in the High School. ## Now Hear This

By Jimmy Cooley

"OUT OF THE FOXHOLE"
...Did you readers know that there is such a bird, that is known as the "Yellow Bellied Sap Sucker"? Its funny every time I pick up a newspaper and read where the youth of to-day burns his Draft Card... I remember this "bird". I'm wondering how long it will take our Officials in Washington, to pass a law that will jail or even worse any character who burns or spits on the flag that so many men fought and died for? VETERANS ASK... I am a World War II veteran, and have just paid the last installment on my 20-year GI home loan. Am I entitled to another loan before the July 25, 1967, deadline for WW II veterans? ANS: Full repayment of a GI loan does not, in itself, entitle you to another loan. However, your entitlement may be restored until July 25, 1967, if you are forced to sell for certain compelling reasons. QUEST: I am a Veteran of Viet-Nam, can I join any veterans organization when I return home? ANS: Yes, most every veterans organization are taking in Viet-Nam veterans at this time. REUNIONS: New York State AMVETS will hold their Convention at the Marcy Hotel, Lake Placid, New York from June 9-11. Former members of the 10th. Mountain Div. regarding your reunion...write Nat'l. Hdqs. 4105 East Florida Ave., Denver, Colo. 80222. Co. R., 34th. Inf. will meet May 20th. at the Crystal Motor Lodge at Eatontown, N.J. For further info write Frank O. Traubel, Walter Rd., Chalfont, Pa. 18914. 93rd. Seabees for your reunion write Guy E. Hagar, Box 34, Woodford, Wis. AMVETS National Organization presented such honorable Americans with the Silver Helmet Awards at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington recently. Among them were Gen. Earle G. Wheeler on behalf of the Armed Forces. Honorable John W. McCormack, Honorable William J. Driver and one to Martha Raye for her service to American fighting men in every part of the world. Sgt. Barry Sadler who made famous "Green Beret" was there as an entertainer. And now before I close this weeks column, let me say this...

When you pick up a paper and see what is happening in our United States today...you wonder what is wrong. The Commies are doing a good job with their "brain washing" of not only the youths but of the older people as well. If we get out of Viet-Nam, then next month it will be some other small country. Gradually they will work their way till they are knocking at the Golden Gate bridge. How can we make those from America realize that communism is rotten from the core. Marchers scream that we have bombed women and children, these unfortunate accidents will happen often in war. Give those of our enemies half a chance and they would bomb us as well and not by accident. As for me...I'd rather die on my feet, then live on my knees".

The Lil Cpl.

This has been started and is now in the process of becoming a reality.

"My real regrets are that I will not be able to play an active role in seeing the following programs to their ultimate end, I hope, optimal conclusion.

"1. The follow through of the Flanagan Report.

"2. The development of "OPPORTUNITY HIGH SCHOOL."

"3. The development of the American Institute of Research's New Program in individualized student teaching through the use of the computer.

"4. The expansion of Vocational Education by working with a group of School Districts.

"5. Last, and dear to my professional heart, the follow through of my own project.
